It is difficult to keep one's mind from Homecoming Day. The schedule of events, published elsewhere in this Bulletin, will indicate that it will be a gala affair. The Board of Trustees has authorized the dedication of our two new buildings on that day. A number of the alumni have seen them from time to time in the process of erection. Their hearts will be warmed with pride as they see them in their completed form.

You are urged to make reservations for the dinner since we anticipate a capacity attendance. We do not plan a program at the dinner, but we do expect to have a number of guests of honor present.

Governor and Mrs. O'Conor will honor us with attendance at the Homecoming Game on Hoffa Field in the afternoon. The new buildings will be open for inspection immediately following the game. All in all we anticipate a day which will be memorable for all of us. I look forward enthusiastically to greeting you on this occasion.

The fifteenth orientation period for Western Maryland College was begun September 25, 1939. One hundred seventy new students composed the enrolling class; eighty-three of them were young women and eighty-seven were young men.

Five days were allotted to the new students for registration, planning of class programs, discussion of campus problems, worship services, medical examinations, psychological and placement tests, outdoor activities, and get-acquainted parties.

By the end of the five days these freshmen were no longer feeling that Western Maryland was a new territory to be explored. They had become acquainted with its buildings and environs, its faculty, and some of the upperclassmen who had returned to assist with the orientation program.

Women's Sports

The Women's Athletic Association of Western Maryland College opened the sports year with the annual outdoor supper held especially to acquaint the freshmen girls with the organization. Members of the association and the freshmen guests met in front of Smith Hall and hiked out to the Pavilion. Here the first part of the evening was spent in a "peanut hunt." After this novel beginning supper was served, which found girls having a grand time roasting weiners before the large stone fire places of the Pavilion.

With supper over, Julia Berwager, president of the association, had the pleasure of introducing the officers on the W. A. A. board for the year 1939-1940. As the girls were introduced they gave short talks about the office they were holding or the sport they were representing. Special attention was given to an explanation of the awards system of the association. The following officers were introduced:

Julia Berwager, president; Ruth Field, vice-president; Alice Vollmer, secretary; Ellene Edmond, treasurer; and Mary Wright, hike supervisor. Managers of the various sports were next introduced. Jeannette Wigley represented hockey; Dorothy Brown, basketball; Ruth MacVean, volleyball; Emily Linton, softball; Virginia Wigley, tennis; Betty Brown, golf; Bette Helm, archery; and Betty Gibbs, badminton.

Singing and more games completed the evening's entertainment, and the picnic closed to the strains of the Alma Mater.

The freshmen girls were urged to take part in the major autumnal sport—hockey. Practice began early to train the girls for the intramural contests. The seniors entertain hopes of winning the championship, but the other three classes have strong teams, too. Besides the usual inter-class games, it is expected that a few inter-collegiate games will be included in the hockey schedule. In previous years Western Maryland has played at Notre Dame of Baltimore and the University of Maryland.

Men's Sports

Western Maryland College's football team has not fared so well this fall, losing five games to date. First of all, the Green Terrors faced Cortland Teachers, of Cortland, N.Y., here on Hoffa Field, and were set back 12-0. The following Saturday night, they lost to their traditional rival, the University of Maryland, 12-0. The week after that, they lost to Mt. St. Mary's here on their home grounds, 21-6. The next week, the team traveled to Wake Forest, N.C., where a powerful Wake Forest team trounced them, 66-0. Friday night, October 27, the Terrors faced Boston U. in Baltimore Stadium, and came out the loser in a freak game, 6-0.

There are still two games left on the Terror football schedule—one with Bucknell on November 4, and the Homecoming game with Dickinson on Hoffa Field November 18.

The freshman football team has fared rather well, winning one, tying one, and losing one, for an uneven season.

The soccer boys are on the way to the State championship with Towson Teachers and Johns Hopkins still standing as obstacles in their way. As yet undefeated, they face the strong Towson team on November 3 in a game which may well decide the championship.

The emphasis has been placed on "sports for everyone" here at Western Maryland College. With soccer, football, tennis, and golf in the fall; basketball, boxing, tumbling, handball, and fencing in the winter; and baseball, tennis, golf, and softball in the spring, everyone has equal opportunities to obtain wholesome recreation and physical relaxation in large measure.

This is amply proved in the touch football league existing here at College. The fraternities have a league, and the classes have a league, each of which are separate from the other. Interest is high in both, and the winners in each league will eventually play each other. At present, the leaders are the "Preachers" in the fraternity league, and the Fresh A team in the class league.

$1.00 covers the dinner and the dance. One ticket is sold for the two. If you attend only one of these functions, the ticket will still be $1.00. We are serving a real Thanksgiving dinner for which the usual charge would be more than the price of these two functions. We hope that you will come to College Hill and enjoy the day with us. Advance notice of your intention to have dinner with us that day should be received so that we can properly take care of you.

Your pleasure in the new dormitory and new field house will be in exact proportion to your cooperation in making these buildings possible. ACTIVITIES ON THE HILL

The Student Activities Committee, composed of members from the main student organizations on the Hill, functions to promote social activities for the students. As there was felt a need for entertainment, particularly on week-ends, this committee conducts a dance every Saturday night that some other activity is not scheduled. When facilities are available students dance to "Captain Kidd and his Buccaneers," our college dance orchestra, in Blanche Ward gymnasium. When the orchestra or the gymnasium cannot be obtained, a dance to recorded music is held in McDaniel Hall Lounge. For these dances a slight admission is charged to pay for the music.

Separate organizations also like to conduct entertainment. At Thanksgiving time the Women's Student Government sponsored a dance to recorded music on the night before Thanksgiving Day. On Thanksgiving games such as ping-pong, shuffle board, horseshoes and tenpins were available to all students. The Student Christian Association has sponsored two dances this year and the Women's Athletic Association sponsored a picnic at the pavilion.

Sadie Hawkins Dance, a big event of the year, was held on November 4. This dance, sponsored by the Gold Bug, received much enthusiastic support from the students. This was the chance for the girls to date their S.P.'s (Secret Passion) and to dance to their heart's content. The girls did all the inviting, and all the "cutting in" at the dance; they even paid the admission to the dance. Best of all everyone came dressed in hill-billy clothes. The decorations of the gymnasium suggested mountaineer life, logs to rest on and cider served from a keg. The money received from the dance was given to a children's charity fund in Westminster.

An interesting feature of the social program for this year has been the advent of the birthday tables in the dining hall. One night, during the latter part of the month, is set aside for honoring the students and faculty members whose birthdays occurred during the month. Special tables are reserved and made festive by the addition of candles and birthday cakes.

Home Economic Activities

For the first time in its history the Maryland Dietetic Association held its regular October meeting at the College with an attendance of eighty. The members of the Department of Home Economics acted as hostesses to the group. The dinner was prepared by the seniors of the department and served in McDaniel Hall Lounge.

Following the dinner, Miss Daisy Smith, head of the department, introduced Dr. Holloway who extended greetings. Miss Alma Bering, president of the association, introduced Miss Lillian Shipley who gave a talk on "The Romance of Pattern Glass." This was of particular interest to the group since Miss Shipley had part of her collection of glass on display.

At the close of the meeting, the girls took groups of the members of the association on a tour of the Home Economics Department and the Home Management House. The refinished clothing laboratory with its newly painted walls, modern lighting, and rearranged furnishings made a very fine appearance. The dining room with its newly papered walls, its new lighting fixtures, and the new furniture was most attractive.

The girls who assisted with the activities of the evening were: Lydia Bradburn, Madlyn Cline, Kathryn Cochrane, Jean Cox, Mary Ellen Creager, Ruth Dygert, Kathryn Fertig, Jane Gilchrist, Grace Gillner, Ruthetta Lippy, Marianna Lee Long, Ethel Martindale, Eleanor Perry, Lila Scott, Virginia Wooden, Eva Zentz, and Ruth Zentz.

Homecoming Day

Homecoming Day, 1939, was a memorable day which will go down in the annals of College history. It marked the dedication of the two new buildings: the Gill Gymnasium, named for Colonel Robert J. Gill, a highly respected alumnus of the College and a member of the Board of Trustees, and the Albert Norman Ward Dormitory, named for the late and much beloved president whose dream for a Greater Western Maryland has been partially realized.

There were other events of the day to interest all of the returning alumni and friends of the College. The spirited hockey game of the morning between the senior girls and the junior girls ended with a tie score.

In the afternoon the Western Maryland football squad closed its season for the year with a score of 27-0, winning the game from the Dickinson squad.

A most attractive feature of the afternoon was the presentation of the homecoming queen, Grace Brannock Smith, and her attendants, Catherine Jockel, Jean Cairnes, Kathleen Coe, and Anne Dexter. This event took place during the intermission at the football game.

For the game, the presentation of the queen and her court, and the dedication, the College was honored with the presence of Governor and Mrs. Herbert R. O'Conor. At the dedication Governor O'Conor released the keys that officially opened the two new buildings.

Following the events of the day came the dinner in the dining hall and the dance in the Gill Gymnasium. This was acclaimed one of the most delightful and successful events sponsored by the Carroll County Alumni Association.

The following alumni were seen at some time during the day on the Hill:

1885 John H. Cunningham
1887 Carrie L. Monner
1888 J. M. Denon
1889 L. T. Pollitt
1893 Harry E. Gilbert, J. L. Reifsnider, Jr.
1895 Nannie C. Lease
1897 C. E. Fortines
1898 Charles O. Clenon, Miriam Baynes Matthews, Caleb O'Conor
It has been announced that the conversion of Levine Hall into a conservatory of music has been made possible by an annuity which has been established by Dr. A. N. Isunoghe, Head of the School of Education. The work of remodeling the building has begun, the exterior paint will be removed to the natural brick to conform with the other buildings on the Hill. The building will be approached from the side facing downtown, rather than from the front as is now done. The interior will undergo many changes necessary for the housing of the music department. There will be a large music recital room, offices, classrooms, studios, and practice rooms. Only the first floor of the building will be completed this year.

The work of the department will be greatly enhanced by this very worthwhile change which will bring together the department into one building.

"Spring Dance"

The annual Thanksgiving Day play was presented in Alumni Hall to an interested audience on November 23 at eight o'clock. The play, Spring Dance, by Philip Barrie, was given by the College Players and directed by Miss Esther Smith.

The hilarious situations of the comedy centered around the campus life of modern college students. Veronica Kompanek and Malcolm Kullmer very ably portrayed the principal roles of the play. They were assisted by a splendid supporting cast composed of Ethel Barnes, Virginia Willing, Dorothy Brown, Anna McLuckie, Mary Hoffacker, Ruth Kimney, Donald Humphries, Harper LeCompte, James Merritt, Donald Griffen, and Arnold Feagel.

Vesper Service

The annual Christmas Vesper Service was held Sunday afternoon, December 10, in Alumni Hall. Each year alumni, students, and friends of the College look forward with anticipation to this service which emanates the Christmas story in song, music, and play.

The prelude and interlude of organ music, played by Mr. Oliver K. Spangler, portrayed the Christmas story in music. The usual candlelight procession by the Vesper Choir followed the prelude. The Choir, under the direction of Mr. Alfred deLong, sang a group of lovely Christmas carols of other countries. Katherine Klier and Mary Frances Hawkins carried the solo parts.

Bethlehem, by Lawrence Housman, a nativity poem, patterned after the old miracle plays, was given by the College Players. This play, directed by Miss Esther Smith, portrayed the old but ever new Christmas story of the Christ-Child.
WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

Western Maryland coeds closed the hockey season in November with the senior class in possession of the championship. The seniors sprang into the lead at the beginning of the tournament and successfully won over the runner-up junior team.

After the interclass contests, the Women's Athletic Association Board selected a varsity hockey team made up of the most outstanding players from the four classes. Senior girls chosen were Julia Berwager, Ruth Field, Beulah Griffin, Kay Fertig, Margaret Quarles, and Edith Armacost. Representing the junior class were Alice Vollmer, Jeannette Wigley, Betty Brown, and Virginia Wigley. The awards assembly in January honors these girls for athletic achievement.

Plans of the W. A. A. Board for January consist of a basketball moving picture emphasizing the techniques and skills of this major sport. The film runs for twenty minutes and is particularly interesting to those girls who find basketball the most thrilling of the athletic games offered on the Hill. The January program also includes an old fashioned square dance planned for the freshmen and members of the Association.

Besides providing entertainment for the athletes, the Women's Athletic Association helps sponsor Saturday night dances and game nights when the facilities of the gymnasium are open to all on the campus. This organization also helps supervise and plan many other social activities which are an integral part of college life.

Basketball, one of the best loved sports of the year, is also run on an intramural basis with an honorary varsity team chosen at the end of the season from the various classes. In spite of the keen competition, sportsmanship is always stressed and very evident at these interclass games. Last year the sophomore class carried off the honors in basketball. This year's senior class has high hopes of winning the basketball championship, having done so when they were freshmen but not able to hold the title for the past two years. The round-robin tournament is used in basketball. The upperclasses usually have at least two teams, an A and B; while the freshmen class has been known to have as many as five teams in this sport.
much passing by Bull Draper’s well-drilled outfit and the loss was the Terror’s first in more than a decade to the Emmitsburg clan.

In the next three games, Western Maryland was the victim of the same jinx—an inability to create scoring power in enemy territory. Wake Forest, Boston University, and Bucknell, all boasting tremendous man power, struck mighty blows at Charlie Havens’ machine as the Terrors failed to break into the win column.

On Homecoming Day, however, the tide turned and again on Hoffa Field it looked like “happy days were here again.” Scoring in every period, Captain Stropp (who incidentally tallied twelve points) led his teammates to a 26-0 victory over the Dickinson Red Devils. Fine backfield play by Fran Smith, Irv Biasi, and Bo-Bo Knapp together with an air-tight defense of Bob Faw, Ed Lewis, Harry Baker, Mike Petrucci, and Mack McFike allowed the Terrors to chalk up their initial triumph of the season.

Boxing

Coach Tony Ortenzi, in his first year as mentor, is faced with one of the most extensive boxing schedules of recent years. Of the seven matches, two will be held in Gill Gymnasium and five will be on the road. The Coast Guard Academy and Bucknell Bisons will visit our campus for inter-collegiate bouts in February and March.

Joe Rouse, with two seasons in the 120-pound division behind him, has been elected captain for the coming season and together with Bud Ricker, 135-pounder and Mike Petrucci, heavy-weight, will form the nucleus of the squad. Other men who gained experience as freshmen are Doc Summer, John Pirie, Harry Baker, and Bill Vincent.

The tentative card:

Jan. 20—U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis
27—Penn State College, State College
Feb. 2—3—Coast Guard Academy Gill Gym
10—U. S. Military Academy, West Point
17—Maryland, College Park
23—Yale, New Haven
Mar. 1—Bucknell, Gill Gym

Soccer

In their first season under the tutelage of their new coach, Dr. Walter Nathan, the Green Terror soccerites have maintained an unblemished record in the home games. With eight of its nine games played, the booters hold a 5-0-0 rating in the Maryland intercollegiate league and in outside competition have recorded one victory and two ties in four games.

On Hoffa Field, Western Maryland has been practically invincible and in four games played at home, only one goal has been scored on them, while the Terrors have dented the enemy nets ten times as they scored victories over Blue Ridge, 5-0; Dickinson, 3-0; and Johns Hopkins, 2-1. In their best performance, to date, the Nathanmen held Bucknell Bisons to a scoreless tie on October 20. A week later, the Green and Gold eleven invaded Gettysburg and after spotting the Bullets four first-half goals came from behind to gain a 2-2 draw. Captain Sam Galbreath and Forward Tim Lewis were the offensive stars of the game, each recording a Terror score.

In an attempt to regain the state championship lost a year ago, the locals engaged the Maryland State Teachers College at Towson and suffered a 2-0 defeat for their first setback of the season. There was little to choose between the two teams, but the hosts took advantage of the breaks to come out on top. After scoring victories over Dickinson and Hopkins, the booters were overpower ed by Maryland and Virginia in games at College Park and Charlottesville. The season will be concluded on December 2 when the Wheaton Crusaders will be met on Hoffa Field.

THE SUMMER SESSION

First Term, June 20 - July 25
Second Term, July 26 - August 28
ANNOUNCEMENT

The Ninth Summer Session

First Term, June 20—July 25
Second Term, July 26—August 28

The Summer Session at Western Maryland has become an important part of the school year and meets the need of a large number of regular students and teachers. The consistent growth of summer attendance speaks well for the work of the session. However, we are still a small group of less than three hundred, practically all elementary and high school teachers or prospective teachers, with a sympathetic attitude toward one another's problems—just one big educational family.

Outlined in this leaflet are some of the courses, special features, and distinct advantages offered. If you wish a fuller statement, return the attached card. The Summer Catalog will be ready for distribution about April first.

Location

Western Maryland College, College Hill, Westminster, thirty miles west of Baltimore, fifty miles north of Washington, and twenty-five miles south of Gettysburg, atop of one of the hills of the Piedmont where the summer heat and humidity are low is in a setting ideal for summer study and recreation.

Recreation

Summer students are encouraged to combine recreation and study in wholesome measure and facilities on the campus for recreation, outside the regular courses, are ample and free.

The summer session is enriched and enlivened by occasional recitals, receptions, and outdoor dramatics; by lectures, demonstrations, and exhibits given by specialists who have a message; by field trips for the collection of material and the observation of phenomena in connection with the biology, geology, and geography courses; by instructive excursions to places economically and historically interesting—as industrial plants, the Battle Fields of Antietam and Gettysburg, the libraries, art galleries, and museums in Baltimore and Washington; by afternoon and supper picnics in the gardens and parks on the campus. A large campus, well equipped for sports, offers exceptional facilities for recreation in tennis, archery, golf, and other games. The community and the College unite for the instruction and entertainment of the summer group.

OPPORTUNITIES

The Summer Session at Western Maryland College achieves certain definite objectives, among which are the following:

It enables college students to continue their study during the summer and graduate in three years; i.e., by eliminating the long summer vacations, students may secure in three years the eight semesters of college work usually required for graduation. They may then secure positions, go to graduate schools, or continue for a year of advanced study at Western Maryland. By this plan a student entering as a freshman in June, 1940, and continuing through three year-sessions will graduate in June, 1943; those entering in September for the regular sessions only will graduate in 1944.

It enables our students, transfers and others who for one cause or another are out of regular class rank, to adjust their credits and improve their standing in the college.

It enables college students whose regular program are crowded to spend the summer in a pleasant environment, taking certain courses which they especially want.

It enables those who are doing college work in extension to continue the work during vacation.

It enables teachers and others to work for self-improvement and advanced credits during the vacation period.

It enables elementary and high school teachers to renew certificates by study during either the first or the second term of the summer session.

It enables college graduates with satisfactory records, including Fifth Year Professional Students, to pursue during the summer session advanced courses leading to the degree of Master of Arts.

Most of the work of the summer session has been on the undergraduate level, accredited toward the renewal or the advancing of the grade of certificate and toward the A. B. degree. Hence, most of the courses are of the academic or content type rather than professional.

There are attending the summer session for advanced study an increasing number of college graduates, most of them high school teachers, who have as their objective the Master's degree or the principal's certificate, or both. The college is making provision for this group, and the graduate work offered is approved by the State Department of Education for the Master's degree and the high school principal's certificate.
COURSES

Regularly catalogued courses carrying full college credit are given in the summer session. A three-semester-hour course meeting three hours a week for 15 weeks during the regular session, meets in summer, nine hours a week—six one and one-half hour periods—for five weeks. A student in regular session carries five or six courses; in the summer he carries but two such courses to earn six semester hours of credit each term.

Art

Art is becoming more and more prominent in the elementary and high school curriculum. The art history and appreciation courses given in summer use lecture, reading, and a wealth of illustrative material.

Guidance and the Vocations

Persistent social and economic change makes the education, the self-improvement of the real teacher a continuous process, so the summer schools with their forward looking programs are a boon to the progressive teacher. Teachers, especially high school teachers, feel the need for vocational information in order to counsel and guide the youth who come to them for help. The Summer Session offers courses in the teaching of vocational information and guidance taught by those who have been especially successful in this field.

The Small School

There are certain distinct advantages in attending the smaller school of good standing where the individual is not lost in the group; where the small classes afford close relation between student and student, and between student and teacher. Few people can study or think best in a crowd. Ask those who know.

Library Science

Six basic courses treating the problems of the librarian will be given and courses will be added year by year until the 30 hours of library science recommended for the school librarian are available.

Most graded schools and certainly every high school should have on the staff a librarian or teacher-librarian trained in the selection, cataloguing, care, and efficient use of books. In connection with these courses, ten or more visiting authorities will lecture on books, library techniques, and special book service. These lectures are open to all students of the Summer Session.

Music

The work in music at Western Maryland has long had favored recognition. The College carries music instruction of the same high type through the summer session. Theoretical courses, public school music, for both elementary and high school teachers, conducting, piano, violin, and voice will be offered.

A new course in the principles of orchestra conducting with or without baton will be offered this summer. The course will include a study of orchestral instruments, especially violin, cornet, and clarinet.

Year by year, music is gaining in importance as a school subject, and special teachers of music are in demand. And then, music should be part of the equipment of practically every elementary teacher and of many high school teachers.
This Bulletin is devoted to the publication of a new set of photographs of the college buildings. It is addressed to both the alumni and friends of the college as well as prospective students. The cover page gives a picture of the Ward Memorial Arch and the footpath leading to the college campus. The buildings pictured in this bulletin are arranged in their order of location on the campus as approached from West Main Street.

We hope that this publication will prove interesting to friends of the college as well as to those who have never visited its campus. We invite prospective students to take note of the announcement given on the last page, inviting them to visit the campus on May eleventh. Later the college will publish a book of views of student activities.
The Offices of Administration were originally located in the Library Building. In 1938 the Reifsnider property, located on the left campus, was converted into an Administration Building. The offices of the president, deans, registrar and treasurer are located here. It is to this building that students report for registration.
Alumni Hall, erected in 1899, contains a large auditorium seating about 1,200 persons. The stage is of ample dimensions and is capable of seating 400 persons. In this room all assemblies, public lectures and concerts are held, as well as the regular Sunday Evening Chapel Service. The auditorium contains a three-manual one-foot pedal pipe organ. On the lowest floor are fraternity rooms for men.
Baker Chapel was erected in 1895 by Mr. William G. Baker. The building is cruciform. The student body has long since outgrown it but the Chapel is used for the College Sunday School and other informal religious services.
The College Library houses about 35,000 volumes. The main reading and stack rooms are on the upper floor. The street floor contains the office of the librarian and the work shop. The reference room, the bound periodical room and the current periodical room are also located on this floor. On the lowest level are found the government publication stack room, the room for unbound periodicals and a conference room. The Library is open daily until 10:00 p.m. except Sunday. On Saturday the closing hour is 3:30 p.m.
Blanche Ward Hall is the newest dormitory for women. The dormitory rooms are bright and airy and attractively furnished. There are sufficient lounge rooms to make the building most homelike. The gymnasium for girls is located in this building and is not only attractive but ample in every respect. This picture shows only the east entrance to the building. A fuller view is found on a later page.
McDaniel Hall is a dormitory for women, with rooms and furnishings comparable to those found in Blanche Ward Hall. The building also contains the large McDaniel Lounge which is available for many of the social functions of the college. The lounge overlooks the beautiful Robinson Gardens, the scene of a number of events in the spring.
Lewis Hall is a classroom building. It also contains the chemistry laboratories and the physics laboratories. The Lee Mineralogical Collection is likewise located in this building. Erected in 1914, the vine covered building reflects a truly collegiate atmosphere.
Old Main Building is difficult to photograph, spreading as it does over such a large section of the campus. The Ward and McKinstry wings are dormitories for men. Smith Hall is a dormitory for faculty women. Other sections house the home economics laboratory, the art department, the game rooms for men, the college post office and the bookstore. A soda fountain shop is also located in this building.
The College Dining Room, on the first floor of Science Hall, is attractively appointed, capable of seating 600 persons. The entire lowest level is given over to the college kitchen and bakery. Classrooms and professors' offices are found on the upper floors as well as the biology laboratories.
Albert Norman Ward Hall was erected in 1939. It is a building of four units, each unit containing on each floor four double bedrooms and bath. Some sections contain suites of rooms. This is a dormitory for men and contains, in addition to the regular student rooms, game and lounge rooms.
Stitt Gymnasium was also erected in 1939. It contains a playing floor measuring 80'x115' feet. The equipment is the latest and there is ample seating on telescopic bleachers. Offices for the athletic and physical education departments are found here. There are excellent shower rooms and locker rooms to make the entire building one that is both modern and satisfactory.
A View of the Boys' Quadrangle showing the tennis courts in the foreground, the Albert Norman Ward Hall and Gill Gymnasium. In the background is the college's nine-hole golf course. A second dormitory, similar to the one here shown, is one of the next structures in the college's building program.

Visitors' Day for Young Men and Young Women

A Program of General Interest, including Interscholastic and Intercollegiate Sports Tournaments

We cordially invite all high school seniors who are interested in Western Maryland to spend this day on our campus and to have lunch with us in the College Dining Hall. Ample opportunity will be given to see the facilities and equipment which the college offers.
Alma Mater

College Ties can ne'er be broken, Formed at W. M. C.

Far our passing wealth unspoken. Ev'ry may they be.

CHORUS—

Western Maryland! Hail, all Hail! Echo softly from each heart.

We'll be ev'ry loyal to thee Till we from life shall part.

When our college days are over, Round our hearts shall cling
Memories of our Alma Mater,
Every day shall bring.

But our life is swiftly passing,
Soon its course is run,
What e'er our lot we'll ever cherish,
Friendships here begun.
Alumni returning to the Hill for the seventieth Commencement will be interested in the changes which have taken place on the campus during the year 1939-1940. Many of the graduates have already inspected the new men's dormitory, Albert Norman Ward Hall, and the Gill Gymnasium, which were officially opened on Homecoming Day. With the additional dormitory space thus provided, it was found to be no longer necessary to house students in Levine and Owings Halls. Consequently this latter building was razed. Vacated by students and by the Department of Military Science and Tactics which has acquired the Yingling Gymnasium as its new home, Levine Hall has been converted into a Conservatory of Music. Other changes in interiors will be noticed, such as the remodeling of the Home Economics laboratories.

As we review the calendar for the school year, we find that many interesting and worthwhile events were scheduled. Those students who took advantage of these extra-curricular activities were enriched by the offerings.

For those on the Hill who were particularly interested in music, many opportunities to hear the best in music were provided. The Trapp Family Choir, composed of one of Europe's old families, delighted its audience with a program of choral and instrumental music and folk songs from the Austrian Alps. Olives Graves and George Baker, two of England's foremost vocalists, presented a program of arias and duets from the Gilbert and Sullivan operettas. A most pleasing recital was given by Lois Bannerman, American concert harpist, and Herman Ivarson, Norwegian bass-baritone. For the fourth successive year the National Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Hans Kindler, afforded pleasure to a Western Maryland College audience.

Mr. James Mannix, of Harrisburg, presented a program of Chopin's Etudes, the same program which he had previously given in Town Hall in New York. The faculty club, with the music students as their guests, enjoyed a piano recital given by Mr. Pasquale Tallarico, professor of music at the Peabody Conservatory of Music. At the annual concert given by the College Band, Sergeants Lavin and Junior were honored with the dedicatory playing of the J and L March, composed by Mr. Philip Royer. The concert, given by the College Symphony Orchestra, featured James Bopst of the class of 1935 as the piano soloist with the orchestra. Other recitals of interest were given by members of the music faculty of the College and students majoring in music. The music lovers look forward to these evenings of fine music each year.

Opening the drama season at the College, the Players gave a creditable performance of the delightful comedy, "Spring Dance," by Philip Barry. The excellent work of this same group was evidenced in the portrayal of the nativity poem, "Bethlehem," at the Christmas Vesper Service. Satire, poetry, and farce set the mood for the three one-act plays presented by the Players in February. Recitals given by members of the Dramatic Art department at various times during the year portrayed the splendid work of Miss Esther Smith, director of the department. As a fitting climax to the season's activities, Miss Smith delighted a Sunday evening audience with a most effective performance of "The Family Portrait," the story of the family of Jesus.

Prominent lecturers brought before the college group authoritative discussions of present day happenings in international events and of important topics in the fields of science, art, religion, and literature. Among the speakers were the following: Dr. H. H. Nininger, president of the International Society for Research of Meteorites; Honorable Max Brauer, well-known German municipal administrator; Dr. George Boas, professor of history of philosophy at Johns Hopkins University; Dr. George W. Mead, president of Washington College; Miss Elsie Singmaster, a noted writer of short stories and books; Mr. Myron B. Smith, authority on Persian Art; Miss Hilary Newitt of England; Mr. Wesley Day, missionary to China; Dr. Theodore Maynard, formerly of Mt. St. Mary's College; Miss Grace Humphreys, noted traveler and lecturer; Mr. Mirko deDominis, distinguished journalist; Mr. Harry Edmonds, founder of the International House idea; Miss Martha Hill, an authority on ballet; Mr. Norman Lloyd, a noted composer; Dr. Kirby Page, social evangelist; and Dr. Sherwood Eddy, a well-known lecturer.

We wish to express our appreciation to those students who have contributed articles to the bulletin for the year. Our thanks go to the following: Audrey Coffren, Ruth Field, Samuel Galbreath, Carlston Gooden, Veronica Kompaneck, William Robinson, and Blanche Scott.
ATHLETICS

Up to the present time, Western Maryland collegiate athletes have been unable to emerge from a prolonged slump that has produced winning teams in but two sports; namely, soccer and freshman basketball. The football squad, riddled by several severe injuries, were victorious in only one contest—on Homecoming Day against Dickinson College. At the end of the campaign, however, two men, Mack McPike and Bob Stropp, were chosen on the All-Maryland team. In the other fall sport, the soccereites maintained a much better record and were turned back but three times on their nine game schedule. At a meeting held after their victory over Wheaton College, Thomas Lewis and John Tomlinson were elected co-captains for the 1940 campaign.

After dropping the first five games on the schedule, the Green and Gold basketeers hit their stride and for the balance of the season enjoyed considerable success, winning eight of their sixteen remaining contests. Ten of these engagements were held in the newly opened Gill Gymnasium. Boxing was also brought before the eyes of the local fans as Bucknell and Coast Guard Academy paid visits to the Terrors’ newly equipped athletic plant.

Since spring vacation, all eyes have been focused on spring sports, but unusual competition in the form of inclement weather has offered stiff opposition. The baseball squad, with ten lettermen back, have engaged in but two contests and are faced by a twenty-one game schedule.

Also hampered by cold and wet grounds have been the tennis racquet- eers, the eindermen, and the golfers. One tennis match has been cancelled and it is hoped that fair weather will allow the Terrors to meet N. Y. U., Loyola, Catawba, and Washington to mention only a quartet of the locals’ opponents. The trackmen are attempting an ambitious card of six meets and with several newcomers on hand, the outlook is promising. In golf the four returning veterans are in shape for the schedule of a score of tests.

In intramural competition, where a large majority of the men are active competitors, an extensive program is being carried on. Although the Delta Pi Alpha fraternity has captured three championships, football, basketball, and volleyball, the outlook for the spring tournaments in softball, tennis, golf and track is for keen competition. The winners of the athletic and sportsmanship awards will be determined by these activities.

Western Maryland coeds have displayed much interest and enthusiasm for the various fall and winter sports of this college year. Intramural tournaments in hockey, basketball, volley ball, and badminton successfully closed with the senior class teams winning most of the laurels. The veteran seniors wore the championships of hockey, basketball, and volley ball. In badminton the school champion was not determined, but the class champions were senior, Kathryn Fertig; junior, Eleanor Prescott; sophomore, Florence Barker; and freshman, Muriel Harding.

Spring athletics open with girls participating in softball, tennis, archery, and golf. The freshmen are especially interested in softball in hopes of winning the last major championship of the year. The senior girls are determined to continue their unusual winning record. An elimination tournament in tennis decides the class winners, who then play each other to determine the best tennis player in the school. A silver cup is presented each year to this girl by Mr. Caleb O’Connor. Awards are also given to the different class champions. A telegraphic meet in archery is being held this year which has aroused much interest in this sport. These girls skillful in archery shoot a Columbia Round on their own college campus, telegraphing the results to the tournament headquarters in Boston. Any girl successful in this sectional tournament is then eligible for a similar national meet.

Golf is one of the comparatively new spring sports emphasized by the Women’s Athletic Association. More girls are expected to play this year in view of the golf tournament to be conducted.

Besides these regularly scheduled sports which Western Maryland coeds participate in, they play a large part in the May Day activities. This year the play day held May 4 did not include outside schools. Tennis, archery, and softball were the sports on the day’s program.

In view of their faithfulness and spirit shown in athletics on the Hill for the past four years due recognition is given to the senior M girls who receive the highest award of the W. A. A., the chenille letter M. These girls who have been particularly outstanding in sports are Edith Armacost, Ethel Barnes, Letitia Bogan, Dorothy Brown, Kathryn Fertig, Ruth Field, Carlyn Gompf, Bette Helm, and Blanche Scott.
EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

“This is Western Maryland College on the air. Today we bring you ...” and the familiar tones of Program Director Makosky’s voice introduce the program for the regular WMC half-hour over Frederick station WFMD. Covering virtually every activity in college life, these radio programs were but one of the features of the progressive activity which seemed to strike the Hill this year.

Every departmental organization found a new high in both functioning and support. The old Chemistry Club opened its arms to take in physics students and the new scientific organization became Alpha Delta Lambda. The International Relations Club found itself progressing as new world crises aroused more student interest and opinion. The same awakening of student interest resulted in the founding of an Economics Club for those majoring in that and related fields.

With its annual Christmas carol service, its competition in French play presentation at Hood College, its varied meetings, and the “French speaking dinner tables,” the French Club was not undone by any other organization in the way of purposeful achievement. Sponsoring of a most colorful spring fashion show in Alumni Hall climaxcd the year’s activities for the Art Club, while both Beta Beta Beta and the Home Economics Club represented Western Maryland at numerous conventions and conferences “abroad.”

Completing a schedule of more than twenty-five debates, W. M. C.’s varsity debaters may rest on their laurels. This year three extensive tours were taken through Pennsylvania and New Jersey on which two questions were debated: Resolved, that the United States should adopt a policy of complete military and economic isolation toward nations involved in international or civil conflict outside the Western Hemisphere; and, That the basic blame for the present European conflict rests upon the allied powers. The season was closed with the Tau Kappa Alpha convention which was held at Bucknell University on April 19 and 20.

Endeavoring to keep in step with the progressive attitude on the campus, both the college publications, the Gold Bug and the Gold Bug, worked to become a more integral part of student life on the Hill. Student interest became the slide rule for the Gold Bug which, in addition to sponsoring a number of outside activities such as a Sadie Hawkins Charity Dance and a freshman orientation event, made “progressive” the byword of the day as it changed its type, its features, and attempted to maintain its existence as a newspaper rather than an announcement sheet.

Yes—if this activity is any indication, instead of “This is Western Maryland College on the air”— one could say “This is Western Maryland College on the air.”

1940 COMMENCEMENT

For the seventieth year Alumni of Western Maryland College will be returning to the Hill for Commencement activities.

The program of activities will be opened by the College Players, Friday, May 31, at eight o’clock, in Alumni Hall, with the presentation of “Our Town.” This play, written by Thornton Wilder, is one of the most unusual and yet one of the finest achievements of the current stage. Mr. Wilder has transmuted the simple events of a human life into universal reverie.

Saturday, June 1, will be Alumni Day. McDaniel Hall Lounge will again be the headquarters for the Alumni. We hope many will find the time to come to the Hill for the day and take advantage of the program of events that is being planned for them.

Sunday morning at ten-thirty o’clock Dr. Fred G. Holloway, as is his annual custom, will preach the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class, their relatives, and their friends. The Choir will furnish special music for this impressive service.

In the evening of the same day at seven-thirty o’clock the College Choir will be heard in a concert of sacred and secular music, under the direction of Mr. Alfred deLong.

Again at ten o’clock on Monday morning Alumni Hall will be crowded with relatives and friends of the graduating class of 1940 for the conferring of degrees and honors. This will be the peak experience of college days for many of the graduates. Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, president of the Baltimore Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, will bring the address on this occasion.
ALUMNI CLUBS

The activities of the year, in Alumni circles, have been varied. Many of the regional clubs have held banquets, as summarized below.

Watson Honored!
On Friday, February 16, the New York Alumni held their annual dinner at the Rainbow Grill, Rockefeller Center. Dr. Harry G. Watson, '89, who celebrated his fiftieth anniversary with his class last Commencement and who was the first football coach Western Maryland ever had was the guest of honor.

Philadelphia Club
On Saturday, March 2, the Philadelphia group held a dinner meeting in the Penn Athletic Club “Pennace” Room. Mrs. Margaret Gardner Hearne, ’24, vice-president of the Philadelphia area was in charge.

Washington Club
The Congressional Country Club was the scene of a splendid gathering of alumni and friends of the College on Saturday, March 16. Emily Allnutt Sillim, ’25, chairman and Washington vice-president, should be well pleased with the result of her efforts.

Baltimore Club
The Ladies’ Group met at the Woman’s City Club, Baltimore, on Saturday afternoon, April 6, under the leadership of Vice-President Lillian Veasey Dexter, ’07. Two members of the group addressed them on unusual educational lines.

The Men’s Group—Vice-President Preston Grimm, ’35, chairman—held a buffet supper and smoker at The Longfellow on Wednesday, April 10. Motion pictures of recent college events were shown and A.C. “Shorty” Long gave a very inspirational talk.

Anne Arundel Club
A meeting of the Anne Arundel Club has been arranged for 8 o’clock, May 23, at Carvel Hall.

Eastern Shore
Vice-President J. E. Andrews, ’14, is arranging a dinner for Saturday, May 11, in one of the leading hotels in Cambridge.

Hagerstown Club
On Friday, May 3, the Hagerstown Club held a dinner at the Hotel Patterson. Joseph Snyder, ’32, was chairman of the committee which arranged the meeting.

My dear Fellow Members:
The year has been rather active and we have spent a lot of money. We hope it has been well spent. The summer Bulletin and the history of “Western Maryland in the 19th Century” together cost more than $250.00. Those two items go back to Alumni, and it is hoped both have been enjoyed by those who received them.

We are not running a financial campaign. My office, however, cannot do anything except through the response to bills for dues. Letters circulating for their reunions at Commencement time and all the multitude of letters pertaining to meetings at various place are financed through your remittance of dues. The inference is obvious.

We are slowly getting ahead, although we are a long way from reaching the goal we set a few years ago—$5000.00 in the Student Loan Fund. If you have not put in your mite, do it now.

The program arranged for Commencement time is shown elsewhere in this Bulletin and is arranged with the sole idea of your entertainment. The afternoon of June 1 will be colorful and you will meet the “who’s who” of Alumni at the Garden Party, the Dinner, and the Dance.

We are graduating an enormous class. That means our membership is accordingly increased. Replacements of these graduates in our student body must be made. Why not by you? Some of you have young hopefuls of excellent scholastic rating who have the college urge. Others know many such young men and women. Why not have a transcript of their high school record sent to your registrar and see if you cannot do your Alma Mater a good turn.

WHEREAS, In the "great plan of God running through all time" there has been removed from our midst by death that unique and radiant personality we all so affectionately called Ed Stone; and

MARTHA H. HARRISON

The sudden passing of Mrs. T. K. Harrison, wife of our alumni secretary, on January first, brought great sadness to her many friends and admirers. She was a woman of unusual charm and kindliness. No one who knew her could ever forget the cordiality of her greeting, the winsomeness of her smile.

Mrs. Harrison was a great lover of flowers. Last summer, when we were visiting in her home, she gave my wife an African Violet plant. We cared for it hopefully, but as time passed on, it seemed as though it would never blossom. Eventually it did show signs of buds, and on the day that Mrs. Harrison was laid to rest, it bloomed! This was to us a parable. The sweetness of this woman's life could not be stopped by death. Whenever we think of her, we are surrounded by the fragrance of flowers.

Address by Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, Washington, D. C.
WE, the graduates of Western Maryland College, for the purpose of fostering the liberal culture we have learned to love, perpetuating the friendships of our college life, and actively maintaining the honor and promoting the interests of our Alma Mater, do hereby organize the

and do make and declare this constitution for its government.
BISHOP STRAUGHN SAYS
To the Alumni of Western Maryland College, it is with a heart filled with appreciation and gratitude that I address you today. The Board of Trustees of your Alma Mater, and mine, is composed of thirty-three men and women, many of whom are Alumni; each and every member of that board is vitally interested in our college; charged with its larger policy; it bespeaks your cooperation and support in all it undertakes. It gratefully acknowledges your support in the past; most of the changes and improvements on College Hill are the direct results of Alumni devotion.

This being so, our tasks and interests are one, and only by the closest intermingling of ideals and ideas is it possible to create and preserve a "Greater Western Maryland". Across the years and miles I extend the hand of fellowship and bespeak your continued interest in your Alma Mater.

JAS. H. STRAUGHN, '99, President
The Board of Trustees of Western Maryland College.

THE 1930 LOG
One of the truly splendid exhibits of this last Alumni Day was the collection of data about the class of 1930. Pictures, autobiographies—ah that loveliness that comes after ten years separation from classmates who were a vital part of their college lives. Wilmer V. Bell was the Collaborator.

THE CLASS OF 1874
When the Roll Call was being made at the Alumni Day banquet, the oldest class to be represented was '74. Representing that class, Dr. Jas. E. Shreve, Sr., rose when his name was called, then Dr. C. Alfred Shreve, '06, and Jas. Lockerman Shreve, '40. Three generations of Western Marylanders at one dinner spells 100 years of loyalty and devotion.

Is there another family with a record, equal or better? If so, please let me have details.

RELIQUA
Just discovered two old programs:
March 12, 1893, opening the Young Men's Christian Association Rooms. On the program are the names of W. H. Litsinger, Wm. G. Baker and J. S. Williams.
June 2-12, 1901. An invitation to the graduation exercises of the Class of 1901.

It might be interesting to get together a display of ALL old programs of your years. Who has one to send in.

THE YEAR '40-'41
The Registrar tells us that the enrollment is better than it has ever been at this time, and there are only a few vacancies. If you have not sent in the name of a prospective student, it looks like you are too late. We expect to have every space filled this year.

TWO NEW MEMBERS ON THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS
The annual meeting of the Alumni Association elected Hubert P. Burdette and D. Wilbur Devibiss to serve three years on the Board. As you may know, the Board is charged with the business of the Association. The following is the complete list of members:

J. Francis Reese, '13, President
E. D. Stone, Jr., '22
Madge Hayman Kindley, '17
Dorothy Elderdice, '11
Charles E. Bish, '29

D. Wilbur Devibiss, '25
Lyman L. Long, '22
W. G. Holloway, '18
W. R. McDaniel, '81
T. K. Harrison, '01

DR. WILL'S PORTRAIT
The Alumni Association is pleased to give to the presentation of a portrait of Dr. George Stockton Wills to the College. The settings are being arranged, and the portrait will be completed in time to make the presentation at an early Alumni function. It is intended to be a tribute from friends and former students of Dr. Wills.

VENI! VIDI! VICI!
Not so many colleges in these United States have the honor of celebrating a seventieth Commencement. WE DID.

In what way did this commencement differ from all that have gone before? For one thing, the graduating class was just about the largest we have ever had. One hundred and forty-three Bachelors and five Masters received their coveted and well earned sheepskins. In the words of that old "Lettos Chain" song, "Where, oh where have the Seniors gone?"; then comes that answering refrain "They've gone out in the cold, cold world." Out to join you, aye, and you, in that quest for the golden fleece. As they take their places beside you, will you make it your business to give them a boost, and make those first steps just a little more certain. Who knows whether the newcomer in your midst will be the miracle worker of tomorrow; the healer of the world in favor of a new gadget, or just another President of the United States. lends a hand Brother; put your shoulder to his wheel, and may it turn out that in so doing you will find your own wheel turns just a little faster. You must either make a way or make way for the class of 1940.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR NEW PRESIDENT
After all, an active alumni is just a plain, everyday person who appreciates what a kind fate has given him, and who wishes to show that appreciation. The vast majority of those who graduated from Western Maryland College were able to acquire this higher education because someone else made it possible. The mere fact that all bills were paid did not settle the contract—there remains always the moral obligation.

In these days when the fight for existence is stained by blood and greed and hatred, we are forced to doubt whether the world will ever learn the value of cooperation. It needs especially those who are willing to do something in return for the gifts they accepted.

Right now the University of Maryland is floundering because it has granted too many diplomas and has received too few active alumni. It is possible for us to keep Western Maryland far above the common level set by those who make little in return. Even the very smallest friendly gesture will pay big dividends.

Let's try it.

J. Francis Reese.

W. M. C. IN THE 19TH CENTURY
We still have a supply of the history of the college by Makosky. If you have not received your copy, and have paid your dues, will you please drop me a card and I will see that you get a copy at once. Extra copies may be had for 50c per copy.

And when there is the fellow who says: "Give the devil his due." Well, if it will help any, I will do my best to feel that way if you will just send me your check for your dues. Now that that subject has crept up, why not? Do you know how much of the world you are helping to change? Elsewhere in this issue you will find that answer. DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT.

CARPE DIEM!
It is not too early for the various clubs to select their dates for winter meetings. New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Carroll County, Washington, Salisbury and Hagerstown have annual affairs.

An early selection gets advance notice through the Bulletin and prevents conflicting dates. With a Governor in Frederick, it is not unlikely that they too, will hold a meeting during the winter.

Miss Helen Gray of the Home Economics Department is spending a part of her summer at Iowa State University.
STUDENTS HELPPED

Through the agency of the Student Loan Fund, to which sixty-eight classes and nine other Alumni sources have contributed, loans have been made during the last school year to 28 students. Interest is charged on these loans, and a definite schedule of repayments is required. This means that another group will be assisted later with the same money.

In the meantime we must increase the fund to be able to help students while waiting for the repayment of loans outstanding. You have a real opportunity to help.

The Fund is Growing

Since our last tabulation—August, 1929, forty-nine classes and groups have added to this fund. These class tabulations are called Class Memorials. What can you do about your Class Memorial? Only five classes have not participated. Is yours one? The standing, by classes, as of July 1940, is as follows:

"THEY ORTA"

How many times while you were at Western Maryland, and since, have you said so? Did you ever try to run a college? A number of our illustrious Alumni have been trying to qualify as experts in that line, "they orta do this" and "they orta do that". Do you have the answers to these; send a man to fix the keys on the grand piano—the organ in Baker Chapel is out of order—please see that we get hot water in Ward Hall—the radiator in room 106 will not work—there is a rat in my room—a window is broken in 121—a girl is locked in her room—I lost a shirt in the laundry—some one has taken the bull light—the electric iron will not heat. Smile while they ask and smile when they do not. We are inflicting with all the ills of the average town of 500 inhabitants with the handicap that none of the inmates have any proprietary interest in the structure.

Have a heart! And when you hear some one say "they orta do this or that", just think of those who are on the firing line, and let a little brotherly love temper your criticism.

THE SOUVENIR PLATE

To those who indicated their interest in a souvenir plate, I have only this to say: Most of such things, if good, are made in England. At this time we can not get very satisfactory information about them. When conditions are more settled the matter will be again taken up. In the meantime do not lose your interest.

ALUMNI SAVE $3500.00

Dues have run up and down the scale for fifteen years. When the annual meetings are called, the subject of "Dues" is called the "perennial". From the beginning, they were ONE dollar. Then came a slight depression and we established a "no par" value— you paid what you wanted to pay—(strange to say, most of you still do) and then the ante was hiked to THREE dollars. Then back to TWO dollars, and last June the annual meeting again amended the constitution reducing your annual dues to ONE DOLLAR.

THIRTY-FIVE HUNDRED Alumni are affected by this drastic cut. You Alumni out beyond the reach of my collecting hand just think of the THREE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS you save. You can pay your dues out of your saving. Will you do it? I can think of no better way to show your appreciation for the Bulletins which have been coming to you regularly for years, than to do this small thing, and do it now. Thank You.

A BIBLE IN EACH ROOM

Western Maryland College is a Christian institution. In this day, when everyone is rushing around, would it not be a worth-while move to place a copy of the Bible in each student's room? A good reference Bible King James version, is obtainable for one dollar.

If you are willing to assist in this program, add one dollar to your check for dues and specify "for Bible".

Dr. and Mrs. Fred G. Holloway are vacationing in upper New York state.
Western Maryland College Bulletin

Published Monthly During the School Year from October to May, inclusive, and July-August.

BY THE COLLEGE

WESTMINSTER, Md., JULY-AUG., 1940

Entered as second class matter, May 19, 1921, at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., under the act of August 24, 1912. Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in section 1103, act of October 3, 1917.

THE SECRETARY'S CORNER

A "Corner" has two sides, but nothing in front of it. Whether the corner is in the market or in the box-office and it certainly is a busy place, and some one usually gets a good "going over" before he gets out.

If you think my corner is not busy, I invite you to spend a working day with me.

What do I do? Sometimes I collect dues, or money for the Student Loan Fund, or write a recommendation for one of our graduates, or send you information about a graduate, promote club and district dinners and meetings for their reunions, and then when I am worn out I just sit down. Come and sit with me. Help me think up some new ways of expressing my surprise at the approximately 3000 members who do probably read a little of our printed matter, but who do not have the moral strength to say "please stop spending money to keep me informed about my Alma Mater, for I just am NOT interested."

Now a letter like that would certainly wake me up. I did get such a letter, and the chap had a splendid viewpoint, and I admire him for his stand—only I did not cut him off the mailing list.

If you like to get the Bulletins, for Pete's sake why not help make it possible to continue them.

Are there Alumni living near you? I call on you to get up a meeting—even if only ten can be found to come. I will do all I can to get there and bring some college movies or some other form of information that may help spend a pleasant hour.

Have you sent a prospective student to the college for the coming year? Read the article in this issue about enrollment. And after you have done all the other things you can think of, please sit down and tell us whether you are a Doctor, Lawyer, Merchant, or what not; married; raising chickens; potatoes; family; or just raising the dickens. Whatever it is, tell us about it. Not that I care a rap—don't do it for my sake—but some poor deluded classmate might really be glad to know that you are still in the land of the living.

Yours, believe it or not,

T. K. HARRISON,
Executive Secretary.

They are $3.00 each, or $15.00 for the set. May we send you one or more?
Dear Western Maryland

Dear Western Maryland, Fearless and bold:
We’re here to cheer to victory, the green and the gold
And we will always be loyal to thee. We’ll love thee ever, dear old W. M. C.

Dear Western Maryland

And then there was the man who had not been back to his Alma Mater for so many years that he failed to recognize his old roommate. That need not happen in your case; come oftener; keep in touch. We are growing.

NEW FACES IN OUR 1941 FACULTY

Kathryn B. Hildebrand, Ph.D., has been appointed head of the French Department, vice Margaret T. Herring, who has resigned to be married.

Jackson P. Sickels, Ph.D., in the Department of Chemistry, vice W. I. Gilbert, who resigned to enter the field of industrial chemistry.

Edwin C. Muree, B.L.S., Professor of Library Science and Assistant to the Librarian.

Lawrence Samuel Reynolds, 1st Lieut., Inf. Res. has been appointed Asst. P. M. S. & T., due to the enlarged Defense program. Mr. Reynolds is a graduate of V. P. I.

This space dedicated to the Alumni who were married but did not tell us about it.

We are nosey enough to want to know as much about you as the last census taker; we might really get our mailing list up to date, if we had his job.

But why bring that up?
Alumni News

The publication of alumni news depends almost entirely upon the cooperation of the alumni themselves. Therefore, it is hoped that the alumni will send in personal items about themselves or other Western Marylanders—such as changes of address, new business or professional connections, appointments, or election to office, publications, marriages, births, etc.

KIDDIES' BOOTS

FIVE GENERATIONS OF WESTERN MARYLANDERS

We do not know the date, but little Mary Elizabeth has come to gladden the home of Joseph and Jane Veasey Miller. Mrs. Miller, Ex-'34, is the daughter of Miriam Lewis Veasey, '96, who was the daughter of Dr. T. H. Lewis, '75 and Mary Ward Lewis, '71, who was the daughter of Dr. J. T. Ward, the first president of Western Maryland College.

June 22, 1940, Nancy Carol Stevens, prospective Dramatics student, Class 1957, born to Benjamin and Sally Fadley Stevens, Takoma Park, Md.

Lieut. and Mrs. W. Carter Stone, Panama Canal Zone, are thinking of entering William Carter Stone, III, born June 7, in Western Maryland in 1957. Lieut. Stone is a member of the class of '35.

Another Western Marylander in the Canal Zone: Lieut. and Mrs. Wm. S. Humphries (he of the class of '36) enter little Susan Deland—born May 22—in the class of 1957.

July 2, 1940, born to Katherine Sullivan Widener, '26, and Stuart Widener, Paul Thompson. This is the third child born to them in Alaska, where they have been teaching at Kotezebue. Mr. Widener has recently been appointed Supt. of the government Reindeer herd. They will make their home in Eagvik.

Mary Alice Fickel, born April 7, '40, daughter of Glenn and Mary Eschick Fickel, Ex-'32, is a likely candidate for Music and Art in 1957.

Down in Waldorf, Md., little Judith Hull Brown came to gladden the home of Rex and Dorothy Hull Brown. The mother is a member of the class of 1937.

Mrs. Joseph J. Lyons has announced the engagement of her niece, Miss Elileen Evans, '32, to Donald N. Sanabury.
When Registration hour came, on June 1st, we had several pads of paper and two young men to keep traffic moving and yet the list of those who attended this seventieth commencement, judging by the registrar, is so entirely out of proportion to the number who actually were here, that I am not going to try to print the list. Those attending Class Reunions did a little better. In listing those who registered, I shall not attempt to say that the list is complete; merely that the following registered.
