OUR FACULTY

With June came the announcement from the President's Office of retirement and other faculty changes for coming year. We regret to see seven of our present staff leaving us but are happy to announce their successors.

Professor Cloyd Laurence Bennighof's retrement has ended a twenty-five year tour of duty in the Biology department. He joined the college family in 1927. Associate Professor Emeritus Bennighof did most of his teaching in his major field, Zoology. Few, if any, of his students will forget the "Old School" zeal with which he pursued his subject. All will remember those "asides" on the May Fly, Both of his sons and wife are graduates of the College.

His successor will be Dr. Jean Kerschner, who received her doctorate at the University of Pennsylvania and who comes to us with a background of both teaching and research experience.

After fifteen years as Dean of Men, Dr. Lincon Forrest Free, professor of astronomy and mathematics, has left the Hill to become the Dean of Instruction at West Chester State Teachers College near Philadelphia. Beside his active participation in curricular as well as extra-curricular assignments at the college his loss will also be felt in the community where he had become well known for his participation in music circles as baritone soloist and choir director as well as for his service club activities.

NEW DEAN OF MEN

Mr. William M. David, Jr., who comes to us from the University of Denver will replace Dean Free. He is a Dartmouth graduate and has all but completed his doctoral studies at Columbia University. His wife and three children will join him.

Dr. Milton J. Huber, '43, essistant professor of sociology, who joined the Faculty in 1949, has moved to Detroit where he has accepted the position as Associate Minister to Dr. Henry Hitt Crane, pastor of the historic Central Methodist Church of that city.

Dr. Horace Townsend, professor of economics and head of that department, is leaving the Hill after the summer session to take on the headship of the same department at Muhlenberg College in Allentown, Pa. He has been with the College since 1948.

Mrs. Andrew Benneyan Kordalevski, assistant professor of music, who came to us in 1949 has left to accompany her husband to Syracuse where he has taken of position Her successor will be Miss Joy Sleeper, he did her undergraduate work at the Eastman School of Music and holds an M.A. degree from Wellead.

Mary Catherine Finor, assistant ilbrarian, will be leaving in August for Hawaii where she has taken the position of Cataloguer for the county libraria at Hilo. She has been on the Hill for five years. The new assistant librarian is flortest Smith, former head of the Fine Arts department at Pratt Library. Baltimore.

Capt. and Mrs. Robert I. Thompson (Jean Bentley, '49) and family will be leaving us in August. "Bob" will return to civilian life after his tour of extended active duty and his assignment as assistant professor of military science and tactics in our military department. His replacement will be 1st Lt. Charles L. Crouch, Jr., who is a graduate of the United States Military Academy and has just returned from a 35 month tour of duty in the European Command.

ISANOGLE FUND

Following the 1952 Commencement, several people felt that some tangible recognition should be made of all that Dean Isanogle has done for W.M.C. It was agreed that the College ought to have his portrait so that all grid future generations will include him among those who have been important in Western Marvland's history.

It appears that it will take about $1500, so an attempt is being made to contact at least 300 friends of "Dean I" who would be willing to contribute $5.00 apiece. Of course, larger gifts will be welcome; and gifts of any size from those who wish to participate in the project will be acceptable. All checks should be sent to Mr. C. L. Schaeffer, Treasurer, W.M.C. and lasheld for the Isanoele Fund.

Any money over and above the portrait charges will be applied to a cause to be specified by Dean Isanogle—probably scholarship help in some form.

Letters are being sent out by individuals particularly interested in this project to those whom they know personally to be special friends of Dean I. This will not, however, reach ail alumni; hence, this announcement so that all who wish to have a part in this project may do so.

Below: Dr. Alvey M. Isanogle, Professor of Education Emeritus, under whose leadership our education department received recognition throughout the State.

THE HISTORY OF WMC

The History of Western Maryland College written by Professor Emeritus George Stockton Wills and edited by Dr. Thomas F. Marshall has been completed.

Published by the Historical Society of Carroll County, the work consists of two sections. In the first, which was published in May 1949, Dr. Wills relates the history of the College from 1866-1886. The second section, released in May 1952, carries the story to 1951.

Feeling that many of our alumni would enjoy the opportunity of purchasing the work of this scholar and former professor, we have included the coupon below for your convenience in ordering one or both sections.

Please use the coupon and address all correspondence to the College Bookstore.

SPOTLIGHT ON SPRING SPORTS

by Ted Bobilin, '52

ED COFFMAN
One of the finest golfers we have seen in collegiate competition. In his three years on the college team, Ed won 25 of 30 matches played. A hard driving captain.

ALAN TONELSON
Combining tennis and a philosphy major and rating an "A" in both, Alan, a Baltimore lad, is one of Coach Hurt's promising juniors, who captained the

ED CRAWFORD Considered one of the vets with real lacrosse know-how this year's graduating captain was a vital man in the "stickers" defensive maneuvers.

With the blossoming of Spring, four Terror teams took to the field for another seasonal round of inter-collegiate competition.

Looking first to Tennis, Professor Hurt's netmen posted a 6 and 12 record. Faced with a major overhauling job, having lost five top performers last year, Coach Hurt had to rebuild his team—the result, a promising group of young "racqueteers."

Another club that had its fair share of trouble was the Lacrosse team which played hard, tough and heartbreaking games but which couldn't seem to find the range when it came to breaking into the win column. Record O and 9.

The Golf team came through with some colorful play this season posting a 7 and 3 record. Two surprise victories were taken over Hopkins and Gettysburg. The success of the team attributed great credit to Coach Milton Huber, '43, who is leaving the Hill this summer.

Rounding out Spring sports, Jim Boyer's Baseball team carded 11 wins in 18 games. Playing on a new diamond cut from the fairway of the seventh hole, the boys contributed some thrilling innings for local fans. One of the most outstanding performances came with rightfielder Kenny Shook's timely triple with bases loaded in the Catholic Univ. game. With this mighty swat, a deadlocked game was turned into a 6-3 victory for the Green and Gold.

Accent On Home Economics

Before the era of the packaged cake mix, the frozen foods counter and the pressure cooker in every kitchenette, the young bride who faced her first year of homemaking with less than sheer fright for her husband's gastronomical tranquility was a rarity.

But with the introduction of specialized college training in the cooking arts, our young ladies passed through the era of culinary uncertainty and emerged triumphant potential homemakers.

The Home Economics Department was first introduced into our college curriculum just thirty-one years ago when, under the direction of our own Mrs. Samuel B. Schofield, wife of our present Dean of Administration, the program got its start.

Mrs. Schofield joined the college staff as Head of the Department in 1921, and the following year, Miss Rowena Holdren was added to the Department.

Martha Manahan, '23, now Registrar at the College, and Louise Nuttle, of the same class, now Mrs. Louise Cooley, were the first to receive the B. S. degree in Home Economics. Since their graduation, over 236 girls have pursued a major in this course, and with the graduation this year, six more were added

Prior to the formation of the Department in 1921, there had been no formal training for undergraduates in this direction, with the exception of one laboratory course in cooking for senior girls.

Mrs. Schofield left the College in 1925 to continue graduate studies in her field at Columbia University and returned to the Department during the last war. At present, as a part-time instructor, she is teaching two courses, Institutional Management and Advanced Nutrition. From the fledgling stage, the Department has grown in size, equipment and numbers.

The Home Economics Department was first located in Hering Hall which is its present location, but in the early days, the food lab was a narrow room with a long hallway leading back to the Lewis Hall Bridge. Later alterations removed the hallway so that now the foods lab is one large room off of which is entry to the serving kitchen, dining room and clothing laboratory.

Interesting, too, is the evolution of the Management House. It was first located in the basement on the end of the McDaniel Hall basement. Beaver board partitions were erected to accommodate hallway, living room and dining room. The McDaniel Hall kitchen was used for cooking needs. Later the Management House was moved to Carroll Inn (now known as the Administration Building), where the girls took up temporary residence in an apartment arrangement on the second floor. Prior to the conversion of the McDaniel Home in the fall of 1940, a house just off campus was used for this purpose.

News of our Home Ec graduates usually includes new babies, new homes, and new jobs for husbands, for the majority of our graduates marry within the first five years after graduation.

In the last thirteen years, eighty-three percent of H. E. graduates have carried their training into their own homes, for in as many years all but seventeen percent have been married. Amazing, too, is the record that over the thirty-one years in which our Department has been a regular part of the college program, to our knowledge, only one of these marital pairings has resulted in a separation.

In 1938, Miss Daisy Smith, a native of Lockeport, Nova Scotia, and Miss Helen Gray, an Iowan, came into the Department. Besides being the Head of the Department, Miss Smith's responsibilities cover teaching in the fields of foods, nutrition and home management

Ah! Lucky is the man who is invited into the foods lab to sample that delicious Nova Scotian orange loaf. In the fall of the year, several girls take up residence with Miss Smith at the Management House where each is given the opportunity to prove her mettle as hostess, cook, maid and dietician. Each must stick to a strict budget in buying food for that week. As you can imagine, the girls learn to prepare left-overs in a most succulent fashion. Occasionally, opportunities arise where the girls are given a chance to display their acquired talents in helping to serve special dinners on campus or act as hostesses at various functions.

In the spring, Management House is converted into the Nursery School Laboratory. Here Miss Gray's junior and senior students are trained in the handling of pre-school age children. Also for these girls, needle and thread replace spatula and bake pan,

That homemaking is a career in itself can be attested to by all our graduates who have made their homes across the nation; however, beyond this scope our girls have applied their various specialized skills by branching out into many other careers.

Teaching has lured a large percentage. To cite a few examples, Mrs. William Hering ("Jackie" Brown, '51) is instructor of Home Economics at Taneytown High School here in Carroll County. Mrs. William Albrittain (Mary K. Wills, '51) has coupled teaching with homemaking. Ruth MacVean, '42, is Supervisor of the School Lunch Program in Frederick County, and Anne Little, '47, is Assistant Supervisor of the School Lunch Program in Prince Georges County,

In the field of extension service, Mrs. Roy.
O. Durst (Marianna Lee Long, '40) was doing work in Garrett County up until the time of her marriage. We have also heard from Marie Helldorfer, '46, who is employed in The Hines
Veteran Hospital, Chicago, as Research Pictical.
Jean Burtis of the same class has one of the most unique jobs. She is Assistant in Research with Fisheries Division of the Department of Agriculture.

Mahelyn Berthoff, '42, daughter of our former Dean, has applied her training to fit into the field of public health nursing in Beffast, Tennessee, while Shirley Brooks, '49, has found her career in Social Welfare works in Baltimore, Hazel Metz,'43, who is working in special research in the field of child nutri-tion in Detroit, Mich. writes—'My Nursery School days at WMC laid the foundation for my ease in handling my present job.' Hazel is within a few hours work of completing her doctorate in this field.

Ethel Stevens, '45, now Mrs. Ernest A. Dettbarn, found that her training in textile relection under Miss Gray was a distinct asset in her job as buyer for Stewart's Department Store in Baltimore.

Another vecational field to which several of our girls have been attracted is in foods demonstration. Lucy Jane Stoner, 46, who for a while immediately following graduation was employed by the local Gas and Electric Company, is now located in Louisville, Ky., with the G. E. Company on the staff of Home Economists. Eileen Weeks Rice, 49, has found herself a position on the video networks. Others who are appearing periodically on the flicker programs include two other girls from the class of 49, Mrs. George F. Ward, Jr. (Maradel Clayton) and Phyllis Weaver. Virginia Riker, also '49, is Dietician for the YWCA in Washington, D. G.

Unfortunately, we have been able to list only a few of our graduates; those with whom the departmental personnel have had close contact. However, this summary may give you some idea of the varied careers our girls are prepared to handle.

RENOVATION OF BAKER CHAPEL

For the first time since its dedication May 12, 1895, Baker Chapel is undergoing a major face-lifting operation. Originally used for chapel services and other religious exercises, it has in the past few years been designated as a meeting place for the College Sunday School and smaller religious groups.

Traditionally, over the years since its erection, many of our alumni have returned to Baker Chapel for their wedding ceremonies; the first on record was performed on January 5, 1904 when Dr. Lewis, 'daughter, Miriam Lewis, '96, was united in marriage with Herbert N. Yeasel.

With the renovation of Baker Chapel there will be a number of opportunities for memorial gifts. Anyone who is interested in using this means of perpetuating the memory of relatives or alumni of the College is invited to contact President Ensor.

This summer, workmen moved in to renovate our lovely little chapel. New lighting, carpeting, heating, painting and other interior appointments will serve to preserve the heauty of Baker Chapel for future generations of Western Marylanders. The interior decoration is being done with great care and good taste in an effort to retain the delicate simplicity of the building.

SCHOLARSHIPS

recent graduates have been awarded scholarships for graduate study abroad. It is significant that from a relatively small college like ours, three students, all of whom competed on a national

Within the past few months three of our

WILLIAM SIMPSON basis, were awarded these honors. The College feels extremely proud of these three young men.

William Simpson, 51, was awarded a Rotary Scholarship for a year of study at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, "Bill", who has been teaching music at the Westminster High School this past year, is one of 111 outstanding students from 34 countries who have been awarded Fellowships by Rotary International for advanced study abroad. He plans to leave for Scotland in September.

In March, Charles Immler, a February graduate of the Class of '52 received a Fullbright Foundation Award for graduate study in Economics. He left San Francisco by plane to do his work at Wesley College, University of Sydney in Australia.

One of our June graduates, Eugene Antis Mechtley, of Bath, Pa., also received a Fullbright Scholarship for graduate studies in the field of Physics at Innsbruk, Austria. "Gene" will have a two weeks orientation program in Vienna in September.

THE COVER

Walter Hart, 1951 Football Captain and Charlie Haven exemplify the spirit of the other members of this great team. They are pictured on our cover this month as beaming on the coveted Mason-Dixon Conference football trophy designating the Terror team as 1951 Champions. This was a double glory for Coach Havens. In 1929 he captained an undefeated and untied Western Maryland team; this year in the first repeat performance since that year he coached another.

WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE BULLETIN

Western Maryland College Bulletin, Westminster, Maryland, published monthly during the school year from October to May and July-August except November and April by the college.

Entered as second-class matter May 19, 1921, at the Post Office at Westminster, Md., under the act of August 24, 1912. Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in section 1103, act of October 3, 1917.

Thirty-Two Years at the Luncheon Table

Choose any Friday of the year to walk into the Mayfair Restaurant in Washington, D. C. at 12:30 p. m., and there you will find a group of Western Marylanders gathered at the luncheon table carrying on a tradition which was started thirty-two years ago.

The writer of this column takes a great deal of pride in recognizing the Washington Luncheon Club for its loyalty and accomplishments, for in this unique organization is embodied the spirit of Western Maryland's alumni.

It all started thirty-two years ago last October 19, when a group of Washington Alumni got together for supper following the Gallaudet football game. From this incident sprang an organization that has an unequaled record in the history of college alumni activities. Four days after its initial meeting, the first of an unbroken thirty-two-year series of weekly luncheons was held at the Mnmouth Hotel in Washington. Those present at the first luncheon included:

The late Henry Gilligan, '01; Caleb O'Connor, ex-'98; the late D. Fulton Harris, '91 and the late Mrs. Harris, '92; E. A. Cobey, '01; Major Clay, ex-'94; Harry Caton, '99; and Mrs. Thomp-

only member of the original group is Mr. O'Connor.

In the early years of the Club, the ladies attended regularly, but eventually it evolved into a men's luncheon club. At present, the first Friday of each month is Ladies Day.

In addition to the Charter Members, the following were regular in attendance in early years:

Jim, ex-03, and Mrs. Wheeler (Susanna Garrison, ex-02), Roger Whitford, '06; Mrs. Helen King

Scop.ni, ex-02; Leon S. Hurley, '97; George Kindley, '16; Mrs. Carrie Coghill Harris, '92; and others which the records do not show.

In March of 1921, the Club moved its eating place to the Ebbitt Hotel. This move predicated several others which followed over a period of three decades.

In February of 1938, an Annual Mid-Winter Banquet was inaugurated. During the years immediately preceding the Second World War, 1939-40-41, the Luncheon Club met once a month for dinner, and in May of 1948, the meeting place was changed to the Mayfair Restaurant where regular Friday Luncheons are held to date.

Since 1950, some members of the recent graduating classes have been taking an active interest in the preservation and continuance of the Club, and with regular attendance have been bringing new blood into it.

Within the past two years, two of its most faithful and active members have passed away— Henry Gilligan, '01, Treasurer and one of the founders, died October 6, 1950. Just three months later on January 5, Pat Murphy, '97, passed away as he was leaving the Mayfair from the W.M.C. luncheon.

DR. WENNER COMPLETES SIGNIFICANT STUDY

Alumni of the last twenty years have had the opportunity to know and work with Evelyn being the theoretical three three

On November 12, George Washington University conferred upon Mrs. Wenner the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. The arduous labor of the preliminary examinations, the language examinations, the course work, and all of the examinations in special fields had been concluded. The thesis study, a brilliant and significant dissertation in the field of 18th century Shakespeare criticism, had been carried out under the direction of Professor George Winchester Stone. The final oral on the thesis was attended by visiting scholars from the Folger Library and Yale University. At the ceremony, the regular fall convocation for the awarding of graduate degrees, Mrs. Wenner was one of two scholars who received the Ph.D. degree.

Thus public tribute was paid to her thorough scholarship and her sensitive perceptiveness, which for years have been generously expended in the training of Western Maryland students. Qualities not so easily publicized, but even more influential over her students, are dignity, womanly sweetness, quiet humor, complete devotion to the duties and opportunities of the teaching profession. Scholars in the field testify that Mrs. Wenner's doctoral study of George Steevens, the great 18th century editor of Shakespeare, is a work of genuine critical importance. For faculty and students, however, it is more important to be able to welcome back to continuous campus service one of the most delightful of colleagues and one of Western Maryland's most effective teachers, Dr. Evelyn W. Wenner.

FROM THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

G. Frank Thomas, '08, and G. Russell Benson were elected to the Board of Trustees of the College at its fall meeting. At the same meeting Dr. William W. Chase, '23, prominent Washington Surgeon, was elected Viec-Chairman of the Board, replacing the vacancy left by the late J. Pearre Wantz.

Mr. Thomas, a native of Adamstown, and former president of the Tri-State Canners Association, is also the president of the newly formed Frederick Alumni Club.

He heads the firm of Thomas and Company, canners in Frederick, Gaithersburg, and Adamstown, and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Potomac Edison Company.

G. Russell Benson, a businessman of West-minster, is owner of the Westminster Laundry and Dry Cleaning Company and a native of Carroll County. He is a Director of the Union National Bank of Westminster and a past president of the Rotary Club of this city. His wife was the former Caroline Foutz, '23, and his daughter, Carolyn, graduated from the college in 1949.

Of interest to the Alumni was the vote of the Board at this meeting to permit student participation in informal outdoor activities on the Hill Sunday afternoons. The Board of Governors of the Alumni Association had submitted to the College Board a recommendation of this nature last year.

College Mentioned In Legacies

Following the death of John V. Nicodemus, ex-'03, of Walkersville, who passed away this fall, it was announced that upon the termination of a trust which he had established, Western Maryland College would receive one quarter of his entire estate.

The College was also the recipient of a gift of one thousand dollars from the estate of the late William F. Bleakley, a member of the West Baltimore Methodist Church.

HOW WE STAND WITH THE A.A.U.W.

Upon inquiry, I have found these facts concerning the future membership of Western Maryland College in the American Association of University Women. I think, perhaps, the Women members of the W.M.C. Alumni Association will be interested to learn them.

Until the A.A.U.W. National Convention in June 1949, the rating of the Association of American Universities was used as a standard of academic requirements for approval by A.A.U.W. Until that Convention in 1949. A.A.U.W. was up-to-date in its work of examining colleges and universities which had applied for membership. The A.A.U. withdrew from the accreditation field in the fall of 1948, and the A.A.U.W. voted to use the ratings of the regional associations. The result of that change was a flood of applications for membership in A.A.U.W. So great was the number of applications that the Committee on Standards and Recognition is still trying to get upto-date. This Committee meets only twice a year and is composed of A.A.U.W. members who volunteer to do this work for the Associa-

Western Maryland College was not eligible for membership-approval until after the 1949 convention had changed its rating basis. However, Dr. Ensor had made application from membership on December 10, 1948. The probable date the Committee on Standards and Recognition can consider this application for membership will be in the surprise of 1953.

Until then, dear Western Marylanders, please be patient and hopeful. I assure you the Committee on Standards and Recognition is a hard working one and will consider our application as soon as possible.

> Caroline Wantz Taylor, President.

NEW FIGHT SONG WRITTEN BY ALUMNI

. . . It Came upon a midnight clear, not that glorious song of old, but a brand new one.

Seventeen years ago a couple of our now distinguished alumni gave birth to a Western Maryland Fight Song and then buried it in their memories for nearly two decades.

Johnny Manspeaker, '36, now the Principal of Taneytown High School, here in Carroll County, told me this amazing story about the song and how he and his room-mate Henry Ackley, '40, voice instructor at Peabody, pieced it together. According to Johnny, his sleep was disturbed one night by the nostalgic murmurings of a college fight song, words, music and all, Quick to arouse his room-mate he told him of his fantastic dream, but as they shook themselves into wakefundess they both realized that this was no abra cadabra... it was the real thing, and contained the state of the night and most of the next day on the laundry route (some of you can recall the days of the Troy Laundry on campus) trying to crystalize their dream time.

Then for seventeen long years their song lashrouded in the after-glow of college days. This past summer we dug it up. Through the help of Phil Royer, '34, who had it orchestrated for us, we had hopes of introducing it as a feature of the Homecoming Celebration.

COLLEGE GRAD BIRTH RATES

Current day affairs are calling more and more for an increased college graduate cradle roll. According to studies made by the Popular tion Reference Bureau, the number of births per woman graduate of the class of 1926 from 140 colleges throughout the country is 1.18. The highest rate of an individual school was found to be 2.62 as compared to the lowest, 53. Western Maryland women graduates of that year show a rate of .96, which is slightly below the average.

Male graduates of the class of '26 rank slightly below average in the study. The average for males of all colleges studied for '26 is 1.84, with the highest for all colleges being 4.13 and the lowest, 38. Western Maryland male graduates of this class show an average of 1.58 children per graduate, making a better comparison than the women graduates of the same year.

The class of '41 for all colleges, having been graduated for a decade, show, in respect to the male graduates, the average children per graduate to be 1.42— a rate higher than tat of the class of '26. The highest average for the men is recorded as 2.36 over against the owl of .44. Western Maryland men of '41 have an average of 1.19 children per graduate.

Women graduates of '41 record an average, from all colleges studied, of 1.19, a rate comparable to that of '26 women graduates. The highest individual college average found for women of the class of '41 is recorded as 2.15 and the low .35. Western Maryland women of this class show a rate of 1.07 per graduate.

For replacement of a class, an average of 2.1 children should be born to each graduate. As statistics appear at present, Western Maryland has some chances of reaching its goal in coming years.

HAVENS

For Charlie Havens, '29, Head coach and Director of Athletics at the college no praise can be too high. He captained the last undefeated team on the Hill in 1929, and coached this one in 1951.

Of Bruce Ferguson, '55, can truly be said that he laid the ground-work for the undefeated season. The Hopkins game and the said of the said of the said that are see this year. All the other Saturdays he was scouting next week's foe, and surely he must have done a magnificent job.

Dick Harlow shares with Charlie that happiness of having had a part in coaching two undefeated and untied teams at Western Maryland.

To the youngest member of our Alumni coaching staff, Joe Giannelli, '50, our hats are off. Joe came back to the Hill this year to study 'and coach, and we are all mighty happy to have him back.

OUR 1951 FOOTBALL CHAMPIONS

The 1951 Football Season for Western Maryland College is a thing of the past and just a record now, but since it was an undefeated and untied year for Coach Charlie Havens de Company, the past can never be forgotten. Anyone associated with Western Maryland could proudly say that the Terrors, who have won their last 13 games, have quite an enviable record.

Going back still a little further the record shows that the Green and Gold gridiron team has lost only three contests in the last 24 games, which has covered a three year span.

The Terrors in besting Gettyaburg, Randolph-Macon, Franklin & Marshall, Hampden-Sydney, Drexel Tech, Lebanon Valley, and Johns Hopkins this year, rolled up 184 points to their opponents 65, threw 8 touchdown passes while their rivals could connect for only 3. Statistics also showed that the Green Terrors gained double the amount of rushing yardage as their opponents.

Next Fall Coach Havens will be working hard to fill the vacancies left by senior ends Walter Hart, captain, and Ira Zepp; guards "Vic" Makovitch and "Otts" Sharer; tackle "Mike" Chirigos; and backfield star, "Mitch" Tullai. However, the understudies will be given their chance and should be able to make a good showing when the whistle for Game Time 1952 rolls around.

Big guns for next year will include fullback Warren McFague, who was the leading scorer this year with 54 points, and passer-perfect Harlow Henderson, whose early season shoulder injury forced him to the sidelines for the remainder of the season.

Although the 1951 football season is a thing of the past, the honors and laurels which are due the team and its coaches are continuing to come in from various parts of the nation.

It seems that America loves a champion and a winner; and the gridders of this Terror team are beginning to feel the results of their accomplishments.

Highlighting this parade are two senior ballplayers who have achieved post-season awards that reflect the merit and effort of the entire team and its staff.

To guard Victor Makovitch of Elmira, N. Y., goes the title of Little All-American. "Vic" was picked as guard on the first team defensive platoon. He competed for this award against men from all small colleges, coast to coast. In the Homecoming game with Drexel Tech, his third blocked kick of the afternoon, set up for his team-mates a scoring chance late in the game. The subsequent score broke the dead-lock, and the Terrors again kept intact the tradition of never losing a Homecoming game.

Halfback Martin Tullai also won post-season honors by being picked as one of the backs to play in the Annual Blue-Gray Game December 29, in Montgomery, Ala. "Witch" represented the Blue team of the North in this great doubtall classic. Incidentally, "Rip" Engle, "30, was head coach of this team, while "Dick" Harlow was advisory coach.

"MITCH" TULLAI

ATHLETICS AND ACADEMICS

Throughout the 1951 football season, intense criticism was directed at intercollegiate sport across the entire nation. A principal target rea for those attacking athletics was the academic standard to which students playing on teams were held. Alumni and friends of Western Maryland can hardly have avoided pondering the degree to which accusations leveled at players representing many large institutions apply to the undefeated team which represented Western Maryland.

What kind of academic work do athletes elect? The press has developed with considerable humor the titles of courses athletes are supposed to take, such as "The Functional Development of 18th Century Tatting", "The Art of Dry-Sleeve Nose Wiping", etc. The reality is little better than the satire; a recent article reported that a middle-western basketball player had received university credit for typing, advanced basketball, softball, and five other similar courses during one year at the institution. Whatever justification a university may offer for such student programs, obviously a liberal arts college can not retain its standing if such programs are permitted. At Western Maryland, athletes must major in a standard liberal arts department and must take courses which are standard college material.

Specifically, the twenty-eight varsity football men with sophomore or upperclass standing major as follows: ten in Economics, six in Science, six in History, two in English, two in Sociology, two in Mathematics. Three are carrying additional majors in Physical Education (the college program does not permit individual physical education majors, and not many athletes have time for the heavy science work which is part of the physical education specialization). Nine are carrying the exacting program of teacher education in addition to full major work in one of the subjects mentioned. No athlete at Western Maryland has a program of studies designed to keep mental deficients in college; there are no such programs at Western Maryland. Many athletes are taking courses regarded as among the hardest at college.

To what standards are athletes held? The question is difficult to answer because university programs are so varied that nothing even remotely resembling standardization in the amount of work required or in the severity of grading can be expected. Many university athletes take little work outside of the school physical education, which also sponsors the competitive teams; such schools will scarcely be hard on star athletes. At Western Maryland, athletes are subject to exactly the same academic rules as are other students: they are demic rules as are other students: they are admitted only if their promise is as great as that of non-athletes, they obey the same attendance regulations, they take the same tests, they are graded on the same standards.

Specifically, the twenty-eight football men who have received semestar-grades have who have received semestar-grades have who have received semestar-grades have the the index required for graduation); this somewhat below the college average of 1.4, but very little below the average for all must be true that the students. The football men are a fair scholastic cross-section of the students body with a few dangerously close to the disappearing point and a few in the stratosher of bonors work.

When one remembers the tremendous expenditure of time and energy required by football and when one understands the exademic standards which these men must meet, one is forced to agree with the old grad who, after hearing Martin Tullai speak at the football banquet, exclaimed, "Say, that boy can do more than lug the leather!"

Alumi and friends may be proud of an undefeated team. In these days of athletic scandals they may perhaps be even prouder of men who were admitted without pressure and through customary channels, whose programs are not muse for the feeble-minded but standard college material, whose grades are awarded without concession and in competition with the top students of the institution.

Such a team is not an efficient gang of hired hands but a representative group of genuine students.

BASKETBALL OUTLOOK

Looking over the results to date, the Terrors have won two of five games played. Each game was hotly contested, but either it was the opponents' greater height or depth of reserves which helped to chalk up the losses.

The opening game was dropped to Lebanon Valley, 76-66, with the Western Maryland forwards, Art Press and Walt Hart, netting 28 and 12 points respectively. Four days later, Press stepped up his scoring to 30 points, while Hart hit for 16 counters, only to lose to a greater Bucknell Club, 88-72. Last year, Press ranked 15th in the National scoring tilt.

Another tough contest followed when the Hill five traveled to Annapolis to battle the Navy to a 75-51 loss. Three in a row and the WMC quinted to the the neighbor Dickinson would straighten them out, and they edged an aggressive Red Devil outfil by a 74-70 count. Next in line was the first game in the Mason-Dixon Conference League with Mt. St. Mary's . . . a hot clash followed with the Green Wave getting the big and of a 68-9 score. So lea's go Terrors and bring home the bacon in this big year of 1952. Ted Boblin, Sports Publicity

CLUB AND CLASS NOTES

Baltimore Chapter

General Robert J. Gill, '10, will address the Baltimore Alumni group January 30, at 8 P. M., at the Baltimore Federal Building, Fayette and St. Paul Sts. His subject "Personal Experiences With The Communists."

Something new for you Baltimoreans is the establishment of a Friday Luncheon at Marty Welsh's Restaurant at 12:30 p. m., in the Officer's Lounge on the second floor, 17 E. Fayette St.

As you can see from the line-up the Baltimore contingent has been hard at work keeping the ball rolling with programs in advance and everything from Square Dances to Victory Dances, but still has found time to elect new officers who are: M. Sue Price, '40, president; Wilbur D. Preston, Jr., '46, vice-president; Alleck A. Resnik, '47, treasurer; and Doris Ritter, '49, secretary.

To those of the old cabinet from past-president "Ginny" Fowble all the way down the line, we of the home forces would like to add our public opinion that they started the ball rolling and carried the Green and Gold across the line with their well organized program of alumni activity.

New Frederick Club

This Fall the Frederick County Alumni met

together to form our newest Western Maryland College Alumni Club. A great deal of the ground work was laid by Mrs. Mildred Raum Storm, '31, Donald Sullivan, '47, Harry O. Smith, '30, and Mrs. Charlotte Goodrich Hoover, '49.

Mr. G. Frank Thomas, '08, our newest member of the College Board of Trustees, was elected to the presidency of the Frederick Club.

Carroll County Club

Under the able leadership of Mrs. Kathleen Moore Raver, '33, president, the Carroll County Club sponsored a Fall Dinner and Square Dance at the College Dining Hall. It was well attended and most heartily enjoyed. New officers were elected for the coming year including: Howard E. Koontz, Jr., '29, president; Mrs. Edgar G. Barnes, '21, vice-president; Mrs. Fred Engle, '31, secretary; and J. Randolph Shilling, '35, treasurer.

ALUMNI IN SERVICE

Considerable interest has been shown in this column since we started it back in the summer. Any further contributions will be gratefully received.

Lt. Bob Ebert, W.M.C. '51, distinguished himself and his college recently at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia, where he finished second in a class of 262 Second Lieutenants, seventy-five percent of whom were West Point graduates. As a consequence of his high calibre work, he was chosen by the Commandant to remain as instructor and tactical office at the school. Bob was Cadet Colonel of the ROTC Corps last year and recipient of the Sunpapers award for excellence in ROTC work, as well as three other military awards.

Col. Paul L. Bates, W.M.C. '31, U.S.A., as of September 10 was a student at the Naval War College at Newport, R. I., taking the senior course in Tactics and Strategy as an inter-service exchange student.

From Camp Pickett, October 1, comes word that Captain Charles Read, W.M.C. '36, is serving as one of the Chaplains with the 43rd Division, which was at that time preparing for overseas movement. Chaplain Read was former Pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, Baltimore, Md.

Little Ralph Ortenzi, 3 year old son of 1st Lt. and Mrs. Carlo J. Artenzi, W.M.C. '48, accepted the award of the Silver Star, by direction of the President, from Major General Thomas W. Herren, Commandant of the District of Washington, for his father, Lt. Ortenzi, who was reported missing in action November 29, 1950 near the Chosin Reservoir area in Korea. On this date, his Company was overpowered and forced to withdraw. Acting as executive officer, Lt. Ortenzi rallied his forces in an attempt to restore the line. Through his skillful action, without regard for personal safety, his Company made an orderly withdrawal, saving the lives of many men.

Lt. Col. William G. Skinner, ex-'37, in August was serving with the 9th Corps in Korea as a signal officer.

Capt. Harry J. Luman, ex-'37, as of November 6 has been assigned Assistant Special Services Officer at Fort Jackson, South Carolina. Capt. Luman previously served with the occupation army in Japan and had only recently returned from Korea. Mrs. Luman and daughter. Patricia Ann, are with Harry down in Columbia, South Carolina at 433 Waccamaw

Word comes from the Public Information Officer at Fort Meade that Pvt. George L. Carr, W.M.C. '48, has been assigned to the 5th Infantry Division at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, where he is now receiving basic

Lt. Guy Smith, W.M.C. '50, as of November 7, was in Korea with the 32nd Infantry.

Lt. Bill Davis, W.M.C. '51, who graduated from the Infantry School at Fort Benning recently, is now stationed at Fort Knox, Kentucky as an instructor with the 3rd Armored Division

Lt. Brady Kunkle, W.M.C. '51, has recently been ordered to the Basic Officers' Course at the Infantry School at Fort Benning.

Major Roy C. Chambers, W.M.C. '29, has been serving as backfield coach for the 5th Infantry Division's football team at Indiantown Gap this past season.

Lt. Elizabeth S. Harrison, W.M.C. '37, WAVES, USN, is stationed in London on the staff of the Commander, Eastern Atlantic Naval Forces.

Major S. Edward Corbin, W.M.C. '36, USAF, is an instructor in Military Science at Colby College, Maine,

History of the Class of 1901

Just before "T. K." left for his Christmas vacation he completed and put into the mail his Class History. It was a gargantuan task and although the success of the publication depended upon a lot of people, let it be said that no one can know better just what a tremendous undertaking it was as the man who compiled it. But with this fellow it was a task of love. The very twinkle of his eye when the job was completed was Kris Kringle-like.

But the job is never really done, for he has asked me to add this note for you "oughtoners" to bring you up to date on your fellow class-mates. Walter Graham passed away in 1942. He was living in New Jersey and is survived by his widow, Berniece Graham.

TO THE FRIENDS OF THE ALOHA

The 1952 Aloha is seeking patronage. Of course, we of the staff are interested in obtaining such support from parents and friends of the present student body. Yet we feel that there are unplumbed possibilities in you to whom this is addressed, the alumni and the Alumni Clubs.

There are two ways in which you may contribute as patrons to our yearbook: (1) You may make a personal contribution; (2) You may make a personal contribution; (2) You may contribute to the patronage supplied as by your local Alumni Club. If your personal contribution is $1.00 or more, your name will appear among the list of patrons, which is placed in a prominent place in the book. Your patronage will assist our staff in producing a yearbook of creditable quality. We request that all contributions be sent to Donald Ma-kosky, Business Manager, 1952 Aloha before March 15.

Thank you for your considerate cooperation.

I wish to contribute the patronage of the 1952 Aloha.	toward
