With the beginning of another year, students are eagerly welcomed back. And meeting new ones, and the various college organizations are also welcoming everyone with open arms, particularly those who feel like they are being led to work or working for the various groups.

No organization can survive on struggle, greed and misunderstanding. Everyone is needed—opposition for their ideas is the "act or process of educating; discipline of mind or character through study or instruction; also, a stage of such a process or the training in it; as, to receive a college education."

All of us who are students, we have today have come to receive a college education." Not as if we were, however, will gain this education in the same way. Some believe in the "bookish" method of education, and think nothing of the four years of accumulating it. Years from now it will be hard to remember what grade we received in a course. Something will be whether or not we remember what we have been taught and what we have learned. But if you haven’t been able to help us achieve the goals we have set before us.

If Western Maryland is to continue to be a good college, it must be able to provide a strong educational experience for every student.

The college organization welcomes YOU.

Zacharias Plans Lecture Program On Summer Tour Of Soviet Union

Margaret Zacharias returned from a two-month lecture tour of the Soviet Union with a grant from the Foundation of the Righteous Among the Nations, a group of volunteers who work to keep alive the memory of the Jews killed in the Holocaust.

The official exchange between the United States and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics began in June 1969 and concluded in January 1970. Zacharias and Konstantin—the Communist youth organization in the U.S.—were invited to visit factories, a collective farm, and a newsroom stay at an international youth camp just outside Moscow.

"It was an enjoyable experience," Zacharias explained. "It was an opportunity to see the inside of a country known as the 'enemy.'"

"We met many people who were very hospitable and friendly. I was impressed with how much they enjoyed our presence and how eager they were to learn about the U.S."

Zacharias also visited the University of Moscow, the Russian Academy of Sciences, and the Soviet Union's National Library.

"It was a great honor to be invited to Russia," she said. "I hope to return someday and see more of this wonderful country."

Education, to quote Webster, is the "act or process of educating; discipline of mind or character through study or instruction." Also, a stage of such a process or the training in it; as, to receive a college education.

All of us who are students, we have today come to receive a college education. Not as if we were, however, will gain this education in the same way. Some believe in the "bookish" method of education, and think nothing of the four years of accumulating it. Years from now it will be hard to remember what grade we received in a course. Something will be whether or not we remember what we have been taught and what we have learned. But if you haven’t been able to help us achieve the goals we have set before us.

The fall season is about to begin, and it's time to think about what we want.

"It's time to start thinking about college education, after all students were part of the "actively educated" group.

"And the group continues to be early this winter. Their repertoire is growing quickly as the Brothers and Sisters get to know each other."

Faculty Lists New Promotions

Changes and promotions in the faculty and administration were announced at the fall faculty meeting the other night. The major change was the deletion of the position of Dean of Administration.

In the gift of the chemistry building, the chairman of the Department of Chemistry, Dr. Richard A. Hasting, set the pace for the year with his leadership as a faculty member.

The following day the conference was held at the conference center. Under the leadership of the Student Activities Committee, the conference was well organized and a variety of activities were conducted.

The first four sessions, led by Robert Nathan, David Schorsch, and John Richard, talked about participation in extracurricular activities. Members of the group Nancy Daines, Carolyn Stom, and Judy Zinn, moderated the SGA Organizes Book Exchange.

To provide a common "base of exchange in selling used and rare books," the SGA offered a $500 "book exchange" table in the center of the room. Copies of books otherwise not have been available for sale through the organization. George Gutteridge and Judith Sokol led the debate behind the project. They argued that the books, then, would be eligible for sale to other student organizations, and the SGAs. The project was successful and the SGAs were especially pleased to see that most of the books had been sold.

Bachelors Present Homemaking 1962

Homemaking 1962, will be held on October 3, 1962, featuring Fred Perry's country home "The Country Estate," of syndicated columnist Sally Ann Findlay, Mass. This fall feature will take place at the Providence Country Club, 200 Country Club Road, Providence, R.I.

The conference, which was sponsored by the Providence Country Club, will feature a tour of the Perry's Country Estate, which is a picturesque setting, with a swimming pool and tennis court. The event will begin with a reception at the Providence Country Club, followed by an evening social hour at the Country Club. A variety of food will be served at the reception and a sit-down dinner will follow. After dinner, the guests will have the opportunity to tour the Estate and enjoy the outdoor pool and tennis court.

The conference concludes with a tour of the Estate, followed by a champagne toast, a toast to the memory of Fred Perry. Terror Eleven Crushes Bridgewater In Opener

Harmon Foresees Improved Squad

"I feel a bit optimistic this year," said Coach Denny Haymon, who is back for his fourth campaign as WMC soccer mentor. "We have a host of turning players, and a flock of freshmen."

"I am looking for a 'hard nosed' defense," Haymon added, "initiating the pigskin campaign last Saturday with a decisive 14-0 triumph over the visiting Bridgewater Eagles. Quarterback Tory Confer climaxed a scoring drive late in the first half with a seven yard touch-down pass to end Dave Markey. Hard driving fullback Charlie Walters hammered over for the conversion, making it 8-0 for WMC. In the third quarter, Lenny Biser's six yard plunge capped the scoring for the afternoon.

The Eagles took the opening kickoff and marched 94 yards to the Terror one-foot line in the first half before being nailed down for a touchdown by Tom Bowman and Ed Rose up to smother a down bid for a touch-down.

Confer raced 45 yards around right end to the Eagles' 25 yard line. The versatile junior then roomed _ halfback Jim with a first down aerial. Walters then smashed for a score only to have play called back for a hold-penalty. As a result Con-again went to the air and time found Markey for the touchdown.

The Eagles worked the opening kickoff and marched 64 yards to the Terror one-foot line before an aroused forward wall, led by Tom Bowman and Ed Rose up to smother a down bid for a touch-down.
College Wins Scans Faculty, Finds Variety of Advisors

One of the first questions one can ask is whether freshmen on this campus bring in any new ideas. One of the first questions one can ask is whether freshmen who know, and even understand, these ideas have any, or what an advisor does. Everyone has his own ideas, and it depends entirely on the type of advisor he chooses. An advisor matters a lot, the major type matters a lot.

Terror Stalwarts Engulf Cadets As 'Balanced' Attack Clicks Again

Jayvee Upends BJ 18-13: Owens, Magnolotta Lead Win

Sparked by the hard running of Tony Magnolotta and Jerry Owens and the consistent punt returns of Robert Herbar, the Terror edged out Baltimore's Fowler College 18-13. In the third round game of the season, the team brought their won record to 1-1-1.

Following a B.J. touch- down in the first quarter, the W.M.C. leders tied it up in the second period. Jerry Owens intercepted a pass about the B.J.C. 4 yard line and ran 25 yards before being pulled down. Minutes later, Dennis Aris carried the ball 22 yards and scored a touchdown.

Gridmen Go For Win No. 3, Hope To Jolt MacJacks

Free from a hard-earned 1-2-1 win over PMC last weekend, the Terror was looking for a tough competitor tomorrow as they head out to the 11 yard line on an interference call.

As long as the medical condition of Patres, their lone loss coming at the hands of lightweights Lycoming, the Yellojackets have got the perfect opponent in the paperiding department. Although being supported in the secondary by a number of innovations in formations, the W.M.C. squad still holds the advantage in points.

The Terrs, threats again late in the second quarter, reduced their yard line on an interference call, only to have it overturned and the conversion.

The team will have a chance to gain some much-needed paydirt on their own field, in an effort to grab a nation wide recognition.

SPORT SHORTS

Basketball coach Bob Owens has a "sandbag" most coaches can only dream of this season. He has five starters returning plus a bunch of eager and able freshmen. Backreturner Bobby King, Joe Paris, Al Bowers, Bob Wilson, and Bob Shelly, the 6'5" returning center, will form the nucleus for what may be WMC's best lineup in its history.

The team will have a 21-game schedule this season, including an engagement with the Blue Blazes of a Christmas tour.

WMC's new coaching wreck, Magnusson, a graduate of West Chester State College. He has produced last year's first coach, Dan Rinnell, from mere leadership habits.

He is expecting a fine example for his players by keeping them in top form.

The senior class can boast of the fact that in the last three years, starting play, their sport has had a losing record, something few schools can be proud of.

SPORTS SCENE

The addition of an Invitational Tournament to the sports slate this fall is an interesting feature. As an activity not associated with intercollegiate rivalry, the proposed annual double-bill tournament offers the players who have been polishing their strokes a chance to show their wares, but, also, gives the teams a rare chance to invade the major domo on an equal par.

The results promise to be highly entertaining, perhaps even informative. At any rate, the point system is a novel idea and it should be a lot of fun for everyone who participates.

Among the facilities of the new campus, Sain Laboratories, T. C., T. C., and the like, are a few that would require no change in the present unit, or even be held over in the current week in the absence of some faculty members.

The better half of some of those will consist of yet more faculty members at Alice Wood, Barbara Pilk, Marvyn Van Foster, Sandy Bower, Joy Holladay, Margie Tiller and Carol Richardson. If you wish to glimpse some amazing antics and some good sport, drop over to the campus center this week in the afternoon. Don't be surprised if you see some faculty members in the actions also. Some of the prospects are to be too rich a truth.

Coach Waldorf is again employing a system which recognizes outstanding effort on the football field. The plan is similar to the one used last year—players receive "recognition squares" which are placed on their helmets for an outstanding play made during a varsity football game. Both players are classified as seniors and eligible for the receiver of any one pass (except the last one, as the last one passes is considered a "touchdown," and any other play, even if the pass is made in the ground, is considered outstanding; being named as "Defensive Lifter of the Week."

FOUR CAMPUS COIDS VISIT EUROPE: EXPERIENCE SUMMER OF ENRICHMENT

WELCOME ALUMNI!

Some of you are returning after many years absence, while others are only on a short, partial pilgrimage. But all of you are this weekend, and you are most welcome.

The campus has changed remarkably since your graduation. It is much larger, much more beautiful, and much more crowded. But it is still the same.

The past ten years have seen many changes. New buildings have been constructed, and the older ones have been renovated. The campus is now more accessible, and more welcoming. The facilities have been improved, and the grounds have been landscaped.

Some of the most noticeable changes are in the buildings themselves. Old Main, the administration building, has been renovated and now has a new look. The library has been expanded, and now contains more books and resources.

The campus has also become more diverse. Students from all over the world now attend WMC, and their presence has added to the richness of the campus culture.

Despite these changes, the essence of WMC remains the same. It is a place where students can learn and grow, and where they can make lifelong friendships.

Thank you for returning, and we hope you enjoy your time on campus.

Sincerely,

Reflections of Telstar

Remember the picture above? It flashed across your television screen on a hot night last July. Perhaps you remember that it originated from France. And that it shared in the project re- lated to the world's first private enterprise communications satellite.

Since that summer night, the Bell System's Telstar has relayed electronic signals of many types-tele- vision broadcasts, telephone calls, news photographs, and others. But it's one Telstar reflection you might have missed. Look into the faces of the Bell System people below and you'll see it. It is the reflection of Telstar's success that glossed brightly on the faces of all who shared in the project.

Their engineering, administrative and operations skills created a new sense of service better still, more economical, and more useful.

The reflec.tions of Telstar are many.

To the Student Body:

At a recent College Board meeting, the staff discussed the problem of insufficient housing in this campus of student living. Due to financial Con- straints, we cannot always meet the demand for space in our college housing system. However, we are committed to providing as much housing as possible and are currently exploring alternative solutions.

For this reason, we have established a booklet exh- ibiting our current housing options and their prices. The booklet will be distributed to all students and will be updated regularly. We encourage you to review it and make an informed decision about your housing needs.

We appreciate your patience and understanding during this challenging time. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact us. We are here to support you.

The Terror soccer team opened the regular season at home against the powerful Dragons of Drexel Tech. Despite some individual heroes by the Terrors, they ended up on the short end of a 4-2 score.

After the intermission, Drexel put another quick score but then Don Schmidt booted the home team to a 2-1 lead from 25 yards out. After Drexel scored their first goal, Linus Kendele scored for W&M with a beautiful 40-yard free kick to make it 4-2. The Terrors matched Drexel 2-0 in the second half but could not close the gap.

Western Maryland traveled to Mount Saint Mary's with hopes of evening their record. During the match which ended, W&M outplayed the home team to a 1-0 lead but could not put a goal into the net. After 108 minutes of play the score stood at 1-0. Western Maryland opened the second half with 22 shots to 11 for the opposition, and the score remained the same in the first half.

Coach Howard praised the work of fallback Joe Wendtbrook and his efforts in helping to greatly contribute to the shutout victory. The Terrors' teamwork was exemplified in their championship.

The Terror soccer team opened the regular season at home against the powerful Dragons of Drexel Tech. Despite some individual heroes by the Terrors, they ended up on the short end of a 4-2 score. Drexel scored the first two goals of the game as they kept the ball in WM territory. They put away a goal in each of the first two quarters to take a 2-0 halftime lead.

In the Drexel club last Saturday, over in the sewer field, Coach Harmon's 11-man team might have ended them, but they had been "graded" on achievement and performance. According to the rules of the campaign, the WMCC hosted a sad dozen, except for lack of reserves. As such, it was more of a "C" to the Terror dribblers rolled up the lead after 25 yards scoring, after four minutes after their third, it was, in reality, the final score. Drexel finished the game with 15 yards, 209 of which were scored by the senior, is now enrolled at Westminster.

Students often wonder what the "Battle of the sexes" will be like. "It all depends on who wins," says one fraternity bidder. "If we win, we'll have a party on campus, and if they win, they'll have a party in the fraternity house." However, both sides are hoping to avoid an all-out war.

For all the students who are not fraternity members, the "Battle of the sexes" is an opportunity to socialize and have fun. Whether they win or lose, they will have a good time.
Terrors Trip Tigers on Walter’s Field Goal

The Editors’ Sports Scoop

When the unbeaten Terrors tangled with the Crusaders this Saturday, a turning point in this year’s grid campaign, it was evident that after a frustrating season, the Terrors have come up with the football team they are accustomed to. Not only have they scored points and led from an opposing half, but the defense has been equal to every occasion, coming up with the big interceptions of the third quarter. It was most needed; the offense has opened it up in the noon running game to supply a powerful running attack.

In last year’s 34-44 thrilling struggle on the Westminster field, the one thing that the Coach is fond of saying is that it’s defense may be defeated once in a while, but never be discouraged. Last year, it was just a part of too many Crusader scores; this year, the Terrors are not going to let that happen.

The Die Is Cast

Now that some seniors are safely ensconced in their activities, and the boys have only half a term to survive, perhaps they should give a little more consideration to what it means. That does not mean a discussion of the pros and cons of smoking, or the meaning of life, or the like; it means an evaluation of their course of study and the type of work they have done. This involves a careful review of all the subjects they have studied and a consideration of their future plans. It also means a reflection on what they have learned and what they have accomplished.

The new member will probably find that many of the things he has learned in school are not going to be of much use to him in the future. He may also find that some of the things he has learned are not going to be of much use to him in the future. This is not necessarily a bad thing, as it may mean that he is developing a more practical approach to life.

On the other hand, there are many pleasant surprises awaiting him. The glamour of the new world and the real world will reveal itself to him. He may find that he enjoys certain activities more than he thought he would, and that he is more capable of handling certain situations than he thought he was. This is the time to take stock of what he has accomplished and what he has learned.

Various Responsibilities

Keep President Ensor Busy

by Barbara Cook

The ultimate responsibility for every single phase of life lies on the shoulders of President Robert Ensor. With the exception of WFC's first president, Dr. John H. Newell, there has been no more prominent figure in the history of the college. Dr. Ensor's leadership has been marked by a commitment to the principles of the liberal arts, as well as a dedication to the personal development of each student.

Dr. Ensor has been a true leader, both in the classroom and in the community. His dedication to the welfare of his students has been evident in his tireless efforts to improve education at the college and in his efforts to bring together the academic and community communities.

Later, in the 1970s, the Ensor family moved to Los Angeles, and later returned to New York. They have since moved to a 20th st house, and Dr. Ensor has been involved in various activities.

In addition to his duties as the college's president, Dr. Ensor has been a key figure in many other aspects of community life. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the New York Public Library, and has served on the board of the Brooklyn Museum of Television.

Spotlight SGA:
Miller Labs Constitution; SGA Seeks Room for Study

by Dorothy Rack

Nancy Miller, whose position has recently been elevated to that of the newly created executive director of the Student Government Association, has been actively involved in the development of the SGA's new constitution.

"It's already proved effective in that it brings together all the students on campus, rather than focusing on a more central body. The SGA is spread further and there is more emphasis on making pathways of communication clear, and it's been working very well. However, the SGA is also open to change and that should be done in consultation with the Student Government Association." The SGA plans to carry on the work at the Student Government Association.

In the coming weeks, the SGA will be working on the new constitution.

Notice to Students

Not everyone can occupy the position of SGA president. The SGA president is chosen by the student body and is responsible for the overall operation of the student government.

The SGA president is responsible for the overall operation of the student government. The SGA president is also responsible for representing the student body to the administration, and for working with the administration to ensure that the needs of the student body are being met.

Halloween Dirge

by Diane Brog

Night of devil's laughter and strange magic when witches and goblins prowl through the woods and seek of forgotten tombs. The darkest hour of the year has come. The full moon rises in the east, casting a shadow over the woods. Do you believe in the power of darkness? Do you dare to face the unknown? The mystery of the night, the fear of the unknown, the thrill of the unknown, all come together in one night of Halloween.

Reflections of Telstar

Remember the picture above? It flashed across your television screen on a hot night last July. Perhaps you remember that it originated from France. And that it reached the U. S. via Telstar, the world's first private enterprise communications satellite.

Since that summer night, the Bell System's Telstar has relayed electronic signals of many types - television broadcasts, telephone calls, news photographs, and others.

But there's one Telstar reflection you might have missed. Look into the faces of the Bell System people below and you'll see it. It is the reflection of Telstar's success that glowed brightly on the faces of all who shared in the project.

Their engineering, administrative and operations skills created Telstar and are bringing its benefits down out of the clouds to your living room.

These Bell System people, through their talented, dedicated efforts, make your phone service still better, more economical, and more useful.

The reflections of Telstar are many.

Western Maryland To Host Meeting For Women Deans, Counselors

Western Maryland College will host a two-day conference on February 28 and March 1 for women deans and counselors from the National Association of Women Deans and the National Council of Women's Organizations.

The conference will feature sessions on professional development, leadership, and career planning.

On the afternoon of the second day, there will be a special session for counselors, including a panel discussion on the role of the counselor in today's educational environment.

The conference will begin at 9 a.m. on both days and conclude at 4 p.m. on the second day.

Young Republicans Prepare For Convention, Active Year

On college campuses throughout the nation, interest in mounting a convention this year is growing. Students are planning to hold a convention under the auspices of the Young Republicans, a student organization dedicated to promoting the principles of the Republican Party.

The local club was organized in October of 1962. Active membership now totals forty and members are often brought to give interesting speeches about the highlights of GOP activity.

Each year delegates are sent to the Mason-Dixon Regional Convention. Young Republicans from across the country participate in one or more of the activities, either at the convention or on the campus.

This year, many delegates from the Western Maryland College delegation will attend the convention, held in March in Charleston, West Virginia.

High on the Hill

Whitmore, Earhart FAC, Other Campus Groups

Down on the soccer field there will always be someone who can tell you what's going on. And you'll always be able to call him a friend. Whitt... with the way, Haird.* The response to anyone with a problem will always be the same. A hand held out to help and then manage to come out with "Hey, here's a fellow who cares!"

This organization draws its strength from the talents of Deans, Whitmore, Earhart, and the Directors of Counseling, Guidance, and Student Activities. It is a national group which enables the dean to become acquainted and to discuss mutual problems. This is the first year that the organization has met on the Hill.

Dean Holm Hoverson announced that she is planning to host student instants for the meeting.

The nightclub on Saturday includes, in addition to a two-hour speech and discussion session, a coffee hour, bus tour of campus, and bonfire. The speaker will be Dr. Richard Shepperson, who is the Director of Counseling and Student Activities at the University.

Crusader Gridders Hand Terrors First Loss

HOUNDS' TOP HARMONMEN: LOSS MARKS 3rd

Last Tuesday the Western Maryland soccer team traveled to Baltimore to take on the undefeated Greyhounds. The game was played in the famous Whitlock Stadium, and a large crowd turned out to watch the game. Coach Harmon was "the least skilled but most aggressive of the teams," according to the reporter. The Terrors came out on top, scoring a short end of a 4-0 score, and shut out the third consecutive game. Lack of ball control hampered the Terror booters, as they were outshot and played inferior to Paul McRae, noted in the post-game report by Coach Bill Charmers, then Scott Tay- ler, who was moved up to the goal by Jack Harmon. The WM defense was umb, but the Greyhounds made the most of their opportunities. Wayne Whitmers and Joe Wootend were particularly outstanding on defense.

Leds and Zebras played both halfback and lineman in an effort to put more punch in the backfield. Fullback Weibel's efficiency almost won the game for the Terrors, but Zebras' forward play gave the Terrors a 2-1 lead going into a crucial second half. The Terrors were unlikely to score, and the Zebras had the time and space to knock out the Terrors' defense. The game ended in a 2-1 victory for the Zebras.

SPORTS SHORTS

Another poor crowd was recorded at the Terrors' last home game, and the game was played in the high temperature of 75 degrees. The attendance was about 400 people, down from the usual crowd of 2,000. The game was another disappointing loss for the Terrors, who are now 0-3 on the season. The Terrors' next home game is scheduled for October 28, against Millersville University. The Terrors are looking for their first win of the season.

The regular schedule shows 20 games for the 1962 season, with the Terrors needing to put together enough sustained scoring drives to pull the chest. The Terrors have scored a total of 12 points in the first four games, with only one touchdown to their name.

Saturday, October 28, will see the Terrors playing for win number one and a spark of hope. Described by coach Waldford as the "one of the three toughest teams" on the schedule this year, along with Pitt and William Paterson, the Vikings have been deepening their game, and will be hungry for a win.

Young Republican Hear Eisenhower Speak At Rally

On the first official outing of the year, the Young Republican Club journeyed to Des Moines on Thursday where President Eisenhower spoke at the North Field.

Several other dignitaries, including speakers for the Baltimore County and State officeholders, were present. The Eisenhower-speaking statement was followed by questions, and regarding to politics, all tickets with President Kennedy and his doing so were in the cause of the Cuban crisis, and those present.

He went on to say that in the election, Americans should demand, by their votes, changes in our political policy. Eisenhower said that the American people were two-headed; either the continuation of domination by a few or in one party or the choice of government leaders who would reverse the policy. As Lincoln said, he could be "the people," of the people, and for the people.

President Eisenhower said that if he were elected, the Democratic is the destruction of the vitality of the people.

He gave four points which the United States Treasury government as Lincoln does because the students are released in self, pride in work, devotion to students, and Nancy Whitworth.

The faculty committee studying all phases of student life established a Student Life On Hill committee. The committee will conduct meetings with the President and student teaching.

From the address, the chapter takes an active part in state organizational conferences. From September 14 to October 1, a special student housing conference will be in a Leadership Conference.

WMC Engages Drexel Tech, MAC Title 'Up For Grabs'

Despite last year's 18-0 victory, the Terrors will play one of the top MAC games tomorrow against Drexel Institute of Technology at 8 p.m. The Terrors defeated the Baltimore News Post in the MAC title game last year with a decisive 26-0 victory.

The MAC title is up early in the first game of the season. The Terrors will be led by quarterback Jim Crosswhite and running backs Ken Shelly and Pat Bloodsworth. Shelly led the Terrors last year with 1,200 yards and 16 touchdowns. Crosswhite has already scored 28 touchdowns and is expected to have a big year.

Preachers Extend Win Streak

On October 8, 1962, the Preachers defeated the Rams by a score of 20-6. This game marked the start of the Preachers' win streak which lasted until the end of the season. The Preachers eventually went on to win 10 straight games, setting a new school record.

Evaluating Booters Bomb Gallaudet

The Bowers Bomb Gallaudet after defeating the Terrors in the MAC title game last year. This year, the Bowers Bomb Gallaudet is off to a hot start, winning their first two games of the season by scores of 35-7 and 28-14.

TERRORS BLANK DICKINSON, UPSALA, FOES REVITALIZED

The Terrors scored twice in the first quarter and led 14-0 at halftime. In the second half, the Terrors dominated the game, scoring 21 points to secure their victory. The Terrors' defense was impressive, holding the opposition to just 7 points.

Griddlers Hit Stripe Again As Biser Ignites Offense

Turning Upsala's homeland into a nightmare, the Green Terror club blasted their hosts in East Orange, N.J., Saturday, October 27 as they trounced the Flashes 30-7.

Unleashing a withering attack on the ballclub's defense, junior fullback Lenny Biser, a member of this year's all-state and all-NJAC team, ran wild, scoring a total of just 27 yards and two extra points, and an unofficial record by running up 160 yards in 22 carries. In addition, the talented senior from Baltimore hurling enemy ball carriers all afternoon and intercepted a fourth quarter pass while running through.

Hark!

The cry on the golf course is always 'Lubbi' unless it is twenty-deck. You may ask what the significance of this is. Well it's out on the course some afternoons twenty-deck is about twenty-five yards from the hole. It is the distance in yards from the pin to the hole. In the past, this has been the problem that has plagued golfers when trying to hit the ball and have it land on the green. This year, the golfers have found a way to make the ball land on the green and get it in the hole.

Reform From Within

Five people are unaware that students are becoming increasing anxious to make changes in the system. The student government frequently takes the form of "let's abolish compulsory chapel," which the administration usually says they cannot do for legal reasons. Perhaps the students would like to know that not attending religious services on a voluntary basis does not mean they are not interested in the discussion and activities that take place. Certain problems is wrong when seven hundred students were in attendance at a chapel service as a study hall.

There are several little things that various students find annoying; yet the major one being that even attentive chapel listeners are too distracted to hear the words they don't interest. This isn't so that the individual person is interested in the discussion, rather it is that reason is that they are watered down for college consumption. "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want..." To a student who is speaking to a partially-Jewish audience, a rabbi that he is addressing is the only person interested. What is the sense of having guests if they don't say anything?

There is certainly nothing wrong with a little controversy for it is through these that students are becoming increasingly aware of the relevancy of religious matters. With the Washington and Baltimore areas to draw from, there should be no limit to the topics that can be discussed. However, students are unaware that there are over three hundred stimulating speakers available. Someone—a Dean of the Chapel, perhaps—should have the function of obtaining these people and acquainting us with their speaker's interpretation, but they will listen—and learn. Why not give the college audience something by something?

Cagers Nip Greyhounds, Crush Alumni in Debut

The Territor made their official basketball debut last Friday night at the arena and in a 90-60. Both early in the game, and in the second half, seniors John Martin and Jerry Phillips, the varsity's highest scorers during this past season, both posted double figures.

Last Tuesday, the team started a second team, against the Greyhounds, and midway in the first half, they held a commanding 23-20 lead. Spurred by the presence of Howard Wagner, the Territor cruised to a half of the minute later, the lead changed hands six times. The score at halftime stood at WMC 39, Loyola 28.

In the second half, the two teams fought neck and neck with the difference in the score being four points over four periods. In the 40 minutes of action, Cagers, O'Malley, and Leimkugel scored high in Loyola's 11-point lead. All three Loyola players had over four rebounds, while the Territor, four players scored over four rebounds in the second half.

The Territor came out on top with 12 points in the third period. They were led by Howard Wagner, who scored 12 points. On Tuesday night, Wagner scored 12 points, but the game was over by halftime.

The Greyhounds were led by four players scoring over four points, while the Territor was led by four players scoring over four points.

Rifle Team Players Lafayette Squad

During the past few weeks, the Western Maryland rifle team has run into stiff competition. On Nov. 16, the Territor men's team from Dela- ware University and were defeated by the Lafayette College team, 57-28. Then they met with Lafayette College again on Dec. 15, the final score being 76-34. Later, the Territor team defeated Lafayette College, 76-34.

Last Saturday, however, the Territor team went to the University of Pennsylvania and defeated the Quakers, 76-34. The Territor team has now won four straight games and is in the lead in the conference.

The Territor were led by four players scoring over four points, while the Lafayette team was led by four players scoring over four points.

Grapplers Lose In Close Match

The 1962 Territor wrestling team began its season this winter and in its first meet, the Territor lost to a strong team. The Territor were led by four players scoring over four points, while the Lafayette team was led by four players scoring over four points.

The Editors' Scope

The success of varsity athletes at WMC, as Coach Waldorf has remarked on occasion, depends, not only on the competitive skill and the participating athletes, but on the blending of the team talent and fan support. There is probably more than a small amount of truth in the assertion that one group cannot flourish unless the other group is motivated. This is winning ball- team, while the swimming team, and the track team, while still functioning, were not, in the opinion of the editor, as a coordinated unit.Victor/Star

The recently concluded football season, sparked by a powerful offensive line, which drew notice from not only Territor fans but people throughout the state, afforded an excellent opportunity for the Territor football team to show what they are capable of doing. Victory, in the opinion of the editor, was motivated by the Territor, while still functioning, were not, in the opinion of the editor, as a coordinated unit.

The last, starting tonight, Coach Clower's boosters, with high expectations for a great campaign, take over at Gilm and the fans get their first real opportunity to see the team action this year. As the season progresses, and the team proves its mettle, interest will be running high on campus. With this in mind, we would like to offer a few suggestions to the student body that can either be acted upon or put off until another time. Initially, of course, that can be defined from watching interesting, top flight, and to the extent that which can be extended to the team, who appreciate the fact that everyone is actively involved, but which do not to create awareness during football season, are especially important to the Territorians, the Territor fans, and the Territorian-Fans State.

The Territor, basketball, will be expected to be a top-flight team this year, as the boys realize that the Territorians, the Territor fans, and the Territorian-Fans State.

Remembering the gold bug, the squall was roused, as John Jay, the Territor's head man, saw a possibility for athletes, particularly in athletics. "If I had it to do over again, would I take Army ROTC?"

My wife and I are in Panama at the moment. She likes it. You know, Officers' Club, dances—that sort of thing. I like it, too. Whether I stay in the Army or not, the question is: Would I take Army ROTC if I had it to do over again? Yes, I certainly would. In spades, I didn't realize how lucky I was. At the time I figured: Okay, so I'll get my degree—get an Army commission, too, and pick up some extra money along the way! I was wrong. Boy, was I wrong! Looking back on it, I wouldn't trade the leadership training I got for anything! Take my word for it, leaders are made—not born! Whether I stay in the Army or not, nobody can take away what I've learned. And let's face it, where can anybody my age step out of college and walk into a standard of living this good? Look, if you have already invested two years in college ROTC, take it from me: Stick it out! It'll be one of the smartest things you ever did.
Hellenic Groups Schedule Festive Yuletide Activities

With Christmas fast approaching, the Hellenic Organizations are gearing up for their annual Christmas events. The Hellenic Organizations are hosting a variety of activities, including caroling, lighting the Yule log, and enjoying holiday treats and music. These events are a great way to celebrate the holiday season and enjoy the company of friends and family. Whether you are Greek, or just enjoy celebrating Greek culture, there is sure to be an event for you.

College Schedules, Teachers' Exams

On February 16, the National Teacher Examinations will be given. These exams are given throughout the United States and are used to determine the quality of teachers in the region. The exams are administered by the National Teacher Examinations, which include a written test and an oral interview. The written test covers a wide range of topics, including general knowledge, language arts, mathematics, science, and social studies. The oral interview is used to assess the candidate's ability to communicate ideas clearly and effectively. The exams are an important part of the process for determining the quality of teachers in the region and are used by schools to ensure that they have the best possible teachers for their students.

Climate Change: The Future of Our Planet

Climate change is one of the most pressing issues of our time. The earth's climate is changing, and the consequences are far-reaching. As the planet warms, sea levels rise, and weather patterns become more extreme. These changes can have a profound impact on human societies, as well as on the natural world. It is up to us to take action to address this crisis.

Campus Events

This week, the campus is hosting a variety of events, including a lecture series, a performance, and a workshop. The lecture series is focused on the history and culture of the Middle East, and will feature talks by experts in the field. The performance is a production of a classic play, and is directed by a well-known director. The workshop is an opportunity for students to learn new skills, such as photography or writing.

Update on Campus Events

The campus has updated its website to include information on upcoming events. The website is a great resource for students and faculty, as it provides information on all of the events happening on campus, as well as links to more information. Students and faculty can use the website to plan their schedules and make the most of their time on campus.

What is a tradition? Something that's always been done but never mentioned, not even by those who have been doing it. It's an unspoken rule, an unspoken agreement, a pattern of behavior that persists, even in the face of change.

Assembley Speaker Sparks Race Relations Discussion

Assembly speaker John Howard Griffin Jr. said it is 100 years too late to correct the wrongs of yesterday. Those who have been educated and have not had the experience of being raped and being black are not interested in understanding and correcting the wrongs of the past. Jeannie Gives Blanche Ward Air-Raid Drills and Cheer

By Anne Whitfield

"Oh, Blanche," alias Jeannie Willis, has no bargains on her air-raid activities. She has launched a new campaign to save the Hill.

Jeannie, the dynamo, is busy all day with the Air-raid drills and cheering. She has been spotted on the Hill, in the dorms, in the library, and in the dining hall. She has been seen with a "Hi, Mr. President!" This is an all-out campaign to show the world that Jeannie is ready to do her part in protecting her country.

In the orchestral society, she has been responsible for the creation of a new song called "Hillman." She has been seen with a "Hi, Mr. President!" This is an all-out campaign to show the world that Jeannie is ready to do her part in protecting her country.

Jeannie's innovations are proof of her enterprise and business acumen. As recording secretary for Delta Phi Epsilon, she sometimes reads the mail and listens attentively (even if the mail is not hers). And she always manages to make it really personal-her problems presented her.

Jeannie claims she never knows how to let her hair down, but those who know her say otherwise. What is the history of this woman who is the candidate-struggling for her seat in the next election?

Circuit Tour of Campus Discloses Origins, Explanations Of Mottoes

Sister of the inscription on the Latin flag is that it is "I am a virgin," our school motto. There are several reasons for this.

1. It is a symbol of the Latin school motto.
2. It is a symbol of the Latin school motto.
3. It is a symbol of the Latin school motto.
4. It is a symbol of the Latin school motto.

Latin word "Audie" shows the main entrance to Lewis Hall. It is an old word that means "I am a virgin," our school motto. There are several reasons for this.
Sidewalks To Replace Walkways To Grille

To help combat winter hazards and the Hill, two new sidewalks will be constructed leading to the Student Union Building. They will be parallel to the walkways from the Chapel and Louise Hall. The steps, which will be similar to those on the old library, will eliminate the necessity for hand rails. It is hoped that these safety measures will decrease injuries caused by winter snow and slush.

WAA Joins National Health Organization

Sets Date For Annual Awards Party

The Women's Athletic Association has recently become a member of the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. Samantha Roeder has been appointed as the official representative to the organization. She is already a member-at-large on the national group.

The Awards Party, given annually by the Association, will take place shortly after the Christmas vacation. The purpose of the party is to recognize some of the most participants of the College Athletic program. However, WAA will award the most outstanding efforts in intramural and varsity sports.

Rules and the schedule for the intramural sports tournaments will be posted next week and games will be held following the Christmas vacation.

When Sam Leisher decided to forsake football for basketball, Coach Waldorf found a potential quarterback and Coach Clower snagged a promising guard. As a signal caller for Ed- mondston's long-suffering basketball team, the Racine-born Leisher was named to the first all-City squad in his senior year. At the time, Edmondston, a reformed prep school, was new to the gridirons and remained for them to plant their flag along with Edmondston.\n\nA year later, Edmondston, a reformed prep school, was new to the gridirons and remained for them to plant their flag along with Edmondston. The new school's athletic program was administered by Julian Dyke, who later matriculated on the football and basketball coach. Dyke's tenure included leading the team to its fifth consecutive championship, a feat unmatched by any other coach in the city's history. The team's success was attributed to the efforts of its versatile star, who, under Dyke's guidance, was able to concentrate on basketball. The result was, of course, a marked improvement in the team's performance.\n\nIn contrast to high school basketball, Sam finds the college game more demanding. He had been used in the Gallaudet ball of basketball at Hofstra, and as predicted some time back, which saw the Terrors come from behind to win an overtime thriller, 44-42. The loss was an indication of the fact that neither team could mount a consistent scoring drive all evening.

Chaos And Confusion

Labor strikes on the home front and political crises abroad have prevailed strong foreign for the arrival of 1962. The reports about Korea, Berlin, and Vietnam have frightened the world into the brink of the abyss. The situation is complex and the solution seems far from being achieved.

Life isn't easy for most people, especially for those who are on the verge of poverty. The high cost of living and the economic crisis have increased the pressure on the budget. The government has taken some measures to control inflation, but the results have been limited.

Letters to The Editor

Strenuous Objection

There are a number of issues that I find objectionable. I think that the government should be more transparent and accountable. The actions of some officials and agencies have led to public anger and frustration.

The more I think about it, the more I come to the conclusion that the state of the world is dire. The problems of war, poverty, and disease are not being adequately addressed.

Strenuous Objection

The government should be more responsive to the needs of the people. The policies and regulations that have been implemented have not been effective in addressing the issues.

The Editors' Sports Scope

The Christmas vacation served as a welcome breather for almost everybody on the Hill. Yet, while the rest of us were recharging our batteries, Coach Clawson and his crew were on vacation short jaunt to the Norfolk Navy Base in Virginia, the site of the annual Thanksgiving Tournament. Back on campus, the press reported on the frigid weather, noting that the pocketful of snow showers was coming at a bad time, forcing the hand of the coaches. The Terriers were off to a hot start, winning all of their first five matches, but the good times were short lived as the visitors controlled the second five, with the home team losing 3-2.

Matmen Upend American U., Boost Record To 3-2 Mark

WMC grapplers swept the first five matches, sailing away on an impressive victory over American U. in the opening set. The visitors ended up with five points, but the Mounts overhauled another three points with a smashing 11-6 decision. In the final set, American U.'s Rick Footer supplied the victor in Dual Key. Tom Bayley edged out a narrow point in the second set, and Kirk Springer in the third set, 6-3, 6-1, 6-2.

SPORTS SHORTS

Jim Payor, a 42 grad of WMC, was recently honored as the Outstanding Lineman of the Cape May County Chapter's football team at a banquet held in Wildwood, N. J. Hall of Fame, M.C., and moderator of the event was becoming one of the Hill's all-time great linemen.

X-rays taken of Roy Terry,’s right head closely show a tiny vertebra bone. "Rosco" figured out the football playing, and finding the milk bottle in general freed some coach Clawson's charges.

Actualizing the story of the few who are as impressive as they might be in regular season victories over such teams as F&M and Villanova. If a few of these men will shake the invisible chains that hamper and go on to fulfill the potential within them. The important rule of the fan is to stay 100% behind the team so that the players do not feel they've got no-see-um vibes.

Net Showdown Tightened

A very close race has developed between last year's champions, the Yale Bachelors and the Intramural champions, the Phi Delta Theta. Yale defeated the Presidents at 4-6, the Bachelors at 3-5, and the Phi Deltas at 3-0. However, one could walk away from the field of play.

Lurking right behind the leaders are the B.A.'s, who lead both Yale 6-6 and the Bachelors 5-5 if they should fall on the Gamma Betes with a 2-0 record.

Intramural Race Tightened

A very close race has developed between last year's champions, the Yale Bachelors and the Intramural champions, the Phi Delta Theta. Yale defeated the Presidents at 4-6, the Bachelors at 3-5, and the Phi Deltas at 3-0. However, one could walk away from the field of play.

Lurking right behind the leaders are the B.A.'s, who lead both Yale 6-6 and the Bachelors 5-5 if they should fall on the Gamma Betes with a 2-0 record.

Emphasis On Religion

Religious Emphasis Week is coming. There will be many activities of interest to students, faculty, and visitors. One of the activities should be a means to a deeper religious experience. For many people, the word "religion" may be very vague and based on hearsay or on the basis of a brief study in a primary school or high school course. It is often used in an emotional way to express one's feelings to others. For many, religion is a foreign word, not understood in its meaning.

The primary purpose of college is to broaden one's outlook. This is best achieved by the consideration of various points of view. There are many opportunities and experiences that a student can look through in order to understand his life better. As a college student, he should study and learn from other people who have had different experiences in life. This will help him understand the world better.

Religious Emphasis Week is an opportunity to learn about different religions and their beliefs. There will be lectures, discussions, and other activities that will help students understand the importance of religion in their lives. This is a great opportunity to learn about different beliefs and cultures and to gain a deeper understanding of the world.

Religious Emphasis Week starts on Monday, February 10, and continues until February 15. There will be lectures, discussions, and other activities every day during this week. Students are encouraged to attend these events and to learn as much as possible.

The theme for Religious Emphasis Week is "The Spice of Life." This theme is chosen because it is a way to express the importance of religion in one's life. The "spice" represents the "fire" of religion, and it is a way to express the importance of this topic.

The word "religion" means "to feel religious." This is the feeling that one has when he is involved in religious activities. It is an emotional feeling, and it is often expressed through prayer, meditation, or other religious practices.

Religious Emphasis Week is a great opportunity to learn about different religions and to gain a deeper understanding of the world. Students are encouraged to attend these events and to learn as much as possible.

TERROR HOOPLA'S SHOOT DOWN RIVAL BLUE JAYS
HAMPDEN-SYDNEY EDGES MATMEN: GARVIN REMAINS UNDEFEATED

Wrestling at home on Monday, Jan. 14, the Terrors were edged out by three points ... with 31-0. Mike Egan pinned his man in the second period of the match, with Ron Garvin, who had never won a match this year, winning a decision over Egan. At 137, just his match by a decision, Ron Garvin beat his man 7-2. At 157, George Schuler won by fall in 1:14 with Gil Smith pinning his man at 1:10. Gil Smith got the only decision points. Jim Cope lost his match to Steve Specht for his first time, and Gary Ko- link, heavyweight, was both pinned. The final score was WMC 14, H-D 12.

Saturday, Jan. 12, saw the Terrors defeat meet one of their toughest opponents for this season — Mount St. Mary. Although the team wrested a good match, the Mount Hawks won 27-12, scoring a victory of 22 seconds. The Terrors were flattened, and their first defeat of the season when he lost his match by a decision.

In the 120 weight class, Gil Garvin beat his man 7 to 1. In the 135 class, Bob Kye and his opponent wrestled to the end. Jim Cope experienced his first defeat of the year, losing to Boys winning 147; Bob Ione, 225; and Howard Schuler, a novice in the sport, but won a 10 to 0 decision over Mike Cope. Gil Smith did not compete.

Two Frats Remain Unbeaten

Any thoughts about changing the Intramural Basketball Championships are heard from. Most of the players have had any thought about changing the tournaments. The Intramurals take a high priority in the minds of the players, and will not be reformed soon. As of this writing the Franche-tippecanoe and Phi Gamma Delta both remain unbeaten, and the strong Gamma Rho Fraternity remains in a tie for second place.

The Social Studies Major

The newspapers are full of attacks on the social studies major. Some say it is too abstract, others say it is too practical. But what do these people know about the social studies major? They have never taken a course in it. They have never read a book by an expert in the field. They have never had a professor who is passionate about the subject. They have never had a chance to discuss the issues with their peers. They have never had a chance to challenge their own assumptions. They have never had a chance to learn.

The Social Studies Major is the best major a student could choose. It is a major that is both challenging and rewarding. It is a major that will prepare a student for a lifetime of learning. It is a major that will give a student a unique perspective on the world. It is a major that will give a student the skills they need to be successful in any field.

Kappa Alpha Mu Announces Photography Competition

Kappa Alpha Mu, the National Press Photographers Association, and the World Book Encyclopedia, have announced their seventh annual international photography competition.

The deadline for receiving prints is March 1, 1962. The rules are:

1. Any person graduate or undergraduate enrolled in degree program is eligible.
2. Pictures will be judged in ten categories: portrait, news, feature, college life, pictorial, portraiture, personality, sports, series-sequence. (Unfolded as a single unit), color over picture (print or transparency), and category X—pictures which are different and not otherwise classified. The picture series or sequence shall be mounted on not more than three 16 x 20 boards, hinged together with tape.
3. Top classification in the competition will be in portfolio. It permits the judges the same overall work for the entire year on the basis of quality, variety, consistency, interest, emotional content, and photographic excellence. It must contain one picture story or sequence, pictures from at least three other categories. The portfolio entries will be judged on the basis of the same criteria used for the single picture or story category. The theme of the portfolio is left up to the individual. The portfolio will be judged on the basis of the same criteria used for the single picture or story category.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

Salute: Joe Amwake

Joe Amwake (B.S., 1959) is a Sales Engineer with the Long Lines Department of AT&T. Joe supervises five people responsible for the installation of new telephone service in the state of Alabama. Quite a responsibility for a man who's been in the business only three years.

Joe had demonstrated early on that he could handle responsibility. For instance, on his first telephone job he coordinated the installation of new telephone lines in 16 x 30 boards.

Silver Contest Offers Awards

There are only a few weeks left in Reed & Barton's "Silver Opinion Competition." The competition, in which Western Maryland has been invited to participate, is open to all undergraduate women on this campus.

"The Silver Opinion Competition," twelve designs of sterling and eight designs of both silver and crystal are illustrated.

The contest simply lists the best combinations of sterling, china, and Priscilla Ord is the student chairman conducting the competition for Reed & Barton at WRC. These interested in entering should contact Priscilla Ord by mail, and complete details concerning the rules. She also has samples of the latest sterling patterns featured in the contest so that entrants can see how these patterns actually look.

Priscilla Ord, 32 East Main Street, is sponsoring the contest in Westminster, and has complete place settings of each of the silver, shown as well as several selections in crystal and china being used in the competition.

The First Grand Award is a $500 cash scholarship; Second Grand Award, a $300 scholarship; Third, a $250 scholarship; Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Awards, $250 scholarship for O'Connor Scholarship Competition, Ninth, and Tenth Awards, $100 scholarship each. Each of the winners will be selected by the judges, and all details concerning the rules, will be published in the competition.

In the "Summer Employment Directory," there will be 160 other awards besides the Golden Bug staff. Among the others are the Herald, a friendly word of the art department. The "Summer Employment Directory" will get you a precise, step-by-step answer.

Clowermen To Tackle Mounts In Last Home Game

Grapplers Roll Up Victory Over Visiting Towson State

On February 4 & the Western Maryland mounties rolled up an impressive 29-2 victory against visiting Towson State College. Mike Eagan, center, one of the most dependable men on the Carrolls' gridiron squad, put only 1-15. Eagan now holds victories over all of the Towson State opponents. The other Carrolls who laced up were Gil Mullen and Jim Boll, both of whom scored touchdowns.

TOM O'HALLORAN FINDS HIS SPOT and anchors a soft one-down for the huddle as teammats Leubhore digs for the gold. Towson provides the opposition.

This Tuesday night the Clowermen will face Mount St. Mary's in the final home game of the season-long wily Mount clash. After coming within minutes of upsetting Coach Plunder's quintet in their first ever, the Terrons are again eyeing a prospect.

Tonight, February 15, at 7:30 pm the Preachers and the RNA Betes will play in a contest that will decide the Gamma Chapter title.

Last weekend's win over visiting Towson State in a 9-0 decision, puts the team in second place at the Gamma Betes' third.
The Bookstore Replies
To the Editor:

The recent story of the GOLU BUG stated editorially in the issues of February 15th and March 15th is nothing new, nor is it anything that the students have not known about for a long time.

In reply—

1. The local Bookstore, having been its mission to drive out the old Bookstore ever since it was opened, has been surprisingly slow in achieving its objective.

2. The Bookstore does not handle used books. We believe the President in his statement to be justified in his claim that we have encouraged and assisted it in this activity, which is the function of the Bookstore.

3. We are still in the process of purchasing the proper stock of certain items which are not available in the Bookstore.

4. There is no fee charged for the purchase of textbooks in the Bookstore.

5. As Mr. Spier said, there are many books which are "unavailable" in the Bookstore.

6. The Bookstore is one of the few places to buy the current editions with newer expected expenditure of any type of material.

7. It is true that the Bookstore has not been able to place orders for a number of books which are needed.

8. We are willing to work with the students in obtaining better service in the future.

9. If the Bookstore had not been open earlier, we would have been able to sell the students more books.

10. We are trying to work with the students in order to find a solution to the problem.

11. The price of the book is not controlled by the Bookstore.

In conclusion, the Bookstore is willing to work with the students in order to find a solution to the problem.

For Operation Philippines' Study

The Philippines Islands will be the site of a new project which will be sponsored by the Student Opportunity Service. The project, "Operation Philippines," comprises the establishment of a library on a "grount for two" basis at a small community college in the province of Zamboanga in the Philippines.

The Student Opportunity Service (SOS) is a new organization sponsored by the Gamma Omega Chapter of the Alpha Xi Delta National Sorority. This organization is being established to provide the support of the entire students' body, under the leadership of 13 members.

The SOS will later be turned over to the Philippine students in the Philippines, and they will work to raise funds for the library in order to support the school.

The students will be allowed to work with the Filipinos to establish the library and to raise funds for the school.

Mounts Blast Terrors 74-58 in Home Finale
WMC GRAPPLERS DEMOLISH FROSTBURG IN HOME ENCOUNTER

Last Tuesday's contest against the Mounts provided WMC headman Bob Carson with his second victory of Western Maryland's top freestyle players.głoth Kash, iron to form, turned in his usual best effort performance. "Tom O'Malley, the Big O, already installed the form, from the outsize and unmatchable hands of the Mounts," said many wrestling historians. In the past years, Dave "Squires" Ruxton, playing as one had been the match, and his band led to an unusual, creditable performance.

Ebullient by his absence, Bob Wagenet, the perennial sparkplug, failed to dent the lineup in this, last home game. This was a hit treat for the "Wags," over the year. Howe filled the role of sixth man or spare. This year, Howe came on in many occasions, particularly ready in the rear to spear the team's effort.

Against the Mount, a spark was needed. The game was painfullike, but for the unerring acumen of Dave Maloney, the Terrors found no answer. If Klitz, the Big O and Ron Smith were great, as they were, Maloney was magnificient. And that made the difference.

One of the most successful athletic teams on campus this year, the WMC Terrors "topped off" second Army Inter- league Matches last week and walked away with the highest score of the year, by a Terror equal 141. Last year's team scored 198 and placed seventh among 200 competing colleges, universities, and academies. Although the official placements are not available, this year's ranking should be even higher. Hats off to Burgess Turner, our former star Mitti Crowthers, Barry Burdine, Mackie Brunner, Arundtun Klitz, "Boys" Bowman, Mill Hendrickson, and Jerry Barbee for a job.

The organizational meeting of the Track team will be held in Gill Gym on Monday, Feb. 25, at 6:30. Everyone interested is urged to attend.

Dames Demolish Torquelles
In the first game of the season, S. Scon with Notre Dame, on Feb. the action for the first time. The football team failed to click, losing the normal for the team. The usual hitting ability of Paul "Bailey" Keedy and Barry O'Keefe, and bullying Michael "Bigg" Smith and Tom "Malloy" Sizer, all helped the girls had trouble hitting the ball. The first baseman, Peter "Barbara" Keeler threw off the high, and 16 points.

In the half the WMC girls were trailing by only two, but Bob Rohter and Bob Smith fouled off, and went out of the game until the fourth quarter.

Maloney Guides Visitors;
Shirey, Klitz Pace WMC

Despite an enthusiastic home audience, the Terrors dropped the line-winners to Mount St. Marys Tuesday night, 74-58. The described contest by college champions who had taken their troubles this year were not too much for the Clovernook this evening and led almost throughout the contest.

SPORT SHORTS

According to "all Mason-Dixon-"source," Robert "Klitz," the Terrors league will add Washington & Lee University to their '63-'64 schedule, which will again be inclusive Fredette, Mt. St. Mary's, Ferris Engineers, and other university small-college powers.

Frank Wade and Bob Carson are WMC's most club sport fans. Last year they journeyed to Alston, Pa., to watch WMH's b-siders in the VCH championships and this year they met the team up at Lebanon, Pa., for the Pac-10.

Mickey Bloodworth has also signed up to fill Fredette (NT) and over to Washington College to play a half game. Keep it up fellows!

San LeBaron's 14 points vs. Bob Rohter's 12 was high. Sam has pressed Bob to the head for the last two seasons.

The wrestling team was "up" for the recent match against Loyola. One reason was the "Legion" with the five-pointers up all the locker room telling them how they should be doing. As the first half opened, the Terrors controlled the top, and by O'Malley quickly superior with a foul from the point line, after which, however, few minutes had elapsed, the Mounts had brought it to 51 and by half had led 38-26. Although both teams were even in field goals in the first period (10 apiece), the Mounts were more accurate from the foul line, hitting 4 of 6 compared to 4 for 6 for WMC.

In the second period, the En-

fulfilled their chances for a first place finish in the M-D and was especially dismal for the four graduating seniors playing their last home game. After a Thursday away game with HU, the Terrors travel to Catholic U. to play in the annual M-D-Tournament.

Fighting an uphill battle for most of the contest, the visitors, the Terrors were defeated 74-58 by Mount St. Mary's, finally punctured in the last minute. The big 70, who was the label for the majority of the season, threw in 43 points with accurate long range and dribbling strategy. After 14-17, LeBaron contributed 15, the Terrors scored 18, and 17 through the course as the Terrors led by a consistent 44-point total at the season.

Bachelors Clinch Hoops Laurels With 60-34 Win Over Pancraziers
Playing before an almost capacity audience, the Bachelors turned on the heat on the Pancraziers for a 60-34, thus virtually clinching the championship of the division. As the half ended, the Bachelors were holding the lead, 14 lead. However, in the second half, the Pancraziers rallied and tied the contest for 12 points while Carmen Perry scored three five-pointers in the second half, leading to 18 points while backcourt Tony Curry rounded out the 12. Big Dave Pearson threw in 12 points. Two, Tony Curry and Jerry Moore chipped in six. Four, Joe Perry and Bob Ray, Perry scored six and Richard Robison scored two. Dick Rittel's support strolled in and started to lift, and of course to work on the backcourt.

Recently much criticism has been aimed at the administration—criticism which may not speak above the whispers of student gripes, but which nevertheless is still there. The chief student complaint is that the administration cares not enough to open its doors and let the students in. The results of this attitude are too tight, yet there seems to be a solution in the words of the song: "The whole world is waiting for the day when we can say goodbye to the night."

The Plight of the Poor Amoeba

From the press-room above the fountain, the amoeba could hear the whispering down there. Apparently disinterested in the drama of the last play, he made a suggestion to his congener. "A national policy," he said.

Charlie Captures Campus
Carefully with many talents available, Charlie captured the student body's attention. From his wooden box, he launched a campaign. With a deft manipulation of the field phone, Charlie achieved what would normally be considered a direct hit and controlled the news media. With a skillful maneuver of his head and glared at the listeners, he said:

"Why should I put it in the paper?"

For college, "Coach" said.

KAMPUS KWIPS

Heaven comes to Bell: Our core is under attack. The normal tissue of the campuses is in danger from the homework that has been piled onto us. The trouble is that it is too big and we are too small. We need a leader, a true leader, to save our souls. It is about time the students stopped playing tug-of-war with the administration. Perhaps, when we start building together, we can fuse the two ends to reach our common goals much faster. Both ends have to make, and only in making them can they supply what Western Maryland needs to make it a more vital institution.

Argonauts Honor Top Academics

President and professors have written a 20-year age span address to the Argonauts at the Argonaut annual banquet on February 26, in McDaniel Lounge. At this time the installation of three new associate members also took place. Those honored by membership in the society were David Forrester and Gerald Miller, and the Argonauts. Entertainment for the evening was provided by the Women's Accordion, Carolee Reis on the piano, and the Argonauts who gave their annual reading. "Campus Rants" by Brian Said.

Devils Dump Terrors in Final Mat Match

The Green Terror matmen completed their season Saturday, falling victim to Dickinson College 25-5. Mike Eagan salvaged the loss, though, by prevailing over the other member of the duo, Dickinson’s Rod Schenck. Eagan’s fall earned him the win at 123 pounds, on the basis of the beauty’s 15-11 decision. Mike Garvin had the misfortune of being paired with Bob Lehmkuhl, a first-rate wrestler, and fell victim to Jim Gantaitis, Dickinson’s best man. The loss to Dickinson brings the total record to 5 wins and 1 loss for the season.

Bachelors Clobber Betes

A battle of superior skill proved the event as the Gamma Betes and Bachelors in the final intramural wrestling match. The Gamma Betes had previously had the upper hand in the series, with victories in the final eight meetings. The Bachelors, losing by only the slender margin of 5 points, were a threat to their champions this round, however, was far off the mark.

Terry Conde controlled the tempo, and led the Bachelors to their 15-12 to 11-13 victory as they dominated the backwoods with their superiority. However, with no points in the first set, the Wildcats took a lead of 11-6. By the end, the Gamma Betes offense with their 13-8 win.

The Bachelors roared to 10 straight points in the final set, and as the Gamma Betes could score. However, with the win, the Bachelors held closer in their efforts of the victory. Loyola Win Highlights Terror Net Campaign

The revived Terrors, who finished second in M-C league play this season, could be the dark horse candidates in the Terror's shors. With O'Malley's 30 points against in winning the form that made him an all-Mid Atlantic forward and earned him a tremendous 15.0 season average, the hardcourt for the Terror will be made up of just as many. The team consists of the nation's capital Thorne, who will be a junior, finished first in the championship finals. Before the Monday night, however, the Terror's season will come to an end.

Recalling some of the highlights of the 1962 season, three games stand out immediately. One was the opening game in which the Terror beat a tough Greyhound five on Loyola's home court in an overtime thriller, O'Malley, three in 20 points, and the opening Whiting 1/2 win over successive overtime foul shots to beat the team who eventually finished a first place finish. Before the Monday night, however, the Terror's season will come to an end.

Lost Horizons

Prior to our freshman year, having a limited knowledge of college life, we looked forward to it with fear,向往, and excitement. We had heard about the city—on the edge, expanding with new buildings, new businesses, and new ideas. In the midst of all this, we found something that we thought was remarkable: the culture and the people. We were impressed by the wide range of activities and events that were taking place, from concerts and plays to sports and academic conferences.

The Morgan Bear Band, from Washington Monument, will headline concerts, with additional acts scheduled for both evening and morning performances. The concerts will begin at 9:00 PM. The band's repertoire includes a mix of popular and traditional music, making it a great way to end your day.

Morgan State University will also host a number of educational events, including lectures, workshops, and seminars. These events are designed to provide students with a unique opportunity to learn from experts in various fields. In addition, the university will be hosting a number of art exhibits, which are sure to be a hit with both students and visitors.

From Richard Kitlaska at $44,000, to the $11,000,000 paid for the town of St. John's on the other end of the continuum, our city's economy is diverse and vibrant. We are excited to see what the future holds for the Morgan State community and its students.

Chapel. A great number of people have been trying to decide an election. Therefore, many are in desperate need of help. The two candidates who appeared on the campus in Alumni Hall were asked about how they would handle the administration of the Student Government and the large number of students who are active.

For the second point, the Activity Fee money was offered as an incentive to the students to examine themselves carefully. There are many students in the Activity Fee who are unaware of the proper use of their money. The suggestion was made that the money should be used to study the problem of the students and see if they could be made to see the mistakes they are making. Vetville, a college for veterans or an old soldier’s hang- out? What does this familiar word bring to your mind? In reality, Westminister Village, Inc., owner Vetville, is a small housing development carved out of the ancient forests of Washington County where many married couples from Western Maryland could find a new home away from the hustle and bustle of their previous lives. Vetville was built as a low cost apartment area by the government and was intended for use only for four years. The buildings have remained null now, however, and are leased for living quarters and student apartments. The college had developed from the.

Earl Armiger Advocates Control of Activity Funds

by Earl Armiger

During this past year, I have seen the Student TV in the Student Lounge and feel that the SGA could, and should, purchase one. It now gives me great satisfaction to find the students enjoying this programming. When I attended a leadership conference at Towson College last fall, I saw that there was a potential for such a program at Western Maryland College and proposed that a student body TV be purchased. I am happy to say that plans for this organization get off to a good start this past weekend.

There are still another idea that has been on my mind for several years, my idea of the Student Time Line. Possibly, it will become a reality in the next few years. If, however, the SGA does not take on this added responsibility next year, I still hold to the following proposals:

1. That there be a fall/winter series of recent movies next year.
2. That the SGA provide a means of funding those organizations as the SGA and the Lettermen's Club.
3. That there be more communication between the organizations and from the students to the administration.
4. That events be scheduled more efficiently.

In closing, I urge every student to cast his or her vote Monday.

Because most of us are too busy to sit in high school, we will not bother to mention high school activities. Let me ask you that you consider all year—SGA activities included. After having served during the past three years, first as co-assembly officer and currently as assembly officer, I have been in close contact with the Student Government Association. Through membership in other groups such as the Honor Court, I have been able to develop the skill that I feel is the best example of good cultural events that take place here on campus, of the National Symphony Orchestra, and of the Gold Bug, Mar. 15, 1963

Through the years, Western Maryland College has grown, and it will continue to grow even faster. A well informed student body will live in the future, just as we serve the present and expect the future. I am anxious to see this campus built on this campus as it is by reading between the lines. I feel that my qualifications are suited to this position. I would like everyone to know how much I value his support.

Both presidential candidates have urged that the Student Government Association assume the responsibility of controlling student activity fees. As a member of the Student Government Association, I believe that if student and faculty action is to be effective, it must be commanded by the students themselves. This is the only way to do so be-

SCHEDULED MARCH 18

Grid Program Boosts Fall 'Success Chances'

As an organizational meeting was held March 18 to give those interested in playing spring football an idea of the fall program which will be conducted March 19 and 20. The spring football players who participate in the fall program are expected to try their hand at football. Coach Bob Walderer emphasized the fact that the spring football program is planned for all others who do not participate in either spring sports and other activities who wish to try their hand at football.

The season is to be played on Monday and Friday nights. Monday nights will be devoted to practice while Friday nights will be devoted to competition.

The team will be divided into two equal parts for the purpose of competition.

The purpose of the spring program is to give the players an opportunity to learn the game of football and to gain experience in the various phases of the game.

As a warning, may it be stated that the election results are but an outward reflection of a turbulent undercurrent, more than we want to realize, perhaps. "We can longer cast aside the expressed discontent with a flick of the finger, for such opinions are no longer the exception.

As for a course of action, let us adopt as a slogan "Let's Get Together Right Away." Why fight both ends against the middle! Administration and students alike pursue the same goals: education of the individual—from "darkness to light," so to speak. In order to begin on the road to remedial action, direct lines of communication to be established between the opposing groups; it is absolutely necessary. Perhaps a committee, composed of administration and students alike, is in order.

This, of course, is only a suggestion. But some means must be found by which differences of opinion may be aired out, and actions which are satisfactory to all may be reached. Otherwise, the aforementioned undercurrents will become outwardly manifested. Only disaster can result.

The 1963 edition of the WAC track and field season opened on an exciting note with a handful of full-time and part-time university programs on the agenda. Athletics Director M.I. Quinby, director of athletics, and Frank Kiefer (1961-63), resigned, and Herb Carpenter, a WAC pest, returned to the sidelines.

The nation’s No. 1 man may be overlooked. The tourney’s top three teams were eliminated in the first round, and the last 21 batters in a game were retired. George Fulton, Dave Blizzard and Quinby teamed up at the WAC tournament.

The 1963 tournament, which was played in the same venue as the previous season, was dominated by the Oklahoma Sooners. The team was declared the champion of the WAC, and the tournament was played in Oklahoma City.

The Vegetables: The Vegetables were a group of young people who organized a weekly cooking day during the late 1960s in the United States. They were known for their experimental cooking style and their commitment to nutritional health. The Vegetables’ cooking days were open to the public, and they served food that was healthy and delicious.

The Importance of Time Management: Time management is crucial for success in any field. By managing your time effectively, you can ensure that you have enough time to complete all your tasks and be productive. Setting priorities and creating a schedule can help you stay on track and achieve your goals.

The Impact of Technology on Society: Technology has had a profound impact on society in recent years. It has transformed the way we communicate, work, and live. Technology has also led to new opportunities for businesses and individuals.

The Benefits of Exercise: Exercise is essential for maintaining good health and vitality. It helps to reduce stress, improve mood, and increase energy levels. Regular exercise can also help prevent chronic diseases such as heart disease and diabetes.

The Role of Education: Education is a key factor in personal and professional success. It provides individuals with the knowledge and skills they need to pursue their goals and contribute to society. Education also helps to break the cycle of poverty and improve social mobility.

The Importance of Friendship: Friendship is a vital part of human life. It provides a sense of belonging and support, and it helps to reduce stress and improve mental health. Friends can also provide valuable advice and guidance.

The Benefits of Travel: Travel is a great way to explore new places, meet new people, and learn about different cultures. It can also help to reduce stress, improve mood, and increase self-esteem. Travel can also provide new experiences and opportunities for personal growth.
GOLD BUG Features Whitman Review As Beginning of New Literary Series

This article is the first in a series of GOLD BUG-Bookstore sponsored book reviews. The purpose of these books is to make WBU's more literary society a reality.

The editor will present the new book for discussion, by the students.

DANGER: "POOR" BOOKS NOT RECOMMENDED READING

The editor feels that this is the only way to go and that the students of WBU have fallen into the trap of reading poor books. In order to make this series a success, we must make sure that the books are of high quality. We must be able to criticise the books from the beginning, so that we can judge them fairly.

The editor feels that no one should try to read the books without proper preparation. The editor feels that the students of WBU have fallen into the trap of reading poor books. Spring Gridders Eye 'Bowl Game'

Spring practices session, under the coaching of Waltz Ward and his assistants, have continued to the point where consideration can now be given to the season's running chaotic "bowl" hat. These spring practices have continued under a sub-zero temperature and snowstorm which climaxes the season.

At almost the same time from the Baltimore Owls, known as an American Indian tribal sport which has been modified over the years, spring football continues. The Owls today. Lacrosse contains the best qualities of several more formidable Native American football, it provides the spectator with relatively low scoring content, somewhat faster in play, with plenty of exciting body contact. Lacrosse combines the color and tradition of football and gives the crowd a chance to cheer. It also involves more of something, sportsmanship. "What a screwball game. How do you play it? Sure I'm out of state now, but..." You're just as tough as any one you have here, you have just to be big and that's for sure."

Klein Blanks Visiting Nine
With Route-Going Performance

Catching their second straight victory, the Terror netmen defeated Mount for first time in season, 6-0. The Owls have added another win to their growing list with a decisive victory over the Owls. Klein, Lacine, better known as "Joeky," starred in a strong mound performance for seven innings and was relieved by Joey Swamp, and Williamson who retired the last six men in the ninth inning.

The home attack pit started on the third inning when "Big Stan," Charlie Walters, rumbled in on a bloop over the left fielder's head and was made to run to the ninth inning. "How's the crowd?" Walters said and added "the Owls are a great team."

AIMS Link dump Terror Contingent in Opening Contest

Coming against a tough American Indian tribe in spring football, the Owls met the Owls, 10-4. Against Bob Ed Elric, known as a better team than the Owls, for the Owls, their defeat was due to their own misfortune of putting the Owls out of the game. This performance was excellent for a digestion, as the Owls have been organized. Anyone interested is invited to contact Don Hannah or Ed Buckner.

Intramurals Add zest
To 'Spring At WMC'

In the spring a young man must be strong, and strong he will be played. And for the golf enthusiast, the day is still in full swing there. If the weather of the sun seems to be a question mark at the flowers and trees and the game is on. Many boys that has the ability to play one of the ancient game, some are able to play the game, but many are not. Klein hopes that this year or next the flowers will mix with the program. Even the best soccer players don't think about being at the best, but Klein has and have fun with it. And if you play in a regular team, a player can improve his skill by playing with the computer. You can play the excellent game with just a computer. But for many that can't, the intramurals offer an interesting, exciting sport and will be played for their spring.

The Peace Corps has announced two hundred openings for volunteer workers in 1963, including positions in education, health, and agriculture. These openings are especially needed in Latin America and Asia. Peace Corps workers, in addition to serving in these fields, will help to build goodwill and understanding between American and foreign peoples. Peace Corps workers employed in Latin America and Asia will be paid $75 a month, plus $5 a month for each child over one year of age. Peace Corps workers employed in Europe will be paid $115 a month. Peace Corps workers who are married and have children will receive a hardship allowance.

The Peace Corps was established by the Peace Corps Act of 1961, which was signed into law by President John F. Kennedy on July 28, 1961. The act authorized the President to establish a Peace Corps to provide volunteers to assist the governments of other countries in their efforts to achieve the aims of freedom and justice for all peoples.

Terror Diamondmen Blank BU As Klein Sparkles Against Foe

Posting their third consecutive 'blank,' Western Maryland blanks visiting BU last Satuday, 6-0. Dale L. Spence pitched a "Spike" Klein last ning into the seventh inning with seven hits and six walks. Klein fanned a single to right field on an inside pitch for his only hit.

In many starting Miamisburg right-handers or did not walk a single enemy batter, but were fa-ging the route.

The Terror were in the context in the first inning as they tal-ded twice on six bases to team captain Dick Yolet and to Ron Waller followed by "Black" Waller's single and a ringing double by South Jumper.

Later, in the eighth inning, Wingfield added two more runs when Jim Cerny coaxed a walk, took third on a single, and crossed home on an error by Dick Kukla, catcher. Klein an. After Louis Kline as-
field slap hit to the porch that travelled a amazing 333 feet in length to bring his other batting average to .315.

This victory leaves the Crowns and Diamondmen tied at 9-9, while Baltimore is 4-2.

GBX Eyes 'Net' Crown

Almost a champion. This has been the Gamma Beta's story so far, but they have the second half to come in second in every competition... perhaps, yet to win a championship. Their opening schedule ready to come back and try to go as good as been to take the net.

They are undefeated (5-0) and a close second, but must secure his contingent of Pibble Whittles, Jay Whittles, Warren, Ron Creemis, and Rob Waller, in their way to their second straight championship.

Sports-Minded Girls Eye Golf As Answer To Spring 'Dilemma'

Now that a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of sports and not to love in the springtime, girls are in their own quest for a recreation which is not only a healthy sport but also must be in style.

For those girls who are not interested in outdoor sports, there is still the wide field of choices available to them. Tony Black and Marcia Dillingham, two girls who play tennis in the spring, report that they are keeping their options open for the season.

Another spring sport, which is a favorite for most girls, is golf.

Another of the most popular sports is bowling, which many girls have become interested in during the winter months. Girls who have played in competitive leagues have shown that they are capable of playing the game. Some of the girls might have to "move over".

Say there, cool cats, did you hear that madras is suave, plaid's in this year? Anyone who's willing wears green and blue, and the ultimate "treasure" is the make of shoe. Hap-arolted skirts, loafers, and the "bird." Why worry, spring's here, and casual's the word; We want a party tonight—don't be a phinque! Thoughtless, stagnant masses, why can't you think?

The Editor To Fervent Plea For Action

In a recent editorial the question was raised whether library facilities for hot or not students here at Western Maryland College could all the towns of Westminster in solving its public library problem. There is a certain need for services that we can all the town.

As you know, the Carroll County Human Relations Committee, composed of representatives including city officials, college presidents and others, people, churches, and local organizations, its meeting place and its many different benefits on campus.

Many a proprietor fears economic ruin if we lose the students, if you as a student do not use the library. Many of you need your continued patronage, and in many of our men, we have that much less support.

The Carroll Human Relations Committee will soon be circulating

At April meeting of the Wesleyanites, Sandia Rigby was elected as president. Several other officers and elected and have been brought to the attention of the administration.

The present student government has been the place that all are well with the campus. Several steps have been taken to make it a safe and comfortable place. The dining room has been made available for any group interested in using it. Several new members have been made this year, we wish to extend our congratulations to them. At the outgoing meeting, several new officers were elected. Those interested in joining the organization are invited to attend the next meeting.

They are not sure if the party will be a success. Seniors were honored with the gift of a plaque at the end of the meeting.

ALL ATTENTION! Seniors

The Graduate Research Examinations for May, 1963, are to be held in the fall. All seniors taking will have the examination on May 30th. Bayside members of the Ripon College are eligible to register for the examination.

The three members of the Bayside group are: Rowan, Prince, and Smith. All are seniors and members of the Ripon College, May. Any questions should be directed to Rowan Sliker in the Business Office.

At the next meeting...

Golf group (gg) obtained back-to-back wins in the current six-team conference with an impressive 2-up victory on Friday over the host St. John's Redmen. The Terrors defeated the Redmen, 2-up, in the previous week's encounter, and now stand 2-over-2 in conference play.

George Fulton's Flashes Form

Probably the most prophetic predictions of the season are pushed more from Silver Spring Golfing's George Fulton.

When the Tallac's defeated the Terrors last Monday, the Terrors were facing one of the most highly regarded coaches in Baltimore, a tradition that has run for many years. But George Fulton, our own all-wise Seer, had predicted it.

Saving that no team would have been sleeping at the觉“s because the Terrors are up 2-over-2 in conference play.

In this issue, as usual, George Fulton's predictions are far more accurate than the predictions of the well-known, well-schooled, well-schooled coaches.

The art of giving signals is a declining one in the current season. The Terrors, facing one of the most highly regarded coaches in Baltimore, had a good game yesterday. The Terrors were ahead by a wide margin when they went into the last inning, only to be defeated by the Lowell's.

As a result, the Terrors are now 2-over-2 in conference play.

The Terrors will face the Lowell tomorrow, and the game will be played under bright lights, with the probable winning team being determined by the outcome of this game.

WHAT PRICE HONOR?

This week the GOLD BUG introduces the newest member of its staff, a new boy. Be Krupp, or if you will, Lester Z. Krupp, Jr., has joined the staff to help introduce and entertain the campus with his wisecracks and campus composure. Any opinions expressed here are those of the quiet genius that is Krupp, Jr., and are certain to be addressed to the writer, and may not necessarily correspond to the views of the campus institutions, the honor court, or the student body at large.

Now that preparations for the beginning of the new school year in the fall campus drive for the new students, it is somewhat easy to believe, or is it a self- Giovanni's board of inspiration, of performing its nefarious and deplorable work, the real honor court lies somewhere in-between, fleeting in the rays of the sun as a temporary respite in the academic life of the student who is just beginning his or her college odyssey. The elimination of cheating and the realization of a high standard of academic honesty are a worthwhile, worthwhile goal. Students can be proud of the rights of the seniors to make the way for the area in which the advancement of this goal, and several Maryland colleges have met with success in this process. The false values in which the honor court lies not in its endeavor to maintain the spirit, but to validate the process. This is based on a function which most of us are not familiar with, and this is the basis for possible discussion. In the investigation to which a large number of cases were unfounded and for a violation of a student's honor.

The following notes are concerning a few typical incidents showing the way we concerned student body to take a handbook (which few have done and floats and parties and dances and picnics and hayrides and all such other activities which make up the life of the college student."

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR

In reply to your editorial, "Awake and Sing!" of April 1, I write to you regarding the assigned article to the activities of the Gold Bug.

I am firm in believing the inappropriateness of practical college activities and the lack of input as it seems to me, and politically, in the United States of America. I believe that in this state will only be reached by the student body. I believe that in this state will continue to be reached by the student body, and that in this state will never be reached by the student body.

CORE advocates methods which are always followed, even though such freedom and rights are, in fact, nonexistent in themselves, I feel that they stir up a crusade.

Many of you say we have no right to interfere—we do not. Do we live in a society in which the function of any activity is to maintain and perpetuate our own society, or is it to maintain and perpetuate our own society?

A number of students have mentioned the same idea. The main idea of this is that we must be concerned with the things that we believe in. The old system of black and white is still with us, and we believe in this. We must be concerned with the things that we believe in.

The real question here is whether or not this is true. We can always make mistakes and we can always try to learn from them. This is the time to learn from the mistakes that we have made.

We must be concerned with the things that we believe in.

Two Get Grants For Further Study

A National Science Foundation Cooperative Graduate Fellowship has been awarded to Hilda Grichko, allowing her to study for nine months in the Department of Biological Science at the University of California. Hilda's son, Annapolis, is secretary of the college house society, the Argonaut, and treasurer of Delta Sigma Theta.

Leonel Apollone was awarded a fellowship by the American Association of University Women for the 1966-67 academic year. The fellowship is given to a student who has just completed a year in college and who is interested in graduate work in a field of social sciences. He plans to return to school for three years in regimented and urban environments. His graduate studies will lead to a Ph.D. in sociology at the University of Pennsylvania.

Academy Hosts Convention To Discuss World Problems

Annapolis was the scene of a unique literary activity last weekend as 100 students from 60 different colleges throughout the country gathered at the Naval Academy to discuss the problems of the world. The NAVAC (Naval Academy Foreign Acacmy) hosted the symposium, which was held on the naval academy campus. The symposium was sponsored by the Institute for Study of Peace and World Affairs and was open to all interested in the problems of international relations.

NAPAC, the largest convention of the college student organizations, was financed entirely by the sponsors to provide access to the United States.
The last game was a tennis match. Prof. Hart has already introduced his number one man, a small, muscular Japanese netter, Kaz Shimizu; his second man, a streamlined, determined, wily basher, Bob Price; and his third man, a seasoned, cleverly-lobbing, strong server, Jerry Baroch. In the closing minutes, all efforts were being made for a tying score. The point of the Billies was held within its own territory, here and there, lulled the Duds within in its own territory, here and there, but Jerry Richman, sporting a 1st man, had come home with another double bag. The score was only 3-1, and second baseman Roy Wallis was only a pace away from a death in the family. Thus, on that last, Jim Davis took over third and second and forged two hits. Dan Schmidt booted the first, and Palm Boileau booted the second base drive. Only Davis gotSt. Quentin, at first base. Winning the game, a clean up man, named Dick Yuk was unable to take the ball from the mound. Dennis Ashkin earned as injured base runner.

Western Maryland traveled to Ursinus and nailed the raffles with the intention of averting a humbling loss in the home game to Pennsylvania. With the previous pitching of Lance Klein, Prof. Hart expected a similar performance. Actually, the Terrors lost to Ursinus with three fourths of first base out. Yes, a new man on the field, and the Terrors led by third baseman named, Art Renkwitz and Jesse Hitchcockman did Just that. Observing the game, the family. Thus, event of the day, Jerry Richman-1st and 2nd men came home with another double bag. But, what is that? Perhaps he one of the top brains at the college (which he is). Tennis demands speed, power, and endurance. Winning stretched his victory skein to six.

The Dickinson tennis team met their version of the raffles in the home game to Pennsylvania. The pain strippers simply stripped Jerry Richman on his usual winning stride and piled out the grid.

Jim Davis appears to be a top goal scorer. Jim Davis took over third and second and forged two hits. Dan Schmidt booted the first, and Palm Boileau booted the second base drive. Only Davis got St. Quentin, at first base. Winning the game, a clean up man, named Dick Yuk was unable to take the ball from the mound. Dennis Ashkin earned as injured base runner.

Traditionally Speaking

The changing student has been a topic of many works and studies for years. This is a trend that has been tearing away from old traditions to start new ones. So we find ourselves not only in a new century and a new age, but also in an era of new traditions.

Maryland College's Junior Fallies sparkled a refreshing note on the campus scene. Despite numerous grumblings and grumblings that it was late, the event turned out to be a very responsive audience. It is about time that the students get away from the usual routine of the week. The event was a much-needed addition to the effective campus.

Colleges' Players Present Brevett Play For Seniors

Brett Brevett's award-winning play, "The Gold Bug," will be presented by the college's Players on Friday, May 14th. The play is a part of the college's annual spring musical program. The performance will be directed by Mr. Brevett and Donald Chapman, Jr., and will feature the talents of many seniors and junior college students.

EXCEC COUNCIL SPONSORS CRC

Family and students will take part in the annual Student Relations Conference. Sponsored by the CRC of the BGA, the Student Relations Conference will be held at the college on Sunday, November 21st.

The CRC, as it is commonly called, is the college's student government. It is composed of elected student representatives and faculty members. The conference is held in the interest of the students and faculty, to discuss various issues and put forward goals set down for the coming year. The conference is a "Coordinated Student Organization." All faculty members are members, according to Mr. Miller. Incoming freshmen will be invited to attend and take part in this year's conference as well.

WMC Bio Dept Receives NSF Grant

I am glad to see that you have distributed your message to the campuses of many colleges. As you point out, there is a danger that the campuses may be unaware of the message. For the benefit of those who may not be aware of your message, I should like to mention the following: It is not easy to educate the student body in such a way that it will understand the importance of respecting the traditions of the college.

The powerful, conservative college town of Westminster is in an awkward position with the Negro baseball team, the Colts, coming to town any moment. And, when it does, the town of Westminster will become a better place in which to live and to attend college. Rex Walker, who has driven in eight runs, has been blasted by several sources of its stand on integration. The question is not whether the town of Westminster will remain white, but whether it will remain a safe and stable community.

The town of Westminster has been a haven for the Negro baseball team, the Colts, for quite a while. The team has played in the town for years, and it has been a source of pride for the town. However, the Colts have never been accepted by the town, and this has led to a number of conflicts.

The first conflict occurred when the town of Westminster refused to allow the Colts to play in the town. The town council did not want the Colts to come to town, and they refused to allow the team to play. The Colts were forced to find another place to play, and they ended up playing in a nearby town.

The next conflict occurred when the town of Westminster refused to allow the Colts to stay in the town. The team had stayed in the town for years, but the town council did not want the team to stay. The team was forced to find another place to stay, and they ended up staying in a nearby town.

The third conflict occurred when the town of Westminster refused to allow the Colts to use the town’s facilities. The team had used the town’s facilities for years, but the town council did not want the team to use the facilities. The team was forced to find another place to use, and they ended up using facilities in a nearby town.

The town of Westminster has been criticized for its stand on integration, and it has been accused of being racist. However, the town of Westminster has denied these accusations, and it has said that it is simply trying to protect its way of life.

The town of Westminster is a divided community, and it is not easy to find a solution to the conflict. However, the town of Westminster must find a way to accept the Colts, or it will continue to be a divided community. The town of Westminster must find a way to accept the Colts, or it will continue to be a divided community.

Loose Ends

Shouts of girlish glee still ring out in the girls' dorms at 1 a.m. despite approaching exams. Thank heavens for the rear-ranged library schedule. During the two-week battery of tests the library will be open from 8:45-5 and then 6-10 on Monday through Friday, and from 8:45 to 5 on Saturday. The schedule is the same.

After much prodding, pro or con CORE, WMC has to lift its apathetic head long enough to squeak out a "question" petition to Westminster in support of the two freshmen prospectively coming next year.

Responsibility to the Dining Hall sparkled again when one "forgot to tell Mr. Rice that faculty guests had been to the SGA banquet.

The Honor System discussion also receives honorable mention. In the recent application for membership, outstanding letters were received from thirteen juniors, eighteen sophomores, and eight freshmen—so who says that nobody believes in an Honor System?

Last but not least, although we may not agree with what a man has to say, if he has the courage to say it, we'll right to expound. Faculty, please let's not pull any water witchhunts for opinions stated in this tabloid.

Jackson Day

Jackie's real mission turns out to be recalling blushing boys and finding things in his pockets. Pulling the Magellan helmet off his head, he was able to establish a home in his world without it. With his head carried in the back of the Biology building, he was able to see any emergency. His personal library is the very college class where he is not read.

Frat's Elect New Leaders

Elections of the past week have declared new heads for both Greek organizations.

The new president of Alpha Phi Alpha, a preprofessional students' fraternity, is Jerry Bice. ted by Jerome Bice, Jerry Bice is a junior majoring in Business. Treasurer in the organization is Robert Brown, a junior majoring in the same subject. His vice president is Michael Schel, a junior majoring in Business Administration.

The new SGA representatives are John McDonald, a junior majoring in Business Administration, and Joe Bower, a junior majoring in Sociology.

New Ec Department Makes Presentation To Campus Gallery

The first feature of the year presented by the student week will be featured by a Talk Art Gallery, May 15, from 2:30-4. Members of the Student Council, Paul Jackson, and Patrick Webb, will be in the Talk Art Gallery.

On the upper level will be displays in water color, oil painting, illustration and design done by a member of the Gold Bug staff this spring.

On the lower levels will be displays in water color, oil painting, illustration and design done by a member of the Gold Bug staff this spring.

Student Life Define Role As Student-Faculty Intermediary

As newly elected chairman of the Student Life Council, it will represent both the faculty and students, and also be responsible for defining their role as students. The council will also represent the student body and the faculty in all discussions regarding the Honor System. The council will also represent the student body and the faculty in all discussions regarding the Honor System.

In the recent application for membership, outstanding letters were received from thirteen juniors, eighteen sophomores, and eight freshmen—who says that nobody believes in an Honor System?

Patricia Webb Plays Lead Role In Brecht Oriental Presentation

Patricia Webb will lead the Gold Bug staff in Brecht Oriental presentation, which will be staged Friday, May 19, at 8:15 p.m. in Alumni Hall.

Webb is a junior from Western Maryland College, and one of a group of young Chinese who are being trained in Brecht's "The Chekhov Play". The play is a satirical look at the Chinese people and their culture.

Streseleaux, a sophomore from Washington, DC, will also be participating in the performance.

The Gold Bug has received several exchange papers from other colleges which are also doing Brecht plays, including two from the University of California at Los Angeles and one from the University of Maryland.

The purpose of the Lettermen's Club is to bequeath to the Terrormen a tradition of spirit and enthusiasm which will continue for years to come.

The past year has been one of transition for the club, with the departure of some beloved leaders and the advent of new ones. Through them, the club has continued to grow and flourish, and we look forward to even greater things in the years to come.

Next year the club plans to
