WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS AT WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND

CHARLES W. HAVENS

Dedication

It is with great pride that we, the senior class, dedicate the 1952 ALOHA to Charles W. Havens. The success of the 1952 football team can be attributed to his outstanding ability as a coach. As captain of the undefeated team of 1929 and coach of this year's undefeated eleven, Charlie Havens has attained immortality in Western Maryland athletics.

But there is more to successful coaching than producing a winning team. There is the tremendous task of building a working unit from all types of individuals. A coach must have keen perspective, a sense of humor and the ability to judge men. Coach Havens is richly endowed with all of these characteristics.

Aside from forging winning teams Charlie Havens is a builder of men. He instills in every member of his squad a sense of fair play, responsibility, loyalty, and courage—time honored traits of Western Maryland athletics. The very spirit which makes Western Maryland College a little apart from other institutions seems to be imbedded within him. To those with whom he has daily contact this spirit is transmitted.

Football at Western Maryland remains to be football as it must be played—rough, hard, clean and honest. It is the kind of football with all the values that makes the game so truly a great American sport.

To Charlie Havens, coach, adviser and friend, we wish the best in the game. May the succeeding campaign be as successful as the one this year. But above all, may Western Maryland teams continue to perform in the ways which they are taught—not whether we have won or lost but how we played the game.

Tradition

LANTERN CHAIN

There are many things which shall become a part of our college memories . . . the dances, the grille, Margaret and Earles, and maybe even a few classes. These are things we take for granted and don't miss until we do not have them anymore. But most of all, we will remember the traditions that help to make Western Maryland what it is. As seniors there is one such tradition that is a little closer than the others. We have participated in lantern chain every year. Every year we have sung the class song, and felt that our day was a long way off. We went through the stages—"verdant freshman", "gay young sophomores" and "Jolly Juniors". Then the time came. We were the "grand old seniors" being ushered out into the "cold, cold world". Somebody's lantern did burn up, and we remembered. Somebody sang a little off key, and we remembered again. As we filed back to the Blanche Ward steps, we took our places and were grateful for tradition. "We are here to honor you . . ."

"—Echoes softly from each heart—"

Molten Lava—?

It didn't take long to get to be seniors. That was the first thing that all of us felt when we came back to the Hill. The first three years had gone by somehow, and here we were ready to go into the final year at W.M.C. This time it would be a little different . . . this time we were the leaders, we were the ones that would carry the ball. Sororities and fraternities meant something that they hadn't meant before, and when bidding came in the fall, we were more serious than we had been before, because we knew that we were filling our places . . . next year we wouldn't be around.

So it was with all of the activities we engaged in . . . a little more serious, but always ready for a good time because we knew those were the times we would remember. The dances, the parties, the Saturday night date (if you were lucky), and even classes were met with a new interest. None of us will forget the good times we have had together . . . the plays, bridge in the Grille, and the crabs that didn't last long enough at the senior picnic. We learned to work, and we learned to play together.

We will cherish our years at W.M.C. In spite of the fun and gayety that is part of college life, we did our share of griping and remembering the "good old days" of the roaring '40's. But, in spite of it all, it wasn't long until we donned the caps and gowns and became graduates of Western Maryland. We were glad it was all over, glad to take our niche in the "cold cold world", but we were a little hesitant to let it all go. Many of us have thought about college, thought about just what we managed to accomplish in four years. There were many answers, as many answers as there were graduates, but we could all agree on one thing. In the four years of study and companions on the Hill, we've learned how to think . . . to think for ourselves. We leave this great heritage to those who will follow in our footsteps. It doesn't seem possible that those to follow will have as much fun as we did, or as much work, but we are confident that Western Maryland will be an Alma Mater to be proud of. We feel too, beyond any doubt, that Western Maryland College will be proud of the Class of '52.

We, the Class of 1953, look in retrospect on three memorable years as we assume our roles as Seniors.

As Freshmen we soon became oriented to college life, and we took time out from scholastic work to be active participants in extra-curricular activities. One of our first accomplishments was winning the Freshmen-Sophomore tug-of-war at Homecoming. Second semester we elected officers and became better integrated as a class under our own leaders.

As Sophomores we worked and played even more enthusiastically—some of us entered fraternity and sorority life, all of us cooperated in surpassing our goal for the Mid-Century Campaign, and as individuals we began to assume more leadership in extra-curricular activities. At the end of the year, it was difficult to realize that we had completed one-half of our college career.

As Juniors we captured second prize for our Homecoming float and then spent long hours preparing for the Junior-Senior Prom and our Follies. We were proud of our many outstanding representatives on the athletic field and in all of the other activities. Classes, assignments, and examinations were given special attention as we were beginning to think in terms of the future. We elected the editors for the 1953 Aloha, and the presidents of SGA and SCA were chosen from among our classmates. As graduation drew nearer, we realized that the extra responsibilities of the Junior year were preparing us to be Seniors.

"The sophomore year is always the worst" . . . unquote the upper classmen. We weren't quite sure what they meant at the beginning of the year, and we're still not sure. We started the year with the attitude that we were no longer freshmen . . . a whole year had gone by since those green days. This time we issued the orders instead of taking them. We even won the Tug O' War, and were kind hearted enough to banish the Freshman Rules.

With the bidding of fraternities and sororities we found ourselves plunged into new activities. After the initiations (they weren't as bad as They said they'd be) were over we joined whole heartedly into campus life. We were beginning to take on new responsibilities and we liked the feeling. In order to keep up the fine reputation set by the upper classmen, we started early on our Junior Follies, and made many plans for the junior year.

Our freshman haze behind us, we also realized the importance of books and seriously settled down to good, hard work and discovered that it wasn't so bad after all. It gave us added courage to see our class members participate in athletics and activities otherwise neglected in our freshman year. We really felt that the college would fold up if we were not in our designated positions . . . in other words we were a part of college life, and we accepted this position gravely.

The traditional sophomore slump is behind us . . . although we didn't do much slumping, and we're ready and raring to go on to the Junior Class with doubled enthusiasm. Did we hear someone say that the Junior Year is the worst of all? With our capable leadership, we feel certain that we will come out on top.

This is just the beginning! Three important years are still to come. In this year, we are the youngsters, the object of all ridicule, the brunt of all criticisms. We have suffered a little and laughed a lot. Orientation, assemblies, schedules, mixers, football games and classes worried us a little in the first weeks of school. With some of our timidity gone, we plunged into activities with eagerness. We soon learned not to eat dinner in the dining hall on Friday nights, not to tell anyone we had food from home, how to study for three tests in one night, and how to sleep unnoticed through lectures.

Upper classmen gave us a gloomy picture of the days ahead and pointed out all the pit-falls of following the schedules which were suggested by our advisors. "Wait," they said, "until the frog-dissecting labs on warm May afternoons; imagine doing collateral with tennic racket in hand; wait until after orientation week when you're weaned from the handbook and placed on your own feet." Still we scrambled eagerly for our first classes, all of which seemed scheduled for the early hour of eight o'clock in the morning. This enthusiasm we carried with us on the football field to cheer our undefeated team to victory. In fact, the large cover-all signs which brushed our chins and heels could not dampen our spirits.

This very over-flow of spirit, however, was a special problem in itself. In the girls' dormitory where freshman study hours were strictly enforced, the loudest revolt was evidenced. The house-mothers complained about the scatterbrains who forgot, lost or simply refused to use a key. The older men students with grim faces fled to the library to escape from the constant turmoil of the newcomers. Yes, our problems of adjustment to campus life had just begun.

President's Message

To the Class of 1952:

Greetings! You are graduating with the best your Alma Mater has had to offer. You have been exposed to a good academic training, wise counselling, and a college atmosphere which has attempted to exalt the real and enduring values by which men live. Just how much of this has become a part of you cannot be measured by a graduation average or a rank in class—rather it will be measured principally by what you are and, in part, by what you do from now on. Western Maryland is proud of the Class of 1952 and may she have every reason for that pride to increase as the years go by. You have my best wishes both officially and personally. May God bless you in your various fields of endeavor.

A POCKETFUL OF PROFS

MacDonald's lectures are really neat,
But his darkened classroom lulls us to sleep.
Miss Smith is sure we'll have a play,
But she's not sure what, till it's under way.
Says Shipley, "I do like that tree.
There's only one thing that bothers me."
While Bailey has the magic twirl
For scenery that's "simply out of this world!"
"Where did I file that paper?"
"What's wrong with this machine?"
These sad laments are uttered
Wherever Smith is seen.
While over our young teachers

Rules the mighty Bailer Bey;
"Hand in your cahds," is all our Yankee from the North will say.
"Buenos dias," is the way you'll be greeted by Doc I.
"Please pay those dues," is Doc Benny's only cry.
And if you've heard our Southern scientist sing,
"Good-bye, gill slits" will have a familiar ring!
Hendren sings us ballads gay;
Howery shoos our boys away.
Marshall's like to tread a stage;
For Wenner, Shakespeare's all the rage.

Homecoming Activities

Snow, snow and more snow
—Homecoming morning—

Most of us had spent the night working on displays. Sorority rooms reeked with paint, and we had to get up early to clean up. Alarms sounded earlier than usual. Going through the usual morning ritual but a little more tired, and a little more excited—then there came that first scream . . . "SNOW". Somebody is cracking up, somebody has been up all night and has forgotten that sunshine could be white. So you fumble for the curtain . . . it does look like snow . . . it is snow. You wake up your roommate, run to the next door neighbor and shake her. "Hey, its snowing". "You're crazy, go back to bed." Then everybody was convinced. Leave it to the class of '52. But the snow helped us make up our minds that this was going to be the best Homecoming day old W.M.C. had ever seen. We started out with plenty of heart, and a little bit of snow wasn't going to dampen our spirits. And it was tremendous . . . the day, the game . . . and the dance. '52 came through with flying colors.

Paint ran and the snow was multicolored—but the show went on.

FOOTBALL

For most of us here at W.M.C., Labor Day, 1951, was just another holiday, another vacation day, or a day off from work to relax. Not so with our Green Terror football-minded men. To them Labor Day meant the beginning of a long, tough grind—one to last up through November. Little did they suspect on that September day, that on November 17th they would complete a season undefeated, untied, and Mason-Dixon Champs.

Let's start at the beginning. After working off summer fat and limbering up little used muscles the Green team prepared to meet their traditional rival and jinx, Gettysburg. But this year Coach Charlie Havens and his staff had an experienced team who knew football, and played it hard. In the starting "forward wall" (and it was a wall) were such stalwarts as Walt Hart, Otts Shearer, Vic Makovitch, Jim Marsh, Bruce Rudisill, Ira Zepp, plus a freshman newcomer at the center position, "Big Jack" Duhl. Present for backfield duties were Tullai, McFague, Renaldi, Henderson, Rentko, and Stevenson. This nucleus of the team, along with many good substitutes, who often made their presence felt, were ready to meet any foe, and G-burg was the first.

On September 29th, the team and followers traveled to the historic city to meet the foe that in the past years seems to have held a jinx over W.M.C. But when the first half ended W.M.C. led by a 6-0 score via a pass from Henderson to Zepp. In the second half, G-burg tied up the score at 6-6. After a Henderson pass, a 22 yard run by Tullai, and a nice catch by Hart on the two yard line, McFague powered his way into the pay dirt with the second T.D. The game ended with W.M.C. victorious 13-6.

Walt Hart, captain

After this hard fought, well deserved victory, the win over Randolph-Macon's Yellow Jackets was comparatively easy. The Jackets scored first on an intercepted Henderson pass but it was a short lived lead as Tullai scored twice. Henderson, Needleman, Hart, Jones, and Stevenson each aided the cause. As the gun sounded the scoreboard read W.M.C. 46—R.M. 7. Two down, six to go.

Franklin-Marshall was next on the list and they loomed as a possible obstacle to our win streak. The first half was one of fumbles, uncapitalized on breaks, and a punting duel between Zepp and the Diplomats' Bob Werst. In the third quarter W.M.

drew blood. A fumbled punt fallen on by Joe Renaldi offered us a break which we could not quite turn into a T.D. But not long after, a beautiful Henderson pass to Zepp did the trick and with Makovitch's extra point tagged on, the score read 7-0, with W.M. on the long end. Only minutes later, Henderson unleashed two aerials to Walt Hart for two first downs, and on the next play, Tullai took the ball on a reverse and fancy danced a 17 yard run along the sideline to score standing up. The conversion was wide but the margin held was enough to outpoint the Lancaster team 13-7. Three down, Dickinson coming up.

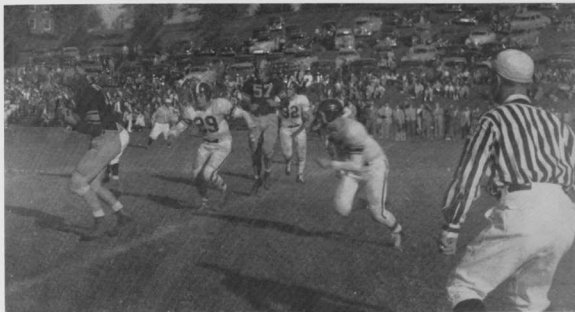

At Carlisle, W.M. took command of the Mason-Dixon race by raking Dickinson over the coals to the tune of 33-12. Tullai scored the first six-pointer and Makovitch converted for an early 7-0 lead. Then, in the second period Tullai lugged the leather for 60 yards for his second score of the day. Again Makovitch, again a nice placement, and it was 14-0. Dickinson was never really in the game. Two T.D.'s by McFague, Henderson passing, another Makovitch conversion and beautiful offensive work by Captain End Walt Hart accounted for 3 more six-pointers. The score at the final gun read W.M. 33 and 12 for Dickinson. Four down, four to go, halfway home.

Hampden-Sydney was the next foe. They were not only out to spoil W.M.'s winning ways but it was their homecoming and a win would thus be doubly pleasant. The first quarter was scoreless. In the second period, Henderson's aiming arm hit receivers, providing two quick T.D.'s. Vic Makovitch dropped on a Tiger fumble to set up the first, and McFague recovered another to set up the second. Both times Henderson hit receivers and at the half the score was in favor of W.M. 13-0. In the third stanza, H.-S. rallied to score, but of more consequence to the Terrors was the fact that Henderson suffered a shoulder injury which would sideline him for the remainder of the season. Now, the passing chores shifted to Tullai. "Mitch" proved capable as he hit Zepp on a 47 yard scoring play for the third six-pointer which proved to be enough to go the distance. H.-S. fought hard and never gave up but the Terrors outlasted several threats to increase their streak of winning. Final reading—W.M. 20 to H.-S. 15. Five down, only three to go.

November 3, a day of festivities, displays, homecoming grads, and alumni—but for the football squad, there posed a job to be done, and far from an easy job. To add to the problem, the field was a sea of mud and snow and it was a cold day. It was this day that Vic Makovitch, outstanding Terror guard all season, chose to really cut loose. If one man on a team can be cited for being responsible for the victory, the laurels go to Vic. Slogging through a muddy, scoreless first three quarters, the only tally being in the fourth, both teams slipped, slid, skidded and slogged to no avail. Then in the 4th quarter, Makovitch blocked his third punt of the day and Pat Rogan fell on the elusive pigskin on Drexel's 12 yard stripe. The break of the game. Would we use it? Tullai out to the four and on the next play McFague literally waded through into the end zone. In this game it was the line that spelled the difference. It was indeed a gala homecoming weekend with a win over the Dragons 6-0. Now W.M.'s record was eleven games without defeat over the two seasons and six in this one. Only two to go.

Lebanon Valley loomed as a large threat to the Terrors. W.M. was tagged by many as the underdog and some held the opinion that the undefeated season was coming to an end. But try to tell the football boys that; they gave their answer on November 10th with a 20-12 win at the Balogna Bowl. In the first half, Lebanon Valley dominated the scene and at halftime it was 6-0 in favor of the Pennsylvania team. In the second half, a different W.M. team came onto the field; they seemed to be filled with T.N.T. in both legs as they recovered a Lebanon fumble on the 15 yard stripe and McFague powered over for the first W.M. score. Zepp converted for a 7-6 lead.

Interference

Barreling through

Within a five minute period the Terrors lengthened their advantage with a 42 yard drive culminating in a second payoff. Tullai was hurt in this series of plays and was taken from the field. Stevenson came into replace him and with Henderson and Tullai both out of action, Ray had big shoes to fill. The Cumberland lad was equal to the task and sparked the play with dazzling line smashes which carried them to the one. From here McFague smashed through the line. After Zepp again converted, W.M. was on top to stay. The Terrors added one more for good measure on a pass from Stevenson to Hart, who made a story book catch of the bobbling aerial to go into the end zone. The score read 20-12 and this truly was a hard fought victory. Seven down and only an improving Hopkins eleven to face an conquer for the dream season of any team.

On the 17th of November the whole school converged on the Homewood campus to see their team finish up their work. The Blue Jays were not a powerful team but were not to be underrated. This was Hopkins' Homecoming and aside from that, the Johnnies are always up for a W.M. game. Hopkins was never in the game. The first quarter score was 13-0. At half time it was 20-0. Tullai and McFague carried the leather through the line, around the line, and threw passes over the line. Hopkins gained a fluke T.D. in the last period with W.M. driving for another tally, they fumbled the ball. Hopkins' alert guard grabbed the ball in mid air and lumbered 97 yards for their lone six-pointer. The gun sounded shortly thereafter and the scoreboard read W.M. 33—Hopkins 6. Eight down. There it was, all wrapped in

It got muddier and muddier . . .

History. The best season and only undefeated one since 1929. Incidentally, our coach, Charlie Havens, played center on the '29 team under advisory coach, Dick Harlow.

Congratulations fall to Bruce Ferguson, Joe Gianelli, Dick Harlow, and Charlie Havens for guiding the team to such a glorious season. Laurels should be given to the Seniors on the varsity eleven who did their part in obtaining this envious goal: "Mitch" Tullai, Walt Hart, Vic Makovitch, Jim Marsh, Jack Molesworth, Ira Zepp, Paul Wel-liver, Otts Shearer, and Don Phillips. Without the efforts of every one on the squad, this record would not have been possible.

BASKETBALL

In late November of 1951 Coach Bruce Ferguson held his first regular pre-season basketball warm-up. This looked like a good year for the cage sport with four of last year's starting five on hand to resume play. This foursome was composed of Art Press, Walt Hart, Ernie Makowski, and center Chuck Hammaker. Other men returning from the squad of 1950-51 were Art Pisetznr, Bill Pfeiffer, Lefty Kaufman, Bob Langrall, and in addition several very promising freshmen in the persons of Alvin Bopst, Harry Tull, and Charles White.

The opener of the '51-'52 season was on December 4 with Lebanon Valley. The visiting Dutchmen had a strong team and although Hart and Press with deadly accuracy kept W.M. in the running the Lebanon crew came out on the long end of a 76-66 score. For the second game on December 8 the Terrors traveled to Bucknell University at Lewisburg, Pa. Again W.M. surged ahead in the opening stanza only to weaken in the third quarter. In this game it was Press scoring thirty points and Hart sixteen that kept the Terror machine on the move. The third game found the W.M. quintet face to face with a Navy squad which was the strongest the Naval Academy has had in some years. At the half the see-saw score read 31-29 favor of Navy. In the third quarter, Navy found renewed life offensively and began to pour it on. Western Md.'s quint held on vainly but although Press scored for 25 points the Navy Tars came out by a 75-51 score.

In the fourth game, the Terrors traveled to Carlisle, Pa. to visit the Dickinson team on Dec. 12. But in this fracas the hosts went down under the Green quintet's improved offensive percentage. It was a rough battle all the way—but W.M. was on top of a 74-70 score. The record now stood at 3 losses-1 win and the boys were ready for their first conference game with American University.

For the first time in some years Western Maryland was employing a zone defense of the 2-2-1 variety which could be quickly shifted to a 2-1-2 if the occasion called for such a shift. The defensive tactics seemed to pay off in the Dickinson game and all were anxious to see it in action against Conference foes. The last pre-Christmas game scheduled with American University was postponed because of a sudden snowstorm so that the Terror quintet went home with their 1-3 record.

Post-Xmas games began on January 10 with the neighboring Mt. St. Mary quintet in Gill Gym. It was a lopsided victory for the hosts. They trounced the Mounts by a 68-40 tally. In this one, Press hit his usual stride for 25 tallies with Hart behind him scoring 14. So far it was 1 for 1 in Mason-Dixon play and 2-3 overall. January 16 found the boys traveling to Washington to meet Catholic U. This affair was one of the thrillers of the season. At half time it was W.M. 26-22. In the third quarter C.U. pulled a rally which closed the gap, at the sounding of the final whistle at 58-58. In the overtime both teams had a 66 score reading on the board, with only three seconds remaining a substitute provided the winning point via a foul shot which the Terrors had no time to avenge. The game ended 67-66 C.U. Artie Press again high man for W.M. with a total of 27 points. Terror pivotman Chuck Hammaker amassed 18 for runner-up position. Now it was 1-1 for the Conference, 2-4 in overall play.

Two evenings later Washington College called upon the hill to lose the same type of thriller that W.M. had suffered in Washington. It was not as close a game until that deadly third quarter when Washington pulled up within three points of the Terror squad. Finally they scored ahead by one point which Walt Hart erased with a one-hand push shot. This one point loomed larger each second and the score ended that way 72-71—a very close, well deserved, hard fought-for victory for Western Maryland. In this one it was Press and Hammaker leading the offensive tactics. On January 21 Mt. St. Mary's played return host to the Terrors but the visitors were not the least bit polite and demonstrated this by wrestling a 57-42 victory from the Mountaineers. The scoring in this game was spread more evenly between three players—Ernie Makowski, Chuck Hammaker, and Walt Hart with 13-12 and 11 respectively.

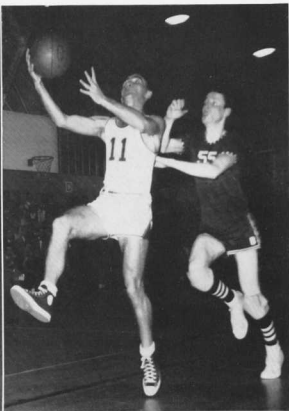

Perfect Form.

The next conference test was in Gill Gym and found a tall, young Baltimore Univ. team ready to wrest a victory, from the home squad. In this game B.U.'s height was to spell out the difference, but Big Chuck Hammaker surprisingly controlled both boards while his teammates Press and Hart helped the offensive end by hitting for 21 and 19 tallies respectively. Ernie Makowski, the Terror's only February graduate, had played his last collegiate game. The college celebrated Ernie Makowski Night since this game marked his finale with the quintet.

In conference play it was now 4-1 and in overall activity it was 4-5. Starting the second term off was B.U. in a return game at the Baltimore school on Charles Street. This one also was a thriller. W.M. took charge early in the game and until the third quarter was doing nicely. Then in that 3rd frame B.U. caught fire and with only nine seconds remaining tied up the game at 58-58. As the clock was running out Chuck Hammaker tapped in a rebound of Press' one-hander to give the Green and Gold quint a 60-58 victory. The scoring honors were spread in this tussle with Press getting 19, Hammaker 18, and Hart 15. A good way to start a new semester. Could the boys keep up the pace?

The previously postponed game with the American U. Eagles from Washington, D.C. was next on the list. A.U. was the winner of the 1950-51 Conference but had lost a lot of veteran players. The first half was a game all the way but the third quarter sit down strike of the Terror quint—which found American U. outscoring W.M. 19-4, proved the margin to a victory. W.M. went down easily after that by a 71-54 score.

Hopkins was the next foe but proved to be a fairly easy victory for the Green team. 65-45 was the lopsided victory which sent Hopkins home with their tails between their legs. Next in line were the Gettysburg Bullets. Led by Art Press the Terrors ran up a 24-7 first quarter lead and the game looked like W.M. all the way but the pace was too much for the Terrors and the whistle found G-Burg on top 77-57.

Two nights later Loyola—now leading the conference, visited the Hill. Western Maryland continued their slump by losing to the Greyhounds 86-61. 7 wins and 7 losses was now the season's record—a .500 mark.

Catholic U visited the Terrors for a return match and the Green and Gold team was out to avenge the one point loss suffered in Washington. The game was close all the way but the host five emerged with a well earned victory. Score 69-59.

With four conference games left, Western Md. now stood in third place in the league. Only Hopkins, Washington College, Loyola and Towson remained. Two of these, the first two, the Terrors had already beaten at home, but the February slump continued in full force as the team lost to Hopkins 69-57. Although Hart with 20 points and Hammaker with 15 tried to stave off the swarming Blue Jays, Press couldn't find the range and was held to under 10 points for only the third time in his college career. Then traveling to Washington College—again through the slumps of Hart, Press, and Hammaker, the Terrors came away with defeat number four in conference play. The boys were now in fifth place—out of the first division. Towson proved a breather from the rough end of a schedule. Press hit for 29 and Hart for 27 to wind up their home careers in fine style. Only Loyola remained. The Terrors traveled to the Evergreen Campus and was again out-classed—this time by 23 points. Chuck Ham-maker found the range for 16 points but there was little support from the other members—the slump continuing.

So in regular season play, the team stood this way. In conference standings, 8 wins 6 losses for a final standing of sixth in the league itself. In overall play the record was 9 wins 10 losses for slightly less than a .500 season.

The Annual Mason-Dixon Tournament was held at Loyola College on March 6, 7, and 8 with the Terrors drawing for the first game—first seeded, league-leading, twice victorious over the Terrors—Loyola!!

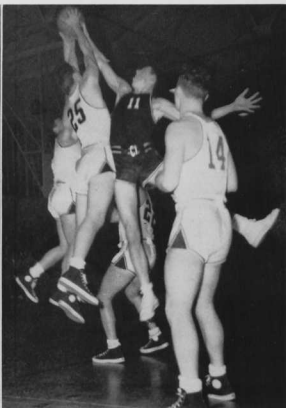

The first half found Loyola coasting with a 16 point lead. It looked hopeless, especially since the third quarter was sit down time for the quint—in previous games. The Terrors took the floor at half-time, came out of their zone, and played man to man defense which whittled Loyola's lead at one point, then six point, but time ran out for the scrapping, fighting Terror five. Final score 58-50 Loyola.

A good season? Yes, not the best, but a good one. One that found exciting games, fighting spirit and loyal support from faculty as well as students. It will be a long time indeed before another Terror will be the likes of Western Maryland's all-timer Art Press who made the All-Tournament Team while playing in only one game and who scored over 1500 points in his 3½ years of varsity play. Also regular forward Walt Hart and Center Chuck Hammaker will leave gaps in the basketball wall that will be difficult to fill. Coach Bruce Ferguson was heard to remark after the disheartening play-off defeat at the hands of Loyola, "... I'll miss you, boys, but I'll never forget you. Thanks for a successful season." And so we say to those who graduate, "A job well done." And to those who will be back next year—"Good Luck!"

SOCCKER

Western Maryland's 1951 soccer team, coached again by Mr. Philip Uhrig after a years absence, started working out the kinks only a few days before the first semester began. The toughest schedule ever planned for a Western Maryland soccer team faced Mr. Uhrig with a green, inexperienced team dotted with a few returning lettermen.

Navy was the first foe, and with some outstanding freshmen practically filling the lineup for our Terror team, Navy's power and experience proved too much as they triumphed 6-0. The team next entertained Drexel Tech here and still couldn't get into the scoring column, but went down gamely 5-0. Traveling to Delaware on October 17th, the younger, inexperienced Terror team went down agin—this time 4-0. But still after three such decisive defeats the Green team did not remain discouraged and showed this spirit by traveling to Washington College determined to take this first conference game. Washington College scored early in the game on a shot that spun crazily past the outstretched fingertips of goalee, Chuck Hammaker. For two more quarters the teams battled hard for another score. Then in the fourth quarter—a promising freshman Roy Davis, playing center forward, boomed in W.M.'s first soccer goal of the season. For two overtime five minute periods the stalemate couldn't be broken and W.M. considered the 1-1 tie practically a victory.

Their winning ways were short lived however, because a series of defeats kept slapping at the heart and spirit of the team, but never once did any of them give up. Even after such defeats as 5-0 at the hands of F. and M.; 2-0 to Hopkins; 4-0 to Loyola; 4-1 to Bucknell; 7-0 to the conference Champions, Baltimore University; and 4-1 to Gettysburg. Quite a string of defeats for any young team, practically enough to discourage and knock it apart, yet with the last game coming up, the boys entered it with the same encouraging heart and guts as they had way back against Navy. Their foe was La Salle College of Philadelphia rated as one of the East's best teams.

After one of the hardest fought soccer games ever witnessed on The Hill, W. M.—the team that had a record of nine defeats and one tie to teams of much lesser talent and skill—emerged a 1-0 victor over La Salle. There it was, the victory that all season was lacking. Not a good record to say the least but all at W. M. feel that 1951 was a building year for the soccer team, and with but four persons graduating and approximately 13 or 14 lettermen returning, 1952 should produce a winning team. The experience which was lacking has been replaced by knowledge, skill, and know-how. Good Luck to the '52 soccer team.

WRESTLING

WRESTLING SCHEDULE 1952

Franklin and Marshall .....	December 14
Baltimore University .....	January 11

Loyola .....	February 15
Towson State .....	February 21
Mason-Dixon Tournament .....	February 27, 28
Buckness .....	March 1

The 1951-52 wrestling team is an inexperienced group of wrestlers with plenty of guts, heart, and love for the sport. Wrestling in the 123 pound class is George Daviglus, the South American terror; a freshman, Paul Trimble, takes care of the 135 pound class; Jim Levay has tremendous possibilities for the 145 pounders. Bill Brill is the 157'er, and completing the heavyweight class is Ray Faby, who is student coach this year, and either Jack Duhl or Jim Marsh in the unlimited class. Coach Ray Faby will not make too daring a prediction for his crew but up to date the wrestling squad has shown potentialities through experience and training. Art Shanklin, wrestling in the 165 pound post has possibilities of winning the Mason-Dixon Championship if he can get by the Gallaudet match, also the only other veteran, Jack Rall, who alternates with Levay, should win the majority of his matches. The wrestling team of '52 may not set the world on fire but in building a team composed of freshmen and sophomores this year, they are building for the future.

First row: D. Preston, J. Levay, B. Brill, G. Daviglus. Second row: J. Mallonee, A. Shanklin, J. Duhl, R. Faby, B. Bimestefer.

LACROSSE

Under the tutelage of Coach Bruce Ferguson and assistant coach Joe Giannelli, the Green and Gold stickmen primed for a hard season. With memories of a disastrous single victory campaign last spring the Terror ten had their work cut out for them.

Giving opposing attackmen trouble were old timers Dave Rhoads and Ed Crawford, defense-men. Crawford made his final appearance this year along with Paul Thronburg who shared goal tending duties with Barry Winkleman a promising Freshman. Jack Armstrong, another astute first year man coupled with veterans Walter "Soup" Campbell, Don Radcliffe, converted defenseman, and John Mallonee as standouts in the midfield ranks.

Those returning in the attack to add the necessary scoring punch to the current campaign were, Elmer Richardson, a senior; Howard Wagenblast, Carvelle Downs, and a transfer addition, John Traband. The squad was further bolstered with the elimination of spring football practice. As a result of this, several familiar gridiron figures that included Mike Rentko, Jack Duhl, Jim Marsh and Bruce Rudisill lent strength to the defense. Mention must also be given to the hard fighting reserves, without whom the team could not have functioned.

BASEBALL

Showing a definite improvement over the previous season, the 1951 baseball team finished second in the Mason-Dixon Conference. Victories over Baltimore U., Bridgewater, Loyola, and twice over Hopkins and Mt. St. Mary's gave the Terror team a won 7 lost 6 record. This year as in several years past, the sport had very little support from the student body. Home games found but a few scattered spectators lining the near bank of Hoffa Field, where for the first time the team had a diamond at school.

Experience and the clever coaching of Jim Boyer were the keynotes of the successful season. Highlights were the performances of Keyfy Kaufman, Ken Shook and Jerry Phipps. Kaufman, in addition to his outstanding first base play, led the conference with a spectacular .480 batting average. Shook, a regular in the outfield, and Phipps, a starting pitcher and utility infielder, both had averages well over the .300 mark.

Coach Boyer, who recently retired from major league umpiring after many years of service, became the full time Terror mentor, and his presence showed itself in the improved play and enthusiasm of the team.

The squad included, Tereshinski, Urion, Fones, Haines, Keenan, Pfeiffer, Biddle, Linton, and Zimmerman. Of these, Tereshinski, Keenan and Phipps graduated, leaving the majority of the team intact to form the nucleus for what should be an excellent team in 1952. Next year the dismissal of spring football training from the athletic department's program should bring some valuable help. Plans are now in progress for the construction of a new and better baseball field here at school.

Although student support of the team was noticeably lacking, baseball still ranks high in Terror spring sport interest. Over forty candidates turned out when practices started.

TENNIS

With veterans of four years play graduated in the persons of Phil Sack, Bobby Talner, and Ned Brown and only Merrill Trader from last year's squad returning for play, Coach Frank Hurt is going to find himself faced with a rebuilding job in the 1952 season. From last year's reserves, Coach Hurt has Pat Huddle, Art Saltmarsh, and Al Tonnelson.

However, the outlook is not entirely dim. There are several promising freshmen who have already cast aspirations to play the game. These include Henry Tait, Ray Davis, and Chuck Silberstein. In the past several years, the W.M. tennis squad has finished in the first division in Mason-Dixon competition and has always made a creditable showing whether winning or losing. So we know that the 1952 season will be no exception for the Hurtmen.

GOLF

The 1952 golf season should be a good one for Dr. Huber and his charges. With returning veteran lettermen in the persons of Ed Coffman, number one man last year, followed by Ward Glasby, Don Makosky, Paul Welliver, and Bob Steelman in their playing order during the 1951 season, on hand again for another turf year, Al Treveethan, Jim Marshall, and Maynard Fones will make themselves felt on the links. Number six position will be hotly contended for but regardless of the choice, W.M.C. should be hard to beat on the 18 hole sport. Keeping in mind that last season, the Hubermen won 6 out of 14 matches, the clubs should really be swinging this April.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

It was Alpha Gamma Tau with fine teamwork and stellar defense that rolled to the Intramural Football Championship this year. A surprisingly strong Black and White team finished second, with the "Preachers", hurt through graduation, finishing third and the Gamma Bets coming in last. The "Bachelors" were ably coached by Lefty Kaufman and Joe Deering and Jack Urion were standouts.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

This year again it was Delta Pi Alpha that came out on top in the Intramural Basketball League. The "Preachers", winning ten straight for an undefeated season, had a highly geared offense and a very strong bench. The Bachelors fought gamely to finish second, with the Black and Whites third and the Gamma Bets fourth. The Seminary, although vastly improved, were still in the cellar.

BASKETBALL

The girls' basketball season was very successful. After intensive practice, the intramural games got under way. Many new players were discovered in the Freshman class. These players worked as a team and walked off with the class championship. The juniors took second place, losing only to the freshmen.

Our inter-school program then got underway. We traveled to Towson to play Towson where we played two games. We were host to Mt. St. Agnes when we also played two games. We had a game scheduled with Towson, but because of bad weather the game was cancelled. We also journeyed to Hood to participate in a Play Day. During the day we played Hood and Towson.

After having won all our games, an honorary basketball team was chosen. The team consisted of Bobby Davison, Carter Baum and Jo-Ann Taylor as forwards and Lois Ohler, Becky LeFew and Mary Lou Arney as guards. Joyce Schmidt and Betsy Bowen were alternates.

NATIONAL BASKETBALL RATINGS

National Basketball ratings were administered to seven candidates in March. They consist of a written theory section which, if a passing grade is attained, enables the candidate to take the second test and a practical in which a regulation game is refereed. A board of three judges grades the proceedings. The purpose of the Women's National officials is to maintain high calibre officiating in the game. Western Maryland added one more to the ranks this year; Joyce Schmidt, a Senior from University Park, Maryland.

Bobbie Davison and Betty Parsons received local ratings which will enable them to officiate in the local area.

HOCKEY

Again this year the girls braved the long, cold, windy walk out to the hockey field and showed that they had mastered the skillful use of a stick. Those Freshmen who had never played this favored sport of ours quickly got into the swing of things and achieved good stickwork. Participation was excellent and the first few practices were spent drilling tackles and other skills. The intramural tournament culminated with the Junior class capturing the championship.

Our extramural season opened on October 27 when eighteen players journeyed to the Baltimore Field Hockey Association Play Day at Bryn Mawr

School in Baltimore. At this time All American hockey players demonstrated various skills which were followed by scrimmages. W.M.C. met Friends School of Baltimore and Towson State Teachers College. An All Star team was chosen after all the games had been played which tangled with the All Baltimore team. Barbara Davison gained the honor of filling the right halfback position on the All Stars.

The Lady Terrors downed Mt. St. Agnes College 5-0 and closed the season with Notre Dame College in a 1-1 tussle.

First row: J. Taylor, J. Cartel, D. Wine, J. Schmidt, B. LeFew, B. Davison. Second row: B. Bowen, P. Tuckword, C. Baum, J. High, P. Herman, P. Fetcho, J. Kellog.

BADMINTON

The air was filled with birdies as the girls once again matched their talents with other badminton enthusiasts. The competition was the keenest ever shown when the tournament got under way, and coming through with final victory were Corinne Schofield for the senior class, Nell Hughes for the Junior class, both repeatists, Bobbie Summer for the sophomore class, and Carter Baum for the freshman class, who defeated all the class champions, thus gaining extra points toward the athletic cup for her class. The season was quite a successful one and it concluded by W. M. C. taking over the badminton honors at the Hood College Sports Day at Frederick.

VOLLEYBALL

Point! Side out! Lost serve! Yes, volleyball again took its place this year among intramural sports, with the Freshman A team being champions of the season.

An honorary team was elected, choosing players from all of the classes.

The eagerness and good sportsmanlike conduct helped greatly in making this season an enjoyable one.

Dear Delts:

It is hard for us to express our real feelings regarding the sorority and how much it has meant to us throughout the years; but using this last year as an example, we'll tell you some of the things we'll always remember.

To begin—the six new members who joined us in September . . . our hike together over the campus on pledge night . . . the head-first fall of Dottie Lien . . . the cold, clear water at the rush party . . . winning the Scholastic Cup at the Inter-sorority Tea . . . our new advisor, Mrs. James and the help she's been throughout the year . . . a delicious dinner at our Birthday Banquet and Dr. Wills with his boutonniere . . . the jolly Santa that Jo played at the Christmas party (even though we all sort of guessed who it was) . . . the bright red hassock given to us by the Baby Delts . . . the basket of food for the Children's Aid Society and the picnic and games at Harvey Stone Park for the fifteen energetic "little ones" . . . the three new girls entering at mid-semester . . . getting acquainted at the Freshmen Tea . . . the rush at Homecoming; seeing old faces; keeping the wind and snow from smothering our display . . . the one brown leaf on our ivy plant . . . "but it goes so well with our color scheme" . . . our brothers' party for us and the fun we had recording voices . . . eight more marriages of alumnae and eight more pickle forks to go . . . six engagements and extra poundage in candy and weight . . . "but it seems like yesterday that I was curator for the week" . . . "before we get T.V., we'd better replace our 1927 vic" . . . all in white at the Senior banquet in May . . . Sisters always working together, ever loyal, ever faithful.

Delt love,
Your Sisters

As the Iotes begin another year at W.M.C. we find that some changes have been made. First of all the club room has been redecorated with freshly painted walls, new rugs, and a new lamp. Our pride and joy, the S.C.A. sorority award, looks like a million dollars on our radio. This year we are sponsoring a scholarship for a needy student, as we did last year. The project was plenty of work last year, but we feel that the effort is well spent.

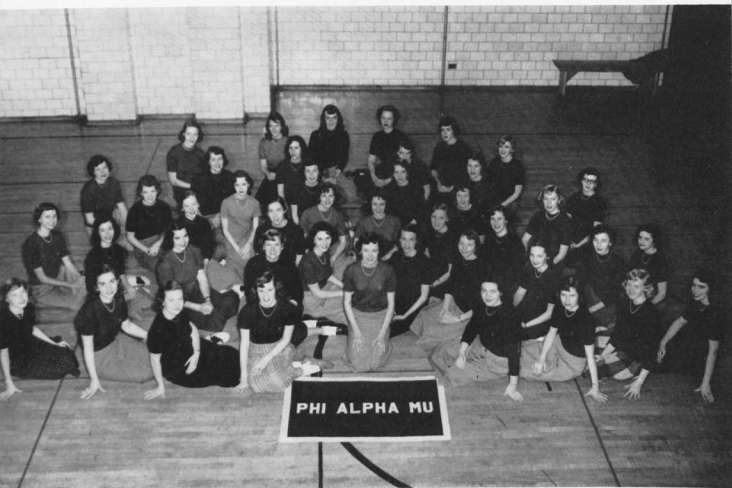

Again, something new . . . we initiated nine germs this fall. They ran around with the "measles", blackened faces, and really looked as bad as germs. In spite of all the initiation fun and mess, we got a fine bunch of girls and we are proud of them.

Social functions remain about the same as always. One item on our agenda proved to be different. We held a shower for our sponsor, Mrs. Milton Huber. Joyce and Betty contributed their room and we decorated with umbrella and the usual paraphernalia for such an occasion. We held our annual Christmas banquet at Hoffman's, and enjoyed a tremendous feed. At the Christmas party, we treated our club room to a huge new wall mirror.

Our tea was fun, both to attend and prepare for. Some of us managed to have fun even in the clean up process. We plan to hold our rush party at Big Pipe Creek Park again this spring. The roller skating always proves to be fun, what with falls and laughs and good feeling among all.

May, and the end of the year will find us giving a party for our departing seniors and saying goodbye to all of the underclassmen until next fall. This year has been a good one for the Iotes . . . the spirit of the club has been at an all time high and we feel that next year promises even bigger and better things for our club.

"Hot Dogs on Second" . . . "The Phi Alphas never put enough mayonnaise in their tuna fish" (but they always come back for more!) . . . This is just one thing we'll remember . . . "I heard they were all going independent" . . . Yes, bidding—to quote a well-used phrase, was hectic—but every moment of worry and depicting rumors behind closed doors was worth it. Our twenty-six new members of the calf variety surpassed our expectations and immediately showed their spirit by helping with our Homecoming display—and who can ever forget that anarctic morning when in spite of the wind and snow, we finally stood back and surveyed (and why not admit it was good!) the outcome . . . all the paint, wire, cardboard and—cut fingers.

Then, before we realized it—Christmas came, and the Gamma Bets, as they have in years past, again proved that their parties are something to be long remembered. Who may we ask, could have a nicer group of brothers? Our party in the clubroom . . . complete with Santa Claus was another highlight of one year.

"Hey, remember the faculty imitations at the Phi Alpha rush party" . . . "Golly, I never ate so much in my life" . . . Yes, we remember and we also remember thinking that our girls are pretty talented. No one can play the uke like Marge Cherry, and as far as singing, pantomime and dancing goes—well, there are too many to name.

We couldn't have asked for a better leader of the herd than Char Reed. She was always there whether we needed some snow to put on the stars we made for the Gamma Bet dance or whether we just needed someone who would listen to us blow off steam.

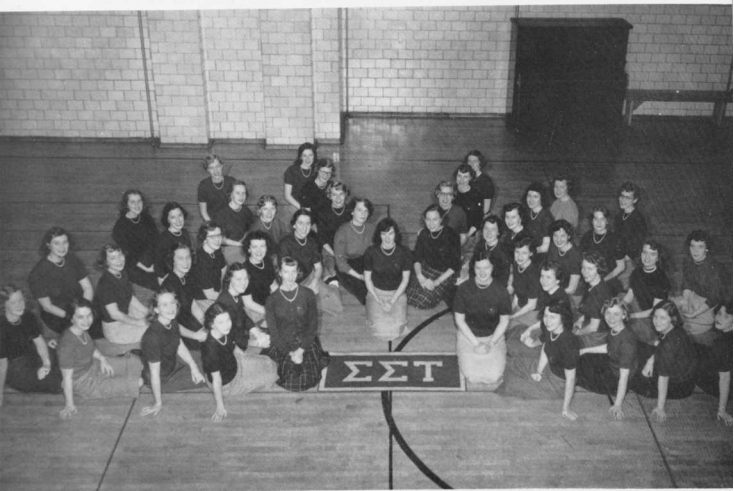

Those of us who are leaving feel that this past year has been the most successful in our history. The war orphan we sponsored (by selling the sandwiches . . . and we all put enough mayonnaise on them!) was just one of our projects. Although we can't help but feel a little empty when we look back and remember all being a member of the Phi Alphas entails, we feel confident that we are leaving the future of the sorority in the very best of hands.

With the beginning of another school year, the Sigmas were back and ready for another fruitful year. As president, Corinne Schofield had able assistants in Marvinna Munch, vice-president, Dottie Shoemaker, secretary, and Betty Callender, treasurer. Eighteen new "skunks" were admitted with the fall bidding.

As Homecoming arrived, the Sigmas were prepared to greet 250 guests, and also to receive the award for the best display. Again this year, we sold birthday calendars in order to buy CARE packages. Santa came to see us twice—at the Black and White's annual party and at our own Christmas celebration.

With a new slate of officers and a new semester, five new "skunks" were added. The second semester officers were Marvinna Munch as president, Betty Callendar, vice-president, Doris Corbin, secretary, and Janet High as treasurer.

With the tea and Sigma Circus, plus a complete redecoration of the clubroom, graduation time came quickly. At this time we found ourselves saying goodbye to our sisters for another year.

INTERSORORITY COUNCIL

The Intersorority Council consists of the four sorority presidents, vice presidents and the junior representatives. The offices rotate yearly in an established order. This Council in conjunction with the Interfraternity makes up the Pan Hellenic Council.

This year the Intersorority sponsored the traditional Sadie Hawkins dance in Blanche Ward gym. In November the Council held a tea and at this time Dr. Ensor presented the Delta Sigma Kappa Sorority with the Scholastic Cup. Also the Council gave a Thanksgiving basket to a family in Westminster. At Christmas time, the Intersorority served food to the caroling seniors.

Contrary to the usual procedure, the basketball tournament was held in the fall, but the bridge tournament, rush teas and parties went according to schedule this spring.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Council consists of the four fraternity presidents and a senior and junior representative from each fraternity. Four major offices are filled by a yearly rotation of officers.

Interfraternity, under the auspices of the Interfraternity Athletic Council, set up an intramural sports program, and in addition to its routine function of regulating biddings and smokers, continued the Annual Bridge Tournament, innovated last year.

The year's activity centered around the formation and ratification of an efficient and workable constitution for the Council. Now in its complete form, it should prove a tremendous asset for Interfraternity functioning.

The Intersorority and Interfraternity Councils work with the other to form the Pan-Hellenic Council. This Council planned the Pan-Hellenic Dance in May.

The Frank B. Hurt Scholarship Cup was awarded to Pi Alpha Alpha again this year. Under the capable leadership of our faculty advisor, Dean Free, we review a year of hard work well done.

This year's council was marked with enthusiasm and cooperation. The finale of the year's activity will be climaxed at the Methodist Church in Westminster when the annual Interfraternity banquet will be held.

With the development of the character of the individual through scholarship, sportsmanship, and social activity as their primary objective, the "Bachelors" completed their 28th year on campus with an admirable record.

The annual Smoker was held in November to better acquaint non-fraternity members with the Club Room and the Fraternity members. Dean Free, Mr. Havens and Professor Hurt spoke to the group on the value of fraternal relationships and clarified the meaning of fraternities in general to college students.

The days preceding Homecoming found the Bachelors more active than usual, constructing a float for the parade and a mechanical slide rule display which received Honorable mention. An Open House was held Saturday afternoon and an Active-Alumni Banquet Saturday night. An informal Alumni Association was formed which plans to meet each year at the Homecoming Banquet.

Members of the Fraternity, together with the sister sorority, the Deltas, solicited funds to purchase Thanksgiving baskets for needy families of Westminster. Five baskets were procured and distributed by the members.

A group of club members donated blood to the Red Cross early in January. Later in the month, the semi-annual Banquet was held to elect new officers for the Spring term. The February sweetheart Ball was sponsored by the Club with the theme of an Alpine Winter Carnival. Decorations included an Alpine Lodge with a window overlooking the scenic ski slopes of the Alps. A Carnival Queen was elected and awarded a silver loving cup.

Other organized social activities of the year included the Christmas party, the Spring party and banquet and the Bachelor-Delt party.

The officers for the Fraternity were: for the 1st semester: Paul Welliver, Alpha; Marvin Seigel, Vice-Alpha; John Haller, Gamma; Bill Jones, Tau; Joe Deering, Chaplin, and Joe Eline, Sergeant-at-Arms. Second semester officers included: John Haller, Alpha; Bill Jones, Vice-Alpha; John Wilhelm, Gamma; Joe Eline, Tau; John Edwards, Chaplin; and Myron Brodie, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Delta Pi Alpha

The "Preachers" arrived back on campus determined to make this year more meaningful than any previous one. Our initiation of twelve new members in the fall boosted our enrollment to forty.

First on the sports schedule was touch football with much competition between the frats. Delta Pi Alpha came out second best, but an inspired team under Coach Art Press turned in a fine performance. Our fraternity deemed it a high honor and a real privilege to welcome all visiting teams to the "Hill" during the year.

Winter saw the fraternity cop the pennant in the intramural basketball league with excellent playing and sideline advice from Mentor Walt Hart. Sports, in general, had a terrific year in the club.

A white Christmas effect on the outside as well as on the inside of Gill Gym presented the scene for the Holly Hop with everyone dancing around the tree to Larry Abel's music. Jim Marsh acted as general chairman with Andy Rusinko handling refreshments.

In January the annual banquet was held at Shottie's in Littlestown, Pa. Le Roy Merritt took care of the arrangements and Chuck Hammaker acted as emcee. After a delicious steak dinner Al Trevehan entertained on the piano and was followed by Jack Molesworth who did a colorful monologue. Our guests included Dr. Holthaus, Professor Hurt, Coach Havens, Dr. Hendren, Mr. Rice, and our advisor, Dr. Marshall. Following their pleasant talk, initiation of new officers took place and we also said farewell to our graduating president, Ernie Makowski.

Decorations for the Pan-Hellenic Dance were handled efficiently by the club members who rounded off another page of history in the knight's book of events by completing a very successful year thanks to the participation and cooperation of all the members involved.

Gamma Beta Chi

The September roll call was answered by a small group of Gamma Betes, who, in spite of their lack in number, pitched in with the traditional spirit to complete an ambitious Fall schedule. With the help of their Phi Alpha Mu sisters, the members succeeded in providing an outstanding Homecoming Dance for Western Maryland students and alumni, and found time to contribute a float and display to the Homecoming activities. During the year the clubroom was improved by the addition of new furniture, construction of an attractive television corner, and the hanging of new draperies. A very successful smoker to acquaint brothers and non-members was highlighted by a speech by Coach Dick Harlow. Eleven new members were received into the fraternity and enjoyed a Hell never dreamed of by Dante, in the privilege of refinishing the clubroom floor.

The boys again made "Merry Christmas" a Gamma Bete byword by hustling Christmas Card sales among the student body, and a needy Westminster family shared their Christmas with a basket prepared by the members. The season festivities reached a peak at the club's annual party for the Phi Alphas, although "Zepp's Folly" floundered as a financial project, our sisters were stunned with their noisy rubber dolls.

A full social program was enjoyed by all of the members this year. Several successful parties highlighted the everyday pleasure of fraternal associations on campus. Intramural athletics were supported wholeheartedly by Gamma Beta Chi, as the club furnished strong competition in the frat league. The coming spring finds the members in high hopes of duplicating last year's triumphs in warm weather sports.

The Gamma Betes were fortunate in having, for the sixth consecutive year, Dr. Lloyd Straughn serve as advisor, the members are extremely grateful to "Doc" for his outstanding advice and guidance. First semester officers were: President, Ira Zepp; Vice-President, Pat Huddle; Secretary, Dick Stone; Treasurer, Bill Callas; Sergeant-at-Arms, Jim Gordon; Beta Pi, Jim Sullivan. Second semester the officers were: President, Pat Huddle; Vice-President, Jim Sullivan; Secretary, Jim Muller; Treasurer, Bill Callas; Sergeant-at-Arms, Ira Zepp; Beta Pi, Stu Abrahams.

September, 1952, and the beginning of a new year was marked with new enthusiasm under the leadership of our first-semester president, Roland Fleischer. He was ably assisted by: Vice-President, Carl Sturgill; Corresponding Secretary, Charles Albert; Recording Secretary, John Isaac; Treasurer, Donald Smith; Sergeant-at-Arms, Gene Mechtly; Master of Ceremonies, Mike Chirigos.

During the interfraternity football season, we found ourselves ending the season in second place, being defeated only by the Bachelors. Entering into the festivities of Homecoming, we cooperated with the Bachelor's for the pep rally and won second prize with our float. All of this, plus our work with the concessions, helped to make the weekend a huge success.

After Homecoming, eleven new pledges were gained and we began a new tradition with the substitution of "help" for "hell" week. Their work can still be seen in the gym, where the signs point out the sections for seating arrangements.

During the first part of December, the fraternity gave the Sigmas a Christmas party, complete with a Greek Santa Claus. Their present to us was a much needed punch bowl, which we greatly appreciated. We rounded out the first semester by commemorating Robert E. Lee's birthday with the mid-year dance which we renamed "the Plantation Ball". The dance was a great success with everyone dancing on the lawn of the plantation and around the flowing water fountain. The success of the dance was celebrated at our semester banquet with "filling dinners".

Beginning with the new semester, things again looked up with the election of new officers: President, Donald Smith; Vice-President, Mike Chirigos; Corresponding Secretary, Roger Ault; Recording Secretary, Kenny Shook; Treasurer, Daniel Osborne; Sergeant-at-Arms, Ed Landefeld; Master of Ceremonies, Harold Mac Teer.

One of the many tasks we undertook this semester was being in charge of the refreshments at the Pan Hellenic Dance.

The fraternity will surely feel the loss of the eighteen seniors who graduate this year. To them we say, "Farewell".

ROTC

With the current defense mobilization plans of our government almost on a par with that of World War II, our Infantry R.O.T.C. unit on the Hill is playing a vital and highly important role in the lives of most male students. For it is in this department, which is celebrating its thirty-second year at Western Maryland, that future Army officers gain their basic spurs.

How does one become a commissioned officer in the Infantry Reserve through R.O.T.C.? The answer would be this; that the Government has set up a training program that fits in closely with the student's other academic studies which can be taken regardless of the individual's major or field of interest. The student enters the basic course which runs during his freshman and sophomore years. This basic course is also required by the College for graduation. At the end of the second year the Cadet may enter the advanced course, which is taken as an elective and finished out in his junior and seniors years. Upon completion of this four year course and a brief six week tour of summer camp, the student receives the title to wear the gold bars of a Second Lieutenant, Infantry Reserve.

During the first two years the cadet studies such subjects as map reading, rifle marksmanship, first aid, organization of units, and assembly-disassembly of the various Army weapons. Then if the cadet proves that he is capable of continuing on with the advance course he goes deeper into the study of tactics, transportation, communication, gunnery, supply, teaching methods, and many more phases that add polish to the future officer.

The proving ground for the R.O.T.C. cadet usually comes during the summer between his junior and senior years. Here the student applies what he has learned in class during a six-week period of intensified training at some Army base. To the amazement of many cadets they remembered quite a few of their lessons as they are put through their first taste of Army life and given the confidence that future officers need.

For the past few years Infantry Airborne troops have been training the cadets of this college when they attended summer camp. In the Paratroopers it's hustle, hustle, hustle all the way, and after a hot, dusty and crowded 18 hour day the 'ole sack' looks very good. However, all the days aren't the 18 hour affairs, and the student-soldier on his off hours enjoys privileges of the PX, the 25 cent movie, swimming pools, softball, tennis, and a famed refreshment stand called the "Civilian Club".

Although Western Maryland's unit is relatively small when compared to other colleges and universities, according to the Attorney General of the United States, it has produced more Infantry leaders for the size of the school than any other school in the United States. These officers have proven themselves, both in peacetime and in combat to be well qualified, capable men serving their country in a superior manner. The success of these men is chiefly due to the Army instructors that teach and train the corps of cadets. All are experienced and capable of their jobs, having proved themselves worthy either in the struggles of World War II or in Korea.

Heading the staff of the Department of Military Science and Tactics is Lt. Col. Robert S. Redfield who is assisted by Captain Robert I. Thompson. Backing up the Colonel and the Captain are Master Sergeants Olen R. Quarles and James M. Brouillard, followed by Sergeants First Class Pierre LaVoy and Richard Armstrong, Jr. With this able group of instructors and a fine corps spirit during 1951-52, the Infantry, which is known as 'The Queen of Battles', will be getting the men she needs to keep that title strong.

ARGONAUTS

It may be dangerous to shift horses in mid-stream, but the Argonauts found it helpful this year. For the first semester we had a drab and mutilated symbol of the "Argo". This failed to inspire us to prepare programs. When the new "Argo", built by Betty Simpson and Libby Schubert, was unveiled at the Argonaut Tea on February 20, its color and dash seemed to arouse us to action. In quick succession, we had three programs, sponsored a movie, and held our banquet. For some of the details of our program, we have printed excerpts from the 1951-52 LOG of the "Argo".

Oct. 22, 1951—Today the Argonauts heard a lecture by Mr. Mahlon F. Peck called the "Importance of Science in Today's World".

November 28—Argonauts Shoemaker, Bankson, LesCallette, Tullai, and Makosky presented an informal panel discussion to the Freshman Class on "The Techniques of Studying".

February 20, 1952—The "Argo" has been in dry-dock for two months receiving a complete remodeling and a new paint job. Today the refurbished boat appeared at the Argonaut's annual Tea for faculty and honor students. The guests were entertained with modern music played by Karl Yount, Betsy Jones and Lois Cermak.

March 17—Dr. Schilling led a discussion of "The Communist Manifesto" in a joint meeting of the Argonauts and the I.R.C.

April 7—The Argonauts enjoyed turkey and all the trimmings at their banquet. Dr. Carl Bode, of the University of Maryland, was the honored speaker. Fourteen senior members were formally inducted as Fellows of the Argonaut Society.

May 12—As the "Argo" came into port today, the officers shouted, "Three cheers for our gallant crew! and added Hats Off! to the faculty advisers, Dr. Isanogle and Dr. Ridington.

TRI-BETA

Beta Beta Beta is a society for students of the biological sciences. It seeks to encourage scholarly attainment in this field of learning by reserving its membership for those who achieve superior academic records and those who indicate special aptitude for the subject of Biology.

Beta Beta Beta is an affiliated society of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, better known as the Triple AS. Its national president is Dr. L. M. Bertholf Dean, Professor of Biology, College of the Pacific, Stockton, Calif. Dr. Bertholf was a member of our faculty.

The Chapter at Western Maryland is the Alpha Mu Chapter. Its officers are: President Jack Loper, Vice-President Dorothy Shoemaker, Secretary Lionel Lee, Historian Michael Chirigos, Treasurer Prof. C. L. Benninghof. There is a total membership of twenty-three.

The Milton H. Hendrickson Memorial Scholarship Fund is awarded yearly to a deserving member of Tri-Beta. This scholarship offers to the member assistance for summer school in some field of biology he or she is interested in. This summer work is taken in one of several Field Experimental Stations in the country.

In the latter part of December of 1951, the National Convention of the Triple AS met in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania to discuss various phases pertinent to Biological Sciences, attended by several representatives from the Western Maryland Chapter.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA

The Iota Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha, the national honorary fraternity in philosophy, was established at W.M.C. in April, 1949, by a group of interested college students. The purpose of this fraternity is to recognize excellence in the study of philosophy and allied subjects, and to develop an interest in philosophical discussion. Dr. Reuben S. Holthaus, chairman of the department of Philosophy, is faculty advisor to the Iota Chapter.

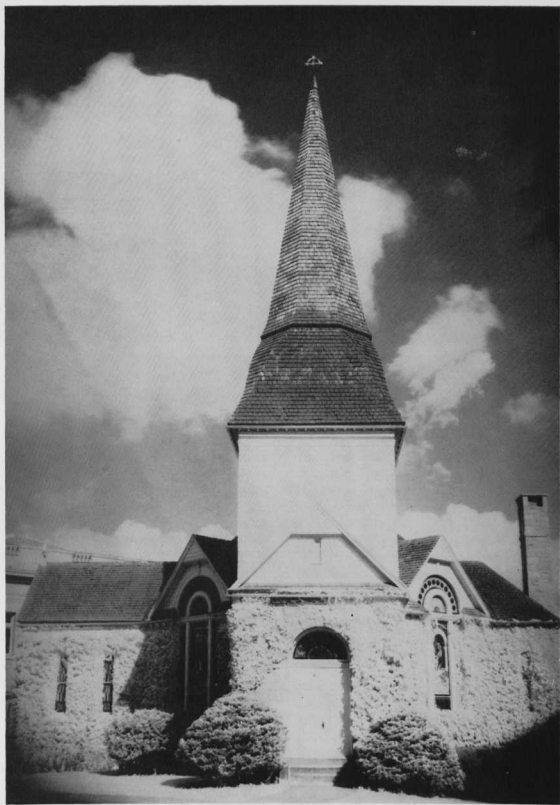

Due to the limited membership this year, some of the fraternity's activities have been hampered. The year began officially with the installation of five new members, at the December meeting, in the home of Dr. Holthaus. At the meeting, also, officers for the year were elected. Ira Zepp was elected president, Karl Yount, vice-president, and Rudy Lee, secretary.

At the beginning of the second semester, five more students were installed as new members. At this time, Jerry Grandea, Arthur Saltmarsh, Wesley Gebhard, Jane Hisle, and Dorothy Bliss became members of the fraternity.

An interesting discussion was held in March on the topic of "Existentialism". With the assistance of Dr. Holthaus, and Dr. Charles Crain, the religion professor, the group developed a keener insight into the philosophy of existence.

During April the fraternity planned a joint meeting with the local chapter of AKA at Gettysburg College.

Also, in the latter part of April, Alpha Kappa Alpha held its annual convention to which the fraternity sent a delegate.

Standing: E. Zeis, K. Shook, B. Parsons, Dr. Crain, J. Muller, R. Leatherwood. Seated: P. Thronberg, K. Nowack, A. Collins, C. Schofield, I. Zepp, K. McLaughlin, N. Hughes, D. Reck, S. Fisher.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The SCA has had one of its most active and meaningful years under the forceful leadership of the president Ira Zepp. Beginning with the traditional Freshmen Vesper Service on the hill overlooking Hoffa Field, the SCA continued throughout the year to plan programs which were inspirational and stimulating to each individual.

Bob Mickey from Franklin and Marshall College spoke and spear-headed the discussion at the SCA week-end, October 6. At the beginning of second semester Mr. David Soper from Beloit, Wisconsin, pivoted a Religious Emphasis Week speaking at chapel and at informal discussion groups.

All of the separate religious organizations were an integral part of the SCA; each had a representative on the cabinet. This year one Wednesday night a month was set aside for commission meetings. Nell Hughes, chairman of the Personal and Campus Affairs Commission, planned varied Fireside Meetings and recreational activities. The Christian Faith and Heritage Commission under the leadership of Betty Parsons planned morning devotions, worship for group meetings and special services. The adoption of an orphan and the organization of the foreign students was effected by the World Relatedness Commission under the guidance of Kay Nowack. The Social responsibility Commission headed by Estelle Zies studied various problems and took action by organizing the Negro nursery school, aiding foster children and maintaining a daily news board.

Western Maryland shared in Christian fellowship with many other colleges at conferences at Camp Michaux and Hood. Bob Leather and Jim Toni attended the Student Volunteer Movement Quadrennial at Lawrence, Kansas, during the Christmas holidays.

With the literary skill of Kay McLaughlin, the economic mind of Ashby Collins, the artistic talent of Sally Fisher, the advice of vice-president Corinne Schofield, the ideas from the new freshman representatives, Paul Gavin and Mary Jane Munson, and the guidance of our advisor Dr. Crain, the SCA forwarded Christian principles on the campus and aided the interpretation of God's will.

SUNDAY FELLOWSHIP

Every Sunday morning, Baker Chapel is the scene of a living Christian faith. Students from all denominations gather to worship God and enter into discussions on pertinent religious questions of our day.

Heartiest congratulations are in order for a tremendous job well done by this year's Sunday Fellowship Cabinet. Under the competent leadership of President Kenny Shook, it provided a wide variety of programs and activities which everyone enjoyed.

For Homecoming, the Fellowship made a display, and on that Sunday, Dr. Eugene Makosky spoke on "The Great Homecoming." For Armistice Day, Col. Redfield, Head of R.O.T.C. spoke on "War and Peace" from a religious view. Other guest speakers included Dr. Hazzard and Dr. Titus from the Seminary, Dr. Holthouse, Dr. Crain, Dr. Huber, Dr. George Wills, Rev. Edmund Lippy, and Miss Dorothy Nyland who is the Secretary of the Women's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Church.

This year, a number of the Fellowship formed a choir under the direction of Betty Parsons and provided special music for several meetings. Religious music was stressed during the year in a variety of ways. The Male Glee Club made its first appearance at the December 9 Fellowship meeting with an inspiring service of song, and the offering received that Sunday went to buy Christmas boxes for the needy. Carl Yount gave a violin recital that proved to be a wonderful way to start another Sunday.

On Mother's Day, red and white carnations were given to everyone. The year ended very successfully with the Annual Spring Picnic, and a great deal of fun was had by all.

First row: J. Parker, B. Callas, K. McLaughlin, D. Reck, M. L. Mumford, D. Makosky, M. Martin, E. Walz, R. Callendar, E. Simpson, H. Ernst, E. Schubert, L. Lee, I. Pope, N. McWilliams, K. Shook, A. ## WESLEYANS

The Wesleyans is a small group of college men who plan to enter the ministry or those interested in some field of full-time Christian work. The membership of this group numbers approximately twenty.

Dr. Milton J. Huber serves as advisor to the group, which meets each Friday evening at 10:00 o'clock in the Upper Room of the Westminster Seminary. The first Friday of each month is designated as a business meeting followed by a brief worship service and the other meetings are generally conducted by individual members, thus giving quite a variety of programs.

The Wesleyans recently conducted a deputation at Rev. Bill Cook's church in Curtis Bay. Plans are being made for other deputations after Christmas.

The Wesleyans sometimes join the Wesleyanettes in fellowship and fun, as was done at our Christmas party held at the home of the Welliver's. The Wesleyans worked cooperatively with the Wesleyanettes on the Homecoming project.

During the first semester the organization functioned under the leadership of C. Rill, president; H. Johnson, vice-president; E. Schabert, secretary-treasurer.

WESLEYANETTES

A group of college women interested in either full or part-time Christian service meet every other Friday night in the home of Mrs. Lester Welliver, wife of the President of the Westminster Theological Seminary, who has advised the group for the past three years.

In an effort to understand the different phases of Christian service, speakers from the various fields have spoken to the group in its meetings. Among other activities, the Wesleyanettes prepared a basket for the needy at Christmas time. Together with the Wesleyans they prepared a Homecoming display, and the two groups also went together on deputations to nearby churches.

For the past two years all the girls have enjoyed hearing about Christian work in Japan and Brazil from the two foreign students in the group.

The officers for the year included Doris Reck, president; Rosalie Otto, vice-president, and Betty Niemann, secretary-treasurer.

Kneeling: B. Simpson, T. Kamiyama, C. Neal, M. Earl, N. McWilliams, D. Krug, E. Hohman, R. Cahlander. Seated on steps: K. Nowack, L. Schubert, B. Warner, E. Maytrodt, M. Jane Munsen, J. Spatz, S. ## LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Do you remember the L.S.A. as it entered its third year on the Hill? We held all of our meetings in McDaniel Lounge—except for the wonderful times we had at the Lutheran parsonage in town.

Then there was the spaghetti supper, also at the pastor's home, which everyone enjoyed. For another group project, we sponsored a Fireside program on a Sunday night in January.

To launch our association for the year, we had the October reception in the Lounge, complete with the Death Valley Gang and cider and donuts.

As in previous years, we were capably advised in both our religious and recreational activities by Reverend Elwood Falkenstein, of Grace Lutheran Church in Westminster. Student officers were Anita Fiery, president, and Beth Witzke, secretary.

CANTERBURY CLUB

The Canterbury Club enjoyed another profitable year. This was its fourth on Western Maryland's campus.

Corporate communions and breakfasts and services on special church days brought the members together in worship. At the monthly meetings outside speakers provided interesting talks and discussion materials. Activities included a spaghetti dinner, honorable mention in the Homecoming display prepared in conjunction with the Lutheran and Methodist clubs, and trips to the Episcopal Convent at Catonsville and to the Washington Cathedral. Christmas brought the movie "King of Kings", and the fireside program. The club was represented at the Tri-Diocesan Conference and sponsored an Intercollegiate Conference here on campus.

These were all accomplished with the aid of Reverend Austin Schildwacter and Mr. DeLong. Officers for the year were: Nell Hughes, president; Tom Dryden, vice-president; and Jayne Hisle, secretary-treasurer.

METHODIST STUDENT MOVEMENT

The MSM celebrated its second year of active organization under the auspices of the SCA. This year has brought increased membership and activity. The MSM is a part of a national organization which is divided into regional groups. The region with which our organization is associated held its annual meeting at the Koininea Foundation in Towson, Maryland.

Along with the Canterbury Club and ISA we achieved second place in the Homecoming exhibit. The activities this year have included a lecture given by Dr. Titus, a former missionary to India, a sermon by Edward Wright on the Reformation, and a Christmas Program. Some other outstanding activities are our banquet and a joint meeting with the local MYF. The MSM also introduced a small gold cross pin as its symbol and affiliation with the World Student Christian Association.

We owe much to the guidance of our adviser, Dr. Holthaus, and to the help of Reverend Woodward, minister of the local Methodist Church. Officers for this year were: Paul Thronberg—President, Ruth Lee—vice-president, Beverly Warner—secretary, Elsie Maytrott—treasurer, and Paul Galvin—Freshman representative.

CARROLL CLUB

The Carroll Club enjoyed its second successful year on the Hill in carrying out its three-fold program: religious, educational, and social. The club was organized to meet the spiritual needs of the Catholic students of Western Maryland College.

Father James A. Dwyer, pastor of Saint John's Catholic Church in Westminster, who serves as spiritual advisor and moderator, takes an active interest in the students and club's functions. Professor Bernard J. DeCourcey offers his leadership as faculty advisor. To both of them we extend a vote of thanks.

The club's monthly meetings consist of informal discussions which are usually prompted by questions. Speakers are often secured from Baltimore, to lecture on current problems. The group has grown steadily both in interest and size, and this year established the custom of having two Communion breakfasts.

Officers for the year were: Ina Grice, president; Mike Rentko, vice-president; Margaret Puls, secretary; and Ed Kelley, treasurer.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Western Maryland Girl's Glee Club opened its 1951-52 season by welcoming its new director, Miss Evelyn Lucille Smith.

The first of the Glee Club's concerts was the Christmas program given for the AAUW in McDaniel Lounge and the student body in Baker Chapel. The girls sang a group of folk-carols from many lands.

Pergolesi's beautiful "Stabat Mater" was presented by the 65-girl glee club during the Easter Season. This work describes Mary's suffering as she watched her son die on the cross.

As its final contribution to the fine music of WMC, the Glee Club presented its Spring Concert. The program included madrigals from the 17th century, religious music from the 18th century, a Liszt number from the 19th century, and modern works from the 20th century.

The Glee Club of this year proved, beyond a doubt, its capacity, for a high standard of achievement; in the Glee Club of the future lies the great potential of an organization of girls—any girls—who are willing to give, in order to receive.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Observing the interest in the men's glee club sustained in the past years only through student enthusiasm, Mr. Oliver K. Spangler of the music faculty organized the first formal group of this kind on the Hill.

In October, 1951, an invitation was extended to all men interested in participating with the club, and within a short time a schedule of weekly rehearsals was planned. A program of Christmas Carols was mastered. This Yuletide program was presented for the Sunday School and for a Westminster Rotary Club meeting at the Carroll Hotel. The concert was repeated, on the Wednesday evening preceding Christmas recess, in the form of a caroling serenade beneath the windows of the women's dormitories.

Throughout the winter and spring months the club remained active, giving concerts and enlarging its repertoire. They prepared songs of many types including classic and religious compositions as well as popular and folk songs of modern times.

Several quartets formed appearing as separate groups and as part of the club.

THE COLLEGE CHOIR

Easily distinguished by the brown folders of music they carry, the 62 members of the choir are seen headed in the direction of the music hall every Thursday night for practice. Their weekly performances in the chapel service under the direction of Mr. Alfred DeLong and the accompaniment of Mr. Oliver Spangler include sacred music of all faiths and countries and other traditional selections.

Outstanding during the year was the annual Christmas program which included a number of folk carols. The choirsters were assisted in two of the carols by the instrumental accompaniments of John Suckling, flute, Karl Yount, violin, Kay McLaughlin, cello. The Dramatic Art Department also participated with its performance of a Christmas play. As a grand climax to its Yuletide presentation, the choir accompanied by both organ and piano, sang the majestic "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah". Ending a successful and satisfying season, the College Choir presented Brahms' "Requiem".

COLLEGE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The following eight students from the eighteenth conducting class took part in directing the Little Symphony Orchestra in an assembly program on Monday morning, January 14, in Alumni Hall: The Star Spangled Banner, with the assembly joining in the singing, was directed by Donald M. Smith; Overture in Italian style, Corelli, directed by Barbara Baumgardner; Passe-Pied, Gillet-Reibold, directed by Pat Biddle; Bear Dance; Bartok, directed by Betty Brandenburg; Ecossaise, Beethoven, directed by Donald M. Smith; Processional from "Peter and the Wolfe", Prokofieff, directed by Mary Belle Shawn; Gavotte, Bach, directed by Paul Dawson; Largo from "The New World Symphony", Dvorak, directed by Stan Bowsbey; The Great Gate, Moussorgsky, directed by Paul S. Thronburg.

The twenty-first annual Spring Concert included the Egmont Overture and Symphony No. I, by Beethoven. The orchestra also accompanied the Carroll County High School Chorus of three hundred and fifty voices in a concertized version of the opera "The Bohemian Girl" for the twenty-fifth annual Eisteddfod program. A fourth and final performance of the orchestra was given for the commencement program in June.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

On the second Monday evening of every month students interested in French gathered for an informal meeting in McDaniel Hall Lounge. These meetings of Le Cercle Francais are under the sponsorship of Miss Margaret Snader and provide an opportunity to employ knowledge of French in a social setting. Betty Lou Kellner was president this year. Thomas Douglas, better known as the "Veep", was vice-president, Priscilla Johnston was the secretary, and Larry Taylor was treasurer.

The club activities began with a cleverly done one-act play, as always, and a Fête des Chansons high-lighted the December program. This traditional, beautiful Christmas carol program included many lovely solos and the reading of the Biblical Christmas story in French.

The second semester there were also held many interesting programs including the hilarious bingo and bridge party and dancing à la Française. And as usual, the semester ended with an accomplished presentation of one of the masterpieces of French drama.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The I.R.C. is interested in foreign affairs and the disposition of our government in the matter of meeting the every day demands of international intercourse. In keeping with this interest the club began its activities with a talk by Mr. David Young of the Class of 1947. This veteran of World War II told something of his experiences as a Red Cross worker in Korea in recent months. In another meeting Professor Douglas R. Chandler, of the Westminster Theological Seminary, related his observations while visiting England and western Europe last summer.

An other time Mr. Chuck Immler showed colored pictures that he had taken while with the U. S. Army in Japan. The December meeting was devoted to a discussion of the question of continuing aid to our potential allies in Europe and the near East.

On January 21, 1952, the I.R.C. brought to the Hill Mr. James Bristol of the Friends Service Committee. He participated in a panel discussion on the topic "Approaches to International Policy."

W.A.A. BOARD

Once again the W.A.A. Board made an earnest effort to maintain enthusiasm in girls' athletics and to instill in all of the women students its ideals of good sportsmanship and love of sports. The club indeed has been very successful in achieving its aims and has initiated a new award.

This newly adopted award is a cup which is awarded to the class that earns the highest number of points. A system which takes into account sportsmanship, participation, and wins, losses, and ties of games in each season sports determines the recipient of the cup. Each year the winning class will have its name engraved on the cup and it is hoped that the trophy will inspire greater participation and enthusiasm in the intramural program and also that it will gain a prominent show place on campus.

The club decided to have recognition keys for each board member in an endeavor to make the association and who its members are better known on the Hill.

CAMERA CLUB

The Camera Club is an organization which endeavors to stimulate a lively and worthwhile interest in the field of photography. Under the sponsorship of Dean Free and able leadership of Ernie Greene, president, Mrs. Essom, vice-president, and Billie Niemeyer as secretary and Dave Rhoads as treasurer, the photography club began its fourteenth year on the Hill.

By means of illustrated slide lectures, demonstrations and talks, we studied the basic principles of picture taking, developing and enlarging. Adequate facilities for use by any club members were provided in our dark room in the basement of McKinstry Hall. A gala hot-dog roast was given by Dean and Mrs. Free before we really got underway.

Early in the fall Colonel Redfield spoke on his experiences with photography, telling us the equipment and processes used in taking each of the photographs on display.

As our big Christmas project we made Christmas cards of different winter scenes on the Hill and for the spring we plan a trip through picturesque parts of Maryland.

MAJORETTES

In spite of its relatively recent addition to the Hill, the Majorette Corps has proudly won a place among the Western Maryland College traditions. This year's corps holds special esteem since it shares in the privilege of entertaining and adding to the spirits of our undefeated football team.

The four smiling lassies, all of them veterans, nimbly strutted before the band attired in their colorful green and gold satin uniforms. Numerous twirling and step routines were ably executed by the girls in which they artfully used their bright, flashing batons.

Besides making their appearance on the football field, the Majorettes also made a fine showing at the Pep Rallies and in the parades downtown. Under the leadership of Ina Grice, the girls never failed to show their pep and spirit. Cold weather and even snow, which they marched in on Homecoming Day, did not stilt the actions of these vivacious gals.

CHEERLEADERS

Be it football or basketball season, fair weather or foul you'll find the W. M. Cheerleaders right on the job cheering the team on to victory. Late on many fall afternoons you may have heard the TEAM or Terror yell being practised by these hard-working girls in Robinson Garden, so you see it took more than just the mere ability to yell to make a good appearance at the games.

We started the football season off with wonderful WMC spirit as we rose from our seats to sing "Win Western Maryland" at the pre-Gettysburg pep rally. From that moment on we were constantly reminded of the following Saturday's game by the after-dinner rallies on the porch of Old Main, and the parades downtown.

Pep, spunk and enthusiasm, three very contagious elements when placed before a crowd of spectators, have made it possible to say that the Western Maryland rooters, led on by their cheerleaders, are the loudest and most enthusiastic to be found anywhere.

THE GOLD BUG

Tuesday night! The GOLD BUG is ready for distribution! No one stopped to think of all the plans, toil, and school spirit which lay behind the scenes of these seemingly trite words.

Editor-in-chief Stan Bowsbey wearing out shoes plodding to the printer week after week; Jane McLeod, managing editor, coordinating the work of the various departments and gaining experience which proved invaluable when she became editor-in-chief the second semester; Jim Muller burning the midnight oil, filling the waste can with ideals until at last the "hunch" came for the always excellent Hill-arity cartoon; Business manager Jack Loper chasing after ads, collecting bills, trying to balance the budget with less income and higher expenses; the page editors pasting, cutting, headlining; Mr. Edgar Royer, the printer in charge of setting up the paper, rendering inestimable advice.

Yes, these "insignificant" details made the Gold Bug a paper that every WMC student could claim with pride as his voice, his representative—his paper.

Bottom to top: M. Hawkins, D. Lien, J. Dixon, D. Makosky, J. Lambert, C. Hammaker, C. Schofield, M. Beebe, D. Shoemaker, N. Smith, E. Early, K. McLaughlin.

ALOHA

After we finally decided that we couldn't put everything into our yearbook, we set about the tremendous task of eliminating. Those of us who have known the burning of midnight oil, and the neglecting of many other things, realize the amount of work and worry that lies behind the printed page. We owe a great deal to you . . . the students, Dr. Marshall, Don Makosky (the ever steady hand), the entire staff, and Mary "never say die" Hawkins. Our tribulations were many, but we don't want you to get the idea that we didn't enjoy it. We hunted for something a little different, and though we don't expect all of you to agree, we think we came through with that different approach.

We really battled the elements there for awhile, but we managed to survive exams, measles, and even practice teaching. As a senior publication, it is only right that we include those underclassmen who weathered the gale with us, and many times helped us keep the ship afloat. The 1952 ALOHA initiated the procedure of including numerous underclassmen on the staff, and we feel that the venture was well worth while. We especially thank Barbara Bankson, Essie Zies and Sally Fisher.

It is with pleasure and pride that we bundle up the 1952 ALOHA and send it to the printers. Thanks go to all of you for making this book possible. We hope it is worth your while.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club strives to serve as a social organization for home-ec majors. Some of the programs are planned to bring in subject matter which is not touched upon in the classroom.

Our first meeting of the year was held in the Home Management House with Jinny, Tip, Mickey, Herma, and Nancy acting as hostesses.

While our homecoming display didn't win first prize, we all had lots of fun working on the large frying pan with the Drexel dragon in the center. The slogan—"Let's fry their hides on the gridiron."

In November we had as speaker a beauty counsellor from New York who told us how to "Put your best face forward."

The fall meeting of the Maryland College Clubs was held in Washington at the National Headquarters of the American Home Economics Association. Several members attended the meeting and had a very memorable day.

One of our most enjoyable meetings was a demonstration on cake decorating by a prominent baker. Everyone became so interested they forgot to go home until three hours later.

As springtime came around we had a fashion show in McDaniel Lounge. The sophomores modeled their dresses and blouses; the seniors, their suits and coats.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Adding New England blood to our veins in the personage of Mr. Bernard De Courcy, the Future Teachers of America surged forward to accomplish their many goals. With the aid of a program committee and frequent Grille sessions, interesting, worthwhile, and entertaining programs were planned.

One of our early programs featured an audio-visual aids specialist, Mr. William Neelands of Social Security's Training Division, Baltimore. As a result of conflicting I.R.C. and F.T.A. meeting hours, a compromise was finally reached and we enjoyed several joint sessions. One of these sessions included the famous debate between the pacifist and Dr. Theodore Whitfield. Another F.T.A. meeting featured a panel discussion with two teachers, former students of W.M.C.

In February, the spotlight was focused upon developing F.T.A. interests in our own county high schools as well as those in adjacent counties. Members of these schools met on campus to share and gain ideas of developing F.T.A. high school clubs. Our college F.T.A. showed off its variety of talents proving well that education can have its humorous elements.

One of our definite projects was the formation of an F.T.A. Club in our neighboring community of Taneytown.

Somewhere, somehow—a few of us found time to create a Homecoming display, the theme of which was progressive education in action, but we did not forget the little red school house. Even from under a blanket of snow, our modern teacher raised her head to meet that same spirit of the terror football team.

Also, our club is proudly represented in the state F.T.A. organization. Our state officers are Imogene Weybright and Libby Schubert.

In spite of their time-consuming activities, not excluding the education classes, Dr. Sarah Smith and Mr. Joseph Bailer have helped us to steer the club. It may have taken some high-handed pressure, but even the hard-hit education students got their dues paid. However, our just reward was received through the gaining and sharing of ideas concerning our teaching profession.

Those of us who are leaving wish the best success to the officers and members of 1952-1953.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Freshman orientation week found the Student Government Council busily preparing the foundation on which to build this year's activities under the leadership of Martin Tullai, president; Libby Schubert, vice-president; Tom Page, treasurer; and Marvina Munch, secretary.

The council had been occupied during the summer in compiling the Student Handbook, which is invaluable to students, particularly Freshmen. "Terror" desk blotters had been planned, printed, and were distributed to the students on their arrival at WMC.

In an attempt to foster closer cooperation between the individual student, campus organization, and the council. The policy of having class representatives report S. G. A. activities was initiated. In addition, students were kept informed of their government's activities and plans through a Gold Bug column, bulletin board notices and general assemblies.

One of the first council sponsored innovations this year was an athletic reception committee. The committees' duty is to greet and aid visiting athletic teams.

Under the leadership of S. G. A., individuals and campus organizations cooperated to make Homecoming one of the most successful in Western Maryland's history. Despite a surprise snowfall, projects rose to embellish our campus and an eighteen unit parade wound its way through Westminster to Hoffa field.

The council's main project of the year was attempting to obtain an informal lounge for student's use. It was felt that such a lounge was needed for relaxation, club meetings, and informal recreation. As yet plans are in the tentative stage, but it is hoped the lounge will become a reality by next year.

Spring found S. G. A. busily preparing for its sponsored concert by the Baltimore City College Glee Club. Planning a beautiful and effective May Day ended the council's major activities for the year. The success of May Day was an indication of the achievements the council had made in organizing campus groups and individual students for the benefit of all.

In the new council office the Student Government has formulated ideas and plans for its major activities. This year's council has attempted to provide a solid basis on which next year's campus leaders can build an effective organization capable of directing student activities, entertaining suggestions and criticisms and serving as a liaison between students and administration.

TRUMPETERS

Last May, the Junior girls gathered on the President's lawn for a traditional ceremony—the tapping of the Trumpeters. Kay McLaughlin, Corinne Schofield and Libby Schubert were chosen to wear the Trumpeter Badge for the year 1951-1952. Each year one to five Senior women are selected on a point basis according to leadership in extra-curricular activities. They are rated on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and citizenship. The purpose is to encourage leadership and participation in extra-curricular activities on the college campus.

Their first official job was assisting with the Freshman Orientation Program. Kay, Corinne, Libby, and their sponsor, Dr. Isabelle Isanogle, met with the new women students and explained the organization and its motto "For if the trumpet gives an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself for the battle?"

With Dean Free's help, the Trumpeters and some Junior girls decorated the dining halls for the Christmas Banquet.

Spring came again and it was time to tap the junior women, bestowing the academic cap and gown as a symbol of the honor. They will be the Trumpeters for the class of 1953.

THE COLLEGE PLAYERS

To the audience which views our productions, the life behind the footlights may seem to be an exciting, glamorous one, filled with thoughts of grease paint and applause. But to the members of the College Players, these moments in the light make up only a small part of the memories we carry away with us after graduation.

Time stands foremost in our recollections—time spent studying parts, rehearsing till late hours, painting scenery, making costumes, and collecting props. Precious minutes stolen from other activities, time in which we should be writing term papers or attending sorority meetings. But all other activities are abandoned during the production of a play. We gripe about it, but it is never the dramatics which we think of giving up!

When we look back on the past year, we can't help being a little proud of what we've accomplished. Who can ever forget the rollicking tramps and cheeky, charming old people of Silver Whistle? At Christmas, we turned to a humble, reverent theme with the moving Heart of Mary. In the spring, the Juniors shown in two delightful comedies, The Wandering Scholar and Opera Matinee, and O'Neill's gripping, maddening tragedy Ile. We closed the year by going back to 1845 to tell the story of The Barretts of Wimpole Street.

Any small pride in our own achievements turns to humble gratitude for those who are never seen, but without whom we would be nothing. For "Prof" Bailey, who executes miracles in his downstairs domain and enhances our acting with exquisitely right scenery and expert lighting, we have the greatest admiration and appreciation. Our thanks also go to Harry McCrone, a former graduate, who assists Don with the lights.

But the most important person, the guiding spirit of our College Players, the one who makes us tick, is Miss Esther Smith. Friend, confidant, and critic, she gives us the power to rise above our ability. It is she, whose vocabulary does not include the word "amateur", who makes our work come alive because she has faith that we can make it so. She tackles each play with the determination that it be better than the last. Miss Smith has never failed the college yet, and her students think she never will. Thus, year after year, her graduates return, sure that the play they see performed will be even better than those of their memories.

Behind the

Those of us who are seniors in the dramatic art department have often taken a long look backwards, perhaps to help us know what we have to live up to. As seniors we remember Mama, Blübe Spirit, George Apley, and most recently, the Madwoman. We approached the fall of the year, and all of us wondered what the play would be. We knew that we would have to put everything into it to even compare with the production of the Madwoman. The Silver Whistle was a comedy and all of us fell hopelessly in love with Mr. Erwinter. Because it was a comedy we worked

As senior students we leave Western Maryland's dramatic art classes, but we feel that we are taking a great deal with us. More than that, we are leav-

Who's

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges nominated ten students from the Senior Class to represent the college in its national annual publication. The students are selected on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership in extra-curricular activities and potentiality for future usefulness in society.

The students chosen this year were: Stan Bowsbey, Mary Hawkins, Millard LesCallette, Jack Loper, Donald Makosky, Kay McLaughlin, Corinne Schofield, Elizabeth Schubert and Martin Tullai. Among the activities in which they have participated are the Student Government Association, Student Christian Association, honorary societies, campus publications, sororities and fraternities and athletics.

A biographical sketch of each nominee will appear in the publication covering the college activities and interests of each one. Also the students will have the use of the Students Placement Service which furnishes recommendation to employers and graduate schools and they may wear the honorary key.

The 1952

Spring was especially beautiful on the Hill this year, and May Day was magnificent. In keeping with tradition, the May Queen and her court welcomed spring to all the earth. The festivities were gay and light-hearted, including dances and songs from many lands. May Day, as always, was highlighted by the Pan Hellenic dance which is held in the evening at Gill Gym.

"KNIPP" has stood for Quality since 1868

Since 1890—
A Maryland Tradition

Maryland's heritage is one of fine homes, gracious living, and generations of great citizens, many of whom have and are contributing materially to the growth and welfare of the nation.

Since 1890, it has been our proud and happy privilege to be accepted into the finest of Maryland homes. This acceptance has grown with the State and with the generations we have helped nurture into gracious womanhood and stalwart manhood.
