Dedication

to

Mary Olive Ebaugh, A.M.

Professor in the Department of Education, whose fine character has inspired many, whose zeal for scholastic attainment and understanding of student affairs has brought to her the unquestioned respect and admiration of all, we, the Senior Class, respectfully dedicate the 1931 ALOHA.

In Memoriam

JOSEPH STEVENS MILLS

We pause to pray, while tolls the bell:—
Our Comrade sleeps—and all is well!
Yet, Death with mystery profound,
Hath finite sense and reason bound:—
'Tis only faith can break the spell!

HERBERT T. STEPHENS

In Memoriam

LOUISE WALTERS WERNTZ

Friend after friend departs:
Who hath not lost a friend?
There is no union here of hearts
That finds not here an end;
Were this frail world our only rest,
Living or dying, none were blest.

J. MONTGOMERY

Alma Mater

When our college days are over,
Round our hearts shall cling
Memories of our Alma Mater,
Every day shall bring.

But our life is swiftly passing,
Soon its course is run,
What e'er our lot we'll ever cherish,
Friendships here begun.

ELEANOR COVER BABYLON

"Gee"

French—English

WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND

Westminster High School

*Women's Athletic Association; Class
Baseball 3.*

If you want to incur her wrath, just say in a bantering way, "Babble-on!" "Gee" cares not if, without warning, inconsiderate professors spring tests. She believes that worry is antiquated and she employs a carefree attitude towards everything. When the old Chevrolet motor hums, all the girls on the second floor of McDaniel Hall have only to yell, "Al-li-ner," and a ride downtown is theirs.

FOR four years we have turned to Paul. We have turned to follow him in the athletic field, we have turned to ask his advice, and we have turned to listen intently to his sensible suggestions. It has always been worth while.

"Smooth" always knows the latest ideas—in clothes, in football plays, in everything. He is always a leader. Of him it can be said, "He honors Western Maryland; Western Maryland honors him."

HELEN IRENE BANKARD
Mathematics—High School Sciences
TANEYTOWN, MARYLAND
Taneytown High School

FOURTEEN miles is a long distance to come each morning for an education, but such a conscientious person as Helen considers Taneytown a mere stone's throw from "College Hill." Even though the car has broken down several times, she has never been late for first period classes. We have heard that since her practice teaching days Helen requires only a small repast for breakfast.

Music—French—Biology

PITTSVILLE, MARYLAND

Pittsville High School

Philomathean Literary Society; Y. W. C. A.; Girls' Glee Club 1, 2; Cercle Francais; College Choir; J. G. C.

"KITTY BRITT" has two specialties: playing the piano and—. If "Kitty" isn't playing the piano for "pep" meetings or "Y. W." meetings, she may be found in one of the parlors, or strolling downtown. "Kitty" has surprised us all with a new song. Next summer when we hear the strains of a particularly catchy air and fitting words that promise to be the "song hit" of 1931, we can say with some pride that one of our classmates is responsible.

"BETTY" is one of the most famous of the "home-ec." majors. Her efficiency is noteworthy, but efficiency alone does not characterize "Betty." If you want an interesting companion call on "Betty;" if you want an active committeewoman appoint "Betty;" if you want a good athlete enlist "Betty's" aid. For in all of these various activities "Betty" will aid with a manner that is in itself charming.

CENTREVILLE, MARYLAND

Centreville High School

*Philomathean Literary Society; Y. W.

Powder Puffs; J. G. C.*

NOT many of us have "Anne's" understanding and love of music. "Anne" is never happier than when she is listening to a fine concert or practicing away in Smith Hall. But music is not all. Her desk is lined with worth-while books, and underneath a cloud of papers there is usually the inevitable typewriter. Long into the night you can often hear "Anne's" typewriter "speeling" forth verses that few if any are allowed to read.

"KAY'S" on the team, I know!"

In the assignments of every line-up "Kay's" name heads the list, for whether it's hockey, baseball, tennis, baseball—"Kay" excels in them all. Has she ever coached swimming in the summer?—just ask her. A real love of sports has made "Kay" the outstanding athlete that she is. One can feel this joy and love even by watching her play. J. G. C.'s list was also headed by Catherine White Cockburn, for good sportsmanship does carry through.

"GOING to mother's? Bring me five little chocolate-covered graham crackers!" is Evelyn's daily plea. Chocolate-covered graham crackers are the spice in Evelyn's day of activities, varying from rehearsing for speech plays to listening to tales of woe. To the former she gives her most sincere attention, and to the latter her sympathy. It is this sincere and sympathetic nature, combined with gracious manners, that has made for Evelyn many friends.

"DOUG" blew into Western Maryland from Annapolis, where the Naval Academy boxing team is stationed. The story is brief. "Doug" proceeded in short order to demonstrate the art of self-defense to the Middies. In fact, he showed no favoritism. His victims included representatives of every college in the Intercollegiate Boxing Association.

Pinning the championship medal on "Doug" has become a hobby. "Doug," however, likes hobbies, and we like "Doug."

WHEN one has had a year of dormitory life on "The Hill" it takes a brave heart to make the uphill grade every morning to a "zero" hour. But "Milly" doesn't complain; rather her manner is one of reserve modesty. In spite of that, no timidity kept her from braving the dangers of J. G. C.: Conscientious to the last degree. "Milly" puts every bit of her energy into her work.

YOU'll understand the nickname, "Spunky" when you meet her—particularly if she's feeling in that "contagious" mood that sets the whole "dorm" humming. That same name carries over in everything else—"Spunky" straight on through to the finish. Whether she is playing tennis or basketball (which, incidentally, she does remarkably well) or merely walking to class, there's that certain magnetism about her that makes us want to be "close-by" all the time.

 HIS world of ours is a better one because of men such as "Jim." Just tell him what to do; it will be done. When lacrosse was added to our lists of sports "Jim" became manager. He is still manager and, moreover, an efficient and capable aid to the team.

Hours of "Jim's" time have been spent in the chemistry laboratory, for here, as everywhere, he demonstrates his most outstanding characteristic—thoroughness.

"DOC" was a junior at Western Maryland when the class of 1931 entered. Medical school beckoned to him. After two years, however, he decided to come back to Westminster to finish with our class.

Now, good people, never ask "Doc" for an assignment if 9 o'clock is approaching. Lights may go out before he finishes fulfilling your request. Surely, he's slow; but then he is always right.

IF Ruth were not in the business world she would probably be known as an "efficiency expert." Efficient in every way possible, Ruth has been able to accomplish the little things in a way that all of us envy. We saw a new side of her nature when she "took her cue" and dominated the situation in a recent production of the Speech Department. In spite of all these overwhelming qualities, Ruth is not a formidable person at all, but friendly to everyone.

History of the Class of '31

THE history of any Senior class is a sort of valedictory. In it an attempt is made to set forth the major accomplishments of the class during its four years in college. Every class has these special accomplishments.

The class of 1931 is not an exceptional class. Like all Senior classes it has certain accomplishments of which it is justly proud. It has attempted to carry on worthwhile college traditions and to found new ones.

Looking backward, it does not seem that College Seniors could have been made in four short years out of as green material as we were during Freshman Week of September, 1927. The organizations of the campus quickly realized that even in green material there was much inherent worth. Soon they began to draw upon the class of 1931 for material. The Sophomore year saw us fewer in numbers, but in full swing with all the activities of college. This same activity has continued throughout the other two years. We are not a large class; but we have tried to make up for the lack of numbers in quality. To answer the question as to whether we have succeeded we present our accomplishments for consideration. In our Senior year we have gone from followers to leaders.

In athletics the Class of 1931 has been preeminently successful. The first Freshman football team that ever represented Western Maryland College was made from this class after the adoption of the three year rule in 1927. This team was very successful. When the members of the class became eligible for the Varsity it was soon seen that there were many valuable men among its members. One has only to listen to the speculation as to how next year's team will make out to realize how the undefeated team of the last two years has depended on the members of this class. Another sport to which the Class of 1931 took very well is Boxing. The sport was introduced when we were Freshmen, and if the list of class representatives is examined it can easily be seen that the members of this class have done very well. Other sports have depended to no inconsiderable extent on the Class of 1931. The women's basketball team, the co-ed's representative in intercollegiate athletics, has been rendered good service by several members of the Senior Class. In intramural athletics both men and women's teams have more than held their own.

This space is too small to catalogue all the activities in which the present Seniors have taken part. We can only refer you to the list of activities.

As Seniors, we have two things that occupy most of our thoughts, Retrospect and Prospect. Retrospect brings fond memories; Prospect hope of the future. Our hope is that Prospect will be realized and Retrospect of days at Western Maryland will become dearer to us as the years roll by.

Prophecy of the Class of '31

CANTO I

Introduction: The Travellers arrive.

Should you ask us whence these stories,
Whence these legends and traditions,
We should answer, we should tell you—
From the pen of two far Travellers
With interest in their class these Travellers,
Fond of every dear old school-mate,
Remembered them in years long after;
In the year of 1940
They remembered each dear class-mate.
Went they on a strange adventure—
Seeking out each dear old class-mate,
Wrote then all they saw and heard there,
Saw and heard upon their travels,
Called it the "Prophetic Writings,
Prophecy of '31."

CANTO II

The Travellers go to Broadway and buy the Times.

By the shores of New York City,
In the shining Big-Sea Water,
Docked a big ship White Star Liner.
Went then from the dock, these Travellers,
Down the great white way called Broadway.
Lit with many lights was Broadway,
Many signs were shining with legends of successes,
Shining with old names familiar,
Names familiar to these Travellers,
High above them on a red sign,
Was the name of Eckard shining,
Helen Eckard, the great actress,
Following in the steps of Bernhardt.
Crowded was her Thespian Palace.
Then they went and talked to Helen,
Talked to Helen their old class-mate.
"Next week I will leave this city,
Dorothe Todd will take my place here,

In her new play 'Stunning Dresses,'
I shall go to Baltimore," said she,
To play in the Little Theatre,
Sponsored by the Governor's Lady,
Our old class-mate Evelyn Collison.
While I'm there I shall visit

"Peg Hamilton" will also be there,
Lecturing on Indian Culture,
Culture of the American Indian.
Lived she long with the brave Redskin,
Learning all their songs and customs."
Then they left the Theatre stage door,
Stage door of the Thespian Palace.
And they bought from off a news stand,
Bought a "Times" from off a newstand,
Found the editor's name familiar;
Familiar was the name of Paul Bates,
Editor of the greatest paper in the whole of New York City,
Reading in this famous paper,
Saw they then a face familiar,
Face that looked like Catherine Hobby.
Though the name was unfamiliar,
They knew it was their class-mate Hobby;
A fine party was she giving
For her school friend, Eleanor Babylon,
Famous for her many travels
Into many foreign places.
Read a famous man would sing there,
Famous baritone from Maryland,
Accompanied by his dear wife, Mildred,
Who was pictured with her hostess,
And they recognized their old friend Milly,
Milly Raum their college class-mate.
On the front page of the paper
Did they see a big announcement,
Announcement from the world of science,
And the picture of a great man,
Who had found the fifth dimension,

And his name, too, was familiar,
Name of Edwards was familiar.
Saw they then from other headlines
How the Reed Bill was progressing,
Famous bill of Senator Mark Reed—
Senator from Pennsylvania,
Had a bill before the Senate
To hurry up our postal service,
Hurry up our nation's mail men.
And the Senator from Maryland,
Ruth Roop, famous woman leader,
Had a bill before the body
That the paste on all the stamps,
Should be made to taste like licorice.

CANTO III

The Travellers go to a restaurant.
Said one traveller to another,
"Let us take a Yellow Taxi,
Take a taxi to a restaurant."
Then the taxi stopped before them,
Labelled: "Rebert Taxi Company,"
And out stepped the famous owner,
Bidding me, a bright "Good Evening."
After they had talked of old times,
He told them of Meyer's Restaurant,
Helen Meyer's French Restaurant,
Where Virginia Ott was working,
Translating the gay French Menus
For those who did not know the language
Language of the French of Paris.
Once they entered in the portals
Of this Epicurean Hotel,
Saw they sitting at a table,
Jimmie Mann the famous Banker.
With him was his class-mate Doey,
Doey Rein of the Pathe,

Who learned his trade from Eddie Cantor.
From him learned they more of class-mates,

Learned of Wesley Day in China,
"Wes," who introduced in China,

Knew how also George Ekaitis,
Who with Crosby ran a night club,
On the shining Champs Elysees,
Where the pugilistic Crosby,
Taught the French the art of boxing,
And the smiling George Ekaitis,
Took their centimes as they entered.
There the conversation ended,
Ended when the dancers entered,
Well known figures were these dancers,
And immediately they knew them,
Blonde Ann Clough and brunette Vi Reed
Tapped and twirled in the spotlight.
Entered then another figure,
Also well known to the Travellers,
Stood she then within the spotlight,
Poured her wit upon the people,
Wit that shamed the great Will Rogers,
Wit original with Sally—
Sally Reinecke, their class-mate.
When the lights again were lighted
Stood another class-mate beside the Travellers,
Stood Victoria Smith there smiling,
Who had seen them when they entered,
And they knew how she had come there,
Come to be in New York City.
Manager was she for Le Gallienne,
Eva Le Gallienne, the great stage actress,
Said she just came from Chicago,
Where she had seen Donald Woolley,

So successful were these two men,
That where jails had once housed criminals,
Mr. Pyle had built Libraries,
Spending all the "pyled" millions,
To cultivate the "Windy City."

CANTO IV

The Travellers go to a Hotel and then on a shopping tour.

Went they then to Riggin Hotel,
Famous Hotel called L'Enfant,
Administered by Vivian Riggin,
Known in College days as "Baby."
When they entered in the lobby,
Met they then two other class-mates,
Who were shopping in the city
Before returning to their duties,
Catherine Cockburn and Chris Hogan,
Famous for their marvellous program
In the field of physical Ed.
Early next day rose the shoppers
To put in a day of shopping.
First they went into a subway,
Where they saw an advertisement
For the famous Arrow Collars,
And the model smiling on them
Was none other then their class-mate,
Class-mate popular George McGowan.
Then they went into a bookstore,
Where they made some strange discoveries,
Discoveries about their class-mates,
Saw a book of mathematics,
Written by Professor Flater.
And saw a book of History
From the pen of Kroh and Stoffle,
With a complimentary preface
By the well known Walter Kohout,
Professor of National History
At West Point along the Hudson.
And a lovely pictured volume

Then they saw a wee perfume shop,
And Martha Fogle was its owner.
Met a lady there—nee Downing,
Famous for her Persian Kittens
That she raises on her cat-farm.
And when they learned from this fine lady
That the secret of her success was
That she sprayed all her kittens
With Lavender and Coty's Paris;
Said that she had sent two Persians
To newly founded "B.A." College,
Where Joe Newcomer, Ph.D.,
Has the place of President,
And where the liberal, Ruth Davis,
Is the popular Dean of Women.
Went then to an exclusive gown shop,
Were conducted to the model room,
By the chief floor-walker—Willis,
Where the mannequin Elinor Myers
Modeled gowns designed by Pennewell,
Famous Pennewell creations,
Noted specially for his striking colors,
Noted specially for his "Reds."
There they met their friend Ruth Kelbaugh,
Buying gowns she deemed appropriate
For a criminal lawyer's lady,
Lawyer with the name of John.
And she told of Western Maryland
And the changes that had come there.
How their old class-mate Helen Horner
Was the College dietitian,
With Myra Knox as her assistant.
And that Metcalf daily teaches
Romance languages to the students.
And the Lawrence football system
Had replaced the one by Harlow.
Told them too that "Wiggie" Wilker
Had the place of Captain Woolley;
And that these two men between them
Have perfected men's athletics,
When they meet at three each Thursday.

PROPHECY—Continued

Then they left the exclusive gown shop,
Went in search of more adventure.
Saw a sign above them shining
With the legend "Ye Olde Dance Schoole:
Usinger and J. K. Day."
Famous dancing masters were they.
Kitty "Brit" wrote all their music,
Published by the well known company,
"Wellinger and Brittingham."
Efficiency expert—Helen Bankard
Handled all their other business,
While all the covers for the music,
Were the work of Carolyn Tull.

CANTO V

The Travellers continue down Broadway and to the Opera.

Craving then some entertainment
Went the Travellers to the Opera,
To hear their class-mate Alice Holland
Sing the famous "Traviata."
Scanned they then their little programs.
Saw the name of Sullivan
As the managing director,
Noticed also that the actors
Were costumed by Anna May Gallion.
Saw the name of Catherine Lynch
As the chief publicity agent,
And the name of Reickenbecker
Listed as chief electrician,
While the famous Ballet-chorus
Was led by talented Ann Suttle
On the back an advertisement
Of the ideal place for children,
Of the Hecht camp in the mountains,
Where their dear old class-mate, Hannah

Conclusion: The Travellers, farewell

When the Opera was ended
Then their adventure was completed,
Said one Traveller to another,
"We have traced each of our class-mates,
And we know what they are doing
In their various occupations.
Let us then return to Biscay,
To a quiet place in Flanders,
Cease our wanderings and our writings
Long enough to tell the history
Of our class-mates as we found them
After years of graduation.
Came this story of our class-mates
As it has unrolled before you.
May you have the joy in reading
That has been ours in writing,
And may we express fond wishes,
As we say farewell forever.

History of the Class of '32

LAST year we were "Silly Sophs," the year before "Green Freshies," and this year we've been "Important Juniors"—important from our first to our last day on "The Hill." We didn't have to bother hazing the Freshmen this year and neither did we have to worry about punishments rendered by upper classmen. We found more time to spend in making the Junior Class one of the best that has ever sojourned on "The Hill."

Our introduction into the School of Education has sobered us a little and given us a year of hard work. The scholarship of the class has been high and this year did not lower the standards one bit.

In social affairs we have had much influence. Ours was the First Junior Prom to be held on "The Hill." The class took an active part in the May Day and Commencement affairs. The Jesters, Dramatic, and Music Clubs have recruited excellent material from our midst.

Our talents extended beyond these, however; in Athletics the Class of '32 is well represented, both in quantity and in quality. Part of an undefeated football team came out of this class, and several boxers swell our number. Basketball is well represented by many Juniors, both men and women. The co-ed class team has always been around or on the top.

A few have found it necessary to leave Western Maryland and the Junior Class behind them, but most of us are standing by, ready to take the place of the departing Seniors and carry on the honor of the Class of '32.

History of the Class of '33

LET us pretend that the Class of '33 is a master gallion ever in search of new lands and new adventures. As lowly galley-slaves we started out, weighing anchor for our first long voyage. At times the course seemed long and tiresome, especially, when our exacting overseers put in appearance. But, with the first lap of the voyage over we realized that it had been all too short.

We had touched many fascinating ports and had discovered totally different lands from any we had ever dreamed of. We had fought battles too, with other ships. We were very proud of our boys who were such outstanding victors in football, basketball, and boxing. And soon, before we neared the end of our first voyage, the chief co-eds held a sea festival—the Lantern Chain, in honor of those who were soon to be honorably discharged from the service.

We cast anchor for repairs during the summer and on returning for our second voyage we were promoted—now captains of the galley slaves. Like Alexander we wanted new worlds to conquer and we soon found them. Led by our new captain, Tom Gealey, our nautical athletes gained honors even among the second seamen. Our men had found places among the Inter-collegiate boxers with a champion to boast of. We were also represented on the All-Maryland team.

Remembering such enterprises as our successful Hallowe'en party given to the entire fleet, we realize that this voyage has meant more to us than the previous one, although it seems scarcely possible. As we have sailed along we have grown in intelligence and have gained in experience. It has been our one desire that the crew of our ship shall never be disbanded and that as each year passes with a new voyage we will have learned to be better seamen on the voyage of life.

History of the Class of '34

*"Observe, my children, and ye shall know
That mighty oaks from acorns grow."*

ONCE upon a time a discriminate registrar assembled a group of unsuspecting morons and announced them as prospective Freshmen. Such a variety of young humanity . . . all to be developed into college people! Now the morons of the preceding year, having evolved into Sophomoric imbecility, resented this juvenile invasion, and with pun and paddle prepared to vent their righteous anger upon the newcomers. The male species of the class appeared ludicrously adorned with "rat caps" and hideous yellow ties. Alas! the females added to their natural charm decorations such as white hair nets and peanut earrings. All this and sundry humiliating antics were prescribed by the Sophomores that we might fully realize our own insignificance and conduct ourselves in humble accordence.

However, not to be daunted, we, of '34, set about making ourselves useful on "The Hill." We have participated in every activity open to Freshmen, proving our worth at upholding the ideals and purpose of our Alma Mater. Athletically we have a wealth of material and Scholastically we have few who are inferior.

We, as Freshmen, hope to acquit ourselves creditably even to the point of exceeding the expectations of our Sponsors.

HE rifle team again finished another successful season under the tutelage of Captain Woolley. The team finished third in the Third Corps Area match and fifth in the National Inter-collegiate Match. The team also fired sixty-two matches with colleges and universities all over the United States, winning forty-one and losing twenty-one.

For the individual competition of this area Winsten Willey won the individual championship (the second time it has come to Western Maryland in six years). Neil Woolley finished fifth, Bradley Bowman sixth, and Harry Lawrence tenth. All of these men received medals for their placements.

Varsity Football Resume

WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE has completed another very successful football season. Though this 1930 did not escape being tied it did escape defeat, something that no other college in the East could say for its 1930 campaign. Western Maryland also holds the honor of being "State Champions" for the past two seasons.

Playing a ten game schedule with schools of good football records, nine games were won and one was tied. New relations were formed with John Carroll University and The All Marine Team. Five men were selected for the mythical All Maryland eleven, they being, Bates, Ekaitis, Wilker, Barnette, and Kopp.

The season opened at Baltimore with the University of Baltimore as the opposing eleven. This game resulted in a decisive 59-0 victory for the Terrors.

The ALOHA

Harlow's men again made their appearance in Baltimore the following week and emerged with an 18-0 victory over St. John's College. This game was played on even terms during the first half, but with the start of the second half the boys from Westminster opened their attack and scored three touchdowns in quick order. Two of these were made by the splendid bucking of Kopp, and the other resulted from the recovery of a blocked punt by Captain Bates.

The following Saturday again found the Terrors squad in Baltimore with Georgetown University as their opponent in the Stadium. The powerful eleven from Washington, D. C., again had to be content with the losing side of the game as Western Maryland, for the second successive season, emerged with the victory. This time the score was 10-0, Kopp receiving a pass from Doughty and racing for the touchdown; Ekaitis making the point and Harry Lawrence boosting a perfect field goal.

Loyola College was met the next week at the same place. Once again the Green Terrors showed their class by downing the opposition 40-7. Loyola's touchdown coming after the Western Maryland varsity had retired.

The next game was played at Washington, D. C., with the All Marine Team. In this game the wonderful physical condition of the Terror squad brought victory, after battling on even terms for three-quarters, Harlow's men pushed over three touchdowns in the final quarter to win by a 20-0 score.

The following Saturday found the Westminster outfit at Cleveland, Ohio, with John Carroll University as the opposing eleven. The Terrors emerged again with a 27-0 victory.

Mt. St. Mary's was met the following week at Westminster. This was "Home Coming Day" and the boys from Emmitsburg had to be content with the short end of a 33-0 score. The following Saturday was to be very unpleasant for the boys of Western Maryland. They met an inspired team in the outfit representing Albright College and had to be content with a 7-7 tie.

The ALOHA

Muhlenberg was taken into camp the following Saturday at Reading in an uneventful game, the score being 25-0. The final game of the season found the Green Terrors again in their old grounds at Baltimore Stadium, to play the University of Maryland for the state championship. After fighting on even grounds for three quarters Western Maryland pushed over a touchdown in the final quarter to win by 7-0. Kopp made the touchdown and Lawrence the extra point. The final game of the season marked the end of the careers of many of the Green Terrors Stars. Among those who played their last game for the Green and Gold are: Captain Bates, end, twice All Maryland and All Eastern. Ekairis, quarterback, twice All Maryland. Wilker, tackle, twice All Maryland, and Wellinger one of the best safeties in the state. A number of other valuable men left with the end of the season, namely: Kouhout, Lawrence, Usinger and Newcomer.

HE 1930 Freshman Football Team enjoyed fair success considering the difficult schedule that confronted it. Although winning only two of the five games played it showed marked ability and would have undoubtedly won more if the schedule had not called for games with teams with such outstanding ability. The greatest achievement of the "Baby Terrors" was the 9-6 defeat it administered to the Navy Plebes. From the quality of the football played it is evident that the team should furnish several capable men to the varsity next year.

Soccer Resume

ERMIT LONGRIDGE, former star booter for Western Maryland, returned to "The Hill" to pilot the Terror Soccer Team through a very successful season. The coach and the team are to be congratulated for winning five games of the hard eight-game schedule they played.

The Terrors took over their old rival, State Normal, and lost only to teams of exceptional ability, such as Navy and Penn State.

The ALOHA

Varsity Basketball Squad

Varsity Basketball

HE basketball season of 1931 was apparently not a successful one as the Green Terrors won only two games. It was successful, however, when we consider that prior to this year the teams have lacked the proper basketball fundamentals and a new coach cannot build a strong team in one year. Western Maryland has finally received an able coach in "Skip" Stahley former Penn State star. Beginning the season with much inexperienced material, "Skip," finally moulded a team that ably upheld all the finer qualities of the game. Games were won against Blue Ridge College and Mt. St. Mary's. Many games were lost by only a few points and in some instances foul shots were the deciding margins. There was one outstanding characteristic that was noticeable in the team and that was their fighting spirit.

The outstanding men of the squad were: Captain Wellinger, Brown high point scorer, and Hammil center.

THE present Freshman Basketball Team is the first in the history of Western Maryland College to emerge undefeated and untied from an eleven-game schedule comparable to that of this season. Their success lay in the splendid co-operation and sportsmanship displayed throughout the season. Due credit must be given to their coach, "Skip" Stahley.

The regular five consisted of Hester and Mahoney forwards, Sadusky center, and Diksa and Hurley guards, while Dunn and Timmons were always reliable alternates. Sadusky was the high scorer for the team, as his height enabled him to drop the ball through the basket at all angles.

With the enlistment of such men in the varsity ranks next year the success of the team is almost assured.

BOXING TEAM

Boxing Resume

FINISHING her fourth year in Inter-collegiate boxing competition, Western Maryland has again proved that her team must be ranked among the best of the land. The reputation that the boxing team holds where clean-cut sportsmanship, boxing skill, and punching ability are taken into consideration, knows no limits. The season's schedule consisted of eight meets and included the best teams in the eastern inter-collegiate boxing circles.

The Terrors, getting a rather slow start, lost their first two meets. Then the team was revived by the addition of Ekaitis and Pincura. From then on it could not be stopped. City College of New York, was the first team to fall before the Terror leather pushers. The following Saturday night the Terrors rose to high heights in boxing circles by holding Penn State to a tie. This was indeed an unlooked for achievement for Penn State was then holding the Inter-collegiate Championship.

Va. Poly., Penn, and West Virginia then fell before the inspired Harlow coached team on consecutive week-ends. On March the fourteenth the Terror squad journeyed to Annapolis with the intentions of doing what no other team had done to date; that was defeating the Navy at home. Coach Harlow surprised the critics by using Chandler in the 115 pound class. Navy had considered this bout as theirs, but Chandler emerged as the victor after three rounds of fast boxing. Navy came back and won the 125 pound bout when Fitzgerald defeated Flater. Then the big upset of the evening happened- Fulner of Navy knocked out Captain Crosby in the first round. This deadened Western Maryland's hopes as Crosby had been considered a sure winner. Navy won the 145 pound bout as Hall outpointed Borchers. Steese Brubaker then added a point for Western Maryland when he defeated Andrews. George Ekaitis came through for the Terrors when he knocked out Johnson of the Navy in the second round. This fight tied the score as each team had won three bouts and the meet rested upon the shoulders of the heavyweights. After three rounds of slugging the bout was decided a draw between Crinkley of Navy and Pincura of the Terror team. Thus Western Maryland had to be content with a draw, of what had proved to be a great meet.

Western Maryland followed up her success by travelling to Penn State and entering the Inter-collegiate meet the following Saturday. George Ekaitis and Steese Brubaker were crowned champions after winning in their divisions. Captain Doug Crosby won second place among the lightweights and Pincura second among the heavyweights. The score of sixteen compiled by these four men enabled the Terrors to take second place in the meet with Navy first.

The 1931 season marks the end of the Inter-collegiate boxing careers of three members of the team. They are Ekaitis, Captain Crosby, and Flater. These three men have been very active in helping the team to pull through with its many wins and no doubt will be hard to replace. However, indications point to another successful season next year as many candidates will arise from the present Freshman class.

LACROSSE this year at Western Maryland will be strictly on a student basis, even to a student coach in the person of George Ekaitis of football and boxing fame. Lacrosse, due to the fact that it has been recently brought to "The Hill," has not enjoyed the wide popularity of some of the other sports. Nevertheless interest in it is growing considerably. The student body has been following it more closely since the "Terror Stickmen" were admitted into the Inter-collegiate Lacrosse League last year.

Last year the teams coached by T. B. Marden made a credible showing against some of the strongest teams in the East in several well played games. This year's team will be lead by Walter Kohout, star defense man of last year. Although losing such men as Gomsack, Havens, Willie, and Baker, the 1931 twelve looks forward to a successful season. The team will be built around Captain Kouhout, Ekaitis, Wilker, Usinger, Seitz, Bates, Hammil, Jones, Benson, Flater, Wallace, and Willey.

TENNIS TEAM

Tennis

DUE to the fact that three men of last year's team, Engle, Hoff, and Mather have been lost to this year's squad the outlook does not look so bright, especially so since the weather at the beginning of the season was so that the squad could do little conditioning. However the team should round into one worthy of the Green and Gold as Captain Woolley, Willey, Palmer, and Tuckerman will be assisted by some able substitutes from last year's team.

Last year's season was quite satisfactory, four games being won during a hard eight game schedule. Victories were scored over the University of Maryland, Drexel, and twice over Loyola. The 1931 schedule promises to keep the Terrors busy as games are scheduled with many schools of well known ability in tennis circles.

CO-ED ATHLETIC BOARD

The Women's Athletic Association

HE Women's Athletic Association was organized in the spring of 1930, with a charter membership of ninety. The purpose of the organization is, "to promote athletics, to create a love of sports, and to foster the ideal of good sportsmanship."

The Association is governed by an executive board consisting of President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and the head of each sport. The board is advised by the Directors of Physical Education for Women, Miss Parker and Miss Todd.

During its first year of existence the Association has awarded five blazers and twenty-one "Ms" to those qualifying according to its constitution. It has sponsored participation in Basketball, Hockey, Baseball, Hiking, and Tennis.

ALTHOUGH the varsity squad was not honored with medals and the point system has thrown the letter award into the discard, a long string of victories rewarded the squad's weeks of practice. Only one defeat, and that one not inglorious, by any means, marred the season. An excellent passing game with sharpshooting forwards has gained for the Co-ed's this enviable record.

Girls' basketball has become the main winter sport and the season has been lengthened and extensive trips planned because of the interest in the game. To "Kay" Cockburn much respect can be paid for the advancement and popularity of the game.

The squad loses through graduation, Ruth Davis, Dorothy Todd, Christine Hogan, and Katherine Cockburn.

The competent coaching of Miss Parker and Miss Todd with their general cooperation with the team has aided greatly in the success of this year's team.

CERCLE FRANCAIS

Cercle Francais

PENDANT les cinq années de son existence le Cercle Français a fait beaucoup de bien pour les étudiants de la langue. Aux séances nous parlons et entendons le Français, et apprenons à connaître la France et les Français. Cette année les programmes se sont concentrés sur un voyage à la France, et nous avons fait des visites et dans plusieurs provinces. Pour le programme de Noël nous avons présenté une scène de "L'Oiseau Bleu." Chaque printemps nous donnons des pièces. Cette année elles sont "La Surprise d'Isadore" et "L'Enfance de Jeanne d'Arc."

HE Sunday School has presented many interesting programs this year, under the superintendency of Professor Carl Schaeffer. Every Sunday special music has formed a part of the service. The Christmas service in Baker Chapel is one of the most impressive events of the college year. An exceptionally fine program was presented this year with the co-operation of all the departments. An offering was collected by the various classes and given to aid the unemployed of this city. The attendance and interest in the Sunday School is greater now than that of the past few years.

CALENDAR

1931

The ALOHA

ALOHA Calendar

September

- 23—The sixty-fourth year begins. Freshmen seem to be the best class since the Senior class arrived four years ago.
- 24—Freshmen catch on quickly and enjoy the reception in McDaniel Hall.
- 25—They like the campus, but are anxious for the rest of the student body. The "Ys" give supper-hikes to entertain them.
- 26—Freshmen are no longer popular. The Western Marylanders are back!
- 27—Saturday—what a queer day to start schedules. Seniors feel high-hat about morning chapel. Book-room mobbed.
- 28—Floods of alumni back. Do the old graduates miss W. M. C.? Yes!
- 29—Classes went better. Dr. Yount will not resume his classes this year. Organizations begin. Elections held.
- 30—Co-eds make 25c an hour working for the registrar.

October

- 1—The annual Introductory Lecture. The day ended with the Freshman bonfire. Many hidden talents show possibilities.
- 2—The first Gold Bug is commendable. Ditto the Teachers' Recital. Miss Esther Smith portrays Juliet well. Oh, for a Romeo in the faculty!
- 3—The first night football game for Western Maryland. It was a huge success over University of Baltimore, 58-0. "Goose" ran 90 yards.
- 4—The Terrors started their second undefeated season!
- 5—The Episcopalians have early breakfast at the rectory. Many converted!
- 6—Sophomore Class elections. W. W. Club gave Faculty Tea in honor of Miss Roselda Todd.
- 7—The first big Pep Meeting!
- 8—J. G. C. begins its weird tricks again. Mysteriousness increased when Juniors were given a surprise attack.
- 9—ALOHA Staff announced. Cheers for the editors!
- 10—Terrors down the St. Johnnies in the second night football game.
- 11—Pi Alpha Alpha gave the first dance of the season. Everyone celebrated in the Armory.

The ALOHA

- 12—Co-eds turn green with envy when a green sedan was chauffeured off "The Hill."
- 13—Practice teachers start daily excursions.
- 14—Still an Engle as College Chauffeur! Senior speech students attend "Elizabeth the Queen."
- 15—Odds for W. M. C. on Saturday's game. All good-looking co-eds pose for newspaper publicity.
- 16—"Dear Western Maryland" has a second verse now!
- 17—Bit Pep Meeting in front of McDaniel Hall. Delta Sigma Kappa rush party in Baltimore.
- 18—What a game! Western Maryland 10; Georgetown o. W. W. gives rush party to the game and to the Tally Ho.
- 19—Koppe is the new college hero. He's a star!
- 20—Miss Robinson back to praise the Senior Class. We were her last victims.
- 21—Sunday manners assumed for the big Medical Convention on "The Hill."
- 22—First time to get off on hymn in chapel.
- 23—Gas evaporates in all automobiles left on "The Hill" over night.
- 24—Pep meetings getting tenser. But we aren't worried.
- 25—Loyola swamped by a score of 40-7.
- 26—Loyola tickled over getting touchdown. Just a little encouragement for the other teams.
- 27—Co-eds have Children's Play Hour in the gym.
- 28—Student Government reigned supreme when "Semi" walked into "Bonnie's." Thanks to the W. W. Get-together there!
- 29—The dean is in Baltimore. First case of yellow jaundice on "The Hill" is the result.
- 30—Big party for "Kitty," the Fire Captain. Phi Alpha Mu have a rush party.
- 31—Hallowe'en a success, with the Sophomores holding a dance—the first on "The Hill."

November

- 1—W. M. C. sinks the Marines, 20-0. "Dick" almost tackles the referee.
- 2—Fire! In College Inn. Pajama parade!
- 3—Miss Ebaugh elected as dedicatee of the ALOHA.
- 4—French Club visited by real French guests. J. G. C. banquet.

The ALOHA

- 5—Meow! Black and White pledges enter chapel.
- 6—Hurrah! Muffins for dinner on Thursdays.
- 7—Co-eds hold open date before rushing season for clubs.
- 8—Whoopee! Georgetown Freshmen invade McDaniel Hall.
- 9—Terrors' season is easier. We won again.
- 10—Seniors begin the Morrison—Unit—Chatter.
- 11—Seniors in more of a haze.
- 12—Girls' Clubs send out bids.
- 13—Georgetown game announced for next year. They can't get enough.
- 14—Contrast! Pep meeting—Curtis Institute Recital.
- 15—Home-coming Day. Old students come back and celebrate victory over St. Mary's at the dance in the Armory.
- 17—Mrs. Stover has lumbago again.
- 18—Seniors migrate to Wilson's studio. Look pretty.
- 19—Terror among the co-eds about smoking.
- 20—Terrors may play the University of Utah for charity.
- 21—Junior-Freshmen party. Seniors feel slighted.
- 22—A real nightmare! Albright ties us, 7-7. Thanks to Harry for the point after touchdown.
- 23—The Lion roars. No more dates for those who love the team.
- 24—But we are still undefeated—!
- 25—Seniors hold elections and practice carols.
- 26—Heroine of the Thanksgiving Play goes to the infirmary.
- 27—Thanksgiving. Two splendid speech plays.
- 28—Horrors! "Y. W." party turns into a dance.
- 29—Another victory. Western Maryland College 25; Muhlenberg 0.

December

- 1—Sereck has tough job making us good-looking.
- 2—"Kill Maryland" is the talk of "The Hill."
- 3—Bates makes All-Eastern Team. Congratulations, Paul.
- 5—Webster-Irving Debate. "Greasy" and other former captains return for the final game.

The ALOHA

- 6—Maryland goes down, 7-0. Big Victory Dance at the Southern.
- 7—Notre Dame and Western Maryland. Two undefeated seasons for each.
- 8—W. W. gives annual Football Banquet.
- 9—Western Maryland College dominates All-Maryland team. Great work!
- 10—Gamma Beta Chi pledges keep "The Hill" awake until 3 A.M.
- 11—Night watchman bribed for food in McDaniel Hall.
- 12—Winter is with us.
- 14—Beautiful Christmas Service at Baker Chapel.
- 15—First snow.
- 16—Christmas Banquet minus the speakers was a great success. Dance afterward in McDaniel Hall.
- 17—Some of the men turn postmen for the holidays.
- 18—Philo-Webster party was huge success. Dancing must stop at 11.
- 19—Christmas recess starts. Tragic accident mars the holiday spirit.

January

- 5—All back with resolutions, many to be broken.
- 6—Classes begin. All ready for the big drive.
- 8—Resolutions to study are hard to keep.
- 12—Big snow reminds us that winter is still with us.
- 13—Tony Sarg's Marionettes here. Big event in the evening, when we win a game from Blue Ridge.
- 14—A crowd transformed Royer's into a night club.
- 15—Co-eds listen to lecture on morality. No effect.
- 16—First speech recital. Enjoyed by everyone.
- 17—Boxers lose to Dartmouth but show great promise for the future.
- 18—Two faculty members turn detective on the lovelorn.
- 20—Wallace Nutting shows many interesting pictures.
- 21—The eve of the great struggle. No dates tonight.
- 22—Exams start. And far into the night—.
- 28—Exams are over. Everyone takes a needed rest.
- 29—Just another game. St. Johns scalped us.
- 31—First week-end after exams. "The Hill's" deserted.

The ALOHA

February

- 1—Boxing Team returns from Army. We lost.
- 5—Western Maryland College conquers C. C. N. Y. boxers at the Armory.

In Retrospect

WE, of the ALOHA staff, wish to thank all those who have helped to make possible the publication of this book. Without the very fine co-operation of the members of the administration, faculty, students, and advertisers it would have been impossible to have made this annual a worthy production. To those firms whose organizations have actually produced the book, we add further thanks:
