WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE
WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND

CHARLES R. FOUTZ, JR.
Westminster, Maryland

Purchasing Agent for Western Maryland College, Manager of the Grille, Manager of the Book Store, and Clerk in Charge of the Post Office.

Mr. Foutz . . . A W.M.C. tradition in himself . . . Characterized by a bow tie and a smile . . . The man who always follows the call: "Man in the Hall!" in girls' dorms . . . Campus handy-man . . . Uncanny memory for names . . . A friend to all: dumb animals, students, and faculty.

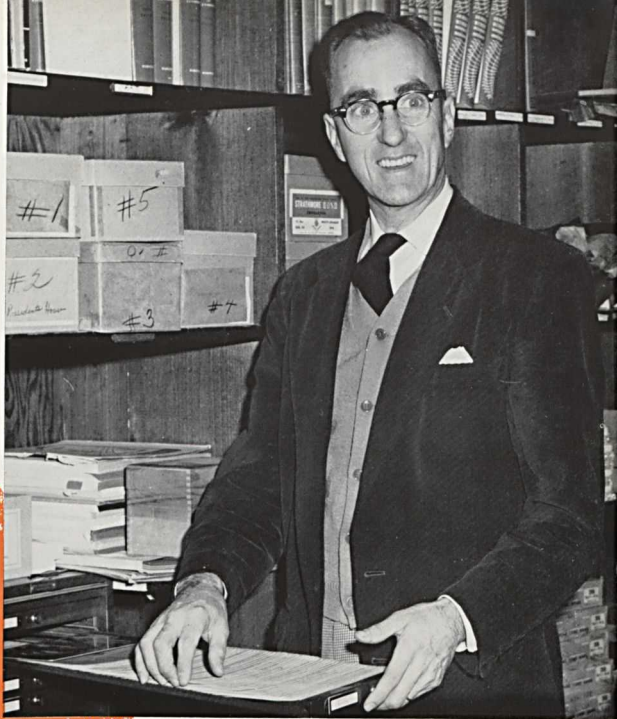

Dedication

There will always be an unsung hero on a battlefield or college campus: the man who prepares the way for the hero or the man who makes the college one to be remembered. Mr. Charles R. Foutz, Jr., can deservedly claim this title at Western Maryland College.

Mr. Foutz directs one of the most popular courses on the Hill. His classes are informal, informative, and interesting. In fact, during his many years as head instructor for the Grille Department at W.M.C., few students have been known to cut his classes.

Through his various positions as Manager of the Book Store, Clerk in Charge of the Post Office, Manager of the Grille, and Purchasing Agent for W.M.C., Mr. Foutz has become well known by all of the students. Freshmen know him before they know where Levine Hall is.

Upperclassmen know him as the mechanical genius who fixes broken Coke machines and juke boxes. They know him as a financial wizard when military checks come in and as the philanthropist who lowered coffee prices in the Grille.

Mr. Foutz has become a tradition at this, his and our Alma Mater. Friendliness and personal interest keynote all the activities which he undertakes. He is indeed an unsung hero who has enriched life at Western Maryland College for all of us.

It is only fitting that we, the class of 1955, should dedicate this our yearbook to Mr. Charles R. Foutz, Jr., the personification of the spirit of Western Maryland College.

President's Message

The Class of 1955 has my very best wishes as you tuck your sheepskins under your arms and leave the "Hill" as alumni of Western Maryland College. That sheepskin represents a lot of hard work—both by you and by your professors. Has it been worth the effort? Your professors think so, because they are devoting their lives to young people, and part of their reward is the pride they have had in your intellectual and cultural growth during your college career. Its real worth, however, will be determined by what happens from now on—whether you can take this foundation of a good liberal arts education and erect upon it a structure of successful living in whatever area of activity you may embark.

Your Alma Mater will follow with interest the careers of her sons and daughters of 1955.

College ties can ne'er be broken,
Formed at W.M.C.
Far surpassing wealth unspoken,
Ever may they be.

Very sincerely,

LOWELL S. ENSOR, President

Senior Class

We stand now, after four hard years, at the brink of graduation. Strange isn't it; each of us thought at one time or another that he'd never make it.

As Freshmen, we entered Western Maryland like lions. We got in the way at the Vetville fire, lost the tug of war, and had a championship football team. We stayed up all night to catch Hopkins vandals and got out early for Christmas. Couldn't wait to start the next year. This was college!

Our sophomore year was tougher. Where was Dean Free, and who was this new guy? Ike was elected. We snarled at the Freshmen and then lost the tug of war. Hell night came and went. We revolted against the Administration; Charles Laughton spoke; and we got our worst marks. College!

Then we were Juniors. Some of our friends didn't make it; others took their places. Still no new dorm. We had more to do, did less, and attained the legal age. Dr. Marshall was in Greece. We became the officers in our clubs and got paid for ROTC. Then the flag raising rebellion which got us nowhere. This was college?

Our senior year found us as the campus leaders. Finally the new highway was opened. Old Main survived Hurricane Hazel. Coffee prices in the Grille were lowered to eight cents, and late leaves were extended to eleven-fifteen. We practice taught, played Frisby, got engaged, hated school, and counted the days till graduation.

Before long Spring came with Graduate Record Exams, Investiture, Lantern Chain, and the Rose Cup Ceremony. We bought our uniforms; we rented our caps and gowns. Then it was over—over so soon. This was college, and it was great! In spite of ourselves, we have learned a lot; in spite of our complaining, we have had the greatest times of our lives.

Who's Who

Eleven members of the Class of '55 were selected to represent Western Maryland in the annual publication Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. These students were selected on a basis of scholarship, leadership in extra-curricular activities, citizenship and service to the college, and potentiality as future contributors to society.

Among the activities in which these students participated are the Student Government Association, Student Christian Association, campus publications, honorary societies, social sororities and fraternities, and dramatic and musical productions.

Each of these seniors will have a biographical sketch in the Who's Who publication giving his interests, abilities, and accomplishments. This honor also entitles him to the use of the organization's placement bureau, which furnishes recommendations to employers and graduate schools, and to the privilege of wearing the honorary key.

Junior Class

Mark Twain once wrote a story entitled "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County." The plot of this story centers around the famed green haunches of a certain amphibian christened Dan'l, who was entered in a jumping contest with a common marsh frog. The champion, unbeknownst to his master, was filled to the chin with quail shot. When his big moment came, Dan'l was unable to budge one inch.

Consequently, Brother Leonidas, owner of the celebrated jumping frog, lost forty dollars and three of the Ten Commandments, but when he inverted Dan'l, he gained a "double handful of shot."

MORAL: After three years of being weighted down with required courses and extra-curricular initiations, we frogs of '56 are beginning to be "inverted." Early in the fall, the shot poured its weight on new sorority and fraternity pledges, bounced gracefully into dramatics, the playing field, concrete religious affirmations, the GOLD BUG, and non-political parties at Frock's. The final shakedown came with Junior plays, Junior Follies, 1956 ALOHA staff, and the highest posts in SGA, SCA, and other campus organizations.

In the unfinished process somebody probably lost more than forty dollars on us, but when we began concentrating in our major fields, those dollars seemed less important. Fathers murmured through poorhouse bars: "I've made it through three years—guess one more can't be too much worse." And tired mothers strapped up more battered laundry boxes.

Thanks to three years' "edercation" in the backyard, our better "p'int's" are ready to be next year's seniors.

The shot has been removed.

Sophomore Class

Some Western Maryland sage once said, "The first four years are the hardest." As freshmen we found such wisdom hard to comprehend; for we thought that surely no year could be so bad as the first year. We do not find this theory so difficult to believe now that we have reached the half-way mark in college. By this time, we have been known to quote this Western Marylander, and to openly admire his sagacity.

Needless to say, we have not allowed the stress and strain of studies to bar us from having many good times. There have been occasions when studies might very well have been labeled "extracurricular activities". A look at the records would, without a doubt, provide evidence that our class did not make much honorable academic history during the weeks of sorority and fraternity initiations. The impact of initiation long since forgotten and studying resumed, the activities involved with the various clubs kept our social calendars satisfactorily full.

As the year progressed, we began to function more as a whole. Group work appears to be the inevitable behavior pattern of the typical sophomore class; perhaps it is the end result of everyone's need for confidence during the Dark Ages of the sophomore year. Misery does love company!

Through the gloom of the past, we now look forward to a brand new year which holds innumerable interests and tasks for our class.

As with anything else, our sophomore year takes on a rosier tint as it fades into the past. In fact, we anticipate the day in the future when we can say, "Now when I was a sophomore . . ."

Freshman Class

September 16, 1954, is a date that will be remembered by all of the class of 1958. That is the day when we launched our careers as college men and women here on the Hill.

The Freshman Advisory Council made us feel at home by its many guided tours and lectures about the wonders of campus life. The upper classmen on campus let us bask in a mood of self importance until the following Monday when they received reinforcements from their returning ranks.

Suddenly Rat Rules were in effect, and we were plunged from the pedestals which we had built for ourselves into the underground boroughs of the rat kingdom. For a while we endured beanies and extra miles of hiking caused by restricted walks and doors. Needless to say some of us tired of the game, especially after our fourth time before the Rat Rule Committee. When the rules went out of effect at the Homecoming game, once again the freshman class was restored to the society of the human race.

Thus indoctrinated, the class of 1958 went on to greater things. We had no trouble finding beauty with which to grace the Homecoming and May Day Courts. Every time the season for a new sport rolled around our boys came through to represent our class well.

Midterm and semester grades have shown our class to be scholastically fit, although admittedly this took hours of diligent cramming and the gain of not a few grey hairs. A Pep Rally, a Fireside, and many organizational productions have demonstrated the talent of our class.

Indeed, we are proud of our achievements and hope the list of our accomplishments will grow to honor the class of 1958.

Homecoming Court

One of the main attractions of Homecoming here at Western Maryland is the presentation of the Homecoming Court. As the 1954 Homecoming Queen, Meta Justice played her part as the experienced beauty queen she is. The beauty of her attendants helped to heighten the splendor of the day and made the students of Western Maryland College proud to present to the world their Homecoming Court of 1954.

Homecoming

It was just like any other day at first. Spirits were low. Students complained about the weather. Rain was sure to ruin their displays. Old grads could never remember a worse day. Prospects for winning the game were slight. Parents didn't know whether to make the long trip.

As the sun came out, spirits rose accordingly. Displays were put out. Old grads could never remember a prettier day. Parents began to arrive. And to make the day complete, the Terrors won a hard-fought game to maintain WMC's record of never losing at Homecoming.

Spirits were never higher!

THE CONCERT SERIES

Western Maryland's 1954-1955 concert series consisted of two presentations to which students were admitted free of charge.

Occurring in November, the first concert presented the Western Maryland Choir singing a Rogers and Hammerstein program with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. This program was later repeated in Baltimore and Washington.

Early in February, the National Symphony Orchestra presented its annual concert at Western Maryland. The program was comprised of the "Roman Carnival Overture" by Berlioz, Haydn's "Symphony No. 96, in D Major," Smetana's "The Moldau," and "Symphony No. 1, in C Minor" by Brahms.

The moment of suspense—What is for dinner?

To all Western Maryland College graduates and students, the very words "dining hall" have many unpleasant connotations. To many of us, these words meant: seemingly endless hours of waiting in line to rescue our special tables from the clutches of the freshmen, the physically exhausting charge through the doors, and the long meditative graces followed by the "homecooking" of Western Maryland chefs.

Rabbits never had it so good.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Government Association is a combination of the Men's Council and the Women's Council. The Cabinet has nineteen acting members representing each class and dormitory.

During Orientation Week, the SGA worked with the Freshman Advisory Council and the Student Christian Association to help the freshmen get settled in their new home on the "Hill". At that time, the "Terror" blotters were distributed to the students and faculty by the Student Government.

This year the SGA had complete charge of the Rec Hall and its equipment. The administration and the SGA put into effect the first set of traffic regulations. This helped the traffic congestion on the college roads a great deal. A Traffic Court was set up so students could have a place to appeal their traffic cases and pay their fines. Under the leadership of the SGA Cabinet, the campus organizations went all out to make the Homecoming parade and displays a colorful sight. At Christmas, the Rec Hall was decorated and a lighted tree was placed in front of Old Main. Spring found the Women's Council working hard on May Day to make it one of the highlights of the year.

The student body was kept aware of the Cabinet's doings by way of a column in the GOLD BUG, general assemblies, and the posting of minutes.

In the new meeting place, courtesy of the Education Department, the Cabinet looks back on a busy and productive year. They have tried to stress the student in government and hope they have been successful.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Student Christian Association is a non-denominational organization under student leadership, to meet the spiritual needs on the campus and in the community. It governs all the religious groups and activities on the "Hill."

If there has been any noticeable spiritual accomplishment made by this group, the praise must be given to the convictions, the dedications, and the energies put forth by the countless SCA'ers who love the Lord and who worked so diligently this past year to try to bring the Kingdom of God closer to the hearts of the students at Western Maryland.

The Christian Faith and Heritage Commission stressed the meaning of "faith" in our times, planned the weekly programs and the Christmas Candlelight Communion. The World Relatedness Commission sponsored the Student-Faculty basketball game, the WUS Bazaar, and the WUS Fund Drive. The Shipwreck Dance and the Fireside Programs were organized by the Personal and Campus Affairs Commission. Programs on racial relations and religious faiths, and community service projects were planned by the Social Responsibility Commission.

The SCA took over the leadership of all the colleges in the Baltimore area under the Student Christian Movement when its president, Alan Hagenbuch was elected chairman of District IV. Other programs undertaken were a Bible Study Group and the formulation of a theme for the Student Christian Movement Conference: "Where Are You?" The annual Religious Emphasis Week this year was under the leadership of the Reverend George Harper who was assisted by Francis Molesworth and Ira Zepp.

CANTERBURY CLUB

The aim of the Canterbury Club is to promote fellowship among the Episcopal students on the Hill. The club began the year with its annual picnic at Harvey Stone Park. Communion on special days in the Chapel and Communion Breakfasts on several Sundays brought the members together in worship. Outside speakers provided the group with interesting talks and discussions. Activities for the year included a service project, the annual spaghetti dinner, a trip to the convent at Catonsville, and representation at the Tri-Diocesan Conference in Washington.

The Reverend Austin Schildevacter and Mr. deLong helped the group plan its activities.

METHODIST STUDENT MOVEMENT

The MSM used as one of its topics this year, "Understanding the new concept of the Christian mission as a personal responsibility to make Christ known on all frontiers and call men to serve him." The group contributed to Meals for Millions and World Student Christian Federation, sent out deputations for Sunday morning services, attended the Regional Conference Workshop, and held an annual banquet at the Methodist Church in Westminster.

The officers were: Irma Lee Hohmann, president; Howard Shores, vice-president; Mary West Pitts, secretary; and Paul Ensor, treasurer. Dr. Ferguson, a professor at the seminary, is the advisor.

BAPTIST STUDENT MOVEMENT

The BSU is a group of Baptist students on campus who have organized to share their Christian faith, fellowship, and fun.

At the first meeting the speaker was Mr. Frank Lumpkin, secretary of the Maryland State Mission Board, who spoke on BSU activities throughout the country and particularly in the state of Maryland. The meeting was closed with an informal get-acquainted-time supplemented by refreshments. Other activities of the Club included participation in the Fall and Summer Retreats of the Maryland BSU and conducting a morning chapel service on the "Hill."

Officers for the club were: Lou Manarin, president; Dick Shenton, vice-president; and Joyce Harrington, secretary.

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The Lutheran Student Association provides study, worship, and fellowship for Lutheran students. The year was launched with a picnic in Harvey Stone Park to welcome our new members. Throughout the year, several well-known speakers attended the meetings and added much to the knowledge of the group. Among the other activities sponsored by the club were our Christmas party, a spaghetti dinner, and a movie. A picnic at Pine Grove Furnace ended the year.

The officers were Dottie Rach, president, and Joan Luckabaugh, secretary-treasurer.

The Lutheran Student Association is one of the newer and smaller organizations of the campus. But its activities rate it among the best of the religious clubs.

THE CARROLL CLUB

This year marked the fifth successful year for the Carroll Club at WMC. Patterned on the plan of the Catholic Newman Clubs which function on many college campuses, the Carroll Club sought to meet the spiritual needs of Catholic students at Western Maryland College, and to establish a worthwhile fellowship among its members. Its program included activities of a religious, educational, and social nature.

The club's monthly meetings consisted of informal discussions which were usually prompted by students' questions. These discussions served as a means to exchange ideas and to receive interesting instruction on matters pertaining to the Catholic faith.

WESTMINSTER FELLOWSHIP

The Presbyterian students united for the first time into a group for a closer, more meaningful Christian fellowship with members of their denomination. An invitation to unite with the group was extended to members of the Congregational and Evangelical and Reformed Churches. Reverend Robert Oerter spoke at the opening meeting on November 10.

Many underprivileged areas of Westminster enjoyed the wonderful carolling just before Christmas. Other activities for the year included speakers from Baltimore and Washington and discussions on the meaning of Christianity to each individual student.

The officers were: Virginia Quinn, president; Barbara Smith, vice-president; Marjorie Pott, secretary-treasurer.

The Wesleyans are Christian young men united to provide an opportunity to witness for Christ. The purposes are attaining a knowledge of the Bible and formulating a practical theology for intelligent Christian living.

The officers were: Charles Clarke, Jr., president; Paul Galvin, vice-president; Harold McClay, secretary-treasurer; and Buddy Pipes and Paul Galvin, transportation chairmen.

The activities of the Wesleyans this year consisted of visitations to Christian assemblies in Baltimore and other nearby areas, deputations and preaching teams to country churches, and a campaign to raise money for CARE packages to be sent to a mission station in the Belgian Congo.

WESLEYANETTES

The Wesleyanettes are an active, interdenominational group of college women—interested in missionary and service work, who meet at the home of their advisor and friend, Mrs. Douglas Chandler.

This year opened with the traditional Candlelight Service. The Marshmallow Roast at Harvey Stone was cancelled because of Hurricane Hazel. In November, the special speaker was Don Stanton, who spoke on the World Council of Churches at Evanston, Illinois.

Fun and fellowship were the keynotes of all the activities. Joining with the Wesleyans, the farewell banquet was held in May, bringing to a close another year's activities on the Hill.

THE OCTETTE

The Girl's Octette was organized in 1950 for the TV Talent Tussle in which it took first place. Since then the group has been called upon to perform for many functions both on and off the campus. Its religious and secular music can be heard at teas, Chapel, and many other functions.

The Octette is particularly unique because it is probably the only musical organization on campus which works alone with a student accompanist and a student director. This year these offices were filled by Beverly Parsons.

SUNDAY FELLOWSHIP

The Sunday Fellowship is provided for men and women of all denominations. The programs this year put an emphasis on student participation in its weekly meetings. An interesting and informative series of services were conducted by various groups and denominations under the Student Christian Association. Numerous pre-ministerial students also conducted our Sunday morning meetings.

At the World University Service bazaar, the fellowship sponsored a weight guessing booth. All proceeds of this bazaar go to students here and abroad.

The presidency was filled by Al Wahlers and Millie MacDonald served as secretary-treasurer. Dr. Charles Crain is the faculty adviser.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Men's Glee Club is under the direction of Professor Oliver Spangler and is open to any male student who enjoys group singing.

The traditional Christmas Carol Program outside of the dorms and the Spring Concert in Alumni Hall highlighted this year's activities. Occasionally the club relieved the choir in Chapel services. It sang frequently for the various churches, civic groups, schools, and colleges in Maryland and near-by states.

Our programs included a wide variety of music, both spiritual and secular, in addition to instrumental and voice solos from the talented members of the club.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Women's Glee Club is composed of sixty members under the direction of Mrs. J. Neal Hering with Miss Irma Lee Hohmann as accompanist. The annual Christmas concert consisting of carols from many countries was presented in McDaniel Lounge for the American Association of University Women. Portions of this program were repeated at the County Home during the week before Christmas. The Spring Concert included a group of early 16th and 17th century madrigals and some arrangements of traditional carols and folk tunes.

For many years the College Choir has played a major part in campus life on the Hill. The College Choir highlighted its year by participating in a Rogers and Hammerstein program with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Massimo Freccia. Its Christmas program, done in collaboration with the Dramatic Art Department, was composed of carols from many nations. The spring performance concluded a wonderful year of music.

The College Choir is under the direction of Professor Alfred deLong and is accompanied by Professor Oliver K. Spangler and Patricia Hammersly.

THE LITTLE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The college orchestra, under the direction of Philip Royer, affords an opportunity for students and faculty members alike to keep in practice upon their chosen orchestral instruments and to become familiar with a variety of orchestral compositions.

During the year the orchestra gave two major concerts and assisted with the Carroll County

Music Festival. On January twelfth student conductors presented a concert during an assembly period in Alumni Hall. On April twenty-second the Spring Concert was given, and on April twenty-ninth the orchestra accompanied voices from the Carroll County High Schools in a presentation of "The Mikado" as the finale of the annual Eisteddfod.

THE CLASSICS CLUB

The Classics Club is now in its fifteenth year on the Hill. The purpose of the club is to "develop a friendly interest in the classics in general, and to study classical cultures and their influence on modern life." Under the sponsorship of Dr. William Ridington the club has enabled members to investigate various aspects of ancient civilizations.

There are two classes of members: full members are those who are studying Latin or Greek or who have had two years of these languages, while associates are those who are interested in the classics but who have not had Latin or Greek.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Le Cercle Francais meets on the second Monday of every month in McDaniel Lounge. The purpose of this club is to enable students to enjoy and take part in social activities conducted in the French language. The club's executives are: Miss Margaret Snader, sponsor; Larry Crist, president; Peggy Artigiani, vice-president; Barbara Zepp, secretary; and Leroy McWilliams, treasurer.

Activities this year began in October with a talk by Monique Thiaude. Following this were two plays, Un Animal Tranquille and La Concierge, and our annual Christmas Program which included the singing of carols in French. Springtime meant another successful play production and concluded the year's activities.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA

Alpha Kappa Alpha is a national fraternity in philosophy, the purpose of which is to recognize excellence in the field of philosophy and to foster further interest in philosophical study and discussion.

The Chapter at Western Maryland is the Iota Chapter. Its officers are: Alan Hagenbuch, president; Richard Brenneman, vice-president; and Pete Posey, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Reuben S. Holthaus, head of Western Maryland's department of Philosophy and Religion is the national president of Alpha Kappa Alpha and the advisor of the chapter at Western Maryland.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The IRC is interested in foreign affairs and the disposition of our government in the matter of meeting the every day demands of international intercourse, thereby promoting better citizenship within the student body of Western Maryland College.

In keeping with this interest, the club has had many interesting speakers from all parts of the world. Hayrides and other forms of entertainment provided a less serious aspect and much fun.

The officers were: Bill Adams, president; Ed Caine, vice-president; Billie Bean, secretary; and Ronnie Graybeal, treasurer.

BETA BETA BETA

Beta Beta Beta is a national honor society for students interested in the biological sciences. The Alpha Mu Chapter at Western Maryland was chartered in 1934 under Dr. L. M. Berthalf. Each year a scholarship is awarded from the Milton H. Hendrickson Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Activities planned for the year 1954-55 included completing work on the spring house and pond, arranging exhibits in the biology display cases, labeling the trees on campus, and a trip to the Army Medical Museum.

Officers for the year were: Nancy McWilliams, president; Philip Lawyer, vice-president; Betsy Myers, secretary; Duvall Jones, historian; Dr. H. P. Sturdivant, treasurer and advisor.

THE ARGONAUTS

In a year in which the watchword of both students and faculty was the advancement of scholarship, the Argonauts recognized their increased responsibility in strengthening academic endeavor.

The society is dedicated to the promotion of sound scholarship on the Hill, the recognition of those who have attained high scholastic standing, and the promotion of fellowship between students of various departments and between students and faculty. Under the leadership of president Donald Hensler, ably assisted by Marilyn Rigterink, Mildred Eckardt, and Louis Manarin, the Argonauts strove to acquaint the student body with its aims and ideals. The sponsors are Dr. Isabel Isanogle and Dr. William Ridington.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers of America or as it is usually called, the FTA, seeks to promote fellowship among the future educators.

The members attended the State Teacher's Convention in Baltimore during October and planned tentatively to hold the State FTA Convention here at WMC.

Our Homecoming Display, showing the curriculum which was in store for the opposition, won second place for us.

Our officers were: Roy Etzler, president; Bessie John, secretary; and Jo Ann Waffensmith, treasurer.

FRESHMAN ADVISORY COUNCIL

We dare say that in the past two years parents have been a bit less reluctant to leave their just-arrived-at-WMC offspring alone on these one hundred acres. We might even stretch imagination far enough to state that during that same time potatoes, sob-soaked letters to home, and pop quizzes have been melted down to one, harmless, starchy formula.

Our job is to assist each freshman in adjusting to the courses, professors, clubs, and even romantic dilemmas. Again, the unanimous appraisal from faculty, advisors, and freshmen was: "Success."

The Formula?—Just that traditional Western Maryland smile and helping hand with an official, durable sticker.

THE 1955 ALOHA

Work on the 1955 ALOHA began early in March last year and ended the minute before you received your yearbook. Burning the midnight oil, smoking numerous cigarettes, and downing multitudes of Cokes were the vices forced upon us in the last minute rushes to meet deadlines. We wanted a yearbook that would mean something to each student, a yearbook that would contain the important little happenings as well as the campus big dates. For this we worked hard.

As Editor-in-Chief, Bea Ford proved herself to be one who could meet deadlines. Phil Lawyer, the capable book-balancer, managed to keep us in the clear financially. Our advisor, Dr. Marshall was always there to offer the needed assistance.

With a feeling of relief, we bundled up the 1955 ALOHA and sent it to the printers. It was with exceptional pride that we presented our yearbook to the students of Western Maryland College for their approval.

THE GOLD BUG

The official student newspaper of Western Maryland is the GOLD BUG which is published fifteen times per year.

The staff of the 1954-55 GOLD BUG, following the paper's policy of service and improvement, marked the 31st anniversary of the publication in January.

This policy is followed by the staff in two ways: Improvement is continually sought after, both in and through the paper—copy and proofs are checked carefully to keep mistakes at a minimum; and where something is bad on the Hill, the GOLD BUG pulls no punches in printing the facts.

Service covers a multitude of pages. The GOLD BUG stands for service through the printing of news, features, editorial material, jokes, cartoons, and advertisements—a continuing, reliable record of life at Western Maryland.

COLLEGE PLAYERS

Under the capable direction of Miss Esther Smith, the College Players staged four major productions this year: the Thanksgiving play, the Christmas pageant, a series of three one-act plays, and a final three-act play during Commencement Week.

The Junior and Senior dramatic art students found that their theatrical work extended far beyond long hours spent in play rehearsals. Creative improvisations, lessons in make-up, many afternoons spent painting scenery, and collecting props add to each year's activities.

All of this adds to cherished memories of grease paint, powder, canvas, good audiences, and a true love for the life behind the footlights.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club is a social organization for those who major in the field of Home Economics. Its purpose is to further professional attitudes, promote better public relations, and stimulate interest in a vital, worthwhile and interesting field.

The first meeting of the year was a social gathering held in the Home Management House, and the other meetings provided interesting speakers in the field of Home Economics. The best known project of the club is the annual style show in which clothing made by the students in the department is displayed.

Doris Tuckwood led the club and was assisted by Nancy Bearinger and Jan Chase.

MAJORETTES

This year, under the direction of Ellen Placht, the majorettes, Audrey Pierce, sophomore, and Jean Lambertson, freshman, put forth a great deal of effort to help boost the school spirit here on the "Hill." After much hard practice on many different stunts, they were ready to perform at football games. The Homecoming Parade was made much more colorful by the skill of the girls as they led the parade during the halftime activities. Some changes and improvements which the majorettes made this year were the shortening of the skirts and the use of two batons instead of one.

CHEERLEADERS

This year adding new cheers and using new formations has helped add a new look and more spirit to the cheering squad. The addition of more boys to the squad and the capable leadership of Pat Hammersly helped to make this year's school spirit much better.

Regardless of weather or score, the cheerleaders can be seen cheering to the end throughout the football season. The basketball season found them equally as enthusiastic and in better climatic conditions. In addition to these activities at the games, the cheerleaders could be heard as well as seen at Pep Rallies in Alumni Hall, Rec Hall, and Gill Gym.

TRUMPETERS

"For if the trumpet gives an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself for battle?"

This is the motto of the WMC Trumpeters—senior women chosen on a point-system basis according to leadership in extra-curricular activities, scholarship, character, and citizenship. The purpose is to encourage leadership and participation in extra-curricular activities on the college campus.

Last May, the junior girls gathered on President Ensor's lawn and, in an impressive ceremony, the graduating Trumpeters placed the traditional caps and gowns on three of them. Those honored to be Trumpeters of 1954-55 were Gloria Bunting, Harriett Cooley and Mildred Eckardt.

The group, with their sponsor, Dr. Isobel T. Isanogle, planned the annual Christmas Banquet and decorated the dining hall for the occasion creating a warm, holiday atmosphere.

When May comes again, it will be time for another tapping ceremony for the Trumpeters of the class of '56.

INTERSORORITY COUNCIL

The Intersorority Council is composed of representatives from each of the four sororities on the Hill. These representatives include the four sorority presidents and vice-presidents and a junior representative from each group. The officers are delegated by means of an annual rotation system. In addition to other responsibilities, the Intersorority Council serves as a coordinating, directing, and controlling influence over sorority activities.

The new method which was established for issuing the sorority bids went into effect this year. As in preceding years, they sponsored the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance in Blanche Ward Gym. The Scholastic cup was presented at a tea in November to Sigma Sigma Tau, and the second tea sponsored by the Council was held in December for all transfer students. The traditional basketball and bridge tournaments took place during the year. In the Spring a meeting took place for all Freshmen with representatives of the Council for the purpose of explaining sororities on the Hill. The Intersorority Council was also busy in the Spring with the teas and the rush parties.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Council represents the four fraternities here on the Hill. Membership on the Council is made up of the four presidents and one additional senior and junior representative from each club. Offices on the Council's cabinet are filled by rotation. The president of Interfraternity is also a member of the college's Social Activities Committee.

Working under the capable leadership of President Bert Springstead, the Council began early in its revision of the much abused athletic regulations. Adjustment of the point system, under which the trophy to the winning fraternity is awarded, was made; the eligibility rule was also clarified.

The Council worked out several other relatively small but important matters peacefully: smokers, bids, scheduling of parties, and other club activities.

The first semester officers were Burt Springstead, President; Edward Smith, Vice-president; Charles Phipps, Secretary; and Richard Brenneman, Treasurer.

DELTA SIGMA KAPPA

This year started out with a bang—six new baby Delts. "Hell Week" turned out to be OUR initiation instead of the WORMS. They really took us through the ropes on "Hell Night," but we love them just the same.

Gretchen Pierson presided as prexy over twenty of us first semester, and we were proud to see our Homecoming display on which we had spent so many hours of slave labor, win first prize.

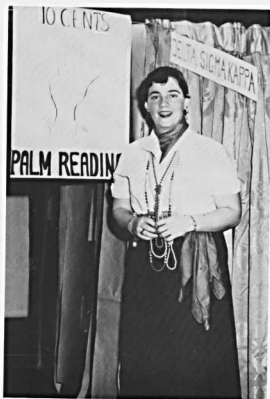

Our major activities consisted of giving Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets to needy families, assisting our brother fraternity, the Bachelors and acting as co-sponsor for a pep rally, and sponsoring a Christmas program for the patients at the Silver Cross home.

Second semester saw us under the leadership of Betty Bixler, sponsoring banquets, for the "Babys" and for departing seniors, nursing damaged muscles from basketball, and participating in other activities with both our sisters and friends in other sororities. Teas and rush parties were foremost in the minds of all of us, yet we still found time to study for those all-important exams.

We wish to extend our thanks to Dr. Wills for his kindness, and best wishes are in order for Miss Sleeper, our sponsor, who recently became Mrs. Winfrey.

Commencement came and went, the end of another and for some of us the last, wonderful Delt year.

IOTA GAMMA CHI

After the hustle and bustle of Hell Week, we Iotes started in on our many projects for the new school year. The Homecoming Display . . . open house where we renewed old friendships and made new ones . . . Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets for needy families . . . Christmas party

. . . teaching Sunday School at Montrose School for Girls . . . working on a pep rally given in collaboration with the Preachers filled most of our first semester days.

Our officers who led us through all of these activities were Jimmie Rae Mister, President;

Jo Ann Waffensmith, Vice-president; Sue Burkins, Recording Secretary; Kay Holt, Corresponding Secretary; Dolly Rill, Historian; Molly Hargett, Treasurer; Jane Wheeler, Chaplain; and Jan Boller, Social Chairman.

With the initiation of second semester, the sisters of Iota Gamma Chi participated in inter-sorority basketball and bridge tournaments and planned for their Rush Tea and Rush Party which was held at Big Pipe Creek Park. Throughout the year many of our activities were focused on charity work. Among these were knitting squares for afghans, making scrapbooks for invalid children, and raising money for needy children's hospitals. By selling stockings, we raised money to present another scholarship to a foreign student.

Second semester officers included Betsy Meyers, President; Joan Walter, Vice-president; Martha Lewis, Recording Secretary; Jean Harper, Corresponding Secretary; Molly Hargett, Treasurer; and Mary Lease, Chaplain.

The Iotes play Teddy Bear for cameraman.

We feel that we have made many more contributions to further our purpose—to create an atmosphere of friendliness and goodwill among others and our sisters.

PHI ALPHA MU

With "Hell Night" over we began the 1954-55 school year in a whirl with twenty-four new calves and a charming new sponsor, Mrs. Robert Adkins. Many new projects and parties were sponsored under the leadership of our first semester officers: Mimi Whitfield, President; Barbara Harding, Vice-president; Marilee Hodsdon, Secretary; Jean Wantz, Treasurer; Joan Hutter, Sergeant-at-Arms; Jan Chase, Alumnae Secretary and Charlotte Davis, Chaplain.

Planning our Homecoming float and display gave us much pleasure. Winning second prize on the float was payment enough for all our hard work. As a final touch to activities, two Phi Alphas were members of the Homecoming Court. In the afternoon open house in the club room brought back many old friends.

Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets were worked on zealously by the club. Again we were entertained by our brothers, the Gamma Bets, at Christmas and by the sophomores at our club party which this year was held at Frock's Farm. The holiday spirit was shared by all with the arrival of Santa and the exchange of gifts, which were later sent to a needy family.

The Phi Alph cry, "Sandwiches for sale!" was evidence that we were supporting a little Korean girl. We also contributed to many other needy families and sent flowers to hospitals.

With second semester came the installation of the new officers: Barbara Harding, President; Mimi Whitfield, Vice-president; Shirley Goote, Secretary; Jean Wantz, Treasurer; Ellen Placht, Sergeant-at-Arms; Jo Siehler, Alumnae Secretary and Sharon Albaugh, Chaplain.

The banquet for the new officers and second semester pledges was held at Frock's. Basketball and the bridge tournament provided intersorority competition. The freshman tea and "hobo" hitch gave us the opportunity to get to know some of the girls on the "Hill."

The senior banquet in May closed another never-to-be-forgotten year in the memory of the sisters of Phi Alpha Mu.

SIGMA SIGMA TAU

We Sigmas began another promising year with the acceptance of twenty new members . . . the best baby skunks ever.

The officers for first semester were: President, Gloria Bunting; Vice-president, Doreen McNeil; Secretary, Irma Lee Hohmann; Treasurer, Mary Lou Arnie; Intersorority Representative, Nancy Ripple; Alumnae Secretary, Mary Warren; Sergeant-at-Arms, Nancy Kemmerer; Sunshine Messenger, Jean Wooten; and Chaplain, Mary Warner.

With a great deal of enthusiasm, we worked together to make Homecoming a success. With the help of our brother fraternity, we built a float which brought us the third prize ribbon. For this event, we had to step aside and watch the Black and Whites take the blue ribbon. We pointed with pride to the Homecoming Queen and the Senior Court Attendant and claimed them as our own.

Much to our surprise, we were awarded the Scholastic Cup . . . a fitting tribute for long hours of study.

By popular request, we continued our Sigma calendar project to finance Care packages. The busy clicking of needles was heard at Tuesday's meetings as experienced knitters struggled with poor beginners to finish their squares for the afghan. Did you have any trouble keeping sheets on your bed this semester? The Sigmas were on the rampage for sheets which they ripped into bandages for the Red Cross.

To celebrate the yuletide season, we had our annual Christmas party with the Black and Whites. This year we went caroling together and had an old fashioned taffy pull. Our own Sigma Christmas party brought back many of the "old grads" to join in the Santa Claus Spirit. Everyone helped in making Christmas baskets for needy families.

Under the leadership of new officers, our second semester kept us busy with Basketball and Bridge Tournaments. The Rush Tea and the Sigma Circus were the climax of our year. With last minute preparations for the Alumnae Banquet under way, we realized that the end of another year for the "scarlet and silver" was close at hand.

ALPHA GAMMA TAU

With 33 brothers returning to Western Maryland last September, Alpha Gamma Tau stepped off to its 30th year on the Hill.

The first important matter to be considered was the bidding of new pledges. The pledging began with the annual Smoker which was held on October 19th in the Clubroom. Returning as guest speaker was Judge Charles Moylan, and once again both brothers and guests enjoyed a fine talk. Later in the month, twelve new pledges were accepted. On October 26th these men became brothers of Alpha Gamma Tau. They were: Doc Lenhart, Ted Klenske, Marc Meyers, Ron Grebeal, Bob Radcliffe, Lee Bowen, Leroy McWilliams, Gene Krantz, Fred Laird, Jim Lackey, Bill Mulenfield, and Bruce Taylor.

Then came the Homecoming weekend. This year the Bachelors sponsored the Homecoming Dance. Being Hallowe'en, this year's dance was appropriately named The Mystic Ball. The dance and its extra feature of Hernando's Hide-a-way (a place to relax and enjoy refreshments), was a great success. To highlight the weekend the annual Bachelor Alumni Banquet was held at Frock's the afternoon preceding the dance.

This year Alpha Gamma Tau was responsible for the concessions at the football games. The hard work put in by the members of the fraternity and its sister sorority, the Delts, proved to have been well worth the effort when the final income was tallied.

As in the past, Alpha Gamma Tau brought a great deal of happiness to a needy family at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter with its contributions of food and clothing.

The second semester activities included the annual banquet at which the second semester officers were elected, a party for Delta Sigma Kappa, and the purchase of some badly needed new furniture for the clubroom.

Thus another prosperous and fun-filled year ended for the members of Alpha Gamma Tau.

DELTA PI ALPHA

The Preacher Fraternity held its initial meeting of the college year with Charlie Phipps, President; Ronnie Jones, Vice-president; Larry Crist, Secretary; Jack Turney, Treasurer; Brad Jones, Chaplain; Bill Stewart, Sergeant-at-Arms; and John Bastista, Corresponding Secretary, in the leading positions. Dr. Thomas F. Marshall was back with us again after a year's leave of absence to teach in Greece. As initiation time came upon us we found we had twenty-five new members.

During football season the Preachers saw many of their brothers playing on the varsity team, but the other members were not to be forgotten. They emerged champions of interfraternity football.

The booth which we sponsored at the WUS Bazaar in January consisted of movies. The club also made many other contributions to the campus during the year.

ΔΠΑ held its first semester banquet at Frock's farm at which time the second semester's officers were formally installed. They were Ronnie Jones, President; Charley White, Vice-president; Ken Smith, Secretary; Walt Sanders, Treasurer; Harold McClay, Chaplain; Buzz Thomas, Sergeant-at-Arms; and Larry Hall, Corresponding Secretary. Honored guests were Captain Thomas Thornton, Captain Leslie Carter, and Dr. Reuben Holthaus as well as Dr. Thomas Marshall, our sponsor.

Getting into the social swing, the Preachers gave several parties during the year and climaxed the year by sponsoring the May Dance. Preceding the dance, the club held open house and welcomed back many old friends.

Sunday night television was still the fad and to meet the need, a new television set was purchased.

The Purple and Gold provided much competi-

GAMMA BETA CHI

Gamma Beta Chi started off the new school year in rousing fashion with an informal meeting at the VFW post in Westminster. Stories of Fort Meade and other summer experiences were exchanged. Here, late acquisitions of the last school year were celebrated; the SCA cup and our brand new sponsor, Dr. William A. MacDonald.

The first project of the year was a successful party at Frock's. GBX sponsored and put on a pep rally along with their sister sorority, Phi Alpha Mu, before the Dickinson game. The annual Homecoming banquet at Schotties brought back many Gamma Betes of former days on the "Hill".

Everyone had a good time at the annual smoker in the clubroom, and the next week nineteen pledges were added to the fraternity roster. They became full-fledged Gamma Betes after living through Pledge Week and "Hell Night".

All of the Gamma Betes contributed heartily to the sale of programs at the home football games, and entered into the spirit of the holiday season by promoting the sale of Christmas cards on campus.

Just before the Big Vacation, GBX's Phi Alpha sisters were feted at a Christmas Party in the clubroom. In honor of the arrival of Santa Claus, some of the more energetic brothers rearranged the furniture again.

As one of the festivities before the vacation, the brothers pitched in to prepare for the Christmas Dance. Rivers Chamber's orchestra and a "Snow Ball" theme provided a good time for all and brought the first semester to an eventful close.

Club projects and parties don't take all the club's time, for the brothers are frequent visitors to the lobbies of McDaniel and Blanche Ward. The Red and Blue teams have provided good competition in all intramural sports. A lot of fun was had by all during this frat year, and Gamma Beta Chi wishes to extend sincere best wishes to its graduating seniors.

PI ALPHA ALPHA

Pi Alpha Alpha, better known as the Black and Whites on the Western Maryland campus, have as their purpose to foster a more perfect fellowship among the student body; to continually strive for a better college through well-rounded men; to perpetuate a high scholastic standing; to practice the fraternal spirit of helping men throughout the college; and to promote a more cooperative spirit in athletics.

We sponsored both formal and informal functions concerning practically every phase of college life in both curricular and extracurricular activities. Fraternal meeting and social functions highlighted the year. Some of the big events were the Sweetheart Ball in February and the annual Christmas party which we gave to our sisters of Sigma Sigma Tau. The pep rally which was also given with the Sigmas was highlighted by those never-to-be-forgotten imitations of Professors Hurt and Whitfield.

College esprit de corps, intramural sports, and general fellowship were also included within the scope of the activities of our organization.

Our officers for the first semester were: Alpha (President), Dick Brenneman; Vice Alpha (Vice-president), Bob Hangen; Beta (Corresponding Secretary), Ralph Clase; Vice Beta (Recording Secretary), Chip Chapin; Gamma (Treasurer), Louis Mannerin; Velta (Sergeant-at-arms), Duval Jones and Omneron (Chaplain), Bob Leather.

The R.O.T.C. Band

The first Senior Unit of the Reserve Officers Training Corps was established in 1919 at Western Maryland College. Since then, Western Maryland has trained young men to take their places as officers in the U. S. Army in times of national emergency. The Professor of Military Science and Tactics is Lt. Colonel Robert J. Speaks. He is assisted by his staff including Major Edgar S. Daugh; Captain Leslie D. Carter, Jr.; Master Sergeants Joseph M. Brouillard and James V. Murray; Sergeants First Class Archie C. Allgire and Francis Lang.

The course of study is prescribed by the Department of the Army. The full course in Military Science takes four years, the first two of which are required for graduation. Students who desire to take the last two years' advanced courses are selected by the P. M. S. & T. When this course is completed, the graduate is eligible to receive a reserve commission as a Second Lieutenant in the Infantry.

Those students designated as Distinguished Military Students may apply for a commission in the Regular Army. This year Edward Smith applied for and received an appointment to the Regular Army by the Department of the Army.

During the first two years the cadet studies map reading, rifle marksmanship, first aid, organization of units, and assembly-disassembly of the various Army weapons. If the cadet is selected to continue into the advanced course, he studies, tactics, transportation, communications, gunnery, supply, teaching methods, and troop movements.

The practical experience of the cadet is gained at summer camp which he attends between his junior and senior years. This year the cadets had six weeks of intensified training at Fort George G. Meade. Infantry Airborne troops trained the men and the hustle of the Paratroopers kept them going at a steady rate at all times.

The cadets from WMC made up the third platoon of "F" Company at camp and compiled a record of which any unit would be proud.

There have been numerous extra-curricular activities in the Cadet Corps this year. At the Homecoming celebration, the Homecoming Queen and her court were escorted by the Battalion Staff and Company Commanders of the Cadet Corps. The Drill Team also formed an integral of the Homecoming celebration. In November, the Military Ball was sponsored by the cadets, who put tireless effort into the preparation necessary for a successful dance. It was at this dance that Miss Joan Backhaus was crowned the Military Queen. The other members of the Women's Sponsor Corps composed her Court. In addition to this, the newly organized Drill Team performed at all home football games and at some town celebrations.

The value of the Reserve Officer Training Corps to the individual student, to his college, and to his country cannot be too strongly emphasized in times such as these. In the past, Western Maryland has provided the Army with fine officers and in the future will continue to teach her men not only the necessary knowledge but the qualities of good leadership which are essential to the national security.

WOMEN'S SPONSOR CORPS

As a new addition to R.O.T.C. here at Western Maryland, the Women's Sponsor Corps was organized in the fall. The girls, making up the Corps were selected by the commanders of the units and the Battalion Staff. There is a sponsor for each of the companies, the Battalion Staff, the Drill Team, and the Band. The members of this group participate in the awards-parade and take reviews of the corps.

As queen of the Military Ball, the cadets chose Joan Backhaus. The other sponsors made up the Queen's court.

RIFLE TEAM

The 1954-1955 Rifle Team was composed of 13 men under the coaching of Sergeant Brouillard and under the direction of the captain, Martin Broadhurst.

This year's season proved to be a bigger one than usual. There were many more matches, but there were less men on the team than in previous years. Most of the men were newcomers. Only four members were veterans of the varsity squad.

This year saw the new rifle range under Gill Gym. There were many technical improvements including better lighting and target facilities, in addition to more room for spectators.

In the shoulder to shoulder competitions, Bill Adams and Ken Smith were the high scorers.

FOOTBALL

The Western Maryland Green Terrors, hampered throughout the 1954 season with numerous injuries to key ballplayers, wound up the campaign with a 4-4 record. This was not an outstanding record, but considering that there were some days when only a handful of players were on hand for practice, it is a record to be proud of. A record that shows how a team, thoroughly trounced one week, can bounce back the next to restore the faith in Western Maryland football.

Led once again by Head Coach Charlie Havens, the small band of Western Marylanders met teams from schools with enrollments sometimes three times their size. It was a rough and tumble season, a season marked with both cheers and tears, a season which saw inexperienced freshmen break relentlessly into the starting lineup—learning new positions. It was a season that witnessed the final game for seven Terror seniors, a season that was proud to honor one of the finest men in gridiron history, Mr. Richard Harlow.

Opening their eight game card at home on September 25th and ignoring the fact that their pre-season training period was the shortest in the school's history, the Green Terrors, led by the running of Warren McFague, star fullback of the 1951 championship team, exploded for a 25-0 victory over Dickinson College. Lightning-like smashes through the line by Al Miller and bullet-like passes from Wilmer Bimestefer to country Charlie White enabled Western Maryland to successfully ring up the curtain on their 61st inter-collegiate campaign. The Red Devils from Carlisle were never in the game.

The following week the victory seeking Terrors journeyed to Chester, Pennsylvania, where they met faces with the power-laden Cadets of Penn Military College. On a muddy, rain soaked field, the two units battled ferociously and at the end of the half the score read PMC 6—WMC 0. After the 15 minute intermission, the Terrors returned to the battle area with the disappointing realization that Warren McFague, who had fractured his leg at the close of the 2nd quarter, would not be in their backfield. Despite the sterling play of linemen Jack Duhl, Bob Butler, and Hugh Correll, the now confident Cadets desperately walloped out a 24-0 decision.

The next week, October 9th, after a rebuilding of the McFagueless backfield, the Terrors leashed a near atomic attack on the Flying Dutchmen from Lebanon Valley. With the aid of a powerful charging single-wing line, Dick Hersh, the unsung sophomore from Westminster, captured the spotlight and the Terrors thrashed out a 32 to 0 victory. Not to be ignored were the exciting runs by Chuck Smith and the brilliant pass catching of old reliable Charlie White, along with steady line play of Jack Duhl and Howie Hunt. It was a pleasant trip home.

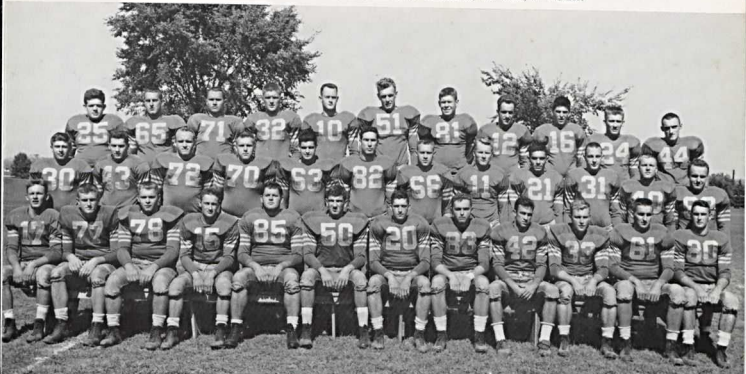

Returning to friendly Hoffa Field on October 23rd, the once-again confident Terrors were on hand to battle with the Mason-Dixon Champions from Hampden-Sydney. This was not an ordinary day in many ways. It was a day that saw Western Maryland's advisory coach, Mr. Richard Harlow, become a member of the National Football Hall of Fame—an honor second to none. If any team wanted to win a football game that day, it was the boys in the Green and Gold; but it wasn't that kind of day. Hampden-Sydney began to prove that by running the opening kickoff back 97 yards for the first six points. To insure their victory, the Tigers whipped off six more TDs and a field goal to end up with a 38 to 6 victory. It was an unhappy and tearful group of Terrors who ascended the hill overlooking Hoffa Field following the game. To paint the day a little blacker, Warren Bimestefer ended his gridiron career with a dislocated shoulder.

With the bitter taste of failure still remaining with the near-hapless Green Terrors, the scene was set for the annual Homecoming game on October 30th. Parents and old grads journeyed from all parts of the compass to pour in around Hoffa Field, little realizing that they were about to witness one of the finest comebacks in Western Maryland history. The opponent was Franklin and Marshall, the team which had previously walloped Johns Hopkins 40 to 0 after the Blue Jays had eeked out a victory over Hampden-Sydney. The odds were heavily against the Terrors. Never before in the school's history had the Green and Gold lost a Homecoming game. The Terrors were still recovering from last week's humiliating defeat. It was a big day, the last big day for seven graduating Seniors.

Ronnie Jones, diminutive quarterback from Salisbury, was the boy in charge on this beautiful Saturday afternoon. The coin was tossed, and the teams clashed with all the fury that is needed in any football game. Terror defenses, led capably again by iron-man Jack Duhl, Howie Hunt, and Ed Heflin, stopped the hungry Diplomats from ever getting past the 50 yard line.

Half time score—0 to 0. A few minutes after the third quarter started, the Terrors realized that ties do not count as wins. Then freshman Dick Holbruner drifted slowly back with cat-like deftness and hit Charlie White with a 43 yard pass—good enough for a TD and a 6-0 score. The stands went wild. Could Western Maryland hold this slim lead? Ronnie Jones made sure they did. Dusty Martinell intercepted a Diplomat pass in the closing minutes and Jack Duhl recovered a fumble with seconds remaining. It was a great day and a great victory. Final score—WMC 6—FM 0.

Game number six saw the Terrors off again—to Philadelphia this time. Against a highly successful and well drilled team, Drexel Tech, showed little of the spark that had so filled them the week before. Behind 7 to 0, the Green and Gold rallied to gain an advantage 13-12 in the second period, to put them ahead for the only time in the contest. Both touchdowns came quickly as aerals from the hand of Dick Holbruner. Although the going was consistently rough throughout, the Terrors never ceased to express determination and desire before the final whistle gave the hosts a 34-13 decision.

Next Gettysburg College formed the opposition. Playing away on the Battlefield, the Orange and Black overpowered the Fighting Terrors.

Well executed blocking opens hole for freshman Dick.

Although the margin was 27-0, and the locals had suffered their second shutout of the wars, victory for the G-Burg team came as the culmination of a highly technical attack, based on power and depth. Unwilling to submit easily to their far superior opponents, the Terrors showed determination and limited the Middle Atlantic Conference team to but 14 points in the first half. Two breaks, an intercepted pass and a blocked punt, gave the home team two scores and the win.

In the finale of the '54 season, the Green and Gold clad gridders chalked up a 12-7 accomplishment over their traditional arch-rivals from Johns Hopkins University. Playing on a thick, fog covered Hoffa Field blanketed by a heavy coat of mud, the Terrors ended their up and down season with a well deserved victory. The Terrors drove to the Blue Jays 4 yard line, thanks to a 33 yard gallop by Al Miller. Then Dick Hersh took the pigskin, sliced off his right tackle, and smashed over the goal line for a T.D. To insure victory, young Dick Holbruner, in the last quarter, bolted through the center of the hard charging Terror line and raced 61 yards for WMC's second and last six pointer. Final score—WMC 12—JHU 7.

After the final whistle had sounded, Hoffa Field said goodbye to seniors Warren Bimestefer, Jack Duhl, Warren McFague, Jack Snover, Luke Su-wall, and Charlie White. They had played their last game for Western Maryland as the curtain dropped on another football year.

The Western Maryland record shows the result of hard work in a hard schedule. While unfortunate injuries hampered the local eleven, they were able to score three whitewashes against opponents and to out "Statistic" them in every major category, except first downs.

Top scoring honors went to Charlie White with a 25 point effort. He, in turn, was followed closely by Dick Hersh with 24 points, Chuck Smith with 18 points, and Ralph Martinell with 12 points. Other members contributed 15 points, to the overall team total of 94 offensive points.

Individual rushing average honors went to two sophomores, Dick Hersh (5.1 average per carry over 71 carries) and Al Miller (4.3 average per carry over 92 carries).

Charlie White outdistanced all comers for undisputed top honors in pass receiving, in which he snagged 11 for 232 yards and four touchdowns. His nearest runner-up was Dusty Marinell, who grabbed five for 134 yards and two six-pointers.

The versatile Hersh did practically all the WMC punting, using his foot on 32 of Western Maryland's 43 punting occasions — averaging slightly over 30 yards per attempt.

Admiral John H. Brown, President of the National Foundation and Football Hall of Fame, addresses Dick Harlow, flanked by Goose Doughty, prior to presentation, Saturday, October 23, 1954.

RICHARD C. HARLOW

Before six thousand fans and escorted by eleven of his former athletes, October 23rd on Hoffa Field, Western Maryland's advisory football coach, Mr. Richard Harlow, was honored. Admiral John Brown, President of the National Foundation and Football Hall of Fame, presented to Mr. Harlow a citation certifying his selection to the Football Hall of Fame. Paying tribute to one of America's greatest coaches, the citation recognized Mr. Harlow for "his outstanding coaching ability . . . sportsmanship, integrity, character, and contribution to the sport of football."

Western Maryland College was indeed honored to be chosen by Mr. Harlow as the place where he would like to receive this great honor. Although similar ceremonies were staged on twenty-four other college campuses that October day, WMC was the only campus having less than one thousand students on which presentation ceremonies took place.

Coach Harlow spent four years (1912-1916) on the coaching staff of his Alma Mater, Penn State, the last two years as Head Coach. Following service in the Army, he returned there for two additional years as a line coach. Next he moved to Colgate (1921-1925) where his 1925 undefeated eleven received a bid to play in the Rose Bowl. In 1926, he moved to "the Hill" as Head Coach to remain until 1934 when he was lured to Harvard University. He served there until 1942.

Coach Harlow still holds the world's record for blocking kicks, when in his playing days he stopped 17 punts in the opponents backfield—against Pittsburgh, Navy, Cornell, Colgate, and Villanova teams.

In addition to having had six of his players coached for All-American teams, Mr. Harlow has led nine undefeated squads through their regular seasons. Three were at Penn State, four at Western Maryland, and one at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1918 while he was stationed there as a military instructor, doubling as a coach. He also holds the distinction of having coached the South to a 7 to 6 win over the North in the 1932 contest, which was the first North-South ballgame ever staged.

The close personal friend of such football coaches as Lou Little, Colonel Earl Blaik, Fritz Crisler, Knute Rockne, Rip Engle, and Harry Lawrence, Mr. Harlow was awarded the Coach of the Year Award in 1936, and the Stagg Award in 1949.

Mr. Harlow met his lovely wife at a football game when his Alma Mater played against Jim Thorpe and the Carlisle Indians. They were married in 1914. Currently they reside in Westminster thereby affording Western Maryland the opportunity to take advantage of Mr. Harlow's inestimable talent.

It is with great pride that we pay tribute to Mr. Richard C. Harlow, a great coach and an even greater man, who has given so freely of his time and talents to the benefit of all of us who have known him.

SOCCKER

Honors continue to roll in periodically emphasizing the respect that the Terror booters commanded during the 1954 season in which they posted a 7-2-1 log. Fighting to the end, they entered two championship races only to be denied in each.

Once again led by Coach Phil Uhrig, the Terrors wasted little time before letting opponents know of their strength. With 10 veterans in the starting eleven on the opening day, the Green and Gold easily trounced Georgetown University 5-0. Playing under clear, sunny skies, the local men struck with consistency with one point in each period and two in the second. Four tallies came from the able foot of center forward star Denny Harmon, who was later to form the nucleus of the Terror offensive scoring unit.

Six days later in their opening home game, the Terrors again won an impressive 2-1 victory over Loyola of the East. Paced by team co-captains

Ray Davis and Denny Harmon, the locals broke the ice when Harmon scored in the second period. Although the Loyola booters tied the score in the third period, the Green Terrors were not to be denied success. Harmon added another goal in the final period. Outstanding defensive teamwork by goal-tender Bob Crush and fullbacks Roy Etzler and Bill Clem averted many possible scoring threats.

Playing away on October 13th, the booters met the Cardinals of Catholic University of America. Although possessing a fine individual squad, the Cardinals bowed as WMC gained its third success 5-1. Harmon, once again, commanded the situation, and added two more to his growing total of goals scored. Although the old veterans gained the starting berths, newcomers Jack Turney, Pete Urquhart, and Buzzy Lambert were instrumental in the Green and Gold success.

On a very windy afternoon, at Chestertown,

Maryland, the Terrors were handed their first setback of the year. Battling poor weather conditions in the final period, they were unable to match the second period tally of Roger Smoot, Washington center forward, thus dropping the contest 1-0. The footwork of Ray Davis and Denny Harmon enabled the Terrors to monopolize the possession of the ball, but the tight Washington net tender thwarted their more serious efforts. A pulled muscle restrained Bob Crush from starting in the WMC goal, which in his place was kept by Gover Zimmerman. Pete Urquhart and Stan Entwistle gained starting assignments, although Coach Uhrig was to employ practically his entire squad before the 83 minute fracas was ended.

Six days later at home, the Terrors went against Franklin and Marshall successfully to the tune of 2-0. Sheer possession and unsurpassed teamwork enabled WMC to gain control and keep control of the tilt. Harmon, tallying twice, however, shared individual overall performance honors with outside left, Don Seibel who harassed the opposing defense effectively with weird, well calculated shots and passes. Fullbacks Etzler and Clem aided the still injured Crush in the defense of the nets. A chilly, but fair afternoon provided a perfect setting for Western Maryland's first victory over the Diplomats in recent years.

Although playing in rain and snow through the contest, the Terrors took on Mt. St. Mary's and scored another Mason-Dixon success with their 4-1 victory. Harmon struck successfully for the first counter to tie the contest just as the initial period closed. Following the halftime rest, Ray Davis and Harmon tallied goals within 2 minutes of each other. These provided the punch to break the well of the Mountaineers. "Toe" Harmon's final pointer in the last period kept the booters in the thick of the Mason-Dixon struggle as they next began to prepare for Bucknell.

Eager to avenge the humiliation suffered at the hands of Bucknell two years ago, the Terrors overcame a 1-0 deficit in the 3rd quarter to tie the score at 1-1. Although playing on even terms with their opponents in the first half, the Green and Gold commanded the second half and went on to a 3-1 victory.

Four days later, the Terrors bounced visiting Gettysburg 4-1. Harmon and Don Seibel led the forward wall while Entwistle, Etzler, and Crush turned in outstanding defensive efforts.

Entering the final week of the season with a 7-1 record, the Terrors met Baltimore University and were handed a 3-0 setback as well as loss of the Mason-Dixon title.

In the final contest at home, a final period penalty shot tally from the foot of Denny Harmon gave WMC a 2-2 tie with visiting Johns Hopkins. Two overtimes failed to adjust the score, and thus the result of the tilt threw WMC into a four way tie for the Southern Division Middle Atlantic Conference title.

Following the close of the campaign, Harmon and Etzler were rewarded for their efforts by being named to the Mason-Dixon Conference All-Star squad.

Harmon and Etzler were joined by teammates Crush, Davis, Hagenbuch, Seibel, and Clem in being selected on the 1954 All Southern selections of the National Coaches Association of America.

Denny Harmon was also elected to the All-American Team of 1955.

BASKETBALL

In winning fashion, against Gallaudet, on March 1st, Western Maryland happily pulled down the curtain on the 1954-55 basketball campaign. With this victory, the Terrors had recorded their fourth consecutive success and had so overjoyed their following that the previous fourteen consecutive losses were pushed into the background completely.

It was a strange season for the Terrors. This year was one not highlighted by long lists of records broken, teams humbled, or any other excellent features. Instead, it was a season of being pushed around, "hard luck" games, and plenty of "college try"—which eventually at the end of the season, produced the well earned result for the local quintet.

The thing that will be remembered about this 54-55 cage war and Western Maryland's part in it, is how we played the game—not whether we won or lost.

Statistically speaking, fifteen different individuals had a part in this idea of how we played the game. Fifteen men, upperclassmen and lower, combined in producing a spirit which initially got us nowhere, but eventually got us everywhere.

And so it was, being led by spirit-minded cagers Dusty Martinell, Bill Spaar, and Charley White, the Terrors realized, in a game on February 21, 1955, that they did have it. That success which had so completely eluded them up to that point in the season, was not to be denied them any longer. The 97-75 win that night against Gallaudet was only the beginning because the next three wins were quick to follow.

This year it is impossible to single out any one or two individuals as being the men behind it all, for this season was a team year. Together we stood; together we fell and won.

WRESTLING

Western Maryland's much improved wrestling team of the 1954-1955 season closed out its activity after competing in the Mason-Dixon tournament at Towson Teachers' College in March.

During the regular campaign the Green and Gold posted a 2-3 log in the Conference fight gaining verdicts over Catholic University and Loyola of the East. The Green and Gold dropped two decisions to non-conference foes Drexel Tech and Gettysburg.

In the post-season phase at Towson, the Terrors again performed with a high degree of achievement—four of their number rendering outstanding service.

Team captain Tommy Englar and Andy Tafuri nailed down third place honors with decisions over their opponents in consolation bouts. Brandt Vitek and newcomer Brooks Eutler made gallant stands in the consolation finals before bowing out.

All in all this year's season has, by far, been one of the most successful in recent years. Under a new coach, Vic Makovitch, the grapplers prompted a new burst of campus interest—which in the final result was as helpful to student sports morale as it was to matmen themselves.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

When the freshmen entered Western Maryland, one of the first objects to catch their eyes was the WAA favor, a tradition here on the "Hill." The WAA itself has become a tradition at WMC. Its main purposes are to promote athletics, to create a love of sports, and to foster the ideal of good sportsmanship.

During the year, they were responsible for many projects, such as explaining the organization to the new students, a homecoming display which copped third prize, and revising the constitution.

The WAA elects all members of the honorary teams, makes all sports awards, and assists the co-sponsors, Miss Roselda Todd and Miss Marie Parker.

HOCKEY

The girls' sport program opened with enthusiasm and interest for hockey. The intramural and varsity teams were greatly aided by good freshmen participation. Two varsity games were scheduled with Towson State Teachers College and Saint Mary's Seminary. The Terrors were defeated by Towson, but returned victorious against St. Mary. Mary Jane Davison was the high scorer for the season.

Fight and spirit were shown throughout the intramural hockey games. At the close of the

Hockey manager this year was Lillian Fowler.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The women's basketball season began this year with two weeks of daily practices for all girls interested in playing basketball. From these girls, the class teams were chosen.

The intramural season began and ended with enthusiasm this year in a close game between the Junior and Senior "A" teams. The final score in the hard-fought game showed that the Juniors had won by two points to capture the intramural class championship.

The honorary basketball team was then chosen by the WAA board. Girls were selected for their sportsmanship, participation, ability, and interest as evidenced in the intramural games.

This year's honorary team consisted of eight girls representing the senior, junior, and sophomore classes. Betsy Bowen, Sharon Albaugh, Joy Nuttall, and Mary Ellen Weber were chosen as forwards. The guards were Mary Lou Arnie, Marie Upperco, Ruth Dickson, and Pat Patterson.

The team played well in the three games scheduled with teams from other schools. The Terrors succeeded in defeating the girls of Mount Saint Joseph's College, but in turn were defeated by Towson State Teachers' College and Notre Dame College.

The successful season was climaxed when Janet Reck and Dolly Rill got their national basketball ratings. Mary Angell received her local rating.

BADMINTON

Badminton proved to be very successful this year as it has been in the past. A large number of participants came out to play with much enthusiasm and spirit. The inter-class tournament was conducted in a single-elimination basis by manager Joy Nuttall.

This year the senior class winner was "Rags" Baum, a terrific player and winner of the school title for three successive years. Junior class champ was Peggy Artigiani who has come out near the top in the badminton tournament since her freshman year. Mary Ellen Weber, a very aggressive badminton player, claimed the sophomore class title. From the freshman class, Wilma Robertson emerged victorious and provided the upperclassmen with some strong competition.

Following the class tournaments, play-offs based on percentage of games won, were held to determine W.M.C.'s champion. Mary Ellen Weber came out on top and became school champion. She proved to be an expert with badminton skill, especially her almost irretrievable slam!

Due to unfavorable circumstances, no competition with other schools was scheduled, but if next year's badminton response is as good as this year's, we should have a great season!

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL CHAMPS—DELTA PI ALPHA

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

Alpha Gamma Tau's three year reign over the Intramural Football League was finally brought to a close this season by the hard charging champs of Delta Pi Alpha. The Preachers had to go all the way to win the championship and did it in the final game of the season in a scoreless tie with the Bachelors.

Behind the Purple and Gold, who had a record of 4-1-1, came Alpha Gamma Tau with a 3-1-2 mark. Firmly entrenched in third place was Gamma Beta Chi, the only team who had the distinction of defeating the winning Preacher squad. They had a record of 2-3-1. And bringing up the rear were the Black and Whites of Pi Alpha Alpha with a 1-5 mark, their lone win being registered against the Red and Blue of Gamma Beta Chi.

Highlights of the season certainly include the 0-0 tie between the Preachers and Bachelors which decided the championship; the big upset tallied by the Gamma Betes in their 6-0 victory over the Purple and Gold; and the keen competition rendered by the independent teams entered in the league.

The frat race was close all the way, and the outcome was always in doubt. Injuries were kept at a minimum and everyone had lots of fun.

Since 1890— A Maryland Tradition

Maryland's heritage is one of fine homes, gracious living, and generations of great citizens, many of whom have and are contributing materially to the growth and welfare of the nation.

Since 1890, it has been our proud and happy privilege to be accepted into the finest of Maryland homes. This acceptance has grown with the State and with the generations we have helped nurture into gracious womanhood and stalwart manhood.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

A long standing tradition at WMC is the Lantern Chain, in which the senior women are pulled, yanked, pushed, and shoved down the Hill by sadistic freshmen. Armed with lethal weapons that suddenly burst into flame, the underclassmen took proper revenge for the many indignities they had suffered during the year

President and Mrs. Ensor graciously entertained the senior class in a formal reception, one of the very finest activities of the Spring.

After humiliating the senior women with some of their most personal possessions, the junior class paid tribute to the seniors with roses, a cup, and a song.

BASEBALL

He's safe . . . Kill the umpire!

The 1955 Varsity Baseball team started the season with the loss of only one player from the championship squad of '54. Hopes were high until Bill Clem injured his arm and had to be removed from the pitching staff. This resulted in not only the loss of an excellent pitcher, but also the loss of efficiency since the line had to be changed to compensate. The first three games, probably the toughest of the schedule, were Hampden-Sydney, Randolph-Macon, and Penn State in that order. The losing streak that had started and had continued for eight more games could largely be attributed to these two overwhelming obstacles.

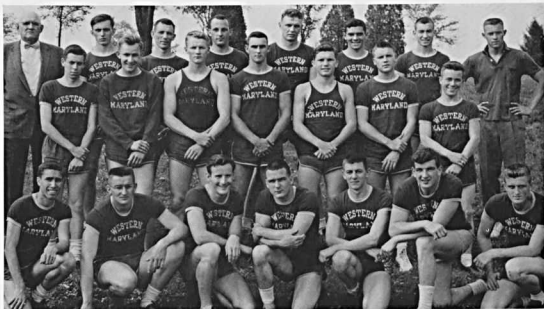

Through continued efforts of cooperative practice under the able coaching of Jim Boyer, the peak was reached in the form of a 32-3 victory over Johns Hopkins University, rivals of long standing. The Terrors could not be stopped then, and with Charlie White as captain and leading hitter, and Walt Sanders on the mound, more victories were scored.

The indisputably high point of the season was the game against Washington College, when the undefeated North Division Mason-Dixon Champions were trounced by a score of 11-7. The Terrors had proved they could do it, and they certainly deserve a great deal of credit. The members of the team are true sportsmen in every sense of the word, as is evidenced by their comeback against such terrific odds, and that is, in itself, the ideal of sports.

First row, left to right: C. White, D. Harmon, A. Miller, M. Savarese, B. Lambert, B. Jones, D. Moylan. Second row: A. Tafuri, B. Clem, D. Hersh, J. Kaufman, P. Jackson, D. Tankersley, F. Stoeve, Coach Jim Boyer.

TRACK

Coach Dick Harlow's track team this year had a most successful season defeating Washington College, Loyola, Mt. St. Mary's, Gettysburg, and Catholic U. to win their five dual meets. Probably the closest contest of the season was with Gettysburg; however, our fleet-foots edged them 55-50.

Track is a sport in which individual skills are needed in diversified events. Too often this predicates a team with no "team spirit"—but with individuals interested only in their own special events. The 1955 track team, however, can boast that it was a team in every sense of the word, and their record shows how "team spirit" can develop track men into an unmovable team.

The track team this year was composed of veteran men: L. Werner, H. Hunt, C. Clarke, T. Englar, P. Lawyer, J. Duhl, G. Hedgecock, D. Wood, G. Jenkins, B. Butler, L. Hall, and C. Smith. New comers L. Meyer, J. May, D. Stenley, J. Hort, W. Sparr, D. Holbruner, and J. Hendrickson aided the team immeasurably.

All in all, co-captains Charlie Clark and Tom Englar had a team of which WMC was very proud.

On your mark . . .

TENNIS

This tennis season marks one of Coach Hurt's better years. His fine team of veterans, supplemented by freshmen hopefuls, posted a 12 and 2 record with two matches rained out. Only Loyola, this year's Mason-Dixon champions, defeated the Terror courtmen.

Senior Henry Taitt and freshman Wray Mowbray, both from Cambridge, teamed together for a startling pace first in doubles to remain undefeated in 12 consecutive matches in both Mason-Dixon and Middle Atlantic competition.

GOLF

Charlie Havens mentored the Golf Team this year, his linksmen closing the season with a 3 and 7 record. After placing last in the annual Western Maryland Invitation Tournament, they pulled the second place in the Mason-Dixon Tournament.

The outstanding player throughout the season was Senior Dick Hill. Two other seniors who have dropped the last putt for the Green Terrors are Jim Marshall, a four-year man, and Tom Mabry, who joined the club for the first time this year. Other team members are Pete Urquhart, Niel Blake, and Ted Klenske.
