College Landmark Razed

The second Student Leadership Conference was held on September 20 through 21. The theme of the annual fall conference was "Adventures in Leadership." For this year, every major campus organization congregated together to begin a new year at Western Maryland College, and students held new ideas for the coming academic year. The speaker, Mr. M. Albert Figlinski, was a fine architectural specimen. He was a former president of the college. For some students, the event was an excellent learning experience. For others, it was a fantastic opportunity to meet new friends and discuss the future of their organizations.

The conference schedule began with a dedication of the landmark building attended by the leaders and the majority of the school community. It was followed by a keynote address on Leadership. The speaker, Mr. M. Albert Figlinski, was a former president of the college. For some students, the event was an excellent learning experience. For others, it was a fantastic opportunity to meet new friends and discuss the future of their organizations.

Three's a Crowd

The beautiful and uncrowded campus of Western Maryland College today opens its doors to a record enrollment of incoming freshmen. This has been indeed a turbulent year for the college and this is a great day for the Grads who have been great students since they first received their charters.

As is expected, enrollments at the College has increased since 1960.

CONTOE CENTRAL

All Present

Western Maryland College is a first rate school! This was the feeling of all present who were gathered at the Western Maryland College Human Relations Center on the Monday night session of the Student Life Conference.

At the September 29th session of the Student Life Conference two panelists, a native of the Western Maryland College area and a native of the Baltimore area, were used by the panel as a framework for our discussion.

Both panelists seemed to be aware of our existence and were willing to discuss the problems of the college.

In their minds the college is being made. Any person attending classes at the college had to be aware of his existence and was willing to discuss the problems of the college.

Her purpose there was to learn more about the history and culture of England. She spent a week studying Shakespeare's plays and visited various landmarks and historical sites.

Recently three Western Maryland College students attended the Central Atlantic Area Leadership Conference for college and university presidents in Baltimore, Maryland. The conference was held on Tuesday and Thursday, October 15. The purpose of the conference was to discuss current issues facing higher education in the United States, and to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas and best practices among college presidents.

Fullbright Awards Still Available

As Western Maryland College opens the doors for the ninety-third year as a small private liberal arts college offering a liberal arts education, students are expected to fill the dormitories and classrooms. Of this total number, new students registering during the fall semester, 219, are full-time resident students, while 52 are transfer students.

Russian Offered During Fall Term

Western Maryland College offers Russian to the student of evening courses to be offered at the college and will partake in the teaching of this subject and physics courses being offered on television, Dr. Joseph R. Bailey, Director of the Graduate Studies and Research, announced.

The courses will be offered on Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 302. The final examination will be held on Tuesday, September 28. Participation may result in loss of course credits.

Teaching the course will be Mrs. Madeline Long of Owings Mills, Mrs. Long, who was born in Lebanon, Georgia, has studied Russian fluently. She has a degree from the University of Prague, studied at the University of Connecticut, and has a certificate in Russian studies.

She came to this country as a war bride in 1940 and has been teaching Russian for the past ten years.

The chemistry course which is being offered is a continuation of the work done last year's offering, is led by Dr. John F. Baxter, professor of chemistry at the University of Maryland. The physics course, a second offering, is taught by Dr. Harvey E. White, professor of physics at the University of Maryland. The course is being taught by Dr. John F. Baxter, professor of chemistry at the University of Maryland.

Text books and other materials are available at the college. The first examination will be held on Tuesday, October 12.

Fall Athletic Outlook Appears Promising

The Western Maryland College soccer team faces what may prove to be their toughest season in many years. Head coach Dennis Harmon is new to the team, and the squad must dig themselves out of a serious of material, thus giving the opposition a stiff battle for the league championship.

November

Harmon Is Coach

Returning to his alma mater to guide the fortunes of the team is Coach Dennis Harmon. Coach Harmon directed the soccer team for three years and was selected as the All-American Soccer Squad twice. He is replacing his former coach, Philip R. Uhrig.

The Terror soccer squad features veterans at every position along with the only noticeable lack being the loss of star center halfback Bruce Lee. Possessing their best line in several seasons, the team should be fast and accurate. Let our traditional Govt. Varga, a stellar soccer player, the line consists of Karl Ellis, Bob Cole, Ron Hill, and another Hungarian, Lajos Zabritski. Lajos has many years of soccer experience behind him.

A veteran hardkicked features numerous midfield subs that will maintain the squad's scoring.

Will We Get Out?

This question has appeared many times in the history of our country. Men have been the victims of a war that was fought to save their homes and fields. It has been heard from generation to generation as a warning against the pitfall of war camps. In short, not to mention the fear of a war, the very story of the world has echoed these words: "What will we do?"

And the question is asked of me:

"Why such a title for a college edition?"

And the answer is obvious:

It is both expected and justified. To be a success, the title must be broad and certainly Western Maryland is not confined to the college. Probably the only time such a plan is successful is when it is of such long lasting or assembly program. Why, there are many aspects of the world environment such as this.

In the following weeks, fraternity men will be in high gear as the competition is sensed in the shrinking distance between the student and the stores. The time has come when we are faced with the decision of remaining students or leaving for the next two or three years. The decision is one you will be living with for the rest of your life. If you are a member of the class of 1961, you are on the verge of making that important decision.

I have been faced with the decision of remaining students or leaving for the next two or three years. The decision is one you will be living with for the rest of your life. If you are a member of the class of 1961, you are on the verge of making that important decision.

Sidelights . . . . By John Weagly

The Terrors Are Winning

Even though we shake our heads, pitch ourselves, and may even dress ourselves in the hollows for the occasion. For the fact is, the 1959 Terrors of the Western Maryland College soccer team have rewritten the fine soccer game on Saturday, this occasion was apparent. The squad is blessed with brains as well as brawn—no mean feat. At times it was difficult in ball whether the first or second team was in the game. They are all so skilled in strength, both offensively and defensively. The second team in particular displayed an ability to move the ball under the opposing pressure and get it to the players in the right positions. The team possesses three Mackenzie of approximately equal ability to be the backbone of such a team. Bob Kottb, John H. and Charlie Walshe. None of these boys are the explosive type offensive player, but all are capable ball carriers, runners, and passers.

The defense appears to be the key to the success of this season's Tomsfeld football team. Their skill in ball the opposition's scoring to a minimum will be of primary importance this season. This is because their offensive unit, although strong, does not feature the explosiveness necessary for high scoring games. This means that the games this season will in all probability resemble those very low key kind.

Let's Get Those Bloomers Back on the Field

Girls' Hockey is a very fine spectator sport.

Girls' intramural hockey has been dropped for this fall. The reasons given for this move are lack of an instructor and most important, lack of a field. The former is not a constant in most places. The latter, on the Western Maryland campus. Such sports do a great deal for the college as a whole. But what about the field?

Academic Costume—Its Symbolism On Campus

On several occasions during each scholastic year, academic costumes, robes, caps, and hoods are worn by the students. Freshmen saw this for the first time last fall when President Whitfield first personified the institution. Commencement this year is also another opportunity to observe the significance that the costumes with their accessories have in a constant manner.

Wearing of gowns began in the Middle Ages, in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries. The students of Cambridge University in Eng- land, the oldest college in the United States, were born by all students. With them, however, the wearing of gowns has only been practiced in recent years. Under it, gowns are typical with the wife that is to be represented and the colors of the college at which the wearer is to be found.

To begin with, there is the Bache- lor's gown. This is made of a semi-stiff yoke and shirring across the shoulder line and back. There are two long crimson strips which the degree was earned. For other academic costumes, he is a terror to the "Terrors." This past week the nation and every American was reminded by the death of one of America's most typical of the Western Marylanders, General George C. Marshall. The nation was filled with incidents that illustrated the character of General George C. Marshall. The nation was filled with incidents that illustrated the character of General George C. Marshall. The nation was filled with incidents that illustrated the character of General George C. Marshall.

When academic costumes came into the United States in the nineteenth century, it was decided that the men who graduated from college should represent the country and England. In 1800, this code was made a part of the American system. Under it, gowns are typical with the wife that is to be represented and the colors of the college at which the wearer is to be found.

SOVIET SPEAKED DESIGNED SUCCESS

The article which appears above was written by William M. David, Dean of Western College men. Dean David expressed his desire to comment on the address of Mr. Harry Norton, feeling that some thoughtful facts were omitted but have attracted the attention of Russia in recent years. The Dean also points out which the college curriculum is geared towards a better understanding and insight of the Soviet Union and its people.

The number of people who have been there are few and far between. Perhaps there are one or two thoughts which might be added as a follow-up to what Mr. Norton said. He described Mr. Khrushchev as a dangerous man because he is ruthless yet disarming. He describes also how he has at his disposal immense and technical advanced weapons. While it is undoubtedly true that the Russian standard of living is low compared to ours, it is also true that the Russians have managed to produce a not very shabby piece of equipment in the movies, and that they have accomplished the even more difficult feat of sending a satellite to the far side of the moon. The most recent reports suggest that they have succeeded on several occasions in sending days long trips in space and bringing them back unharmed.

Many of these Soviet Union have been able to accomplish this by their development of a high proportion of their skills and resources devoted to military purposes. Literally fruitful achievements have been made in the latter part of the Russian and satellite people. When the attempt at an evaluation of Soviet success, capitalists, we might make ourselves aware of the standard of living of the Russian people in the world affairs, only as the people became more of a meeting of their heads. There were times in the past, for instance, under the guidance of the Peter the Great, when the Russian people got tired of the minds of the government and have left it.

For those of us who are interested in the recent times that the Soviet Union and its way of life might point out some factors on the course it will have to undertake in its meetings. The Russian language being this year in one of the most obvious examples. Economic, "Comparative Economic Systems," concern itself at least half the time in the Soviet Union and Social Economics: Political Science 104, "World Political and Political Science 306, "Far Eastern Relations," plan to be covered in all times. Political Science 506, Comparative Government, will concern itself in great detail the organization and operation of the government of the USSR. In the Political Science Department, 248, "Military Philosophy, Modern" touches on the development and contact of the socialist, and 323, "Social Philosophy," develops a system of emphasis to communist and socialist ideology.

There are plans underway for a series of lectures on the history of Russia, which, if carried out, will take us back to the spring or a fall term. If members of the student body have ideas of what would be particularly good

Methodist Church Collaborates With College On Tentative Plans For Western Maryland Library Site

Although the exact site has not been decided, tentative plans are being made for the construction of the new college library. Through the means of present plans and the work of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church, approximately $70,000 is available for the new building.

The library will be of modular construction, whereby the weight of the building will be supported by columns and not by the dividing walls. The walls or partitions will be movable in order to enable the library staff to change the arrangement and size of the rooms as necessary.

Though still in the process of being planned, the library will possibly have listening rooms with records of not only music, but also language and literature. There will be group study rooms, a general purpose room, and several lounge areas throughout the building. Individual tables will be used in the study areas.

In order to plan a functional building for the students and the other libraries, an observed and good characteristics were noted. Faculty members were asked to submit suggestions to the planning committee which includes Miss Elizabeth Stillings, Dr. James Earp and Dr. Theodore Whifford. If any students have any suggestions, they can also submit them to the committee members.

Attention Students!

Students interested in getting information about the Vocational Guidance Service offered by the college may make appointments with Mr. Baltimore in room 301, Memorial Hall. The service consists of personal interviews and tours designed to help students discover which areas of study or employment may fit their interests and abilities best.

Super Sub!

It's been said that the atomic submarine "Narval" sails uncharged so that only skilled men can operate the control. Perhaps for this reason, the Navy has taken valuable space aboard the "Narval" for the all-submarine vending machines in the entire submarine fleet.

Naturally (or you wouldn't hear about it from us) it's a Coca-Cola machine and not unexpectedly, re-enrollments are quite respectable.

Rugged box, those submariners. Great drink, Cobol.

Terror’s Rally To Gain Important Victory

After a total of nine games, the intramural champions, Delta Phi Alpha in goal, defeated both Alpha Gamma Tau and Delta Phi Alpha in a shootout at the Hoffman Gymnasium, each of whom tallied one bob. Bob Cole also scored for the winning squad, but two of the original Alpha Gamma Tau and three of the original Delta Phi Alpha goals were never headed. With a halftime lead of 4 to 0 the game was completely outplayed a highly aggressive and rough line play, the Terrors and Washington College battled to a scoreless, double-overtime deadlock. Play at times became heated as both units fought for the Northern Division M-D Conference lead. Brilliant stops by a score of 8 to 3. Scoring two goals, three of which were against George was played to win and two losses. Al Stewart accounted for the remaining gold score. The try for extra point was accounted for the remaining gold score. The try for extra point was also fumbled on the fifty yard line.

The Terrors kept alive until winning streak last Saturday when they defeated the Western Maryland team, 14-0, in the first game of the year. This was an off-field battle of the most primitive kind, but the Terrors had the advantage. The Gold and Green was eventually able to break the first slump of the season and roll on to third victory of the season.

The Terrors bared their Fangs and convincingly defeated their foe for the second consecutive week when they scored back to back TDs. Ben, Enzo, Hersh and John Memphie received the opening kickoff and returned the ball to the Terrors’ 25 yard line. Then, Beryl, Terrors’ tailback blocked an extra point, and Tom Davis trumped the uprights to get the Terrors ahead 14-4.

Student Complaints... Will Something Be Done?

"I don't know, I guess that they will always be that way." This was the reaction of a student to the question of the lack of student involvement in the placing of lock on the walls of the classrooms on the ground floor of Christian Hall.

When asked that here at Western Maryland things often remain only half finished, the student said, "The walls of the Chapel are but one example of this. Many things this year have been put together since the rooms were first put into regular use. If it is for aesthetic or functional reasons, I do not know, but certainly enough time has elapsed."

In the Student Handbook there is a phrase to the effect that all improvements mentioned in the bulletin board in the Window Store will be completed. If this has not been completed, it is for a very good reason: a lack of funds. A number of standard items they have been disappointed because they have not been installed.

While on the subject of the Student Center, it might be appropriate to mention the noticeless lack of time places in the building. It beacons on your right as you enter the building, yet it is now and again as if not even a lock in the case of the windows. It is a case of not an absolute dissatisfaction of itself, but of the fact that the lock on a door has never been changed.

The lack of success of this program is a result. One of the main reasons for this is the feeling of the students that they are wise enough to realize that they can change their own conditions. Many students feel that there is not a problem, and thus they have an escape to realize their problem if given the opportunity.

C torn for Change

For many years now, the Gold Bug has printed an editorial column with the title of "Carn for Change." For the past week, the column has been placed on the front page of the publication.

It seems to this editor that the column is intended to act as a forum where students can express their views. Many of the columns on these two pages have been on topics where opinions of all kinds have been presented. It is hoped that these columns will be read by all students. It is also hoped that the students will not be afraid to express their opinions whether they are for or against a proposal. It is hoped that these columns will be read aloud in the hallways and that they will be read in the students' rooms.

In the past there has been a tendency on the part of students to direct all the blame towards the maintenance department. It is a question whether this is a good thing, as it is not possible to have all the students satisfied with the maintenance department. It is hoped that the students will not only express their opinions, but will also be willing to work towards the solution of the problem.

"The other reason for the column is that it will be easier to keep track of what is being said. This will help the administration to know what the students are thinking and what they want. It is hoped that the students will not only express their opinions, but will also be willing to work towards the solution of the problem."

Oddie's O' Bits

Hockey—the game of fans and all. It was noticed last winter during one of the girls' physical education classes that three players entered the game and grabbed the ball and headed down the field with two full hockey teams after him.

What a soccer tear—Top twenty-five! Let's keep them there with proper coaching and discipline.

One of the main features next week's homemeeting game will be the pom-pom girls in their new green plaid kilts and white sweaters.

It has been noticed, with some disappointment, that our grill is not the same fire where some of the students were before.

Oddie, the bowling coach, is already putting in a little extra time to perfect the routine.

What A Time!

"Seven o'clock!" The two words were often quoted by the freshmen of fourth floor McDonald Hall.

"Seven O'Clock!" Loaders and leaders of the freight service of the dormitory were heard to say.

It was noticed that number 301 will have to be scanned three times before the loader and leader say, "Seven O'Clock!"

And so it was for the last time. Mary and I, I have an allergy to the sound of that "Seven O'Clock!" when they are shouted in the air.

You may say that "Seven O'Clock!" is a puritanic horror cir- culated among students in the halls of the dormitory.

The world would be in quite a different if there were not a "Seven O'Clock!" for the freight service to check. Men would be an hour later in their work, and the shalled structures would be in a complete mess, which is bad news for the ladies.

Western Maryland College's new dormitory is ready and waiting for the first of its roomers. The ingame is now in progress. The college is sure to have a lot of fun with the girls that are coming.

For the rest of the day whenever you come, "seven o'clock!" I shout. They are sure to say, "Gentleman, there is a job to be done."

It was noticed, with some disappointment, that our grill is not the same fire where some of the students were before.

CARN FOR CHANGE

When one of the freshmen boys was asked what he thought of the freshman homecoming parade, he replied, "The parade should be faster."

What a statement! Will he say the same thing at this next time next year?

We wish to congratulate one of the recent pledgees, Bowyer Waller, on his big move in the world of football.

Soccer Squad Adds
More Victories to String

The Western Maryland College soccer team extended its unbeaten string to 15 games during the past week. The high-flying Terrors defeated Gallaudet College 9 to 0 on Tuesday, October 27. They followed this victory by overwhelming Lycoming College 15 to 0 on Thursday, October 29. Nobody thought the Terrors had the squad's record for the season. In three games this week, the Terrors scored in every minute. Combined with their four previous victories, the Terrors now share the class of the 1958 season, the Terr-cors now having 17 game undefeated string.

On Friday, October 29, the WMC soccer team featured the greatest display of ball control seen on the Western Maryland soccer field. The Terrors ended their unbeatable George Varga, the team's defensive leader, had 15 goals this year and 17 goals last year. Even though George was naturally the star of the game, his job was made much easier by the tremendous support given him by the Terror line. The passing and general ball handling ability of Don Carroll, Laszlo Zsebedics, Karl Terry, and Bob Cole helped George Varga up in fine scoring position. George, questioned by the opponents, scored consistently every opportunity. The WMC soccer team is also in fine condition and ready

For those of the campus community who hide in the library or in labs or under their beds, I have an interesting—sigh, shocking—fact revealed by the Western Maryland College has an athletic team in contention for national honors! Not the football team, which is having a disappointing record this year. A couple of the Western Maryland women's basketball teams are in contention for national honors. The women in yellow and green are the terror soccer team. The Terror soccer team is rated as one of the top four teams in the South, and the women's basketball team is a little bit higher than the soccer team. If the Terror soccer team is top four in the Southern Division of the Mason-Dixon, the soccer team in the Western Maryland College is also in contention for national honors. The soccer team is very good this year. The Western Maryland soccer team, for instance, won the conference championship in 1958. The team featured the greatest soccer team featured the greatest soccer team in the nation. In 1958, the squad defeated 27 teams, including the University of Illinois, Notre Dame, and Michigan State. The Terror soccer team is making another fine performance this year. The Terror soccer team added victory to victory, winning by defeating Loyola of Baltimore 1-0, Franklin and Marshall 3-0, and Juniata College 2-0.

The Terrors went on the road from November 4 to November 7 and scored 11 goals against the University of the South, VMI, and Washington and Lee. The Terror soccer team scored 11 goals in a row, including six goals against the University of the South.

The Terrors are the first team in the nation to score 100 goals in a season. They scored 101 goals in 1958. The Terror soccer team has won 13 straight games this season, including six consecutive shutouts. The Terrors are rated on a par or better than schools such as Maryland, North Carolina, and Washington and Lee.

The Terrors defeated Juniata College 2-0 in the opening game of the season. Juniata had 15 goals, but the Terror soccer team won 9-0. The Editor Speaks

The Beginning Of The End

To many individuals the above title may appear to be the hounding of some personal vendetta. In order to clear up any misunderstandings of this, let me say that this is not the case. The title was not born in a fit of pique, but rather a product of the need that is being felt by the senior members of the staff. The staff was feeling that its ideas were not being edited and published entirely by just those who have been here. So it was that the Board of Editors was formed. It was decided that only those who were being considered for the staff were to be editing on the basis of the old Board of Editors. It was also decided that the new Board of Editors was to be elected in turn for announcement in January so that the next senior class will have the same new Board of Editors for the new year. In thanking you for your support of the "old staff," I request that you give me, in addition to the new Board of Editors, a vote of appreciation.

Senior Pros For Teaching

Why Not For Always?

Why is it that the spirit of Christmas penetrates through every crevice being at the same time ever new?

Does the mere setting aside of one day in December automatically mean that the joy of Christmas has been left behind? Have we always been singed out in an official manner, but this act alone become the Christmas spirit? Possibly, because the Yule tide season is still time in both the preparation and the aftermath of Christmas festivities which causes this of all days to suffer. Instead, let us take a lesson from the men and women around us. There is nothing far deeper that causes good to permeate the world through the spirit of Christmas.

When did people remember the birth of Jesus Christ?

Glad tidings are expressed from every corner of the globe, from the farthest corners of the earth, and every known land. Tidings of comfort and joy are being spread among the hills and places far and wide. Possibly, because the essence of Christmas is being bestowed. At this particular time, the whole world is more receptive to something new, to something untried, to something special; possibly, because the men and women are searching and looking for more in all this modern world.

Christmas is a time for otherness. It is a time of giving and receiving. It is a time of love and affection. It is a time of “peace on earth—good will toward men.”

Does the mere setting aside of one day in December automatically mean that the spirit of Christmas has been left behind? Have we always been singed out in an official manner, but this act alone become the Christmas spirit? Possibly, because the Yule tide season is still

Are Unpredictable Bells Disturbing Your Nights?

Whether one is in the dormitory halls, in the classrooms, or in the hallways, the sound of bells is heard. Do we not do to others what we would not have them do to us? Why don’t we but the rattle to the side, the noise to the side, and the medicine to the side? Why not just keep the bells out of the fashion in the future.

The Christmas season, in all its material splendor, is not approaching. Everywhere look signs of the Christmas holiday are populating our colleges and joyous, happy faces, Christmas cheer, and then come Monday to really set the mood. Yes, this is a happy time of year, this is a happy time of joy, of which to remember the birth of our Savior.

From Oodlee to all of you, a Merry Christmas.

The Tradition Of Hannahakah

After years of perusing the records under the leadership of Judah the Maccabees, reviewed the story of this religious festival and the task of keeping it going year after year. The people were re-established and a festival was held to celebrate this event. As a part of the celebration revere-nificant, the students simply changed the time of the event to be held during the day.

Did you know that the bell was originally called “the Christmas bell”? The chimes, bells, and bells of all are quite appropriate at this time of year, for their beautiful tones keep us ever mindful of the event which took place in Jerusalem nearly 2000 years ago and the joy which was singing. We may laugh and cry, but where into this picture do we get? Are we not supposed to be looking at the beautiful holiday season, not the bells?

With their intent exacted re-stated, what is the purpose of the passing of time, just like a clock, until our calendars have run out of the Christmas vacation arrived. But what has actually been lost in this holiday season is about as predictable as a woman’s turns from October into November, a new and different spirit is kindled in the hearts of many. A spirit of excitement, a spirit of another beginning. A spirit of triumph over former mistakes as part of growth.

Somehow, only as Christmas

Every year, as all of you upperclassmen know, Gallaudet beat us two games out of two. Do we play on December 1st, we’re off to a good start; let’s keep on “pounding,” fellas.

Perhaps the joy is brown and dead, but the spirit within is not. That’s right; the little choral sound of what is being spoken. To some near ones of the WMC everyone, the little choral sound a purpose for beyond that choral sound, is a beautiful thing.

The happy sleigh bells tell us that it is Christmas time, that the holidays are fast approaching. For those who are far away, why not send some it through the mail.

Thus, since our bells do provide us with a little of the “spice” which makes Christmas so much better, why not always?

He put the Chinese philosopher’s words to work and came to the conclusion that man could follow the teachings of a person, because he has not visibly seen him do anything.” Maybe we should be more like these people, because they received little or no recognition for their efforts which make Christmas so much better. For those who are far away, why not send some it through the mail.

With the little talk about the bells, I think it would be well to say a few words about the tradition of Hannahakah.

Burgee Tops In Terrors Line Wins Defensive Play Trophy

Fred Burgee, the Terrors' left end, with a total of 256 points, has averaged 28 each of the three years he has been a member of the Western Maryland lumberjacks. Burgee's 301 in the 1959-60 season was his finest effort, a career-high bonus plaque, to that effect. He has been a member of the Terrors' lineup in four of the five years he has been at Western Maryland, and has enjoyed a tremendous amount of success in his time spent on the 1958-59 mat campaign. During that encounter against the Cardinal defence, Burgee made it rough for the local GRID ironpipers. Three times he threw the Lycoming quarterback over the goal line. Just as soon as that happened, he was joined by a fast and furious tandem, tackle, twelve assistants, and to slowly shuffle his way out of the room. Not bad for a day's work. Figure Points Pending.

The scoring for the lineup of the week was key to the Terrors' 30-27 victory. On the Tuesday following a game, Annapolis, he stacked the films taken during the game, and assigns points on this basis: Accurate tackle rating up a point to the number of times the defensive linemen of the week. Publications' Bright Future

In the November issue of the Gold Bug, the Editorial Staff wrote: "The answer to this question is something that a lot of people have been wondering about, but no one has ever found the answer to this new form of life.

Not unlike many other organization schemes, one of the main factors in the success of this publication is its membership. The membership list is the backbone of the organization, and the members are the ones who decide what is going to be published and how it will be presented.

With the exception of the editorial board, no one is allowed to write articles for the publication. The members are responsible for writing and editing the articles, and the board is responsible for overseeing the process.

In conclusion, the Gold Bug is a successful publication because it has a dedicated membership list that is committed to providing high-quality articles that are interesting to its readers. The board is also doing an excellent job of overseeing the process and ensuring that the publication meets the expectations of its readers.

Klitzberg Blitzes Visitors; Savage and Crew Next Target

Freshman pioneer Eddie Klitzberg netted 24 counters to supply the scoring punch as the Great Terrors swept to a 54-48 triumph over the Hopkins Highlites Wednesday night.

Dave Martin sank a foul shot at 5:15 of the second half to put Western Maryland ahead 5-1.

Moments of the second half, that back in front, 23-22, in the next 56 seconds, and at the half the game was climaxed by Tom O'Malley's tie with a three-pointed jumper, to go in front, 14-12, behind a 13-point burst of scoring by Dave Markey and Dave Sullivan.

With Hopkins leading 14-14, Hopkins went in front 16-14, on an early 10-1 lead, and the game definitely was out of reach.

The Mounts, sporting a 6-5 conference record and a 1-2 season mark, were held to just their second straight loss.

One Hour

February's Forgotten Feasts

By Katherine Schenkelen

“Compelling! Disturbing! Significant! These are the only words strong enough to describe "One Hour." This powerful novel is the latest work of Miss Lillian Russel, who is Miss Esther Smith's sister. The theme is not limited by time or place. The setting is a town in the South, but the conditions laid bare in this book are universal. However, these emotions become more terrifying and more acute because of the necessity to conform to the traditions and taboos of a Southern town.

Lillian Russel does a superb job of revealing the pretentions of the characters. Understanding what makes him tick has non-humans across the reader's sympathy for him; however, more and more, the reader begins to understand his vulnerability. He is a man who cannot afford to be exposed to a worthy opponent.

This book, Lillian Russel presents the possibilities and the overuse, the intolerance of the world around him. She has been a great novel, and it is a novel that will stand against disillusionment. The passion of the broken heart and the agitated soul... The器具 of striving lights. The Wee Waddles of tomorrow. The end brings only the desire to come again. The end brings only the desire to come again.

The Little Child Shall Lead Them

Susan had watched her mother bake all day, and she had even tasted the warm, fudgy vanilla icing. She knew that her mother was proud that Susan could make such nice gingerbread.

The aroma of spicy apple pie filled the kitchen, but Susan was far more attracted by the layer cake with the billowy sweet topping. She was going to have a hand at keeping her mother out of that cake until the company arrived for dinner on Sunday. After all, she was only four years old.

Mother, of course, was aware of the cake, and she had been flushing the sink, she covered her face with a towel and went back to Susan to see if anything was amiss. She dressed in the kitchen with a lighter than Susan's, and she was a lot calmer.

Dad was dazed, and once he had helped his mother make the gingerbread. She had that good icing I made, could we eat it for our supper.

The Editor Speaks....

Who Will Win?

The decision is much an individual one as it is a major issue. It is a serious, state-wide and local issue; the personal responsibility of the "man on the street." It should not be resolved by the court where they can have a direct influence on a political election, but there are many local and state elections which they can subscribe. Every election should have a 100 per cent result.

The forthcoming election on Western Maryland's campus is not governed by an age limit. In fact there are no criteria, with one exception — women students must be single — female — from casting a vote. And yet, some will not take part.

It may be all right for the 20-year-old college senior to register and vote, but those of us who are future fathers and mothers of families and those who are waiting to do so, will not do as the "man on the street," so long as he finds the time to cast his ballot the following election. This attitude of neglect is understandable to some degree.

But in a parochial community such as the campus, the duty to participate positively in every phase of college life. This is an experiment in free and independent living, the desire in general.

From many sides, eyes turn toward college students, who explain the highest value they see in college in the future. By not contributing in an individual capacity, the whole machine may fail to "spur," despite a dynamism which is in some degree responsible for the success of the college. We must contribute.

The end result of any effort will lose its original lustre unless the basic means which go into the project are complete and every man, every girl, every student, every faculty member feels that he be-

May We Observe Easter Holiday?

The week terminating on the 17th of April marks the observance of one of the most significant Christian communions. In keeping with the serious nature of Easter, many people set aside other activities so that they may observe this religious holiday. This is so it should be.

Unfortunately, students here on the Hill will be required to attend classes as usual during this time. Thus, those who desire to worship in their churches will not be allowed the opportunity. They will not have the time to appreciate the more meaningful aspects that Easter offers, especially the services on Good Friday sponsored by American Airlines and will skip at their discretion. Quite a number of students who live in the dormitories will be unable to reach home at that time. Thus, they will not be able to join in the religious festivities that the season affords.

It is surprising that a college student, who considers himself on a strong religious affiliation, would not take the time to see church services. Certainly, time should have been allowed so that all students could fully grasp the meaning of Easter. This is a personal opinion of this writer here or there. Our college is a representative segment of the populace. What do they think?

Research Chair To Show Slides

In the assembly March 21, the guest speaker will be Prof. L. G. DeBey, who will speak on "The I.G.Y. Rocket Research Program." With his lecture Prof. DeBey will show slides and some parts of the rocket which will be launched.

Mr. Deley is presently chief of the Electronic Measurements Branch of the Ballistic Research Laboratory, Aberdeen, Maryland. He has been employed there since 1947.

Mr. Deley holds a B. S. in electrical engineering from the University of South Dakota and obtained his Masters at Purdue University. Before coming to Aberdeen, he worked on the I.G.Y. Foundation at Purdue and with the Transmitter Department of RCA in Philadelphia.

Music Revolutionizes Student Eating Habits

Over the confusion of the usual Saturday morning scramble to get a seat in the dining hall, hungry campus chowhounds turned to "Hi-Ho Hi-Fi" of the Lone Ranger theme to music face as the "William Tell Overture." The fast rhythm, which was so the likeness of the students, that everyone bought their dinners.

This concept was one of the first realized by Horst in Western Maryland dining. This idea is made possible by calling for more reaction into menu change. The reaction of the same alluring theme to both Ham and eggs, the same musical theme to the same food was different from the past too familiar theme: Beethoven's Fifth Symphony.

Charles LeFevre, dining hall asso- ciate manager, said that the music has landed success. Spirit- lized china have more flavor. More and more show music has helped to slow down the revenue eating habits of the students.

It is sad and costly that a college is guilty of this little luxury. Almost everything that has developed around music for those of the King's Tribe has been included. In addition to the songs, the following theme is played too.

Perhaps the name of the pieces could be announced. In this way, the students will know what they are being served and be able to partake.

Sister of the dining hall in charge of the kitchen said, "We serve the same menu in the same serving dishes. But we want to experiment with the new theme."

You're tried the rest. Now try the best.

Kryptic Comments

At least spring vacation is coming; however, spring isn't. Have a real nice time of it, you who are Flordia natives and hurry the buffer southern muffins for those young student teachers who are staying here if it isn't raining in Florida.

Before you hole up, don't forget to attend the Military Ball. It might be fun at least, to be out of the cold. And maybe even some tomatoes will be there to greet you in the traditional style.

College honesty has recently been enhanced by the appearance of Yodelers feeling much at home, and even crossed the line, especially in Zoology laboratories. We'll be looking forward to seeing a very fine class, at least, in the Burchfield art classes.

Best wishes to the choir members who sing all day Sunday for the record they are making. Let's all try to buy one.

What is the Welch professor seen on a golden toad playing a glockenspiel? From a distance, she looked like our first才入r from outer space. However, this one was far more exciting in the long run. She was yet to go to work with her definitely couldn't lose sight of her they wandered among the freeways of frame springs.!!!

Congratulations to all involved in the Junior Plays. Those this year were really tops. Particular honors to Jackie Cook for an outstanding performance.

Storms Disrupt Track Practice

The recent outbreak of late winter storms surprised the president of the university, Dr. Rick Clower, to be somewhat less than overwhelming. However, the editors of this page would hereby like to retract those statements, which under close examination proved to be false in several aspects. Initially, the source of the ruling was named as the President. This is not so; the policy originated from the Athletic Council.

Miss Judith Ellis to Be Queen of May

The College Players will present "The Diary of Anne Frank," an event of the college's ninetieth commencement. The entire event will be held at 8:15 p.m. in Alumni Hall.

At the move playing the character of Anne Frank, the first event of the evening will be a play of the Anne Frank story, "The Diary of Anne Frank." The play will run from 8:15 p.m. to 10:00 p.m., with the intermission period from 9:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

The play will be followed by a special tribute to Anne Frank, a member of the SNEA, and a ROTC member. fracturing the debut of the SNEA and the ROTC in a traditional ceremony. Anne Frank's contributions to the world will be honored in this special event.

Miss Judith Ellis will be the queen of the May Festival, scheduled for May 6. She will be joined by the other members of the court, who were selected on April 3.

The queen's coronation will be held at the Church of the Assumption, with the args of the crowd, SNEA representatives, and the Western Maryland College community.

Student Life Designates
Sophomore, Two Juniors

Student Life Council announced on April 8 that two members for next year will be Karen Roeloffsen, Bermudian, and Lynn Warwick.

Karen Roeloffsen is a sophomore majoring in Foreign Languages and is a member of Phi Eta Kappa. Lynn Warwick is a junior majoring in History and is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa. They have both been elected to represent the sophomore and junior classes, respectively.

Activities include PAC and the Books and Records Committee. The council meets weekly to discuss various aspects of student life, including budgets, programming, and community service.

The council's goals for the upcoming year include improving campus facilities, increasing student involvement in decision-making processes, and promoting a sense of community among students.

Music Instructor Passes,
Chapel Features Memorial

Music instructor passed away on April 2, in a sudden pass. She was well known for her hard work and dedication to the Chapel in the Life Center.

A memorial service was held in the Chapel, attended by many students and faculty members. A dedication plaque was placed on the altar in her honor.

Classes Elect New Officers

The Student Government Association (SGA) held its annual election on April 3, with new officers being sworn in during a special meeting on April 6.

The new officers for the 1969-1970 academic year are:
- President: David Humphrey
- Vice President: Josephine O'Brien
- Secretary: John Smith
- Treasurer: Mary Johnson

The new officers will begin their terms on April 7, and will work closely with the Student Government Association to ensure the smooth operation of all campus activities.

Banquet Set by Argonauts

The Argonaut Banquet will be held at the Church of the Assumption on April 15, at 8 p.m. The Argonauts, the college's honor society, will host the event in honor of the graduating seniors.

The banquet will feature a special guest speaker, who will be announced at a later date. Attendees are encouraged to wear formal attire for the event.

The Argonauts are a prestigious organization that recognizes outstanding students for their academic and extracurricular achievements. The banquet is an opportunity for students to celebrate their accomplishments and look forward to a successful future.
Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

There is a letter, the one which appeared in the March 25 issue, that is so mind-blowing... its proposition of dress prepared and presented to me, could I, would I like to point out out, that I write this in response to it. The Women's Council is aware of the situation, and is in fact taking many steps to address the concerns on this campus—most of them noise. However, it is also aware of the fact that the dress proposal is NOT extremely rare; many women tend to disagree

the fact that they are part of a movement, which is high traditional standards of all kinds. This is probably why the majority of women students do not agree with the idea and opt for something different.

The most carefully chosen and well-conceived arguments of the grief felt by the students are those presented by Margaret Waple.

Her meaningful understanding of the strength and value of conscience and individuality, along with her complete dedication to make her students achieve what we will always remember.

The dress proposal is more than the of the people. The women's council decided to present the dress proposal to the women's group and then to the administration.

In conclusion, I might say that the dress proposal has been evaluated in the present session, and has been an opportunity to define a of appropriate dress and to make a decision that is best for

Royer To Direct Spring Concert

Friday evening, April 22, at 8:00 pm in the Cherry Symposium Opera, April 22, will present its twelfth Spring Concert under the direction of Mr. Philip Royer. The orchestra is composed of not only students, but faculty members who are interested in music. The orchestra will nurse various groups of student and junior high school as well.

The program will be opened with "Bacchanalia" by J. H. Roman, followed by "The Over Hill of Tate" by Karl Fischel. Then the group will select one of the 1000 selections which should be kept to keep the Purple and Senior High School.

A special selection will be "The Dream of Olen for Beulah" by Karl Fischel. The program will then be concluded with "Vacations" by Frances cf "Hansel" by Maurice C. West.

Laura Jean House, Joanne Lamb, group of selections which should to keep the Purple and Senior High School. the faculty, moderated a debate over the pros and cons of the SIC involvement. It was conducted impartially, giving each side an equal chance to present their views.

The purpose of these debates is to give all who attend an opportunity to be exposed to the different points of view on the subject.

Dear Student:
The time of the year is rapidly approaching when you will no longer need those heavy winter garments. Yes, this brings to mind the job of carting them home for mother or dad to take care of. This year we can help you eliminate this awful job. We have a modern storage vault for the safe keeping of all your winter garments.

We also have available a large storage box which we will furnish you and then you may fill it with as many items as you wish. We will store the complete box of garments for $5.00 and insure them for $250.00 regardless of how many are in the box. So if you don't think you have enough garments to fill a box, talk it over with your roommate. Remember the springtime is the time to have all those winter garments cleaned and stored. But this doesn't mean they have to be paid for at this time. At Quality Cleaners you owe nothing until you receive your garments next fall when you come back to school.

Summing up, call Quality. Quality will furnish you a large spacious box, you fill the box with all your winter garments. Call Quality. Quality will pick up the box and clean and store all garments until fall for $5.00 plus regular cleaning charge, but you pay nothing until you get your garments. All garments are insured for $250.00.

TERROR NINE OFF
To Fast Start
Pughen Invade South, Bring 4-1 Log

General Richard A. Pugh led his team against Mount St. Mary's, April 15, in style. The Terrapin squad marched in a triumphant tour through the stands in a victory dance following the final game of the recent spring vacation trip.

Rivaling the historic march of the 1948 team, Pugh and Gold Bug troops roared southward through the stands to Baltimore, to Havre de Grace, and to Mount St. Mary's, on the long game. The leaping dance was performed by cheerleaders in unison. The masquerade of athletes of Pugh's team included all the seniors originally scheduled to play.

Capture of Puffer
In the opening encounter with their Southern adversaries, the Puffin forces overpowered Puffin College by a 1-0 score on Monday. After a sudden Puf finand-out opening in the opening frame, the Terrapin had the hosts on the ropes by the third frame. The Terrapin's biggest assault came in the fourth inning. They captured three runs and three errors for runs and bases in the game.

Don't Say 'The Magic Word!'

WMC Clips Jays

Behind 3-0 after four innings of doubles play, the Green Terror nine returned to the form which had been the signal to dump host John Hopkins, April 13. Senior hurler Clark Kirkland relieved Wayne Whittier at the bottom of the fifth and virtually slammed the Jays flat for the rest of the contest. In addition to his impressive effort on the mound, Clark added two doubles to the 2 hit, 3 run, 5 hit performance. Ball batters had two hits in three at bats, Bob Donahue following at the second place. Bill Bourns was tagged with the loss when he fumbled an improvement effort.

Several tips on how to avoid the common mistakes others make when dealing with cleaning:
1. Always read the label instructions carefully before beginning any cleaning task.
2. Test a small area of the garment first to ensure it can withstand the cleaning process.
3. Use the appropriate cleaning solution based on the fabric type and stain nature.
4. Avoid overcleaning, as it can damage delicate fabrics.
5. Regularly vacuum and dust to prevent the build-up of dirt and grime.
6. Store garments in a cool, dry place to maintain their appearance and longevity.
Record Vote On Wednesday Passes Framework Of Plan

As a result of a record vote by WMC students, an honor system will be installed at the college in the fall of 1960.

The system, as presently stated, covers cheating on tests and plagiarism. Students found guilty of such dishonorable conduct will be subject to punishment, including expulsion, as determined by the Judicial Board.

All students will be included under the system and must sign the statement, “I understand that an honor system is in operation at Western Maryland College and that I am subject to its rules and regulations,” to acknowledge their responsibility to uphold the system.

During the past two weeks, a special effort was made to acquaint the student body with the functions of an honor system. An assembly was scheduled at which the students were informed of the system in principle.

Discussions were held, the first one being Tuesday evening, April 10, when the system was presented to the student body. The next night, a faculty panel offered their views and answered student questions. Wednesday night, April 11, a final assembly was held. All questions were answered. Voting took place at the end of the assembly and during the remainder of the afternoon.

When the votes were tabulated, it was found that a record 80% per cent of the students had voted. Of these, nearly 80 per cent were cast in favor of the system. None were cast against it. A minority of 5% had requested for passage of the new WMC honor system.

May Day Features ‘South of Border’ Theme

WMC To Inaugurate Honor System in 1960-61

Follies, Coronation, And Dance To Highlight Spring Weekend

Scenes from “South of the Border” will appear on campus May 7, for the annual May Day celebration. Highlights of the Follies will be the coronation of the May Queen and a formal dance. The Junior Follies will set the mood May 6, for the weekend festivities.

Leading committees in preparation for the fete are Maureen Filbey, publicity; Judith Reinhart, entertainment; Wayne Freeman, music director; and Charles K蒜, publicity chairman.

May Day will feature three guest speakers: Margaret Davis, secretary of the American Thespian society; the May Pole Danses, who will open the weekend; and the SCA dance orchestra.

A parade of floats along with the ROTC drill team, the majorettes, and the pony pets will be on display at 12:30 pm on the Saturday afternoon. At 1:15 pm in the amphitheater the coronation ceremony will begin at which time President Lowell S. Ennor will crown May Queen, Maureen Filbey. At this time Queen Judy and her court will be formally introduced. Senior courtiers are Jill Brown, brunette; Sue Wedderburn, brunette; Barbara Saffan, blond; and Kathy King, red head. Freshman courtiers are Cathleen Kennedy, brunette; Darlene Belford, civilian; and Margaret Minnich, blond.

Representing the sophomores are Mrs. and Mrs. Pulaski, of Frederick, the May Queen’s parents; Mrs. Bryant and Mrs. Wroten, both of Martinsburg, the queen’s sisters; Mrs. Howell, of Waynesboro, the queen’s step mother; and Mrs. Mowry, of Martinsburg, the queen’s step father.

The program will open with a dance with the majorettes and the pony pets appearing in honor of WMC students. The dance will be followed by the coronation ceremony.

The coronation ceremony will include the presentation of the Junior and Senior Follies, whose duties will be to select the May Queen and her court.

The proceedings will be followed by a formal dance in the Main Ballroom.

For more information concerning participation in the parade, contact the planning committee, consisting of Betty Bolen, Maureen Filbey, Barbara Saffan, and Judith Reinhart.

The proceeds from the May Day celebration will be used to defray the cost of the SCA scholarship.

Cain Receives Assistantship

Larry R. Cain, a twenty-two-year-old senior physics major, has been granted an assistantship to Pennsylvania State University. The award was made quickly when he was notified of his bid acceptance on April 24. It will give him an $800 tuition exemption.

He made all investigations himself through reference books found in the WMC library and after 21 letters of inquiry in various graduate schools that have similar offers, Larry received an offer.

The final choice between the two offers was made after a visit to the WMC library and his selection is based on the letter of inquiry.

Larry and his wife, who are presently living in Gettysburg, plan to move to the campus of Pennsylvania State University where the student will be a graduate student in physics.

What Is College Morality?

by Norman W. Davis

This question has perhaps been pondered the most by the college administration. It is a question that has been asked by nearly all college students. The answer to this question is very important to the future of our college. The students deserve to be recognized for their hard work and achievements.

Kryptic Comments

As for the sophomores' hayride—no one knows where they went. It was a secret. Perhaps the students might know what students like, Oh, no, I don't think so.

Literature lovers might take note of Dr. Russell's investments among contemporary writers. We voir the early days of the Arts, the 1930's, the 1940's and the 1950's. This book is a must for any library.

I noticed in the book's acknowledgments the last issue of the Groso Spret is a true imitation of Anne Frank's-Frank a book which is a true imitation of Anne Frank's. I'm not sure if I would recommend it for anyone who is interested in learning about the Holocaust.

May I reiterate Dr. Van's statement of "leave the path walk on the".

Two things about the dining hall that are annoying: the ever-present fight and those three boys who are sitting alone at the table (don't even try). I don't think the soup will ever be cleaned up. I have to stop writing this now because my hand is getting sore.

A note of praise to Contrast for bringing out hidden literary talents on campus. Very nice job.

Humor

If a dog will go lying, let it.

Differences between men and women are not so vast. Just the other day, I overheard a conversation between two women.

A young man telephoned the radio station to ask about the weather. Another young lady answered the phone. She said, "I'm sorry, but we can't give you the weather forecast now."
The annual meeting of the Maryland State Conference of Welfare was held on the campus of the Western Maryland College on Tuesday, April 26, in Alumni Hall.

Milk Bug Introduces Fresh Journalistic Approach; Students Offer Critical Comments on Proposed Format

By Katherine Schlesofsky

I would like to tell of a place where I had the honor of spending several days—an Episco- palian movement. It was a most extraordinary and beautiful experi- ence.

The convocation is located just off Baltimore, since it is surrounded by great mountains. It is certainly a great adventure to be a member of the International Episcopalian Church.

I attended stolen moments with many of the people there, being very grateful that they thought themselves among the most amazing disciples of all the world, but not of it.

I have been never been to a convocation, visit one each year. You attend the church and your fellow priest at the foot of the mountain, the convocation is an unforgettable experience to which all of God's children are given over to the love of God. I hope to live there, and I hope to give those who come to the convocation all of God's love and power, and to the happy people in the world.

If any readers are not familiar with the term, "religious clover," I strongly recommend vis- iting a single day. I greatly encourage anyone who is not a regular subscriber, to visit the church, and to visit the convocation for the knowledge and with the knowledge of the people who live there, and of the happy people in the world.

GOLD BUG INTRODUCES FRESH JOURNALISTIC APPROACH; STUDENTS OFFER CRITICAL COMMENTS ON PROPOSED FORMAT

Two weeks ago the editorial board of the Gold Bug presented to the school a newspaper with several major changes from the norm. A new system of handling news and the method of "showing" several articles in every edition allowed for a few of the students to contribute. As this layer is not yet permanent, several articles were asked to submit their opinions of the relative at- tendance of these two years.

Robert Hogebohm and Dennis

I prefer the latest issue of the Gold Bug because I think it comes closest to exhibiting the typical campus newspaper. The staff should be congratulated on their initiative in bringing their ideas to the school. I would like to comment on the new system of headlines and pictures on the front pages. I feel that this is a definite asset to the overall journalistic appearance of the newspaper.

Bettie Beal

Personally, I do not think that the general appearance of the newspaper is important. I think that the appearance of the small print, and the added information in the front section is important. This is the manner in which the news is presented. The one thing that I believe would be most beneficial to the Gold Bug is an organized, typed column.

Dagnor Jones

I wish to congratulate the Gold Bug on the last issue. It had some very worthwhile additions, some features, but, even so, seems much more formal in its bold print color at the top of the page than the last issue. With this in mind, I think to get much more print on a single page, the appearance of being over-carefully worked on, and not so particularly effective for setting the style of a newspaper.

In all, the whole paper looks more like a printed page than a well-mannered, well thought out design. I am sure that I am not a true journalist that I must have a professional as much as I do.

Now that it's spring, amateur WMC athletes are blossoming everywhere. The novice Terrons, spanked liberally across the golf course, tennis courts, and every other playing surface, have put the varsity teams to shame by their numbers. Hordes of other WMCers are filling the air with baseball and lacrosse sticks, while an occasional brave soul jogs around the track. Yep, it's spring!

Speaking about tennis, some advice to beginners. Start out on the clay courts behind Memorial Hall. Beginner's boxes aren't as smooth as they should be, and tennis balls are taking some bounces (intended to by energetic sportsmen clambering after a tennis ball) - should prove a real talent equalizer.

The sight of so many lacrosse sticks on the quad between the two men's dorms suggests that the time has come for organization of a lacrosse team on the Hill. There seems to be a lot of interest, and sooner rather than later at handling those sticks.

Sports interest around campus hasn't been confined only to attendance at varsity games. There has been this high spring, especially at baseball games and tennis matches. Some of the facts have been noticeable. Athletes seem to play a little better when they've got a friendly crowd behind them, and our varsity tennis team, having come to some thrilling victories before the large gatherings of Terron fans.

The athletic department hopes to make its first presentation at the University Athletic Supper Club on May 18 at the Awards Assembly. The cup is being awarded on a point system based on the number of trials a team has received or received its men in any varsity sport.

Senior Volleyball Team Wins; Wood Gains Badminton Title

After three years of battles for supremacy, the senior varsity women's basketball team at last succeeded in winning the valuable championship, and team spirit and team camaraderie carried the seniors to victory this season, after having lost in previous years in the crucial play-off games.

The winning game of this season was between the seniors and juniors in the last game of the season, arranged at 3:30 on a rainy Wednesday afternoon. The seniors won by a score of 20-17, at the last second, the junior team still in the game. The seniors went on to win by 97-30, and were chosen as the team to represent the college for the Maryland Girls State Tournament.

Clowermen Snow Loss, Skein, Top Lebanon, 65-57

Track mentor Dick Clower, who trained them, chalked up the loss against Lebanon Valley by 65-57, the seniors taking first place in the singles matches and both doubles matches. Bill Huffer, who dropped both singles matches, found another way to win against Lebanon Valley in the doubles match.

The损失 was registered against Lebanon Valley by 65-57. Huffer and Bill Huffer both won their respective singles matches, and both doubles matches. Bill Huffer lost both matches, but Huffer and Huffer both won their respective doubles matches.

Intra-Squad Grid Test Ends Spring Practice

The annual intra-squad grid test, held on April 25, was attended by all members of the grid team, with a total of 125 players present. The test was held at the arts center, with the alumni and senior team members on hand to assist.

You've tried the rest; Now try the best. Delicious Foods

The senior team was represented by Mary Lou Eaton, whose serve took many a point. Joan Nelson, whose line drives hit the court, and Nancy Zem, who hit the ball, were key members of the team. The seniors won by a score of 20-17, at the last second, the junior team still in the game. The seniors went on to win by 97-30, and were chosen as the team to represent the college for the Maryland Girls State Tournament.

Since the present senior class has been a resident of Hill Hall for almost two years, there have been more major changes made on campus and of the Hill than in any other four-year period. Although many of the seniors moved to their final year of residence in the spring, many other changes have occurred. The senior class of 1961 has brought with it a new wave of collegians who were not as familiar with the Hill as some of their predecessors.

It was only nine months ago on this very day that the first issue of The Gold Bug was published. That makes our staff the second oldest of the college papers.

In that first month of the school year, the staff had the opportunity to review and analyze the activities of the previous year. We had the chance to reflect on our growth and development as a group.

Slayer's Slant On Summer

by Morgan

Are you one of the many who will spend the summer months in a warm, sunny, beachside atmosphere? Or do you prefer a quiet, cool, and country club setting? What about a combination of the two? Summer is a time for relaxation and enjoyment.

But before you pack your bags, you may want to consider your options. Here are a few ideas to help you make the most of your summer:

1. Have a staycation: Stay at home and enjoy your local area.
2. Plan a road trip: Visit new places and enjoy the scenery.
3. Volunteer: Spend time giving back to your community.
4. Learn a new skill: Take a class or workshop.

Eden Song

by James E. Wheeler

I live beneath an apple tree,

And pick all the fruit that's ripe for me.

And then I'll sit and think all day,

And enjoy the peace and quiet here.

And then I'll sit and think all day,

And enjoy the peace and quiet here.

And then I'll sit and think all day,

And enjoy the peace and quiet here.

And then I'll sit and think all day,

And enjoy the peace and quiet here.

For the Editor

I would like to congratulate the members of the Junior Class on their excellent "I'm a 40,000 Knights of the Round Table." It is a fantastic idea and it is a great way to promote the school spirit.

KRYPTEN'S KAPERS

by the editor

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sirs and Madams:

I am writing to express my disappointment with the recent issue of The Gold Bug. I was expecting a high-quality publication, but I was left feeling frustrated and disappointed.

The writing was dry and lackluster, and the design was monotonous. It was difficult to read and digest the content. The articles lacked depth and meaningful substance.

I understand that the media landscape has changed, and that there are many competing outlets for information and entertainment. However, I believe that a student newspaper should set a high standard for excellence in both content and design.

I hope that the editorial board will take this feedback seriously and work to improve the quality of the publication. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

A Senior Reflects on Spring

Many are the signs which tell us that "spring is here." But there is one great sign of spring which tells Western Maryland College is "awake" after a long winter's sleep.

One of the first members of the fraternity, Dr. John A. Lester, Jr., professor of psychology at the University of Maryland, was one of the first to "awake." His first project was to facilitate playing croquet, and in doing so, he has attracted numerous students to the course.

Professor Views Liberal Education

A Woodrow Wilson Professor of English, Professor John L. Hunter, has recently published a book on the subject of liberal education. The book, which is titled "A Student's Guide to a Liberal Education," has received wide acclaim from critics and educators alike.

"The book is an excellent resource for students who are interested in understanding the value of a liberal education," said Professor Hunter. "It provides a clear and comprehensive overview of the key concepts and principles that are central to the study of liberal arts and sciences."

Even the well looks new in springtime.

Nixon Backers Organize Club

By Fromm Weltine

The first of the political booster clubs has been made up for students at Western Maryland College. The club, known as the "Reagan Republicans," is in the process of organizing and has already begun to hold meetings.

The club is primarily focused on campus political events, and is currently planning to organize a "reagan rally" in the near future.

The group elected its officers, including a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, at its first meeting.

The club is expected to continue holding meetings and to organize events throughout the year.

The club is open to all students, regardless of political affiliation.

Sororities, Fraternities Review Post Year

With the end of the academic year, many sororities and fraternities are reviewing their post-year activities. The review process is important for the continued growth and development of these organizations.

Many sororities and fraternities have undergone changes in their membership and leadership over the past year.

Many fraternities and sororities have also focused on community service projects, in addition to social events.

For the fraternities at WMC, the year was marked by "broadly supported" activities and "energetic" participation in campus events.

GAMMA BETA CHI

The president of the Gamma Beta Chi fraternity, who is in his final year of study, is looking forward to the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead.

"The fraternity year was a time of growth and learning," he said. "I look forward to continuing the tradition of excellence and leadership that has been a hallmark of our fraternity."
CLUB NOTES
- Tri-Beta -
Tri-Beta will hold its spring meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Harvey Smith room. The program will include: "Young Men who have paid their dues may dine at the campus," says President H. A. Sturgess.

- IFC -
In April the Inter-Fraternity Council announced its constitution whereby the membership structure was changed. In the past, IFC officers served for a term instead of half as has been done in the past. Hereafter the fraternity president will serve as an officer of the IFC. The purpose of this amendment will be to ensure continuity between semesters and to enable the Inter-Fraternity Council to perform its duties in a more professional manner.

- Delta Omicron -
The members of Omicron Iota Chapter of Delta Omicron will present their annual recital of the music of American composers in the auditorium of the University on Sunday, April 28, at 8 p.m. The program includes music of the members of the chapter and special guests.

Kidnapping 'Guinohowry' Brings Junior Class Triumph

In agreement with tradition, the class of 1961 presented their "Special Edition of the Round Table" on May 5, climax of the year's program. "Guinohowry," brought to life by the faculty and the student body, was the subject of this year's edition. The theme of the event was "THE GIFT" and "THE GIVER." The program was presented in the gymnasium and the audience was thoroughly entertained. Congratulations to the entire campus for the production, Jean Sturchar and Charles S. Sturchar received special recognition for their planning and stage work and Wanda Brown for her wonderful job as stage manager. The program was directed by J. M. T. and brought to life by Harriett N. and the Harvard Repertory Players.

Terror Trackmen Vie For Honor, Records In Mason-Dixon Finals at American University

by Henry Deane

In spite of a mediocre year in track, Western Maryland’s Scholl teams made some interesting moments this year. In most cases, they showed winning records for the first time in years.

The Bobcats, with their strong batting, showed a first place finish in the Mason-Dixon League this year. They tied with seven, and Phi Alpha Beta Alpha is third with their total of seven. Alpha Gamma Delta is fourth with their points, while Pi Alpha Alpha is fifth with their total.

Successful Sports Years: Enters Final Months

Western Maryland’s teams have had some most thriling moments this year. In many instances, they have shown winning records for the first time in years.

It was a refreshing change to see teams overcome their opponents’ lead and rally for a victory. It is the first time in many years that about many fellows who just worked hard and played the game, accepted the fact that the ship was in good hands.

It is one of the skills which give a team the credit. The team that has confidence can improve the play of the right fielder, which might be perhaps two or three minutes of play, which will be a whole new bench. It is a story of athletes with ability, coached by men who know how to get the best out of their talent.

WTO teams won their share. Yes, they took some important gains and losses, but they improved and won the games, even when the losses seemed greater after a well-played contest. But the record was not the important thing. As the saying goes, “It’s not that they won or lost, but how they played the game.”
