SPORTS

Western Maryland College Bulletin April, 1957

Frank B. Hurt

Tennis, soccer, track and rifle have been the four sports this year which brought W. M. C. into the public eye, a reminder that we still have outstanding competitive teams.

Even champions can be found on the small college campus where the basic ingredients of the team are desire and spirit as well as skill and of the coach patience and devotion as well as ability.

Twenty-seven years ago, a gentleman from Virginia came here to teach Political Science. In 1985, a group of students asked Frank Hurt to coach the tennis team. The new professor accepted. His predecessor, G. R. Taggart, Jr., had left in '33 with a team undefeated in 15 matches.

In his 22 years of coaching, Frank Hurt has had a few great teams. His devotion to "his boys" has been of highest

On Saturday, May 4, a cold and windy day, his tennis team, only six men deep playing on our new all-weather courts defeated Loyola (defending Mason-Dixon Champs) 7-2. With victory came a novelty. For the first time, Western Maryland had won the northern division title.

In the modesty which bespeaks this conch, he would have none mentioned but those young men, Wray, "The Kid" Mowbray, Bob Passerello, Sam Reed, John Gunderson, Jack Anderson, Bruce Lee and manager Tom Kaylor whose combined efforts swept the doubles and took four singles matches. A never-say-die spirit brought them victory. It was enough to see the faces of these young men. But the crowning touch was the genuine beam which literally haloed the face of one devoted coach, Frank B. Hurt. Their victory was his also.

The championship was decided when southern division titlist Randolph-Macon played here May 18. They won 6-3. Our season's record: 15-1.

BUILDING PROGRAM

The new Baker Memorial Chapel is at ground level. Even though its building progress was strike bound, its outlines already indicate the beauty of the finished structure which will dominate the campus on the crest of the hill.

The Chapel is a second step in the college development program as set up during the Mid-Century Advance Program. MacLea domintory is being lived in. The library and student union building are being studied and planned. The college will purchase the buildings and property of the Seminary as soon as it moves to its new home in Washington, D. C. McKinstry Hall is down; Old Ward is empty. The rest of Old Main will stand until the other buildings are ready to house the many facilities that are now in Old Main.

Western Maryland College Bulletin

VOL. XXXVIII

APRIL 1957

Western Maryland College Bulletin, Westminster, Maryland, published monthly during the school year from January to November and July-August, except May, June and September, by the College.

Entered as second class matter, May 19, 1921, at the Post-office at Westminster, Md., under the act of August 24, 1912. Accepted for malling at special rate of postage provided for in section 1103, act of October 3, 1917.

Dr. Kathryn B. Hildebran Western Maryland College Westminster, Maryland

1957 Living Endowment Fund

1283 Gave $16,744.01

Fellow Alumni, Former Students and Friends:

Western Maryland College's Living Endowment Fund Campaign for 1957 has been concluded, most successfully, with almost $17,000 contributed. The results are most gratifying to all of us who participated. But even more gratifying than the total amount of money raised, is the fact that approximately thirty per cent more of alumni, former students and friends of Western Maryland participated this year than in 1956. This response was wonderful and makes everyone proud to have been a part of it.

With this help it will not only mean that our Alma Mater can maintain her place in the scheme of small liberal arts colleges, but such generous annual financial support will enhance her position in this field.

I feel I speak for President Ensor and everyone connected with Western Maryland when I say — "Our deep and heartfelt thanks for your most generous and unselfish help and participation in this successful campaign."

Most sincerely,

GEORGE A. MEYLS, JR. 1957 Fund Chairman

Results Of Your Effort

Enthusiasm of Western Maryland Alumni for the Living Endowment Fund continued to rise this year as final results (as of August 31) showed a substantial increase in totals received and in number of contributors. Consistent with these increases was the spirit of those who actively participated in organizational work. This year's Class Agent Dinner brought one hundred forty class chairmen and agents together under the leadership of Fund Chairman George A. Meyls, Jr., WMC '22, for the largest organizational planning meeting in the history of the annual alumni fund.

A closer look at this year's results compared with those of the last two years will give you a good idea of what this organization accomplished and of how alumni and friends of Western Maryland are responding to the Annual Living Endowment Fund appeal.

1955— 673 donors contributed $10,722.40 1956- 941 donors contributed $14,010,00 1957-1283 donors contributed $16,744.01

There are many interesting ways to interpret the results this year. One is that the total figure is equivalent to an income which would have been produced from about one half a million dollars of endowment moneya wonderful example of a Living Endowment.

Looking at the statistics from another standpoint show that Western Maryland's results compare favorably with those of other colleges and universities on the national level of alumni fund work. According to the American Alumni Council's Annual Alumni Fund Survey, the 442 reporting institutions show an amount in excess of one hundred million dollars through gifts of all types from graduates and former students of these institutions this year. Alumni are giving to their colleges in a way never seen before. Of the $104 million total above, $36,190,198 represented contributions to annual alumni funds. Nearly twice that amount, $69,851 .-007 was given to institutions directly in the form of bequests, capital gifts or payments on campaign pledges.

The 1956-57 national record represents an increase over last year of 30% in alumni gifts. It is interesting to note that our alumni fund giving through Living Endowment increased by a similar amount-33%.

It is significant, too, that our increase in number of donors, 20%, is in line with the national average increase, 20.5%. Moreover, we are above the national average for the 202 private coeducational colleges and universities which reported a 17.4% increase. However, our average gift, $13.16, dipped well below the national average set at $36.50.

Something To Shoot For

Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C., with an enrollment similar to ours, made alumni fund raising history this year. As the result of a dramatic challenge gift—$1,000 for each percentage point increase over the previous year-Wofford jumped from 12% alumni participation to 74.4% to top the nation.

Something More To Shoot For

A challenge to all classes from our top four whose three year record is unsurpassed in Living Endowment Fund work at Western Maryland.

As mentioned earlier, the Class of 1884 is the oldest class contributing. It also has the distinction of being the only class with a one hundred per cent class participation record. However, since this was achieved with only one member of the class contributing, honors will go to Col. T. K. Harrison's Class of 1901 with a 72% class participation record among its 24 members. The Class of 1907, chaired by Dr. McClure Rouzer, ran a close second with 69% contribution.

To the Class of 1922, another three year winner, go honors for having contributed the highest total from any one class. Nearly $1,400 came in under the leadership of Fund Chairman George A. Meyls, Jr., whose class claims him as class chairman also.

The Class of 1953 completed the picture in the winner's circle. Chairman Beth Witzke's classmates again totaled highest in number of contributors from a single class-72.

The Chapel

As Baker Memorial Chapel comes close to completion various classes, alumni and friends of the college have asked if they can have some part in fitting out the building.

Memorial plaques, as such, in the entrance to the chapel will not be used. However, it will be possible to endow pews and other furnishings. The class of er furnishings. The class of 1906 has already given $1,000 on the occasion of its 50th an-niversary which will be used to purchase the choir stalls.

Dr. Ensor says that each pew in the nave of the chapel will cost about $200.00. A small brass plate will be placed at the end of the pew to designate the donor. Any person or group in-terested in the project should contact the president.

1957 Contributions To The Fund

For obvious reasons, where there is only on contribuin a given class, the amount has been deleted. The percentage participation is based on the total number of graduates and former students in the class for whom we have addresses.

From one small building, sitting all alone and conspicious on top of a hill north of Westminster to the array of structures that now sprawls over the hill, across the road, and on north into the surrounding county area is quite a leap. Western Maryland College did it in 90 years, not very long as the age of such institutions goes.

Once again the campus is stretching and exercising in preparation for another jump in growth. Under construction is the long-inthe-works Baker Memorial Chapel, discussed farther on in the Bulletin

The big issue however is what comes next. At the earliest possible date Old Main will be torn down. But first, all facilities now housed there must find a new home. MacLea dormitory for men is finished and in use; McKinstry hall and Yingling gym are down; Ward Hall is completely gutted, the walls only canding for the contractor's convenience. That takes care of the dormitory facilities formerly located in Old Main.

The front section of the building, however, will remain standing until the college can take possession of the seminary buildings and construct a student union building. The seminary grounds and facilities have been purchased and that long-time neighbor is constructing a building in Washington. The college is expecting to take possession of the seminary buildings in the fall of 1958. Some remodeling will be necessary before the art and home economics departments. administration offices and alumni and public relations offices can move in.

At the same time, the student union building has to be built. The architect is preparing plans now which will probably locate the union beside Science Hall, opposite the seminary. Plans as usual have to be tentative. Some may remember that in 1951 the proposed layout of the campus was somewhat different. At that time, the College did not know the seminary would be moving. Therefore, some things planned then have, of necessity, been altered.

Not changed is the fact that as soon as the seminary-student union-Old Main phase of the program has jelled work will be started on a new library. Because plans do have a way of changing, the president is a bit hesitant about once again pointing to a plot of ground and saying this is where we will build the library. The building now in use will not be torn down but will be put to other uses.

As for the present administration building—probably it will see increased use as faculty living quarters. Faculty members now living in Old Main will possibly move across West Main Street after some remodeling to the present building.

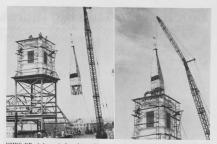

NEW CHAPEL GOING UP

This spring Baker Memorial Chapel is scheduled for completion. When Old Main finally comes down the brick Georgian Colonial building will be the center of the campus at the crest of the Hill.

Already the construction can be seen from every entrance to West-minster. The college is located on an elevation 834 feet above sea level, one of the highest in Carrell County, When the chapel is completed it will, with the elevation, rise to 947 feet above sea level, to is believed that this will be the highest point in the county. There is no doubt whatsoever that it will be seen for miles.

The original Baker Chapel was built in 1895 by W. G. Baker as a thank-offering for his son W. G. Baker, Jr. The Baker Memorial Chapel is being built in memory of W. G., Joseph D. and Daniel Baker and Sarah Baker Thomas, their sister,

The new chapel will cost slightly over a ½ million dollars including the organ. Roger Whiteford, class of 1906 and member of the Board of Trustees is presenting the organ to the college.

The building will seat 715 on the main floor, 145 in the balcony and 60 in the choir. It will be used primarily for Sunday chapel services. The small chapel, located between the library and Alumni Hall, will not be torn down but will be used for small religious meetings, weddings and baptisms. There is a tremendous sentiment and feeling of tradition attached to the small chaple where so many alumni have worshipped and so many have come, often from great distances, to be married or have their children baptised.

The interior nave of the new building is 88 feet by 56 feet, 4 inches. The choir area in the chancle is 21 feet, 4 inches deep and 35 feet, 8 inches wide. Behind the choir is the altar area which is 9 feet, 8 inches deep and 26 feet, 4 inches wide. The overall length is 149 feet, 4 inches. The height to the tower from the ground to the top of the cross is 113 feet. The cross will be of stainless steel, 6 feet, 2 inches high with a cross arm of 3½ feet.

Architectural firm for the chapel is O. E. Adams-E. G. Riggs. Others concerned with the plans include: structural engineer, Van Renssellaer Saxe; mechanical engineer, Thomas S. George; contractor, Consolidated Engineering Company. The Building and Grounds Committee of the Board of Trustees is: D. Carlysle Mac-Lea, chairman; G. Russell Benson; Hubert P. Burdette; T. Newell Cox; T. W. Mather, Jr.; and W. R. Winslow.

OFFICIAL HELP—On hand to see that everything went smoothly for the steeple raising were several members of the Board of Trustees, shown here grouped around the steel cross before it was lifted into place. They are left to right; G. Russell Benson: Rev. J. Leas President Enor; Rev. John N. Link; 72.

Enrollment Made Big Increase In 90 Years

900 Percent Rate Of Growth Over Period

Ninety years ago there were hirty students on the Hill for opening day ceremonies. Before the year was over there were 70 registered students. As the Bulletin goes to press Associate Registrar Miss Cora Virginia Perry says that this year the enrollment figure will be at least 670, an increase of almost 900 per cent.

According to Miss Perry the college received and processed about 775 applications, from which to select the 214 freshmen who arrived for Freshmen Orientation Week on September 18. Statistically there are about two accepted for every three applications turned in and one of these two signs up. The school has been maintaining this ratio for the past several years, Miss Perry added, Applications apparently are once again on the increase. Last year there were 747 after a slight decline from the peak years of '48-'49-876 and '49-'50-850.

PRESIDENT TAKES LIVELY INTEREST IN CONSTRUCTION

It is firmly believed amongst those who were on campus during the summer that a major disappointment in President Ensor's career came the day he couldn't ride up on the pulley with the steeple for the new Baker Chapel,

He was practically in the thing as it left the ground and no sidewalk superintendent ever had more fun. As representative of the Building and Grounds Committee, responsible for the progress of construction, the president has been intimately concerned with the new chapel. But, in the light of his intense interest, it is doubtful if he could have been kept away from the place anyhow.

During the summer it was nothing to see him scrambling over piles of brick and lumber, even climbing to the top of the unfinishded steeple. At the slightest pretext he wandered over, blueprints in hand, to consult with the contractor. There are those who are convinced he has personal knowledge of each brick and nail in the building.

JIM SNODGRASS GAINS TV FAME

A lot of Western Marylanders who are also television fans were considerably impressed this spring when a former student at the college suddenly turned up on an NBC network show called 21. James F. Snodgrass, ex-34, tied 7 times and carned $4,000 in the game before losing out.

According to Jim, the most important single fact about himself is—"I am an artist." Jim lives at 231 West 16th Street in New York. He is making his living painting pictures, or as he puts it, "what passes for one since being an artist is a guaranteed way not to earn a living." Jim has participated in the last two Greenwich Village outdoor art shows with considerable Success.

While at Western Maryland, the artist studied with Miss Louise Shipley of the art department. After the years of trying to decide whether or not to make art a career, Jim enrolled at the National Academy School of Fine Arts and studied with Robert Philipp. At the end of that school year he was given the Albert Hallgarten Award which enabled him to work and travel abroad.

"I resided for more than a year in Spain and then traveled in Italy, France, Austria, England, Switzerland and the Netherlands visiting museums and looking at old masters," Jim wrote recently, "There is a great deal to be learned by looking at pictures by the boys who really knew how to do it."

Since returning from Europe in the spring of this year, Snodgrass has set up a studio in New York and is accepting portrait commissions. He claims several ambitions—"one, is to paint a truly great picture. One would be enough. Another ambition, not quite so modest, is to be one of the great painters of all time. I am not sure I have the guts or the genius to accomplish this, but I shall try.

Hungarian Artist To Teach At Western Maryland

Dr. Ervin L. Szilagyi, a native of Budapest, Hungary, has joined the faculty of Western Maryland to teach history of art.

He replaces Dr. Allan MacDonald who is now assistant director of the Baltimore Museum of Art.

The only other permanent change in the faculty this year is that Mrs. Mary Warren of California is the new assistant professor of psychology taking the place of Robert Adkins. Mr. Adkins is counselor in a high school in New York state.

Dr. Szilagyi, a specialist in porrati painting, is maintaining his studio at 31 East Mount Vernon Place. After coming to the United States in 1948, Dr. Szilagyi went to Florida to do some individual teaching in addition to painting. From 1952 to 1955 he was artist in residence at Furman University in South Carolina where he painted a series of 25 portraits of members of the administration and faculty of the college. While at Furman the artist became an American citizen.

Dr. Szilagyi, who speaks seven languages, has a number of degrees. In 1927 he received his B.S. from the Royal Hungarian Agricultural Academy at De Bressen; his LL.B. in 1929 from the Royal Hungarian Erzebet Academy; Doctor of Jurisprudence in 1930 from the Ferencz Joseph University and Bachelor of Fine Arts in 1936 from the Royal Hungarian Academy of Fine Arts in Budapest. He has also studied at the Mozartium Conservatory in Salzburg, Austria and is an accomplished pianist and accompanist. Dr. Szilagyi worked with leading artists in Paris, Rome, Vienna and Milan and extensively under the celebrated master painter Karlofszky.

Mrs. Warren is originally from California. She received her A.B. from San Jose State College and her A.M. from Ohio State University. She has also done additional work at the University of California. Her teaching experience includes positions at Oadelon Junior College and Contra-Costa Junior College both in California and Morgan State Teachers College in Baltimore.

Dr. O. R. Russell, Miss Arleen Heggemeier and Mr. Mahlon F. Peck are on leave of absence and visiting professors are taking their classes. Dean Helen Howery, who has been on leave of absence in England, is back on campus. She has been studying the life, time and works of Shakespeare and writing a treatment of the first Stratford festival.

Dr. Russell is on a trip around the world after which she plans some studies at Yale on the organization and structure of psychology departments. She will be replaced by a group of practicing psychologists from neighboring institutions. Abnormal psychology will be taught by Dr. Michael H. Finn, consulting psychologist to the college and at Springfield State Hospital. Social psychology will be taken by Dr. Gerald Weiner, head of the psychology department at Rosewood Training School and introductory courses will be taught by Dr. William Guy.

Miss Heggemeier is studying for her doctorate at Oberlin College. Mrs. Gerald Cole will teach some of her classes. Other members of the department are taking the rest.

Mr. Peck is also working on his

Four Foreign Freshmen Here

Four students from foreign countries arrived in Westminster this fall in time for Freshman Orientation Week on campus.

The four continue a tradition that has been a part of Western Maryland almost since the school began. Each year, according to the registrar, there are a half dozen or so students from other countries. At one time most of them came from Cuba or Puerto Rico, In recent years more of the students have been from the Far East.

The newest group is:

Catalina Garcia, Jr., Olongapa, Zambales, Philippines Hidemi Ita, Tokyo, Japan Henry So Soei, Palembang, South Sumatra, Indonesia Kazuko Kobayashi, Tokyo, Japan

They join three returning foreign students: Wesley Pang, Korea; Adbul Futaih, Yemen; Amin Jurf, Syria.

Usually the students have met a graduate or someone who has studied here or has some connection with the Methodist Church. This year Catalina is coming as the result of contact with the church; Hidemi heard of the college through someone at the seminary; Henry met graduate Rev. J. Wesley Day, class of 1931 at the Methodist English school in Palembang; and Kazuko learned about the Hill from Taeko Kamiyama class of 1952 who was teaching in her school.

doctorate. He is at Virginia Polytechnic Institute working in the field of statistics. Mr. Charles A. Morrow, a gradute of the Naval Academy, is visiting professor in the math department. He has taught math and engineering. Statistics will be taught by Dr. A. John Giunta of the faculty. Dr. John Makosky, Dean of the Faculty, will teach Math 103. Dr. Ma. kosky once taught math on the Hill for a period of 8 years and also instructed during the ASTP program.

Public Relations Staff Increased

By Philip E. Uhris

In June of 1951, Nancy Lee Winkelman left the Hill with a bachelor of arts degree toked under her arm and an ambition to become a newspaper woman. This summer with six years experience in several fields of newswriting she returned to the Hill to become the Assistant Director of Alumni and Public Relations. It is a pleasure to introduce to you the new editor of the College Bulletin, Nancy Winkelman, whose particular responsibilities here will center on publicity and publications.

In her senior year at Western Maryland, Miss Winkelman was Editor of the Gold Bug and Associate Editor of the 1951 Aloha. These accomplishments plus those in sports, the Junior Follies and other extra-curricular activities brought her recognition as one of the twelve seniors selected to represent Western Maryland in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. She completed her academic work as a French and English major.

NEW EDITOR — Nancy Winkelman, here on a trip to Delft, Holland, while living in Europe, is new editor of the BULLETIN.

Sophomore Wins Magazine Honor

A red haired sophomore, Joy Keller of Towson, was among college students featured in the August edition of Glamour magazine.

Early in March of this year the student body held an election and chose Joy as the best-dressed girl at Western Maryland, out of a field of ten. The sophomore next competed with girls from other schools until gradual elimination named the ten best-dressed college girls in the country.

In May the photographers arrived and took pictures of Joy which were printed in the magazine this August. She was also guest of Glamour in New York during June.

Joy, graduate of Towson High School, had some previous modeling experience in Baltimore. On daily newspaper. Following this campus she is secretary of the Class of 1960 and the Home Economics Club. Her activities include sewing, cooking, knitting and art. Naturally, with these interests, she is a home economics major.

In an interview with a reporter from The Gold Bug, Joy said that she had been planning to come to Western Maryland since early in high school. And, to quote the school paper, she "loves it here".

NEXT ISSUE

The next issue of the Bulletin will be released in December. It is to feature a story of the impact Western Maryland graduates have made on the education systems of Maryland.

Harvey Finds Challenge In Congo

"Mission life, on the whole, is challenging, thrilling and can be spiritually enriching", writes Bill Harvey of the class of 1954 from the Belgian Congo.

Bill, who returns to the states this month, has been serving at the Mission Methodiste, Kapanga, Elisabethville, since November, 1954.

He says in a letter to the Alumni Office that he started in, the very week he arrived, supervising construction of a 5,000 gallon elevated steel water tank. Because the builder was stricken with a back ailment, Bill immediately began working with the natives. He says it made him learn more quickly the difficult language: Lunda.

In the mission school there are two degrees or sections, 1st degree comprising grades kindergarten through second; and second degree, comprising grades three through seven. Enrollment is approximately 450. Bill was given the job of directing the second degree school. "I meet with all the teachers once a week to discuss school matters. I meet with them individually once a month to talk with them about their work and spiritual life," he writes.

Bill talks of assemblies once a week, plays once a month-"my dramatic art training under Miss Smith has been put to use extensively!",-keeping the payroll, making government reports, a lively athletic program, and landscaping the school grounds. For recreation the missionary men go hunting using the meat to help feed the natives. He says "while on safaris, I have at different times followed a trail on which were fresh leopard tracks, had a hooded cobra rear up at me, come within 100 yards of an elephant."

Bill speaks with deep satisfaction of his religious work. "I have charge of our deputation team 'Soldiers of God', composed of 25 boys. We meet on Saturday evening for our service. I discuss a sermon with them, Sunday morning sees them going out on foot, on bikes, and every other week by car to outlying villages that have no pastor. This is thrilling work. One morning after a service, we saw an old man tear a fetish from around his neck; another morning a man gave up a basket of fetishes to become a Christian, Last year 113 natives made commitments to Christ through the efforts of this team."

Less satisfying, however, are living conditions for natives of the area. Bill says, "When I first arrived here I was shocked to see the primitive run down condition of our boys' dorms. Boys were sleeping on stick cots, in mud brick 'dorms' with leaky straw roofs. Through letters written home and through my supporting church, money has been raised to build new dorms." This first dorm is just part of a continuing program to improve living and feeding conditions which still requires a lot of support.

Bill is hoping to visit the campus after he returns to the states.

NEW STAFF TAKES OVER IN ATHLETICS

There is a new look in Western Maryland's Athletic Department. Three brand new faces and one almost new make up the staff this fall.

Taking over as Athletic Director and Head Football Coach is Robert J. Waldorf. Assistant football coach, JV basketball and head baseball coach will be Richard A.
Pugh. Richard Clower is back this year as basketball coach and Robert Myers, Jr. will be an assistant football coach and help with the intramural program. Philip Unrig will coach soccer as usual.

Mr. Waldorf comes from Washington and Lee High School in Arlington, Virginia where he compiled a record of 29 wins and 11 loses. His 1956 team went undefeated in a 10 game schedule and won the Virginia Group 1 championship. Waldorf, who is also a qualified history teacher, was graduated from the University of Missouri in 1940 with a major in economics. He played football there under Don Farout. He has held coaching positions at Simpson College, Iowa and Marquette University. During World War II, Waldorf directed health and physical education programs for the Army. The next seven years he spent as football coach at Central High School in Battle Creek, Michigan.

The new head coach is 38 years old, is married and has two children. He holds a degree of Master of Education from American University.

The assistant coach, Mr. Pugh comes from Lothian, Maryland where he was head football and baseball coach and assistant principal. He graduated from Wilson Teachers College in Washington, D. C. in 1952. According to Mr. Waldorf, he compiled an excellent record at Lothian particularly in view of the numerical smallness of the squads, Mr. Pugh, who is Dick Clower, a WMC graduate in 1950, has been back on the Hill for one year. He will coach track in addition to basketball.

Bob Myers, a 1956 graduate of Dickinson, comes from Sea Girt, N. J. He is 22 years old. Bob is a graduate student working toward a Masters in education. At Dickinson, Bob was an outstanding football player and came to Coach Waldorf highly recommended. His major job this fall is secuting and then simulating the opponent's offense for the varsity.

Club Plans Card Party

The Carroll County Alumni Club has something of a problem — one very unusual for most organizations.

At the club's first annual meeting a card party was such a success that they made $72.00. According to outgoing president, Mrs. Russell Sellman, '45, the club hadn't planned to make money on the party and had only called for reservations so they would know on whom to plan. Now that they have the money, Mrs. Sellman says, the group is going to have to have a business meeting and decide what happens next.

The second annual meeting and card party will be held the second Saturday of this month. They may have an even bigger problem if it proves a success. A new president and treasurer will be elected to replace Mrs. Sellman and Joseph Fowler, *50. Remaining as vice president is James Mann, '31, and as secretary, Mriram Brickett, '27.

Faculty Spends Busy Summer

Faculty attention this summer was mainly centered on marriages —three of them:

Dr. John Makosky's son, Don ('59), was married in June to Miss Christa Pusch, Next wedding on the Hill was that of Dr. Sturdivan't daughter, Betty. Dr. Reuben Holthaus officiated at both ceremonies which were held in Baker Chapel, Dr. Karl Lee Lockwood, assistant professor of chemistry, was married on September 7 to Miss Marjorie Woodward. Miss Woodward's father was formerly a minister at Westminster Methodist Church.

Several faculty members took their families and went camping. Dr. Ralph Price spent a good bit of time at Glacier National Park. Dr. William Riddington and his family traveled throughout the West including Glacier Park. And, Dean David took some time out from dectorate work to take another look at Niagara Falls and do some camping in Canada.

Dr. John Giunta attended an excellent four week economics conference in Ohio. He also went to a reunion of all his family in this country. Mr. deLong spent the summer managing the conferences which use Hill facilities. And, Dr. Richard Hovey put a lot of time on his book about an American critic.

Heading north with a sizeable group was Miss Daisy Smith who visited in Newfoundland. Dr. Hendren went to his cottage in Atlantic, Maine, the Col. Bennetts and Dr. and Mrs. Ensor to Canada.

Miss Helen Gray traveled to Chicago and Des Moines. Also in Chicago was Miss Louise Shipley. The Hurts, the Spicers and Miss Manahan all went to Virginia.

For real distance Miss Todd, Dr. Isanogle, Miss Perry and Miss Simpkins topped the rest of the faculty. Dr. I who has been on leave of absence, joined Miss Perry and the two toured Europe as did Miss Todd and Miss Simpkins.

The Spanglers moved to a new house and the Willens are boasting about a new granddaughter. Of course there were a lot of faculty members who stayed at home or spent the summer teaching at summer school.

One thing sure, they are a hard bunch to keep track of as Mr. Foutz learned when he tried to keep up with Miss Parker. He forwarded her mail all over the West coast.

Enrollment

cause of changes.

however, because early this spring the college had to start discouraging any more applications. In March, the girl's enrollment was filled, Only a few women students have been accepted since, these be-

Applications will stay high as long as colleges remain overloaded or close to saturation, educators indicate. "More and more young people wanting to attend colleges are submitting two, three, four and sometimes fantastic numbers of applications to make sure of getting in at least one", Dean of the Faculty Dr. John D. Makosky says. For this reason, he comments, there is more competition among the colleges to get the very best students.

All of this is a far cry from the first years of the school when there were not enough students to meet expenses much less a surplus of applications. The late Dr. George S. Wills' History of Western Maryland, which paints a grim picture of the College's struggle to survive, shows how widespread the desire for higher education has become since that era.
