I CALL YOU

FROM DARKNESS INTO LIGHT

INTELLECTUAL Dedication

"All who have meditated on the art of governing mankind have been convinced that the fate of empires depends on the education of youth."

ARISTOTLE
For Life there must be Peace,—peace warm with brotherhood.
To understand all men, and in understanding them to love them,
—this is our task, the hope for our world.

"In the present circumstances, when so many dark shadows lie across our path, we have need for people with disciplined minds and bodies, who,
when they have heard or read something can think,
digest and come to the right conclusions, and act."

[Signature]

We, then, the Class of 1949, believing in Life and Peace, and in making Life with Peace a reality, dedicate this Aloha to the deeper understanding—the brotherhood of man.
Close on the heels of registration day came the Orientation period, crammed full of tests, speeches, assemblies, and informal and formal get-togethers, which were designed to aid us in becoming better acquainted with our new surroundings.

This period was ended with the return of the upperclassmen. Immediately the Sophomore girls took over giving to the Freshmen... girls the annual "Rat Week". Fortunately for us it rained most of the week so that umbrellas were quite the style on campus.

Having gone through one week of torture the girls were again subjected to initiation by the entire Sophomore class for the entire Freshman class, which began with the opening of the football season and ended with the closing of it. Introduced at this time as necessary wearing apparel were the "Freshman Caps".

During this initiation period classes functioned as usual and before long we learned the peculiarities and whims of our various professors. Along with the studies there were sports, both varsity and intramural, in which our class eagerly participated. Not only did studies and sports claim our attention, but also the other extra activities. The musical programs, the meeting of the various clubs, the fraternity dances—all these played an important role in our life, and before we realized it Christmas vacation had arrived.

On our return in the new year we were faced with final exam and ultimately the grades, which we passed through with flying colors. Basketball season then claimed our attention, and we turned out and gave our full support to the team.

Spring vacation came, and we realized then that we had just about completed one of the hardest years of our college career. However, no matter how hard the grind, pleasure was always intermingled with work.

Now as we look in retrospect on our first year at Western Maryland, we are able to say that it was full of great achievements—scholastically, athletically, and socially. But we do not rest on our laurels. Instead, we shall pursue our goals, always seeking and always finding.

To you, the class of '49, we say farewell, and best of luck, and may we strive to uphold and carry on the glorious heritage which you have so generously left to us.

It has been two years since we entered into life on “the Hill” as Freshmen, and each year has brought with it new experiences which have all too soon become memories.

Being familiar with the prevailing traditions and campus life, we came back in September to re-enter, feeling much more at ease than we had the previous year. Now we felt more like a part of the big, happy family that exists at W.M.C.

The first few weeks were spent renewing last year’s friendships and passing on the traditions of Western Maryland to the bewildered freshmen. We showered them with treatment similar to that which we received last year. Also, our class, under the able leadership of our president, assisted the Student Government in initiating the entire freshman class during the pigskin season.

Being sophomores, we were given the opportunity to become members of the sororities or fraternities and build up stronger friendship ties with our sorority sister and “frat” brothers. This was all a part of our experience in our first year as upperclassmen.

We continued to take an active part in college life and participated in many activities which were offered us. The sophomores were very well represented in the field of sports with members of our class on each team and an equal representation on the cheering squad.

In the Fall, as we started on new paths of learning, we entered wholeheartedly into the activities on “the Hill” and made new acquaintances. After the fall season, climaxed with the events of Homecoming, Winter fell upon the campus. How well we remember those cold mornings and first period classes. One of the beauties of winter is to see the campus covered with a blanket of snow. Before we knew it, Christmas vacation was here, and we were parting for a short while. After the holidays came the struggle of exam week with all study, some fun and no sleep. Our campus came back to life with the first few days of warm weather. Soon the forces of spring fever began to play upon us and we had to struggle to make ourselves study instead of watching the ROTC drills or spring practice games. With Spring came all the gala affairs such as May Day and Graduation, when once again we had to say goodbye to those who have been such swell pals and friends during their stay on “the Hill”.

This year, we felt that we really belonged to WMC and that it belonged to us; we have been striving for scholastic, athletic, and social achievements. Some of these have been obtained; however, our goal is still before us.

During our freshman year, we failed to look sufficiently beyond the novelty of our college life to perceive its real value. The things that we associate with “the Hill” have taken a new meaning and this meaning shall continue to grow as we, the Class of ’51, take our next step forward.
The Class of 1950

One—two—three years, and the class of 1950 are the Jolly Juniors of "the Hill". The years have held days filled with unforgettable experiences and memories to punctuate every phase. Yet it is difficult to put remembrances into words, influencing events into sentences. All of us can say that we remember the first day we arrived, the football games, the dances; but we cannot catalogue the small intangible things—the spirit, understanding, mutual efforts and integrated friendship of the students. So let us recall the numerous activities that have filled our days, and let each interpret them under the guise of the small things that make them seem real once more.

One—September, 1946, and The Class of 1950 became the freshmen of W.M.C. We stormed our way to the top of "the Hill" fighting against the elements to wade from the administration building to the dormitories. Finally the sun came out only to catch the Freshmen rats as they emerged from their seclusion under the forceful pushing of the Sophomores. It wasn't until the end of the orientation that we realized that it had been fun—that now we belonged. We learned quickly and successfully, and before we knew it we were spreading our wings to become those important links in the traditional Lantern Chain.

Two—Sophomores already. We seized the position of upperclassmen, and had our turn to reign like royalty over the freshmen. Yet before we knew we were again brought down a peg during sorority and fraternity initiation. Our reward was a welcome into a social life that gave us many new friends and opportunities. This was the year that we first suffered under the impact of final examinations. We knew that we couldn't possibly live through such an ordeal, but some how we did. We not only lived but flourished through our first full and gay year as upperclassmen—a year that brought us even closer to "The Hill."

Three—and we are Juniors. This year we acquired an ancient feeling; we felt as stable as The Archway or Carpe Diem. We were jolly, and we were also busy. We elected our editor and business manager for our own ALOHA publication. The dramatic art students presented the traditional three one-act plays. We first felt the responsibility of becoming seniors when the student government president was elected from our class. We held the Junior-Senior Prom with the seniors as our honored guests, and the Rose Cup Ceremony, when we said good-bye with a rose and a wish for the future.

One—two—three years of memories. One after the other taking us back to see how we "just grewed"—each memory a milestone dividing one episode from another, but all leading to the fulfillment of every ideal and aspiration fostered by "the Hill". From freshmen to sophomores to juniors—

And now, when we are seniors—
Mountain climbing is a wonderful and enlightening experience, even though it is much more difficult than most people anticipate. In these respects, it can be paralleled to a journey through college. For the past several years, we, the class of 1949, have had just such an experience, but at last we have reached the top with an opportunity to look backwards at the progress we have made.

Getting adjusted to this new type of experience required much planning and ability. This adjustment was not the usual adjustment made on a co-ed campus—there were co-eds, but few men! As we look back, we have memories of girls in Albert Norman Ward. This first year was primarily one of dormitory hilarity, imports for dances, and of a winning basketball team after the arrival of some Glen Lyon vets in February.

As the ultimate goal was always before our eyes, sometimes we overlooked the vast expanse between our starting point and our objective. However, there were various pitfalls along the way in the form of initiations, tests and “pop” quizzes which reminded us that our way had to be made step by step. There were pauses for relaxation which made our journey more enjoyable—a trip to Earl’s, a sorority rush party, or a dorm gab-session. A major event of our sophomore year which especially made our journey more enjoyable was the sophomore follies, “The Green and Gold Rush”. During this year there was the gradual reappearance of masculine activities—fraternities, football, and frivolity.

When we stopped to rest after each long stretch, we had the satisfaction of looking back at the progress we had made. Once or twice we may have thought that we had gone far enough and decided to give up the climb, but after a long rest, our enthusiasm was rekindled and we returned to our former path. With this new enthusiasm we cheered our teams to victory, sponsored dances, and welcomed President Ensor in our junior year. However, our welcome was not so favorable for the formal examinations which were inaugurated this year.

As we mounted higher, the paths became steeper, but we had, by then, adapted our pace to the climb, and we were rewarded with self-satisfaction and pride by our accomplishment. We had mastered the arts of passing tests and examinations, of writing term papers and collateral, and of getting the most out of the social life offered on the Hill. A bigger and better student government in our senior year sponsored gala weekends for Homecoming and May Day, complete with floats, displays, and jubilant school spirit. All in all, our senior year was the best—the summit of our four years' climb.

At last we have reached the peak of our mountain. Only now can we realize the worthiness of our expended effort. Our trips to the music hall, our sieges in the library, and our struggles with education at last mean something. Our viewpoints are more mature and our outlooks broader. From this peak, looking backward, we can see our paths; looking forward, the world is before us.

Shadows
The mind of Man is invaluable. It is the path from darkness to light. To train his mind to reason logically, to meet crises successfully—to keep alive the spark of intellectual curiosity when the youthful fire of life has died—to live and act to the best of his ability with intelligence, discretion, tolerance, and foresight, is the responsibility of each man so endowed by his Creator.
THE ARGONAUTS

President: JEAN SAUSE
Vice-President: JAMES OGDEN
Secretary: BARBARA SOWERS
Treasurer: AUDREY DIXON

The Argonauts, Western Maryland's honor society, promotes sound scholarship, gives recognition to high scholastic standing, and promotes fellowship between student and faculty. The activities of this group are carried on by associate members, who are juniors and seniors maintaining an over-all average of "B" or better. Full membership is granted to those who graduate "cum laude" or "summa cum laude." Sponsors of the organization are Dr. Evelyn Mudge and Dr. William R. Rid- ington.

The Argonauts was founded in 1935 by Dr. Lloyd Bertholf and a group of students who were inspired by an ancient Greek legend. According to this myth, a band of heroes set out in the ship "Argo" in search of the Golden Fleece of Truth and Wisdom. From this the Argonauts derive both their name and purpose.

Events of this year included a talk by Dr. Thomas F. Marshall, the annual tea in honor of those on the Dean's list, and the spring banquet, at which Dr. Elizabeth Nitchie of Goucher College addressed the society.
"To stimulate sound scholarship, to promote the dissemination of scientific truth, and to encourage investigation in the life sciences"—these are the motivating forces that keep the members of the Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Beta Beta busily occupied with the activities of the club. Under the leadership of professor C. L. Bennighof and with helpful advice from our new biology department head, Dr. H. P. Sturdivant, Tri-Beta members have enjoyed another successful year.

Each week, Tri Bets gathered to participate in a lecture and discussion period. In addition to these meetings, special speakers, movies, biannual initiations and the annual spring frolic at Cascade Lake all helped to make our program more interesting.

Our chapter was honored this spring to act as host to the fifth Northeastern Regional Convention of Beta Beta Beta Honorary Biological Fraternity. Representatives to the conference held round-table discussions and talked over student projects, field and research work which has been carried on in the various organizations. Increased scientific knowledge and a closer relationship between the various chapters was the reward for all who attended.
THE TRUMPETERS

The Trumpeters, an honorary organization, was founded in 1944 by Dr. Katherine K. Carmichael, former Dean of Women on "The Hill," with the aim in view of being accepted at the end of a five year probation period by the Mortar Board, national honorary society for outstanding college women. Each year four or five outstanding women of the senior class are selected according to an objective point scale which measures curricular and extra-curricular activities. They are rated on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and citizenship standing.

In the May of their Junior Year, the women selected are presented with caps and gowns by the graduating Trumpeters. This is the Tapping Ceremony.

Dr. Evelyn Mudge is the advisor of this group, the purpose of which is to stimulate leadership and help others. The name of this organization comes from its motto: "For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?"

The activities of the group this year have included assisting newcomers during Freshman Week and decoration of the dining hall for the Christmas banquet.
The International Relations Club meets in McDaniel Lounge on the first and third Mondays of each month. Members of this organization are interested in present-day world affairs, and their programs are concerned with current national and inter-national problems. The purpose of this organization is to arouse interest in, and create a better understanding of current world events.

In November, Miss Marguerite Zouck, Vice Principal of Eastern High School in Baltimore, spoke to the group about her experiences in England as an exchange teacher. Other meetings during the year featured addresses by the foreign students on campus about their native lands. Topics such as Latin America, the Future Germany, Malaya, and the Near East were presented by motion pictures and debates.

As Western Maryland is one of the twelve members of the Maryland Association of International Relation Clubs, the club sent delegates to the various regional conferences which were held throughout the past year. Delegates from the I.R.C. also attended the Middle Atlantic States Conference which convened at Pennsylvania State College.

Who’s Who

On the basis of character, scholarship, leadership in extracurricular activities, and potentiality for future usefulness in business and society, ten members of the Senior Class were chosen to represent Western Maryland College in the 1948-49 edition of Who’s Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

The Student Activities Committee of the college selected from the ranks of the Senior Class those who were to receive this national honor—Phyllis Alexander, Betty Amos, James Cotter, Dorothy Gamber, Edgar Hammersla, Gruver Martin, James Ogden, Frank Stephenson, Barbara Sowers, and Doris Vansant—students who have been leaders in such activities as the Student Government Association, Student Christian Association, campus publications, sororities and fraternities, the Sunday School, and both men’s and women’s athletics.

A biographical sketch of each of these seniors will appear in Who’s Who, listing their accomplishments, abilities, and interests. They may also take advantage of the aid in employment opportunities provided by the publishers, who maintain a placement service which recommends students to employers seeking capable college graduates.
"Le Cercle Francais" provides an opportunity for students to make practical use of the knowledge of the French language which they have acquired. The meetings, generally in the form of a social affair, are held the first Monday of every month in McDaniel Lounge. From the "bonsoir" to the "Marseillaise," the program is conducted "tont en francais."

A vivid account of her summer experience in the French House at Western Reserve University was given by one of the officers at the first meeting. The traditional "Cantique de Noel," a program of appropriate French Christmas carols, and the reading of the nativity, was presented to the student body in December. A very informative and exciting talk about France during the German occupation was given by M. Toureille, a native Frenchman. In February, the annual "soiree" of bridge and bingo provided a delightful evening of entertainment. The climatic feature of the year was the annual "Mardi Gras." For the final "seance," the gay spring festival featured the presentation of the "Barber of Seville." All of these events form part of the tradition of Western Maryland College.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club endeavors to provide experience and knowledge to those majoring in, or just interested in this field of work.

At our first meeting this year, several of the members told of their summer positions in various fields of home economics.

In December, the club sponsored a fortune telling booth in the S.C.A. bazaar. Again this year, the club sent a package of gifts for foreign children, to the World Christmas Festival.

Two state meetings were attended by the club members: the fall meeting at St. Joseph's College, and the spring meeting at the Maryland College for Women. Representatives were also sent to the Providence Workshop at Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh.

Along with our spring fashion show, Mr. Richard Lee, New York interior decorator, spoke to us on Modern Home Furnishings.

At a later meeting in the spring, Miss Roselda Todd showed slides of her European trip.

Our final meeting was one in which former graduates, in various fields of home economics, told us of their careers, and stirred our interest in future positions in home economics.
Upon returning to the Hill last fall, the Camera Club began the year with one of the largest enrollments in its history. The meetings are held bi-monthly, usually in Science Hall. Once a month an illustrated lecture is presented through the cooperation of the Eastman Kodak Company.

The club has had as its objective this year, to acquaint the members with the techniques of taking, developing, and printing pictures. The main project of the year was the making and selling of Christmas cards picturing different campus scenes. A second project was taking pictures of couples at the Homecoming Dance. On both occasions the members were afforded experiences in developing, printing and enlarging.

The club staged several photo contests during the year where snap-shots depicting various situations were exhibited. Dean Free, our sponsor, and Dr. McDonald were the judges.

We hope that by next fall our dark room in the basement of McKinstry will be ready for use. At that time we expect to purchase some new equipment so that our room will be as efficient and complete as possible.
THE COLLEGE RADIO PLAYERS

"From the campus of Western Maryland College, the College Radio Players present—" This familiar phrase indicates that another dramatic sequence is on its way to the radio public. Under the direction of the Dramatic Art Department, the Radio Players function as a means by which fine drama is taken from the limits of the stage at Alumni Hall and given to a much larger audience. Students of the college who are interested in the technique of radio drama take part in all phases of production, including acting, mechanics, and so forth.

Shifting their stage craft to the mike, the College Players presented two plays, a special adaptation of the Greek tragedy Antigone and Washington Irving's Rip Van Winkle. These two widely diversified dramas provided a wide range of experiences for actor and listener alike.

Another purpose of the Radio Players is to produce, throughout the year, programs of various campus organizations. Two such broadcasts were presented this year by the International Relations Club and the Student Government Association. The I.R.C. held a round-table discussion of President Truman's plan for a liberal America. The S.G.A. dramatized a fantasy depicting a jet-propelled Western Maryland as the hub of the Atomic Age. Programs like these enable these campus organizations to better acquaint students and the public with their activities. In this manner, the listening public gains a close glimpse of life on the Hill.

A newcomer to “The Hill,” the Arts Symposium this year took its place among the numerous campus organizations.

The group met twice a month in McDaniel Lounge to discuss, learn about, and enjoy the fine arts—music, painting, sculpture, and architecture, the dance and literature. Dr. Thomas Marshall and Dr. William MacDonald acted as sponsors.

Programs were prepared largely by the members, and included discussions of four phases of the Greek drama, ballet, music of Shostakovich, arias from the operas, Swedish sculpture, and Dr. MacDonald’s lecture on architecture.

On March 4th, Miss Dorothy Miner, curator of manuscripts of the Walters Art Gallery, spoke to the Symposium about Western European illuminated manuscripts of the Middle Ages and Renaissance, and about the then current exhibit in Baltimore. Miss Miner illustrated her discussion with colored slides.

Dr. Ford, professor of English at Morgan State College in Baltimore, addressed the group on March 18th on the subject “Propaganda in Negro Literature.”

Highlight of the year’s activities was a trip to hear Verdi’s II Trovatore. Twenty members, many of them for the first time, enjoyed a thrilling production of opera.
Miss Brainard's recital attracted a large, enthusiastic audience.

Dr. Kindler conducted the National Symphony Orchestra in his final appearance on The Hill.
Sound and fury—here comes the Band!
THE COLLEGE BAND

The Western Maryland College Band, under the direction of Philip Royer, took an active part during the football season, playing pep songs and marches during the quarters of the football games, and parading on the field at half time. The band prepared many renditions which aided the spirit of the record crowds. During crucial moments Western Maryland fans were often startled to hear strains of the "William Tell Overture" float over the field.

For the first year in the history of the college, the band included in its personnel a drum majorette in the person of Miss Peggy Sisler, who added variety and style to the performance this year.

During the years following the war, the band was reduced to a mere thirteen players in 1947-1948, with an increase to twenty-one men during the year 1948-1949. A band of twenty-eight players is desired for the 1949-1950 season which will be full strength considering the size of the R.O.T.C. Unit at W.M.C.

During the Spring season the band was on the field with the R.O.T.C. Unit playing for parades and reviews, and taking part in the final Military Inspection.

GLEE CLUB

One of the outstanding musical organizations on campus is the Girls' Glee Club, directed by Miss Grace Murray. About sixty-five girls interested in choral work composed this group during the 1948-1949 season. Although they met only once a week, their work showed amazing accomplishment.

Carrying on the tradition of former years, the Glee Club presented the annual Christmas program for the American Association of University Women in McDaniel Lounge. The program was divided into two parts, the first consisting of six numbers sung by the entire chorus, and the second of ten solos, which were portrayed as a picturesque window with individual toy dolls singing the carols of the United Nations. The first portion of this program was repeated over Radio Station WFMD in Frederick. A program of the Glee Club's choral work was presented in Alumni Hall in place of a chapel service during the spring season, and the annual concert at the Westminster Reformed Church was also given.

These girls of the Western Maryland Glee Club worked harmoniously to achieve their goal—that of interpreting the music of yesterday and today in an effort to develop a finer appreciation of great music for their audiences, as well as for themselves.
W.M.C.'s Debating Society has met with an unlimited amount of success in this, its third postwar year of debating. The success of the team might be attributed to the fact that the topic—RESOLVED* THAT THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT SHOULD ADOPT A POLICY OF EQUALIZING EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY IN TAX SUPPORTED SCHOOLS BY MEANS OF ANNUAL GRANTS—is one of vital importance to future teachers, parents, and citizens.

Professor Vance A. Criswell is the advisor of this group and Harriet Kahn has acted as chairman.

After one semester of discussing the powers of argumentation and individual oratorical abilities, the team was prepared to meet the other members of the DEBATING ASSOCIATION OF PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGES. Debates were scheduled with Loyola, Mt. St. Mary's, Johns Hopkins, Elizabethtown, Gettysburg, and Dickinson.

This year's team has set a precedent for future debating teams. A tour was carefully planned to make possible debates with colleges in Maryland and Pennsylvania, such as Millersville State Teachers,' Franklin and Marshall, Lebanon Valley. A weekend was set aside, and the team spent three entire days in debate.

The Debating Society prides itself in the fact that it has remained undefeated in all decision debates—a worthwhile accomplishment for the 1948-1949 debating season.

Social Development

The well integrated being is a vital part of the life that goes on about him. He participates in those activities that satisfy his need for friendship and fellowship. He blends his personality with those of others, seeking to enrich his life, and in some measure, however small, sharing humbly the best part of himself in an effort to enrich his fellow man.
Imagination, hard work, carbon paper, cooperation, erasers, rulers, paste, flashbulbs, string—these are a few of the ingredients of any yearbook.

Members of the Aloha staff have worked together for a whole year, gathering materials, pooling efforts, always aiming for a worthwhile annual. Besides the energy expended in creative activities, there was also the struggle of maintaining, in the face of rising costs and a fixed budget, the level of achievement of former yearbook staffs.

To the students with whom the staff has worked, and to the guiding hands of the faculty, the 1949 Aloha staff is indebted.

The story of the Aloha, then, typical of most yearbook histories, is a combination of many elements—of the combined efforts of many in the interests of many more.
GOLD BUG

With an earnest endeavor to bring forth a Gold Bug of the students, by the students, for the students, this year's staff, under the competent editorship of Gruver Martin, successfully attained its goal.

Last minute write-ups—endless headaches, and long hours of work—still, staff members regarded each issue with ardent anticipation, enjoying every minute of it.

As sponsor of the annual Sadie Hawkins’ Day Dance, the staff once again afforded each Western Maryland co-ed the opportunity to latch onto her man and to relax from studies for an evening in typical Dog-Patch style.

With the second semester came Bill Porter as editor, and more innovation to make the Gold Bug truly the students' paper.

THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT

President  JAMES COTTER
Vice-President  BETTY AMOS

Treasurer  SUE DIXON

Acting in 1948-1949 for the first time under an authorized constitution, The Student Government has attempted to be beneficial to the students and the college as a whole. The sponsor of many and varied interests, the S.G.A. marked endlessly to promote a better feeling and spirit on the campus.

New green and gold desk blotters greeted the students this year. The Freshman orientation program was avowed by many to be the best ever held, and the school year was in full swing when several new ideas were instituted and put to work.

Homecoming week-end interest was quickened by a contest among the various organizations for the most clever, the most time and effort consuming, and the most humorous decorations at strategic places around the campus. Shortly after the football season ended, the S.G.A. sponsored a sports banquet which was in honor of the football and soccer teams, which was held in the dining hall. Later, at a student assembly, the fall sports athletic awards were given out.

At Christmas time, a drive was put on to get and decorate a tree for the center of the campus, for added Christmas cheer. After finals a March of Dimes Drive netted almost $150 from the campus.

An informal get together was held at the beginning of the second semester to help orient new students to campus ways. The annual S.G.A. elections were held in late March, and another athletic award assembly was held to honor the winter and spring sports aspirants.

May day, following the annual tradition, was a big affair and drew the active, outside actions of the Student Government to a close.

With the combined groups working as a unit, many little grievances were brought to light, and suitable action was taken to correct them. New trash cans and sand buckets were strategically placed in the buildings to help keep them clean. A new bulletin board was erected in the center of the campus to facilitate getting all the campus news to everyone, and the regular column in the Gold Bug was instituted.

Inter-collegiate relations were greatly improved by correspondence with several of our rivals and the actual exchange of representatives with one in particular. Happily, there were few instances of the judicial nature that demanded S.G.A. action, but those occurrences did serve to prove the ability and validity of a combined Student Government.

With our heartfelt thanks to those who helped us to try to make this school year a better one, we retire quietly into the annals of W.M.C.

COLLEGE PLAYERS

The College Players is not just another group of amateur actors and actresses. Under the able direction of Miss Esther Smith, this group has come alive to an awareness of the magic of the stage. The glamour and excitement, and the butterflies of opening night are nowhere more keenly felt than on the hill when nights and nights of rehearsals culminate in the presentation of a play that has been worked with and loved. Last Spring, for example, the entire group gave its production of "Skin of Our Teeth," and Thanksgiving night the Senior group presented Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit."

In March the Junior College Players presented a program of three one-act plays. A comedy called "The Womenfolks" provided many laughs with its keen observation of the annoying over-possessive female relations. The Juniors demonstrated their skill in the first O'Neill play presented on this campus, "Where the Cross is Made," which was highlighted by Donald Lichty's powerful characterization of Nat Bartlett. The Juniors rounded out their program with an old fashion melodrama "He Ain't Done Right By Nell"—complete with the background music of an upright piano. We hissed the villain and wept with little Nell when she was forced to take leave of the little home and face the cruel world.

"I Remember Mama" by John van Druten adopted from Kathryn Forbes' book "Mama's Bank Account" was chosen for the commencement play. For the first time a cat, Uncle Elizabeth, was included in the cast. He was, incidentally, the only "actor" to have an understudy. The unusual physical staging of "I Remember Mama" with its numerous short scenes demanding frequent changes provided many problems for stage manager Don Bailey. However, the group accepted the difficulties as a challenge, and with ingenuity and imagination turned out a polished performance.

The expectant hush of the audience just before the curtain rises, and the sting of heavy make-up stimulate a desire to give a better performance.

The feeling of working together is one of the most important factors of the Players. The Sophomores contribute their knowledge of "stage presence" and poise; the Juniors assist in preparing the sets, in the make-up and the costuming; and the Seniors lend to this their talent in interpretation and characterization. Then, under the guidance and inspiration of Miss Smith, comes the indescribable thrill of playing a part—thus continuing the great tradition of the College Players.

The Intersorority Council is a federation of all the sororities on “The Hill”; each sorority sending its president, vice-president, and a junior member, as representatives to the council.

In January, a tea, attended by faculty and sorority representatives, was given by the council for the purpose of presenting the Intersorority Scholastic Cup to the club with the highest scholastic average. Delta Sigma Kappa won the cup this year which was presented to them by Dr. Ensor.

In order to foster more friendly relations among the clubs, the council again sponsored the basketball tournament in February which was won by Phi Alpha Mu, and the bridge tournament in April.

Again the co-ed study room in McDaniel Hall was under the jurisdiction of the council, and a new and better study room is planned for in the future.

The Intersorority Council set dates for spring teas and rushparties, and was responsible for the regulations concerning rushing and bidding.

The Pan Hellenic Dance, held in May, was sponsored jointly by the Interfraternity and Intersorority Councils, thereby uniting all the fraternal organizations on “The Hill” in one final project.
The Interfraternity Council functions as a regulatory and advisory group for the fraternities on “The Hill.” It affords mutual association for the exchange of ideas and discussions of questions of interest. The Council develops support for policies for the good of all fraternities and endeavors to promote a greater spirit of cooperation. Officers in the Council rotate annually.

Regulations concerning rushing, pledging, smokers, dances, concessions and all common club problems are handled by the Council. Despite its limitations, it has exerted influences to promote hearty cooperation with the College and Administration.

The Council also makes a survey of fraternity scholarship each semester to determine the winner of the Frank B. Hurt scholarship cup; in addition, the Council serves as a regulator of the Interfraternity Athletic Council.

Items of interest included the Interfraternity Banquet held in the Spring, the week-end delegation to the Gettysburg Interfraternity Council Week-end program, and the annual Pan-Hellenic Dance. All proceeds of any Interfraternity sponsored events this year were donated to help furnish the new Infirmary.

Sixteen Baby Delts took our sorority by storm this year. In the fall Homecoming Day found the doors of the Delt Clubroom open wide for alumni and friends. Our Bachelor brothers were guests of honor at a picnic we held for them in November at Harvey Stone Park. The gay spirit of Christmas nestled about the Delts in celebration of the Yuletide. Before we all packed our trunks and started homeward for the joyous holidays, we had our traditional Christmas party.

As the first semester ended we sponsored an intersorority bridge tournament, and were the proud recipients of the Scholastic Cup Award.

The more athletically inclined of our numbers displayed their skills in the intersorority basketball tournament.

The presence of Dr. Mudge and Dr. Wills at our Delt Birthday dinner, February 14th, added charm to the joyous occasion. Dr. Wills added a touch of reminiscence by his words to us.

We had to struggle against pangs of spring fever while planning for the Freshman tea. Then came May, and later, our rush party.

At our Senior banquet we bid farewell to our Senior members, and paid tribute to the contribution they had made to our treasure of sisterhood.

September found the Iotas back again in the club room discussing old times and summer vacations. It wasn't long before we welcomed seven new germs into our midst, and put them through the paces of initiation.

Homecoming was soon upon us, and we began work upon our project for the display. In December the Iota club room was brimming with a jolly spirit of the Christmas season. Holly and mistletoe decked the room, and our party was a huge success.

In February we welcomed four more sorority sisters, and they joined in our project to redecorate the club room. Work was also begun on a club yearbook, and during the year we entered into all of the activities planned by the Intersorority Council.

In the Spring the annual rush tea and roller skating party provided as much fun as ever. The March alumni banquet in Baltimore was followed by a bridge party given in Baltimore by the alumni.

We feel that the spirit of Iota Gamma Chi, and the good times we have shared together will remain with us "down through the changing years."

Let's turn the pages of our scrap book and see what we, Phi Alphs, have done this year. Wait, here's a good one! “Frightened” pledge displays “purple cow.” Here's a snap of all the pledges together, and what a wonderful group of girls.

There's the Phi Alph newspaper announcing the W.M.C. victory over Randolph Macon at Homecoming. Congratulations to the baby Phi Alphs! Look at that polka dot car, and here's our queen and the Homecoming Queen.

What's next? The Christmas Party. More fun for us (with the help of old Saint Nick). There we are—the club room bulging at the seams with its fifty-eight Phi Alphs spreading cheer and those “engagement” chocolates.

How's this one for an action shot? Cheer 'em, girls—cheer those Phi Alphs to the basketball championship!

Remember this afternoon? All those hoboes aboard! And don't forget those trusty corn cobs.

And now, the last page—a farewell to the Seniors at our May banquet. We won't forget you, and we'll do our best to make you proud of your sisters in Phi Alpha Mu.
November, 1948
A new floor model radio-victrola was added to the Sigma club room. During this month seven new pledges came into our family. The tea was given for the Freshmen in McDaniel Lounge. Intersorority basketball games also took a prominent place in our club life.

March, 1949
We held a skating party with our brothers, Pi Alpha Alpha. In addition we undertook to sell refreshments in the dorms to relieve the “after hour hunger” and to gain some proceeds for CARE.

April, 1949
The Sigma Circus Carnival was back in the Community.

May, 1949
May Day with its activities including the Pan Hell Dance was the main event. Sigmas closed the year’s activities with the Senior banquet, and thirteen members joined the ranks of alumnae.

Between-class sustenance

A dark brown study produces a glittering Gold Bug.
With Jim Cotter as president, and Professor Frank Hurt as advisor, the Bachelors made great strides during the college year. We purchased a television set which has provided entertainment for members and friends. In athletics, we fared well too—attaining second place in intramural football, and playing some good basketball games.

Following the annual smoker in the Fall, we gained twelve new members. Then the Delts, our sister sorority, gave a party for us in Harvey Stone Park. For Homecoming we concentrated our efforts on decorating the campus. We sponsored the Mid-Semester Hop, which received fine support from our college friends and alumni. In February, we held our first banquet of the year, and later in the month gave a party for the Delts. Our social season was brought to a close with the annual May banquet where we elected officers for the coming year, and paid tribute to the departing Senior members.

We are proud of our brothers who are graduating. They have guided us well. Their advice and leadership have prepared us to carry on proudly the honor and traditions of "good old Alpha Gamma Tau."

Back in 1925 a group of Theological students created an organization whose members were nicknamed “Preachers.” This name has stuck for twenty-four years. During these two decades the fraternity has grown from an informal group to the present enrollment of sixty-six members.

At the present time the sponsor of the club is Dr. Thomas F. Marshall, Professor of English here at the college.

The Delta Pi Alpha Fraternity (which, incidentally, means “Justice Shall Triumph Over Injustice”) functions as an athletic and social organization. This year we acquired a television set and thirteen new members. We also sponsored the Homecoming Dance, and finished undefeated in the touch-football season.

During the war when the male population of the campus was depleted the Delta Pi Alpha Frat closed its doors, but in these few short years since college has resumed its normal course, the “Preachers” have shown greater progress than ever before in their twenty-four years of existence. This rapid progression makes the future look brighter than ever for this brotherhood.

The Gamma Bets began their year by accepting twenty-seven new members in the fall. The fraternity then began rolling under the leadership of Ralph Smith, and members were soon peddling “hot dogs” at all the home football games.

At Christmas we gave a party in honor of the Phi Alphs, and we also provided a complete Christmas for a needy family in the near vicinity.

In February we presented the Sweetheart Dance, keeping everybody guessing right up to the zero hour as to whom we would name as our sweetheart.

When the second semester began, four brothers left our ranks. Graduation finds us with seventeen members less. We will miss “Smithy’s” dead pan face and ruling authority, coupled with Brewington’s puns and sly wit.

We want to acknowledge wholeheartedly our indebtedness to Dr. Straughn for his patient guidance and faithful attendance throughout the year.

Thus has ended another year in the history of our fraternity in which our bonds of friendship have steadily grown greater and stronger.

In its twenty-seventh season, the Pi Alpha Alpha Fraternity has had numerous honors, mostly in the scholastic line. The year of 1948-1949 finds several new honors of the social variety added to the Black and White's long list. The first meeting was a merry affair, much in the style of "eating out," with George Davis threatening to sing any song popular since 1920.

The next outstanding event was the Christmas Dance, with decorations and orchestra setting a new high pace. The money realized from that success put the capitalist mark on us, and now we go to the club room to see television, and to fill the Coke machine with nickels. The banquet held at Clear Ridge again this year satisfied all steak lovers, especially when we had to pass our bowls to the end of the table.

It is with pride that we announce that the Interfraternity Council's Scholarship cup was retired to the permanent possession of the Black and Whites.

This year's twenty-one graduates in June have left a memorable year for the eighteen survivors to live up to.

THE crispness of the Autumn, and myriad-colored leaves cling tenaciously to the trees that gave them birth. The band is ready, the streamer-laden cars gradually edge into place, and the parade begins another Homecoming Day. The campus and its inhabitants seem to transcend space and time to join in the ineffable well-being that comes from seeing old friends and renewing pleasurable incidents that have occurred over the years in many a sojourn in college. During the half at the football game, throats momentarily cease from their earnest support of the cherished team to quietly observe the appearance of the Homecoming Court on the field, and the presentation by the Queen of Mrs. Ensor's bouquet. But the pageantry, though impressive, cannot touch the beauty of oneness—the abstract feeling of unity that comes when present and past students, families, and friends express their common characteristic—a pride and sentiment that is often concealed in public, but that inadvertently creeps out on Homecoming Day.

In spring the campus fancy lightly turns to thoughts of May Day. This is the day we dream of through the winter snow and wind. Nature spreads the campus with the soft green of vernal grass and sprinkles it with golden flakes of forsythia blossoms. The breathless hush that precedes the first vision of the procession, the majestic coronation, the presentation of a light play, the evening's dance are our tribute to Spring—the world’s greatest artistic triumph symbolizing the beauty of the rejuvenating season. At one point in man's history, the body was considered to be the instrument of evil that constantly threatened the purer, finer pursuits of the mind. Can it be true that to ignore the body is to bless the mind? Modern educators think not, for out of the evolution of man as a rational being has come the realization that an alert mind demands an alert body for its support and existence.
During this period of unrest and unsettled world situations a large civilian reserve of well trained officers is indispensable for the protection of the United States. Because of R.O.T.C. units like our own, many reserve officers were ready to assume positions of command at the outbreak of hostilities in World War II. Had it not been for these officers the war may have lasted longer or even taken a different turn before we could have prepared to defend or go on the offense.

With the celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of an R.O.T.C. unit at W.M.C. many improvements in size and scope may be observed. In 1919 the unit numbered just about thirty men. At present there are one hundred and sixty-two men in the unit under the competent leadership of Colonel Carleton Smith, assisted by Major Charles G. DuBose and an enlisted staff composed of M/Sgt. Rufus C.

Puryear, M/Sgt. Bruce E. Derrick, SFC Charles C. Kelly, and SFC Owen T. Stephenson. Most of the cadet officers this year are non-veterans who have undergone three years of training with this unit. Of the twelve seniors only five are veterans. The junior R.O.T.C. class is the largest in the history of the school. These cadet officers are selected on the basis of scholastic standing and evidences of leadership and ability.

In the inspection last spring the unit was rated as excellent for the school year 1947-48. The inspection was made by an inspecting team from Second Army Headquarters, in competition with such schools as VPI and VMI.

Although some basic students appear to dislike the idea of the six weeks summer camp between the third and fourth year, conducted at some army post, many of those students request permission to be allowed to enter the advanced course. The seniors facetiously give the impression to the "basics" that the training period at camp is tough.

This year much of the instruction for the freshmen on the drill field has fallen upon the sophomore class under the supervision of the officers of the senior class and the permanent cadre. This method of procedure provides more efficient officers with a better knowledge of their specific duties. When spring arrives, the drill area on Hoffa Field becomes the scene of great activity as the cadets come out of their winter hibernation in Yingling Gym, and the Juniors from their classrooms.

At the beginning of each year a casual onlooker may get the impression that the drill field resembles a crowded subway with a great deal of useless milling about, but with the spring debut the results of the winter's training becomes evident. No longer a mob but a well coordinated, well schooled and well disciplined unit goes through its paces.

Each officer of the cadet corps is eligible for membership in the Officers Club, which was organized in 1926. This is a purely social group organized for the purpose of fellowship, citizenship, and the further study of military problems. The Military Ball is the high-point of the club's social season. This Ball is increasing in popularity throughout the school among non-members of the R.O.T.C. as well as the unit members because of its dignity and color.

The R.O.T.C. course is not merely another course in the school. It is a vital part of the future planning of the country as a whole. Cadets finishing four years of R.O.T.C. are given commissions as Second Lieutenants in the Officers’ Reserve Corps. If a student is outstanding he may be designated as a Distinguished Military Student at the end of his junior year by the professor of military science and tactics. All students so designated may apply for a commission in the Regular Army and if selected by the Department of the Army would be given further schooling at Fort Riley, Kansas and Fort Benning, Georgia before reporting to duty. All students of the R.O.T.C. who receive reserve commissions may apply for a competitive tour of two years active duty with a view to being commissioned in the Regular Army.

Accordingly, a student of Western Maryland who desires to make the Army a career has ample opportunity to prepare himself for such a career through the facilities of the R.O.T.C.

September 1948 brought us back to "The Hill" but three weeks before the arrival of the student body the football team began to practice. Coaches Havens and Ferguson had 18 lettermen around which to build their club. Power in the backfield was assured but the line lacked depth. This feature later proved to be the Terrors' greatest drawback.

Practice sessions twice daily until classes began rapidly brought the team into good condition. The season's opener was with Catholic University in Washington, D.C., on October 9 and all the Terrors were intent upon getting a running start.

It was indeed a running start for the Havensmen. whipped the Cardinals 21-6. Twice the winners threatened in the first quarter before Leo Lathroum bucked to a score early in the second period. A 71-yard drive, a 30-yard end run by Gene Frank, and two place kicks put the Terrors ahead at the end of the third stanza 21-0. CU scored in the closing moments of the game.

For the second consecutive season, Washington College was pounded 41-0 by the Green Terrors. It was a very convincing display of power put on by the Havensmen in their first home game of the year. The partisan crowd was more convinced than ever that they were seeing the team that would be crowned Mason-Dixon champs.

The long-standing record of never having lost a Homecoming contest once again stood up to the test on October 23. A large crowd of alumni was on hand, damp weather notwithstanding.

Not too much was known of Randolph-
Macon but when they recovered a Terror fumble in the opening minutes and stood but fifteen yards from the goal line, the crowd began to wonder if the streak would last. The crisis was averted, though, but it took the Green team the remainder of the period to get back in stride.

Joe Gianelli opened the second quarter with one of the finest pieces of broken-field running ever seen on Hoffa Field as he side-stepped and swivel-hipped 78 yards to a touchdown.

The only R-M score came late in this period when a Siebert punt was blocked. The Virginians Bob Brown carried the loose ball over the goal line but his fumble was recovered by Seibert for a safety.

A Gianelli-to-Cotter pass netted the second touchdown. The final stanza saw the “Medford Flash” slip off-tackle to move the point total to 20-2.

Terror defeat number one came at the hands of Gettysburg. An early drive by the Green stalled deep in the Bullets zone. Thereafter the game belonged to the Battlefielders. They led 20-0 at halftime and added seven more in the closing period. Manpower and the passing arm of Ross Sachs made the difference.

In the only night game of the year, W.M.C.
driving power. In the early moments of the second period Al Paul recovered a Mount fumble and then Gene Frank turned the flank to put the Terrors ahead. Joe Gianelli scooted twenty yards later in the same session to put the game out of reach for the Mounts, though Walt Bellardinelli scored for the home team in the final quarter to make the total read: W.M.C. 20, Mt. St. Mary’s 14.

The canny Andy Kerr brought his powerful Lebanon Valley squad to Hoffa Field on November 13. A fleet trio of backs plus a sturdy forward wall proved quite a problem to the Terrors. Eventually, though, the Green power play scored in the second period and again in the last quarter to give the home team a 13-0 win.

defeated Mt. St. Mary’s. Played under the arcs at Frederick, the contest proved to be a battle of backfields. Hardly had the spectators gotten settled when the Mounts completed a pass to the Terror ten-yard line and continued to a quick TD. This was a sequence of events which hardly had been expected.

Five consecutive first downs climaxed by a Corrado buck evened the score up as the Havensmen demonstrated their tremendous driving power.
The climax of the schedule proved to be the last game as the Green and Gold vied with Johns Hopkins for the Mason-Dixon grid crown.

The Jays had built their attack around a highly-polished passing game while the Westminster team was, of course, most proficient on the ground. The crucial contest was, on paper, anybody’s game. When the day arrived, an identical situation prevailed on the field.

Western Maryland’s only score came late in the opening quarter when Leo Lathroum bucked three yards to paydirt. Then Corrado’s try for the extra point was blocked, the only time all season that this happened. That blocked kick made the difference in the end.

Hopkins very nearly scored on two occasions in the third period, but it was not until the last three minutes of the contest that the weary Terror defense finally succumbed. The Jays completed their fourth pass in twelve attempts and it gave them the ball game for their conversion was equally successful. This gave Western Maryland their second loss against five wins.

The basketball team under the tutelage of Bruce Ferguson ran rather true to form for Green Terror cage squads in that it began the season slowly and never really functioned well until late January. Once started the team soon became a problem to all Conference foes.

The four pre-Christmas contests found the Terrors on the short end of the score in each instance. Lebanon Valley rocked the Green with a 65-44 loss to initiate the season. Wagner College of New York eased past the home team to record a 53-47 win. In the first Conference game, Baltimore University triumphed 60-57 and December 17 saw the American University zone defense restricting the Green and Gold aggregation to 39 points while the Eagles poured through 64. Optimism scarcely ran high at this point though the season was yet young.

The first game of the new year found Western Maryland recording its first triumph of the schedule as Washington College was edged 60-55. Any ideas harbored by anyone that the team had finally hit its stride were quickly dispelled as the club skidded into its longest losing streak of the year. In the space of eleven days losses were suffered at the hands of Catholic U., Loyola, Hampden-Sidney, Mt.

Lathroum lays one up as Hopkins Mullinix (52) and Mitchell (53) and the Terrors Jacobson (7) close in.
St. Mary's, and Gettysburg. These games illustrated all too vividly that a lack of height was the team's greatest drawback. Only one of the starters topped the six-foot mark.

The last January game saw the W.M.C. club tramp heavily on Gallaudet, 61-45. Western Maryland then rested in twelfth place in the fifteen team league.

The change of semesters brought Walt Hart and Art Press to the team to supplement the great efforts of Leo Lathroum, Frank Stephenson, and Al Jacobson. Hart's backboard work plus the set-shooting and floor play of Press provided the balance which previously had been lacking.

The Terrors gave Loyola a good workout before bowing 72-47. The next game initiated our longest winning streak of the season as we scored an upset victory over American, 61-59. The Johns Hopkins team was the recipient of the next Terror blast as they were whipped 64-49. Art Press scored 28 points in this contest, the highest for a W.M.C. player in a single contest this year. Catholic U. was no more successful than Hopkins as they too got but 49 points while the revitalized Terrors got 58.

A return game with Baltimore U. saw our string snapped as the Bees led all the way to a 59-55 win. Two days later we again beat Washington College, this time 70-56.

Upset number two of the year followed as Mt. St. Mary's trailed the Green and Gold club from the opening whistle. A last second splurge had the Gill Gym rooters on their feet but the home team came off ahead 64-62. By winning this game we were assured of a playoff position.

The altitudinous Dickinson team then laced the Terrors 77-51 but it was the third home game of the week that we all anxiously anticipated. Hopkins was the visitor and the local fans wanted victory. They got it. The final score was 82-63, the highest point total ever to be recorded in Gill Gym. The Jays led 1-0, but once in the fore, the Terrors left no doubt in the crowd's mind as to the eventual outcome.

The Terrors took the American U. in the first round. The taller Eagles thwarted all the Westminsterites except Hart, who got 21 points, as they eliminated the Terrors 84-60.

Lathroum and Stephenson shared seasonal scoring honors as both just missed the 250 mark. Adamovich, Jacobson, and Stephenson have played their last games for Coach Ferguson but with a nucleus of Hart, Press, Lathroum, and Hale from which to work, next year should find the Terrors higher in the final standings than their 1949 seventh place.
The Western Maryland boxing team was scarcely overloaded with experienced pugilists when the workouts began but Student-Coach Joe Corleto molded his group into a team which made a creditable showing.

American University was engaged in Gill Gym in the first and only home match of the year. After falling behind in the lighter weight classes, the Terrors won the 145-lb. fight and then took all of the last three bouts to emerge victorious by a 4½-3½ score.

After Harry LeFew shared in a draw, John Seiland controlled the situation for three rounds in the 145-lb. fight. Norm Coates was declared the loser in a close 165-lb. battle but a check of the referee's score card proved that Coates was the winner. This decision coupled with Solomon's win by decision and a win for Corleto by forfeit gave the Green squad their initial victory.

The perennially powerful Nittany Lions of Penn State then rocked the W.M.C. team by a 6-2 count. The local outfit could salvage but one win in the eight bouts and that was garnered by the veteran John Seiland. Freshman Watson Solomon gave a very fine exhibition as he fought his Penn State opponent to a draw. Joe Corleto also received a draw.

A trip to West Point produced another defeat in the Western Maryland ledger. The fast-moving Cadets simply had too much power for the Terrors. “Punchy” Seiland kept his undefeated string intact as he whipped his Cadet adversary. The other ½ point for the Green and Gold was gained by Joe Corleto. He appeared to have the Pointer’s number when a wild left to Corleto’s eye reopened an old injury resulting in a draw.

Patuxent Naval Air Base was the final team scheduled for dual competition and they succeeded in blanking the Green. None of the Western Marylanders was successful in the ring though many of the decisions were extremely close.

The Eastern Intercollegiates were held at Penn State this year and Western Maryland was represented by a complete team. All of the Terrors performed very ably but none of the coveted crowns were obtained.

Joe Corleto drew as his first round opponent the highly-touted Marty Crandall. Though Corleto floored his Syracuse adversary three times in the first round the decision eventually went to the New Yorker.

The prospects for next season are excellent as none of this year’s regulars will be graduating.
Soccer

For the second consecutive year Western Maryland's soccer team failed to produce a winning season. A definite impotence in the scoring department looms as the outstanding factor; four games were lost by a single goal. The veteran wing Fletch Ward was lost in the third game of the season when he sustained a broken leg. His loss was irreplaceable. Frank Stephenson, playing for the first time in a soccer uniform, proved to be the high scorer. Captain Jack Spicknall played a consistently fine brand of ball in the Terror nets.

Fullback Jim Hackman was named to the All-Maryland Second Team while Fletch Ward and center halfback Homer Earll received Honorable Mention.

In the opening encounter, a powerful Navy JayVee squad dented the Terror nets three times in the final period to record a 5-1 triumph. Heartbreaking identical 2-1 defeats at the hands of Hopkins and Drexel took a toll on the spirit of the Jonesmen.

However, they bounced back to record their initial win by a 2-0 count over Towson Teachers. Only a single goal in the following contest with Washington College was scored as the Terrors were shutout for the first time in seventeen consecutive matches. Three straight losses followed at the hands of Loyola (4-1), Franklin and Marshall (4-1), and Bucknell (5-0). Then in a driving rainstorm and a sea of mud, the W.M.C. team recorded their first postwar soccer victory over their arch rivals from Gettysburg. A fourth period score by George Winfrey gave the Booters their second triumph.

In an overtime match Delaware claimed a victory by a 2-1 score. Then a revitalized Terror team tripped the heavily-favored Baltimore University club by a decisive 2-0 score. The last game found a wealth of reserves and outstanding front-line play making the difference as Maryland's Terps ground out a 5-1 victory.

Keenan beats Hoffstein of Delaware to the ball.
After a lapse of one year in intercollegiate wrestling circles Western Maryland produced a team this year that won two matches in six outings.

In a pre-Christmas match with the perennially strong Franklin and Marshall team, the Terrors were defeated 26-6 as only Jack Larrimore and Student-Coach Bill Kern won their bouts.

The first postwar victory for the grapplers followed as Towson Teachers was defeated 17-13. Wilsey, Schaefer, Larrimore, Silber, and Kern triumphed in behalf of the Terrors.

February 10 saw the Green embark on a schedule which called for three games within one week. On that night Catholic University eased past the Kernmen 20-16 in a match that was close from start to finish.

Baltimore University provided the opposition in the most exciting match of the year. The teams were quite evenly matched, the score being 16-13 in the Bees favor as the heavyweight bout began. A pin was needed and Bill Kern supplied it to give the team an 18-16 win.

The Loyola Greyhounds whipped the Green and Gold 24-6 as only Silber and Kern emerged victorious. A distinct lack of ability and experience in the lighter weight classes hampered the Terrors throughout the year.

Bucknell blanked the home team 32-0 in the final dual match. The Pennsylvanians were too strong for W.M.C.

Bob Wilsey, Jim Marsh, John Silber, and Bill Kern entered the Mason-Dixon Tournament held at Hopkins. All were eliminated in the early rounds except Kern who returned to “The Hill” as the new heavyweight champion.
BASEBALL

Coaches Tom Terreshinski and Ed Elliott are optimistic as to a winning season for this year’s Western Maryland baseball club. The return of six of the eight regular starters causes this pre-season assurance. Only first base and center field await replacements though other changes may be made if newcomers can displace the lettermen.

The veteran John Adamovich returns to the second base position and Julie Dyke will probably fill the other half of the keystone duo. Paul Terreshinski is again expected to handle the detail at the hot corner but the first base position is still in doubt.

Power-batter Jim Formwalt and John Babb appear slated for outfield duty while Bob Douglas, a .400 batter last year, is being depended upon for a considerable amount of the catching chores.

Last year’s work-horse of the mound staff, Ken Munroe, is expected to again carry the burden of the hurling. Southpaws Noble and Elliott add depth to this position.

It would seem as though the team has adequate power at the plate but is liable to be weak defensively. The season’s record only can prove or disprove these early judgments.

The extensive schedule promises many thrills. One experience we can scarcely expect, though, is a repetition of last year’s Hopkins game. One of those in a lifetime is more than enough.

Many fine baseballers have come off “The Hill” in past years and we fully expect the caliber of baseball played by the 1949 team to be equivalent to that of their predecessors.

Hurlers Elliott, Munroe, and Noble.
The success of Western Maryland’s so-called “experimental” team last year warranted a full schedule for this season. Again student-coach Al Paul is holding the reins but this year he has a nucleus of veterans around which to build his starting lineup.

This year’s schedule calls for the Terrors to meet such powers as Penn State, Franklin and Marshall, Loyola, Hofstra, and V.M.I. Just how the stick experts will stand up under such competition remains to be seen.

Though some of the football players will be unable to compete in the early part of the season, the team figures to be stronger in all departments save the all-important goal position. Joe Gianelli will be available periodically to fill the slot while Julie Dyke and Bill Dvorine will probably take over at other times.

Elmer Richards, hampered last year by an injury, adds strength to the defense as he joins Captain Dick Brown, Harvey Aiau, Tony Byron, and Armand Gold in the backfield staff. Midfield shows considerable strength with Hackman, Honemann, Mann, Moore, and Paul leading the way. Heading the attack department are such stalwarts as Ebert, Keenan, Landau, Kiehne, and Needle.

This sport is in the process of experiencing a phenomenally rapid growth on “The Hill.” The scheduled opposition is of high caliber but all hold out fond hopes for a successful season.
Opening a sixteen-match schedule early in April, the tennis squad of Professor Frank Hurt appears capable of once-again producing a winning season.

Rowe Moore and Norm Stern will serve as co-captains. Ken Volkart, a star for four years, will be badly missed but with returning lettermen Moore, Stern, Doug Weaver, and Phil Sack, Coach Hurt should come up with a creditable outfit. John Sternberg and Bob Talner will probably take up the remaining slack in the lineup.

The annual spring deluges have as usual interfered with practice sessions. Were it not for the paved courts downtown the situation would be even more desperate. Once the campus courts are available the team will whip into shape in short order. Professor Hurt has an overall record which reflects his singular ability in producing winning teams in a minimum of time.

The schedule calls for the regular Mason-Dixon play, the battle with Loyola looming largest on the horizon. That match can be depended upon to be a thriller. A number of nonconference matches will also be played. In short, the Terror netmen face a rough season but the potentially well-rounded club should return a winning tally card.

Co-captains Moore and Stern.
GOLF

The club swingers are one of the most fortunate teams on "The Hill" insofar as experienced material is concerned. Only Walt Sibiski is lacking from last year's starting sextet.

Coach Makosky returns to the coaching position after being absent for a year. On hand to meet him are lettermen Frank Stephenson, Dan Bradley, Al Jacobson, Jack Spicknall, and Al Bright. Although their record last season was scarcely of the standout variety, the experience gained marks the team as a potentially winning one.

Practice tours around the local links have been restricted by wet weather. Thus it is still undecided as to who the sixth member of the starting lineup will be. Golf must run deep in the Makosky veins for one of the outstanding prospects is the coach's freshman son, Don.

This will be the tenth year for the very popular Western Maryland Invitation Tournament. Maryland took the honors again last year but there is hope that the host team may bring the crown home in this anniversary year.

If golf teams were rated on experience, Western Maryland would be near the top of the list. As the season progresses we hope that such a theoretical rating will prove justified.
The varsity rifle teams of Western Maryland have always succeeded in compiling records that have been a credit to the college. This year the team coached by M/Sgt. Puryear proved to be no exception. As the ALOHA goes to press, the Terrors show a record of ten wins and eleven losses.

In shoulder-to-shoulder competition the Green team won but two of seven matches and in the newly-formed Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Rifle League they won but two out of six. However, the Terrors fared much better in the postal matches winning six out of eight contests.

Perhaps the highlight of the year was the taking of fourth place in the Second Army Matches. This was indeed a notable triumph for the remainder of the top ten teams all represented institutions considerably larger than W.M.C. The ten highest teams from each of the Army areas then fired to determine the National champion. The results have not yet been received.

George Davis, Jim Leonard, Henry Muller, and Ted Quelch will be graduating from the ranks of the varsity nimrods in May, but Coach Puryear has been successful in keeping underclassmen competing for the remaining slots. Bill Rhoads, Dave Buffington, Paul Schatzberg, Charlie Kidd, Ralph Gorten, and Mickey McCall form the backbone of next year's squad while freshmen Ted Bobolin, Gene Mechtly, and Ed Josephson will probably gain permanent posts next fall.

Few persons see this team at practice or while performing but rest assured that these men work as hard at their task of keeping Western Maryland active in the field of firearms as do our athletes in the other sports.
WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

Although somewhat overshadowed by the extensive program sponsored by the men's athletics, the varied activities offered by the Women's Athletic Department is in the spotlight in the minds of most Western Maryland co-eds. To develop a sense of cooperation, fair play, and good sportsmanship; to develop a permanent interest in healthful activities; to provide adequate exercise and relaxation; to develop the utmost in enjoyment of the fullest and best life—these are thought of as the aims of the physical education department for every woman student. The program is so arranged that emphasis is placed on activities for the novice as well as for the star, between whom no great distinction is made.

The physical education program at Western Maryland has long been known as one of the best in the state. Each girl is required to take four semesters of physical education before graduation. It is hoped that these courses will improve the girl's skill in games such as basketball or tennis, as well as broaden her appreciation of sports. For those who are interested in advanced study, extensive courses towards a major or minor are offered, with certification for teaching being awarded as well. Practical experience for the “majors” is gained by officiating at the Carroll County inter-high school sports’ events, such as basketball games and meets. This year’s senior class is graduating a record of six physical education majors, four of whom are prospective teachers.

The sports’ program is primarily an intra-mural one, so that there is much keen competition among the four classes. Each girl is encouraged to participate actively in all the major team games and individual sports. However, there is a limited amount of inter-collegiate competition, especially during the hockey and basketball seasons, when near-by schools such as Notre Dame, Towson State Teachers’, and Gettysburg are engaged in contests. This two-fold program of athletics is planned and directed by the Women’s Athletic Association (WAA), under the guidance of Miss Parker and Miss Todd. At the conclusion of several weeks of practice, class teams are chosen in each sport. A round-robin tournament is played between the teams of each division. An honorary varsity team is selected by the executive board of the WAA at the close of each sports season, on the basis of attendance at practice, skill, and quality of sportsmanship.

Awards are given by the association according to a point system based on active participation in intra-mural sports. The system has been revised this year in the hope that more girls will strive harder to achieve their awards. Class numerals, the first award, require ten points, and are given for faithfulness throughout a season to a point-giving activity. A “WM” monogram is awarded for an accumulation of 400 points, a new award (as yet undecided) at 800 points, and a green and gold chenille “M” for 1200 points. The new final award:

HOCKEY

It is the hope of the physical education department that the WAA and the women’s athletic program will become an integral part of all the women students’ campus activities. And always remember the motto of the WAA—"The game’s the thing, never mind who wins."

"Dribble down the field; it's a goal!" shout eager voices as the 1948 hockey season opened the girls’ fall sports program on “The Hill.” Orchids go to the seniors who again took top honors, remaining undefeated in the intramural tournament for four years. Upon the completion of class games Green and Gold Teams were selected by the W.A.A. board. This highly contested match between the varsity forwards playing with the junior varsity backs and the junior varsity forwards playing with the varsity backs ended in a 0-0 score, proving the skill of both teams.

The honorary team played several fine games throughout the season. Journeying to Gettysburg for the first game of the season, the Lady Terrors played a tight game ending 3 to 3. With a two-game match slated on home ground, the Green and Gold were an equal match for the Towson State Teachers' "Eleven," playing to a 0-0 draw in the varsity game; but the jayvees lost to the Teachers 1-0.

In the last game of the season, Western Maryland, playing host to Notre Dame, defeated them 2 to 1 in a game where spirits were pitched high.

The pre-Christmas season saw Western Maryland lassies with shuttlecocks and rackets battling it out on the badminton courts. Della Grauel unfalteringly came through to win the school championship as well as that in her own senior division for the second straight year. Runner-up for the seniors was “Dutch” Ruppenthal. Virginia Clayton, junior, took top honors for the third consecutive year in her class, winning semi-final matches from June Graf. Phyllis Smith, sophomore, and Corinne Schofield, freshman, showed remarkable ability winning class honors in the intra-murals. The winners in each division were determined by means of an elimination tournament. Many students participated and despite losing their matches continued to play for recreation and enjoyment.

Basketball enthusiasts lined the walls of Blanche Ward Gym for practice every day after the Christmas vacation. An exciting intramural program ensued with the seniors and sophomores ending the season in a tie for first place. Under the capable leadership of Miss Parker and Miss Todd, the honorary varsity team finished the inter-collegiate season with a record of two wins and two losses. Mt. St. Joseph’s College of Emmitsburg turned back the lady Green Terrors in their first game by a close score of 34 to 32. To come into the winning ranks, Maryland College for Women was defeated without difficulty, 37-15. In a two-game match here, both Green and Gold teams triumphed.

In a game pitched high with excitement, Western Maryland bowed to Gettysburg College 33-31. Throughout the game the score was very close and spectators added zest to a clean contest. On March 2, the Terrors journeyed to Towson to hand the “teachers” their first set-back of the season, 32-17. “Dutch” Ruppenthal highlighted this game scoring twenty-two of the winners points. She was supported wholeheartedly by her team mates.

Comprising the 1949 honorary basketball team were: Betsy Taylor, “Dutch” Ruppenthal, “Snitz” Steele—forwards; Rita Bittle and Betty Lenz—alternates; Mildred Price, Peggy Brown, and Jane Babylon—guards; Libby Davis and Annette McMahon—alternates. To all these girls go top honors for friendliness, sportsmanship and good spirit of play.

After three weeks of intensive practice and exciting games, the volleyball season ended just in time for spring vacation. Stiff competition kept interest high. The Junior “A” team came out of a three way tie to win the championship, defeating the Seniors 20-16, after previously losing to them 16-13. Third place resulted in a tie between the Freshmen and the Sophomores. In the second division play, the Senior “B” team succeeded in coming out on top.

The honorary volleyball team was elected as follows; net, Jean Sause, Ginny Clayton, and Cass Lay, with Jane Babylon alternate; center, Bettye Benson, Betty Linton, and Alice Yearley, with Dottie Alexander alternate; back, Sara Lee Larmore, rover, “Dutch” Ruppenthal, and Rita Bittle, with Betty Day alternate.

Upon returning from spring vacation, the athletes-at-heart began turning to the out-of-doors. Any beautiful spring afternoon the golf links, softball diamond, archery targets, and tennis courts are apt to be buzzing with activity.

The Robin Hoods of Western Maryland are not hampered too much by the unpredictable spring weather. Our archerettes can practice in the gym to perfect their form and to find their point of aim. Soon, however, the large target is seen behind Blanche Ward and the more advanced shooters start pacing off the distance for the Columbia round. Dot Gamber, Della Grauel, June Graf, Jane Birch, and Nancy Winkleman are expected to be some of the more ardent archers aiming at that gold central point.

Golf seemed even more popular than ever this year. Golf fans were out on the course before spring vacation, keeping their enthusiasm right up to graduation time. Few have enough leisure hours to become expert golfers, but all earnestly strive to break that evasive par. Phyllis Weaver, Betty Clarke, Nancy McAllister, Carolyn McNabb, Barbara Roberts, and Martha Schaeffer are some of the more experienced players who often may be seen out on the links. Much added enthusiasm is expected through the personal instruction given in the girls' gym classes.

As usual softball is a late starter, but it is expected to draw as much interest as ever. When home plate is dusted off and the cry of "Batter up!" rings through the air, plenty of stiff competition and spirited play is in the offing. If they live up to their reputation, the seniors will pull the game out of the fire in the last few innings to be victorious. Thus they will carry off the crown they have held ever since they were freshmen. Sue Dixon, “Snitz” Steele, Della Grauel “Dutch” Ruppenthal, Annette McMahon, Betsy Taylor, Mary Ann Thomas, and Jean Watkins have been the senior ball players.

In the spring when the outdoors’ call, tennis takes over part of our sports calendar. Many enthusiastic players crowd the courts, and at each hour of the day some “hopeful” is polishing up on that last stroke for intra-mural competition within her class. After intramurals are played, the school championship is determined by an elimination tournament. Much enjoyment is derived from this game from beginners to the more experienced, and instruction is always available in the person of Miss Todd. Jean Minnis, “Dutch” Ruppenthal, Virginia Clayton, Jean Mellon and Phyllis Smith are again expected to easily “lob” the ball over the net.

When all is said and done it is apparent to us that girls’ sports are tops here on “The Hill,” whether it be fall, winter or spring!

SOFTBALL
Man, alone, is a weak and ineffectual being. The plans he makes are tossed and blown, the dreams he builds are crushed and shattered. It is only when he reaches an inner, deeper fellowship with his Creator that there can be for him a strength and permanence in life.

When he can know that fellowship with all men is fellowship with his God, Man will have for his living a life of brotherhood and peace.
Man, alone, is a weak and inef-fectual being. The plans he makes are tossed and blown, the dreams he builds are crushed and shattered. It is only when he reaches an inner, deeper fellow-ship with his Creator that there can be for him a strength and permanence in life.

When he can know that fellowship with all men is fellowship with his God, Man will have for his living a life of brotherhood and peace.
THE STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Every year things change—at least in the Student Christian Association.

We began the year with the commission type of program and used it for one semester. However, we didn't feel that our program was reaching enough students and so decided to change and adopt a unified program, the planning of which was to be handled by the president, the vice-president, and the four commission chairmen. This way the association has the opportunity to present speakers, forums, discussions and movies before the whole meeting. At the same time individual participation is encouraged.

This year gave us the best World Student Drive the campus has ever had—our goal of $1200 all but realized. The movie and bazaar held in connection with the drive were both the most successful ever held.

CARE packages were sent to Europe with the very able assistance and encouragement of Mrs. Jefferson and the girls of McDaniel.

Then down to Religious Emphasis week which was ended by the big Student Christian barn dance held in Blanche Ward gym. This then, is the program we built around our basic convictions that religion is normal, and a very definite part of our everyday activities.
As far back as last April the cabinet of the Student Christian Association was mapping out plans for the coming academic year. When Freshmen week brought them back on "The Hill," the picnic at Harvey Stone Park, and the little sister and brother parties contributed to the orientation of the new members of the Western Maryland College family.

The S.C.A. Cabinet found that reading and discussion together was very helpful to the group, and in the beginning of the year concentrated on Elton Trueblood's book, "Foundations for Reconstruction."

All year long our publicity department, Betty Benson, Marilyn Cole, and Duane Saltzgaver, kept the campus informed about future plans through posters and signs for the bulletin boards. Herb Klinger, as editor of SCAN, wrote and compiled association articles of interest into our compact little paper.

Charlie Hammer and Dorothy Dalgleish kept in contact with other colleges and their activities, and arranged meetings with them at which we discussed mutual problems.
two major topics, "What Can a Man Believe?" and "The Teachings of Jesus." Discussions led by both faculty members and students on many facets of these subjects, have proved stimulating and helpful. The emphasis has been on participation of all class members in these discussions.

Since the beginning of the current semester, the Class has been supporting a scholarship fund for a Japanese secondary school student in Nagoya. This project, under the personal direction of Wayne Cowan ('48), now in Japan, gives the group a feeling of unity, and is a practical expression of the values and ideals with which the Class is concerned. This feeling of unity has also been established through participation in varied outdoor activities including hikes and hilltop worship services.
The Wesleyans, a fellowship of undergraduate men who plan to enter the ministry or some other field of Christian service, is now in its seventh year of official existence on "The Hill." Its membership, which has been greatly augmented in the past three years, now approximates thirty-three.

Mr. John Bayley Jones serves as adviser to the group, which holds weekly meetings in the Chapel of the Westminster Seminary. These meetings consist of a brief period of worship followed by discussion of some problem facing the student preparing for a life of service in the name of Christianity.

In cooperation with the Wesleyanettes, the group conducted a regular worship service at the Methodist Home for the Aged every Sunday evening.

The annual banquet held in May was the highlight of the group's activities. This year, for the first time, the organization has actively participated in the college intramural sport program. Through the fellowship gained thereby, the Wesleyans hope to go forth to serve with a deepened faith, wider sympathies, and a greater understanding of the needs of their fellow men.
WESLEYANETTES

President DOROTHY JOHNSON
Vice-President BARBARA DODD
Secretary-Treasurer BETTY CROSSWHITE

The Wesleyanettes is a small group of college women who are interested in some phase of Christian work. Its size does not detract from its importance because it is based on the firm Christian beliefs and ideals upon which Western Maryland College is founded. It is the interest of some of the members to carry on their activities in the years to come, perhaps in full-time capacities.

The organization, which is now in its seventh year of activity, was aided by Mrs. Lloyd M. Bertholf, then a Westminster resident, who is now living in California.

Mrs. Lester A. Welliver, wife of the president of the Westminster Theological Seminary, has been an interested and capable adviser and guide since February, 1948. The group meets at her home every other Friday evening. The meetings consist of a brief worship service followed by Bible quizzes and talks, and discussions of ways to help others in Christian service.

This past Christmas the group packed a “CARE” box which they sent to a well-deserving family in Germany. Other activities include worship services at the Methodist Home for the Aged.

THE WESTERN MARYLAND CANTERBURY CLUB

President RUSSELL DERAGAN
Vice-President PHYLLIS WEAVER
Secretary ANNE OGBORNE
Treasurer JANET RAUBENHEIMER

The Western Maryland Canterbury Club, newly formed on the campus this year, is sponsored by the Church Society for College Work of the Episcopal Church, and is one of eight such groups to be found on college campuses in Maryland.

We have found able and willing advisors in Miss Anne O’Rourk and our chaplain, Reverend John R. Cooper of Ascension Church in Westminster.

Meetings are held twice a month on Monday evenings, usually in the parish house, where members of the clergy from in and around Baltimore have lead discussions centering around the origin and fundamental teachings of the church.

On one Sunday of each month we engage in corporate worship by attending a celebration of the Holy Communion at eight o’clock.

Activities with other organizations such as the Lutheran Students Association and other schools, Towson State Teachers, and Goucher have proved to be stimulating as well as lots of fun.

The club was represented at a Tri-Diocesan Conference for youth held in Washington in March. At the final meeting of the year we will have as our guest the Right Reverend Noble C. Powell, Bishop of Maryland.
THE CHOIR

Every Sunday evening at Chapel service, Alumni Hall rings with the voices of the College Choir. This selected group of about seventy students and faculty members is ably directed by Professor Alfred B. DeLong.

On December 12th, the Christmas Vesper Service was presented by the Choir and the Department of Dramatic Art. The first part of the program consisted of a group of Christmas Carols from many lands, which were sung by the Choir. The second part of the program was composed of a series of tableaus arranged by the Dramatic Art Department, and enhanced by the Choir’s musical backgrounds.

During April the next big performance of the Choir was presented. On Palm Sunday, April 10th, at Chapel, Maunder’s sacred cantata, “Olivet to Calvary,” was given. On April 22nd about forty members of the Choir, in conjunction with the Orchestra and the Dramatic Art Department, presented “Down in the Valley,” an opera based on American Folk Songs.

The last presentation of the Choir was the oratorio, “The Prodigal Son,” given on May 15th and repeated on May 29th at the Baccalaureate service.

The Choir’s performances, carefully selected, capably directed, and enthusiastically presented, are a valuable addition to the religious and cultural life of Western Maryland College.
Western Maryland's devotion to music is well reflected in the spirit of the college orchestra which is directed by Professor Philip Royer.

In January, the orchestra, under the direction of eight student conductors, studying with Mr. Royer, presented a concert in Alumni Hall for the student body, the faculty, and pupils from the Westminster Secondary schools. Helen Miles Dubel, Wanda Bradham, Anne Shuppert, Mary Dodd, Dan Pinholster, Roy Wamplee, Jean Daughtrey, and Lois Royer led the orchestra in compositions by Peter Tschaikowsky, Edward German, Emil Waldtenfel, Richard Wagner, Gilbert and Sullivan, and Joseph Haydn. The training of these young conductors and their association directly with the orchestra has proven to be highly productive of concrete results after graduation in school music and other community music groups.

During the second semester, the orchestra, numbering 36 members, and 36 members of the college choir performed the opera, “Down in the Valley,” by Kurt Weill. As an overture, the orchestra played “Radio Piece,” by the American composer, Roy Harris.

The orchestra also accompanied the Carroll County school chorus of 300 voices in a concertized version of the opera “Carmen,” as a finale to the Eisteddfod program on April 29.

The appearance of the orchestra on commencement day is a part of the college tradition.
Cordial greetings to the Class of 1949! Many of you have had to secure your college education under most difficult circumstances due to the war. Interruptions, accelerated programs, crowded facilities have been inconvenient and unpleasant in some cases, but you have taken them in your stride. The goal of graduation has been achieved.

The end, however, is not yet. The measure of your college success is in the future. It will depend upon your effectiveness in making this world a better place in which to live as a result of Western Maryland’s influence upon you. Your Alma Mater is successful only insofar as you are successful. Best wishes to all of you.
