PARTING ODE.

WORDS—By Miss Mary Ward MUSIC—By Miss Susie Joyce.

Teachers and Schoolmates the hour of parting,
We dreaded so long is approaching at last,
The few moments left us are swiftly departing,
And soon will be numbered with those of the past.

CHORUS.—Let us join our friendly voices
In a song of mutual cheer,
For the soul of each rejoices
In companionship so dear.

Sweet are the memories over us stealing,
Of joys we have shared in the year now reviewed;
Each to the other some treasure revealing,
Of knowledge acquired in studies pursued.

CHORUS.—Let us join, &c.

Day after day in the pathway of science,
We journeyed together in sweetest accord,
Fearing no failure while placing reliance,
On Him who will deligence surely reward.

CHORUS.—Let us join, &c.

Now it may be for the 1st time we're meeting,
Yet shall no shadow come over our heart;
Cheered by the smiles of the friends who are greeting,
We still will be happy although we must part

CHORUS.—Let us join our friendly voices
In a song of mutual cheer,
For the soul of each rejoices
In companionship so dear.

MUSIC—PARTING ODE."—(ORIGINAL.) By the School.

PARTING ODE.

ORIGINAL.

In these sacred halls of learning,
We a happy year have spent:
To our tasks each day returning,
On improvement still intent:
Gathering stores of useful knowledge
To apply in after time,
When we leave our much loved College,
For the work of life sublime.

CHORUS.—Now to God our thanks we offer,
For His blessing through the year;
And to Him commend each other,
While we shed the parting tear.

Varied as the passing seasons,
Are the pleasures we have known;
And we feel that there are reasons
For regret that they are flown;
Yet, though days that have departed
Never can return again,
We may still be joyous-hearted,
For the fruits of toil remain.

CHORUS.—So, to God our thanks &c.

In the future that's before us,
Wheresoe'er our lots be cast,
Constantly there will come o'er us,
Precious memories of the past.
"Western Maryland!" Alma Mater!
May she long be prosperous,
And her name be sweet to thousands
As it is this day to us!

CHORUS.—Now, to God our thanks &c.

ESSAY, - - - - - - - - - - MISS ANNA R. YINGLING.
ORATION, - - - - - - - - - REV. THOS. O. CROUSE, A. M.

On the Subject of Organs.

Every one is now interested in music and musical matters, and the interest grows. Interest in the beautiful art betokens refinement and good taste. One of the most important factors in the development of this taste for good music is

The Estey Organ.

The People recognize musical merit, whether it be found in the voice, organ or piano. Thus Patti, Sembrich, Lucca, Albini, Whitney, Schott, and a few other great artists, are always sure of an audience when they sing. Likewise is the merit of the ESTEY ORGAN recognized, of which more have been made and sold than any other Organ in the world. Nearly Two Hundred Thousand in use.

This Popularity is due solely to its merits. It is the leading Organ, and it leads because it has

THE SWEETEST AND PUREST TONE.

THE GREATEST VARIETY OF EFFECTS. THE GREATEST POWER.

THE GREATEST IMPROVEMENTS.

Do not Think because you HAVE A PIANO that you do not NEED AN ORGAN. The Piano cannot take the place of the Organ, which has many advantages of its own. The Organ is infinitely more effective in the rendition of sacred music, while the great improvements found only in the ESTEY Organ make it possible to have an ORCHESTRA IN YOUR OWN PARLOR.

Much Music is now being composed and arranged for the Organ and Piano, and when played together the effect is very fine. The Estey Organs have tone color, and are immensely effective in the performance of overtures, fantasies and other secular music, the touch being easy and as quick in responding as that of a Piano.

Prices from $50 upward. Special attention is asked to the new Estey "Philharmonic" Organ, the Grand Salon Organ (style 900), the new "Gothic" style, and other new styles for Parlor, Church, Chapel. Sold on the instalment plan, with monthly payments as low as $5.

Illustrated Catalogues free upon application.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE.

REVIEW.

We are better looking than we were a year ago. When the school assembled there was great astonishment on every side. The main building, with its adjoining halls, from end to end and from towertop to foundation stone was resplendent in the new dress of "cream and canary."

Levine Hall, the gift of Dr. Charles Billingslea in memory of his son, James Levine Billingslea, was completed and ready for the Primary Department at the time of opening. It is a beautiful building, designed by Mr. Gott who has done so much good work of this kind for us, and we had the largest Primary school we ever had. Miss Owings, the Principal, occupies the second floor as a residence, and is as happy in it as she deserves to be.

The Telescope given by Trustees Starr and Grimes was erected and formally opened to inspection in November. It marks an important epoch in our progress.

This year shows a roll just large enough to make it an increase over last year and thus keep the record of the last six years unbroken. This is the record: 1886, 115; 1887, 135; 1888, 165; 1889, 180; 1890, 218; 1891, 242; 1892, 243.

President Lewis enjoyed a vacation from September to February, during which time he made a tour around the world.

Prof. Rinehart, after a year's study at Leipzig, returned to the department of Instrumental Music.

Prof. C. A. Peterson of Harvard; Prof. W. M. Black of the University of Virginia; and Miss O. R. Ross of the University of Nashville, were additions to the Faculty for the year.

To the several active religious agencies of the College there has been added this year a Sunday School. It has proven immensely popular, enrolling over one hundred and fifty members, with every resident member of the Faculty teaching.

Students often wonder how the time goes. The fact is there are so many events in a school year that it is hard to keep the reckoning. This year has been especially busy. Besides the routine of recitations and study hours, there have been four Society Anniversaries, twelve Sunday evening lectures, twelve Thursday evening lectures, Glee Club and "Y" and impromptu entertainments, receptions and visitors, and the General Conference. How our world whirls!

We lost one of our most valued friends. John Smith of Wakefield, who gave the institution its name, and was President of the Board of Trustees from the beginning, died March 13th, 1892.

We also lost an intended gift from one of our Alumni. Miss M. M. McKinstry of the class of '79 left us $5,000. By a clerical error in the transcription of the code, the Court of Appeals withdrew a decision in our favor and decided against us. It may be that other friends are remembering us; we hope so, and also hope they will fix it strong and tight so that their wishes may not be frustrated.

By the way, is it not remarkable that Western Maryland College has never received a bequest?

OUTLOOK.

In entering upon the second quarter of a century it is natural to make some attempt at forecasting the future, not twenty-five years of it to be sure; but we may get a glimpse of the year immediately before us.

We expect an increase of students. Of course this is always an uncertain matter, but the tide has flowed steadily in for six years and does not yet seem at flood. If we increase our efforts we think the result will easily follow. The President expects to be in the field somewhere all summer, and we count on the active coöperation of our students.

It is a very gratifying thing that we keep our places filled without any advertising, and very little agency work. These things are very important, but we have not had need to do them simply because we have had all we could accommodate. But now we want a few more and we are going to look for them and we ask our friends to help.

A gentleman came up here from the South the other day to look at the College, preliminary to sending a student, who said he had been impressed with our school by the account of one of our students at the Northfield, Mass., convention. That is the way we get students.

It has come to be the usual question now at Commencement to ask, "What are you going to build this summer?" These are what we want, but we do not say we shall get them all this summer: a building for the Preparatory School, for school rooms, dormitory and home of the Principal; an extension of Hering Hall to make rooms for the Juniors; and the complete renovation of Ward Hall. A boiler house will take all smoke and dust away from the main buildings and provide a place for the electric plant and a story for bath rooms for the use of the male students — a sort of Society annex.

Alumni Hall still waits for the responses from the last circular; but "it's coming for a' that." About half enough money has been subscribed. Have you sent in your stamped envelope yet?

So with the Chapel. It will be built — one of these days. Five thousand dollars can't scare anybody these days.

We have one of the handsomest library rooms in the State. Now we are going to put one of the best, practicable, working, usable libraries in it; because we have found out how to work it. All in good time you will know all about it, but everybody knows a library is useless unless you can work it, and we have found out how to work it.

"They say" we have one of the best Gymnasiums and one of the best fields for sport in the State. What is the reason, then, our boys do not make better records in the games? We have found that out too. It is a secret yet, but there has to be a change in that order next year. Put that on the bulletin.

The next graduating class will be very much the largest in the history of the College. May it prove likewise very much the best. It ought to be, for its advantages are greater than any class preceding has had.

A SPRING SONG.
(From "The Afterglow.")

1. I sat beneath the Abeles old
The meads were shot with green and gold
And underneath my feet there roll'd
The little silvery Gad.
The Cuckoo and the thrush were singing,
The sheep bells on the hills were ringing
All life was gay and glad.

2. The busy, babbling waterfall
Melodiously kept time to all,
The rich May music mystical
Ton'd to the fresh'ning air.
Each ripening bud that open flies
Seem'd gasping with a gay surprise
To greet a world so fair.

3. O lovely, lovely Spring!
O rob'd in sunbeams! bridegroom, king,
Breathe on my heart and bid me sing,
Or rather praise and pray:
For emblems are these sunny hours,
These golden meads and streams and flowers,
Of everlasting May.

TO THEE, O COUNTRY.

1. To Thee, O Country, great and free,
With trusting hearts we cling.
Our voices tuned by joyous love,
Thy pow'r and praises sing.
Upon thy mighty, faithful heart
We lay our burden down;
Thou art the only friend who feels
Their weight without a frown.

2. For thee we daily work and strive.
To thee we give our love;
For thee with fervor deep we pray
To Him who dwells above.
O God, preserve our fatherland,
Let peace its ruler be;
And let her happy kingdom stretch
From North to Southmost sea.

PROCESSIONAL.

A mighty fortress is our God,
A bulwark never failing;
Our helper he, amid the flood of mortal ills prevailing.
For still our ancient foe
Doth seek to work us woe;
His craft and power are great,
And, armed with cruel hate,
On earth is not his equal.

And though this world, with devils filled
Should threaten to undo us,
We will not fear, for God hath willed
His truth to triumph through us.
The Prince of Darkness grim,—
We tremble not for him;
His rage we can endure,
For lo! his doom is sure,
One little word shall fell him.

INVOCATION, - - - - - - - - - - - Rev. A. D. Melvin

HYMN.

Jesus, these eyes have never seen
That radiant form of thine,
The veil of sense hangs dark between
Thy blessed face and mine.

I see thee not, I hear thee not,
Yet thou art oft with me;
And earth hath ne'er so dear a spot,
As where I meet with thee.

Like some bright dream that comes unsought
When slumbers o'er me roll,
Thine image ever fills my thought,
And charms my ravished soul.

Yet though I have not seen, and still
Must rest in faith alone;
I love thee, dearest Lord!—and will
Unseen, but not unknown.

ANTHEM—"The Heavens are Telling" (Creation) Haydn - The Choral Society

"The heavens are telling the glory of God
The wonder of his work displays the firmament.
To day that is coming speaks it the day.
The night that is gone to following night.
In all the lands resounds the word,
Never unperceived, ever understood.

CLASS ODE BY MISS J. M. THURMAN (AIR: JUANITA)

Gone are our school days
And with happy thought yet sad
Mem'ry recalls us
From the past, rose clad
In our silent dreaming
Joy and sorrow are revealed
Yet we love the union
'94 has sealed

CHORUS

Parting, yes parting,
If forever who can tell,
Sadly we bid thee.
'94 farewell

2. Here in the present,
Where the past and future meet,
Still would we tarry,
As the moments fleet;
Though thou'rt going from us
Yet thy mem'ry e'er shall live,
Love to thee and honor.
'94 we give.

3. Though sad the parting
Tears for thee we freely shed,
Yon lies the future
We soon must tread;
Ever shall our motto
Like a magic watchword be
Whilst we win fresh laurels
'94 for thee.

CLASS OFFICERS.

DOROTHY.

Come, come, come Dorothy,
Come, come, come my dearest, do not fear me.
It is my greatest joy to have thee near me
On thy cheeks so fair
Shines the lily rare,
With the rose uniting,
Every heart delighting.
Come, come, come my dearest, do not fear me,
Thou art my greatest joy, so tarry near me.

Look, look, look Dorothy,
Look, look, look within this eye, my dearest,
Where like a tiny fairy thou appearest.
There then, teazing elf,
Thou wilt find thyself.

There thou hast thy home,
Never more to roam,
Look, look, look within this eye, my dearest,
There like a tiny fay thou hast thy home, love.

Thou, thou, thou Dorothy,
Thou, thou, thou, a golden ring must give me,
For else, my dear, I fear thou wilt deceive me.
If I'm forced to part
From my own sweetheart,
Then a soldier brave
Will I seek my grave.
Thou, thou, thou a golden ring must give me,
Thou art my greatest joy, so tarry near me.

BRIDAL CHORUS.

'Tis thy wedding morning,
Shining in the skies,
Bridal bells are ringing,
Bridal songs arise
Op'ning the portals of thy Paradise.

'Tis thy last fair morning
For thy maiden eyes,
'Tis thy marriage morning,
Rise, sweet maid, arise.
