First Annual Catalogue
OF THE

Western Maryland College,

1868-69.

LOCATION.—This Institution is located in the healthful and flourishing city of WESTMINSTER, Carroll County, Maryland, on the line of the WESTERN MARYLAND RAILROAD, about midway between the cities of BALTIMORE and HAGERSTOWN. The building stands on a commanding eminence at the "West End," overlooking the whole city and many miles of the surrounding country, and affording one of the most beautiful and picturesque views in the State.

ACCOMMODATIONS.—The main centre building, the only one yet completed, is a spacious and well-constructed edifice, containing ample room for the comfortable accommodation of one hundred boarding students. The building and grounds, embracing eight acres, are so arranged that the males are entirely separate from the females; and will at no time be allowed to associate together, except in the presence of their teachers.

PATRONAGE AND DIRECTION.—The College property has been purchased by the Board of Trustees, incorporated in March, 1868, by the General Assembly of Maryland, and the Institution is under the special patronage of the Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church; but nothing will be introduced either into the course of study or discipline and management of the Institution which can be in any way objectionable to students of other religious persuasions. While every student will be required respectfully to attend the religious services forming a part of the College exercises, each will be at liberty to repair to such places of public worship on the Sabbath as parents or guardians may select.

REGULATIONS.—The rules of order, and the general regulations of the Institution, will be similar to those of the best Colleges in the land; and the Faculty will make it a special study to combine all the advantages, as to methods of teaching and discipline, resulting from their experience and observation in the various institutions of learning with which they have been connected.

Every student, when entering, will be required to give satisfactory testimonials of a good moral character, and agree to conform to the rules and regulations of the Institution.

COURSE OF STUDY.—In the Preparatory Department, to which the strictest attention will be paid, all the elements will be thoroughly taught, embracing, among others, English Grammar, Composition, Geography, History, Arithmetic, Penmanship, &c.

In the Scientific and Classical Departments, the whole course will require a period of four years.

PARTIAL COURSE.

Students not wishing to pursue all of the above studies may arrange with the Faculty for a more limited course, and will be examined only as to their qualifications to pursue such course.

A full record will be carefully kept, and Collegiate Degrees will be conferred upon those completing the full course.

DOMESTIC ARRANGEMENTS.—Prof. Zimmerman and Lady will take the management of the Boarding Department, under the direction and sanction of the Board of Trustees, and will spare no pains to render entire satisfaction to the patrons of the Institution.

LITERARY AIDS.—All necessary aids, such as globes, maps, charts, philosophical and chemical apparatus, &c., will be provided. The students will have access to libraries comprising 2,500 volumes. The Literary Societies will meet once a week.

THE COLLEGIATE YEAR will commence on Monday, September 14th, 1868, and continue for forty weeks, embracing two sessions of twenty weeks each, and including the holidays at Christmas and Easter.

TO PARENTS.

For the information of parents, it may be necessary to state that boarding students are expected to bring their own sheets, pillows and pillow-cases, blankets, counterpanes, umbrellas, &c.; and to be provided with good, warm and durable clothing, having the name of the owner plainly marked on each article. Where two or more boarding students come from the same family, not only will the expenses be decreased in respect to such articles as the above, but a deduction of six per cent. will be made from all the charges of the Institution.

It is very desirable that students should enter at the beginning and remain until the close of the session.

Assistants will be employed for each Professor, when the number of students render it necessary.

Special damages will be assessed on those students who unnecessarily injure or destroy College property.

No deduction will be made for absence, except in case of protracted illness, nor will money be refunded in the case of a student being expelled.
