WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN

An Appeal To All Friends of The College

We are writing the last chapter in the history of the 1925 Financial Campaign for Western Maryland College.

The State of Maryland made an appropriation of $125,000 to the College on condition that the College should raise $250,000 for endowment by July 1, 1927. That condition has been met.

The General Education Board (The Rockefeller Foundation) made an appropriation of $125,000 to the College on condition that the College should raise $375,000 for endowment by February 1, 1928. $272,000 of this amount have been paid in, leaving $103,000 to be collected by February 1, 1928, if we are to get the Rockefeller gift.

The subscription campaign in 1925 left no margin to fall back upon. In order to secure the contract with the Rockefeller Foundation, the President of the College had to assume $7,000 to bring the total subscriptions up to $375,000, as required by the Foundation. $2,000 of this amount thus assumed have been secured in subscriptions. But from present indications there will be a shrinkage in the grand total subscribed of $20,000, caused by the death of certain subscribers and financial reverses on the part of others.

To make up this shortage of $20,000 and to make sure the conditional gift of the Rockefeller Foundation, I am asking our friends to come to our help with gifts large or small. February 1, 1928 will tell the story of the campaign, whether of success or of failure. We must not lose the Rockefeller appropriation, and I feel confident that our friends will not let us do so.

The heroic effort made by the workers in the campaign, and the sacrifices made by hundreds who love the College, are justification for the appeal I am making. Our cause is in the hands of those who will receive this bulletin. I feel sure that they will not fail us in this critical hour.

Please fill out one of the forms printed below, cut out and mail to Western Maryland College, Westminster, Maryland. Make all checks payable to W. R. McDaniel, Treasurer.

A MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE OF ONE HUNDRED

The Committee of One Hundred met Friday evening, November 11th, in Baltimore, and was attended by seventy persons. Col. Robert J. Gill, Chairman of the Committee, presided.

The meeting was fired with the finest sort of enthusiasm, and the recommendation of the President of the College with respect to the wind-up of the campaign was unanimously approved.

The President of the College announced that $272,000 of the $375,000 subscribed had been paid in, leaving a balance of $103,000 to be collected between now and February 1, 1928. He called attention to the fact that in making the contract with the Rockefeller Foundation he had to assume $7,000 and $2,000 of this amount had been subscribed. The President of the College consented to pursue this campaign for the amount assumed, namely $7,000, until consummated. But the also notified the committee that there would be a shrinkage of about $15,000, which had to be provided for in every small one in order to secure the appropriation of $125,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation by February 1, 1928.

Upon motion, it was unanimously decided by the meeting that an appeal be made to the Committee of One Hundred to raise $150,000 each in addition to what had already been subscribed, which would mean $15,000 to cover the shrinkage, a very small one in order to so large an undertaking, caused by the death of certain subscribers and financial reverses on the part of others.

All the alumni and friends of the college are invited to cooperate with the Committee of One Hundred in bringing the campaign to a successful ending on February 1, 1928. We have started out to accomplish a certain purpose. It is to be that the college, in future negotiations with the Foundations to complete this campaign successfully by the time indicated. A failure to do this might jeopardize future assistance from the sources that are helping us now. We would also help back the program of building, which ought to begin this coming summer and have ready for occupancy two or three buildings by the opening of College in 1929.

L. N. WARD,
Executive Secretary,
Committee of One Hundred.

A GREAT COMMENCEMENT

It is proposed to make the next Commencement a commemorative one, to signalize the completion of the campaign. The three outstanding features of the next Commencement will be an Oration, a Pageant, entitled "The Pageant of Carroll County," and a Banquet for all former students. Mr. T. K. Harrison has been appointed Chairman of the Committee on the Commemorative Parade, and he will communicate very shortly with the alumni.

The name of the Oration has not yet been decided upon but will be announced later. It will be up to the standard set by the college in the presentation of the three Orationists that have been given, and Miss Dorst will direct the Oration. At least 300 persons will take part in the Oration, and they will be assisted by soloists of note.

The Pageant will be an historical one, dealing with the history and traditions of Carroll County. It is being written and will be directed by Miss Dorothy Eldredge, a graduate of the College and a woman who has a national reputation as a stage director. She wrote and directed the Pageant, "The Sheathing of the Sword," four years ago. Eminent critics declared that pageant to be one of the most beautiful ever given in America. Carroll County is a place with splendid historical and traditional associations. The leading citizens of the County are behind the movement. We hope to make it the finest spectacular exhibition ever given in Maryland.

SOMETHING TO BE PROUD OF

The press recently gave out the information that $7,000,000 have been subscribed to the Princeton University Campaign, and that over $3,000,000 had already been paid in. The number of individuals and persons subscribing to this fund was 1656.

The alumni of Princeton University outnumber the alumni of Western Maryland College many, many times over. It is a source of gratification to us that more than 3,000 persons have made subscriptions to our campaign. This shows an unusual loyalty on the part of our friends. Certainly no comparison in connection with any college or university in the United States has made a finer record.

A REAL ACHIEVEMENT

The academic work of the members of the several football and soccer teams is quite comparable to the work of athletes of the past few years.

This is true of the upper classmen going out for athletics, but it is especially evident in the record of the freshmen.

The improved attitude toward college work among the men in varsity athletics is noteworthy and commendable, and is probably due, in part, to better selection but can be credited largely to the excellent cooperation which Coach Harlow, Director of Athletics and Professor Miller, Dean of Men, have been able to secure from the men in their effort to uphold the academic record of the men along with their athletic achievement.

The faculty, too, recognizes this improved attitude toward college work, shows an increased willingness to give extra time and effort to aid those who must miss some of their intramural engagements in the course of their athletic pursuits.

The Administration commends the students and all concerned in the bringing about of this record of the students. We have always held that athletic achievement should be no bar to academic success.

CURRICULUM NOTES

"The modern man needs two types of knowledge. If he is to be a sympathetic, broadminded, and generally intelligent member of society he should have some measure of significant and ordered knowledge of each of the main fields of human interest.

"And if the modern man is to render efficient service in the maintenance and development of human society, he must have a large measure of significant and ordered knowledge within some special field. College education should, therefore, be in part general, in part special—in part extensive, in part intensive."

Wilkins, The Changing Curriculum, ch. II, The College Curriculum.

The process of general education, begun in the high school, is continued through the first two college years, leaving the last two years for the special education, the intensive work in one special field. The student's individual curriculum is thus about equally divided between general and special education. The general courses, for the most part, are taken during the freshman and sophomore years and the special courses, in the junior and senior years.

Western Maryland, without administering the college with a definite division into Junior College and Senior College, as do many other colleges, emphasizes this division of work in several ways: by delaying the selection of the field in which the "intensive" work is to be done until the close of the sophomore year, by giving at the close of the sophomore year a general examination which covers in a general way the work of the high school and the first two years of college, and by giving the first two classes of students more than their share of attention as to teaching and guiding.

There are two types of courses studied for their general educational value. Those which, like certain English, History and Orientation courses in their general in their content, form the one type. The other is made up of courses constructed in the special fields but become of general educational value when studied by those specializing in another field.

Most of the courses of the second type offered in college may be placed in one of three groups: those in the sciences, including mathematics, and the arts, including language and literature. For the student majoring in one of the sciences a course in one of the social studies has general educational value. For the student majoring in the arts or the social studies frequently elects courses in the field of science for their general educational or cultural value.

Our science departments often make a direct appeal for this procedure by misnaming their introductory courses "General Biology," "General Chemistry," and "General Physics." So large a percentage of our students enter and even complete the freshman year without choice of a field or fields for their work, in and after college, that advisors of the first two classes must use these introductory or general courses in the special fields to a larger extent than the basic requirements for graduation demands, in order to draw out of their advisees a preference for a given field and save the time for selecting their specialization.

To the first type of general courses belong the basic courses required for graduation. We now have four such courses in the freshman and two in the sophomore year. The student has no choice in the matter, he must take these. It is this very fact of their being required that makes more responsible the administration of these courses. With an elective course is added to the curriculum the responsibility is not so great. The department can organize it to suit its ideals and to suit the whims of the select group which may elect it. The required course, however, must be administered with a more democratic ideal; it must be organized and taught in such a way as to be of most use to practically the whole of the group which must take the course.

Orientation Courses

All of these required courses have something of the nature of "Orientation Courses", a type of course which is becoming quite familiar in curriculum administration. Dean Wilkins has said that the initial function of the orientation courses has been to assert the need for synthetic view of the whole collegiate field and to furnish a general suggestion of what is going on in the physical and social sciences to students in whose experience whole ranges of human interest might otherwise have been left blank. They have been carrying the primary burden in the endeavor to acquaint the student systematically with his universe and with his fellow-men, thus establishing a synthetic perspective control of the whole of college life. In the future, however, they must in a double sense, courses of integration."

Several of our required courses are designedly orientative. Let us note their Catalog designations.

Social Science 1-2, An Introduction to the Social Study of Social Science, An Orientation Course for Freshmen.

English 1-2, (a) Grammar and Composition, (b) Methods of Study and Reading.

Biology 1-2, General Biology.

We can see a need for, and are trying to find a way to introduce two additional required courses in to the sophomore year: one an introduction to Science, Logic similar to the Columbia course, "An Introduction to Reflective Thinking", the other, a course in Biography or a General Reading course, or, perhaps better, a course in Biography followed by a semester of General Reading.

The course in Thinking might well be given in the Department of Philosophy, but the courses in Biography and Reading should be taught by teachers given independent of any organized department. These courses would certainly encourage the habit of independent reading and tend to improve the independent thinking of the student, two very vital needs in the general education of our students.

DEVOTED TO THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Benson, '24, of Philadelphia spent the week end of November 12th in Baltimore.

Lester Weltrach, '25, is quite a ladies man. He roves up and down the state, and everytime he sees the Secretary he has succeeded in locating an alumna, heretofore unknown.

Bavedropping

She: Are you going to the Banquet this winter?

He: You better life. I hear it will be quite a big affair.

She: Terpsichorean music and everything?

He: Tis so hinted. Let's chance it.

She: Right! Let's get up a crowd.

BUTTERFLIES!

J. W. Smith, '06, gets around the country quite a bit, but he seems to get to Baltimore in time for "happenings".

Mrs. Nettie Crockett (Wm.) Northam, '01, is spending the winter in Baltimore. Her son is at Hopkins.

The Secretary has a picture of Rev. W. P. Roberts, '03, showing him after he has reduced 100 pounds. There is still a lot of Roberts in the picture, and he says he feels better than he ever did. Seattle, Washington, is a long way off, but he is with us all the time.

Dr. F. Webb Griffith, '02, of Ashville, N. C., called on the Secretary not long since. On the Hill he was known as "Skeet". Well he looks more like a prosperous business man now. Actually he is a prominent surgeon. Well, that is reported to be a prosperous business.

A. Norman Ward, D. D., '95, was in my office a short time ago, and after the usual pleasantries, such as "How much money have you and what's see it quick?", he asked me to do something that would take me more time than I had. I had the nerve to tell him I was too busy. Would you think that ended the debate? No sir! "When I want a thing done, I ask busy men." On the compromise, he left and I did what he wanted. Can you beat it?

Miss Elsie M. Salsburg, '08, has been made Executive Secretary to Dr. Weiglin, Supt. of the Public Schools of Baltimore.

Miss Helen E. Hincley, ex-'24, was married to Herbert C. Baumgarten at Seattle, Washington, on October 8th.

Miss Hilda R. Ostrom, '17, was married on October 18th, at Bethel, Me., to Major Andrew J. Schmalbach, F. A., U. S. A.

Miss Hazel D. Walbeck, '22, and William L. Mowlds were married during the past summer. Their home is in Bridgeville, Del.

Miss Elizabeth M. Rickey, Prep. '24, and Fred M. Hopkins were married at Aberdeen on November 3rd. They will reside at The Calverton, Washington, D. C.

Mabel Garrison, '03, who was soloist at the November 11th meeting of the New York Federation of Women's Clubs, will appear with the Symphony Orchestras of Cincinnati and Philadelphia.

A Great College Parade

It has been decided to set aside a place in the 1928 Commencement Week Program for a "Parade of the Classes", and I have been asked to take charge of it.

Just what is meant by a Parade of the Classes?

It is being arranged to have an enormous parade of Floats and Automobiles, filled with our Alumni and College families, in cluding the Student body.

We will proceed through the streets of Westminster, led by a Marshal and preceded by a band.

Each class should be represented, and no vehicle should be permitted to enter the parade unless decorated, such decorations to include, if possible, Class colors and the Class year, and a flag.

Aides

Each Class President is hereby appointed an aide, and is requested to do two things at once:

1st.—To write me at once, saying that he will undertake his Class participation, or that he has designated some member of his Class to act in his place; in this case, the substitute is to write his acceptance of his appointment immediately.

2nd.—Begin at once to plan his class float. Large farm wagons or trucks are available in and around Westminster—Busses, old fashioned vehicles or modern automobiles may be used—or horseback. Flowers, flags and hunting lend themselves readily to the decorator. Be as original as you please. Have a committee in charge of decorations (classmates).

Small classes may unite in arranging a float, though a single automobile for a small class is preferred.

Vie with other Classes

The parade will pass a reviewing stand, where judges will pass upon the merits of your class representation. Who knows but what prizes will be offered. The character of your float is left to your imagination and ingenuity. Make it the best in line.

Official Markers will be issued for each vehicle, designating the Class it represents and its position in line. This position will be strictly observed, to prevent confusion.

In the next issue of the Bulletin, we will publish the Classes that have declared their intention to participate, with the name and address of the class member in charge.

In the same issue, such details as have been worked out will be given.

Suggestions are invited

The right to follow them, or not, is reserved.

A reply card is printed for your use. Send it in now, for in a few weeks Christmas will absorb all your time. And then it will be only a few weeks before the next issue of the Bulletin appears. Let me have your reply so it may be included in that issue and so we may know how your class stands.

Right after the first of February comes the Mid-Winter Banquet, about which you will read on page four; following in rapid succession comes Easter and Commencement.

You, your husbands, your wives, your children, your in-laws and your friends are wanted. Will you help me make the 1928 Commencement the most talked about and the happiest since your leaving College Hill?

It goes without saying that the town will decorate to greet you.

Have you a question? Ask it now, and the answer will be printed in the next issue.

Anything relative to the Parade should be addressed to

DEVOTED TO THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

T. K. Harrison, '01, has been appointed by the President of the College to take charge of and promote a Parade of the Classes during Commencement Week. You will find a general outline of this on page three.

Washington Vice-President, Jas. Wheeler, is anxious to know the duties of a V. P. Will the Washington Alumni please initiate him into these mysteries.

Hastings-on-Hudson was the scene of a Western Maryland reunion last summer. On June 3rd, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Murphy, '97, had as their guests Dr. and Mrs. Watson, '89, Misses Cochran, '95, Richards, '86, and Mourner, '87. Every one of them are interested in the College. Needless to say that they had a good time.

One of our modest Alumni—there are a few such—complains that he is a member of six fraternal orders or societies and is burdened with two degrees. Bibb, that is a sure sign of progress.

W. V. Albright, '19, and Mrs. Anna E. Johnson were married in Payson St. M. P. Church on April 1, 1927. The ceremony was performed by a classmate, Rev. T. C. Mulligan.

Roby F. Day, '98, must be convinced that Western Maryland is a good college. He is a preacher—seventeen years at St. Paul's M. P. Church, Inwood, L. I., and second year as President of Eastern Conference of the M. P. Church. Two sons have graduated and two more are attending W. M.

Some of our Alumni seem to have read the letter sent out by the Association last summer, for a few have commented on it. Many were evidently not interested in Football, for they returned the schedule when remitting their "Dues".

It is refreshing to the Secretary to get a remittance of "Dues", and a little postscript reading "Please let me know if I owe anything more." That dollar a year proves a great stumbling block to a large part of our membership.

Why shouldn't it be more?

I started something that time. Let's change the subject.

Armistice Day was a great day for memorial services, jubilees and parades. You should have seen the Green Terrors parade up and down the Baltimore Stadium that afternoon. For the benefit of those who do not subscribe to the GOLD BUG, the All-Army team was defeated by the small margin of 48 to 0.

Galloping Ghosts would be a good name for the Terrors, for they are as elusive as the proverbial fox. How many miles they have gained on first downs this year has not been accurately determined. Will a reader work it out for the next issue.

Rev. Geo. R. Brown, '88, has been transferred from High Point to Reidsville, N. C. Three of his four children are Western Maryland graduates, of whom we are proud. He has had many interesting assignments throughout the east. The degree of D. D. was conferred upon him by Kansas City University.

The Twenty-Third Mid-Winter Banquet

With the opening of College, the Alumni are reminded that the plans for the Mid-Winter Banquet in Baltimore must be laid. The Executive Committee of the Alumni Association requested F. Murray Benson, '17, Baltimore, Vice-President, to name a committee to arrange for the Banquet. He named C. Alfred Shreve, '06, as Chairman, with the privilege of selecting his associates, and they are as follows:

Mrs. E. B. Penby, '76
W. R. McDaniel, '81
L. Irving Pollitt, '89
Wm. G. Baker, '94
T. K. Harrison, '01
Idella Tredway, '03
R. R. Carman, '03
Jas. H. Wheeler, '03
Mrs. H. C. Hill, '04
G. W. Dexter, '06
R. J. Gill, '10
Mrs. E. T. Beauchamp, '12
F. Murray Benson, '17
J. T. Ward, '19
W. J. Kindley, '20
Mary Page Turner, '27
Chas. T. Holt, '25
Emily W. Jones, '27

When in Baltimore, take your photographic work to Hochschild Kohls and let Mary Page Turner, '27, supervise the work.

A short time ago, in writing to a gentleman, I suggested that a sum of money be turned over to the Association as a nucleus for a "Student Aid Fund", or some other worthy cause. Let the idea sink in. Some one might get an inspiration from the thought, and either think of something better, or do just that. Who will start the ball rolling. Write me about it.

Mrs. Robert E. Cook, formerly Miss M. Lizzie Thompson, '66, died on March 31, 1927.

Hon. J. Frank Harper, '90, a member of the Public Service Commission of Maryland, was seen on his way to lunch the other day. George Dexter, '06, the President of our Alumni Association, stopped him and asked him if he would attend the Mid-Winter Banquet. His reply was that he was on his way to lunch, but that he would take on the banquet just the same. Dr. C. Alfred Shreve, '06, Chairman of the Banquet Committee, smiled at the assurance that there would at least be three present.

An Episcopal Church that I attend is sending out a leaflet reading something like this: "What kind of Church would my Church be, if all its members were just like me?"

Suggestion: Substitute "Association" for "Church", and say it over three or four times.

Such a committee will guarantee a fine banquet! This committee had its first meeting after the Army-Western Maryland game on Armistice Day, and has begun work on plans for the banquet.

In the organization of the work, Mrs. Beauchamp was elected Secretary and W. J. Kindley was named Treasurer.

We are not at liberty to publish these plans, in full, at this time, but they will be definitely announced in the next issue.

This notice is written so that Alumni and friends will keep in mind the Banquet, for it will be held between February 1st and 10th.

Make arrangements to bring your neighboring college friends to meet and make merry with the other College friends of other localities.

During the holidays we suggest that old friends plan to meet again at the banquet in preparation for the Victory Commencement next June. It will make the Commencement so much more successful if this banquet is filled with enthusiasm and interest.

From Newton, N. H., comes a note from Rev. B. Alfred Dunn, '86, with reference to the Bulletin. He likes it. Thank you—a pat on the back does help a little.

What he really said was that he should think the Alumni would be willing to pay for an occasional news issue of real interest. And he would up with "best wishes" and a check. It takes real imagination to tell about some 2200 members who never drop you a line.

Rev. Vernon N. Ridgely, '93, was director of Emory Grove Camp Meeting last summer. His home is in Hagerstown.

The Terrors gathered quite a basket of goose eggs. They will look well, hung up around that beautiful trophy—the MacArthur Cup—presented to the winner of the Armistice Day contest.

L. Irving Pollitt, '89, was elected Moderator of the Presbytery of Baltimore at its last annual meeting.

"The Master as Paymaster" is the product of the pen of G. E. Bevans, '06, D. D., who is pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Fairmont, W. Va.

WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE 1925 ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN

A Commemorative Gift

The 1925 Western Maryland College Financial Campaign is nearing its end. February 1, 1928—just two week's off will tell the story, whether of success or of failure. At that time the full $375,000 must be paid in if we are to meet the conditions upon which the Rockefeller Foundation agreed to give $125,000 to the College.

I venture to say that the effort put forth during the three years in which the campaign has been in progress is worthy of being crowned with success. The call sounded at the beginning brought forth a magnificent response. Hundreds and hundreds of our alumni and friends rallied to the call, and more than three thousand persons made subscriptions. I have been informed by competent authorities in the college field, that the record made so far by our workers has not been exceeded by any college or university in America. In proportion to our numbers, the Western Maryland College Financial campaign stands without parallel in the history of college campaigns. There are those who love Western Maryland College!

I have coveted the distinction for our alumni that every former student now living shall make a contribution, large or small, to this Endowment Campaign. There is not a former student who cannot make a contribution. There is not a former student who has not an obligation to this campaign, none so poor who cannot make a gift. I covet the same distinction for that large number of persons who are friends of the college but were never students here, that they also make a contribution. There are thousands here and there all over the country who have a pride in the success of this institution and who, by coming to our help now, could make possible a glorious consummation to the heroic effort being made to reach our goal by February the first.

In her hour of anxiety lest we fail in this great undertaking, Western Maryland College asks of every son and daughter and every friend of hers a gift in substance that will make possible the conditional gift of the Rockefeller Foundation.

The deficit will approximate $15,000. It may be more, it will not be less.

But this last call is not alone to those who have not given to the campaign. There are some, alas, who have not given and who will never give, ask as we may. To do the things that are worth while, to do the things that need to be done that the world may be a finer and better place for those who are to follow us, many of us have to give more than our share. An obligation rests upon those who have given to give again; to make some added gift of gratitude or of commemoration so that our efforts shall not fail. You have given, some of you have given once, twice, three times, and all on account of a college that you love and where an abiding interest lies.

Let me ask every reader of this BULLETIN, before he puts the paper aside, to fill out the form at the bottom of the last page of this BULLETIN, and mail with check in time to reach us by February 1, 1928. As a token of gratitude, make out a check for some amount, large or small, to the order of W. R. McDaniel, Treas., and address to Western Maryland College, Westminster, Md.

A. N. WARD, President.

Intensive Campaign for Collection of Unpaid Subscriptions and in Securing Additional Gifts January 16 - February 1, 1928

An intensive campaign will be carried on from Monday, January 16th to Wednesday, February 1st, 1928, for the purpose of collecting all unpaid subscriptions and in providing for the approximated $15,000 deficiency. This campaign will be held in all the counties of Maryland, and in the cities of Baltimore, Washington, Wilmington, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and New York.

1. The Committee of One Hundred will conduct the campaign. This Committee is familiar with the campaign for subscriptions, made three years ago, and they will organize their groups to assist in securing the payment of all unpaid subscriptions which may be outstanding at that time.
2. A list of all unpaid subscriptions in their districts will be sent out to all chairmen of group committees before January 16, 1928.
3. The Committee of One Hundred have been asked to raise the approximated deficiency of $15,000. At the meeting of the Committee in Baltimore on Armistice Day it was decided unanimously to do this. This means that each member of the Committee of One Hundred will try to raise $150 additional.
4. In the larger centers, and wherever possible, it is suggested that a get-together dinner or supper be arranged for, and that at this meeting action shall be taken as to the best way to bring the campaign to a successful ending by Feb. 1, 1928.
5. With the co-operation of every worker, it will not be a difficult task to complete our campaign by the time stated.

Future Issues of the Bulletin

Future issues of the BULLETIN will not be taken up so largely with campaign appeals. On February 1, 1928, the campaign will be completed, we fondly hope, and thereafter the BULLETIN will deal with other matters, such as Curriculum, Building programs, Educational Advances, Commencements, and the like. The Western Maryland College BULLETIN will then behave as a perfectly respectable College Bulletin ought to behave.

"Who's Who" in Western Maryland

It is proposed to issue in the near future a bound volume on "WHO'S WHO IN WESTERN MARYLAND."

It will be something on the order of "WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA," except that nobody will be left out of this publication who has ever been a student at Western Maryland College. The co-operation of every former student will be expected. A blank will be sent to every former student who can be located, asking for a brief biographical history. We expect to get out this publication in good taste, and make it an interesting compilation of facts concerning all who have attended Western Maryland College, whether graduates or quondam. It will be something worth-while.

DEVOTED TO THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

THE 23RD ANNUAL MID-WINTER BANQUET

The Southern Hotel in Baltimore has been selected for the Mid-Winter Banquet. Many of you will remember its beautiful banquet hall. The Hotel has outlined a complete menu and assures us that it will be all that the palate can desire. February 10th, Friday evening at 6:30, has been selected as the most suitable time. Keep this date open on your engagement book and do not let any person or thing interfere.

Keep a sharp look-out for the notice that will be sent to many of you. But if your copy does not reach you, please send your reservation to the Treasurer, the banquet belongs to you as well as to every other friend of the College.

Owing to the moving of W. J. Kindley to New York City, Worthington J. Stultz, '17, 334 N. Charles St., Baltimore, Md., has consented to act as Treasurer and he will have an appointed force ready to handle your subscriptions. Mail early so that we can know how many to have the Hotel provide for, and also so that the list of "We Have With Us," will be as complete as possible.

Now you may know that you are going to attend, but we do not know unless you write to us.

Hon. Alfred P. Dennis, Vice-Chairman of the Traffic Commission, has consented under the spell of L. Irving Pollitt's persuasion, to bring to us the address of the evening. (In another column you will find a sketch of him.)

He will, as he has done on other occasions in Baltimore, and especially for the Eastern Shore Society, bring a message full of interest and inspiration, a message that will be in keeping with the occasion and the noble purposes of this assembly of College men and women. We will do all in our power to bring every member of our College together to show our appreciation of the signal honor he has done us in being our guest on this occasion.

Special honor will be given to the Class of 1878 in celebrating its Golden Jubilee. It had six graduates, as follows: DeWitt Clinton Ingle, Joshua W. Miles, Frank H. Peterson, Lula E. (Fleming) Wright, Mamie V. Stormstedt, Alice V. (Wilson) Little.

We hope to have all of them with us.

The Class of 1903, in celebrating its Silver Anniversary, will have a special table and will take part in the program. This Class is scattered over the country, and has made its mark wherever it has gone. Its 37 graduates and non-graduates have honored their Alma Mater in many fields. They will speak for themselves—E. B. Carman, its President, has always been able to do so.

The Music Committee is not making any announcement at this time. When the time comes, you will find that they are on the job.

The Banquet Committee hopes to have a number of Hostesses. Among those who are being asked to serve are: Mrs. A. N. Ward, Mrs. W. R. McDaniel, Mrs. L. L. Pollitt, Mrs. Wm. G. Baker, Jr., Mrs. J. P. Wente, Mrs. W. C. Scott, Mrs. Albert Towers, Mrs. Harry Gilligan, Mrs. W. S. Love, Mrs. J. H. Colenberg, Miss Carrie Moore, Mrs. C. J. B. Sudell, Mrs. T. B. McNew, Mrs. E. B. Fenby, Mrs. Howard C. Hill, Mrs. E. T. Beauchamp, Miss Mary Page Turner, Miss Emily W. Jones, Idella W. Tredway.

THE PARADE OF THE CLASSES

In the November issue of the Bulletin, I promised to give in this issue as many of the details of the Parade as had been determined upon. In order to do this, let me briefly run over the program for

Saturday, June second:

2:00 P. M. The College will present the specially arranged "PAGEANT OF CARROLL." You will learn more of this at another time and from another source, but it will be a splendid performance, and one worth going far to see. This will be over before four thirty.

6:00 P. M. A buffet supper will be served to the Alumni, on the campus. The details of this have not yet been worked out.

6:45 P. M. The Annual Business Meeting of the Alumni Association will be held in the Alumni Hall. Under the Constitution, President Dexter has called the meeting for this hour, to fit in with the College program.

8:00 P. M. The Parade of the Classes. The parade will form in the lower part of Westminster and will pass through town and to the Athletic Field in the following order: (Subject to change)

Mounted Police Escort, The Mayor of Westminster and Aides, Grand Marshall, Military Band.

Division I. (Unmounted) composed of: College R. O. T. C., Westminster M. N. G., Westminster Fire Dept., United Bank, K. of P., Ex-servicemen, College Students, and all other unmounted groups.

Division II. (Motorized): Band; Section 1, Classes 1871-1890; Section 2, Classes 1891-1900; Section 3, Classes 1901-1910; Section 4, Classes 1911-1916; Section 5, Classes 1917-1923; Section 6, Classes 1924-1927; Section 7, Other College elements; Section 8, all other motorized units.

A Reviewing Stand will be erected beside the street on the College grounds—probably in Dr. Ward's yard, and there will be six or more prizes awarded for the best decorated vehicles in line.

There will be absolutely no vehicle admitted to the Athletic Field, prior to the parade entering the grounds, and this will be under Traffic Control by the Authorities.

The Parade, on entering the Stadium, will take places assigned them, the Bands musing and playing during their entrance. All having taken their places, such announcements as fit the occasion will be made over the loud speakers, and then there will be a magnificent display of Fireworks, and probably some other features of an equally attractive nature.

At the Conclusion of the program, the bands will play as the paraders leave the Stadium under Traffic Control.

There are several things that you can do to make this a very successful affair.

1. Arrange with some of your classmates to make an active part in the entire program of the day.

2. See that your group assemblies at its proper rendezvous in ample time to start at the given signal.

3. Having taken your place in the line, do everything you can to preserve the order of march, by staying in your designated place.

4. Give us the benefit of any good suggestion you may have. We reserve the right to follow or not, as conditions warrant.

You will note that several Westminster organizations have been mentioned as taking part. It is our intention to invite each of the organizations of Westminster and Carroll county. We realize that Saturday night is a busy time for the merchants of Westminster, and some may not be able to turn out with us. It is our hope that none will be omitted and that it will be an advantage to the town as well as the College.

A Housing Committee, composed of members of some of the Women's clubs of Westminster, will undertake to arrange for accommodations for those wishing to stay over night, at moderate rates. If you are coming, and wish to have such arrangements made for you, write at the proper time to

Commencement Housing Committee
Western Maryland College

Westminster, Md. If you are coming, stating when you will arrive, how long you will stay, how many will be with you, meals or lodging or both.

Will you provide one of the prizes? We want at least one prize for each of the motorized sections, and there should be one for the unmounted organizations. Write me, if you will provide a prize.

President Cobey, '01, has appointed Miss Margaret Reese, E. F. D., Westminster, Md., and Harry Gilligan, Washington, D. C., to take care of 1901 efforts.

Subject to revision, the following are some of those who we hope will have cars in the Parade:

T. H. Lewis, D. D., President Emeritus; Jas. H. Strang, Harry Gilligan, F. Murrison, Benson, Harry C. Adkins, L. Irving Pollitt, C. Alfred Shreeve, J. Lester Wehrhauch, W. Roswell Jones, Chas. O. Clemson, Dr. Chas. Fouts, J. W. Smith, Chas. E. Holt, D. C. MacLean, W. C. Scott, E. B. Carman, Mrs. E. B. Bauernschmidt, Mrs. William S. Love, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Fenby, T. H. Legg, R. J. Gill, B. B. Webster, P. H. Tewes, C. A. Wheeldon, L. D. Kinsey, Wm. G. Baker, W. W. Winkler, L. K. Woodward, Roger Whiteford, W. H. Litsinger, Mary Page Turner, Emily W. Jones, A. N. Ward, Ober S. Herr, and many others who have not taken the time to tell me so.

There will be a First Aid Tent in the Stadium and a Doctor and Nurse will be available.

Several Preachers will be in attendance. We will likely have a Justice of the Peace on hand. Applications for their services will be handled in the order in which received.

Puzzle: Is that a hint, a threat, or a joke!

A special invitation is extended to the citizens of Westminster and Carroll county to take part in the Parade, by securing registration tags, filling out the card, taking their places in line as assigned at the time, and enjoying the evening. They should bear in mind that NO ONE will be admitted to the Athletic Field except by being in the line of Parade.

We think the above outlines a rather interesting evening, and certainly you will find it different from anything you have ever spent on the Hill during any other Commencement.

Will you not drop me a card, telling me just what you can and will do to make it a success.

Western Maryland College Bulletin SPECIAL ALUMNI EDITION

Vol. 8

WESTMINSTER, MD., JANUARY 15, 1929

No. 4

Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., under the act of August 24, 1912. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in section 1103, act of October 3, 1917. Published quarterly.

Will You?

If there was ever a time when your presence was needed, that time is February 8th, at the Banquet. It is essential that we make a profound impression on the Governor and Legislators who will be there. Your presence and enthusiasm is all that will be asked. Will you accept this as a DUTY, and come?

To Our Alumni and All Friends of Western Maryland College

In response to the request of our constituency, we are asking the Legislature to place us on the same footing with other State-Aided Institutions. We are not opposed to the appropriations made to any other institution, but we feel that the work we are doing for the State, especially in the training of High School teachers, deserves a larger appropriation from the State. We are training nearly one-half of the High School teachers of the State at the present time, and have been doing so for several years. Our College is the main source of supply of the State for High School teachers. The State makes us an annual appropriation of $32,700, for which we are required to give in Scholarships $33,200, or $500 more than we actually receive for the service rendered. The appropriation made to other State-Aided Colleges is practically twice as large as the appropriation made to us.

In a tour of the State made recently I have talked with more than two-thirds of the members of the Senate and the House of Delegates, and have presented our case to them. The presentation thus made seems to have been met with approval on the part of the members of the Legislature. I have also presented this matter to the Governor who is giving it careful consideration. A word or letter from our friends to the Governor or to their County or City representatives in the Legislature, would receive careful consideration. Your assistance at this time and in this particular way may mean much to the College.

On Friday evening, February 8th, at the new Lord Baltimore Hotel, our twenty-fourth Mid-Winter Banquet will be held. Governor Ritchie has accepted an invitation to be with us upon that occasion. It is especially desired that there should be a large attendance at this banquet. All friends of the College, whether former students or not, are cordially invited to attend. We ought to have at least five hundred present that evening. Let me urge you to be there. We think we can promise you a great evening, and your presence will count much in our plans as outlined herein.

A. N. WARD, President.

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

J. Willis Smith, '96. Challenges our Right to Existence

To the members of the Alumni Association,— Greetings.

First; I want to extend to each of you my earnest hope that you will have a very happy and prosperous New Year.

Second; I want to urge upon you that you attend the Midwinter Banquet to be held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel on February 8th, details of which you will find elsewhere in this bulletin.

Third; I want each of you to give us the benefit of your views and suggestions regarding some of the problems confronting the Association today, and which we must endeavor to solve by the time for our next annual meeting.

I wish it were possible for me to sit down with each of you and talk with you personally, regarding these matters, as I have done with some of our good members here in Baltimore. As this is not possible, and as the space in this bulletin is limited, I must confine myself to the most pressing question before us, viz: that of a definite working plan for the future activities of the Association.

There are so many things that we, as an association, could and should do to help in making Western Maryland a better and bigger college which we are prevented from doing due to lack of funds. Certainly we will never be able to accomplish very much in this direction with the funds now being derived from the annual dues of one dollar that each of you is expected to pay; first; because so many do not send in the one dollar; and, second; because the amount received is so small that it is practically all consumed in the expense of collection. Consequently, each year we find ourselves with little or no funds, and sometimes even in debt.

What is the remedy? Several suggestions have been made, two of which are worthy of serious consideration. They are:—

1.—That all dues be abolished and an opportunity extended annually for each member to contribute such amount as he or she may be willing to give to a fund to be known as "The Alumni Fund." This fund to be appropriated each year for such purpose as the Association may determine, through a board of Trustees or Committee appointed for that purpose.

2.—That a "Certificate of Life Membership" be issued to each one on payment of $25.00.

That this Certificate be given to each member of the graduating class when admitted to membership in the Association at the annual meeting; proper arrangement being made for the collection of the fee of $25.00 either in annual payments during the college course or in full at graduation.

That the Annual fee of one dollar be continued and collected from such of the present members as do not purchase a Life Membership under this plan.

That the funds derived from the life memberships be invested and only the income therefrom be expended each year as the Association may determine, through a Board of Trustees appointed to administer this fund.

The first suggestion commends itself because it has been adopted by many of the largest colleges and universities with splendid results, and it is claimed that many who now pay only one dollar because that is all that is expected of them would willingly contribute much larger amounts if the opportunity were given to do so under some definite plan of action. It is also argued that under this plan, many who overlook sending in the one dollar now expected, would contribute larger amounts to this fund.

The success of this plan would, of course be dependent upon your generosity, and I am wondering whether that generosity would influence you to contribute more, when placed on a voluntary basis, if your interest is not now sufficient to induce you to send in the one dollar per year due expected.

The second suggestion has been made by our most efficient Executive Secretary who is doing such excellent work for the Association and who is now compelled to expend so much energy and time in an effort to keep the finances of the Association on an even keel.

This suggestion commends itself on account of the fact that it would provide us with an immediate and continually increasing working fund, which, if invested at only 4% would give us an income equal to the one dollar per year that is now expected and not collected in so many cases.

We have about 2500 members at the present time and if each one of these members purchased a Life Membership under this plan, it would give us an immediate fund of more than $50,000.00 and as the graduating classes are now averaging fifty to seventy-five members each year, the Life Membership purchased by these classes would, in a short time, increase this fund to $100,000.00 and provide us with an income of over $5,000.00 per year without touching the principal. Think of what could be done in the direction of Alumni activities for the College with such an income. Under this plan it would in a few years be possible also to make large appropriations from the principal for worthy causes in the interest of the College.

What are some of the things we, as an Association, could do for the College if we had the income willing to finance the undertakings? Some of the suggestions that have been made in this direction are:—

1.—"The Campus Beautiful!"—A program for beautifying the College Campus and keeping it attractive.

2.—The upkeep and improvement of Alumni Hall.

3.—"Student Loan Fund."—The establishment of a fund from which loans could be made to worthy young men and women who desire an education and who are not able to pay the full expense therefor until they have placed themselves on an earning basis.

4.-"Scholarships" The establishment of a fund from which few scholars could be awarded to young men and women who desire an education and who are not in position to pay any part of the expense thereof.

These are only a few of the many suggestions that have been made. You may have an excellent suggestion you wish to make or some ideas as to how we can solve the financial problem. If so let us have them.

The Association has reached a time in its existence when it must justify that existence, and

I can think of no better way to do this than to adopt some definite plan of action around which we can marshal our forces and on which we can concentrate our efforts and to which we can point as something distinctive, separate and apart from the other college activities, that the Alumni Association is doing for the College.

The executive Committee will soon be called upon to decide on something definite from the various suggestions that have been made, and they will present at the next annual meeting of the Association a definite plan for your approval and adoption.

I therefore want to ask that each of you give these matters serious consideration and then write a letter to our Executive Secretary expressing fully your views. Do not hesitate to criticize the suggestions that have been made, and by all means let us have the benefit of any recommendations you may care to offer.

Again extending to you my best wishes for a happy and prosperous year, and to see you at the Midwinter Banquet on February 8th, I am,

Very truly yours,

J. W. SMITH, '96, President.

The Program

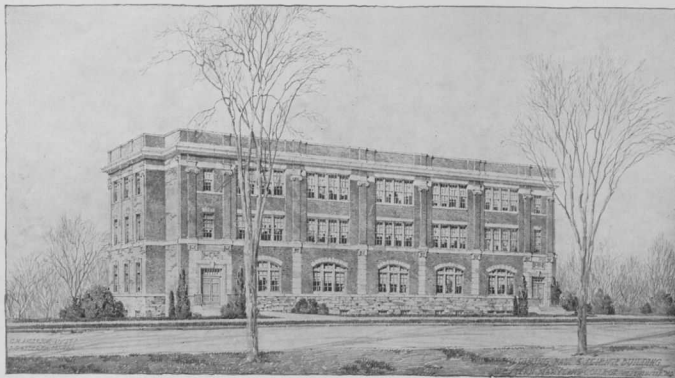

The program being arranged has been built to attract not only those who have attended other Banquets, but that large number of younger Alumni who have not been interested. We believe those who come will come again. Already many of this group have said they will be there. From one of them we quote "Hope to see a large number of my classmates at the Banquet. Don't fail to send me more information about it, for I'm interested." Make up a party of eight and reserve a table.

Why Not Now?

A Word About The Lord Baltimore Hotel

The Hotel in which our banquet will be held is not only the newest in the country, but has the largest convention and banquet hall south of New York. It has the only polished marble ball-room floor in the South. The furnishings and draperies baffle our description. Space will not permit us to say more. Come and see for yourself.

THE NEW SCIENCE HALL

We reproduce a photograph of the new Science building, now under construction on College Hill. The new dining hall, where our annual meeting will be held next June, is located on the first floor. In the basement are the stores, pantries and kitchen. The upper floors are devoted to class rooms and laboratories.

Do not wait till the last minute to make your reservations. This should all be arranged by Monday morning, February 4th. This cooperation will add greatly to your personal comfort and enjoyment. Remittances at $3.00 per cover should be made payable to

W. J. STULTZ, Treas.,

All reservations must be accompanied by check

Lieut. W. Preston Grace, '26 and Mrs. Grace, formerly Bessie S. Hayman, '27, are living at Schofield Barracks, Honolulu. They were married July 24, 1928.

We mourn the loss of one of our oldest Alumni—one who has lived a life of service. After several years in English, Rev. A. S. Boone passed to his reward on Sept. 22, 1928. He had been pastor of Keen Memorial Church for 21 years. He was retired just a few days before his death. Our own Dr. A. N. Ward conducted the funeral services.

Mr. John D. Makoskey, '25, and Mrs. Makoskey, formerly Miss M. Matruide Jones, '25, are residing in Chestertown, where John is Professor of English at Washington College.

Your Secretary dropped down to Upper Marlboro this summer, and had a short chat with Mrs. Ellen Harper Hill, '94. She is an ardent Western Marylander.

The girls of the 1911 Class have continued their Class letters, though they are scattered from Boston to Grand Rapids and Fort Worth. Out of twenty-seven girls, twenty-two are married. Twenty-seven children have brought sunshine under their rooftops—all potential Western Marylanders. Some of them are almost old enough to enter now. What have the boys of that class so say for themselves.

"Do you like housework?"
"I like nothing better."—Denison Flamingo.

Miss M. Olivia Green, '22, is teaching English in the Polesville High School. This is her fourth year at this school, indicating that she knows her English. It is presumed that she will undertake to conduct a "Correspondence Course" in English with her friends of College days.

Dr. Mary Jones Fisher, '90, is assistant editor of Biological Abstracts at University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia. This summer she was visited by her Classmate, Anna (Nan) M. Thompson, of the Romance Department of the University of Oregon. Miss Thompson had just returned from a vacation spent in touring Europe, chiefly Spain.

Miss Margaret A. Bowers, '26, has spent two summers on Master's work at Cornell—Math and Education. Between times, she is teaching at Elkton, Md.

I sometimes wonder what would happen to the budding youth of this old State of ours if all the Western Maryland teachers would quit teaching and go to taking care. They have left their indelible mark on nearly every worth while school of this State, to say nothing of those who are connected with such elementary schools as Columbia, York, Darnmouth, Pennsylvania, Oregon, Maryland, Florida, Tome, Pine Ridge, Washington, Charlotte Hall, Rock Hill and "College Hill." My apologies to the fifty or sixty others that have been omitted.

Miss Ena Long, '26, started her Master's work in Math at Cornell this past Summer.

Miss Laura V. Clark, '05, is devoting her time and attention to the School of Home Economics, Florida State College for Women, Tallahassee, Fla.

An alumna writes that she enjoyed the Secretary's annual letter. An alumna wrote that the last one was an improvement over the previous one. I liked it myself. That makes two, and one doubtful. That's not so bad out of THREE.

I wonder how many there are who recall Miss Katy Smith? She has written one of the newest letters. Not "Miss Katy" any more, of course. She is Mrs. W. H. Gray, LaPlata, Charles county, Maryland.

It is especially fitting that we pause from our daily tasks long enough to do honor to another of our departed members. Miss Elizabeth Trump, of the Class of 1879, died at her home in Manchester, Md., on Sept. 16, 1928. She was one of the most devoted friends of Western Maryland, and a loyal member of the Association.

The Hampden M. P. Church was the scene of an interesting wedding on Saturday, Oct. 6th, 1928. Miss Opal Mildred Harrison and Dr. Edward Daniel Stone, Jr., were married, the father of the groom officiating. We showed them with our good wishes, rice and old shoes.

A new name has been added to the Secretary's mailing list. Oct. 11, 1928, Miss Margaret Tall and Mr. Robert Bennett Dexter were married and are now living at the Hopkins Apartments, Baltimore. Mrs. Dexter graduated in 1915.

It is no news to her immediate circle of friends, but to those not so close we may state that Miss Katherine R. Foutz, '26, is the better half of Mr. Clifford M. Taylor. They are living in Ridley Park, Pa., with our best wishes.

When October 20, 1928, had ticked off, an announcement was made that the home of the McKees at Leesauqua, Pa., had been entered by one of our members and that Miss Mary McKee and Thos. D. Shannahan, '25, were married on that day. More congratulations, rice and shoes.

I'm getting cold feet—can't throw many more shoes.

AT THE DANCE
He: "My shoes are just killing my feet."
She: "They're killing mine too."
—Ohio State Sun Dial.

Among the interesting things to be said about Bertha Stoll, '09, are a husband, E. H. Mills, a retired naval officer, and little Elzior Haskell Mills, aged two. They live in Albuquerque, New Mexico. "Mrs." spent several years "in the army" during and after the war. Again the Army captured the Navy.

Dr. W. R. McDaniel—if you are not acquainted with that name, I mean "Billy Mac"—has enjoyed a trip to the Pacific Coast last summer. I have hopes that he will write about it in another column of this issue.

Paul R. Kelbaugh, '25, writes that he is teaching at Tome, and is "happily located." Who wouldn't be at Tome, when he further tells me that the following are also teaching there: G. McDonald Garrett, '26; Maud E. Brown, '27; M. Mae Mills, '28.

One of the girls of a recent class—no, I will not mention names—writes: "Still single—teaching French and Spanish." This was no under the "Complaint" classification, so I presume she was bragging about it.

Those who remember Winifred P. Roberts as fair, fat and three hundred and forty will be glad to know that the West has taken him down just a hundred and forty or so—he looked splendid last summer. He had the nerve to report that he had the "Flu." Later he sent a Christmas card, so he must be out again. Mrs. Roberts is planning her trip back to Commencement next June, when Dorothy graduates.

Dr. and Mrs. Ward spent their Christmas in North Carolina. They usually do.

The last thing he did, before buying his ticket, was to call me on the long distance and tell me that he was leaving me the entire Bulletin to get out. Just as a Christmas present, I suppose. He'll be sorry some day. This is my chance to get even, by actually falling down on the job.

Herbert Starnes, '25, and Elizabeth Davis, '28, were married in December at Tome. Best wishes and many long years of happiness.

Edna Tall Beauchamp, '12, is now Edna Tall Beauchamp Turner, or Mrs. Harry W. They were married recently and are living at 3212 Elerslie avenue, Baltimore. More rice.

Miss Eulah Johnson, '25, has returned to the Elkton and North East High School where she is teaching domestic science.

Drs. "Bill" Chase, '23, and Seton Waeche, '23, are now "intering" at Sicut Baltimore General Hospital. Bill, by the way, is assistant Resident Surgeon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tristram Holt, '25 (Helen Stone), have recently been receiving congratulations on Charlie's entrance to the Baltimore Bar. He's a real "lawyer" now.

Gardner Warner, '24, is now Doctor Warner and is being "interned" in University Hospital, Baltimore.

Margaret Wilson, '28, is now teaching in her own home town of Aberdeen, Md. "They will come back."

Mrs. Joseph Lore (formerly Virginia Bell, '25) is the proud mother of Virginia Belle Lore, now about 3 months old. The family resides at Solomons, Md.

Miss Amy C. Bennett, '22, of Salisbury, and Alfred M. Black of New York, were recently married at Marble Collegiate Church, New York, by Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Poling.

There is a note of sadness in the record of the class of '80. Lewis A. Jarman died suddenly at his home in Rushville, Ill., November 23rd, 1928. His death was tragic in its suddenness, as it came without warning to his wife, who greeted him upon his return from his office in the afternoon. In a short time he complained of not feeling well and while Mrs. Jarman went to prepare a simple remedy for what she took to be a slight indigestion he passed away. And thus an active, forceful life came to an end.

After graduation at Western Maryland in the class of '80 he studied law at the University of Maryland and was following his graduation for the year in a law office in Baltimore. In October, 1882, he settled in Rushville where he made a remarkable success in the practice of his profession. A Rushville paper says: "His long and successful career as an attorney, and as a citizen in Rushville, made him an important factor in the community life of town, county and State, and left an indelible impression that will have its beneficial influence." Mr. Jarman was the nephew of Dr. T. H. Lewis.

This death leaves but two of the six men of graduation in 1880 living: Dr. W. H. De gradating of Des Moines, Ia., and W. R. McDaniel.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. R. Hurley, '21, expect to sail for South America in March, to work among the Indians of Peru, as missionaries.

W. Owings Stone, '28, is at the Episcopal Seminary, Alexandria, Va., studying for the Ministry.

Miss Lottie M. Dent, '15, is Superintendent of Schools, St. Mary's county. She is the first Woman County Superintendent in Maryland. Another Western Maryland pioneer.

Five of the 23 counties of the State have Western Maryland Superintendents. Who will make the sixth?

More wedding bells: Catherine A. D. Coonan, '26, James H. Dorsey, Ex-'26; Dorothy E. Holland, '24, Rich'd Lee Ogburn, '25; A. Irene Martineau, Ex-'29, Oscar L. Morris, Ex-'29; M. Elizabeth Mitten, '23, Carl E. Merrill, Ex-'23; Dorothy E. Ward, '23, Donald A. Myers; Miriam B. Dryden, '23, C. Irving Carpenter; Anna E. Swann, '28, Wright Wills.

The following engagements are announced: Miss E. Mae Rowe, '23; Miss Ethel J. Birley, Ex-'32. Who are the lucky men?
