WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND

1950's CALENDAR IS

CROWDED WITH ACTIVITY

AS the turn of the century finds us as Seniors ready to go out into the world on our own, we look back and see what a busy year 1950 has been for us. There have been the usual time-honored traditions, but this year the tempo of life has been faster. It was this year that we had the new grille, and the infirmary was built. We have made many friends, both among the students and among the faculty. We saw each other at chapel, at the concerts and plays in Alumni Hall, in classes, in the grille and in the rec room, at the dances, and in the clubrooms watching our talented television teams win. In the spring, following a custom set by earlier classes, we wandered to the brow of the Hill. Here, in the warm sunshine, we relaxed or studied or watched the ROTC drills.

And, as our mothers and fathers had done, we cheered our teams to victory. The exciting games aroused our enthusiasm and school spirit.

There are so many things that have made this year exciting. Here is a record of the places, friends and activities that have made 1950 memorable.

DR. GEORGE STOCKTON WILLS

Ph. B., Ph. M., A. M., Lit. D.

For all of us at Western Maryland College, there is a tall, stately man who has stood as a personification of the highest ideals in education, both during his twenty-two years as professor and department head, and as professor emeritus since 1944. Now, he has published the first of a two-volume history of our Alma Mater, where he himself has played such a dynamic and fundamental role.

Towards this man who has given so much to our institution, whose personality has transcended the lives and ideas of so many, we feel humble in presenting this modest token of our high regard and reverence for him.

Therefore, we the class of 1950, respectfully dedicate this book to Dr. George Stockton Wills.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

To the Class of 1950:

Greetings! You have the distinction of graduating in the very middle of what history may describe as the most significant century of all time. The significance of our century is to be found in its rapid strides of progress—both constructive and destructive. There is a very delicate balance between these two forces as we reach this mid-century year. If we progress further with our destructive potential, the second half of the century is doomed to virtual extinction. If, however, the constructive potential can be directed to man's welfare, there is no limit to the possibilities of the future. The final shifting of the delicate balance will be determined largely by you who are being graduated in this mid-century class into the leadership of the world. You have my best wishes as you face this challenge of the next half-century.

VIEW OF A STELLAR FACULTY

Would you investigate the spectacular cosmography of the Western Maryland universe and see the stars whose rays illumine the depths of sluggardly student souls? Then come, up the stairs of Lewis Hall, to Free's Mt. Palomar. Behold! The intellectual planets spin along their courses:

There's Smith, coaching her little stars. Evening star Shipley wanders through the art lab, while MacDonald gleams within the darkened classroom. See the comet Isanogle dashing through in boots, and the Southern constellation Sturdivant. Big-Bear Bennighof shines aloft. The bright-eyed star is Phi Beta Kappa O'Rourke.

To the east gleams Bailer, star of Egypt, and there the farmer's planet Smith, longing for the summer green. Shining above Frostburg is Shaffer, while Liggett lights Vetvillia. Note the fiery sun Marshall throwing off quizzes, and the golfer's star Makosky, twinkling in the English blue. Next to Aurora Hendrickson-alis we find the singing spheres of Hendren Balladeer. Moon Howery stands over Cassell, controlling the tide of femininity. Constellation Wenner has gone beyond the

To the north, Lady Smith beams down on Nova Scotia. There's constellation Gray, a lady sewing, and nearby, star Schofield indulges in celestial cookery. Not Saturn with rings, but Snader and the French Circle whirl by. Brilliant Hildebran brightens the sky with a Spanish glow. Willen sparkles above the farm land, and the Swiss star Summers twinkles brightly. There's the constellation Ridington, holding a book of Greek.

Observe these constellations. Upon a spatial blackboard Bobbitt conquers an "impos-

The constellation lady pouring tea is Gesner. And see Brainard, a blazing comet over Europe! Murray's spheres hum the glory of Bach. From Benneyan come notes of Haydn. That syncopating star with jazz variations is Spangler. There's a huge choir-like constellation with DeLong's light transcending all. While the spheres of Royer emote now symphonies, now college songs, bright Doria warbles to the universe. Star Crain explodes in

Meteor Parker explodes with cosmic pep in the phys. ed. solar system. From Todd come fiddle notes and the sound of clapping hands. Britner puts her moons through astral calisthenics. Above the football field shines the golden glow of Havens, while fiery Ferguson flashes within the constellation basket-ballus. In summertime, observe the radiance of Boyer reflected from a diamond. Versatile Summers is a star in any situation. Straughn is the star of ticket-sellers. Behind a Milky Way of test tubes, planet Elderdice can almost be seen. Poised Marshall leads her satellites

There's constellation Disbrow throwing a globe covered with question marks. The Juggler Ahrensbrak balances columns of silver. There's planet Townsend wending an unconventional orbit. And say now, isn't that the "gret" planet Hurt punning over there? That far-off booming is the sun Whitfield declaring the sky is gray, not blue. ## Seniors

And now, when we are seniors—It hardly seems possible that our stay on the Hill is over. Why, it's just like yesterday that we had our first glimpse of W.M.C. through the raindrops on that wet September day in 1946. How our spirits were dampened! Rat week didn't help us either, but we managed somehow to come through the ordeal. When our heads stopped spinning, we settled down to a "normal" college routine of classes, exams, dates at Earl's, wild western movies on Saturday nights, and bull sessions in the dorms. We were so busy meeting people and learning we didn't realize that our first year was over until we walked beside the Seniors in the Lantern Chain.

Suddenly we were sophomores! Now we were really a part of the Hill. The fraternities and sororities welcomed us as new members, but first we were subjected to the many hardships of initiation. Classes, chapel, social gatherings continued to keep us busy. Despite all our efforts, we were learning. We never realized exactly how much we knew until we came face to face with final examinations. Even they couldn't quench our thirst for knowledge.

We came back for more in our third year. We did lose some of our classmates but they shall always be a part of our memories. Now the Jolly Juniors were really here to stay. And yet we could look ahead to the time when we would no longer be an active part of W.M.C. We sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom and realized the next one would be for us. The Rose Cup Ceremony in honor of the Seniors brought this realization closer to us.

The turn of the century was also a turning point in our lives. We were to be let out into the world by our Alma Mater to carry out the ideas and ideals which we had built up during our "golden days." The traditions, the professors, the friends have enriched our lives immeasurably. These "college ties can ne'er be broken" although we shall travel diverse paths. Homecoming will take on a new meaning for us now, as once more we return home to the Hill to renew old friendships and recall happy times and disappointing moments which were a part of us for such a short while. We are older and wiser because of our sojourn here and it is our wish that Western Maryland has profited by us.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Juniors

Three years have passed since we entered Western Maryland as the class of '51. Since then, some of us have become leaders on campus, many have done equally well as followers, while others have withdrawn from our ranks. Nevertheless, our class has come a long way in what appears to be a short time.

Let us briefly review the activities of those three years which have been so full of memories for all of us. Very few will ever forget our first day on the Hill as bewildered Freshmen, the thrill of our first college dance, cheering teams of our Alma Mater to victory, rat-week activities, and many other things which made great impressions on us.

As sophomores, we returned, not as bewildered students, but full of pep and anxious to see those from whom we had been separated during vacation. This was the first year that mass Freshman initiation prevailed at WMC; the program was planned jointly by our class and the Student Government. Many within our ranks became active in sororities and fraternities, sports, the newspaper, and other activities on the campus. This year passed quickly and it was once more time to say "so long" to room-mates, classmates, and friends.

Freshmen, sophomores, and now juniors—This year we returned with an even greater feeling of "belongingness." Several weeks after school started, we elected Lou Pietroforte and Bill Simpson as our president and vice-president. At this time June Beaver, Peggy Kerns, and Alice Yearley were elected as treasurer, secretary, and historian respectively, to assist the class in their tremendous responsibilities as the "Jolly Juniors."

One of the highlights of the year was the winning of the Mason-Dixon football title—thanks to a great team on which Juniors were well represented. As for the Junior girls, they walked off with honors on the athletic field by winning the hockey championship in competition with other class teams.

This year we elected an editor and business manager for the Aloha, and presidents of the SGA from among our classmates. Several of our members were appointed to the Gold Bug Staff. The dramatic art students presented the Junior Plays, while other talented juniors participated in the television shows which brought much recognition to our school.

Perhaps the spotlight of the year should be directed upon the Junior Weekend. We, as a class, enjoyed working under our more talented classmates in planning a Junior Follies based upon tradition. The next night, the Junior-Senior prom was held in honor of the Senior Class.

The year drew to a close, leaving us with many pleasant memories. As the traditional senior activities, such as Rose Cup and Lantern Chain, were carried out, we realized that now we were Seniors and that next year would be very important and eventful for us.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Sophomores

As gay young Sophomores, we entered our second year of learning with a renewed spirit which the summer vacation had given us.

Under the capable leadership of our president, Jack Lambert, and vice-president, Libby Schubert, we strove to make a name for our class. The achievements were noted by secretary Dottie Shoemaker, and were recorded for posterity by our historian, Corinne Schofield. The finances of the class were handled by the treasurer, Millard Lescallett.

From the start of the year, we showed our exuberance by extending a helping hand to the starry-eyed Freshmen and bringing them down to earth by means of a well-executed initiation. With the clearest memories of our own initiation, we made sure each Freshman wore his new-style beanie and not only carried his rules but obeyed them to the letter.

Much has been achieved by us as individuals and as a class.

Scholastically speaking, we can be quite proud of ourselves. We bit into the work, no matter how hard, at the very outset of the year and continued it up to the end. Neither new faces among the faculty nor the tests and pop quizzes the professors gave daunted us one iota. We came out victorious over the final exams at the end of each semester.

We accomplished a great deal athletically. In the major sports of football, soccer, basketball and lacrosse, we were ably represented. Intramural sports claimed the attention of many more Sophomores and much skill was exhibited. To all the games, we turned out in large numbers to raise our voices in cheers led by members of our class on the cheering squad.

The privilege of becoming a member of a fraternity or sorority was presented to us, thus giving us an opportunity to become a more integrated part of college life. Through the efforts of the "frats" our social life was brightened by the successful dances they sponsored, beginning with the Homecoming Dance and climaxing with the Pan Hellenic Dance, sponsored by both sororities and fraternities, featuring a name band. The concerts and dramatic productions added much to our cultural life. Clubs in almost every field of interest were open to us and claimed much of our attention. As far as social achievements were concerned, we gained a great number of new interests and acquired sophistication.

In retrospect, the events of our sophomore year were memorable ones and many will never be forgotten. We can now look forward with anticipation to the secrets awaiting us as we become the Junior class.

Freshmen

As the school year of 1949-50 comes to a close, the class of 1953 looks in retrospect on its first year at Western Maryland College—a year filled with studies, athletics, and social life.

We were eager, yet timid, on the twenty-second of September when we first set foot on the college campus. From all possible sources came valuable assistance, in the form of assemblies, visits from faculty members, and get-togethers with the members of our own class. The placement tests which were given had us worried for awhile, until we finally realized their full meaning.

With the return of the upperclassmen we saw more activity and the beginning of "Freshman Caps and Rules." Before very long, our green and gold caps seemed to become a very important part of our wearing apparel from the scrutiny we received from our superiors. The Freshman initiation ended with the defeat of our overlords, the Sophomores, in the tug-of-war on Homecoming Day.

Classes began and we found ourselves face to face with many subjects which were unfamiliar to us. Between the studies we found time for sports, both varsity and intramural, in which our class showed great spirit and enthusiasm. Clubs of all types opened their membership to Freshmen, and we eagerly tried our hands at them. The dances were quite popular and looked forward to with great expectancy. We all worked enthusiastically on our Homecoming projects, so we too could feel a part of the excitement that was so prevalent for weeks before the big event. Never before had we seen such plans in progress, and we wanted our first Homecoming to be one of the best. In time for us to catch our breath, Christmas vacation rolled around.

Final exams and our first grades in college were the main thoughts of each of us as we began the new year. We added our noted spirit to the cheers for the basketball team.

One of our first duties second semester was to elect our class officers. As a result of the election, the rest of the class activities was planned under the leadership of the following officers: President, Ashby Collins; Vice-president, Art Shanklin; Sergeant-at-Arms, Robert Smyth; Treasurer, Jim Moore; Secretary, Barbara Davidson.

Our picnic at Cascade had been a class outing long anticipated and showed excellent results of careful planning and hard work. Swimming, good food, and entertainment made the day pass all too quickly.

With the arrival of Commencement, we realized that we had actually completed a very hard year at Western Maryland—and with all the work, there had been many good times. In the spirit of our first campus year, we, the class of 1953, plan to keep going forward.

Who's

Joseph Giannelli, Mary Frances Jones, Joseph Fowler, Betty White, George Seymour, Shirley Clark, Joseph Culotta, Dorothy Alexander, Daniel Welliver and John Silber were selected this year by the Students Activities Committee for the honor of inclusion in the publication Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities. Students are selected annually through evaluation of their college life, based upon analysis of character, scholarship, leadership in extracurricular activities, and potentiality for future usefulness to society in the fields which they choose. It is, of course, impossible to honor all those students who are actually qualified for such honor.

Biographical sketches covering the college activities and interests of those ten students selected will be entered in the national publication. In addition, they will have use of the organization's placement bureau, which furnishes recommendations to employers and graduate schools, and are entitled to wear the honorary key.

Among the activities in which this year's nominees participated were the Student Government Association, honorary societies, campus publications, the Student Christian Association, sororities and fraternities, and athletics.

ARGONAUTS

The Argonauts, Western Maryland's Honor Society, has as its purpose the promotion of sound scholarship, the recognition of high scholastic standing, and the promotion of fellowship among the students and faculty. The activities of the group, which include several meetings, a formal tea, and a spring banquet, are carried on by associate members, who are juniors or seniors who have maintained an overall "B" average, or better. Full membership is granted those who graduate cum laude or summa cum laude. Dr. Isabel Isanogle and Dr. William Ridington act as sponsors of the organization.

The Argonaut Society was founded in 1935 by Dr. Lloyd Bertholf and a group of students who were inspired by the ancient Greek legend of the "Argo" and the search for the Golden Fleece of truth and wisdom.

The outstanding events of the year included a talk by Dr. Milton Huber, a former president of this society, now a member of the college faculty; a tea to honor all students with a cumulative "B" average; and the spring banquet at which Dr. H. Lamar Crosby of the University of Chicago was the speaker.

The society hopes to attain the status of Phi Beta Kappa in the near future. The executive committee, George Seymour, Donald Clarke, Marion Auld, and Margaret Beyer have had this as their vision and have taken steps in working toward this goal.

BETA BETA BETA

The Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Beta Beta, under the able leadership of Prof. C. L. Bennighof and Dr. H. P. Sturdivant, completed successfully its eighteenth year of activity. Included in our membership this year were twenty-three active members and seventeen provisional members, making a total of forty participants. The officers of the organization were: Dan Welliver, President; Charles Hammer, Vice-president; Lois Sauter, Secretary; June Graf, Historian; and Prof. Bennighof, Treasurer.

Our program included Tuesday afternoon meetings at which were presented student research papers followed by invaluable discussions. In addition to these meetings, we engaged special speakers, showed scientific motion pictures, participated in bi-annual initiations of new members, and held the annual spring picnic.

A large delegation represented our Chapter at the biennial convention of the national fraternity, held in New York City during the Christmas vacation. Our group was also well represented at the regional convention held at Notre Dame College in Baltimore this spring. Upon occasion, we visited other Chapters at neighboring institutions.

Endeavoring always to be mindful of the fraternity purpose, Tri-Beta strives to—"Stimulate sound scholarship, promote the dissemination of scientific truth, and to encourage investigation in the life sciences."

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA

The Iota Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha, the national honorary fraternity in philosophy, was established at W. M. C. in April, 1949. The purpose of this fraternity is to recognize excellence in the study of philosophy and allied subjects and to develop an interest in philosophical study and discussion.

The meetings are held bimonthly. Initiation of active members is held each semester. The officers are: George Franko, President; Howard Shannon, Vice-president; Louis Pietroforte, Secretary; Richard Randall, Treasurer.

Dr. Reuben S. Holthaus, faculty adviser of the group, opened the year's activities with a lecture on "The Practical Values of the Study of Philosophy." This was followed by a series of lectures by faculty and outside speakers. Some of the topics discussed were: "Life and Philosophy in the Near East," "Art Criticism in the Early Greek Periods," "The Development of the Mature Mind," "Alternative Approaches to the Problems of Evil," "Ethics of Greek Mythology," and other thought-provoking discussions of a philosophical nature.

Students participate in the discussions; present their own papers for reading; contribute essays and book reports to The Philosopher, the fraternity's publication; meet with other AKA groups in panel discussions; as well as participating in many of the activities on the campus.

TRUMPETERS

The Trumpeters, an honorary organization, has as its motto: "For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?" It was founded in 1944 by Dean Katherine Carmichael, with the aim of being accepted after a probation period by the Mortar Board, national honorary society for outstanding college women.

The Trumpeters, who are Senior women, are selected on a point basis according to leadership in extra-curricular activities in a wide area. On the last Thursday in May, at the annual Tapping Ceremony, the graduating Trumpeters present caps and gowns to the women of the Junior Class who have been chosen to be Trumpeters.

The purpose of the group is to be of service to the college. This year Marion Auld, Dorothy Alexander, and Dr. Isabel Isanogle, their sponsor, have been very active. There has been a revision of the point system, with the approval of Dean Howery and a committee of campus leaders. This is the agency through which Freshmen choose various campus clubs which they wish to join. The Trumpeters assisted during Freshman Week, and were responsible for the Christmas Banquet.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Under the leadership of President Joe Culotta, the SCA has enjoyed its biggest year on the Hill. The Sunday School, the Wesleyans, the Wesleyanettes, the Canterbury Club, and the Lutheran Group cooperated with Vice-president Dan Welliver in building a unified religious emphasis for the campus.

Wednesday evening programs ranged from folk-dancing to meaningful meetings concerned with current issues. Each morning, organ music, under the direction of William Scheder, created a serenity for daily personal devotions in Baker Chapel.

Under Marion Auld, Commissioner of Social Responsibility, several social action programs were begun, such as improving the Westminster Negro nursery school. There was also the SCA News-of-the-Day Bulletin Board.

Guided by Dorothy Alexander, Commissioner of Personal and Campus Affairs, the Fireside Fellowship became even more popular. Everyone celebrated his birthday at the SCA Birthday Banquet. And the SCA Band Concerts at Carpe Diem did much to foster stronger school spirit.

Through the work of Martha Schaeffer, Commissioner of Christian Heritage, the personal spiritual development of Western Marylanders was encouraged. Well-chosen materials and Wednesday evening speakers helped us to build wholesome philosophies of life.

Dave Sartorio, Commissioner of World Relatedness, made students aware of crucial world problems and fostered programs to help the world crisis. The World Student Service Fund, co-directed by Robert Fringo and Russell Deragon, had wide support on the Hill.

The SCA Community Service Award was quickly accepted by the students. This award is given each year to the fraternity and sorority which does most to serve the campus and world community through service projects.

This big area of activities kept Jean Curl, Secretary, busy keeping many records, but Bill Simpson, our treasurer, kept a tight grasp on the purse-strings. And we must not forget Libby Schubert's tireless efforts as publicity director!

Thus the NEW SCA began its first year.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

In 1872, William G. Baker said, "There shall be a Sunday School class" . . . and there was a Sunday School class. And there is a Sunday School class.

This class welcomes all students of all denominations.

The cabinet, advised by Dr. Charles S. Crain, and presided over by Eva Mae Davis, President, provided interesting discussions on current interests such as church symbolism, church music, pacifism, communism, and missions.

Composed of twenty members, the Sunday School Choir, directed by Charles Shook, enriched many programs.

Led by the cabinet, whose other members were Lincoln Justice, Vice-President, Joyce Parker, Women's Vice-President, Dorothy Shindle, Secretary-Treasurer, and councilors Elinor Price, Marshall Simpson, and Ira Zepp, the class visited the many churches of Westminster as a project, that we might compare them to form a basis for a discussion on church unification.

The Sunday School has sponsored more activities this year than ever before. In the fall, we hiked to Tramp Hollow, "the long way." A similar picnic was held in the spring. Due to the benevolent spirit of the Christmas party, Santa Claus was able to contribute a sizable sum to the World Student Service Fund.

Two Sundays' offerings were collected for Western Maryland's March of Dimes campaign.

As an annual event, we held a Mothers' Day program, giving red and white carnations to all present.

A hill-top worship service climaxed the year's program.

WESLEYANS

The Wesleyans, a fellowship of undergraduate men who plan to enter the ministry or some other field of full-time Christian service, is now in its eighth year of official existence on "The Hill." The membership of this organization has been greatly augmented in the past three or four years, now standing at approximately thirty-five.

Dr. Milton J. Huber serves as adviser to the group, which this year meets in the Westminster Seminary Chapel once a month, with other meetings during the month being held in co-operation with the new S. C. A. program. These meetings consist of a brief period of worship followed by discussion of some of the problems facing the student preparing for a life of service in the name of Christianity.

Under the leadership of the president, Ed Wright, the Wesleyans, in cooperation with the Wesleyanettes, conducted weekly services at the Methodist Home for the Aged every Sunday evening until the closing of the Home in December.

The annual banquet held in May was the highlight of the group's activities. The organization continued to actively participate in the college intramural sports program. After the closing of the Methodist Home for the Aged, the Wesleyans gained practical experience through deputation teams that visited churches in this area.

During the first semester, the organization functioned under the leadership of E. Wright, President; I. Zepp, Vice-President; James Shannon, Secretary-Treasurer. These offices were held respectively by James Shannon, Ira Zepp, and Kenneth Tyson in the second semester.

WESLEYANETTES

The Wesleyanettes is a small group of college women who are interested in some phase of Christian work. Some of the members would like to carry on their activities in the years to come, perhaps as full-time occupations.

Mrs. Lester Welliver, wife of the president of the Westminster Theological Seminary, has been an interested and capable advisor and guide since February, 1948. The group, whose president is Eva Mae Davis, meets at Mrs. Welliver's home the second Friday of each month, according to the SCA program. The representative to the SCA Cabinet, Joyce Parker, vice-president, is also in charge of the worship program which introduces each meeting. Dorothy Dalglish is secretary-treasurer of the group.

The Wesleyanettes sent to a Methodist Conference at the University of Illinois in Urbana, Ill., two representatives whose expenses were paid from the profits of food sales in Blanche Ward Hall. In addition to its own meetings, the club sometimes joins the Wesleyans in fellowship and fun, as was done at our Christmas party. Other activities included a worship service at the Methodist Home for the Aged. Even though small, the group's size does not detract from its importance, because it is based on the firm Christian beliefs and ideals upon which Western Maryland College was founded.

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Under the SCA, the Lutheran Student Association became recognized as a campus organization this year. Although they had been meeting together for three years, it was not until this year that they were recognized on campus as an arm of the SCA.

The LSA at Western Maryland College is a part of the Lutheran Students Association of America, functioning under the Gettysburg Area of the North Atlantic Region.

At the two weekend conferences during the year, the area conference at Gettysburg College and the regional conference at Buck Hill Falls, Pennsylvania, a number of students from the local group represented Western Maryland.

The regular meetings every month included outside speakers, movies, discussions, and refreshments. The Rev. Dr. Elwood S. Falkenstein, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church in Westminster, and William Slec, student assistant from Gettysburg Theological Seminary, have been the advisers to the group. Also, included in the program for the year were fall and spring retreats to the Logan cottage at Pine Grove Furnace and a trip to the Tressler Orphan Home, Loyesville, Pennsylvania.

The officers for the year were: Pat Huddle, President; Norma Avers, Vice-President; and Barbara Baumgardner, Secretary-Treasurer.

CANTERBURY CLUB

The Canterbury Club, a religious organization for Episcopal students, elected the following officers: Russell Deragan, President; Betty Linton, Vice-President; Betty Crosswhite, Secretary; Charles Pfeiffer, Treasurer. Miss Ann O'Rourke is the faculty adviser. In the absence of a rector at the local parish, Rev. Edward Dart of All Saints Church, Reisterstown, served as chaplain.

As a part of the S. C. A. program of coordinated religious activities, meetings are held once a month in Baker Chapel. In addition to Father Dart, the club secured, throughout the year, a roster of interesting speakers. Many students, who are not Canterburyans, attended lectures by speakers from our own and other colleges and churches, and found them stimulating.

The club sent two representatives to the Tri-Diocesan Conference of College Students in Towson. The Episcopal students of all colleges of the Eastern and Western Shores of Maryland, as well as Washington, take part in this conference. Our representative, Elizabeth Thomas, was elected secretary of the conference.

During the year, General Corporate Communion for members were held at the Church of the Ascension, and in the Lenten season there were regular mid-week celebrations of Holy Communion in Baker Chapel. Throughout the year, social activities were organized by and for the members. Even though the membership of the group is small, its activities are widespread and comprehensive.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

To arouse interest in, and to create a better understanding of, current national and international events is the purpose set forth by the members of the International Relations Club. This organization meets in McDaniel Lounge on the first and third Mondays of each month.

During the past year the club discussed the World Federation versus the United Nations Organization. Representing the World Federalists, Dr. George B. Dick spoke to the group. At a later meeting Miss Dorothy B. Robbins, Director of Education for the United Nations, presented the views of this organization to the students at Western Maryland.

June Beaver served as president of the club for the year. Vice-presidents for first and second semesters were Gene Frank and Harriet Kahn respectively. Harriet Kahn was secretary-treasurer first semester and Ann Van Order, second semester.

Western Maryland holds membership in the Maryland Association of International Relations Clubs, the Collegiate Council of the United Nations, and sends delegates from the I. R. C. to attend Middle Atlantic State Conferences.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Le Cercle Francais, the officers of which are Margaret Beyer, President; Virginia Clayton, Vice-President; Rita Ludwig, Secretary; and Jackie Brown, Treasurer, is one of the more popular clubs on the Hill because of its traditionally interesting programs and its friendly atmosphere. It meets one Monday evening out of every month in McDaniel Lounge, where students have an opportunity to make practical use of their French, as the meetings are conducted completely in that language. Student participation is the rule whenever possible, although outside features are often enjoyed.

The year began with the students presenting two short one-act plays. A few song fests were held and one night everyone answered roll call with a French proverb. The traditional French choral service at Christmas was one of the highlights of the year. Last year the club presented the Barbier de Seville as its spring play. Each year a masterpiece is played by the French Club. Le Cercle Francais will remain a cherished part of WMC tradition, as students recall its happy memories.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club provides an organization for girls interested in this field. The club acts as a source for a broader study connected with home economics. Officers were: Patricia Moore, President; Ann Thompson, Vice-President; Virginia Hale, Secretary; Mary K. Wills, Treasurer.

At the first meeting of the year several girls gave interesting talks concerning their summer positions in relation to the field of home economics.

The club sent a Christmas package through the World Friendship Among Children Organization to people in Europe and received letters thanking us for the gifts.

In November a representative from our club attended the Providence Workshop in New York. Many members of the club attended a state meeting in Lutherville at the Maryland College for Women.

Our January meeting was held at the Management House and gave many of the new members a chance to see the House. A buffet supper was followed with an interesting talk by Miss Stella Mathers, once head of the Home Economics Department of the University of Arizona.

A fashion show held in March was enjoyed by both the participants and the audience.

The Home Economics Club endeavors to maintain an interest in a vital, worthwhile, and necessary work.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers of America is a recent addition to the organizations flourishing on the Hill. Its origin goes back to the spring of 1949 at which time the education students of the junior and senior classes voted to form a chapter of this national group.

Western Maryland gave the name of the Dean Isanogle Chapter to its new organization. The Dean's years of service to the educational system of this state warranted this happy choice.

Under the leadership of Norm Stern, the Future Teachers quickly became active in the life of the campus. Education students who are members work at Rosewood or for local scout troop or nurseries and thereby earn credit points which will become an official part of their records upon graduation.

During the past year many of the members attended a state meeting of high school and college F. T. A. organizations at Towson. George Seymour, then president of our own chapter, played a leading role in the effort now under way to form a state organization.

The organization functioned second semester under the leadership of Howard Shannon, who was ably assisted by Dave Buffington as vice-president, Betty Wiley as recording secretary, Lou Hyder as corresponding secretary, and Priscilla Lankford as treasurer.

Nowack, M. Rice, J. Walter, A. L. Hardester, H. L. Scarborough, G. Franko, G. Seymour, L. Orth, R. Ault.

ARTS SYMPOSIUM

During its second year as a campus organization, the Arts Symposium has successfully brought to its members further knowledge and appreciation of the fine arts—music, painting, sculpture, architecture, the dance, and literature.

Acting as sponsors, Dr. Thomas Marshall and Dr. William MacDonald assisted the executive committee in planning varied and entertaining programs. Subjects ranged from Stage Make-up: Its Application and Use to The Gardens at Williamsburg, Virginia, illustrated with colored slides of that town.

For the literature enthusiasts, there were lectures and discussions by students and faculty members on such topics as American Humorists, Goethe in our Time, The Stepchildren of Poe (a reference to the evolution of the detective story), Karel Capek's Place in Literature.

For music lovers, there were afternoons of listening pleasure provided by the playing of Brahms' Requiem, and selections from Verdi operas, accompanying a report on that composer's musical development.

Others of the club's bi-monthly meetings in McDaniel Lounge were devoted to talks on Modern Dance and Life as a Member of a Symphony Orchestra, and a travel film of a trip to Europe.

Plans for next year's program are already under way, and the future of the Arts Symposium looks brighter than ever. The members of the executive committee—Harry Adams, Betty Lovelace, Liz Kuhn, and Helen Ray—feel that this has been a successful year.

THE COLLEGE PLAYERS

As an art medium, the theatre has always occupied a distinct place in the lives of people in all times. Today, the theatrical art is produced by many means, the college theatre being one of the most important. The College Players is a group actively participating in this realm of dramatic production. 1950 saw the Players present four outstanding productions. The Thanksgiving Play, a warm and human comedy-drama, The Corn is Green, by Emelyn Williams, was given a highly intelligent and moving treatment by its large cast and was well-received.

For the annual Christmas Vesper Service, the Players produced the intensely spiritual Nativity poem, A Child Is Born, by Stephen Vincent Benét.

In March, International Theatre Month, the Junior students presented their series of three one-act plays. The wide variation in the plays showed the ability of those taking part and their presentations were extremely successful. The plays were Wilder's Happy Journey, de Lisle's Tragic Christening, and the poetic drama by Millay—Aria da Capo.

The spring play was an excellent production of "The Late George Apley" by John P. Marquand and George Kaufman.

There are four reasons why the plays on the Hill are so successful. First is the deep reservoir of talent in the student actors themselves. Miss Esther Smith's devoted and professional training and direction cannot be measured by any standard. Donald Bailey's eye-catching settings and lighting have a great part in making the staging so outstanding. The unselfish and cooperative spirit of all those participating in any way is a factor to be reckoned with. Put these elements together and there is the combination which makes the dramatic productions of the Players such definite successes.

THE ALOHA

If we may borrow a line from that old spiritual—"Nobody knows the trouble I've seen"—we can use it to aptly express our sentiments towards this yearbook. There were times when we felt as though some fate had deliberately set up obstacles for us to climb over. Innumerable deadlines kept popping up, pictorial red tape entangled us, the weather was, to say the least, uncooperative, and all the running to and fro was tiring. Time and again we heaved sighs of despair and bemoaned our awful fate, but we always managed to get back into harness and struggle on. Then one day, we suddenly realized that we were through; everything was completed, ended, finished. With a sigh of relief, we said a silent prayer of thanks. Our trouble had become happiness, though tinged with a bit of nostalgia.

GOLD BUG

This headline doesn't fit! Where are the pins? How can I get five more inches? There's no glue!

The above jumble indicates another Gold Bug having growing pains. But in spite of a major crisis with every issue, Editor Bill Porter and his staff managed to publish a successful student paper.

Last fall, along with other Maryland colleges, Western Maryland's paper was invited to write and make up a page in the Baltimore Sunday American. Members of the staff who went to Baltimore had a chance to see a big paper behind the scenes.

And on November 5, with the aid of some corn shocks, brown paper, paint and imagination, Gill Gym was turned into Dog Patch for the annual Sadie Hawkins Day Dance.

Second semester brought several changes. While Mrs. Wenner is on leave of absence, Mr. Frederick Karl took over her position as Gold Bug advisor. When Bill Porter completed his term of office, Nancy Winkelman took over the editorship of the paper.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Acting under the competent leadership of John Silber, President; Betty White, Vice-President; Shirley Clark, Secretary; and Dottie Alexander, Treasurer, the Student Government began the year with the freshmen orientation program. Soon after the new students had been made welcome, plans were initiated to increase the feeling of school spirit and unity among all students on the Hill.

Through means of a column in the Gold Bug, special campus committees, and more original pep rallies, the S. G. A. succeeded in fostering a high degree of cooperation and enthusiasm, which circulated through all school activities. The surprise introduction of a real "Green Terror" at the athletic events increased competitive spirit.

The culmination of school spirit was found in the Homecoming activities, among the best that alumni and students have ever seen. Each campus organization devoted time and efforts to individual displays with such originality and success that judging the winners was a difficult task.

In the fall the Student Government, under the supervision of the local Kiwanis Club, sponsored a circus that aided both organizations financially.

Early in January a men's table tennis contest was sponsored, and the four finalists participated in the National Tournament at Temple University. The March of Dimes campaign was promoted through a canvassing of dormitories and campus organizations. At the beginning of the second semester an informal reception for new students was held to introduce them to the faculty and as a welcome to the Hill.

Perhaps the most important step concerning campus policy was the successful effort of the S. G. A. to effect an agreement with the administration in allowing women students to visit the fraternity rooms at specified times during the week.

With the May Day program, activities for the year were drawn to a close.

CAMERA CLUB

Under the leadership of our officers—Dave Patten, President; Maurice Cubberley, Vice-President; Miriam Simmons, Secretary; Dale Townsend, Treasurer—the Camera Club had an active year.

Our darkroom in the basement of McKinstry now provides adequate photographic facilities, since we purchased additional equipment in the fall. This darkroom is open to the use of any member of the Club.

In the early fall, Dean Free (our sponsor) and Mrs. Free gave a wiener roast for the Club in their yard one Sunday evening.

This year our policy has been to alternate business meetings with activity sessions. For Homecoming we presented a display of giant photographs of the campus activities during the football season. Demonstrations of the fundamentals of photography were given by various members and were a regular feature of the meetings. A movie was sponsored in February with great success. In the early spring, the Club took advantage of the photogenic features of the surrounding countryside on a hike which ended with refreshments in Harvey Stone Park. Towards the end of the year, movies invaluable to the amateur photographer were shown in Science Hall.

At the final meeting, the officers for next year were elected and suggestions for next year's program were approved.

CHOIR

The College Choir is composed of some 65 voices under the direction of Professor Alfred de Long, accompanied by Oliver K. Spangler.

In accordance with tradition, the choir furnishes music for the regular Sunday evening chapel services, and also presents several special programs. This year a Christmas Carol service was given, and a small group of choir members provided backstage music for the Christmas play.

The outstanding performance was that of Mendelssohn's Elijah, sung in the Episcopal Church at Pikesville, Maryland, in Bethesda Methodist Church at Salisbury, Maryland, and at college during commencement week.

Part of the choir activities centered about American secular music. A girl's octet and a male quartet were organized, and in addition to their participation on the Collegiate Talent Tussle Program over WAAM-TV, sang in the secular concert given by the choir.

ORCHESTRA

The College Orchestra is one of the important features of Western Maryland life. The functional work of the class is training student conductors. In January, these student conductors—Martha Schaeffer, Edith Sanner, Eva Mae Davis, Ada Lee Hardester, and Joseph Culotta—conducted a program in Alumni Hall.

At the Spring Concert on April 21, the orchestra presented Overture: The Consecration of the House, by Beethoven; Symphony in D Minor, by César Franck; and Piano Concerto in D Major by Haydn, with Martha Schaeffer as soloist.

On April 28, a group from the orchestra accompanied 350 voices of the Carroll County high schools in a presentation of "The Mikado," as the finale of the annual Eisteddfod.

The orchestra traditionally plays at the Commencement Exercises.

GLEE CLUB

One of the most popular musical organizations at Western Maryland College is the glee club. The Girls' Glee Club, which is under the direction of Miss Grace Cordia Murray, was organized for the purpose of developing a keen appreciation of great music written and arranged for women's voices. Once a week, on Tuesday afternoons, about fifty girls who are interested in choral singing meet in Levine Music Hall for rehearsal.

Each year the Glee Club presents a Christmas program in McDaniel Lounge for the members of the American Association of University Women. This year the program consisted of two parts. First a group of Christmas carols was sung by the Glee Club with such beauty that everyone was impressed by the presentation. Following this, there were numbers performed by children of the college faculty.

On April 12, the spring schedule began with a performance for the Westminster Lions Club. On the program this year was secular music ranging from old English madrigals to a song by the contemporary composer, Paul Hindemith.

The music of the Glee Club is a source of enjoyment not only to the College audiences but to outside audiences as well.

R.O.T.C. BAND

From the triumphant victory songs on Hoffa Field to the romantic melodies at Carpe Diem, the R.O.T.C. Band has woven itself into the spirit of Western Maryland College. Under the sponsorship of Professor Philip Royer, this energetic group of music makers has steadily increased in quality as well as quantity.

Doubling as the College Band, the members were overjoyed with the addition of "les femmes." The talented coeds plus the new uniforms added a zest which was soon reflected in all school events. No football game was complete without the Band! Indeed, even the basketball teams were cheered on to victory with the Band's music filling the court. Under the direction of Joe Culotta, Cadet captain of the Band, the vibrant tunes turned tense, anxious moments into happy cheering.

The SCA Band Concerts at Carpe Diem helped prove how well our band really could play. With spring in the air, the musicians, in no small measure, helped turn the young man's fancy to thoughts of ———.

With spring came the Reserve Officers Training Corps' Battalion Review, and here, too, the Band led the parade in proud fashion, showing a marked improvement after a winter of hard work.

One of the important courses here at the college is the R. O. T. C. course. From about thirty men in 1919, the unit at Western Maryland now numbers one hundred and eighty-one men. The unit is under the competent leadership of Major Richard H. Natzke, assisted by Captain James Garberry and an enlisted staff composed of M/Sgt. Rufus Puryear, M/Sgt. Bruce Derrick, SFC Charles Kelly, and SFC Owen Stephenson. This year by far the largest class is the freshman class. There are three companies in the unit, which are commanded by cadet officers. Company A is commanded by Captain Alfred Bright, Company B by Captain Richard Dunlop, and Company C by Captain Ned Masenheimer.

Every spring the unit is inspected by an inspecting team from Second Army Headquarters on a basis of a satisfactory or an unsatisfactory rating. Last spring, Western Maryland was rated as satisfactory.

The first two years of the R. O. T. C. course are compulsory, the last two years elective. There were quite a few students who continued in the advanced courses. For those who do continue, there is a six-weeks summer camp at Fort Meade. Students go to summer camp at the end of their junior year.

In the spring the unit moves from Yingling Gym, where it met all winter, to the drill area on Hoffa Field. Here, under the instruction of the cadet officers, the men become a well-disciplined, well-coordinated group. These fifth-period drills are usually watched by is eligible for membership in the Officers' Club, which was organized in 1926. This is a social organization formed to promote fellowship, citizenship, and the further study of military problems. In the spring, the Officers' Club sponsored the Military Ball, which is the big event of the Club's social season. At the end of the year, there is a banquet for all the members. This year the membership of the club was unusually high, as there were twenty-nine cadet officers.

Cadets who finish four years of R. O. T. C. are given commissions as Second Lieutenants in the Officers' Reserve Corps. An outstanding student may be designated as a Distinguished Military Student at the end of his junior year by the professor of military science and tactics. When a student is so designated, he may apply for a commission in the Regular Army. If selected by the Department of the Army, he would be given further schooling at Fort Riley, Kansas, and Fort Benning, Georgia, before reporting for duty. All R. O. T. C. students receiving reserve commissions may apply for a competitive tour of two years' active duty with a view to being commissioned in the Regular Army. As a result, any Western Maryland student who desires a career in the Army has an opportunity to prepare himself through the college R. O. T. C.

INTERSORORITY COUNCIL

The Intersorority Council consists of the president, vice-president, and a junior representative from each of the four sororities on the Hill. The organization, which follows the policy of rotation of officers, had as first semester officers Pat Moore, President; Betty Lee Robbins, Vice-President; Dorothy Alexander, Secretary-Treasurer; and Jane Guttman, Social Director.

With the assistance of Miss Snader as faculty advisor, the Council started on its first job, the regulation of bidding procedures for the first semester. Then, in order to raise money to be used for intersorority activities, the Intersorority Council sponsored a movie.

At a tea given in January in their honor, Iota Gamma Chi received the Intersorority Scholarship Cup from President Ensor.

Second semester officers were: Lou Hyder, President; Ruth Allen, Vice-President; Sara Lee Larmore, Secretary-Treasurer; Priscilla Lankford, Social Director. As a part of the second semester activities, there was an intersorority basketball tournament. Following this was a bridge contest.

The spring season was filled with the rush teas and rush parties for the girls of the Freshman Class. It was the duty of the Intersorority Council to schedule and regulate these activities. In May the Intersorority Council joined with the Interfraternity Council in sponsoring the Pan-Hellenic Dance. This proved to be one of the big events of the year, since, following a precedent set last year, we again had a big name band.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Council consists of twelve men: the four fraternity presidents and a senior and junior representative from each fraternity. The Council functions as an advisory group only and receives most of its power only through the complete cooperation of all the members. All problems concerning rushing, pledging, and scheduling of smokers and dances are handled by the Council, which constantly endeavors to gain support for better all-round fraternity standards and ideals. The offices rotate annually and for the first semester, Carroll Parker served as president; Joe Fowler as vice-president; Gene Frank, secretary; and Bryan Haddaway, treasurer. Second semester the officers were: Charles Shook, president; Joe Fowler, vice-president; Ed Ransford, secretary; and Anthony Konstant, treasurer.

The Interfraternity Athletic Council is governed indirectly by the I. F. C. and aids in the scheduling of Interfraternity football, basketball, and volleyball games.

In February, the scholastic averages of the fraternity men were computed and the Frank B. Hurt Scholarship Cup awarded to the fraternity with the highest composite average.

This year the Interfraternity Council has been very active. In the first part of the second semester, the Council sponsored a March of Dimes movie. There was the annual Interfraternity Banquet. In the spring, in cooperation with the Intersorority Council, the Interfraternity Council sponsored the Pan-Hellenic Dance. Following last year's precedent, a "name" band was engaged. The Pan-Hel was a great success. In keeping with the spirit of friendliness and cooperation between the organization and the Administration, the proceeds of the dance were donated to the College.

Delta Sigma Kappa

With the turn of another half century, we find the "new look" wilting into the old look, the "wife of Frankenstein" eyes grotesquely invading the area, and the Delts participating in an all 'round record year of campus affairs.

The beginning of the fall term found us a sorority without a president—Lee Kompanek, the bride who didn't return. While we all wished her the "Best," we had to hotfoot it and elect a new president.

For our first semester officers, we had Betty Lee Robbins, President; Ruth Allen, Vice-President; Rae Acher, Secretary; Rita Ludwig, Treasurer; Barbara Pfoutz, Sgt.-at-Arms; and Rachel Ebert, Chaplain. After the second semester elections, the official positions were held by Ruth Allen, Angela Crothers, Helen Ray, Joanne Koehler, Jeanne Dixon, and Nancy Walker.

Along with the initiation of the new Baby Delts, Miss Benneyan, our new sponsor, became one of us.

At Homecoming, a traditionally rainy October 29, Delta Sigma Kappa shined as it welcomed visitors and alumni back with the Homecoming Queen and the best all-round Homecoming display.

The only sorority to have all its members living on one floor, all the resident Delts can be found infesting some room on first floor Blanche Ward, officially known as Deltland.

Dedicating this year to Dr. Wills, whose wife was the first sponsor of the Delts, all the banquets were held in his honor. The birthday banquet on Valentine Day left us all holding our tummies after being well taken care of at the Hoffman House.

Midwinter again found the more athletic members of the club displaying their skill on the basketball court, while the athletic supporters backed their team by cheering on the sidelines.

The bridge tournament also found us all interested and participating in the competition.

With members as presidents of both Women's Athletic Association and Student Government, the Delts are proud of their part as leaders in campus activities.

Came spring, and the preparation for the tea and rush party were all a part of the traditional social whirl of sorority life.

No year can end without its Auld Lang Syne and so May found D.S.K. bidding farewell to its eleven Senior Delts at their annual steak banquet at Schotties'.

Iota Gamma Chi

The Iotas had a year filled with many activities. With Pat Moore as President, Lou Hyder as vice-president, Margaret Beyer as recording secretary, Nancy Burdick as corresponding secretary, June Beaver as treasurer, Bobbie Lain as historian, and Kitty Olewiler as intersorority representative, we started on the year's program. We plunged right into work on redecorating the clubroom in green, grey, and red. At Homecoming we greeted our old members and guests at an open house. The "new" clubroom was admired at this first public appearance. But it was hard to decide whether we were more proud of our interior decoration or our Humpty-Dumpty Homecoming display.

Soon after Homecoming, nineteen new "germs" kept us in stitches with their antics. We ended their week of trials and tribulations with a Hallowe'en party. A banquet at Hoffman House and a Christmas party in the clubroom made the pre-holiday weeks complete. The new clubroom looked especially bright with the added tables and lamps which were our Christmas presents.

A belated surprise from Santa Claus was the Scholarship Cup which we received in January. We were guests of the Intersorority Council at a tea and received the Cup officially from Dr. Ensor.

At mid-year, for the first time in the club's history, we elected new officers. This was done in an effort to give more of our members a chance for leadership. Lou Hyder as president, Mary Ellen Smith as vice-president, Carol Lowe as recording secretary, Nancy Burdick as corresponding secretary, June Beaver as historian, and Jean Dennison as intersorority representative, led us through a busy second semester.

In February two new pledges joined our ranks and we all worked together in the Intersorority projects. Basketball, bridge, and the sponsorship of the co-ed study room kept us busy. After our rush tea, in which we entertained all the freshman girls, we started planning for our big spring event—our rush party at Big Pike Creek Park. At the Park, we roller-skated, ate a picnic supper, and were entertained by some of our less inhibited sisters; altogether, we had a wonderful time.

When graduation approached, we gave the Seniors a farewell party. Alternating between jokes and sadness, we reminisced about our last year together. It was an exciting one for the Iotas. May every sorority year be as much fun.

Phi Alpha Mu

Looking back, this has been a memorable year for the Phi Alphas. Last year's graduating class left our club smaller than it has been in the memories of most of us. Entertained as we were in our first meeting of the year in the living room of our new club sponsor, all nineteen of us fitted comfortably about the fireplace in the de Long home. Dottie Alexander, our new President, opened her first meeting and was supported by Sara Lee Larmore as vice-president, Ann Thompson as secretary, Mary Will as treasurer, Marion Auld, chaplain, Susie Bruning, Sgt.-at-Arms, and Flo Rice, alumni secretary.

When bids were accepted, we proudly and happily welcomed twenty-two new "calves." There were barely enough "cows" to keep our mooring pledges in order as they "grazed" through the halls of Blanche Ward.

We had much to keep us busy until the Thanksgiving holidays. For our hard work on the Homecoming project, we received a prize. "Our record wasn't beat." Then we found time for a Sophomore Surprise Supper in Harvey Stone Park and a trip to Baltimore where we were entertained by our alumni. We all enjoyed the delicious dinner and "John Loves Mary." On November 17th, we were hosts to our brothers, the Gamma Bets. It was nice to leave for our Thanksgiving vacation knowing that we had left behind us an overflowing basket for some happy family.

With Christmas spirit in the air, the Gamma Bets played Santa to the Phi Alphas. There were unusual decorations with which our sophomores adorned our clubroom, and we even had a fireplace. What matter if our Santa didn't quite fit?

We officially opened second semester with our formal sophomore banquet at Hoffman's, at which we installed our new officers, Sara Lee Larmore, president; Peggy Stacy, vice-president; Babs Jolley, secretary; Mary Will, treasurer; Marion Auld, chaplain; Susie Bruning, Sgt.-at-Arms; and Betty Lenz, alumni secretary.

In February we organized a basketball team of which we could be proud. It was a big order for them to live up to the championship which we had held for two years. March found us busy again with social life and a tea was given in honor of the freshman girls. One of the projects of the year which gave us more joy than anything else was our adopted baby sister from Europe. In the early spring we gladly abandoned our pursuit of higher knowledge for an afternoon with the "happy hobos." Our year ended with the final Senior Banquet.

Sigma Sigma Tau

Dear Alumnae,

A lot has happened since you left W. M. C. This last year has been a full one for the Sigmas. We know you will be glad to hear of the grand job done by our first semester officers. They were Jane Guttman, President; Ginny Blake, Vice-President; Rachel Ennis, Secretary; and Virginia Clayton, Treasurer.

When the fall bids were accepted, we found that thirteen was our lucky number, for that many new "Skunks" joined us. After their initiation, we all worked together on our Homecoming project.

One of the nicest events was the tea given by Mrs. Marshall for the new members. It was a wonderful opportunity for them to get to know our sponsor.

We were very successful in our big project for the year—selling college calendars for the benefit of CARE. Every Sigma did her part to help fulfill our motto: "A calendar in every room."

Our Yuletide party couldn't have been nicer. The clubroom was transformed by imaginative holiday decorations, and the evening was made complete by the arrival of a very padded Santa who brought a beautiful new electric clock for the clubroom, and a cute stuffed Sigma dog for each pledge.

Our brothers, the Black and Whites, climaxed the pre-holiday social activities by giving us a Christmas party complete with entertainment, refreshments, and presents for all.

After Christmas, we went to work on redecorating the clubroom, which now sparkles with its new paint job and slip-covers. It was at this time that we began work on our yearbook, "The Silver Lining."

Our second semester officers, Priscilla Lankford, President; Elayne Close, Vice-President; Norma Moore, Secretary; and Babs Payne, Treasurer, were elected just before mid-year bidding when seven girls took the pledge to "Scarlet and Silver."

In February, basketball occupied our time and thoughts as we cheered for our Sigma "athletes" in the Intersorority tournament.

Our annual alumnae picnic was replaced this year by a banquet given for us by our Baltimore Alumnae Group. It was one of the most pleasant of our Sigma activities.

After the Freshman tea came the Sigma "Circus" for our Rush Party, when we all "clowned around."

On May Day, we again welcomed friends and alumnae to our open house after the ceremonies. The final event was the Senior Banquet at which we bid farewell to ten members who have now joined your ranks as alumnae.

Alpha Gamma Tau

On an evening in late September, the dormant Bachelor Clubroom suddenly became a beehive of activity. Amidst the hubbub of a ping pong game, a television show, numerous card games, and the noisy conversation of our members, our new president, Joe Fowler, rapped his gavel for the formal beginning of another great Bachelor year.

The calling of the roll by our secretary, John Dorgan, found a total of 40 members returning. After an excellent Smoker, which showed that all the stars aren't in Hollywood, our number was augmented by twelve.

Our alumni and friends were greeted on Homecoming day by our Bachelor display, a huge replica of the front page of the day's football program.

To introduce the new Bachelors to our sisters, the Deltas, a precedent was broken when a Bachelor-Delt party was held in the clubroom.

With the mailing of the contract by our Corresponding Secretary, Bill Porter, an orchestra was engaged for what we consider the greatest dance of the year, the Bachelor-sponsored Christmas Dance. Through the plaudits and compliments of the student body and through the reading of the financial statement by our treasurer, Larry Bailey, we felt able to deem our dance a huge success.

With the blowing of the final whistle, a competitive and well-played football season came to an end. Under the leadership of our vice-president and team captain, John Silber, our team posted a fine record, finishing in second place.

With the tasty aroma of steaks as bait, a fine turnout was insured for the Bachelor's annual mid-semester banquet. The saying of grace by our chaplain, Dan Welliver, started the dinner, which was followed by election of officers for the ensuing semester. Taking up the leadership for the second semester are Joe Fowler, Alpha; Charlie Kidd, vice-Alpha; John Dorgan, Gamma; Larry Bailey, Tau; Joe Luperini, Sgt.-at-Arms; Dan Welliver, chaplain; and Malcolm Meltzer, corresponding secretary.

We continued our social season with more of those parties which had highlighted the first semester, with our final banquet in May.

Under the guidance of our friend and adviser, Prof. Frank B. Hurt, we consider the year 1949-1950 as the greatest in the history of our organization.

Delta Pi Alpha

When the Delta Pi Alpha Fraternity returned to the campus for the 1949-50 season, they were somewhat diminished in number but with the nucleus for a fine fraternal year. The club was fortunate in the continuance of Dr. Marshall as club adviser, since he has greatly helped the club and gained the respect and friendship of the members.

Delta Pi Alpha held open house for all students to view the World Series and other TV shows during the week. During the first semester, the fraternity was well led by Bryan Haddaway as President, with Jim Hackman, Bill Simpson, and Hank Corrado acting capably in the club's other offices.

Shortly after the open house period, the Club held a smoker for non-frat members and eligible students. After bids to prospective pledges had been sent out, fifteen members were added.

The Preachers were well represented in athletics, both interscholastic and intramural. Many of the Purple and Gold helped bring W. M. C. the 1949 Mason-Dixon Conference Championship. In soccer, the Preacher strength was felt, the club being especially honored when Alby Grimes was named as the All-American selection from the South.

In intramural sports, the Knights started the fall semester with the capture of the intramural football championship, seven Preachers being named to the League's All-Star team.

During the winter semester, Delta Pi gave many basketball players to the varsity and JV squads, but had enough talent remaining with the frat league to win the championship under the able tutelage of Al Paul.

With the end of the first semester, elections were held. Tony Konstant was elected Delta or President, with Bill Munroe, Bill Simpson, and Len Zawacki ably filling the other offices.

This year the annual Preacher dance was the Sweetheart Dance. The dance was a great social and financial success, for the first time in many years. Many innovations—a bubbling wishing-well, striking decorations, a balcony cafe—were featured. After the dance, there was a buffet supper at the clubroom for members and friends.

The Preachers are now leading the way with the organization of an alumni association, recently formed, which includes many of the recent graduates and promises to include the majority of present and future members within its ranks.

Gamma Beta Chi

The Gamma Beta Chi Fraternity can look back upon the school year with a feeling of satisfaction and achievement. We have forged ahead in all fields in an effort to improve the college life of every student, both fraternal and otherwise.

Under the leadership of President Gene Frank and Vice-President Dick Flavin, the club endeavored to further the aims of its members, socially, scholastically, and in the field of athletics. They were assisted in the administration of their duties by Secretary Harry Walker, Treasurer Ken Hoover, Chaplain Dan Honemann, and Sergeant-at-Arms Russ Mettee.

The first social event of importance was the pledging, and subsequent acceptance of twelve new members in November. Just before the Christmas holidays we played host to the Phi Alpha Mu sorority. Refreshments were served, and a short entertainment was given by our more talented brothers.

The Gamma Bets rang in 1950 with the successful "Winter Festival Dance," at which time the members chose Miss Patty Ray as the "Sweetheart of Gamma Beta Chi."

The second semester saw three of our members leave the Hill, but six new brothers were added to the roster at mid-term bidding. New officers were also chosen with Ed Ransford being elected President, and Al Bright, Vice-President. Russ Mettee took over the minutes as Secretary, while Ken Hoover remained as Treasurer. Ira Zepp was elected Chaplain and Gene Frank was made Sergeant-at-Arms.

Doctor Straughn continued as our adviser, and provided us with patient and capable guidance, for which we are heartily grateful.

The year 1950 also found the Gamma Bets turning out their first yearbook, dedicated to Western Maryland College in the spirit in which it was founded, and expressing the earnest desire that the ideals upon which this institution is based may live forever.

Pi Alpha Alpha

The school year 1949-50 has proven to be one of the best years for the Pi Alpha Fraternity. Fraternity life on our campus is inspired by three forces: scholastic achievement, intramural competition, and positive contribution to the college community. Scholastically, the Black and Whites have won the Frank Hurt trophy the four semesters preceding the 1949-50 year and have hopes of continuing these efforts. The teams fielded in intramural sports have shown to a good advantage this year. The contributions to the college community have been numerous, but the sponsorship of the Homecoming Dance was probably the most outstanding example.

Fraternity officers for the first semester this year included: Carroll Parker, Alpha; Bill Dulaney, Vice-Alpha; Cliff Pfaff, Beta; Charles Hammer, Vice-Beta; and Bill Huber, Sergeant at Arms. Second semester the club was headed by Charlie Shook as Alpha, Joe Culotta as Vice-Alpha; Robert Douglas as Beta, Richard Renz as Vice-Beta, and Howard Haines as Sergeant at Arms. The thankless job of treasurer or Gamma was held both semesters by Dick Dunlop who seemed never to forget that those dues weren't paid.

The year's activities were many and included both the fraternal group and the college group. The Black and White Homecoming Dance was one of the major successes of the year. In addition, the fraternity won a card table for the most worked on project, a gold statue of a football player erected for the Homecoming festivities. The next project undertaken by the fraternity was the purchase of some badly needed furniture. Bill Henry argued the pros and cons of modern television chairs and finally won. Then there were remarks about such a poor-looking clubroom having such beautiful furniture. After a long and rigorous struggle, Cliff Pfaff was chosen as our interior decorator. He and Don Bailey stood up under the accusations and threats of their brothers and with the aid of the interested club members completed the job. In the opinion of most members and visitors, we now have the best looking clubroom on the Hill. The club will probably never hear the end of the red door, but the green walls and the flowered drapes have had much praise. Twenty-two new pledges joined us during the past semester and their efforts have helped the fraternity considerably. The fraternity showed a late season spurt to come in third in the intramural touch football league. The basketball team wasn't the winningest team, but thanks to "Uncle Joe" Culotta was certainly the most cheered.

Another success this year was the Sigma-Black and White party. From all reports Wendell Young kept the young ladies and faculty in attendance well entertained.

It's now up to the new members of the club to keep up the good work begun by the graduating members.

FOOTBALL

September 1949 brought us back once more to W.M.C. We were not the first ones here, though, for the football team had been here three weeks getting rid of that "summer weight" and taking the kinks out of little used muscles in preparation for the best season the Terrors have had since 1935.

Coach Havens

Coach Havens, and advisory coach Harlow, had only 16 lettermen returning this season. Thus the big problem was finding material to bolster the "forward wall." Several newcomers such as Walt Hart, and ex-'47 Terror John Sgariglio, appeared and plugged up the gaps at end and guard.

One of the big factors in the Terror triumphs was the playing of Stan Fieldman at fullback and Sid Albrittain at end. More than once Stan drove through for much needed gains. Once more Joe Giannelli starred in this, his last year. Joe was State high scorer with 60 points.

The season opened with Dickinson College on September 24 at Carlisle, Pa. The Terrors exploded to the tune of 27-7. Mitch Tullai proved himself in this contest. Although this was his first varsity game, he showed the speed and deceptiveness of a polished veteran.

For the third straight year Gettysburg's Bullets were the ones that upset the Terror applecart, this time by a score of 21-0. The Bullets' passing attack was so superior the Terrors never had a chance. Ross Sachs, little All-American for 1949, was almost a one-man team, as his passes accounted for the scores. Lack of depth proved the undoing of the "Hillers".

Western Maryland College defeated the Johns Hopkins football team by a 35-to-7 score yesterday at Homewood. Already assured of the 1949 Mason-Dixon Conference grid championship, Western Maryland set out with no intention of backing into the title.

Lebanon Valley was the next opponent of the Green team. Way up in Lebanon, Pa., the Havensmen went to work and outran and outpassed Andy Kent's Flying Dutchmen. When the final whistle blew, the score read: Western Maryland, 39—Lebanon Valley, 7. Passes did the trick in this battle. Hank Corrado, Paul Tereshinski, and Mitch Tullai were especially outstanding in this game. It was noticeable that the Terrors' passing had so improved that it caught the Dutchmen completely off guard.

Next on the Green Terror list was hapless Washington College. With Tullai and Corrado pacing the running attack, intercepted passes were turned into touchdowns by the swift-thinking Havensmen. The final score was 39-6.

On October 22, Western Maryland continued its winning streak by completely subduing Mount Saint Mary's 32-0. This game was marked with several displays of bad sportsmanship on the part of both teams. When the dust had cleared, the Terrors had won. They registered 17 first downs, to the Mount's three.

October 29 ushered in another Homecoming weekend. Hampden-Sidney proved to be no match for the high-stepping Terrors, who were out to keep up the Western Maryland tradition of never having lost a Homecoming game. Giannelli, Corrado, and Al Paul were the standouts in this game. Joe scored three touchdowns, one on a spectacular 90-yard punt return. The final score was 25-6.

Franklin and Marshall, a new addition to the schedule, gave the "Hilltoppers" a mighty scare on November 12. F. and M. proved to be stubborn and resisting. The Terrors scored in the second and third periods on end runs. F. and M. came back in the final period to make the score 12-6. The Terrors were hurt by the loss of Bill Kern, who had been injured.

On November 19, we traveled to Home-wood to meet Johns Hopkins. Although we had already been assured of the Mason-Dixon Conference Championship, the Green and Gold was out to avenge last year's 7-6 loss to Hopkins. All season long the team had been pointing for this game. Coaches Havens and Harlow had prepared special plans for the occasion. It was rainy and cold, but nothing could stop the Terrors. They stopped cold Howdy Myers' highly touted Jackie Lay and Lloyd Bunting. As the final whistle blew, the score was Western Maryland-35; Hopkins-7. No one will forget Moon Paul's spectacular touchdown! It would be impossible to list the best players of this contest because the whole team played an outstanding game.

With the Hopkins game, the 1949 season came to an end. It had been a thrilling season—a wonderful football year.

BASKETBALL

In recent years, the basketball teams at Western Maryland have been prone to get off to a slow start, hit their stride in mid-season, and finish with a rush and a playoff berth. This year, the hoopsters, under the tutelage of Coach Bruce Ferguson, followed this general pattern but faded in the closing games, thereby closing out the season without qualifying for the conference playoffs. Throughout the season, this team played interesting, lively ball even in the role of loser.

In all three non-conference games that preceded the Christmas holiday, the Terrors were on the short end of the score. Lebanon Valley visited the home court and dumped the local boys in a close contest, 79-77. Art Press gave an exhibition of things to come by racking up 30 points. Within the following week, the Green team had bowed to Wagner by a 63-46 count, and to nearby Dickinson by 70-57.

Washington College was the first conference foe. The shoremen won a thriller, 57-56, as Press was held to eight points, his lowest score for any game. But Press and the entire Terror aggregation rebounded in their first conference game at home by surprising Catholic U. 76-70. Press was responsible for thirty points in this encounter.

At this point the roof appeared to have fallen in on the W.M.C. team. Seven straight losses, all to conference foes, seriously damaged the squad's hopes for a playoff position. A strong Loyola team started the deluge with an 81-59 victory. Baltimore U. met little opposition in its 60-43 win, but Mt. St. Mary's, though winning 51-49, won by a narrower margin. In spite of Press's impressive 26 points, the Eagles from A. U. blasted Western Maryland, 74-66. For three full quarters the Terrors threw a scare into the classy Greyhounds of Loyola before bowing 55-45. Catholic U. avenged their earlier loss with a 60-44 triumph. Western Maryland, far down in the conference standings, dropped its seventh straight to Towson, 73-60.

The Green Terror rosters, who had never abandoned their losing team, were then rewarded with four consecutive wins. In each of these tests, the opposition was unable to hold Press to less than 25 points. Every man played inspired ball, and the revitalized team looked unbeatable.

Johns Hopkins, later destined to crush our hopes, was the first victim. The Blue Jays were trounced, 65-36. Next on the list was Washington College, which lost by a 60-46 score. Hampden-Sidney was much more stubborn before admitting defeat. A last-second field goal by Makowski brought screams of triumph from the excited home fans as the Terrors won, 53-52. The rejuvenated Western Marylanders continued to surprise everyone. Baltimore U.'s Bees were next on the schedule. They went down, 60-50.

American U., later to go on to win the Mason-Dixon crown from Loyola, snapped the Terror winning streak with an easy 85-57 win. W.M.C. now needed a victory to remain in the running for a playoff berth. Johns Hopkins, surprise winner over heavily-favored Loyola, stood in the way of our hopes. Many students journeyed down to Homewood to be on hand for this crucial test. The Jays won an important game, 69-66. Eliminated for the conference playoffs, the Terrors dropped their last two games.

Outstanding, not alone here at W. M. C., but in the whole Mason-Dixon conference, was the sparkling play of Art Press. His 21.4 scoring average was second highest in the fifteen team conference. In twenty-one games, he amassed a total of 451 points. Press, along with Phipps, Hart, Hammaker, and Makowski, will return as a nucleus for next year's squad. Leo Lathroum, a standout player in many sports, scored 202 points for a game average of 10.6. Next year's team will miss his services, as well as those of Hadjuk and Hale.

First row: D. MacLea, R. Dix, H. LeFew, T. Samakouris, W. Campbell, A. Albert. Second row: Mgr. J. Sgariglio, E. Barber, J. Seiland, J. Luby, J. Corleto, D. Denny, Mgr. T. Bobilin, Advisor Harlow.

BOXING

This year the Western Maryland boxing team was advised by Dick Harlow, who is developing talent for future ring teams on the Hill. The team was managed by Ted Bobilin and captained by John Seiland.

In four meets during the season, the Terror mittmen emerged victors only in their encounter with American U. This was an especially sweet victory for the boxers because it was their lone home match. Impressive decisions by LeFew, Seiland, and Corleto, a stunning K.O. by Solomon, and a forfeit to Shannon made the final count  $5\frac{1}{2}$ - $2\frac{1}{2}$  over the Eagles.

Throughout the season the team was considerably weakened by the absence of fighters in the two lightweight classes. After copping the first two weights on forfeits, a strong Army squad went on to win  $7\frac{1}{2}$  in the opening test of the season. LeFew was able to carry off the draw that averted a shut-out. Though losing, Solomon fought well against the Cadets' defending light heavyweight champ.

The next match saw Penn State race through seven straight bouts successfully until Joe Corleto, in perhaps the best fight of the season, earned a clean decision over the defending E.I.B.A. heavyweight champ.

A second meeting with American U. was cancelled when the Eagles gave up boxing for the season. Forfeits hurt again in the Catholic U. test, last of the year before the E. I. B. A. tournament. LeFew was shifted to 155, necessitating a loss of the first three weights without a punch being thrown. Corleto walked off with an easy decision, but the Cardinals won 7-1.

In mid-March, the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing Association Tournament was held at Syracuse. The Green Terrors were represented by LeFew, Samakouris, Denny, and Corleto, none of whom were successful in their bids for titles. Denny surprised most observers with his savage resistance to Army's Pete Monfore, who eventually won the 175-pound class diadem. Corleto was jinxed again by the Nittany Lions' Chuck Drazonovich, who made a successful defense of his title.

SOCCKER

Western Maryland's varsity soccer team average showed a slight increase over the previous year's. The Terrors broke fast from the post as they edged the Navy JayVee 2-1 in an overtime contest. After Drexel whipped the Green 4-1, Delaware took a 1-0 decision on a penalty shot in the last quarter. In the Baltimore U. game, the Terrors scored quickly, but the future Conference champs inflicted a 4-1 defeat. With a one-point lead, our team held Bucknell scoreless for some seventy minutes. Then the Bisons found the range and poured three into the nets before the final whistle.

Strong defensive play by Towson Teachers subdued the Green line as the former won a hotly-contested game 2-1. Breaking out of their four-game losing streak, the Terrors squeezed past Gettysburg in another overtime 1-0, as Jim Culhane rammed a rebound of George Winfrey's shot back into the cage. As the last opponent of the season, arch-rival Hopkins paid a visit to the Hill. Although the first half was scoreless, the third quarter was quite different. In less than six minutes the home team scored three times and Hopkins hit for one. The Jays tallied again late in the quarter but this ended their threat. The last quarter saw Kettells and Winfrey each getting their second goal of the game and these pushed the final count to a lopsided 5-2. Kettells totaled seven goals for the season while Winfrey got five.

Coach Phil Uhrig, in his first year at WMC, is to be commended for keeping the team driving hard at all times. Post-season honors went to Al Grimes who was a candidate for All-American from the South; George Winfrey, who took Middle Atlantic laurels; and co-captains Jim Hackman and Homer Earll who again repeated on the All-Maryland outfit.

WRESTLING

Despite the apparently poor performance as far as the record of Western Maryland's mat team is concerned, the team showed marked improvement as the year progressed. Of the eight men, led by Captain John Silber, only three were lettermen. Bill Kern, unlimited class, was unable to participate because of an injured shoulder. This was a big blow to the team's morale and to the chance of a Mason-Dixon crown. However, he willingly gave his time to coach the aspirants, and did a fine job of producing some fine material for the future.

After dropping the first match to Gallaudet 32½-7½, the Terrors came back to defeat Baltimore U. by an 18-16 score. After an 18-18 draw with Loyola, the team met keen competition and dropped the next three matches to Towson, Bucknell, and Georgetown, the last two being out-of-conference matches. The Green team also lost to Catholic U. in the last meet of the season.

Of the ten keymen on this year's squad, only three graduate before next year's "grunt and groan" season rolls around. Those graduating are coach and Mason-Dixon heavyweight champion Bill Kern, 175 pounder John Silber, and manager Ray Dow. Bob Wilsey, now a veteran of three Green and Gold mat campaigns, will be back next year to form the nucleus of the '50-51 wrestling team. Also back next year will be Don McShane, 121 pounder; Frank Wilsey, 136 pounder; Bill Bartgis, who turned in several fine performances at 145 pounds; Marvin Siegel in the 155 pound class; Jack Rall, 165 pound strong boy; and heavyweight Mike Chirigios, who plans to work down to 175 pounds for next season. The proof of this year's squad will be in the victories of the mat team in the next two years.

BASEBALL

The Western Maryland varsity baseball team began practicing for the 1950 campaign early in January when assistant coach Julie Dyke called out the batterymen for a ten-day warmup. Dyke was impressed with the showing made at that time, even though Leo Lathroum was the only returning veteran.

There has been a marked increase in baseball interest this year, and this is evidenced by the fact that over fifty candidates turned out when practice began in earnest on March 3. They were led by a solid nucleus of experienced men, including Bob Douglass, John Spencer, Al Dodd, Kenny Shook, and Art Press. Kenny Munroe, 1949 pitching mainstay, had signed a St. Louis Cardinal contract and went South for his spring training.

Dyke emphasized baserunning and bunting during daily drills and expects to turn out a hustling aggregation capable of winning its share of games. One of the fastest members on the squad is Joe Giannelli. After starring for four seasons on the gridiron, Giannelli has turned his attention to the diamond, and will play centerfield for the Terrors. Another football-turned-baseball player is Stan Fieldman, but spring football practice may hinder his diamond career.

The extensive twenty-game schedule includes several long trips, but things are confused somewhat by the coaching situation. Jim Boyer is the official coach, but will only be able to lead the squad for two weeks, after which he must return to his duties as American League umpire. For the remainder of the time, Julie Dyke will be head man.

LACROSSE

Although the lacrosse team started off the season with an 11-1 loss to Williams College, Coach Edward Sparrow is optimistic about the outlook for the rest of the season. So far, the stickmen have had little opportunity to practice. When the players have had more chance to go through their paces, there should develop a smooth-running team. In spite of the stiff competition that they will meet, the team has a good chance of a good season.

No definite assignments have been made as yet, but Tony Byron, Bill Rhoads, and Joe Corleto will probably be the defense, while Dan Honemann, Hugh Council, and Ed Klohr act as the mainstays of the midfield positions. Heading the attack department will be such players as Norm Needle, Vince Landau, and Bob Ebert. The goal position will be filled by Bill Dvorine and Harry LeFew.

Coach Sparrow has been fortunate in having an adequate supply of reserves upon which to draw. In the defense reserve, we find Walt Hajduk, Ed Crawford, and Bob Earhart. Jerry Ginsberg, Dick MacLeod, and Art Shanklin will be on hand to fill the midfield position, and ready to lead the attack are Paul Thronberg, Hal Wagenblast, and Bill Bartgis.

son. Although lettermen Bobby Talner and Phil Sack are the only returning veterans, Coach Hurt has a fine team which can be counted on for a winning season. Besides Talner and Sack, the Hurtmen are Ned Brown, a transfer from Swarthmore, Dick Diener, George Tsouprake, who is proving to be as efficient on the court as on the gridiron, George Winfrey, Art Saltmarsh, Pat Huddle, Jay Lockman, and Blackie Brandt. Coach Hurt is also well-pleased by the managerial ability of Manager Doug Paulsen.

There is a sixteen-match schedule lined up for the season, most of the matches with opponents in the Mason-Dixon Conference. However, the team will also probably play Colgate and the University of Maryland. One of the biggest battles will be the match with Loyola, who won the championship last year.

Coach Hurt has consistently turned out winning teams. Last year, we had a 13 won-4 lost record. Since the war, our Hurtmen have a 39 won-13 lost record. With the fine squad this year, the prospects for a successful season are excellent.

GOLF

This year Western Maryland's golf team will be coached by Dr. Milton Huber. Although the team has only one returning letterman—Al Bright—Coach Huber is optimistic about the team's chances. He has some good material in men like Joe Kovalevski, Ray Cushing, Paul Welliver, Dave Heiberg, and Hillyard Hayzlitt.

There is a full schedule lined up for this year's team. On April 13, the golfers travel to Lehigh to open the season. Sixteen matches are scheduled, of which eight will be played on the course here at Western Maryland. In the course of the season, the team will compete with such teams as Gettysburg, University of Maryland, George Washington, Dickinson, Loyola, Johns Hopkins, and Baltimore University. Although the weather has interfered with practice, the team can be counted on to offer some stiff competition to our opponents.

On May 20, Western Maryland will again be host at the popular Western Maryland Invitation Tournament. Although nothing definite can be predicted at this point, our chances of winning the Tournament seem to be good.

RIFLE

The 1950 rifle team, the tenth under the able coaching of Sergeant Puryear, completed one of its most extensive seasons with ten shoulder to shoulder and five postal matches fired in competition against six other teams in the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Rifle League. The rest of the matches were non-league shoots with colleges and organizations within travelling distance of Westminster.

The Green team's overall record was six wins and nine losses. Considering the size and prominence of opponents such as Navy, Maryland, and other powers in the small-bore rifle competition, this has not been a season without merit. Although firing a higher score than last year in the Second Army Intercollegiate Rifle Matches, the riflemen dropped from fourth to eleventh place, but still placed in the National Intercollegiate.

The Gold, Silver, and Bronze Medals given for the three high men, the PMS and T Medal for the most outstanding man, and the Sergeants' Medal for the most promising freshman were awarded to Bill Rhoads, Ralph Gorten, Charles Kidd, Dave Patten, and John Twiddy, respectively.

With the graduation of two four-year men, Captain Kidd and Manager Patten, Coach Puryear looks forward to the potentialities of juniors Buffington, Rhoads, Gorten, and Schatzberg, backed up by a promising squad of sophomores and freshmen.

Twiddy, Kidd and Buffington prepare for firing line.

CHEERLEADERS

On the football field and on the basketball court, our cheerleaders are always on hand to lead us in enthusiastic cheers, songs, and applause. Their unique stunts and tricky yells have added to the colorful sports events. The pep rallies were enlivened this year by their entertaining antics and their ingenious innovations. With their contagious enthusiasm, they have increased the school spirit of the student body.

MAJORETTES

With a flash of twirling batons, our high-stepping drum majorettes lead the band onto Holla Field and create a colorful background for our football games. Last year's majorette, Miss Peggy Sisler, has been joined by Miss Ina Grice and Miss Joan Brengle. In their snappy green and gold uniforms, they make a pert and pretty threesome at halftime when they perform for us and for our visitors.

A liberal arts education affords a well-rounded background and aids in the development of such character traits as leadership and sportsmanship. The college curriculum has been planned with these things in mind, but they have been most obviously stressed in the courses offered by the physical education departments. Western Maryland College has been careful to provide a complete program for all women students in this field.

Two years of physical education are required of every girl. These courses include instruction and practice in both team and individual sports. Thus the novice is introduced to the activity and given an opportunity to develop her skill, while the more advanced player strives to improve her proficiency. For the student interested in further study in the field, extensive courses are available. A major and minor are offered, with special emphasis on the teaching of physical education.

This program is further supplemented by intramural activities in which all women are urged to participate. Hockey, basketball, volleyball, and softball are featured as team sports, while badminton, archery, golf, and tennis are stressed as individual activities.

Following several weeks of practice sessions, class teams are chosen, and a round-robin tournament is played to determine the champions of each division. Based upon attendance at practices, skill, and quality of sportsmanship, an honorary team is elected at the close of each sports season by the executive board of the Women's Athletic Association.

Although the intramural program is primarily emphasized, there is a limited amount of inter-collegiate competition. Games with near-by colleges are arranged by invitation and are restricted to two or three contests per season after the completion of the intramural tournaments. Varsity teams are not featured, but instead squads are chosen by the staff of the physical education department for each game.

The varsity and intramural activities are largely under the direction of the Women's Athletic Association. This organization, under the guidance of Miss Parker and Miss Todd, is open for membership to all women students. The executive board, consisting of a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, the managers of the various sports, and a freshman representative is the ruling body of the Association. Board members may be recognized by a felt college seal, given to them at the beginning of their term of office.

During the past year several projects were undertaken by the WAA Board. Under the very capable direction of its president, Ruth Allen, a new system of points and awards was adopted. For faithfulness to any point-giving activity during one season, a class numeral is awarded. The next award, at 400 points, is the WM monogram. A gold chenille "M" is the award for amassing 800 points, and a star is the 1200 point honor. Points may be earned for active participation in any intramural sport. The responsibility for recording the points acquired by each girl is shared by the sports managers and the Board vice-president. The highest award is in the form of a key and is awarded at the discretion of the faculty of the physical education department. This honor is given when, in the opinion of a committee consisting of the faculty and two Board members, a senior woman is particularly outstanding in athletic accomplishments.

In view of the new award system, a revision of the WAA constitution was also undertaken. Plans were made to publish it in combination with a handbook on men's athletics.

Intramural Awards

Together with these changes came the installation of a "Coke" machine in Blanche Ward Hall. The responsibility for this project, sponsored by the WAA, was shouldered by Peggy Brown, the treasurer.

The customary activities of the WAA were begun early in the fall with the election of an honorary hockey team and the arranging of outside games. A schedule was set up as a result of correspondence which was handled by Betty Linton, WAA Secretary. For Homecoming, the Association set up a display between the chapel and Alumni Hall depicting a "Grand Slam" against Hampden-Sidney. In January the yearly hockey party was held in Blanche Ward gym for the purpose of introducing the freshman girls to the athletic system. Class numerals were given to those freshmen who played intramural hockey, and letters presented to upperclassmen. At an open meeting held in the spring, the Board presented a program built around the opportunities and the qualifications needed for summer employment as a recreational counselor. With the big annual awards party at Harvey Stone Park, featuring the installation of the new Board, presentation of awards, entertainment, and refreshments, the year's activities were brought to a close.

With the first chill winds which blew across the campus, the hockey season opened to the prospects of a wide open race for the intramural championship. Last year's seniors had been undefeated during their four years here on the Hill, and this was the opportunity for which the underclassmen had been waiting. After several weeks of practice, it was plan that the freshmen would do their part in the struggle for the title. However, the Juniors forged ahead early in the race by defeating the sophomores and freshmen, only to lose to the seniors. The senior team followed this up, somewhat contrarily to expectations, with a loss to the freshmen and a tie with the sophomores. The results were that the Juniors took the title by a narrow margin, with the seniors and sophomores close behind them in a tie for second place, the sophomores having defeated the freshmen.

In the only inter-collegiate contest of the season, the Western Maryland team met Towson State Teachers College on the latter's field. The first game resulted in a scoreless tie. The Lady Terrors, sparked by the outstanding defensive work of their goalie, Charlotte Janney, were able to thwart the hard-driving Towson team, but were unable to score themselves. Western Maryland's second team did not fare so well and suffered a 2-0 loss to the home team.

With the election of an honorary hockey team, the season came to an end. The women honored in this manner were as follows: Offensive: Peg Brown, Elsie Davis, Rachel Early, June Graf, Virginia Hale, Sara Lee Larmore, and Betty Lenz; and Defensive: Ruth Allen, Bobbie Davidson, Charlotte

Almost simultaneously with the final clashing of hockey sticks came the swish of shuttlecocks and badminton raquets. The gym was opened to those enthusiasts who wished to get in some pre-tournament practice. Following this an elimination tournament was held to determine class winners. Nell Hughes took the freshman class honors, defeating Marge

Rice, the second division winner. Corinne Schofield, sophomore, Marian Benton, junior, and Virginia Clayton, senior, complete the list of class champions.

The only interscholastic activity in this sport was against Towson State Teachers College. Four doubles and two singles matches were featured, as a result of which Western Maryland suffered a 1-5 loss.

As soon as Christmas vacation had ended, Blanche Ward gym was the scene of much activity. Basketball practices were different this year with certain girls signing up each afternoon. Following this procedure, the girls were able to practice more and waste less time. The intramural program lasted the entire season, since there were nine teams selected from the Freshmen class. The season ended with the Freshmen team in first place. On this team were: Barbara Davidson, Beverly Hunt, Sara Ann Wilson, Rebecca LeFew, Dixie Davis, and Lois Ohler.

After an exciting intramural season, the honorary varsity and junior varsity teams played host to Towson State Teachers College teams. Under the able coaching of Miss Parker, the JV's won a close game, 30-28. The varsity team lost that evening by a score of 28-20. Several days later the teams defeated the girls from Mt. St. Joseph's College by scores of 28-22 and 28-20. The last game, scheduled to be played at Hood College, was cancelled.

Phyl Smith serves as Char Janney awaits return.

Archers Winkelman and Allen try their skill.

The basketball season came to a close as eight girls in the coaching class tried for their ratings as referees. Marion Auld, June Graf, Betty Lenz, and Betty Shepter received national ratings while Ruth Allen, Bertha Britner, Dolly Dalgeish, and Charlotte Janney received local ratings. These girls did a fine job for which they deserve much credit.

The 1950 honorary basketball team as selected by the WAA Board is comprised of Ruth Allen, Betty Lenz, and Beverly Hunt as forwards; June Graf and Jean Hoyt as alternates; Peggy Brown, Jane Babylon, and Rebecca LeFew as guards; Alice Yearley and Lois Ohler as alternates. These girls were selected on the basis of friendliness, sportsmanship, and good spirit of play.

A brief season of a week's practice constituted the volleyball for this year. The girls had been enthusiastic, but the tournament was discontinued because of the virus epidemic on campus.

Along with other spring sports, tennis became popular with many energetic students on the Hill. Each day the courts were crowded with tennis fans who began to play as soon as the first signs of spring appeared.

This year the courts were improved somewhat so as to try to create more enthusiasm among the participants. At the close of the season, an intramural tennis tournament will be held to determine the champion of the school among the girls. Phyllis Smith and Charlotte Janney have spent quite a bit of time on the courts and will prove to give anybody a rough game.

Nancy Winkelman, Ruth Allen, and June Graf, archery enthusiasts, will set the pace again this year when aiming their arrows for the gold bull's eye. These girls have in past years shown their interest in the sport and have participated in many Columbia rounds, which consists of shooting from fifty, forty, and thirty yards. At each yardage four ends are completed, each archer having shot six arrows. If a total score of 250 is obtained, the scorer receives 100 points. Practice for the girls will begin early during the fifth period and after classes. Many new archery fans are expected this year, as great interest has been apparent in the gym classes.

The golf season was initiated by the professional golf instructor, Bob Diffendal, from Hagerstown, Maryland. He lectured, demonstrated, and drilled interested golf novices for six two-hour lessons. After instruction in gym class and from Mr. Diffendal, the "lady golfers" filled the fairway. Betty Shepter, Ruth Allen, Sara Lee Larmore, and Martha Schaeffer, the most experienced players among the girls, struggled endlessly to achieve par. Earnest efforts, sunny days, and endurance kept the green filled from spring vacation until time for graduation. Interest and participation in golf is increasing each year.

When spring came, the girls carried the balls, bats, and gloves over the Hill to the diamond, and with many strike-outs, softball was started. Progress was accomplished, but with Lenz pitching, there were still quite a few strikeouts. As softball is the main spring sport for the Western Maryland coeds, it is expected that there will be a much larger number of players for this game than for the other spring sports. From each class, there will be many who go out for softball. The seniors have many of their old staff back. One of their strongest assets is Betty Day, who will be knocking in homeruns and keeping a watchful eye on second. The juniors lack many of their outstanding players this year, but from practice show that stiff competition will be offered to the other teams. The sophomores and freshmen are each hopeful of upsetting the upperclassmen and winning the intramural championship. There will be plenty of stiff competition and spirited play during the softball season regardless of other activities.

Things We'll Remember

After we graduate, there will be many times when we'll turn to a friend and say "Remember that time when . . . ?" Can you remember how impressed you were at Ensor's inauguration? Or how you applauded "Down in the Valley"? And how about the French Club's "Barber of Seville"? These are a few of the highlights that Seniors will remember from their four years on the Hill. Although each of us has his own memory list, there are some things remembered by all about our college life. Bull sessions in the dorm . . . coffee in the grille . . . afternoons in the lab . . . night work in the library . . . pep rallies . . . the dining hall rush . . . Uncle Joe and the band performing at basketball games . . . freshman week antics . . . There are so many things we'll remember!

Since 1890— A Maryland Tradition

Maryland's heritage is one of fine homes, gracious living, and generations of great citizens, many of whom have and are contributing materially to the growth and welfare of the nation.

Since 1890, it has been our proud and happy privilege to be accepted into the finest of Maryland homes. This acceptance has grown with the State and with the generations we have helped nurture into gracious womanhood and stalwart manhood.
