Completion of Chapel Slated For Spring

Baker Memorial Chapel, the most recent addition to Western Maryland's campus architecture, has become an imposing edifice since students last viewed it in December. Wray Mowbray and Judy Corby Assume SGA Responsibilities
By Dick Plaket

One of the fastest events ever to hit campus was the move of Wray Mowbray. If you don’t believe me just try to find him now.

Wray was born and raised on the East Side of Cambridge, Md. He graduated from Cambridge High.

Wray Mowbray

in 1964 and came up to the “hill” so that he could play tennis. However, Wray discovered there was more to college than tennis and he became one of us! But Wray made the adjustment successfully.

In his freshman year Wray was a member of the Alpha Beta Nu varsity, an organization in which he has held several offices; an active participant in all sports; past SGA representative for his class for three years, and a Trumpeter. He has distinguished himself during the past and is apparent that he could play tennis. However, he always knew that he was destined for something else.

Wray was re-elected twice to this position, so it is not surprising that he is looked upon as the future of the SGA. If so, we have a bright future in store for us.

Judy Corby

The times the night before

The place: here

The girl: Judy Corby

The mood: confusion

You can find Judy Corby rushing to hurry up, slapping around, thinking about, forgetting, wondering where... cutting up, painting, bushes, dancing, singing, bed, band, bars, bars and all that jazz.

She was found with the scissors in the dorm or her hair, a contributor of college, a lover of LLEEP, barb, and all that jazz.

She can usually be found painting, dancing, singing or back drops for the forthcoming campus dance.

We do not mean to imply that Judy isn’t qualified for her position as Vice President of the SGA. One has only to look at her past achievement record to find this out. The facts are simple. Things. What she has taken to be major, a member of the Phi Alpha Beta sorority, an organization in which she has held several offices; an active participant in all sports; past SGA representative for her class for three years, and a Trumpeter. She has distinguished herself during the past and is apparent that she was the only way to achieve this goal. She made some progress toward that end, but it is hard to believe that she could do it.

If we can trust our intuition, she has a remarkable ability to deal with people. She is also an active participant in all sports; past SGA representative for her class for three years, and a Trumpeter. She has distinguished herself during the past and is apparent that she is looking for a new and different type of job. She is looking for one that will allow her to express her creativity and use her talents.

Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders tryouts will begin Wednesday, September 5th. They will be held in the gymnasium. Practice sessions will continue through Friday, September 14th, and will be open to all students in the fall. The young man who makes such a late application will be asked to be admitted to the program. The young man rushed up to the entrance. The young man was asked to be admitted to the program. He was accepted.

He would drive them. But, now there is a new mechanic. He feels like an ostrich with the head in the sand. There was no way to turn the situation around. He saw, saw, and was feeling that he should be doing something more than just driving the car. He was feeling that he was not doing something more than just driving the car. He was feeling that he was not doing something more than just driving the car. He was feeling that he was not doing something more than just driving the car.

Kerschner And Mackay Are WBCA Coaches

Dr. John D. Kerschner, assistant professor of history, and Dr. John D. Mackay, Dean of Faculty and professor of English, have been selected to appear as Western Maryland’s representatives on WBCA’s fall and winter television series. The selection is the result of the outstanding young men in their major fields. The entire group was composed of officers of the faculty, and it was felt that they had had longer to acquire experience and expertise than underclassmen.

Dr. Kerschner began his higher learning at Hood College where he received his B.A. degree with a major in zoology. She continued her education by attending graduate school at Columbia University where she received a Ph.D. in genetics. During this graduate work Dr. Ker- schner was awarded fellowships from the National Institute of Health and the Public Health Service.

Feyton for students stud- enting in U. S. The The Look

The Gold Bug is once again being printed in the traditional newsprint. The choice of this material on the economic majors. If total cost of production and distribution is to be met, a subscription must be found to make the two figures roughly synonymous. One solution would be to cut frequency of publication. Another would be to attempt to cut costs per issue.

Obviously the first solution is no solution at all. A college paper on a monthly basis loses so many student readers that it can never hope to be self-supporting. There is then only the alternative left. Newsprint is considerably cheaper than the semi-gloss paper. The alternative is no alternative.

To the editor, and the old look: superman, supreme. At least the look is being maintained. The New York Times and several other papers of comparable worth in the Goddard General have maintained a look remarkably well without the advantage of advertising to help pay for it.

A subscription campaign is being run through the week to help pay for the production of the Gold Bug. A mimeographed letter will be sent to parents of the student body asking them to consider a subscription. A subscription coupon is enclosed in this Young Man's Cabin (1957). The Gold Bug will come out... every two weeks.

"Sharing In Christ!"

By Dave Esterly

In believing individuals in a group where a student must grow not only intellectually and socially but also spiritually, believing individuals in a group association has planned a program for the student body intended to meet that need, the sharing of Christ in the student's life. The S.C.A. has focused its emphasis on the theme of "Sharing in Christ!" as a means of uniting students closer together in a fellowship and brotherhood. We seek to make Christ central in our lives, and to love one another more positively and creatively.

In the following pages, we will begin a series of meetings on Christianity on October 9. This program is geared toward our own spiritual growth as well as our growth within our church faith. Each meeting will be led by a different person in order to help the students better understand the scriptural basis for our Christian beliefs. Some of the topics to be covered will include

The Knox Bible Study: "An Analysis of the Old Testament" and "An Analysis of the New Testament" with Dr. F. C. Godbey. The study will begin with an introduction to the Bible and the biblical canon, followed by a detailed examination of the Old Testament. The course will then proceed to an examination of the New Testament, focusing on the life and teachings of Jesus Christ. The study will conclude with an examination of the early church and its development. "The Knox Bible Study" will be particularly valuable for those interested in a deeper understanding of the Bible and its significance for our lives as Christians.

Yes sir, the air is over winter and winter is approaching. How can we use it? Simply by feeding it at the right time and using the proper amount. This is the role of the animals that return to college. Academic Robes And Colors Are Historically Significant
By James Lighthipe

Have you ever wondered, as you stood and waited for the long procession to file into Alumni Hall for Convocation, Invention, or Graduation, just what all the regalia, robes and colors meant? It is quite a long history to academic costumes, and to trace this history and all the regulations governing their designs through the centuries is a task of itself. Many universities have undergone so many changes from the original form that it is hard to see a connection between professor and student, between degree of learning and the clothing that went with it.

When changes occurred, the schools that made them set up certain rules to distinguish between professor and student, between degree of learning and between different classes. These rules continued to be set up until the end of the 19th century and into the 20th century, when universities began to be more standardized. There was no more system of design, materials, colors, or meanings than England had preserved.

The code established in 1893, however, as part of increased efforts to set a uniform pattern for academic regalia in the United States, was established. The Master's Degree in literature was represented by a black robe with a gold tassel fastened to the left front. The hood was black with the exception of the dark blue trim for the Ph.D. These robes were to be set up to apply to most American universities. It was felt that a standard, uniform dress, learning and degree were of importance. To file into Alumni Hall for Convocation, Investiture, or Graduation, just what to wear was of importance. There is a system of meaning that goes with each of these parts of the academic costume.

In 1895, however, as more institutions were established and today ninety-five percent of all schools adhere to its forms, the hood itself denotes the subject of the degree. Several usual colors are: Philosophy—dark blue; Education—light blue; Art—white; Music—pink; Medicine—green; and Theology or Divinity—scarlet. The velvet and gold used in the hood also follows the color of the degree, if the wearer chooses, but usually this color black with the exception of the dark blue trim for the Ph.D.

The lining inside the hood is of the colors of the school from which the degree was conferred. For more than one color a chevron or bar of one color crossed a field of the background of the other. The hood for Western Maryland has a gold chevron over a green field, showing that the service was awarded from this school. A Bachelor's hood is three feet long and the colored band is two inches wide. The Master's hood is three and one-half feet long and the band is three inches wide. The Doctoral hood is four feet long and the band is five inches wide. This band also has black and gold on each side and is rounded at the bottom on the panels and are pointed at the bottom. The piping around the rounded edge of the doctoral hood is also in the school colors.

Dr. Emor's Hood
The Dean's Doctor wears his hood of the Doctor of Divinity, the honorary degree conferred upon him by W&M. A general note can be made here to distinguish from our own school looks like. It has hanging from the hood which also goes around the neck and which denotes the area of the award, Divinity. The colors lining the hood imitate those of the academic robes. Israel's hood, at the bottom showing the degree and the color. W&M has velvet trimming and three velvet bands, and his mortarboard has a gold tassel, all of which are done in the same colors. The academic costume is the same for all the various degrees or honorary degrees. Wearing of academic regalia lends an air of formality to any occasion, and as a part of our academic heritage just as books, learning and degrees have their part.

CIRCLING THE HILL

This column is devoted to the Homecoming Game this Saturday, November 9, 1957. This column is meant to help dribble a real story about the history of the Great Dane Game, and the much-beloved tradition that it has become. The purposes to encourage young students to go out to the games and support our team.

To Each His Own: The Journey Home

Mark has been asked on the subject of Homecoming—presently in this issue, and previously in others, new history. It seems unfair, however, not to comment on it in the editorial column, since Homecoming is and always will be a subject for much comment.

Homecoming is viewed in many ways. The CSA perhaps views it with dismay as the thought of thieves to be ordered, parade to be organized, banners to be hung full of nonsense to be established, seats and displays to be scheduled, and items on of fashion. Casualties, fraternities, and sororities scorch to have cause of certain formalities in the festive week. End approaches and nobody has an idea for a float or displays. The football team views it as a chance for the Big Win in the eyes of the admiring alumni, and the alumni... the most biased viewers of all.

Let's face it. Homecoming is created for the Alumni. It is time for them to come back and reconcile about the Good Ole Days. It is the time for them to compare families and square that college student is actually a great team. There are a lot of good troops in the past; the classes gone and many of us can't look back at Ole Main and wonder if it will be there at the next Homecoming.

Homecoming is many things, but above all it is an expression of Old Main, located on the hill. It is a symbol of all of us, and it is as real and well as the athletes' spirits are important, but they are not all important. We are at home on the football and soccer fields, Homecoming 1957 will be the same success it was last year.

WMC Bridge Club Reveals Secrets
by Pat Keel

There is, on the picturesque campus of Western Maryland College, a cult known as the Bridge Players. This group meets regularly, every Tuesday and Thursday at 11:30 PM in the Grille during the academic year. The secret society, however, is not administered by the usual means. Rather, they meet in an informal setting where they can discuss their shared passion for bridge. The practices are designed to help students develop a deeper understanding of the game and improve their skills. The society is known for its innovative teaching methods, which often involve interactive role-playing scenarios. The leaders of the group are dedicated to ensuring that all members feel included and supported in their pursuit of excellence in the game. The Bridge Club is known for its welcoming atmosphere and its commitment to fostering a community of like-minded individuals. Although the specifics of the group's activities are kept confidential, they have a reputation for being highly competitive and skilled. If you're interested in becoming a part of this unique society, contact the bridge club to learn more about the group's meetings and what it means to be a part of the Bridge Players. With a focus on skill development and camaraderie, the Bridge Club offers a unique opportunity for students to engage in a passion that they can share with others.
A Changing W.M.C.

To Welcome Alumni

Returning alumni will find that the Westminster M.C. has earned the "new look" this year. From the front of the campus, which is now able to see more than the usual amount of campus, to the back of the campus, where a "soft ball" diamond will be built, the campus will be transformed. The entire campus is being completed late spring. Up by the hill the new campus dominates the scene, where it is perfectly located. It will be a sight to see.

At the gates there will be time for reminiscing and renewing old acquaintances, and a new group of people will be able to see the stands from the stands of the same. Alumni welcome, and a good show!

Carroll County General Hospital of Tomorrow

There is no doubt that we need a hospital in Carroll County now. During the past year and a half a committee has been at work studying this problem and planning just how to meet it. It is almost unanswerable that one has not been built before this. With a population now at the 20,000 mark, there should, under government standards, be more than 200 hospital beds available. The fact is that there are none. The nearest hospitals are on the average of thirty miles away over heavily traveled highways. And it is not always possible to get to a bed. If Carroll County had kept a 100-bed hospital last year, it would have operated at 85% capacity all year long.

Indeed the county is late in recognizing the need for a hospital and making plans to construct one. New legislation is a fifty-bed general hospital an as adjacent to the present Medical Center located off Washington Road. It will be built on the site which will allow for more construction when additional funds are available and the demand for local services increases.

Surgical services will include two operating rooms, one private room, eight two-bed rooms, two four-bed rooms, and six eye-operating rooms. Also there will be medical and maternity services, such as two delivery rooms, two labor rooms, one private room, eight two-bed rooms, two four-bed rooms, two nurseries, one recovery, the Emergency and Casual Services Department, a fracture room, an oxygen room, a laboratory and a pharmacy are being built to accommodate an ultimate 100 bed limit.

Approximately one million dollars is the cost of this fifty-bed unit. This is a relatively modest amount and it is possible only because of central study, the county providing the site and the use of a portion of the present medical center for administrative purposes. The money will come from three sources. From the county tobacco tax and accumulated gifts it will earn $5,000,000. The Federal Government will give $156,000 from the Hill-Burton Funds. A total $1,000,000 will be raised by public subscription in Carroll County and the Reston area of this. Of this amount nearly one-half has been achieved.

The Leo Connolly Corporation is conducting the drives with cooperation and leadership of many prominent citizens. This drive is divided between two localities, Scott S. Baer is the General Committee Chairman of the Westminster Area. In the Reston area D. P. Cloyd, M.D. holds this position. There are many contributions in the campaign with Louis E. Scharer heading the committee of clergymen.

With the support of many such civic-minded citizens, the urgent need for a hospital will soon be filled.

The National Teacher Examination, prepared and administered annually by the Educational Testing Service, will be given at 100 testing centers Saturday, November 15, 1958.

The college which is available, to the school system in which he is seeking employment, will advise him whether he should take the common examinations or one or both of the eleven optional examinations.

Included in the common examinations will be tests in professional knowledge, teaching ability, general cultural expression, and non-verbal reasoning. The optional examinations are designed to demonstrate mastery of subject matter to be taught. A bulletin of information describing registration procedures and containing sample test questions and an application may be obtained from Dr. Ralph's Crown Service

Observations in the rain... the path through Robinson Garden has been alack of rocks that splash and when you least expect it does... cheap stones that just... you don't need them... because they're not covering up Bernards... a hooded creature (from Spitting Image) is the largest plant in the University of Houston, and all proceeds will go towards the purchase of drugs. The rumors in screamed colors with the caption "The present's already been by..." circulating the area, the temptations will be too much for the parents to pass up... I say, "What a poop" really before Homecoming... didn't make much difference though... and still it runs.

On the sunny side... guys and girls pinned, rings, ear-bobs, and jack- olad would have to do... and all of a sudden the Gray Mopet is the thing... And to get the point across... and the showers are... and the smoke... and the picture before it's over... "The theme of nature"... and "The things that nature"... and "the things that other people"... and "the things that other people"... and "the things that other people"...

There is a notice on the Main Bulletin Board about shoe shiner equipment being sold in the bookstore. Shall we interpret that as a hint? You must admit that's one of the best hints in the world.

A classic warning from the student body.

Famous Historian To Speak Here

The December 9 assembly will be highlighted by Ralph E. Turner, in- terpreter of history of the United States. In his speech, "The Twentieth Century: A Social History," Turner will bring us into the meaning of the twentieth century, whether a cultural decay or a cultural evolution.

Dr. Turner has been a professor of history at Yale University since 1944. Besides this, he is currently editor of the “History of the United States:” A Social History of the Scientific and Cultural Development of Mankind. Recently he has been chosen by the Commission of the UNESCO History. In his talk on the meaning of the confusion may be derived from the fact that, "All major determina- tion of our civilization is the vital, political, moral, religious, aesthetic, and other facts from the fact that the learning men have secured from the past is law to solve the problem of our time.""
Have We Lost The Meaning?

Christmas is another one of several significant holy days that man has turned into a commercial festival. The light and the hope that should come with the observance of this day are for many not present or considered deformable. It is true that at Christmas men are more apt to be kindly disposed to each other, and that many are more given to acts of charity and good deeds, that we are less reluctant to aid the needy. But in spite of these manifestations of good will and charity, the spirit of Christmas—of love, of joy, of peace, and of goodwill toward all men—has been held behind the trappings and intimations that now go with the day.

"Not that this is only an easier way to write it, which it is, but mainly that the X equals an unknown quantity whole discussion of which is not involved in the little light that is now shining in this little box.

In this light is what causes the great commercial "come-on" of the stores. This is why we are asked to give more money, and the words vary rather than worship and praise the occasion. For the Xmas prevalently stands on commerce.

adVICE

Dear Myrtle,

There are many young ladies who sit next to me in class. I have seen them on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and they have been very attractive, but that is just my opinion. So you are leading them to believe that you are literally buried in letters from children all over, as we are relaying our Christmas wishes to you, Myrtle. Please try to send us something about your school. The senior class wants good Graduating Class photos, but I don't know if they think it is a good idea. Maybe you should think about it, and send us your Christmas wishes.

Sincerely,

Dad, writer, Myrtle

We have been good boys and girls this year. Our parents have told us so.

Anyhow, next year we promise to do better. We ask you to come to our houses and give us the things you know are good for us. We also ask you to come to the campus and give us the things we need. We promise to be good boys and girls next year.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Dave, writer, Myrtle

Dear Myrtle,

I need your advice. I live with a group of girls who seem to think of me as a human being. I am never able to be alone except when I am in classes or with other people. I am not interested in social dances, but I am interested in the things we want. Many of the girls who live with me are interested in the things we want.

Georgian Colonial Chapel
Crowns Crest Of The Hill

The brightly colored Christmas lights of Main Street seem to lead to the "hill," and anyone traveling in this direction probably sees the newly constructed chapel of Baker Memorial Chapel. Located on the campus of Carroll College, the hill is the site for Baker in Carroll County. Although there are signs for the Baker College, the hill is home to many significant features, including the chapel, which is a prominent part of the campus. It has become a place of worship and remembrance for many people around the country.

Baker Memorial Chapel

The primary purpose of the new chapel will be to serve Sunday evening devotional and convocation services, as well as other school functions. The chapel will have a seating capacity of 947 feet above sea level - the tallest in the nation. It will be the tallest building in the United States and the fourth tallest in the world.

Christmas is the only holiday that is celebrated by people around the world. It is not restricted to any nationality or city, nor is it limited to any one religion. Everyone is familiar with the religious significance of this festival.

The Christmas tree is a familiar symbol of Christmas. The tree was originally used as a symbol of the Wise Men's gift. The tree was originally in a baking shape and represented the manger. From England we imported the custom of decorating trees. The present day cards are an outgrowth of Christmas pieces which were decorated with paper stars decorated with iconography engraving.

Many of the things we recognize as a Christmas icon are of Christian origin, but have roots in ancient Pagan Influence.

Our mythical Santa originated from Saint Nicholas, a Christian bishop who lived in Asia Minor. He is said to have given gifts to the poor and needy. The tradition of giving gifts at Christmas can be traced back to the ancient pagans.

Western Maryland Rifle Team
High In Maryland Army Circles

Finding Western Maryland College a school with a varied sports program, it is the purpose of this article to feature a sport in which major emphasis has not been placed. The Cots & Cots' appellation, because of the nature of the activity, the rifle team.

By Robert Otto

With the victory of Russia's paid "amateur" athletes over the United States in rifle shooting during the 1960 Olympics, many Americans began to wonder what had happened to this traditional American activity. A tremendous emphasis has been placed on rifle shooting and this is reflected, to a certain extent, here at W.M.C.

Unfortunately, a rifle match is not a spectator sport, and the nature of pounder Phil Neary, former Mason-Chester High School, is losing his 157-pound berth, while the returnee Charlie Cock will most probably move to the 177-pound class.

The M.T.C.A. team supports its rifle corps, but the returnee Fred Stoever will again defend the 157-pound class. Sergeant Coyner is now the team coach, replacing Captain Howard, as well as Ron Sindy, and Karl Siel, as well as Bob Gosnell and Phil Stansfield, who were freshmen last year.

The rifle team was able to muster an improved play of senior Tony Sarne, who scored 10 points and last year's top scorer, Stan Stewart, who scored 22 points, must not be overlooked.

Rule Changes

The Tulan Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association has drafted the following major rules changes for the 1957-58 season:

1. A technical foul is to be imposed on a team if one or more players wear an illegal number. This number must be different from every player on the team, but is not required to attempt to score or try to get the ball. The responsibility for enforcement is definitely on the team behind in the score. After a warning, the referee shall assess a technical foul for failure to wear legal numbers. In overtimes, all fouls are regarded as part of the second half.

2. Any coach who attempts to personal contact officials should remember that there are instances of personal contact that can be and should be ignored.

3. The exception in Rule 9, section 8, applies only to Jump ball in the center circle.

Orchids To All

Orchids this week go to the soccer team for spirited play against the Blue Jays, and especially to Bruce Lee of Alden Hall, last year's soccer co-captain. We also send orchids to the Navy team for their decisive victory over Army and to the Baltimore Colts for their fistic-up win over the Los Angeles Rams. A technical foul therefore carries a 15-point penalty. In

The Last One—“Thirty”

Every organization, a college newspaper definitely excluded, has its trials, its problems, its pressures, its working hours (unsatisfied) in large measure, and certainly in its personnel. And then the end comes. The time when he every editor in this world, and no just “another editor” but his “last” editor! The last issue that the time has gone so quickly, that all the things planned to be done for the college and the college campus.

The following are some of the main points that have to be covered:

1. The last issue of the college magazine...
2. The last issue of the college newspaper...
3. The last issue of the college yearbook...
4. The last issue of the college yearbook...
5. The last issue of the college newspaper...

Conformity--A Campus Plague

by M. Willcox

"Today's undergraduate is almost a caricature of conformity." These words accurately state one of the most pressing problems faced by the American college campus of today. The conformist is dictated by the expectations and preferences of others. His contemporaries are the sole determiners of his conduct. The student's first question is, who will say what when I do this? Many potentially creative individuals on our campus are led to mediocrity by the conformist ethic. Conformity is not the product of campus environment, however; it is rather an extension of the social pressures of society. "To avoid it..." and "this is the trend imposed on every schoolboy and schoolgirl," is both true and frightening. Our society--our schools are available today to "cure" the child who cannot or will not conform. This is "socialized"--which in current semantics means "cured." Our schools have become vast workshops where the student body, is "socialized" with rigid acceptance of their ideas. S.G.A. projects were born and nurtured by Flo's desire to "go along with the gang" in conformity. This is not the student who came to college to learn, nor is he the one for whom knowledge is suppressed because of fear of social ostracism. The student, I feel, does not conform with the students. The administration also seeks to keep individuals and a non-conformity. Through a system of tests and warnings, the student is "socialized" into believing that he is a part of progress. This result is an apathetic and spiritless body of students. Only with independence and submission on the part of the student can the student be "socialized." Conformity leads to degradation and dehumanization of the individual person. It suppresses initiative and self-improvement and results in mediocrity.

"Conformity is a disease which the freshman because of his desire to be liked and accepted by the upperclassmen, is trying to imitate the typical conformist. In buying such an organization, the individual identifies himself with a group which is identified with a group, and so on, until he is "socialized" between many groups. His thoughts and his actions are directed by the expectations and preferences of those groups. The result is not membership in an organized body, but rather that of being a part of the group, not an individual. "Conformity is a disease which the freshman because of his desire to be liked and accepted by the upperclassmen, is trying to imitate the typical conformist. In buying such an organization, the individual identifies himself with a group which is identified with a group, and so on, until he is "socialized" between many groups. His thoughts and his actions are directed by the expectations and preferences of those groups. The result is not membership in an organized body, but rather that of being a part of the group, not an individual. Conformity is not the product of campus environment, however; it is rather an extension of the social pressures of society. "To avoid it..." and "this is the trend imposed on every schoolboy and schoolgirl," is both true and frightening. Our society--our schools are available today to "cure" the child who cannot or will not conform. This is "socialized"--which in current semantics means "cured." Our schools have become vast workshops where the student body, is "socialized" with rigid acceptance of their ideas. S.G.A. projects were born and nurtured by Flo's desire to "go along with the gang" in conformity. This is not the student who came to college to learn, nor is he the one for whom knowledge is suppressed because of fear of social ostracism. The student, I feel, does not conform with the students. The administration also seeks to keep individuals and a non-conformity. Through a system of tests and warnings, the student is "socialized" into believing that he is a part of progress. This result is an apathetic and spiritless body of students. Only with independence and submission on the part of the student can the student be "socialized." Conformity leads to degradation and dehumanization of the individual person. It suppresses initiative and self-improvement and results in mediocrity.

A Valid Grading System?

With the closing of the semester and the anticipation (or dread) of redecorating, several students and/or the staff are experiencing a change of heart. Some of these changes are due to the fact that the semester is almost over and the students are looking forward to a new semester.

The college professor, finding himself in the middle of the semester, is usually faced with the task of grading. This is a difficult task because the professor must consider the student's performance throughout the semester. The professor must also consider the student's attitude and participation in class.

Some professors adopt a technique of marking that is designed to give the student an idea of how well they are performing. This technique is often referred to as the "percentage method" of grading.

Other professors use a technique called the "percentage method" of grading. This technique is often referred to as the "percentage method" of grading.

The true test (if a marking system is suitable to the needs of criticism of the existing system of grading) nor as a tool to measure the success of a student in the class or of a student's contributions to the class, is subjective opinion of teachers but an objective one.

Discussions Seen To Climax RE Week

This week the campus has had again the benefit of the presence of some fine guest speakers; some of them are not, why not? How can we change the pupil so that he should never feel that school is "skillful," instead of sitting back, and to discuss the ideas which will continue to be talked about, training for citizenship, and are doing more frightening as increasing numbers of the Western Maryland are the Russians did not. They encouraged the development of the future. Their schools give heavy importance to mathematics and science, and are highly competitive in science. Every junior in high school has prepared for the maximum technical education commensurate with his ability, the launching of the satellites shows that this educational plan is beginning to produce results. Further demonstrations of ability are more impressive and more frightening as increasing numbers of Soviet scientists reach pre-eminence.

Our public schools now stress training for citizenship, and are doing this quite wisely. This goal has been set for social and civic betterment. Yet, with a reasonable proportion of the students, how can we help the pupil to meet and to know, not why, but how? Can we change our structures to meet the students' and their needs? And what are the bases for that change?

The student body will bear most of the blame for any radical structural changes in the schools, when any environmental changes have been formulated. If, out of the happenings in the world, our student body will have the responsibility for changing, what will be the responsibility of the students? The pupil, not the teacher, must be responsible for change.

First All-Star Team Chosen From Intramural Competition

The Gold Bug has initiated a basketball All-Star Game between the Intramural All-Star and the Junior Varsity teams. The game was played last week in which the team coaches selected two teams, and a panel of All-Star Team judges.

Larry Jones of the Wesleyan Faculty Seminary was the choice for the most outstanding player and will receive a Golden Trophy.

Late Notice!
Basketball was introduced as a sport in December, 1941, at Springfield College, Springfield, Massachusetts, by James Naismith, an instructor at that institution. The game is now played by more than eighteen thousand schools throughout the world, and more than 100,000 spectators watch the sport.

Now a memorial is being constructed in honor of Dr. Naismith. It will be called the "Naismith Memorial Hall of Fame For Basketball." The funds for this hall's building are collected in numerous ways. Western Maryland College will present an exhibit of Naismith's original basketball game which will depict the game as Naismith created it, and manner of play will be authentically.

The Formal Game will take place at half-time of the Western Maryland - Gallaudet varsity basketball game on Friday, February 21st. "Human Events" will be called at the benefit of the Hall of Fame for Basketball.

SIDELINE
With Al Spiecer

Basketball has again hit the sports spotlight. With the team looking strong and new players arriving, we are excited about the season. Our focus will be on our own team and traveling elsewhere to games when possible. Now that I've had a chance to watch our players, I can say they are talented. The team between semesters off Gallaudet and a week later came on to defeat Rutgers of South Jersey.

Sports Personality of the Week

With this issue of the Gold Bug the Sports department introduces a new feature. Each week the sports personality of the week will be selected. The most exciting moment of the week will go to the Featured Scholarship Fund.

Playing a continuous schedule, the Western Maryland basketball team has registered two triumphs in five games in the past two weeks.

The Terrors have lacked greatly improved playing a higher caliber game in this second half of the season. Despite the efforts of Dr. Stewart, who gave indications of his form which has been hampered previously, the Terrors were humiliated at the hands of Franklin and Marshall, Wednesday, in Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Never being headed, P. M. and I was easily led to victory by forward Car- tuck who contributed ten baskets for a good total of twenty-two points. Hot stuff! must be guard West team drinking nine fold goals and a total of three baskets.

Bright spots in this defeat were Stewart's seventeen tallies with nine from the foul line; and G. E. Chamber's ten points.

The next, Friday, February 21, team will go to the hands of Catholic University. The Terrors threaten to oust this Catholic University. A brilliant forerunner of their first year, John Hildreth edged the Terrors into a 30 deficit, coming from some eighteen points in the rear by the end of the half.

Rosier and Chandor shared WMC scoring honors by fifteen points each, followed by forward Sarbanes. Lynch and Hacidle led C. U. play with twenty-two and eighteen points respectively.

Special mention should be made of Bill Spair's sixteen rebounds during the contest to keep him high in national rebounding circles.

In the Terrors triumph over Rutgers last Saturday, Tony Sarbanes was WMC's big gun. Sarbanes, playing one of the finest games of his career, dunked twelve baskets and two foul shots to contribute twenty-two points. His role in the contest led to his second half victory.

Commissions Received By Three Seniors

Western Maryland's ROTC Department has recently released the news of the appointments of three senior cadet officers in the Regular United States Army. The men receiving these commissions upon graduation are John Bert, Roger Schelm and Robert Dickover. To qualify for this Regular Army Commission, each of these men had to be designated as Distinguished Military Graduate of their Regular ROTC Department. They also were required to apply to the Department of the Army and be accepted. Each serves three years of active duty.

John Bert, a physical education major, is currently battalion commander and holds the rank of Cadet Lieutenant Colonel. He has applied and has been accepted in the Infantry Branch of the Army.

Roger Schelm, Cadet Captain and Battalion 8-4, has been detailed to the Military Police Corps. Proceeding this he must serve two years in the Infantry.

Robert Dickover has received his assignment to the Adjutant General Corps and is to report for duty March 5, 1958. Dickover was Company Commander for A and Company and he held the rank of Cadet Captain during the first semester. He will be required to serve two years in Antiquity prior to his graduation.

Bert and Schelm are both graduates of Eastern High Schools and Dickover is a graduate of Centennial High School in Westminster. All three received their commision in the Army while they were seniors at Eastern and Centennial.

In a junior class meeting held February 27, Patricia Schaefer was elected editor of the 1959 yearbook with George Thomas as business manager.

The Junior Plays, a series of three one-act plays, will be presented on the stage of the auditorium one evening during the last week of the spring semester. The plays chosen this year include "Consent," " 만나 +, and "The Cruise of the Kimberley"

Dr. Whitfield and Committee Announce New Regulations

To any of the students on the Hill who have been absent from classes on days immediately preceding the half-term, winter vacation, Christmas, and other college vacations, the workings of the Attendance Committee may be slightly perplexing. However, wishes to point out its most recently developed policies: sending cards before the committee members have class, and excusing first semester freshmen who have a two-point average at mid-semester.

At present, the committee, composed of its chairman, Dr. Theodore M. Whitefield, Mr. Eugene M. Noll, Major Barbier, and Mr. Alfred W. Delong, meets at regularly announced times to review cases of student absences before leaving the administrative warning to those without excused absences are those absences due to illness, either immediate (such as doctor’s certificate), certain individual reasons of a personal nature, and the absences of those with a two-point average. However, no student is ever excused out of the committee, either personally or in the group.

Students with two-point averages may submit their excuses in advance of their absences. Also, when necessary in rare cases, Dr. Whitefield, the committee, or the Student Body, can excuse other students in advance.

Most Submit Request. Most important of all, the student does submit to the committee a request for an excuse. It is to note in the fact that of the fifteen girls who were absent from school before and after Christmas, all but two were excused. Neither of those two were excused for a reason that was not offered any explanation for the student at the time of the absence.

For other details and functioning of the committee, see the Student Handbook, or Dr. Theodore Whitfield.

Dance Features Aquatic Theme

With "Four Winds and Seven Seas" as its theme, the Senior Class will hold a formal dance tomorrow evening, February 28. There will be dances and cocktails to the great splendor with the use of marine life, nautical soup, and cocktails. Highlighting the decorations will be the square dances in a room decorated with the atmosphere of another world. The tide will come in at 9:00 P.M. and the dance will continue until midnight. The tide will come in at 9:00 P.M. and the dance will continue until midnight. The reservation fee is $2.00 per person.

Dr. Whitfield has arranged for the Junior Play, "Seashore Spectacular," which is being presented on the evening of March 1 at the auditorium. The play is a series of songs and dances to a musical theme and is described as "seashore fiction at its best."

Departments: The Student Council is planning a "Dance for the Future of American Women." The theme of the dance is "We are the Future of American Women," and the purpose of the dance is to raise money for the American Woman's College. The dance will be held on the evening of February 28, and tickets will be sold for $2.00 each. The music will be provided by the Western Maryland College Band, and refreshments will be served. Students are encouraged to attend and support this important cause.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

February 24, 1958
To the Editor of the Gold Bug:

Florence Kirk Kipp’s appearance in the role of Cleopatra on the stage of the Playhouse of the Performing Arts is of particular interest to the citizens of America and students on campus. The appearance of this star in the role of the famous queen has caused much excitement and anticipation. Students were eagerly awaiting the opening of the play in order to see their favorite actress in person. The success of her portrayal has captivated the audience with her dramatic performance and has been praised by many critics.

Today’s issue brings another example of how the entertainment industry can influence the sales of books. The movie version of a popular novel has helped to generate interest in the book, leading to increased sales.

What's behind the literary tidal wave? C. Lester Walker gives partial credit to an unexpected source—the movies. When such classics as The Odyssey are shown on the screen, the effect is felt in bookstores. The film version of some books, for instance, forced three book publishers to bring out new editions.

In the past, publishers have not always had control over the appearance of their works. However, with the advent of television, publishers have gained more control over the presentation of their books. The success of Pocket Books, a line of paperback books that are popular among young adults, is due in part to their attractive packaging and attractive covers. The success of Pocket Books has led to the development of other paperback lines, such as Ballantine Books, which also focuses on the young adult market.

However, there is a reason behind such a large growth in sales. In case of fire, it is necessary that the audience remember where to find the building in case of an emergency. What is likely to happen if the audience forgets the location of the building? They would be stranded in the streets, unable to find their way back to the building. Therefore, it is necessary to ensure that the audience remembers where to find the building.

What Do You Think?

February 24, 1958
To the Editor of the Gold Bug:

What are your thoughts on the current state of the American culture? Are people reading more books than ever before? What role do you think television and movies play in influencing people's reading habits? Do you think that the popularity of paper-covered books is due to the success of Pocket Books or to the increasing number of people who are reading books? What does this tell us about the state of the American culture?

"Just plain Bill" is about as far from the truth as you can get. "Lit-' tle" Willie (Smith) came to WMCo in 1954 as an athlete from the blossoming metropolis of St. Clairsville, Ohio. While in high school, "Sherry" played three years of football and was captain of both basketball and was captain of both teams in his senior year.

Here at WMCo Bill has been nothing but an asset to the athletic department besides carrying more than his share of positions in various campus organizations. Those of us who like to play sports occasionally, take heed. Bill has played football four years (captain senior year). In both sports he has played center and no wonder at six feet, four inches and 210 pounds. Thus, as if his arms weren't long enough, he threw the disc on the track team for four years. Acting as the "Dean-bug's" assistant, Bill has been the BIGGEST help the Dean has had in many a year.

Just to fill in his spare time Bill has been the Battalion Staff this year, "B" ball, or refereeing. Recent selections for All Laundry and Dry Cleaning

Student Union Building Construction Slated To Begin This Spring

I think we will be ready to begin construction on the Student Union Building this spring. It is our priority to complete this project. Dr. Brown expressed his satisfaction with the Progress of the Student Government Association.

The definite location of the building is on the west side of Science Hall and the road to Hoff Field, it is noted that the area will be used for the construction of the Student Union Building. The new building will be a multi-story structure with a combination of classrooms, offices, and meeting rooms. It will be located on the second level, which will be accessible from the outside.

The estimated cost of construction is $250,000. The college plans to begin construction as soon as the necessary permits are obtained and the funding is secured. The building will be completed in time for the fall semester of the upcoming academic year.

To the Editor of the Grille Bug:

As it has probably already come to your attention, a Judicial Board has recently been formed at Western Maryland College. In view of its importance and the very nature of the position it seeks to fill, I wish to call the attention of all students to the seriousness of this decision.

It has long been the desire of many students here to initiate on this campus a system of judicial body, which might eventually lead to the formation of a student judicial council, and for which, the present students are the most qualified, to see that the proper moral and responsibility in the area of academic student self-government is maintained.

When general attitudes and school traditions make it wise at present to consider a college changeover to an "honor system," this is an ideal towards which a mature and progressive student body must constantly strive. The foundation for a long-range, joint student-faculty effort to that direction has been laid in the newly-formed Judicial Board. The board consists of eight members, having equal standing and faculty representation. The students, who are elected by the SGA, must include one member of Maryland College to think very carefully about your selection and the size of your school.

Since it is impossible to enjoy the primary purpose for the multi- is to provide an atmosphere in which people are constantly slipping and sliding off the dining tables. How often do you see dancing from spot to spot. It is every desire? Day after day they themselves to dance at a dance? In this it has happened in the past, but it is not the future unless something is done about it. Is it the gymnastics solely for the benefit of the students, the 60s or the players? Will the student body expect that the kitchen staff is going to know that they will be hindered? That no one will ever no longer make them dizzy and spill the milk, coffee and water pitchers, all over the depth of the kitchen. Water must be cleaned up once it is spill. Would all you have to do is to, The soup kitchen and the kitchen again, serving you self from the pain and death of his on TV. So if you decide to curl

To the Editor of the Grille Bug;

I am writing to bring to the attention of the students the Freshman Scholarship Fund which was established last fall by the Delta Pi Alpha and the Grille Bug. Their purpose was to help the high school students who, even though they are physically and mentally sound, are unable to enjoy the world of sports. I hope that a similar program may be initiated for other intramural sports seasons.

I have some comments to make about the Negro GMC Rifle Team for its fine performance in its recent match at Shepherd with the University of Maryland on the last Saturday. I wish to express the compliments and the sincere thanks to those of you who defeated University of Maryland. It is very unfortunate that you could not have attended the games in Pennsylvania State, as the officials at the university of Pennsylvania State, have expressed the compliments and the sincere thanks to those of you who defeated University of Maryland. It is very unfortunate that you could not have attended the games in Pennsylvania State.

2. Considering the fact that the financial support of the Grille Bug has an enrollment of several thousand students, I would like to suggest that the students and the students of the university should support the Grille Bug. The students should be aware of the financial support of the Grille Bug for the university should support the Grille Bug.

Sports Personality by Dick Finnell

Last Saturday Western Mary- land won its first match of the season against the State Teachers College. The captain of the winning team was Brooks Euler. Following the match in the Mason-Dixon Wrestling tournament, Brooks Euler conducted a practice for the Western Maryland team, which was composed of freshmen and sophomores. The practice was held in the Blanche Ward Gym on February 13, the day before the tournament. Brooks Euler is one of the key figures in the team, and he has been working hard to improve the team's performance. He is looking forward to the upcoming season and hopes to lead the team to victory.

 Intramural Changers Finish In Upset

President was broken this year, as the new fraternity teams, the New Virginians and the Milwaukees, finished ahead of the Western Marylanders and the University of Maryland teams. The new teams have already begun training for the base- ball season, and they are expected to do well. The last team was composed of three members from each of the three universities.

The crowd cheers, the bat comes down, the ball sails into the stands—it's the start of the spring season. This familiar situation not only greets our Terror fans, but also the fans of all the other teams in the league.

The University of Maryland came from behind to win the Atlantic Coast Conference Championship. Congratulations to the Millians and their coach, Frank Hurt.

The second team was victorious, 38-30, over Notre Dame, where the first team lost, 84-75. The victory raised the team's morale and feels that with some improvement in the organization, it will be able to compete with the best teams in the league.

The new championships were set up between the various classes and the league provided much encouragement even though they have dropped their initial ex- ternal competition.

The next issue will carry a recap of the tournament.

College Women Vary Program As Sports Season Continues

Hockey, the favorite fall sport of most girls, began its first week in December when Western Maryland scheduled two games for Saturday and Sunday. The teams were composed of girls from all classes, and the girls were hampered last week with the junior varsity, who had just returned from the Southeastern conference of the AAU team.

From the intramural groups a first and second team were selected to participate in the tournament for intramural games. Playing Mount St. Joseph's and George Washington University, the Western Maryland team was defeated in their first game, 4-2. On February 22, both teams traveled to Notre Dame, where the first team lost, 45-35, while the second team was victorious, 39-29. The first team played St. Joe, on February 21, at Emmitsburg and lost once again 87-63.

On February 9, WMC played host to Villa Julia. After losing three games by very close scores, the first team stepped Villa Julia, 54-46. That night the girls Mount St. Mary's Teachers College at their home and defeated the team 10-4. The first team then proved again their ability defeating Mount St. Mary's again. They played the day's last 20 seconds of the fewest plays and 20 points in the last two games. The second team scored a decisive victory in their first game and had three times losses and two wins, the first team was declared the school champion.

The popularity of basketball was shown by the number of participants who attended the season— "a team chosen in the Freshman, Sophomore, and Senior classes." The freshman team will make up a "B," "C," and "D" team, A mixed group of girls from all classes, who had been hampered last week with the junior varsity. This is the first season the AAU team of the "A" team.

Playing Mount St. Joseph's and George Washington University, the Western Maryland team was defeated in their first game, 4-2. On February 22, both teams traveled to Notre Dame, where the first team lost, 45-35, while the second team was victorious, 39-29. The first team played St. Joe, on February 21, at Emmitsburg and lost once again 87-63.

On February 9, WMC played host to Villa Julia. After losing three games by very close scores, the first team stepped Villa Julia, 54-46. That night the girls Mount St. Mary's Teachers College at their home and defeated the team 10-4. The first team then proved again their ability defeating Mount St. Mary's again. They played the day's last 20 seconds of the fewest plays and 20 points in the last two games. The second team scored a decisive victory in their first game and had three times losses and two wins, the first team was declared the school champion.

The popularity of basketball was shown by the number of participants who attended the season— "a team chosen in the Freshman, Sophomore, and Senior classes." The freshman team will make up a "B," "C," and "D" team, A mixed group of girls from all classes, who had been hampered last week with the junior varsity. This is the first season the AAU team of the "A" team.

For the intramural groups a first and second team were selected to participate in the tournament for intramural games. Playing Mount St. Joseph's and George Washington University, the Western Maryland team was defeated in their first game, 4-2. On February 22, both teams traveled to Notre Dame, where the first team lost, 45-35, while the second team was victorious, 39-29. The first team played St. Joe, on February 21, at Emmitsburg and lost once again 87-63.
Endowments For WMC Country Club Announced

Western Maryland campus of 1985 now possesses a new four-story building and beautifully landscaped gardens to attract more students to the already well-furnished halls of learning. The present layout has been the result of an endowment by a group of philanthropic donors who have been expected to attract an unprecedented number of students.

The new recreational building of modern design is the chief feature of the new campus, complete with bar, redwood couch, bookcases, and a swimming pool to add to the new facilities. About this recreation hall centers the rest of the campus, the library, the recumbent dormitories, three large gymnasiums, three large football fields, an old Gothic administration building as a preserved monument of the colonial past, and the new science hall in which to eat, study, and relax. The layout has been the result of an endowment by a group of philanthropic donors who have been expected to attract an unprecedented number of students.

Almost Hall still stands as another preserved tradition of the past and has been recently renovated.

A large neon sign will adorn the recreation building advertising to students the presence of the bar. Big-screen color television will cost the student a cent, and drinks go for a minimum percentage of an hour, except that for a coffee a minimum percentage of an hour is charged.

The president of the student body was reelected by a barrage of atom bombs to begin in 1985 with a new, freer, and more enlightened campus. The completion of the units was regarded as excellent fuel for lovers of the truth, as the bees, my son, make honey.

The bees, my son, make honey. The dream which is no evolution in the science of mathematics is the acid test for the first part of this significant document. It appears to be the opinion of the trustees that evolution does not exist.

Preparedness In Heaven

(Adapted from Heavenly Discourses by Zane Trinkle, Scott West.)

God is standing upon the metaphor of celestial light overlooking space. He was a military universe—borders, and space.

If Satan should attack now we fear the result. The walls are in bad shape; we are not prepared. I must have a campaign of preparedness. Once fully prepared to resist attack I am confident that Satanic forces are insignificant. Hence:

Vigilance: But, maw, man, Dnaw, this is not poetry.

God: Never mind. What shall we do to make heaven prepared to face any enemy that we may happen to encounter? Defend. That's the idea. All wars are "do or die" wars.

Michael: Declare the universal draft. I am almost certain we won't stand prepared for this. Jesus has promised peace too long.

With us all things are possible. We must first give Him the task, and then with faith, power, and guidance, we can accomplish it.

Gabriel: In what way, Omnipotence?

Michael: God, take charge of the entire universe. If there is any criticism of complaint or resistance—pull them together, treat them alike. We need no objectors, no slackers. This is a purely voluntary enlistment.

Jesus: I will make it voluntary if I have to choke every angel of them.

Jennifer: Why, Father, you have on your scale Jehovah's hands and the great sword.

Jesus: For me! For such things! For me! Certainly, to kill your enemies. We are preparing for war, and when prepared we are going to have war if we have to make it ourselves.

Jesus: But I have no enemies.

Jennifer: Then you ought to have.

God: But I've said, "Love your enemies!"

Jesus: Yes, that's what you said but now I'll erase you. Your own solid

Michael: Look to your earthly disciples. The gods are not expected to have certain followers; the Christians, I say Christians, and Christian dogs.

Jesus: My God. My God, why hast Thou forsaken me?

God: I am confused. I say, "Love your enemies."

Jesus: Why, did I ever love your enemies?

God: I am confused.

Jesus: For me! For such things! For me!

Michael: You should reinforce your argument.

Jesus: But I have no enemies.

Jennifer: You ought to have.

God: But I've said, "Love your enemies!"

Jesus: Yes, that's what you said but now I'll erase you. Your own solid

Green Teams Expected To Top Nation

By Roland Price

Western Maryland College is not the "time-out" school as far as the football world is concerned. The Western Maryland Terrapins are being considered one of the top teams in the country and the college to change its policy was the nation's best. The nation's best, however, was not the Terrapins, but the good teams here soon proved that the college to change its policy was the nation's best.

The nation's best is the college of the 20,000 seats. That's the best team, and the college of the 20,000 seats that are filled is the college with the Terrapins. Get twenty seconds for each team; that's the way the college of the 20,000 seats has been playing for twenty years. Now, they're playing their fourth game this season, and they're still playing the same way.

Bishop O'Niall Will Speak At Chapel Dedication

Choir To Give Special Music At Dedication

The dedication of the new Baker Memorial Chapel, on Sunday, April 15, at 3:00 p.m. will be attended by Baptist Bishop of Washington, deliv- ering the address.

Chairman of the Board of Trustees, C. Murray Benson, will preside over the dedication in the presence of a large audience, including a procession of trustees, faculty, and members of the senior class. Dr. Fred G. Holloway, for- merly president of the Western Mary- land College and now serving as president of the University of Tennessee, has also been invited to the dedication.

The choir, under the direction of Professor Alfred Stangle, is planning some special events such as Handel's Messiah. "Brakelike," Leavitt- Laura, and other appropriate programs will be presented. The Student Christian Association will take part in the service also.

Fullbright Awarded To Winifred Walsh

Winifred Walsh's scholarship for 1958-59, which has been awarded to Winifred Walsh, a student at Western Maryland College. This scholar- ship will enable her to study in Europe and the United States. She is a member of the Baltimore French literature society and has been active in various other service organizations on campus.

JUDICIAL BOARD

The Judicial Board has recently found a student guilty of breach of the code of personal conduct. The penalty was an administrative warning.

“Preferred Formal” Evokes Images Of Breechcloth And Turbans

Perhaps the last few days you have seen three gentle men strolling at your various bulletin boards advertising the annual SGA event, and you wondered what lies a mean hour. For the past few days, the Judicial Board has been contemplating the question of what does “Preferred Formal” mean for you?

Several students have approached the board expressing their desire to know the identity of the speaker as it has been in previous years until Dr. Robert E. Nesbitt assumes his office. The name is a typical example of the college faculty. Last year Dr. Robert E. Nesbitt delivered the message. This service officially recognizes the graduation of this year’s seniors class with each of the other classes meeting one up in rank. The evening preceding this cere- mony, the senior girls in both classes will be given a chance to dress up and be photographed. The seniors will take an active part in the chapel dedication for the day before dedication.

Spicer To Head SCA Cabinet

Election of SCA officers for 1958-59 was held on April 11 in connection with the SCA program. Following the organization for the coming year will be Allen Spicer and estarried as vice-president will be William Conley, both juniors. The student body president will be elected by the membership of the student body, and the festive programme will be planned by the campus Fulbright Committee.

Active in Clubs

Winifred Walsh’s membership in various clubs and her activities include being a member of the Future Teachers of America, the Fresh- man Advisory Council, the Argonauts, for the past two years, and being a member of the Delta Chi fraternity.

Triumphant Progress

The college has been making steady progress in all areas of its operations. Changes are part of the foreign policies and the college is being encouraged by the Treasury of the United States and the State Department to continue its efforts.

Attire Reflects Your Campus

What sets the standards for dress on our campus? Not the administration! Not the faculty! You're right—it is you! Despite the various regulations for the conduct of campus life, the educational institution is primarily responsible for establishing their own standards of dress. How does dress on our campus compare with dress on other campuses? The standards for dress vary greatly, depending on the type of school and the location. However, we should be above par. Not only does poor dressing reflect a lack of concern for the comfort of those around us and the reputation of the university, we diffuse ourselves in the eyes of the college community considered as well as friends and associates. Each of us should strive to be well dressed or at least semidressed, one doesn't have to spend a fortune on a new wardrobe, schools are always offering the correct attire at the right time and place. There are two rules: First, when certain modes of dress should be observed and accepted. Certainly, too shirts should be observed and accepted and even to classes. The same applies to shorts and shoes. On the other hand, the rule that no one should be shut out on the campus during the afternoon—especially through the spring—should be observed and accepted. But yet if this were permissible, undoubtedly some would carry the day.

What would be the serious objection to shirts and ties for at least the men? The staffs of the administrative offices, the military schools, and the boys willingly follow this suggestion. Where does the difference in attitude lie between the students at these schools and students on our campus? At least one formal dance per year is in order at Western Maryland College. There are very few colleges or universities existing today that do not have at least one formal dance during the year. Yet, we have none. Well, apparently our students are of the type which do not appreciate this kind of occasion. If this is true, the situation is probably here to stay. May I suggest that this is one thing we are endeavoring to make it a formal function. Let's try to make their efforts, don't let us discourage them but let us encourage them to wear a dinner jacket but don't force it. The girls will be forced to wear it.

How can we actually improve our current campus dress? The editor wishes to call the attention of all interested persons to the importance of getting the world's attention to the fact that we have a very good college here in the Art Room during the past several days is by far a world's

Men's Fashions Have Forward Look

For '58

Whether backstraps should stay or go or... continues to be a big topic of discussion in the world of men's fashions. However, the Ivy look is here for the spring, sum-

All sorts of combinations of dark traditional blue or gray, through the numerous shades of grays and whites, to the relatively new olive

COLLEGE BARBER
Oldtimers Return To Hill
To Hold Fiftieth Reunion

This spring Mrs. Nina Vanle's Class of 1908 will celebrate its fiftieth reunion. Her classmates will be guests at the college during the event, and will find themselves quite in the minority. One of the high points will be the Alumni Dinner at which the Class of 1908 will be the guests of honor. Each class will in turn rise and give their class yell, many of which are in German, Pennsylvania Dutch, or modern slang. It is customary of having a class yell was abandoned after the class of 30.

The president of this class will be at the festivities also. He is Walter E. Short of Trenton, New Jersey, who recently retired as Executive Secretary of the New Jersey Chapter of the National Scholastic Athletic Association. To quote an article by Ed Dorfman in the New York newspaper, "The history of the Association is virtually the history of schoolboy sports as they are known today. Synonymously in that thirty-nine-year era Walter E. Short has been the Association's only secretary."

Mrs. Vanle is happily looking forward to commencement week when she will see many of her old classmates. She finds it amusing to compare the freedom of the students here today with the restrictions caused by World War II. Days. Then, she said, entries wore their caps and gowns until the streets downtown. There were propositions to have a fashion show, and there was a "lighting off" at 9:00 pm. There had been a war at home since 1942. Thus she had a good chance to note the contrast. But at the reunion Mrs. Vanle will be sure to say as she did to this reporter, "If you couldn't get continual amusement from the situations the girls get themselves into, I couldn't bear to live with them."

It was sad...

when that great ship went down and the last thing to leave the sinking ship was a bottle of Coca-Cola. That's because all hell breaks loose when Coke and Coca-Cola come to the pop culture's popularity. That's the kind of loyalty the sparkling lift, the good taste of Coke engenders. Man the lifeboats, have a Coke!

Soviet Expert To Speak On Russian Foreign Policy

"Marxist build of Soviet foreign policy prior to World War II" is expected to be the topic of Dr. Alexander Dahlin, on Monday, April 21. At a Russian Hall lecture. It is also expected that Dr. Dahlin will continue his recent visit, which was during the summer of 1957, to the Soviet Union with a discussion on the prospects of changes in modern Russia.

Dr. Dahlin, who was just recently promised an Associate Professorship of International Relations by the Russian Institute of Columbia University in New York, is the father of Dr. Dahlin (David Dahlin), who is known in Russia for his views on the Soviet Republic since the revolution of 1917. After leaving the USRE, Dr. Dahlin has written numerous books on the Soviet Republic. Many of his works may be found in the Western Maryland library.

Dr. Dahlin, himself, is an author. As last year's first book, "Green State in Exodus, 1917-1947," was published.

Receiving his doctor's degree in 1943 from Columbia University, Dr. Dahlin has served in the past years as associate director of the Research Program on USSR (sponsored by the Ford Foundation), 1951-54; director of research of War Documentation Projects in Washington, 1954-55; and since 1956, has been at his alma mater in the Russian Institute.

He offers no study in Russia, the administration has had the University of Maryland on his sights since the importance of the nation of Russia might be had by the Western Maryland student.

Following his lecture, Dr. Dahlin will be the principal speaker at a luncheon. The luncheon will include senior students, only, selecte

There's an important future ahead for the men who wear these wings

The Air Force pilot or navigator is a man of vast experience in the mastery of the air—and no finer exists. In addition, he has, through intensive training, acquired the ability to operate accurately, to navigate and adjust and control an instrument panel with unequaled flexibility and self-reliance. He is, in short, a man eminently prepared for an important career in the new Age of Space.

As a college graduate, you will be given priority consideration for the Air Force Cadet Program. While openings are limited, you will be tested and advised according to your qualifications. Find out if you are qualified. Paste the attached coupon on a post card and mail it now.

The Western Maryland Terrors Tuesday completed their first post-season tour of the Baltimore area with a 5-2 non-league contest over G'town. Head Coach Pat Pugh led the Western Maryland team to victory by scoring three runs in the first inning and adding two more in the tenth.

Coach Pugh's team, which is currently at the head of the standings, has won two of its last three games. The team has a record of 18-8 for the season and is well on its way to clinching the non-league title.

The Terrors are scheduled to play their next home game on May 14th against the Norfolk Trenchers. The game is expected to be a close one, with both teams vying for the top spot in the standings.

Although the Western Maryland Terrors have been the dominant team in the non-league competition this season, the Terriers are not taking anything for granted. They know that they still have work to do and that every game is important.

The team's next home game will be against the Norfolk Trenchers, who are currently in second place. The Terrors will need to play their best if they want to keep their lead in the standings.

In other non-league action, the Eastern Shore Terrors defeated the Washington Senators 5-2. The Terrors scored two runs in the first inning and added three more in the eighth. The team's next home game will be against the Western Maryland Terrors on May 15th.

The Terrors are currently at the head of the standings, with a record of 18-8. They will need to win both of their upcoming games if they want to maintain their lead in the non-league competition.

Survey Of Dorm Cleaning 101; Two Views Remain Dominant

by Robert Bord

No doubt feeling quite a bit like a duck out of water, the pride of a few of his twelve tasks, a group of freshmen women will conduct a survey of WMCC dorm cleaning habits of those freshmen women who have been in residence class of 1961 return from their spring vacation. Among the questions are: How many times have you been in the halls? After a few days, students were asked to grade their dorm's cleanliness. They were asked to rate their dorm's cleanliness based on five-point scale. The results showed a wide variation in cleanliness level among the dorms.

The general consensus of opinion seems to be that the dorms are not as clean as they should be. Many students feel that the cleaning crew does not do a thorough job. Some students have suggested that the dorms should be closed and cleaned on a regular basis.

One observant girl saw South Hall being cleaned and remarked, "I don't think I'd go out of the woods, but to paint a picture, another one noticed, "He has a definite prejudice against the opposite sex." Most students agreed that the dorms were usually unaccompanied by a group of self-appointed janitors. The only thing that is visible and concrete is the act of cleaning.

Ladies were expressing concerning the WMC dorm, which the masculine side of the campus lives. It seems to be twofold, that the after

High On The Hill
Sports And Arts Led By Anderson & Gunderson

by Donald Latzo

If you are looking for Jack Anderson, it might take awhile because he may be any number of places.

On Tuesday nights you will find him in the Gattonshima discotheque. Jack joined the fraternity in his sophomore year and has held the title of chapter president for the past three years. When he is not present, he is president of the club.

"The point is, you never know when you are going to have time for you when you get back home. He's always looking for a good time. He has been known to get the golf bag, and if practice makes perfect, none of us will be able to defeat him."

So, for such a law-abiding executive of our ROTC initiation and president of the Reserve Officers' Association, he may be working on some military affairs.

Participation in such activities as well as musical, fraternal, and family life is considered essential for Jack's success.

With all these activities, Jack has maintained a "B average," for despite what his friends may say, he does crack a book once in a while. He, however, will not rule in his senior year.

A twist was added in 1931 which forever changed, even the 1958 May Day Dance.

In past years WMC has been fortunate enough to have such bands as the Ed sarcastic and Call-Mary in 1940, and Glenn Miller and his Orchestra in 1950. This year the price was $1.50 and many students were skeptical but a change from the traditional form of entertainment was appreciated and no one was interested. 1958 is again proving to be a year for change.

In post World Wars this was true but with the coming of the Korean War, the announcement of the queen's selections, where the May Queen and her court weren't known until just before the coronations. They were given coronations at the last minute.

By this time, Jack participates in advanced ROTC, French Club, and tennis at the present time, but then forgotten. The "queen" came next, drawn in line were the "Plorndora Girls" and "Ponteria Girls" and "Flower Girls" headed by the queen's chosen maidservant the "cinderellas." This year there were picnics after the May Dance, was informal. 1958 is again presenting something new.

In addition to being a member of Alpha Gamma, a freshman, he can be easily recognized by his smiling face and friendly disposition which is typical of his character. Those of us who have spent time with him are sure why he is "high on the hill."

Terror Nine Will Oppose H-S In Md. Conference Tilt

Tomorrow's big May Day game against Hampden-Sydney will get under way in time for pm. Rival teams will appoach the proceedings.

Since the last host of the Golden Quills, the WMC baseball team has engaged in five contests, losing four and winning one. The losses were at the hands of Ursinus (14-9), Rutgers of New Joersey (15-4), Loyola (15-4), and Washington College. The Quills will take on the Johns Hopkins on Saturday, April 26, the Terrers outting their findings in a game with an improveo 6-2 win over St. Mary's.

Clark Kirkman got the win, his first since the murder of Bob Sconfi. Schoel pitched well until the fifth frame, when the "Mountaineers" got to him for three hits and two walks, which were good for three runs. Up until he weakened in the fifth, Bob had only given up four hits and no runs in the time he worked. Kirkman came on in the fifth to put out the fire, and pitched the remainder of the game, giving up one run and only two hits in the process.

At St. Mary's, Barone "Gibby" Padgett hit a two home run and Bill Smart hit a single. Chandler continued their fine hitting as each had two hits, while Schmid pitched well into the eighth inning. After Fred Stover had hit a single and Bill Smart singled, and then both players were safe, with both runners bases. The Terrers hold this 2-0 lead as they went to bat in the ninth inning. The WMC came back with three runs of their own in the bottom of the ninth inning. We picked up our third in the tenth, and Bob Sconfi and Joe Bach hit a couple, and Al Riedel hit a single and then swiped second base. Chandler drew some of the hard contact from the Western Maryland baseball team.

SPINNING THE SPORTS GLOBE

The1958spring track season is big as popular as the baseball bat on those spring afternoons. The new way to get a run and exercise is for the legs to do the work. If you do this you will have plenty of company. It is certainly apparent that there is a great deal of enthusiasm for the sport this season. I realize that this trend started by the fall for this year, but if we are to have a team in the near future it should be a great success. It seems that only one great of any successful team. Should we let this enthusiasm go untrapped? Let's hope it doesn't.

Season Ends

At last Friday the pigskin is again dormant on WMC's campus. For four weeks there were the familiar faces of the sport. We continued to keep an eye on the goings and comings of the college football team. The spring football season has ended, with six games played. The game against Mary Washington was the only home game of the season. The Vipers defeated the Eagles 6-2. The game against the Eastern Mennonite was the only away game of the season. The Vipers defeated the Eagles 6-2.

The victory was not easily gained, for six of the nine games had to be called because of rain. The Wash-

The Orioles should buy a big "Welcome" sign when they entertain Jesuit University in order to possibly a "Tawke Go Home" sign. The game should be a good investment, also.

The Brooklyn Dodgers are on the move again this year and are getting an easy start for the pennant.

If the Caps are to be in the dark, how this season, they will have to start their play soon. What they really need is another Musial, but then, don't everywone except a few of the very few who could really appreciate a "stick."

On the local scene maybe the Terror play would improve if someone would remove a few of the trees and level off a few of the larger ditches in the infield.

Dramatic Art Students To Present Play, The Crucible

The commencement play, The Crucible by Arthur Miller, will be presented by the Dramatic Art Department on Friday evening, May 23, at 8:30 p.m. in the Auditorium. The program will be directed by Miss Esther Smith.

A major award, the Minnie E. Johnson Award, was conferred by the Minnie E. Johnson Award Committee in a meeting last week. The recipient was Miss Nancy Whiteman, the advisor.

Set Design and Depiction of the setting of the play was directed by Miss Nancy Whiteman, the advisor.

The Crucible is a play written by Arthur Miller, first produced in 1953. It is a historical drama based on the Salem witch trials of the 1690s. The play explores themes of guilt, innocence, and the dangers of mob mentality.

Presented Play, of the year, and shared the Donaldson award with Inge's Picnic. The play was at large in Salem and various Nixon, Thomas, the New York Drama Critics Circle as the best play of the eighteenth century.

"The people of my play have the Religious significance.

Pleasantly surprised by the audience's response to the play, Miss Whiteman said, "It is a heroic play. It is a play that brings out the best in human beings."

However, this play is broader than that. It is a play that deals with the sexual and religious repression of the time. It is a play that shows how people can be swept up in a mob mentality and how they can destroy each other.

It is a play that shows how people can be swept up in a mob mentality and how they can destroy each other.

It is a play that shows how people can be swept up in a mob mentality and how they can destroy each other.

But it is also a play that shows how people can rise above their fears and work together to overcome their problems. It is a play that shows how people can find strength in each other and how they can work together to achieve their goals.

Editor's Message To The Class Of 1958

May 13, 1958

To the members of the SGA cabinet:

As you are well aware, students like you are the backbone of our school. You are the ones who make that campus come alive each and every day. So long as you use your voices, the administration will do its best to make sure your voices are heard.

Seniors Plan For Future

After four years of continually interrupted relaxation and enjoyment by members of the senior class, the actual end of the year is now fast approaching. The last important step in their new lives will have to be made. The choices will be simple but will be great. Graduation means the end of one phase of their life and the beginning of another. Rather, it is a dynamic process that changes you whether you realize it or not. In the eb and flow of life's often, ever, but certainly, tide.

The senior class is often referred to by popular publications as "a generation of notetakers" or "the silent generation." To this you can answer justifiably, "So what?" Silence is an indication that one does not have anything to say or that one is too غير حسن or despondent to express oneself. Silence can be and is indicative of thoughtfulness and fulfillment. It is not the end of learning or the end of one's methods of learning! And from this knowledge can we not see the mistakes of the past and how to learn from them in the future? After all, your generation is not infallible and will make mistakes as previous generations have. The point is that you are not blindly egotistic. You know your limitations and the pitfalls of life. If you make mistakes, you will, it will be because you are, after all, human, and not atomic-age robots as some seem to want you to be.

Mostly basic of you in your approach to the "wide wide world." It is impossible to rectify the world's problems in our lifetime, you have tried and you have seen it. It is equally impossible to erase the blots of history by erasing the past. You know that. Rather, you should try to do is to think thoroughly and move, perhaps slowly but surely, toward what is desirable and what will be a better life for a collateral students are earning.

Sincerely yours,

Chairman of the SGA

We're Hungry

May 15, 1958

To the Editor:

We're not only hungry! Another terrible problem of the past three weeks when we had no time at all. For example, after we had a period of 10 p.m. to 12 midnight, our bellies were empty. We have a need to share our feelings at the same time. We have been hungry and lonely. We don't want to be alone. We have been hungrier than ever before, we have been lonely before, but now we have a need to share our feelings at the same time. We have been hungry and lonely. We don't want to be alone. We have been lonely before, but now we have a need to share our feelings at the same time.

Sincerely yours,

Class of 1959

Editor's Note: Although the last meeting of the spring semester still was not attended by many of the students, we feel that the administration still misses the boat. The SGA cabinet should be more open and ready to meet the desires of all of the students. The students are in the majority, and the administration should always be open to offer suggestions and to listen to the needs of the students.

Meat Mess

May 13, 1958

The idea that the students' dining hall must be a meat mecca, we are not familiar with the idea. Meat has been served in previous years and continues in the dining hall do not mean that the students' dining hall will see a meat mecca. Maryland College will witness a meat mecca only if the students themselves want one. We are in the majority and we don't want a meat mecca. We have been few attempts made to look into the inequalities of the dining hall to meet the students' satisfaction, but they have been halted by the administration for the sake of success. As is a choice saying of the students' enrollment, if they can't eat what they want to eat, they are not going to be prevented by the administration.

Sincerely yours,

Chairman of the SGA

Editor's Note: This is a very important issue at the moment. The students need to be aware of the importance of their voices and their actions. The administration should always be open to offer suggestions and to listen to the needs of the students.

Sincerely yours,

Class of 1959

Chit Chat From KitKat

You say you can't sleep, you hear bells ringing in your ears, and it disturbs your powers of concentration. Don't bother seeing your doctor; they will just about kill you. You should at least get your old chapel bell chiming the quarter hour. Why not sure whether the Duke's electric bells on our church bells are in working order and they have been taken to the one who has made them. In the Nov. 29, 1949 issue, nine of ten were printed. We have had the afternoon paper printed, and we have been presented with the last meeting of the course. The results of the last meeting of the course are very promising, and we may anticipate a visitor soon.

Sincerely yours,

Helen Howery

Prof. Key Called Three Times By Spring Concert Audience

On May 9, 1958, the Spring Concert of the Western Maryland College Concert Band was held under the able direction of Mr. Donald R. Key. The program was well planned with both contrast and capability being considered.

First on the program was a Sonata for Two Flutes and Two Proverbs by John Klais. Four clarinets then blended in another special arrangement by Fum Carson, entitled Piccolo Frosty, Quiddling of 4 Chierotones. The fast full hand played the Second Suite of Pic for Military Band, Op. et. No. 5, by Graen Hunting. The blending and the full and solid music of the brass had never sounded better. This was also true in Voice of York by John J. Marmorese, a Fantasy Spanish March, Ampprisec by James Treichler added the final burst of color which, too, ass- nated the concert. This small but enthusiastic audience applauded until Mr. Key had appeared for their final call. Those who were unable to attend this concert missed—indeed a very enjoyable evening.

Successful WMC Professor Builds Westminster Life

Listen, North Dakota... Montana... Minneapolis, Minnesota... Kentucky... Madison, New Jersey... Westminster, Maryland... all these make up the geographical lifetime of a friendly WMC "friend." Being born in Logan, our personality, at the age of two, moved to Montana. Minne- sota saw his high school days, and in Kentucky he attended As- bury College.

At Drew Seminary he changed his vocational ideas from minister- ial work to teaching. There he received both his B.D. and Ph.D. degrees. For a while he had the circuit charge of four Methodist Churches in the Northern Confer- ence. At one of these he met his present wife who was the daughter of a minister whom he was assist- ing. After a year a traveling fellowship and another as minister, he came to WMC in 1949.

Here he serves on the Adminis- tration Committee, the Curriculum Evaluation Committee, is also the president of the local chapter of the American Associa- tion of University Professors. This professor has written book reviews for the Journal of Bible and Religion. Concerning the re- ligious curricular requirement, he says that every educated person should be familiar with the He- brose-Christian tradition which is the dominant faith of the West. His favorite field of study is "Chances of Christian Thought."

Fullbright News

Students who might be in- terested in applying for Ful- bright Awards for study abroad should talk with Dr. William E. Ridington, the campus Fulbright adviser, before leaving the campus for the summer. The appli- cation forms require consid- erable thought and attention, and it is desirable to plan for them during the summer. They must be completed about a month after the opening of college in the fall. The awards are sufficient to cover all expenses, includ- ing travel, for an academic year. Approximately 500 awards were made for the current year.

Western Maryland’s tennis team ended its season on a winning note by defeating American University, 8-1.
