A Junior Reflects

Prospectus

The staff of the GOLD BUG takes this opportunity to wel- come our newcomers to Western Maryland. We are glad to see the old familiar faces of the returning upperclassmen, but we especially welcome the eager, exuberant, and willed faces of the freshmen. In your hands you hold the key to all acquisitions and to make new ones. For the upperclassmen it means a round of final exams and a quick graduation. For the freshmen it means a rapidly filled day book, a happily filled study habit, and endless possibilities. For you, the sophomores, it means beginning to see courses that are important to your future careers. For the seniors it means a round of final exams and a quick graduation. To all of you it means a round of final exams and a quick graduation. To all it means a round of final exams and a quick graduation.

For the sophomores, fall brings a new status as an upperclassman. This year, the fall classes will be held in the new dormitory that has been completed.

Terror Gridders Produce Scoreless Tie Against Eagles

HARMONMEN TANGLE WITH MOUNTS IN SEASON OPENER OCTOBER 8

Western Maryland College's 1963 soccer team will make its debut tomorrow with a game against Saint Mary's on October 8, at 3:30 p.m. at the Terrors' field. Coach Ted Henricks feels that this will be a rebuilding year for his team as the result of his stumbles via graduation. Over the past 3 years, the Terrors have compiled a record of 3-5-3 in games. This year, the team will be composed of 54 sophomores, 21 juniors, 9 seniors, and 6 freshmen. The Terrors are not expected to be the team of the town, but will depend on the ability of the individual player. Transfer students Larry Devoy and Robert Torry are expected to make a contribution to the team which would make a good showing. Several freshmen began their season with the team yesterday. Coach Harmon has placed his hope that several of the boys will be able to step into the starting lineup. Out so far are: John DeJohn, David Hawthorne, Dennis Lemons and Frank Winter.

The success of the team will depend on the support it receives from the student body. Harmon's hopes for this year will be fulfilled as we will see a little support to certainly boost the team's spirit and morale. The Terrors' season's schedule is accomplished through the efforts of the Terrors' football team and student support.

Versatile Confer Holds Grid Hopes On Strong Right Flank

Jim Confer, the junior right end for the Terror eleven, has been making progress during recent days. Jim has earned number one quarterback for the team. This year, of course, he has lost no only charge to John Markovich, but has also had to wrestle for position with Confer's fullback Paul McClintock. The MOUNTS are a tough team and Confer will have to make a couple of passes to establish himself. He has his hands full because of the MOUNTS defense, which is not at its best, but will be strong when back from military service.

Jim's passing ability is one of his greatest assets. He can pass accurately, meaninglessly, and from a distance. His passing will be one of the keys to the game. The Terrors must catch the momentum of the first few games and maybe make a name for themselves. As Bill Murray put it, "we have to have a name, a face, a name in the national press." J. Murray

Tom Gail also wants to make a mark on the first-string, but his lack of experience in the event will keep him from the starting lineup. Tom has shown that he is ready for this season. His ability will be shown in the weeks to come.

Coach Waldorf Eyes Title If Terrors Shun Injuries

The Terror Football squad was put through its paces on the center field grid on Saturday after they had been defeated by the Penn State Nittany Lions in the first game of the season. The Terrors' 8-0 victory is expected to continue to the end of the season.

Pickwink Prophet, manager of the colored football team, said that the Terrors have a chance to win the championship.

"Generation Is Not Misguided," States SOS
As Members Complete Operation Philippines

by Alice Cloutier-Wood - "You seem to think we don't care what happens," the young woman asked about violence inherent in the rap, "it's just a political speech about college politics, isn't it?"

The spokesman for the treacherous crew of young seamen was surprised at the question. The group of college students had been traveling for months, sailing from nation to nation, spreading their message of peace and understanding.

"We're not just following the leaders," the young woman continued. "We're also fighting for our own freedom."

The young man smiled. "That's right." He paused for a moment, then added, "We're not alone."

The group had been traveling with home-lottery won them a sponsor every month.

It seemed that people everywhere were tired of the violence and the fear of war. The group felt that the only way to stop the conflict was to show the world that peace and love were possible.

A young woman, who had been following the group for months, spoke up. "I think you're right. It's amazing how much people are listening to you."

The young man nodded. "We've been everywhere. People have been joining us from all over the world."

The group planned to sail to the Philippines. There they stayed for seven days at the International Christian University and togethersome students with private funds. After this period, the group would enter the United States, for as they were world travelers, they would be interested in the world of entertainment and, therefore, could gain the experience needed to become better performers. The group was also promoting the use of arts and music to bring people together and create a sense of unity.

The group was comprised of five members, each with a unique skill set, from different parts of the world. They were determined to spread their message of peace and understanding, and they knew that their journey was just beginning.

Contest Offers TV As Prize

For the first time at Western Maryland, the Philip Morris Company is sponsoring its College Brand Roundup Contest. This contest has proven very successful at other colleges and universities across the country because of the great student response. The contest, open to organizations and individuals, entails entering eight empty packages of six cigarette brands toward the first prize of an Admiral portable television set. The contest also takes place on the second floor of the present building. The contest is to be held from now until December 15. Each college zip code will send out an ambassador team to publicize the contest in the local area. Prizes are limited to 1,000 points per pack. Philip Morris regular and Commander are worth 10 points per pack.

The estimated cost of this program is $3,645,000 and at the present there are no definite plans for fund-raising projects. The suit was filed at a press conference on November 15. Edgar Fuller, chairman of the League’s Committee on Constitutional Law, announced the filing of the suit at a press conference. The suit is being filed in the U.S. Supreme Court in order to make them national in effect.

Expansion Plans Surge Forward

H. Mann League Tries to Block

A swimming pool... an elevator in Lewis Hall... a greensome... spacious new student... these are all parts of the current expansion program on the hill.

To accommodate the addition, the administration plans include: (1) dormitories, dining hall, and an extension of Lewis Hall.

The new women’s dorm will also be behind Memorial Hall and will form the third corner to the existing quadrangle.

FUTURE EXPANSION PLANS include: (1) men’s dormitory, (2) dining hall, (3) women’s dormitory, (4) addition to Lewis Hall.

This four-story building will include an animal room and storage space on the ground floor, mathematics rooms on the first floor, biology rooms on the second floor, and chemistry rooms on the third floor. The physics department will occupy the fourth floor of the present building. New facilities include special faculty laboratories, a greenhouse, and a large auditorium-classroom with complete audio-visual equipment. The estimated cost of this program is $2,563,000 and at the present there are no definite plans for fund-raising projects.

It is going to take the united cooperation of all of us if the job is to be done,” stated Dr. Ervin at the opening ceremony.

Although he has announced the completion date, President Lowell L. Enser hopes that all buildings will be completed in 1967 for the centennial observance.

There is a case pending in an Annapolis circuit court, however, which could have a serious effect on these plans. The Hor...

Revitalized Terrors Test Randolph-Macon Squad

Visitors Need "Luck" in Homecoming Battle

It appears that a slant-line touchdown was made by the Randolph-Macon defense on Saturday, which will be a threat for the Terrors if they are to keep the ball. If the Terrors are successful in forcing the defense to turn back, they will have to be very fortunate to make a comeback.

On Saturday, Oct. 8, the Terrors football team defeated Randolph-Macon, 28-0. This was a very exciting game, with the Terrors scoring touchdowns on their first six possessions to lead the game by 28-0. The game was played in front of a record crowd of over 6,000 fans for the Terrors and over 5,000 for Randolph-Macon.

The team will have to rely on the line to turn back the offense by Randolph-Macon, which will be the key to the game. If the Terrors are not successful in forcing the defense to turn back, they will have to be very fortunate to make a comeback.

The SGA Speaks:

CRC Instigates Action

At the SGA assemblies assembled in a series of workshops which were held during the present school year, a number of factors have been discussed. Among them, the issue of whether or not to support the student newspaper, the Maryland.

It has been argued that supporting the newspaper is crucial to the quality of life on campus. Without a student newspaper, students would have no way to stay informed about campus events and issues. In addition, the newspaper provides a platform for students to express their opinions and engage in constructive debate.

On the other hand, some have raised concerns about the financial viability of the newspaper. Some argue that the newspaper is not sustainable without subsidies or additional revenue streams.

The SGA has decided to support the Maryland by providing a modest budget and by encouraging students to contribute to the newspaper's fundraising efforts.

Beck Receives Literary Honor

Robert John, a senior English major, has been awarded a prize for his short story. The University of Maryland Press has selected Robert's work as the winner of the annual short story contest. This is a tremendous achievement for Robert and a testament to the high quality of work being produced by our students.

The contest, sponsored by the University of Maryland Press, is open to all undergraduate and graduate students. The judges were impressed by Robert's story, which they described as "a masterful piece of writing that combines sharp observations with a nuanced understanding of human nature."

Culture Center

The world of music and art is alive and well at the University of Maryland. This fall, the Culture Center has hosted a variety of events, including concerts, readings, and workshops.

On October 19th, the Culture Center hosted a sold-out concert featuring a local indie band. The event was packed with students and faculty, who enjoyed the music and each other's company.

On November 1st, the Culture Center held a reading series featuring a diverse range of authors, from established poets to up-and-coming writers. The readings were followed by a Q&A session with the authors, where they shared insights into their creative processes.

On November 20th, the Culture Center hosted a workshop on creative writing. The workshop was led by a professional writer and provided participants with a hands-on introduction to various writing techniques.

Dr. Crane stated his under- standing of the risks involved at the same Shakur-Braxton Center for Management. Dr. Crane's policy has never been questioned by Dr. Braxton, either in the educational or medical communities.

Dr. Crane has always maintained the highest standards of integrity and professionalism.

With Down With Up

Down with elitism! Down with the Golden Age of Greed! Down with the excesses of the rich and powerful! Down with the inequalities that perpetuate poverty and suffering!

Down with the media's blind omission of the voices of the marginalized and oppressed!

At the University of Mary- land, we are committed to creating a community that values diversity and equity. We are dedicated to challenging the status quo and fighting against systemic oppression. We are united in our commitment to creating a better world for all.

Rents From 150 Area Colleges Convene To Discuss At Home

On Friday, November 1, representatives from 150 area colleges convened at the Washington Post to discuss housing issues. The articles in the Washington Post mention that the students are particularly concerned about the high cost of housing and the availability of safe and affordable options.

The conference was an opportunity for the educators to share their experiences and to discuss potential solutions. The discussions included topics such as the role of the government in housing policy and the importance of affordable housing in promoting student success.

The conference concluded with a call to action, urging the educators and policymakers to take concrete steps to address the housing crisis. The students and educators agreed that more needs to be done to ensure that all students have access to safe and affordable housing.

Le Cercle Francais Actif, Presents French song Fest

Le Cercle Francais Actif, a cultural organization, presented a French song festival on October 25th. The festival featured a range of talents, from solo performers to ensembles, all showcasing their love for French music.

The event was held at the University Auditorium and was attended by a large crowd of music lovers. The performances were followed by a Q&A session with the artists, where they shared insights into their careers and the French music scene.

The festival was a success, and the organizers are already planning for next year's event. They hope to bring in even more talented performers and expand the program to include more activities such as workshops and seminars.

SOS Reviews Hong Kong Refugee Dilemma

Presented at the SGA meeting on October 15th, the review of the Hong Kong refugee dilemma was led by Dr. Wu, an expert in international relations and human rights.

The presentation highlighted the challenges faced by Hong Kong refugees who are seeking asylum in Europe. The refugees face numerous challenges, including language barriers, cultural differences, and legal complexities.

Dr. Wu emphasized the importance of providing support and resources to these refugees, including health care, housing, and legal assistance. He also called for increased international solidarity and cooperation in addressing the refugee crisis.

The presentation concluded with a call to action, urging the SGA to support initiatives that help refugees and to work towards creating a more inclusive and welcoming community for all. The SGA members were inspired by Dr. Wu's presentation and committed to taking concrete steps to address the refugee dilemma.
SPORTS SHORTS

The rifles team made its sec- ond debut in a match with the alumni this week. The results are still un- known, but Matt Martin, Matt, Michael Creamer, and Bob Creighton shot well for the Preacher line.

Senior halfback Joe Wenden- ome emerges as the most valu- able player of the team this year. Freshman forward Ralph Maymourn, Alan Dereen, and Jim King- ham, incidentally, is suffering from a severe case of the flu. The culprit was Fred "Killer" Walls.

The game of kickball, Chi shot, football team, expected by many to be the big event of the year, suffered from a scoreless tie.

After a spectacular 15-0 conference debut last Friday night at Fairmont, Woby's are looking for some hard-earned points on Saturday, October 26, when they go to the nation's capital. The game will be played at 2:30 p.m. at Bladensburg, Maryland.

Who are the PC's? What does PC mean? Well, the PC's are the group of guys in our own squad who have played before. During basketball season four years ago, the team in PC is an acronym for "Passing Coach," which was the frequent cry of those forwards who virtually fumbled the second and third string for the JV squad, under Coach Pugh. The requirements for being a PC were very simple. First, a PC had to be a second-string offensive or defensive player, but not a starting one from the PC's. Secondly, a PC had to be a certain bitterness toward Coach Pugh, (who treated all PCs with disdain). Thirdly, a PC had to have a certain color about him which allowed him to mime simple and to dredle through a drill now and then. As a result, all, a PC had to have a sense of humor which made the long bus ride on the way to and from college bearable (on road trips). Bruce Jaeger of the winners got one, and Joe Left one, and the others got two.

What has become of the PC's? Well, they have gone on to prove the school in many ways. (frankly, the main reason one way). Coach Pugh was right. One PC in president's house, one in the president's office, another in president's office. At last report, he was no longer at home. The team has made the conference and the division, and still are making a consistent drive as one of the best teams in the country. The seniors who left are another PC's rusted friends (and many don't even play in PC's).

In Thanksgiving Production

The manuscript has been an annual Thanksgiving production, with the performance taking place November 22 with an encore performance November 23. The cast consists of senior pledges, and will be directed by Esther La~n, with Miss Smith as technical director of the production.

Miss Smith thinks that the College Players are versatile enough to stage a piece by Bretolk Brecht, the writer of the correntiment play, "Ara- chis Ocltora." Acting in a million-minute gritty serious business. It requires through character development, as well as quick thinking and ensemble concentration," she signified Miss Smith. She also said that the Players must be open to spontaneity and innovation as well as taking the requirements of all beliefs into consideration in order to have no warts.

The play being performed is only given by the Dramatics Club. A two-hour play for which an admission price is charged. The proceeds will pay for the production expenses and stage equipment throughout the year.

Poet John Ciardi Featured As of Assembly On Friday

Dr. John Ciardi, one of this country's best known modern poets, will be the speaker during the assembly period on Friday, November 8.

Dr. Ciardi is well-known for his translation of Dante's Divine Comedy. His critical edition of the poems, and his book "The Rose and the Arrow", a verse that has been widely used as an introduction to poetry, is a course in poetry as a study of meaning. He has been highly acclaimed as a writer of children's verse.

In 1966 he went to Harvard as a permanent resident assistant professor of English and Russian at Harvard University at Rutgers University, and in 1967 to Dartmouth College in order more specifically to conduct the "Saturday Review Seminar," and in consequence lecturing.

Council Awaits SLC Decision

Visitors for young ladies in the Men's Residence Hall may revert to the previously set times if the planks formulated by the Men's Council are approved.

Cresson, president of MacLennan Hall and chairman of the Council, explained that the proposed change would permit MacLennan Hall's every Saturday and would provide for an assembly period on Friday.

The proposed changes of the Council are Michael Bower, chairman of the Men's Residence Hall; Stephen Bailey, president of the Men's Council; Philip Cresson, president of SLC; and Alan Pasco, secretary of the Student Senate; and Brian Bowers of the SLC. This represents the decision of the MacLennan Hall's Robert Bay, John Gerlach, Arts, and Frank Kindy, who was the speaker during the assembly period.

Our person is the most sought-after in the class of 2033, and it was obvious in the leading meeting that Mr. Martinson had specific plans in mind for his class. Since this person will be around indefinitely, the longevity of the committee is in jeopardy. The interest is not only in a perpetuity of the college as the student representation on the committees. Since a college cannot exist without a college, and since the student body is composed of a diversified college, the student body is composed of a diversified college.

The committee's ambitions are to stay the course and to receive the student body of the college in question being aligned.

A recent concern for the faculty is that the student body is unable to study the committee's includes, is not to have incoming student body. The student body is not to be able to attend the coming student body.

Aroused Terrors Seek Revenge Against Lycoming

The Editors' Sports Score

Rams Hand WMC First Loss; 'Toe' Boots Three Pointer

On October 24, Western Maryland suffered its first defeat of the season as the Terrors were blanked 14-0 by the Rams of Shepherd College. It was an accurate guess until the final seconds of the game as both teams played with equal strength for possession of the football in the losing minutes.

"Tow" Wrightson kicked off for the Rams and the ball was returned with an inept first quarter. The Terrors pounced on a series of mistakes and scored on a 2-yard run by Henry Hall for the Rams' first score. The second half opened with a strong 25-yard field goal by Jim Cip. In a similar fashion, the Rams' defense held the ball and kicked for the necessary yards. Scoring two 1-2-1 yard field goals, WMC rallied out the St. Paul's' quarter to a 1-2-1 yard for the quarter, setting the tone for the match. Wrightson kicked down the final drive and we drove to the 35 of the Rams, aided by 25 yard run by Rick White. The drive stalled in the second quarter and we lost possession of the football.

The Rams then began a scoring drive which stalled temporarily and we had possession of their own 48. Growing out of the long punt, Jim Cip started the drive in the third quarter and we lost possession of the ball.

 Participating in the Playday held at the University of Maryland on October 24, the Terrors' tennis team, with a 1-2-1 record, took down the Homesteaders by a score of 3-1 and tied one. The event was sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association and included fours from American University, Notre Dame, Baltimore, and others. The Terrors' team included the owners of the Western Maryland's Campus Student body, the 177 and 191 lb. classes. With a year's experience behind him Jim is expected to make an excellent showing in the fourth quarter. The second half opened with tomorrow when they battle the Rams. The Terrors have suffered the worst loss of the season, a 1-2-1 record. The Western Maryland Soccer team defeated the teams' from Baltimore, Westminster, Md. 215 lb. center and backer.

The Terrors' 10-14 loss to and this year to Shepherd. The "Warrior" line is led by Bob Brown and Bob Wagner, who has been two years since he stepped on the field. For the second year in a row, the "Warriors" have suffered the worst loss of the season, a 1-2-1 record. The Western Maryland Soccer team defeated the teams' from Baltimore, Westminster, Md. 215 lb. center and backer.

The "Warriors" have eighteen points, which should, finished, with a 4-4, however, a lack of depth has brought the Lycoming team to a 1-2-1 record. The Lycoming, along with a moderate coaching staff, is looking to get some back. Seth Keller. The back-er.

The combined 2-12 record of the two teams will not be a deciding factor in this match.

Money Grant Helps Student Plan Survey

Shirley Stixler, a senior student in education, is making a study of the needs and interests of high school students as they relate to the detection and treatment of tuberculosis. Shirley has been awarded a two thousand dollar grant by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association for the purpose of studying the interest of students in connecting with a women's program in the sociology department. Since last spring, Shirley has been concentrating her research in the part of an evening hour course on sociology, in the process of forming a questionnaire, a chart, like the one used in this county. The immediate purpose of the study is to determine if any irregularities of interest are present, and to find a purpose to be used to learn how education can be carried on more effectively.

Frat Men On Paddling

Because of the interval and the varying opinion of reporters after last week's interview on paddling, editors of the Gold Bug have decided to alter the wording of the following statements represent interviews with two pledges pellegrine of Phi Kappa Psi. The Gold Bug, Nov. 8, 1963.

The Gold Bug would like to extend its congratulations to the Phi Kappa Psi interview. The Phi Kappa Psi interview has been conducted with the utmost professionalism and the Phi Kappa Psi members have shown great enthusiasm and knowledge about their organization. The Phi Kappa Psi interview has been an excellent addition to our reporting of campus events and has provided valuable insight into the activities of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

Alpaca Gamma Tau

Michael Shrewsbury, 34, of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternal organization of paddlers, tells the Gold Bug that paddling is not a sport for the weak. "Paddling is a sport of endurance and skill," Shrewsbury said. "It requires a great deal of strength and coordination to navigate the rapids." When asked about the most challenging part of paddling, Shrewsbury replied, "The biggest challenge is staying afloat in the ocean. It's easy to get caught in the current and lose your balance." The Phi Kappa Psi paddlers are well-prepared for such challenges and are always ready to face them with confidence.

Gamma Beta Chi

Steve Harper, 35, of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternal organization of paddlers, tells the Gold Bug that paddling is a sport that requires both physical and mental strength. "Paddling is not just about physical strength," Harper said. "It also requires mental focus and strategy to navigate the rapids." When asked about the most challenging part of paddling, Harper replied, "The biggest challenge is staying focused and maintaining control of the boat in the face of unexpected obstacles." The Phi Kappa Psi paddlers are well-prepared for such challenges and are always ready to face them with confidence.

Boar's Arrows

Boar's Arrows are a group of student organizations that promote knowledge and understanding of the natural world. The group's name is derived from the symbol of the boar's arrow, which is a Native American symbol that represents strength, courage, and determination.

Library Deems Gift Unique

The gift of the library is an important one, as it provides students with access to a wealth of information and resources. The library is a vital part of the academic community and plays a crucial role in the education and development of students.

A House Divided

A House Divided is a popular expression that describes a situation in which a person or group is divided into two or more factions or opposing viewpoints. In this case, it refers to a split in the fraternity's opinions on paddling.
ATTENTION!

To forecast an annual $2 million construction budget is difficult job even for an experienced engineer. But Bill Wheatley, Jr. (B.A.E., 1961), met and mastered this very challenge soon after he joined The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland in 1961.

In his new job, Bill conducts public opinion and market surveys, then carefully analyzes the results for possible applications by his company. His engineering background is particularly valuable on the scientific sampling techniques he works with.

Bill Wheatley, Jr., like many young engineers, is impatient to make things happen for his company and himself. There are few places where such restlessness is more welcomed or rewarded than in the fast-growing telephone business.

Dragoner Builds Terrors To Offset Lack Of 'Stars'

October 25 marked the opening day of practice for the eight Terrormen basketball team.
Coach Jim Bringer immediately started the squad on a rigorous conditioning program equalled only by the Eagle and Washington teams.

Billington and O'Malley,
Two former starters, are already thinking of the tournament. It is not unlikely that national prominence will be realized in the future for Terrormen in the numerous tournaments.

There are several prospects to substantiate this not-so-ridiculous prediction.

First, Western Maryland presently has one of the most competent athletic departments in the state and the lack of funds blocks its potential full realization. Mr. Waldorf, with a large budget and increased facilities, could build a small college powerhouse.

Secondly, because of increased college expenses, a more generous athletic scholarship program is imperative. However, the Ter-rors, as the Athletic Department has not been in the black for two or three years, is a handicap. This is a relative status is maintained, a Terror team of the future, suspended by a thousand students, should be playing at higher and more well-known conferences.

Of course, these prospects can only be fulfilled if the initiative behind them is adequate.

Terrors Face Threat To Hopes Tomorrow Drexel Invades Stadium For Pigskin Showdown

Boasters Swing Major Upset By Edging Loyola Visitors

Last Friday, the Western Maryland College soccer team pulled off a 2-1 upset by defeating Loyola by a score of 2 to 1. It was a slow game throughout, owing to the tight defending of both teams. Both teams were out for the victory, and neither was willing to settle for a tie. Loyola finally stopped the fast break attempt with a header by Bob Pettitt. The game continued to be low scoring, with both teams playing well. In the final minutes, Loyola's best effort was one that was not converted. The game ended with a 2-1 victory for Western Maryland.

SPORT SHORTS

As easily overlooked, track and field is a sport that has received a lot of attention this year. The opening of the season was a success, with the team finishing fourth in the conference.

Hockey Contingent Hit With Losses

Last Saturday, the hockey team lost 5-3 to the University of Maryland. The game started off well for the Terrors, with a goal by Bill Reilly in the first period. However, the Terrors were unable to capitalize on their early lead, and the Terps scored three goals in the second period to take the lead. The game ended with a 5-3 victory for the Terps.

Terrors Cripple Dickinson With Early Offensive Show

Western Maryland's offense showed its strength in the first half of the game against Dickinson. The Terrors scored four goals in the first half, with two goals coming from freshman Michael Johnson. The Terrors dominated the game, with Dickinson struggling to keep up.

10 Things That Happened

1. Loyola's best game: Coach Harmon felt that all of Loyola's games remained close, but the team was not able to convert its opportunities.
2. Joe's best game: Joe, the team's leading scorer, had a standout performance, scoring three goals.
3. Western Maryland's defensive line: The Terrors' defense was solid, allowing only one goal in the game.
4. Dickinson's offensive line: Dickinson's offense was able to score four goals, with three coming from their leading scorer, Michael Johnson.
5. Denny Grabowski: Coach Harmon's son, who was a key contributor to the Terrors' victory.
6. Cassie Hughes: A blond, blue-eyed nurse at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Hughes was a key player on the Terrors' team.
7. Drexel's season opener: The Terrors faced Drexel in their season opener, a game that was highly anticipated.
8. Bill's defense: Bill, the Terrors' top defender, had a standout performance.
9. Joe's defense: Joe, the Terrors' top defender, had a standout performance.
10. Dickinson's defense: Dickinson's defense was able to keep the Terrors' offense in check, but the team was not able to score enough to overcome the Terrors.
Food For Thought

Originality in the discretely talented bis of the BSA Executive Council and spreading to the gentlest discrimination of the Senate, in a personal concern within-or philosophy. For, although such acutely by the student body, should revolutionize meals in the old dining room. Fortunately, that the student body should not have one. The BSC has resolved slow the pace of meals from the usual 15-minute gulp and dash to a leisurely pace of the same.

This improvement will require, as all good things, a gang of brown-haired youngsters who are prepared to give up some of their respiration time to the cause of feeding the hungry. It is true, however, that this possibility can never be realized unless the administration is willing to give up some of its time to the production of a workable plan that will be accepted by the student body. On this point, the administration has been asked to consider the possibilities of such a plan.

Boothers Meet Arch-Rivals To Terminate Fair Season

Joe Wunderock, Howard Morson, Stephanie West, and Bill Pen will see their final college soccer action tomorrow with the traditional match between the Blue Jays and the Red Devils. The Blue Jays have seen this contest as the most important on their schedule, although it is not in the top five for every other. The five seniors are looking forward to their final game against JHU in their respective careers at the soccer field. Four years ago, an unknown WCU eleven took the field against a strong JHU team, a sobering experience for the Blue Jays.

Business Manager. However, Liston is looking forward to his first ring of the year with Knapp's design. Relations between WMC and Liston are not of the most cordial kind.
The Blue Jays have been troubled by listless performances in their games, forcing the coaching staff to give serious consideration to the team's potential. It is true that the primary purpose of the contest is to draw the crowds, but it is important for the team not to lose sight of the big picture. The spectators will be excited, but the team should be focused on the match itself.

CONTEST RULES

1. Marlboro, Parliament, Paxton,

2. Minimum of 15,000 pta.
3. Packs must be separated into 5 and 10 point brands and then packed in boxes of 100 pts.
4. Contest closes 12 o'clock, Midnight, Dec. 13. The Phillip Morris Company is sponsoring this contest on a trial basis at WMC and from the response it receives will continue bigger and better contests in following semesters.
Committee Selects Fifteen Students For Who's Who; Honors Leadership Skills Of Eight Men, Seven Women

The selection of seniors to be listed in Who's Who in America was made this year at a senior class meeting. November 15 the voting was completed and the selected seniors received the notice. The list is made up of those students who have the characteristics of leadership.

The national office in Alabama has the quota according to the total enrollment of the college. The list was the maximum which could have been selected but none of the class members were asked to vote for them. The list is for the purpose of recognition and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities; recognition of the good and honest service of the students.

The faculty members of the review committee had the responsibility of selecting the seniors for final approval in the class meeting.

The list includes:
- Paul Jones
- John Smith

Greek Letter Societies Show Spirit Of Christmas Giving

Greek spirit has come early this Christmas for the fraternity. The next two weeks will bring many charitable events to the college campus. The Greek spirit is alive and well at the University of Maryland.

The diners in the chapel will be served a special meal on December 12, 1966. The menu will include:
- Roast beef with vegetables
- Mashed potatoes
- Gravy
- Carrots
- Peas
- Apple pie

Students are encouraged to participate in the Greek spirit by volunteering to help serve the meal. The proceeds from the dinner will be donated to the local chapter of Alpha Kappa Delta.

In the gymnasium, the students will have the opportunity to purchase Greek gifts for friends and family. The sale will continue until December 20, 1966.

In the library, Greek students will be able to check out books on Greek history and culture.

In the auditorium, Greek students will have the chance to attend a Greek dance performance.

In the cafeteria, Greek students will have the opportunity to enjoy a special Greek-themed buffet.

In the dormitories, Greek students will be able to participate in Greek-themed game nights.

The Greek spirit is alive and well at the University of Maryland.

Preachers Spark Christmas Spirit With 'Hideaway Ski Lodge' Dance

A "Hideway Lodge" will be held on December 15, 1966, at the College oftc. The dance will include:

The performance will be followed by a reception in the College Dining Hall.

Choirs and Bands统一化 Town-Gown Town Hall

Several events on the Hill today have been designed to strengthen the relations between the College and the town of College Park. One of the most significant of these events is the Town-Gown Town Hall. This event provides an opportunity for students and town residents to discuss issues of mutual concern.

The first event is a town-gown meeting, which will be held in the College Chapel. The meeting will focus on issues such as parking, safety, and community relations.

The second event is a town-gown social, which will be held in the College Dining Hall. This social will provide an opportunity for students and town residents to meet and socialize.

The third event is a town-gown educational forum, which will be held in the College Auditorium. The forum will feature discussions on topics such as community development and education.

The fourth event is a town-gown sports event, which will be held in the College Gymnasium. The event will feature a basketball game between the College basketball team and a town-gown team.

The fifth event is a town-gown art exhibit, which will be held in the College Art Gallery. The exhibit will feature artwork created by both students and town residents.

The sixth event is a town-gown music event, which will be held in the College Music Hall. The event will feature a concert by the College Symphony Orchestra.

The seventh event is a town-gown dance, which will be held in the College Ballroom. The dance will feature live music and a cash bar.

The eighth event is a town-gown service project, which will be held in various locations throughout the town. The project will involve activities such as cleaning up the streets and parks.

The ninth event is a town-gown volunteer project, which will be held in various locations throughout the town. The project will involve activities such as helping out at local charities.

The tenth event is a town-gown community service project, which will be held in various locations throughout the town. The project will involve activities such as volunteering at local schools and hospitals.

Town-Gown Town Hall is an important event for the College and the town of College Park. It provides an opportunity for students and town residents to come together and work towards a more unified town-gown community.
Bachelors Defend Nest—Crown Against Hot Fraternity Foes

Now that the snow has started to fall on the ground, the Bachelors, Interfraternity Football team, will have a small challenge to satisfy. However, the team is set for the season and with determination, the Bachelors will plan to make this a very successful campaign. From the showing our varsity made at the (Alumni game) we...
The GOLD BUG Staff wishes its readers a Joyous Christmas Season from 2S; welcome home. December 9, at 4 pm. The Good figure, beautiful prime purpose of this session was to approve the constitution of the club. Under the leadership of acting president William Carter, the members in attendance approved the constitution with the unanimous consent of all attendees. The constitution was approved by the club, and the Maryland Main Library on Christmas Day.

ThermometerReaches3,000Mark; Student Support is Overwhelming

The JOYOUS CHRISTMAS SEASON is a special time, a season of giving and sharing. It is a time when we reflect on the past year, and look forward to the new one. It is a time of joy and happiness, a time of love and peace.

As the year comes to a close, we would like to take this opportunity to express our gratitude to everyone who has supported us throughout the year. We are truly grateful for your continued support and we look forward to working with you in the future.

In conclusion, we wish you all a joyous Christmas and a happy New Year. May the holiday season bring you much love, happiness, and peace.

Sincerely,
The GOLD BUG Staff
With the hoop season just beginning, Coach Dragnier's charges have compiled a lackluster 1-2 log. Though this is cer- tainly not a good record and I would say that it is—the team which has played two auspicious games at home thus far for this year bears little resemblance to that team that fed the almost uniform exit this earlier. The personnel is the same, to be sure—but a new concept has been added—teamwork.

Already the season has disclosed some pleasant surprises. The free shooting which this year's ability to re- main cool in the clutch has become vital to Terror hopes. The 42 points. Len Owens 1S the score was deadlocked at 46-all. were Koch and Vaszily with 3S

Two Bit Philosophy For 64

The new year nearly started out with a bang here with the high temperature of 64 on Monday. This incident only serves to confirm the fact that there is too much sunshine in the world, and there are too many days that are perfect for the sake of enjoyment or for their own personal gain, such as cutting a large group of people off from their norms and doing what they feel like, instead of working or something else. And, there is really no need for this general atmosphere of late hours, late night food, and late night pool parties to carry on, if we just allow the world to be a better place.

The philosophy of the new year is thus: the development of our own personal philosophy. We have the freedom to do what we want, as long as it is not hurtful to others. We should be mindful of our actions and their consequences.

Casey Strikes Out

A college band can be a great asset in generating publicity for the school. At Western Maryland College this has been the case. The band, known as the "Gold Bug," has been performing in the local area and has gained a reputation for their high-quality performances.

The Western Maryland College band has been growing in popularity and gaining new audiences, but also facing some challenges. Some students say that there are not enough musicians at a school as small as ours. Nevertheless, there are enough talented musicians among us to form a band. The band's goal is to perform at high school events and concerts, and to build a positive reputation for the school.

Therefore, it is necessary for the band to be in an existable situation. If we can join the band until it has grown, and it has become a part of our lives, we will be able to make it last. Join it and take part in it, you will be able to see what the future has in store for the band.

National Symphony Appears In Evening Concert Program

The National Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Howard Mitchell, will perform at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, June 17th at the Midwest Music Hall.

The "Rite of Spring" is one of the most famous pieces of classical music, and it will be performed by the orchestra. The performance is scheduled to last approximately one hour.

The orchestra will be accompanied by the "English Symphony," which offers a unique perspective on the classical music.

The concert is free and open to the public.

Concert Pianist Performs in Levine

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES SALUTE: BOB CRICE

As District Plant Superintendent in the Cleveland area, Bob Crice of the Western Electric is responsible for the activities of approximately 370 people who operate and maintain the complex long distance communications.

Bob, of A.T.&T.'s Long Lines Department, is responsible for effectively integrating local telephone service and communications systems into the overall long distance network.

This involves the management of telephone switching which includes coaxial and regular wire cable, microwave-radio relay, and the equipment which must regulate to 10,000 telephone calls on one cable or microwave route.

Bob rose to his present status from a "long line" of people within the company and was made sharp in their uniforms, an indication that the "terrors" in this case is sometimes overloaded in all important category of service.

The athletic teams on campus seem to be following a similar trend in intercollegiate competition—they are invariably losing records. The rifle team is no exception, finishing out the first semester with a six-win, ten-loss slate.

This campaign was thought by many to offer a particularly strong returning nucleus featuring dependable seniors Matt Creamer and Jerry Barach, not to mention the high scoring Andy Harmonstorf, John Decker, Bob Creighton and Jack Ballard were expected to develop rapidly. Each, however, has not proven to be the case. The Terrors are already in the red with the year not yet coming.

The 1963 averages have been a surprise and Creamer is leading out in the pack with a 29.5 p. m. average, and is carrying on competition in the 2nd Annual Indoor Championships. Says veteran Harmonstorf, "This is the big one and the Rangers are ready.

NOTICE
The new 1964 sports staff has openings for both men and women who are interested in writing about current campus athletic activities. Those concerned are urged to contact the sports editor, John Lew, before or after semester break.

Poet Spencer To Lecture
At Arts Festival Assembly

by Mike Solis

Mr. Stephen Spencer will appear on the campus of Western Maryland College, February 17 at 11:30 am, to discuss his contemporary poetry. An informal luncheon will be held in McDaniel Lounge with the President and 12 prominent lecturers and discussion is a segment of Ornstein's Contemporary Arts Festival.

STEVIE SPENCER

Mr. Spencer is a poet, a novelist, and a professor as we are living in the, the second half of the 20th century. It is an age of scientific advancement, a time that reveals to the most exalted minds the wonder and truths that are the foundation of great works, prophetically relevant to our world of growth. The foundations of the world turbulence of the Twentieth Century, those of the British poet and critic, T.S. Eliot, on the eve of the Second World War.

Born in London in 1909, Spencer was educated at University College and Oxford in the time of a promising poet, which accompanied the two universal discords, one of the young men of the 1920's, and the end of the 20th, the youthful and the waning of short stories in 1930. Spencer is a poet of the next generation in the union of the Second World War.

With anti-Fascist and pro-Communist sentiments, Spencer was greatly interested in the Spanish Civil War. During that period, he wrote, "Under the olive trees," the setting of the first episode of this prelude to the Second

It is not too difficult to understand why anyone who understands the endless cycles of our time. A similar principle is evident in the sea of human values. People are not just the object of, and intentions were.

Partly in rebellion and with some philosophical concern, we are influenced by the asparas of generation youth. The concept of "asserting the right to the self and freedom of expression" is associated with various counterculture organizations. The idea of creating a new, more open society and allowing the generation to assert their freedom without becoming the object of the generation's values.

It is particularly regrettable that we witness a remarkable change in the relationship between generations. As a result, we seem to be more accepting of our preoccupation with the values of our predecessors. But don't believe that "Don't trust anyone over 30!" philosophy.

We seem to be more aware of the values of the previous generation. We realize that, in the context of history, they believed that "It's all relative to the times."

I must add that attendance at the annual Founder's Day parade brought skis nearby and sighted the nation, 50% of the students were present, but not at all. There was a sense of after all.

To most of the waiters and to her private life by the presence of the "GRANNY" in the dining room, the suggestion of Captain Moore, a well-organized house.

Because of her interest in the "GRANNY," she was elected a member of the President's Council. This job was not as demanding as one might think. But when the house was closed she felt that the job was not as important as one might think. Every year, she took an afternoon off from her duties to rest. She read a favorite novel or book for relaxation. She then went over her evening's skating notes and spent her evenings on skating. The time was more free for her to pursue her own interests.

This was evident in the general sense of the times. The world is no longer the province of the students.

THE GOLD BUG

At the Presidential primaries and national conventions are over, it is time to begin to see what the most important issue in the field of presidential candidates is now.

On the Democratic side, the rival for the Presidency of the United States of America is not yet determined. Although the presidential candidate of the party is not yet determined, the party is already in full-swing.

The Republicans are the majority of the major party. The party is also enjoying a record-breaking campaign. The party is enjoying a record-breaking campaign.

The two candidates, both of whom are running for the presidency, will take part in the next debate. It is a matter of whether the Democrat will be able to present a better case. The Democrat will present a better case.

Now is the time to begin to see what the most important issue in the field of presidential candidates is now.

Mr. Lem, who was the "other half" of the "power couple," was once the "leader" of the "Shades of Grey" group. He was once the "leader" of the "Shades of Grey" group. He was once the "leader" of the "Shades of Grey" group. He was once the "leader" of the "Shades of Grey" group.

This is because he was more of a good housekeeper. This is because he was more of a good housekeeper. This is because he was more of a good housekeeper.

If this is true, then the "unknown" Lem, who was seldom seen in public, could perhaps have been more of a good housekeeper.

FEMALE THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANIES

by Dan Ira G. Zeyn, Jr.

The Bells of Bonfire of the University of Maryland appear-ingly agree with the old lady who reprimanded her pastor for coming too fast in his sermons with the words, "That isn't preaching, brother; that's spouting." For a recent state-ment by the Bells limits the responsibilities of the University chaplain to the "religious needs" of the students. This occurred over the noise of a chaplain's criticism of the fra-ternity situation at Maryland. Apart from the above, the chaplain's freedom, the Bells' statement is symmetrical if a prevalent and fundamental mis-understanding of Christianity. Relocating the chaplain's duties to the "religious needs" of the students is tantamount to say-ing that we expect the chap-lain to be as relevant as an whipped cream on a chocolate sundaes. The implication is that preaching has to do with the "spiritual" life of man and not with the real life of man. The truth of the matter is that Christianity does not pri-marily have to do with the "spiritual" life, the "soul," or man's "religious needs." It has to do with the whole man. The Canon Ernest Southwood of England reminds us: "It is not sufficient for Christians to be interested in charities and not to desire to be interested in the sacred and not to be in terested in reading the Bible but not interested in world poverty; to be interested in Jews in church but not to be interested in Jews in good housing." The world, not the church or some religious community, was the object of God's rescues. This is symbolized by the fact that the cross, as Gaetano Micali of the Scotish Community put it, was "planted on the high altar of a great cathedral between two flag poles, but on a city dump, at the corner of everyday, there came life and there soldiers formed." That it is Christianity, conventionally and historically, has not been concerned primarily with fulfilling the religious needs of man, but with the proclamation of a Gospa which transfigures the whole of existence.

Juniors Design Stage Sets For Semester Drama Class Project

The junior dramatic art class is currently participating under the direction of Mr. William Tribby and Miss Easton in several activities in which each color and line chosen for the sets portrays a specific color or characteristic. This work was later translated into the line and color of the scenery and costumes.

In addition to the final building of the model, the students used a variety of boards, heavy paper, burlap, canvas, cloth, wool, and string, and everything from bits of cardboard to tiny brass pins for available details. The choice of colors and materials was not from the greatest nor the most realistic, but the experience gained in this endeavor will be of great value in the future. The choice of the three上述 sets in Pliny evening, March 26.

According to Miss Easton, the department is the development of a creative appreciation of all the totality of concepts, rather than the perfection of professional polish.

Dr. Miller Stimulates Campus To Re-Evaluate Beliefs

by Wm. Gene Miller, Ph.D.

Editor’s Note — Two young requests, we are printing excerpts from Dr. Wm. Gene Miller’s personal grant, in the Chapel, February 14, 1964.

In the eighteenth century there arose a social and religious movement called the ‘Enlightenment’ which was led by Jean-Baptiste de La Mettrie, and he is the author of the famous book, "L’homme, une machine." La Mettrie claimed that human beings were the product of natural selection, and that individuals who survived and reproduced were those who adapted best to their environment. This thinking spread to other areas of study, including science, philosophy, and politics, and it helped to lay the foundation for modern thought.

Today, many people believe that our beliefs and values should be based on reason and evidence, rather than on tradition or authority. This is called a "scientific" approach to religion, and it is often contrasted with a "traditional" approach, which is based on faith and tradition. Is there a "correct" way to believe, or is there room for both reason and faith in our lives?

The values of a particular culture or society may be very different from the values of another culture or society. What is considered "normal" in one culture may be considered "abnormal" in another. Is there a "right" way to believe, or is there room for diversity in beliefs and values?

Do you believe in God? What evidence do you have for your beliefs? What is the role of evidence in religious belief?

The values of a particular culture or society may be very different from the values of another culture or society. What is considered "normal" in one culture may be considered "abnormal" in another. Is there a "right" way to believe, or is there room for diversity in beliefs and values?

In the long run is it the education of our students at the college that is more urgent? On campus has been seen a program of the college or grown in size, and the administration’s illuminating. It’s a better way than era — with direct reference to "post-Christian Era" the world, the church, and the Supreme Court decision. We can certainly sense this in the values of a particular culture or society may be very different from the values of another culture or society.

The World Outside Conflict in Cyprus

By Jerry Tablet

The present conflict in Cyprus, which has been the focus of much attention in recent months, has been a source of great concern for many. The roots of the conflict lie in the division of the island between Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities, which have been unable to find a peaceful resolution to their differences.

The British Empire in its belatedly arranged pace for the treatment of its colonies in imperial England, has been an area of conflict between the British and Turkish communities in Cyprus. The involvement of other powers, such as Greece and Turkey, has further complicated the situation.

The constant Hindustan-Greek association, which is the question of the religious question, is a question that must begin from the perspective of the religious question. In the Greek-Turkish Treaty (of 1878), the question of the religious question of the two communities remains a matter that must be addressed.

Church Affiliation Search for Meaning

by Dr. Charles Cruss

We ask the question of the church-related college in this manner: What do we mean by "church related," and how does it relate to our understanding of church-relatedness? What do we mean by "church related," and how does it relate to our understanding of church-relatedness?

We have long been interested in the role of church-relatedness in the education process. The idea of a church-related college is not new, and it has been discussed in various forms throughout the years.

It is in precisely this point that the church-related college emerges as a unique: A place where the pursuit of knowledge is a means to an end. The church-related college is not just a place of learning, but a place of faith and devotion. The church-related college is a place where students can find a sense of purpose and meaning in their education.

The purpose of this article is to explore the concept of the church-related college. We will discuss the history and development of the church-related college, and the impact it has had on students.

The church-related college is a place where students can find a sense of purpose and meaning in their education. Federal Faculty "Tough" Courses Freshmen Feel Hard Pressed

The Editors

Though the Evaluation Om- nium pressed every facet of this college last year, the re- sults have not been applied to the student body, so the Gold Bug staff feels it is time to make our students feel a little more mustered kicking. So the Free and History of Western Civil- ization, which are two of the courses that some of our students felt were too easy, have been targeted for this semester. The idea is that this could be a little more of a challenge for the students.

The Gold Bug is not in favor of making the students feel too hard, as we feel that this will only discourage them from coming back next semester. However, we do feel that it is important to have a little bit of a challenge in order to make the students feel more involved in their studies.

History Emphasizes "Why"

By Mr. Bright

I.R.M. continues to broaden in- formation on man of various eras and their cultures. This type of work can be very interesting and enjoyable for students. As one may see it:

• "Why did the ancient Romans build their city on the seven hills?"
• "What was the significance of the Great Wall of China?"

I think the main reason that some courses are easier than others is because they are not as challenging. However, I do believe that this is not necessarily a bad thing. As a student, I think it is important to have some courses that are more challenging, as this will help me to learn more and grow intellectually.

Dr. Jean Kerbner oriented. Since last year's (1963) class did not have enough break-ups and exams that tested their knowledge, the course budget and scope have been reduced. This year, the course has been split into two parts: Western Civilization and Eastern Civilization. The course has been split into two parts in order to provide a more comprehensive understanding of the history of the world.

In some freshman clinics, the focus will be on the study of liberalism, democracy, and the role of government in the modern world. The course will be designed to provide a comprehensive understanding of the history of the world, and to help students develop critical thinking skills.

Current Events

A new lecturer in Western European history, Dr. Saunders, will be teaching the course. Dr. Saunders is well-versed in the latest developments in the field of history, and his lectures are sure to be informative and engaging. The course will cover a wide range of topics, including the European Wars, the Industrial Revolution, and the rise of nationalism.

"Tough" Courses Freshmen Feel Hard Pressed

"Tough" courses are those that are considered difficult by students. These courses require a lot of study and dedication, and they can be a challenge for students who are not used to the level of rigor. However, these courses can also be very rewarding, as they provide a deeper understanding of the subject matter.

The course "History of Western Civilization" is one such course. It requires students to read a lot of material and to write papers on a variety of topics. Some students find this course to be very challenging, but others find it to be very rewarding.

In order to help students succeed in "Tough" courses, the faculty is offering additional resources. These resources include study groups, office hours with faculty members, and online discussion boards.

One of the challenges of "Tough" courses is that they require a lot of time and effort. Students who are considering taking "Tough" courses should be prepared to put in the time and effort required to succeed in these courses.

Campus Comments

First year students always tend to complain about, and criticize, their courses, even those that they are required to take in their major. A lot of students feel that they are being over-scheduled, and that they are not learning enough.

However, this is not necessarily a bad thing. As a student, it is important to take courses that are challenging, as this will help you to learn more and grow intellectually. It is also important to take courses that are relevant to your major, as this will help you to develop the skills and knowledge that you will need to succeed in your career.

In order to help students succeed in their courses, the faculty is offering additional resources. These resources include study groups, office hours with faculty members, and online discussion boards.

One of the challenges of being a college student is that it can be overwhelming. It is important to take time for yourself, and to find ways to relax and recharge.

"It was indeed a pleasant surprise to receive the last issue of the GOLD BUG. It was truly a pleasant surprise to me, and I would like to personally say that it was a "volunteer" to have been received."

This last issue of the GOLD BUG has been published, and the students are aware that this is a good manuscript, should cover the activities on campus, foreign policy, politics, sports and also articles on the arts. The students' interest is shown in this issue, and they make an attempt to find out more about what the face of the world is doing and what future they can expect. So don't be afraid to ask questions, it is time to be an all-around, all-purpose student. Again congratulations on a fine all-around job that this is only one of the many to follow."

The game will be played in competition with hundreds of other colleges and universities across the country. WMC is united in its support of "Maine," hoping that it has a strong year in this national competition.

Student Views Festival In Retrospect

by Joy Helywvng

The nature of age is reflected in the arts of all countries. This past ten days Western Maryland College will follow the rhythm of some of the recent arts forms reflecting the spirit of the times through speech, art, music, photography, films, plays, and entertainment. Students will be the center of the festivities.

Spender at Eastman

Spender, as we see him standing before us, seems self-conscious and ill at ease. We perhaps we collected a picture from our own imagination of television screens in January of last year. However, the small informel discussion group the afternoon of the semester seemed more at home, and it might help him to reduce the pressure or domination of his presence. It was the softest and muted tones that seemed to sway away from discerning his own poetry, and the reaction of the audience are said to feel the personal emotion.

Spender, though his field is literature, states for us in a few sentences of the situation.

For the "modern" reader of English, Spender seems to be referred to as dead and gone in the realm of literature, the changing in music and art. There is a lack of understand in his presence, virtually a difference in a different. The only medium the writer has to work with is the printed page, and he can not easily his own commentary. The only thing he begins to play with words and syntax, nothing like the fluidity of Spender to the reader, this mass media has its own time and place. He might as well be hung on the way it is, or not at all.

We can see his point later when considering the presence of Geret and that of Albee which basically deal with no one. It is a personal point. Spender seems to feel that the entire thing is good and we don't want to be tied to the past.

As he connected to an article written by him on "The Present and Tomorrow," it seems no to me that a real differ...
Girls Travel To Hood

Tomorrow a badminton team and a bowling team along with the girls' varsity basketball team will represent WMC in a badminton and bowling tournament. Held annually, the competition is to give more girls a chance to participate in inter-school sports.

Comprising the teams from the badminton the following are the bowling team: Elaine Brown, Rose Linton, Betty Linton, Larry Shirey, Betty Rockwell, and Barbara Duminick; and the basketball team: Betty Linton, Betty Shirey, Nancy Linton, and Betty Page.

The basketball team must make sure they have enough players to win. Of course, all seasons have their ups and downs. In the case of the basketball team this year, Joe on February 25th, the girls were not even very exciting defeated, 44-41. Although Shirley Fisher and Dolly Mixon Matthew radiated 28 points between them, the girls couldn't win with that push for victory.

They suffered their first and second defeats consecutively at the hands of Hood College, 57 to 40 and 53 to 38. On February 18th they played at the Net Dome on February 22nd, by a score of 44 to 34. From February 24th on February 18th they defeated The Western Maryland College, 65 to 37. The most brilliant game was the December Game.

C'mon Fellas! Cinder Berths Are Wide Open

The Western Maryland College Track Team needs men and women alike.

The need is so great that at the last organizational meeting every man put one man in each event. There were thirty-two men and thirty women that have returned and at the team's organizational meeting only seventeen men showed up. The number of women that showed up was not counted.

One cannot expect a varsity squad to have a winning season if none of the students care enough to try and help.

Twelve to fifteen percent of last year's better winners had never run before. Any team that comes out would be assured of a better season if they put one man in each event! The boys' in the basketball team, Sam Leith, Stan Mixon, Dave Mixon, and Cal Fisher. From the bowling team: Larry Shirey, Mike Linton, Cal Fisher, and Bob Linton. From the badminton team: Betty Linton, Kay Linton, Matt Mixon, and Matt Linton.

The former basketball team was not participating in any post-season play, but the Women's team are in Baltimore today and have signed up for the AAA Championships. Good Luck to them.

In a highly rated "battle" Larry Shirey "beat" Sam Leith, 11 to 6 in the Men's Division of the Year award, determined by the coaches, of the Men's track and field season, which was concluded during the season.

Military Dept. Gives Ball
Delonaires Provide Music

The ROTC department of Western Maryland College, in cooperation with the class of '67, will sponsor the annual Military Ball on Saturday, March 14, at 9 p.m. in the gymnasium. The theme for this year will be "Global Glimpses," and the dance will be transformed into scenes from various lands and countries, including China and the United States in order to depict the deployment of the Army throughout the world.

Highlighting the dances, which is open to all members of the college community, will be the music of the Delonaires, who provide music for the dance.

During the course of the dances, the Old Guard Fire and Drum Corps, part of the United States Army Drum Team, from Fort Benning, Georgia, will appear.

The Old Guard Fire and Drum Corps is part of the 1st Battalion, 37th Field Artillery, and is commonly known as the "Fire and Drum". The Fire and Drum Corps was organized in 1843, making it the oldest part of the oldest infantry in the United States whose origins date back to 1775.

The unit, which is the only infantry of its type in the army, represents the history of America's Revolutionary War uniforms. The black-uniformed drummers, with their bright yellow bandannas, march, drum, and sing, with a style that is characteristic of the late 1700s and early 1800s.

During the current year, the Fire and Drum are touring Europe and participating as a military parade, "Parade to the City" representing the placing of the "Fire and Drum" seen during the Cherry Blossom Festival.

The music played by the Corps is based on early American military tunes, including "Yankee Doodle" and "Onward Christian Soldiers".

WMC Awards Top Athletes In Assembly

Western Maryland College recently held its annual awards banquet, and the awards were presented at an assembly in the gymnasium on March 11th. In addition to the awards, the Dr. G. W. E. Moore Award, given to the most valuable player on the basketball team, was presented.

Among those receiving the awards were: Bryan Delaney, basketball; Evan Russell, football; Brian Miller, soccer; and Tom Smith, baseball.

The awards were presented in recognition of the athletes' contributions to their sports and to the college community.

SGA In Retrospect

During my first three years working for the SGA, it was easy for me to explain the often tedious and long-winded meetings, (to the masses of negative criticism inherent in WIC students). But now that I am sitting on the other side of the fence, it is necessary for me to evaluate the effectiveness of these meetings.

I believe in the philosophy under which I am working, and ask for your opinions for bettering SGA meetings. I thoroughly believe that three years from now that those who have been haggling over petty details, long arguments over wording, endless discussion of matters that are worth the while of a couple of meetings, are to be working effectively to this end, when compared to past years.

Our basic function is to do as much as possible to assist the students and the College, particularly with our well-functioning committee system.

Under the present bylaws, I have scheduled the following meetings for the committee, in order to increase committee participation for additional interest.

We hope to see the bylaw revisions that we have reported to the Executive Council, by the end of this semester, also.

More Officers Needed Congress Kills Reform Bill

By John Baer

Our country has long been convinced that it is in our best interests to cut down on the wasted time and money involved in the political process. As the amount of money spent on politics has increased, the public has become more interested in the activities of the Federal government. Now, however, we are seeing the opposite trend. Despite the amount of money we are spending on politics, there is still a great deal of political influence. Political campaign costs have run up to an enormous amount, especially in the area of negative campaigning. Despite the large amounts of money spent on political campaigns, we still have not made much progress in the area of political reform. It is my belief that the federal government should be more accountable to the people and that political campaign costs should be reduced.

The Immortal Test

The freshman sponsor mixer, Plan Leap Year Event, was held in 1964. The class of 1967 sponsored a mixer for the freshmen to welcome them to campus. The mixer was held in the Student Lounge and was attended by freshmen, student lounge personnel, faculty, and staff. The event was a success, and the freshmen had a great time socializing and getting to know each other.

On Monday, March 30, an organizational meeting for spring football will be held at the Gold Gym for the purpose of detailing and organizing the 1964 football program. All players and interested participants will attend on a two-week regimen. The meeting will begin by showing films, followed by a meeting in dark. Coach Walsh extended a cordial invitation to any male (even girlies) student at Western to take advantage of the opportunity.

The first meeting of the spring season will be held by the Gamma Betes of Alpha Chi. This year also saw the introduction of uniforms which were worn by the Bachelors and Betas. The only two groups of Red and Blue lines were formed by the Gamma Betas of Gamma Beta Chi, who were contesting until being defeated by the Bachelors in the last game of the season. This year also saw the shooting of Bob Hollywood first division. With such statistics the championship is up for grabs. Too Far Too Fast?

Change is the agent of progress, and it is perhaps a healthy sign that Western Maryland College is beginning to see things differently. Much of the responsibility for this headlong rush into transition lies with Dean Robinson. To him it is change or die in public education. In many cases of this quiet revolution, change is being institutionalized for its own sake, and the smaller units are being swallowed up as part of the process. Western Maryland has long been interested enough in progress to make some changes in our traditional fraternization system. However, one must contend that a great deal of it, in that manner of speaking, is simply change for change’s sake, and one that does not always go well with the students. It is true that the gradual elimination of pledging, except as a brouhaha, and an extended pledge period are needed reforms, but quite a few come when we question some of our changed fraternization system.

Fraternities Face Transition In Near Future

by Bruce Randolf

Fraternities are facing a period of transition in the near future. This transition is evident in the way that fraternities are being restructured and their operations are being reviewed. The changes are driven by a desire to modernize and adapt to changing social norms.

The traditional pledge period is being reevaluated as a "symbolic" part of the traditional week. Dr. Makosky notes that the paddle is the most repelling facet of fraternity life and the majority of fraternity men would be happy to see it go completely.

In less than three years, Fred has soared to success in the southwestern area of Ohio Bell. Fred's first assignment consisted of preparing and presenting a series of courses designed to measure the technical competence of people being evaluated for promotion. The course material is still being used without any alterations.

Fred's next assignment was to supervise eight people. Besides maintaining the normal functions of his group, Fred inspired them to outproduce all other groups in the area. Because of his previous accomplishments, Fred is now supervising all training in the area.

Next, he was made an installation foreman supervising eight people. Besides maintaining the normal functions of his group, Fred inspired them to outproduce all other groups in the area.

In early July, Nancy Lockwood 20 was spending her last summer at home and then tot ining them back next winter. It was the beginning of the summer vacation, and Nancy had already planned her summer activities. She was looking forward to spending her summer in France, where she was enrolled in a French language program.

Nancy had spent many hours practicing her French, and she was excited to put her skills to the test in a foreign country. She had been learning French for several years and had even spent a year studying in France the previous year. Nancy was looking forward to the challenge of communicating in a language that was not her own.

Nancy had decided to spend her summer in France because she had always been fascinated by the culture and history of the country. She had read many books about France and had even visited the country several times before. Nancy was eager to explore the country further and to immerse herself in the language and way of life.

Nancy had been preparing for her trip to France for several months. She had saved up money to pay for her travel expenses and had made arrangements to stay with a family in France. She had also purchased a travel guidebook and had read up on the customs and etiquette of the country.

Nancy was looking forward to experiencing the food, art, and architecture of France. She was also excited to visit the many museums and galleries that the country had to offer. Nancy had planned to spend several days in Paris, visiting the famous landmarks and attractions.

Nancy was confident that she would enjoy her summer in France and that she would make the most of her experience. She was excited to see what the country had to offer and to learn as much as she could about the language and culture of France.

The Baer Facts

Old Myths And New Realities

by John Baer

With all the myths and legends surrounding the story of Baer, it is hard to know what to believe. Some say that Baer was a great warrior, while others claim that he was a simple farmer. In reality, Baer was a complex individual with a rich history that continues to shape modern society. The myths about Baer are important to understand, as they can provide valuable insights into our own beliefs and values.

WMC Salutes Senior Leaders

Barbara Cook, an English major from Eastern West Virginia, and Burnie, has proved herself an outstanding leader of the class of 1964 in many ways. Cur- rently recognized as the best leader of her class, she is also the leader of the Beta Sigma Sigma sorority. In her time dedicated to the college, she has proved herself an outstanding leader of any organization she has been a part of, especially the Beta Sigma Sigma sorority.

While Burnie was busy establishing her leadership skills, Barbara was focused on community service. She has been a passionate advocate for environmental causes and has worked tirelessly to raise awareness about the need for sustainable practices.

Despite her numerous accomplishments, Burnie remains humble and approachable, always willing to lend a helping hand to her peers. She is truly an inspiration to those around her, and her leadership skills are a testament to her dedication and commitment to her community and her institution.
Bentham Is Bombed After Joyner’s Superb Effort

After a disappointing spell of weather which postponed three games, the baseball team played Bonnacon University last Saturday afternoon. Although the weather was fine and the stadium was resolved and ready, they lost 4-6, and the Bentham men managed to tally only two hits, one each by freshmen John Martin and Bob Casey.

Scott Joyner, sophomore pitching now, delivered a splendid performance for the nine innings it pitched, giving up only 2 hits. In the tenth inning, with the score 4-4, big Jack Bentham replaced Joyner on the mound and pitched for the last three innings. Bentham performed since the plate by means of two Western Marylanders and a timely hit by Art Mundie.

Besides mentioning Scott Joyner’s fine performance, Mr. Hitchcock was quick to comment on the all around hustle of the team, especially on the number of strike outs which Amorovich got. He was disappointed, however, in the lack of offensive punch and especially at the number of extra base hits which caught us looking.” As a result, Hitchcock has chosen Schmidt for the 330 yard intermediate first with a 50 and Roberta Joyner, sophomore, may get the opportunity to sit on the all around bench and observe when he loses 1-0, and the diamond squad.

The Sports Day was concluded with the fine playing of the Hood duo of Linda Sherry Fischer placed first and third places in archery with Frank Kidd second with 339.

Singing goes better refreshed, The largest opening day crowd seen in the history of Western Maryland College watched the play of the track team when the Terrier track team, along the Pan de Fe and the women. The Terrier Gulls, however were outclassed by the women’s discus throw and set a new record for the team. After being passed out the Terriers the 400 yard relay and can be written as competitive.

The Sports Day was concluded with the fine playing of the Hood duo of Linda Fisher and Elaine Brown shooting 338. The highlights were the versatility of Schade and Butler and the 4:43 put by Art Enkwick. Records in the field were also broken with the double jump, high jump and pole vault.

In sports since team split all-out race in the season, the team ran on the two mile event and sought for the relay team breaking the previous record in that event by the end of this season.

In his three years as Western Maryland on the track team, Cal Pichard has established himself as the spiritual back bone of the team. His hard work has gained him the admiration of all his team mates, he is an excellent pitcher for the University. Cal has been a very active participant in sports other than track. He was on the varsity track team for three years and he has lettered in track and field at WMC since his freshman year.

He was on the varsity track team for three years and he has lettered in track and field at WMC since his freshman year.

Cal has an entire schedule of events which he must mark as coming. He has an unending faith in training and has elaborate individual training programs for every one on the team, and the fact that he could best for the individual in his participation.

Cal has greatly improved the appearance of the track team, and is most interested in bringing out the team’s outstanding ability in the season. Last year, Washington College won WMC easily and they were favored to do so again this year. The Terrier sport definitely showed improvement. First of all, there is a greater interest in the sport along with the support of a thirty-three man squad. There is work hard and push the team is overcoming most of the other with a toss of 169’9”.

Cal Fuhrmann has established running times. He has an enormous amount of running times. He has an enormous amount of training and went on to Washington College’s Magee Western Maryland in that it is hoped to be the first attempt to take on the Terrier team so often.

Parade Heralds
Afternoon Fete
In Amphitheater

Full Schedule of Fun
Friday Until Sunday

Spring is back (more or less) and so is the May Day week-end, when we all can almost logically forget about books, classes, etc. It's just here a good time.

The Junior Class will initiate the activities - Friday night with the Junior Follies.

Parades in Amphitheater
After an undisturbed night of late-minute costume checking, the floats, cars, bands, and other colorful participants in the May Day parade will line up at the Armory at 12:30. From there the parade will move up Main Street through the town, past the college, enter the back of the campus and wind up at the steps of Hoffa Field. The end of the parade will be concluded with the crowning of the dance committee in the College Amphitheater, and the presentation of Bill Penn, Mayor of Complete.

Presentation of May Queen
First will be the presentation of the May Queen. The Graduate Band, in a trumpet fanfare will arrive, followed by the Cigarette Girls. The Parade Heralds will be Janet Bauer and Toni Marcus, and the Queen will serve as Flower Girl and the May Queen will be crowned and Herald. After the presentation the parade will be followed by President Emero.

Following this will be entertainment, including "Love Liads and Drones" performed by Mary Reitz and Sharon Pritchett, "Spring Magic" by Roger Robinson, and the traditional Maypole Dances featuring the freshman women.

Other Activities
Other activities scheduled for the afternoon include a tennis match against Mt. St. Mary's at 2 pm, a baseball game against Dickinson, also at 2 pm, the Intramural Finals in McDaniel Lounge at 2:15 and open house in the tennis and fraternity and sorority rooms in McDaniel from 2 to 4 pm.

Formal Dance
Then at 5:30 pm, the May Day dance, "Younger Than Springtime," sponsored by Phi Alpha Alpha, will take place in Gill Gym. A great deal of credit goes to those who have organized May Day activities.

Program Officials
Serving as General Chairman is Robert Scott. Frank Redford is in charge of properties, Jane Earl is in charge of advertising, Ellen Haggan is publicity, and serving as Marshal is Ronald Gunderson.

Jane, a member of Phi Alpha Alpha, has represented the class of 64 on every May Court since her freshman year and will be escorted this Friday by Lynn Workman. Membership in Argonauts and Pi Gamma Mu, assistant business manager of the '64 Aloha and waitress in the dining hall, are some of the Queen's many positions. Jane was also selected as Western Maryland's entry in Glamour magazine's search for the best dressed coed.

Other Seniors Chosen
Two seniors have been scheduled for the Senior Investiture Service, which will be held in the College Amphitheater at 8 pm. The theme for next year's Senior Investiture Week will be "Intruder in Freshman Orientation Week Dust." The Senior Investiture Service will be held in Alumni Memorial Chapel. A surprise faculty speaker will deliver the address.

Parade to the Armory
After an evening of entertainment the other activities in the May Day parade will move up Main Street through the town, past the college, enter the back of the campus and wind up on the hill behind Hoffa Field. The end of the parade will signal the beginning of the ceremonies in the College Amphitheater, under the direction of Bill Penn, Mayor of Complete.

Presentation of May Queen
First will be the presentation of the May Queen and her court, heralded by Trumpet Fanfare performed by Craig Davis. Serving the court as Freshman Heralds will be Janet Bauer and Toni Marcus. Jane Earl will serve as Flower Girl and the May Queen will be crowned by President Emero.

Following this will be entertainment, including "Love Liads and Drones" performed by Mary Reitz and Sharon Pritchett, "Spring Magic" by Roger Robinson, and the traditional Maypole Dances featuring the freshman women.

Hats Off To Pledges: Music Men Strike Campus Harmony

In place of a formal editorial, the Gold Bug wishes to extend congratulations to the eighty-five匆 students who were accepted fraternity bids. With the spring bidding pres- ence now deemed successful, a question remains as to those who formulated this worthy effort.

The Alpha Gamma Tau

Entering the Bachelor club- room for permanent residence were: Carl Baker, Butch Behn, Preston Bill Rees, Louis Berger, Steve Blum, Gage Billings, Jeff Ibex, Ed Meyer, Jim Hay, Louis Kavanagh, John Koecher, Charles Moler, The Gamma Betes "Cokie" Sotheum, Gerald Stees, Lee Asador-ian, Dan Bailey, Mike Beach, Kelley, Jack Bentham, a freshman who attended Wa- terloo for a banquet and dance band or combo, but found no openings. Next year he hopes to lead a combo at least on weekends after he graduates.

The World Outside

Candidates on Review

by Dave Taylor

In our first article, we dis- cussed the various potential candidates for the President and Student body. In our last article, it might be well to re-emphasize the problem again, paying special attention to those who were not included in this essay, and the need for a student Vice President. If that student body member states, at this point or later, that he is not the only person qualified for the position, the vote will be either one or the other. Simply stated, the candidate for President, Ron a BENTHAM, while he is not the only one qualified, is not the only one qualified.

Carry the banner of the Republic, and purpose to strike the campus with some fervor.

Andy Harmantas, a graduate of Western Carolina University, has resigned as President of the Student Government Association, and has accepted the position of President of the Student Government Association at Western Carolina University. The new President will be the first to hold the position in the history of the University.

The candidates for the position of President of the Student Government Association are as follows:

Mrs. Stemp.

Thirty per cent of the proceeds, $19, was donated to the WMC Christian Fellowship program. Mary Kappaman was chosen chairman of the contest.
And the proceeds were given away to the community and the college.

Dr. and Mrs. Miller Receive Honor

Dr. and Mrs. William Gene Miller of the department of psychology have been appointed as Danforth Assocates. This is an appointment given to faculty members and their wives who have demonstrated personal concern for students, combined with scholarly achievement in the field of teaching.
College faculty chosen for these appointments must have major responsibility in classroom teaching and must be highly respected as teachers-scholars by colleagues and students. They are chosen because they are actively concerned with the intellectual, moral, and spiritual growth of the students.

Students Participate in Testing Programs

Changes may be expected in the testing programs, once announced by the testing committee. Specifics of changes will be placed Monday, May 1 in the bulletin, or the students may see the changes as part of the record examinations (see below for details) during activities scheduled for thunday, May 5 in the dinner.

Above: "SAM BAXTER. WE'D KNOW YOU ANYWHERE," says President Tinhorn, Eddie Daniels; Dean Trinell, Louise Simms; and Mac Oeki, Bo Knepp, know differently. Porecrest campus, "a haven for the academically slight," takes on a new face for accreditation. No implications unintended.

Top Left: TONY MAGN01'TO and GINNY KREBS fill the theater with the enchanting love song "Who Knows." Tony, who portrays the economics professor who doubles as the responsible assistant treasurer at Forecrest, decides to marry Carol, the French professor, after a short five year engagement.

Top Right: STAN MAKOVER announces the arrival of the train in CEDARBORO, home of Forecrest College, and the 1965 Junior Follies. DOUG MacEwan, a leading character, you could say, just happens to be where he isn't wanted. With a maid like NANCY WHITWORTH, how can the show miss?

PLANNED TO THE MINUTE say the students behind the scenes as they remind everyone 8:15 is curtain time. Bobbi Love Meredith Fordham, Bud Benton, Marty Matthews, George Klevler, Doug MacEwan; ANY QUESTIONS? Director: Student admisslon is $1.25; adults $1.50. Standing room not sold.

Typical carefree students at Forecrest make plans to be perfectly students for the visitation of the president of C.R.E.E.P.

Speaking of creeps, Sam Baxter just seems to be everywhere. He can't stop the show-stopping number, "It's Melony for Me."

Terrors Top Towson—5-3; Strong Pitching Highlights Year

On the afternoon of May 6, the Western Maryland diamondmen forced past last year’s Eastern Champions, Cal Pom, by a score of 5-3. The terrors started out in fine fashion, jumping out to an early lead by scoring two runs in the first three innings. However, Towson fought back in the fourth by scoring two quick runs. In the fifth inning, the terrors again came back in style, scoring three runs in the same stanza to put the game out of reach and win 5-3.

In the course of college life sports have come to play a major role. Fun and entertainment can be had on many occasions, and sports are an end in itself. In the past the terrors had a few runs against the Liberals, but these were not enough to win the game. The score was 6-2. The big hit of the afternoon was scored by freshman John Carey who clubbed a triple with two runners on base. Carey, who is a member of the backfield, has shown in many games this year a fine ability to hit the ball with authority and has become a valuable member of the team.

The Hopkins loss on Saturday afternoon was a big disappointment. Errors and the lack of base running led to a defeat by a team the Terrors had previously defeated. The 12-5 loss was made incomplete by the loss of Walker’s home run, Al Inglis’ bases on balls and Ed Landesman’s two-out triple.

The recent overnight camping trip to beautiful Fort Meade produced some interesting results. Out of those who went on the trip, one lad staggered was won by Dennis Adams, who is possibly finding his true talents by playing baseball rather than track.

One of the most important teams in the national competition was the Unbeaten. The Terrors consisted mainly of brotherhood members plus a few others. With so many games they were sure to light up the way.

Larry Donat (B.S.E.E. 1960) is presently a marketing representative in the advertising section of Ohio Bell’s Cleveland office. Larry must plan communications systems which will effectively communicate with others in his own language. No wonder he finds the job so interesting!

He moved to his present assignment after a three-month tour of duty in the Middle East. Larry is well prepared for his most recent promotion. He started off as an assistant enginer in the central office of the company, which was responsible for maintaining the operating efficiency of intricate switching equipment. More time was spent in traffic, training, plant maintenance and various commercial and sales programs, giving him a well-rounded background in communications.

Larry Donat, like many young engineers, is meant to make things happen for his company. Although he is new in the field, his inquisitive mind and hard-working nature have already earned him a reputation for getting things done quickly. And, just as important, he is always ready to learn. Larry Donat is a man who is always willing to give his best and who never shies away from a challenge.
