Dr. Rembrandt Dewees Summers

DEDICATION

Lewis Hall is dark except for a light in the physics lab. Passing by, you smile a little at the picture you have of a loveable gentleman—patiently going over that bewildering formula with a perplexed student. Your smile gives you a warm feeling as you recall how you liked him initially because of his quiet and gentle manner, because he is so thoroughly honest and sincere, and because of that Santa Claus-like twinkle in his eyes.

You Seniors will remember—long after graduation—Dr. Rembrandt Dewees Summers, for he typifies all that of which we are proud at Western Maryland. The ideas of dignity and generosity that are becoming increasingly rare in our modern world, are that integral part of Dr. Summers which has given you confidence in him as an educator and a friend. He has been kind, yet firm—he has understood you well enough, but not too much. His little jokes made you laugh, but at the same time they had the art of increasing the efficiency of your memory.

You Underclassmen will find yourselves looking at the woodwind section of the college symphony to see if Dr. Summers is there as usual, playing his bass clarinet. Later, you will find a familiar sight and a comfortable feeling in seeing him with his scarf around his neck and cane in hand, leaving Lewis Hall.

You of the faculty have shown that he has won your respect by the richness of his knowledge. By his wisdom he has given you confidence in his leadership.

And so we thank you, Dr. Summers, for sharing with us your warmth and sincerity, your knowledge and your patience. It is with great pride we dedicate to you the 1957 ALOHA.

President and
Mrs. Ensor

TO THE CLASS OF 1957:

Congratulations and Best Wishes! This greeting will become so familiar to the members of the Class of 1957, as you tuck your sheepskins under your arms and pack up four years of dormitory accumulation, that possibly it will not carry the warmth of spontaneity which I and your many well-wishers intend. It expresses most aptly, however, my sincere feelings.

Congratulations upon your Graduation. This marks the end of your college career which you have successfully completed. You have earned a degree from Western Maryland College which is a significant accomplishment that deserves warm praise.

Best Wishes upon your Commencement. This marks the beginning of further activity for which your College has prepared you. Whether you go on to graduate of professional school, a career, or homemaking, your Alma Mater's devotion will follow you with the sincere hope that your success may reflect credit upon her training and bring rich satisfactions to your life.

Cordially yours,
LOWELL S. ENSOR
President

SENIOR CLASS

Time is a fleeting thing, and all too often slips by un-noticed. We seniors, coming to the end of our college career, now see those brief years in retrospect, and wonder if it is possible that with our diplomas in hand we must now take our place in society. Could we ever have thought of "conquering the world"?

The spirit of our first Homecoming enveloped us as we took pictures of the Queen, and cheered madly as we saw our football team victorious over P.M.C.—33-7. If the seniors that year had a rather melancholy look about them, we took no notice, for we did not realize that all too soon it would be our last Homecoming, and that we too, might be feeling a little sentimental.

In our sophomore year excitement ran high as we joined sororities and fraternities. Hurricane Hazel did her damage—we thought it romantic, eating by candlelight. We discovered West Moreland Street—before long the sophisticated sophomores were belly-whopping down that long hill.

Our Junior year! Serving the seniors cocoa and doughnuts at 4:30 in the morning; cheering madly for our title-winning soccer team; working frantically on the Junior-Senior Prom with its ming tree; wishing that Spring would roll around so that we could give Our Follies—these were the things that occupied our thoughts and our time in '56.

We returned to the Hill that following fall with mixed emotions. Knowing that now we were to lead others gave us a new feeling of responsibility, and we tried to act accordingly. Mr. Foutz's sign in the bookstore—"Seniors—stop by to get measured for your caps and gowns" made us tremendously aware that now we must acknowledge that it is we who are to graduate this June.

Our memories of today are vivid; the night we had our first Christmas tree lighting; the day that Dr. Ensor invested Sam with our academic gown; and the day we received our sheepskin.

Yet we no longer think of conquering the world. This is not our task. We do hope that each of us will do well in his undertaking; will work with sincerity of purpose; and will acknowledge in his living, the trust which his Alma Mater has placed in him.

Western Maryland is represented this year in the annual publication Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities by thirteen members of the Class of '57. The students were recognized for scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities; citizenship and service to the campus and potentiality as future contributors.

Among the variety of activities in which they have shown their capabilities are: The Student Government Association, Student Christian Association, dramatic and musical productions, honorary societies, and social sororities and fraternities.

Each of these seniors will have a biographical sketch in the Who's Who publication giving his interests, abilities, and accomplishments. This honor also entitles him to the use of the organization's placement bureau, which furnishes recommendations to employers and graduate schools and to the privilege of wearing the honorary key.

JUNIOR CLASS

As freshmen on the Hill we had many things to learn—about our new home and about ourselves. Then as sophomores we came again, this time with the knowledge that we had passed the test, and now belonged. As juniors we came once more to the Hill, and with a brief look back we saw our past. Now we knew the time we thought a progression of slowly passing days had in reality been a moment, a speeding flash. And so we looked ahead and saw with new clarity the steps of study, work, and play that would so quickly lead us to our graduation.

We gathered our ideas together, we sifted and sorted them. Then in what seemed the blink of an eye, our plans crystallized. Our third Western Maryland spring was blooming around us, and we were knee deep in our own

Junior Follies. Just as all before us, we too knew that ours had surely been the "best ones ever."

This was our pattern. This was what we evolved ourselves, and what we blended with ideals and meanings worked out and handed down to us by junior classes before. Now it is ours to pass down to new juniors, philosophies ranging from friendly understanding of freshmen rats and carefree sophomores to surety of purpose in a major field.

As we view our junior year from where we stand on the brink of senior experience, we see what grew most lastingly. We see the principle of unity—that abstract which binds us now together and which shall always be a tie between us.

There is a time in every college graduate's life when he is a sophomore. To a freshman it is a seemingly unobtainable position; but we, for whom that year is over, wonder where it has gone. Now we have reached the halfway point.

We entered the hallowed state of "wise fools" in September, 1955. It was good to come back on campus feeling that this was truly our home away from home. Within a week we were "lords of the rats" seeking our revenge for the year before when we were "rats of the lords." However, ours wasn't the last laugh, for in early October our wise half was taken away and we were left as just simply fools when as pledges we were subjected to the ridicule of our chosen sorority or fraternity. But at the end of that week, when we really belonged, we all agreed that it had been worth it.

In a lot of ways this year was like the one before it. The boys were still toting rifles; the girls—hockey sticks; the S.G.A. still met on Monday night, and sororities and fraternities on Tuesday. In spite of any attempts on our part to have a world-shaking effect on the Hill, we did not succeed in uprooting such traditions as homework, tests or "D" slips. Each day, as our heads hung a little lower from the weight of the knowledge within them, we realized even more that we were here primarily for an education.

Previously made friendships were strengthened—new ones were made. Though the interests of the group were varied and many of us were members of separate organizations, we still remained a close knit group. The G. Lee Fishback Scholarship fund, on which we had begun work in our Freshman year, was still our main objective. Under the leadership of Al Gilmore the class continued to make its presence on the Hill known.

It seemed that just as we were getting settled, the year was over. We all knew that though we may not have used the year most wisely, we were now striding towards the real meaning of "learning." A milestone in our road of life has been passed and we may only hope we shall profit from those miles which we must yet conquer.

FRESHMAN CLASS

First impressions are often the most lasting ones. Among our first impressions were the friendliness and willingness of all to help us become acquainted with our surroundings and the traditions of which we have now become a part. Like Elvis, we have found that new home which all students eventually look to on the Hill.

The weeks of Rat Rules passed swiftly by with few mishaps as we looked forward to our first Homecoming at Western Maryland. Our first class project, a float for the parade, was one which developed class spirit and helped us form that close relationship from which would grow our future leaders.

Academically speaking, we realized the seriousness of taking advantage of our learning facilities and the need to set for ourselves a goal for which to strive. Socially we were represented in many organizations, as well as in varsity sports.

With the election of its officers, the Class of 1960 united and formed a firm foundation. On this foundation we will stand as we set our eyes on the future.

HOMEcoming

OCTOBER 20, 1956

WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE

The Queen reigned supreme over her collegiate subjects and was honored by the many floats and displays that were erected . . . Something new was noticed on Hoffa Field—an electric scoreboard which was the gift of the Classes of '56 and '57 . . . Tradition was again broken—we lost the football game to Hampden-Sydney . . . After the game the Alumni flocked to the fraternity and sorority rooms to re-acquaint themselves with their former classmates . . . Open house was held in McDaniel Lounge . . . An eerie atmosphere of goblins and Hallowe'en creatures dominated the dance . . . What kind of a day was it? A day like any other day, except for that special high spirit found on the Hill and that you were there, along with many grads.

Gill Gym took on a new look . . .

. . . and we looked for victory.

An artist captured 2nd prize.

The W.A.A. roared to first place.

A few scattered pieces picked up a yellow ribbon.

Spirits and champagne bubbled this day.

This dog catcher found a blue ribbon.

A good ad for the soap industry—also a red ribbon.

Heralding the Terror team.

Action bound for Hoffa Field.

And there was plenty of action.

Could realization be worse than anticipation?

Who needed Hoffa Field to perform?

There are advantages to being President!

THE ARTS

This year Western Maryland featured a joint concert by the College Choir and the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, and a performance by the National Symphony.

On November 5th, the College Choir joined the Baltimore Symphony, under Massimo Freccia, to present a concert called "A Night in Vienna."

Dr. Howard Mitchell conducted the National Symphony on February 8th in a program of Beethoven, Ravel, and Tchaikovsky. It was a special occasion for Western Maryland be-

The Little Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Philip Royer, presented two major concerts this year. Student conductors directed the orchestra in a concert for the student body in Alumni Hall, and the Spring Concert was presented on April 12th. The program included the Overture of King Stephen by Beethoven, the Piano Concerto in D

Major by Joseph Haydn, and The Testament of Freedom, a setting of four passages from the writings of Thomas Jefferson by Randall Thompson, performed by the Orchestra and the Men's Glee Club.

Later in the Spring, the Little Symphony accompanied a chorus of 400 voices from the Carroll County High Schools in a concertized version of the opera Carmen for the annual Eisteddfod.

Western Maryland has also been fortunate in the number of exhibits which have featured the works of several artists from Baltimore and surrounding areas. Early in the year, an exhibit of the work of Mr. Karl O. Schade, father of one of the students was presented. Mr. Schade is interested in wallpaper design and prints. In February one of the outstanding exhibits—a series of abstract impressions—by Gladys Goldstein, was presented to the students.

It is hoped that through becoming better acquainted with the art work, the students will develop an appreciation and greater understanding of it.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Government Association cabinet is composed of elected members from the classes and representatives of the dormitories. This year it was under the leadership of Larry Hall and Joanne Parrish and sponsorship of Deans Helen G. Howery and William M. David, Jr. This year two new voting members were welcomed into the Cabinet—presidents of the Interfraternity and Intersorority Councils.

Working closely with the Freshman Advisory Council during Orientation Week, the S.G.A. helped to introduce the Class of 1960 to the "Hill." The S.G.A. blotters were then distributed to the students and faculty. Soon after the mixers and picnic of Orientation Week had passed, the S.G.A. was busy planning the activities of Homecoming. With the help of other campus organizations Homecoming was a big success.

A new tradition was initiated on the Hill this year under the direction of the S.G.A. Students joined with the faculty at a tree-lighting ceremony to herald the beginning of the campus Christmas season.

In the Spring, the Women's Council was busy at work readying the campus for the reigning May Queen, her court, and for the many guests.

Throughout the year the S.G.A. assumed responsibility for the Rec Hall, Traffic Court, Civil Defense, free Saturday night movies, and the coordination of campus activities through the work of the Calendar Committee.

Students were kept posted on the work of the cabinet by the minutes of the cabinet meetings which were posted on the main bulletin board, and articles in the Gold Bug.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The 1956-1957 year has been one of progress and change for the Student Christian Association under the auspices of Dr. Charles Crain, adviser, and S.C.A. president, Joan Luckabaugh.

The S.C.A. is the coordinator of all religious bodies on campus. Each group contributes to the over-all program by sponsoring panel discussions, inviting speakers, and showing films.

The Association is subdivided into commissions, denominations, and interdenominational groups such as the Wesleysans, Wesleyanettes, and the Sunday Fellowship.

In contrast to last year's plan, the commissions functioned as committees with the chairmen serving as fulcrums between the cabinet and the general association. The projects which were emphasized this year were the Nursery School and the World University Service activities—the bazaar, the fund drive, and Student-Faculty night.

Dr. Donald H. Gard was guest speaker for the Religion in Life Emphasis Week. His center topic, "Why the Church?" held the interest of many. With the assistance of Mrs. Claude Colonna ("Perk" Parsons, 1953) Dr. Gard, through counseling and leadership, helped with many individual problems.

The Student Christian Association has been especially successful due to the cooperation of its many members. Second semester meetings centered around the denominational program with an emphasis on the ecumenical movement and in trying to find the common bases of all faiths.

Other officers for the year were David Bailey, vice-president, assisted by Robert Christian, Natalie Warfield, secretary, and David Harper, treasurer.

METHODIST STUDENT MOVEMENT

The Methodist Student Movement is the Methodist Church at work on Campus. Its purpose is to lead students to respect and to better understand the church; to provide an atmosphere of warm Christian fellowship; to advance religion in higher education; to offer service projects; and to lead students into an everdeepening experience of the Christian life through social and religious fellowship.

During the year, the M.S.M. gave a Christmas party for several underprivileged children from Westminster, contributed to W.U.S., and sponsored a square dance on campus, the proceeds of which were contributed to the Westminster Methodist Church for their building program.

The officers were: Buddy Pipes, president; Mary-West Pitts, vice-president; Marjorie Woodward, secretary; and Don Hale, treasurer.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The aim of the Baptist Student Union is practical Christian living and magnification of Christian scholarship. The realization of these goals was furthered in this, the fourth year of its existence on the Hill, by increased membership and activities.

Baptist students this year participated in the Fall Convention of the Maryland B.S.U. in Baltimore and the annual B.S.U. Spring Retreat. Other activities included sending a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family, and giving toys to children at Christmas. The Reverend L. J. Newton, Jr. and Miss Betty Jean Weeks assisted the group this year as guest speakers and counselors.

CANTERBURY CLUB

With a "kickoff" picnic in Harvey Stone Park, Canterbury Club began a year of fellowship and worship for the Episcopalian students on the Hill. The discussions and speakers, the Hallowe'en and Christmas parties, the annual spaghetti dinner and visit to the convent at Catonsville, and the special Lenten activities have made it an active and interesting—and inspiring—year.

Meetings were held every other Wednesday night and often the group met other nights for activities such as roller skating and bowling parties. Communion was held in the College Chapel on Holy days and every Thursday during Lent. Communion breakfasts were held and members served as ushers in the local parish.

Officers for the year were Bill Martin, president; Bob McCormick, vice-president; and Mary Hotchkiss, secretary-treasurer.

SUNDAY FELLOWSHIP

The Sunday Fellowship is an interdenominational organization which meets every Sunday morning in the Baker Chapel. The choir, conducted by Dot Clarke sang twice a month.

In addition to stressing discussion and participation, group fellowship was realized as an important aspect of the Sunday Fellowship. Along this line of thought, a Sunday Fellowship-sponsored skating party began the year's activities.

The presidency was filled by Gardner Annis and the vice-presidency by Nancy Jones. Luther Martin served as secretary-treasurer. Dr. Charles Crain is the faculty adviser.

The Fellowship choir provides special music for the worship services and when special services are held on religious holidays.

CARROLL CLUB

The aim of the Carroll Club is to provide worthwhile fellowship among Catholic students at Western Maryland College. It is associated with the Catholic Newman Clubs which function on many college campuses. The programs include activities of a religious, educational, and social nature. Meetings are held twice a month, consisting of informal discussions, guest speakers, and talks by the club adviser, Father Stroup of St. John's Church in Westminster.

One of the outstanding activities this year, sponsored by the National Newman Club Federation, was a Communion Breakfast held at the Park Plaza.

This year's officers were Carmela DeFlora, president; Joanne Trabucco, secretary; Nick Spinnato, treasurer.

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The aim of the Lutheran Student Association has always been to unite Lutheran students here on campus in a common bond of fellowship. Through the year they have worshipped and worked together in meetings and social activities.

The projects for the year consisted of sponsoring a movie and the annual spaghetti dinner. Bimonthly meetings were held at which time the LSA had guest speakers and panel discussions. Highlights of the year were a picnic and hike at the Pine Grove Furnace, Pennsylvania; attending the Area conference; and attending the North Atlantic Regional Conference at Buck Hill Falls, Pennsylvania, which was truly a very inspirational experience.

This year's officers were Jeanette Anderson, president and Ruth Ridinger, secretary-treasurer. The sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Schaeffer.

The Wesleyans are a group of Christian young men who meet every Friday night in the Seminary chapel to study and discuss the scriptures. In this way they seek to gain a truer insight into the teachings of Jesus. The fellowship they enjoy through studying and working together is enriching and challenging.

The activities this year consisted of deputations and preaching teams to Baltimore and outlying areas. Every Saturday a group of men worked as counselors at the Strawbridge Home for Boys. They also raised money to aid an African missionary.

This year's officers were: Buddy Pipes, president; Tom Llewellyn, vice-president; Clarence Kaylor, secretary-treasurer; Allen Gilmore, deputations; and Luther Martin, Grace. The Wesleyans' adviser is Dr. Charles E. Crain.

WESLEYANETTES

The Wesleyanettes are an interdenominational group of college women whose aims and ideals are expressed in the three words—worship, service, and fellowship. The group meets twice a month at the home of their adviser, Mrs. Douglas Chandler, for their programs and to work on projects.

The first meeting of the year was the traditional candlelight service. Activities for the rest of the year included work on the integrated Brownie troop, making stuffed animals for children's homes, saying grace at evening meals, working at the nursery school, Christmas baskets for needy families, and a Christmas party and spring banquet with the Wesleyans.

Officers for the year were: Millie Mackubin, president; Grace Fletcher, vice-president; Marge Hull, secretary; and Jane Roeder, treasurer.

First row, left to right: P. Blaine, M. Hull, M. Mackubin, B. Bell. Second row: D. Harrison, V. Daughaday, H. Hultberg, M. L. Fowler, B. Flohr, J. Green, H. Whitmore, E. Upperco, E. Grim. Third row: M. Pott, K. Zeller, N. Bell, M. Kirby.

WESTMINSTER FELLOWSHIP

With a small but enthusiastic group of Presbyterians, the Westminster Fellowship carried out a successful year's activities. Among these were a marshmallow roast, trips to Presbyterian churches in Baltimore and Washington, speakers, and discussions on Christianity and related topics. Climaxing the year was the annual picnic held in Harvey Stone Park.

Officers for the year were: Marge Hull, president; Earle Finley, vice-president; and Ginni Pott, secretary-treasurer.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA

Alpha Kappa Alpha is a national fraternity in philosophy, the purpose of which is to recognize excellence in the field of philosophy and to foster further interest in philosophical study and discussion.

The Chapter at W.M.C. is the Iota chapter. Dr. Reuben S. Holthaus, head of Western Maryland's Department of Philosophy and Religion, is the adviser for the chapter.

THE TRUMPETERS

"I pledge myself to make my life an example for those who look to me for leadership; to serve my college and those who share my devotion to her; to preserve the traditions of Western Maryland College, and to strive for the highest type of collegiate life."

This is the pledge that was taken by the Trumpeters of the Class of 1957 at the tapping ceremony last May. Membership in this honorary society is based upon character, scholarship, citizenship, and leadership in extra-curricular activities.

During the year, the Trumpeters fulfilled roles of leadership in the major campus organizations. Working with their sponsor, Miss Cora Virginia Perry, the group presented to the school the annual Christmas banquet.

With our college experiences behind us, we, along with all women students, look forward toward the future, keeping in mind our motto—"For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?"

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Under the leadership of President Don Tankersley, the Interfraternity Council has initiated many social changes in interfraternity relations; bidding, Hell Week rules, and rules involving intramural athletics. Since receiving voting power in the Student Government, the Council has become even more active in campus events. The Council coordinated the efforts of the four fraternities to sponsor an Interfraternity-Intersorority Weekend, a Spring Banquet, and cooperative social parties. Alterations in the assignment of concessions and dance dates affected a program more beneficial to the campus.

The scholastically-minded group reactivated the Frank B. Hurt Cup competition. The Cup will be awarded at the Spring Banquet to the fraternity obtaining the highest scholastic point average.

The officers for the first semester are delegated by an annual rotation. The Delta Pi Alpha representative is president and the other officers are: Dick Buterbaugh, vice-president; Gene Krantz, secretary; and Dave Downes, treasurer.

INTERSORORITY COUNCIL

The Intersorority Council is composed of the president, vice-president, and representative from each of the four sororities on the Hill. The officers of the Council are delegated by an annual rotation, the position of presidency being held this year by Sigma Sigma Tau. In addition to other responsibilities, the Intersorority Council serves as a coordinating, directing, and controlling influence over sorority activities.

Again this year, a coke and pretzel party was held for the sorority winning the scholastic cup. At Christmas, the Council helped to brighten the campus with a display in Robinson Garden. As in previous years, the junior members of the sororities served breakfast to the seniors who went caroling in the wee hours of the morning. The annual basketball tournament was held during the winter months. The year was brought to a pleasant and profitable close by the annual Intersorority picnic in Harvey Stone Park.

This year saw for the first time the recognition of the Intersorority Council on the S.G.A. Cabinet as a voting member. This position was filled by the president of the Council.

First semester officers were: Mary Jane Thorney, president; Martha Lewis, vice-president; Janet Perkins, secretary; and Harriet Stevens, treasurer.

DELTA SIGMA KAPPA

The Dels hit the jackpot in 1956-57 with thirty-three pledges in the fall semester. Those "worms" went right to work and won second prize for our float in the Homecoming Parade.

With Janet Perkins as first semester President, and Pat Richter presiding second semester, we had one of the best years ever. Mrs. Richard Hovey, our capable sponsor, advised us as we participated in many worthwhile activities. Baskets of food were given to needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas times.

Our biggest project was our new clubroom in McDaniel Hall. Much time and effort were spent on interior decoration plans. Our brothers, the Bachelors, presented us with a new coffee table for Christmas.

We all have many pleasant memories of a wonderful year—caroling with Alpha Gamma Tau, rush tea and party, birthday and senior banquets, and many hours of sisterly work and fun.

Delta signifies Justice;

Sigma signifies Unity;

Kappa signifies Good Fellowship.

Red and black clad Iotes scrambled aboard the bright red and white Pontiac convertible in the Homecoming parade. During our less splashy moments, we sold stationery and greeting cards, our project for the year. The high point of the year for the Iotes was the winning of the Scholastic Cup, which was presented at the Scholastic Tea by Dean Howery in November.

At Thanksgiving we sent a basket of food to a needy family in New Windsor. We entertained a group of elderly people at a nearby convalescent home near Christmas time. Further evidences of the Yuletide spirit were revealed in a banquet and an alumnae-sponsored part, which was well attended.

Second semester bounced off with the basketball tournament, shortly followed by the bridge tournament. The game was secondary to the fun we had; though the card masters did find food for concentration.

We had our rush tea, and in April we bussed out to the Big Pike Creek skating rink where we skated, "ated," and recreated.

Nearing the homestretch, we ended the year with a farewell party for the seniors going out to face the cold, cold world with still glowing memories of J.G.C.

PHI ALPHA MU

We began another successful year for Phi Alpha Mu as seventeen new pledges graced our new clubroom in the basement of McDaniel Hall. Homecoming brought two prizes to the club, second prize for the display and third prize in the float division. Pulchritude was in evidence with Leanne Manning as the sophomore representative and Marilyn Eccleston reigning as queen.

The holidays brought many duties and festivities. Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets were given to needy families. A gay time was had by all at our annual Christmas party given by our brothers, the Gamma Bets. Also, our sophomore sisters worked hard at giving us our party. The holiday spirit was shared by all with the arrival of Santa and his eight tiny reindeer and the exchange of gifts, which were later sent to Happy Hills Children's Hospital.

We continued our sale of sandwiches to support Ha Gyong Ja, our Korean war orphan. Also, contributions of money and clothes were collected for the Hungarian relief.

At the semi-annual banquet at Frock's, officers for the second semester were installed.

Intersorority events—basketball and bridge tournament—were another part of our year's activities. In the spring, the tea and Hobo rush party gave us the opportunity to know better the freshmen girls on the Hill. With the senior banquet in May, we closed another unforgettable year in the memories of the sisters of Phi Alpha Mu.

SIGMA SIGMA TAU

Our year of the Skunk got into full swing with the pledging of thirty-seven new Sigmas, and all of us gathered in our McDaniel club-room to plan for the coming events of 1956-1957.

With amazing speed Homecoming was upon us and with the help of our brothers the Black and Whites, we got our Champagne Bottle float out onto the field. Our jigsaw puzzle display took a yellow ribbon in the festivities and we joined with the other sororities in being hostesses for Dean Hower's reception.

Thanksgiving was next and our traditional basket was filled with contributions from each of the girls.

Then came Christmas. When we were not selling Sigma calendars for our Care project abroad, we were decorating our tree and club-room windows. The Christmas party with the Black and Whites was as merry as ever. We finished up the season with song and laughter around our Christmas tree.

Second semester began with new officers and five new pledges. We participated in inter-sorority bridge and basketball tournaments and continued in our project of entertaining at Montrose.

Main events of the spring included the Rush Tea and our own Sigma Circus. Our senior banquet brought us all to the realization that once again the year was drawing to a close. For all of us of the Scarlet and Silver it had been a truly full and happy one.

ALPHA GAMMA TAU

Alpha Gamma Tau launched the school year in fine fashion, welcoming twenty-six pledges into the fold, the largest pledge class to enter the fraternity in over a decade. The fraternity looked to the future with high hopes and great expectations.

Projects again included the annual float in the Homecoming Parade and the money-making tomato throwing booth at the WUS bazaar. There was a Christmas gift for a needy family, and, on the home front, a grand and glorious redecoration project for the clubroom.

The Inter-Fraternity Football diadem again went to Preachers who won an important and heartbreaking 6-2 decision midway through the season. The basketball loop threatened to be a repeat of the same cycle, but a Bachelor team improved over last year's titlists and featuring added cohesion, loomed a potent threat.

With May Day only a few months away, a depleted treasury provided a very practical impetus for a first-rate spring extravaganza, and plans were laid for this year's Bachelor dance with much gusto. With a long winter only half over, Spring could not come fast enough.

First semester officers included President, Gene Krantz; Vice-President, Ron Graybeal; Secretary, Bob Radcliffe; Treasurer, Ted Klenske; Sergeant-at-Arms, Pete Urquhart. Mr. Frank Hurt, the sage custodian of the Political Science department and the grandest Bachelor of them all, again served as faculty adviser.

Located in their pine-paneled clubroom in Daniel McClea Hall, the "Purple and Gold" have made 1956-1957 a memorable year. Continuing under the guidance of Professor Robert Adkins, and the elected officers, the fraternity remained "High on the Hill." The membership was increased to fifty as seven new members were initiated in the fall bidding.

The highlight of the fraternity year was the presentation of "Homecoming 1956," the Homecoming Dance. Through great cooperation of club members and feminine affiliates, the mystic Hallowe'en theme was a success socially, as well as financially.

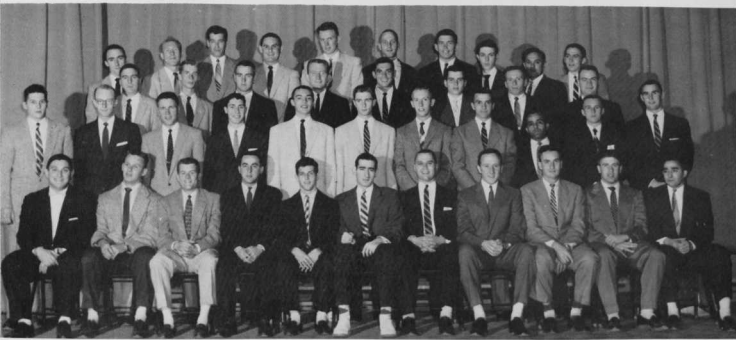

The fraternity carried on its traditional nomination of a Sweetheart by serenading Miss Dorothy Snider with an appropriate program in a very effective manner.

As usual, the Preachers had a large representation on the varsity football, basketball, wrestling, and soccer teams and held their own in the intramural league. A noteworthy accomplishment of the fraternity was the presentation of the Pep Rally before the Western Maryland game with their big rival, Hopkins.

Trying to complete the decorations of the new clubroom, the fraternity purchased new curtains and filled up the hole in the wall with a trophy case. Also for the convenience of the members, a 21 inch Victor television set has been acquired.

Delta Pi Alpha would like to congratulate the senior members upon their graduation and wish them the best of luck in all their endeavors in years to come.

GAMMA BETA CHI

When the happy hoards of students returned to campus this year, their number was saturated with the members of Gamma Beta Chi who were anxious to barricade themselves in the clubroom where they could try to forget the visions of sleepless nights ahead. In the confines of the pine-paneled paradise we call home there was talk of an enlightening six weeks at Meade, sordid tales of life at the beach, and occasionally we found a brother who had actually spent the summer working.

After the excitement of our return to campus had died down and the last freshman girl had been caught, cuddled and catalogued, we settled down to the business ahead. This year we sold programs and refreshments at the football games and had the dubious distinction of selling hot chocolate on the warmer days and trying to force the usually popular ice-cold coke on shivering patrons when the mercury took its deepest dips. In October we welcomed twenty-one pledges into our midst and set them to the task of vending our wares on Saturdays and bearing with us on Tuesdays. In the fixed asset department we added a new three-speed record player which enabled Elvis Presley and Beethoven to echo their respective talents back to back.

With the able assistance of the Phi Alphas we presented our Sweetheart Ball and hoped that those in attendance enjoyed "Stairway to the Stars."

During the year we had our annual Christmas party with the Phi Alphas and as usual we had a great time. Although not enjoying a great measure of success victory-wise in the intramural wars, we did have good representation and fine support from the brothers.

With the close of another school year, we, the remaining members of Gamma Beta Chi, would like to congratulate our graduating brothers and wish them the greatest success in the future.

PI ALPHA ALPHA

Under the continued sponsorship of Dr. John D. Makosky, the members of the Black and Whites returned to school this year with big things in mind. Sports, dances, and parties had to be planned, and the initiation of new members carried out. Looking back, we can now consider that our plans and ideas were completely successful.

To start things off, Pi Alpha Alpha, unsatisfied with a second place situation in the football league last year, played championship ball to take the Intramural crown this year. The competition was stiff, but with the aid of all eligible players and the great support of the sideline managers, all of the important games were taken and we had our first football pennant in several years.

After a very enjoyable smoker, the Black and Whites were happy to welcome new members who already show good promise of carrying on the success that Pi Alpha Alpha has seen this year.

Christmas brought at least two enjoyable functions. The Christmas Dance, sponsored this year by the fraternity, was beautifully decorated with innumerable "snow flakes" and a huge twenty-one foot tree covered with seven hundred ornaments which were the favors of the dance.

Just as the cleanup committee was clearing the gym after the dance, another committee was preparing the clubroom for the annual Christmas party for our sisters, Sigma Sigma Tau. After the singing of a few of the traditional carols, the party got into full swing and was only stopped when it was realized that it was "already" time for the girls to be in.

All in all, the men feel that this has been one of the best years in the history of the fraternity, and want to wish the seniors much success as they leave at the end of another great year.

COLLEGE PLAYERS

The College Players is an organization comprised largely of junior and senior dramatic art students, supplemented by a few from the sophomore class. Under the direction of Miss Esther Smith, four productions are given yearly: a three-act play in the fall; the Christmas program in conjunction with the College Choir; three one-act plays in March; and another three-act play given during Commencement week. Thanks to the talents of Mrs. Joy Winfrey, the players are surrounded by realistic, well-made sets for all the productions.

Besides these, the group is called upon for assistance by others on the "Hill"—ersatz grass for dances and floats, and make-up artists for other productions, while Miss Smith serves as the final critic for the Junior Follies.

The smell of grease paint, the endless painting and repainting of flats, the rehearsals, and the thrill of opening night will long remain in the heart of each College Player.

FRESHMAN ADVISORY COUNCIL

This year the Freshman Advisory Council consisted of twenty-one seniors and forty sophomores, under the co-chairmanship of Marian Scheder and Harold McClay. The members are chosen on the basis of scholastic and extra-curricular achievements, and their program is planned in cooperation with the S.G.A., the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women.

The structure of the F.A.C. was altered this year in order to better meet the needs of the freshmen throughout the year. The sophomore members of the council were on hand, as usual, to welcome the incoming freshmen and assist them through their Orientation Week. The senior advisers attempted to cope with the more personal problems of their advisees throughout the entire year, and to assist them in becoming better adjusted to life on the Hill.

It is hoped that the Council and its program will remain as an important part of Western Maryland's tradition.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Following their tradition on the Hill, the Future Teachers of America have completed another successful year. Headed by Bill Higgins and his cabinet, including Jo-Ellen Outerbridge, vice-president; Betty May, secretary; and Ralph Martinell, treasurer, they have enjoyed a most interesting and constructive year.

They began the year by entering a float in the Homecoming Parade and by arranging a special bulletin board in Science Hall.

This chapter was honored by having James Lightner, Helen Boardman, Patricia Werner and Jeanne Goode holding state offices. They attended two F.T.A. Leadership Conferences.

In November, the F.T.A. held a joint meeting with the French Club and the International Relations Club and heard about the life of an American exchange student in France, as told by Mrs. Dorothy Markling.

The first semester ended with the Christmas party at Dr. Bailer's home—enjoyed by all.

Second semester, the National Education Association's movie, "A Desk for Billie," was shown and in March, the club was honored to have Mrs. Violet Davis, president of the Maryland State Teachers' Association, as the speaker.

Aided by their sponsor, Dr. Joseph Bailer, the F.T.A. has again proved to be an important member of the college community.

ARGONAUTS

The ideals of the Argonauts are "promotion of sound scholarship here on the Hill, recognition of those students who have attained high scholarship standing, and the strengthening of this fellowship between students and faculty and between students of the various departments."

Patricia Patterson, president of the Argonauts, and Dr. William Ridington and Dr. Jean Kerschner, faculty sponsors, this year led the Argonauts in the pursuit of these ideals. Activities of the group included the induction meeting in November, the annual Argonaut tea in February and the Spring Banquet for students and faculty, at which senior members were named as Fellows in the Argonauts.

BETA BETA BETA

Beta Beta Beta, the honorary biological society under the sponsorship of Dr. H. P. Sturdivant, strives for a working together of science students with the purpose of sharing knowledge and advancing common interests. Tri-Beta meets regularly to have discussions and speakers to inform the members of present developments and opportunities in the scientific fields. Each year a scholarship from the Milton Hendrickson Memorial Scholarship Fund is offered to a deserving member for summer study.

In addition to the academic pursuits of Beta Beta Beta, there are also social functions such as a colorful initiation held at the home of Dr. Sturdivant, and an annual picnic. This year, Western Maryland's Tri-Beta chapter celebrated its 25th anniversary and, at the same time, was host to the members of the Regional Conference.

The officers for the year were: President, Paul Ensor; Vice-president, Marian Scheder; Secretary, Mary-West Pitts; Historian, Sara Ellen Price; Treasurer, Dr. Sturdivant, and Assistant Treasurer, Ernie Ramirez.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club is a social organization for all girls interested in the art of homemaking. Its purpose is to provide during the year a program of subjects related to the field.

The first meeting is always an "open house" held in the Management House to welcome all new members. As in past years, the annual fashion show of garments made by the girls in the department was presented, and later in the semester, a professional meeting was held, at which former graduates spoke on the opportunities in various fields of Home Economics. Early in the new year, the club was honored to have Miss Dorothy Elderdice present a fashion show entitled "High Lights in the History."

This year Western Maryland was represented at the state meetings of Maryland College Clubs by Joan Durno, who held the office of president for the association. As president, Joan presided at the state meetings, and attended the Province Work Shop at Penn. State in November. It is through the efforts of the Maryland Home Economics Association that the activities of the various member colleges are coordinated, and that pertinent news is spread throughout the state.

The officers for the year were: Joan Durno, president; Nancy Lindsay, vice-president; Joanne Filbey, secretary; Mary Lou Dorsey, treasurer.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

For many years Le Cercle Francais has been the meeting place on the Hill for those people interested in French culture. The meetings, held the second Monday of every month in McDaniel Lounge, are conducted in French. The officers of the club are: Miss Margaret Snader, sponsor; Joan Luckabaugh, president; Nancy Banks, vice-president; Winifred Walsh, secretary; Craig Phillips, treasurer.

The special programs are varied. They include scenes from plays, French films, and outstanding talent. At Christmas, the production of Cantiques de Noel, an annual program of French carols, is always anticipated with pleasure.

For the second year the club has sponsored Claude Pertuy, a French war orphan.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The Suez Crisis was one of the main themes dominating the I.R.C. this year. Discussing the happenings as they occurred and evaluating the repercussions has led the students to formulate, broaden, or change their opinions and attitudes on many world problems.

The I.R.C. tries to plant the seed of understanding of international problems so necessary for the preservation of peace. Speakers and group discussions are the mainstay of the program, which endeavors to bring current affairs into a position of reality for the students.

By working in cooperation with other organizations on the Hill, the I.R.C. hopes in the future to broaden the horizons of every individual coming within its influence by stressing the importance of knowing the many aspects of international relations.

Officers for the year were: Ronald Graybeal, president; Claudia Payne, secretary; Abdulaziz Futaih, treasurer; Roger L. Schelm, publicity.

CLASSICS CLUB

The Classics Club, under the sponsorship of Dr. William Ridington, is organized around one general purpose: "to develop a friendly interest in the classics in general, and to study classical cultures and their influence on modern life." Trips throughout Maryland and near-by states to see classical plays, movies, and guest lectures on the various facets of ancient civilization, for both the college and interested localities, are under the auspices of this club. The two major projects for this year were helping to sponsor the magnificent color film of Aeschylus' Orestia, produced by Randolph-Macon students, and a lecture on "Gods and Goddesses Near at Hand" by Miss Dorothy Hill of the Walters Art Gallery.

In its seventeenth year on campus, the club has two classes of members: full members—those who are studying Greek or Latin or who have had two years of these languages; and associates—those genuinely interested in the classics without the above qualifications.

The officers for the year were: Barbara Zepp, president; Lynn Meyer, vice-president; Nancy Jones, secretary-treasurer.

COLLEGE CHOIR

During the past year the College Choir has again made memorable steps toward creating its own history here on the Hill.

Twice during the year it was the pleasure of the Choir to sing with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Massimo Freccia. The first program included a medley of Viennese waltzes—the second, the opera Cavalleria Rusticana by Mascagni. In the opera, not only did the Choir accompany the soloists, but it also had several outstanding solo parts itself, one of which was the beautiful Prayer from the church scene.

The group, under the direction of Professor de Long, also presented the Christmas program in conjunction with the Dramatic Art Department. This year the Choir displayed its talents in a modern choral fantasy based on five traditional Christmas carols.

Later in the year, in keeping with the Lenten season, the Choir offered the Passion section of Handel's Messiah on Palm Sunday.

Besides leading the congregation in the hymns of the chapel service, the choir weekly renders an anthem, as well as providing many soloists.

Miss Margaret Whitfield and Professor Oliver K. Spangler are the Choir Accompanists.

THE BAND

In the years past, W.M.C. has had an ROTC band. This year the band has functioned not only as an ROTC band, but, with the addition of students outside the ROTC, as a college band. Since the band is now functioning as a musical organization on the campus, the college is in the process of purchasing new uniforms and building additional instrumental music facilities. The appreciation of the students for this added interest on the part of the college is evident by the fact that the college band enrollment is double that of last year.

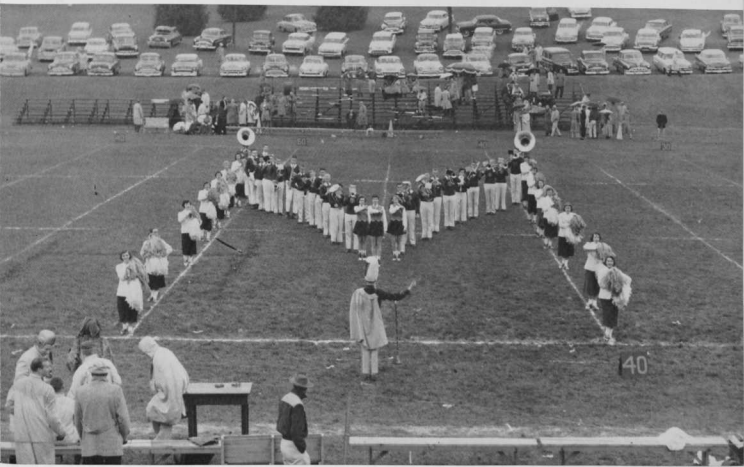

The college band functioned during the football season as a marching band, opening the season at the Homecoming Game. There were animated formations on the theme of transportation. Other highlights of the season were a trip to Drexel on November 3rd, and the production of a dixieland show at the final game of the season. This show featured Jean Murry, clarinet, Don D'Angelo, trumpet, and Dorsey Hawkins, trombone, as soloists.

After the football season, the band became the College Concert Band and at that time held an election of officers. These officers were Dick Humbert, president; Jean Murray, secretary; Donald D'Angelo, librarian; and Nick Spinnato, drum major.

In the spring, two concerts were given and we hope they will become annual presentations. The first consisted of early music with compositions by Petzold, Gabrielli, and Reiche. It also included some modern works by Wagner, Milhaud, and Holst.

The second concert was an outdoor one featuring selections from the Broadway shows: Pajama Game, My Fair Lady, and A Most Happy Fella. It also included modern works by McBride, Ferde Grofe, and LeRoy Anderson.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Comprised of men who enjoy singing, the Men's Glee Club met in September to open another year's activities. Under the direction of Mr. Oliver Spangler, the year's program was outlined. The big project was the Thomas Jefferson's Testament of Freedom, which was arranged and put to music by Rondall Thompson.

Among other appearances, the Glee Club sang a concert in February at the Northwood-Appold Methodist Church. The concert held in April included the featured work, the Testament of Freedom. The Glee Club was accompanied by the College Orchestra.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

Again this year, a number of girls responded to the announcement of the first rehearsal of the Girls' Glee Club. The group met weekly, and under the direction of Professor Alfred de Long, practiced for the various programs which the girls gave throughout the year.

Though the Glee Club often has many music majors participating, it is open to all girls who enjoy group singing and who are willing to put in some hours of hard work.

This year the Glee Club presented two programs. In March, the club offered a selection of six songs as entertainment for the annual meeting of the American Association of University Women. Among the selections were a charming arrangement of the Arkansas Traveler with accompaniment by four hands, and a catchy tune entitled Oh These Men!

The final program given by the Glee Club was the lovely Blessed Damsel by Claude Debussy.

The accompanist for this presentation, as well as for all rehearsals and programs was Miss Karen Helbig.

BATTALION STAFF

The first Senior Unit of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at Western Maryland College was established in 1919. Since that time, Western Maryland has trained young men to take their places as officers in the U. S. Army in times of national emergency. Lt. Col. Dayton E. Bennett is the Professor of Military Science and Tactics. His staff includes Maj. Alfred V. Clark, Capt. Francis E. Howard, Jr., M/Sgt.

Archie C. Allgire, M/Sgt. George E. Bromwell and M/Sgt. Crawford G. Coyner.

The Department of the Army prescribes the course of study to be followed by the cadets. Two years of Military Science are required for graduation, but students desiring to continue may be selected by the P.M.S. and T. and approved by the President of the College, to complete the full four-year course. The graduate is eligible to receive a reserve commission as a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army.

During the first year the cadet studies organization of the Army and R.O.T.C., individual weapons and marksmanship, American Military History and drill. Map reading, crew-served weapons, gunnery, and drill are studied in the second year.

If the cadet is selected to continue into the advanced course, he studies leadership, military teaching methods, organization, small unit tactics and drill in the third year. During the last year, military operations, logistics, organization, and drill are studied.

Practical experience is gained by the cadet when he attends summer camp between his junior and senior years. This year the cadets had four weeks of training at Fort Meade, Maryland, and two weeks at A. P. Hill in Virginia.

There have been numerous extra-curricular activities in which the Cadet Corps have participated this year. At the Homecoming celebration, the Homecoming Queen and her court were escorted by the battalion staff and company commanders of the Cadet Corps. Also participating in the celebration were the drill team and the R.O.T.C. Band. Both Band and Drill Team took part in numerous other functions.

The value of the Reserve Officers Training Corps to the individual student, to his college and to his country cannot be underestimated. In the past, Western Maryland has provided the Army with fine officers and hopes to maintain that record in the future.

FOOTBALL

Western Maryland opened the 1956 season with a victory over the Red Devils of Dickinson. Charlie Havens introduced to Western Maryland for the first time, the split T formation. Sophomore quarterback "José" Schorreck and senior halfback Al Miller provided the margin of victory—as the first half closed with the score, W.M.C. 12—Dickinson 0. It was an inspired Red Devil team which took the field in the second half. Early in the fourth quarter Sam Rose scored the lone T.D. on a one yard plunge. The remainder of the game was a defensive battle for the Terrors. Final score—12-6, in favor of Western Maryland.

The following week the Terrors traveled to Chester, Pa. to meet the cadets of P.M.C. The Western Maryland offense lacked the drive which it had shown previously and they succumbed to the well-balanced attack of Pennsylvania Military. Final score 19-0 in favor of P.M.C.

On the road for the second straight week, the Terrors moved south to meet Randolph-Macon. The team showed a great deal of improvement over the previous week and was halted only by penalties. Western Maryland held a 2-0 lead as a result of a safety in the second quarter. Randolph-Macon squeezed out a victory on a highly disputed touchdown in the last two seconds of the ball game. Captain Bob Butler, Bob Piavias and Bill Spaar sparked the line play for the Terrors. Al Miller and Dick Hersh carried the brunt of the Western Maryland ground attack.

The following week the Terrors stepped out of their class to play the mighty Bullets of Gettysburg. On the strength of their superior manpower, G-burg came out of the game with a 45-0 victory to their credit. The only highlight for the Terrors was the continued good line play by Bob Butler.

The Tigers of Hampden-Sydney broke our home tradition by defeating the Terrors on Homecoming Day, 34-13. Al Miller and guard Tom Riffin scored the only T.D.'s for Western Maryland. Tackles Bob Butler and Don Dewey led the Terror line, which repeatedly stopped the H-S ground attack—with most of scores resulting from passes.

Unbeaten Franklin and Marshall continued their winning ways at the expense of W.M.C. The game was played on a muddy Hoffa Field before a sparse crowd on the High School Guest Day. F & M scored both of their touchdowns in the first half on a plunge and a pass. Western Maryland scored late in the fourth quarter when Dick Holbruner hit Chuck Smith with a pass on the goal line. The final score was F & M 12—W.M.C. 6.

On November 3, the Terrors traveled to Philadelphia to meet the Drexel Dragons. Dick Holbruner passed to end Don Haas, who was downed on the five yard line. Dick Hersh then capped the drive with a five yard plunge. Drexel fought back and scored as the first half closed. Drexel rallied again in the second half to claim a 20-6 victory.

On November 10, the W.M.C. Terrors traveled to Easton, Pennsylvania to meet the Lafayette Eleven. Lou Fisher and Jim Lewis played good ball even in the light of a losing cause. The only W.M. score came on a pass from Holbruner to Lewis. Final score: Lafayette 43—W.M.C. 7.

W.M.C. closed the '56 season with a 7-0 loss to Hopkins on Hoffa Field. It was a hard fought contest and well played all the way. The Blue Jays made several strong drives but the hard fighting W.M. line kept down the advances until the fourth quarter. Jerry Miller provided the offensive thrill of the day for Terror fans. He consistently picked up yardage on the delayed buck. This game brought to a close college football for several Terror seniors: Captain Bob Butler, Darryl Martin, Dusty Martinell, all graduating linemen, and Al Miller, Dick Hersh, and Chuck Smith, backfield men for four years.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE '56 SEASON:

Dickinson game . . . Jim Lewis loses shoes while catching pass.

Randolph-Macon . . . Lou Fisher plays an outstanding game.

F and M . . . Bob Butler named to All-East squad for his brilliant line play.

Post-season honors . . . Captain Bob Butler named to 2nd string All-Methodist Team.

SOCCKER

The Western Maryland soccer team opened with five straight victories and finished the campaign with an 8-2 log. Mt. St. Mary's and Loyola were the first to fall before the booters of Coach Phil Uhrig. Washington College, F and M, and Delaware also suffered defeat as the team hit its peak. As the season progressed the Terrors listed G-burg and American U. among those who fell beneath the Terrors' strength. The two defeats were dealt by champion Catholic U. and Hopkins. Captain Denny Harmon led the team with 25 goals and was the spark plug in every game. Don Tankersley, Del Kohl, and "Bip" Vitek were the key figures on attack. The backfield was led by Sam Reed (who always managed to be at the right place at the right time), Stan Entwisle and Frank Robey. The seven men listed above will be graduated in June, but Coach Uhrig has quite a few promising players for his varsity next season. The team will form around Juniors Pete Urquhart and Gene Michaels, along with Freshman Bob Cole on the line. Sophomore Bruce Lee and Freshman John Karrer are the backfield prospects. The goalies who had shown great potential were Sophomore Pete Hemenway and Freshman Lloyd Musselman.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE SEASON:

The performance of Freshman John Karrer in the fullback slot throughout the season.

. . . Del Kohl and Don Tankersley playing either line or halfback.

. . . Denny Harmon's 5 goals in the A. U. game.

. . . Wing Pete Urquhart being named to the All-Southern squad.

. . . Fullback Sam Reed making the All-American team.

. . . Captain Denny Harmon making All-American for the second time.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

Pi Alpha Alpha pulled the surprise of the year by capturing the intramural football title from the Preachers in a hard fought play-off game. The season was highly competitive, with Delta Pi Alpha and Alpha Gamma Tau presenting most of the competition. Final standings showed the Black and Whites holding down first place, the Preachers, strongest contenders for the title in second, the Bachelors in third and the Gamma Bets in fourth.

As usual, the fraternity spirit ran high during each contest, but after a game was over, competitive feelings were soon forgotten.

RIFLE TEAM

The Rifle Team this year was made up of twenty sharpshooters, including seven returning lettermen. It was ably coached by Captain Howard and directed by team captain Ron Graybeal. The arrival of the new Winchester 52 Target Rifles was a boost to the men. The race for top man was a two way struggle between Ron Graybeal and Wayne Holter with the rest of the team right on their heels.

Though the senior members will be a loss to the team, the large turnout of underclassmen this year holds high hopes for an even stronger rifle team in the future.

BASKETBALL

Western Maryland's basketball team began and ended the season in a winning way to compile a record of six wins and thirteen losses.

The record may not be one of first division caliber, but at times the team displayed a brand of ball worthy of a championship team. For the first time in many years, Terror basketball fans saw the team make good use of new techniques. These innovations are the product of Coach Richard Clower, a graduate from the "Hill."

Sloan Stewart, Dusty Martinell, Tom Rigglin, Bill Spaar, and Dick Holbruner carried most of the load throughout the season. Coach Clower is hoping for a good season next year, with only Dusty graduating. Barring ineligibility problems and injuries, next season should see the Terrors field a team worthy of challenging the first division.

Captain Tom Rigglin

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE SEASON:

- ... the fine game the team played while defeating Susquehanna.
- ... Sloan Stewart's being nominated to Mason-Dixon second team.
- ... The 36 points Dusty Martinell scored against Loyola while playing his last game on the Gill Gym court.

WRESTLING

The Western Maryland College wrestling team concluded its 1956-1957 season winning three of its six Mason-Dixon Conference matches. Falling victim to the Terror grapplers were American University, Loyola of the East, and Catholic University.

The highly regarded Baltimore University team proved to be a too experienced one for the Terrors. In spite of losing close matches to Towson State Teachers College, and Galludet, the team has stimulated interest in the sport, and certainly had the support of the students throughout the season.

In March, two of the Terror wrestlers emerged medalists from the Mason-Dixon Tournament. Retiring captain Brant Vitek placed third in the 123 division, while Brooks

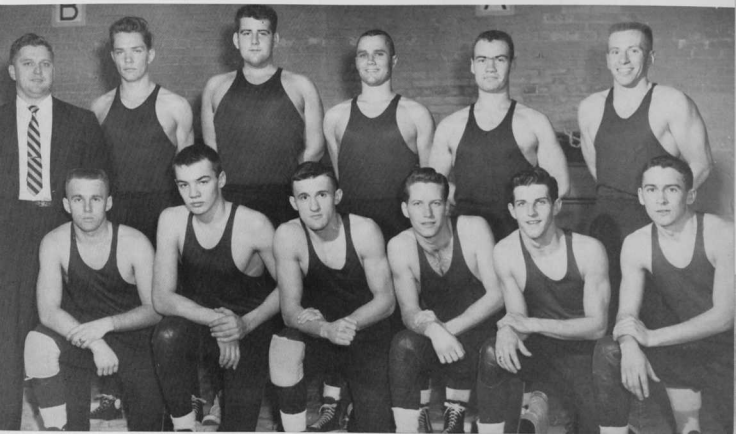

Captain Brant Vitek (and playmate).

Euler, a junior wrestling at the 157 weight, took second place in his division.

This year the team will lose seniors Brant Vitek, Darryl Martin, and Earle Finley, but hopes to retain its strength with returning lettermen Brooks Euler, Charlie Cock, John Gunderson, Fred Stoever, Dick Gardiner, and George Wellings.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Creating interest in the field of athletics and promoting good sportsmanship are the ideals of the W.A.A. Each girl on the board sponsors a particular sport in the course of the year. The Association also elects the members of the honorary teams. At the annual fall and spring parties, athletic awards are presented to those who qualify.

It is under the leadership of the W.A.A. that the girls' intramural program is set up. This year the athletic schedule included hockey, basketball, badminton, volleyball, tennis, and softball. All girls are encouraged to participate in any or all of the sports as they desire.

Working hand in hand throughout the year, the girls succeeded in winning first prize for their Homecoming display and assisted in sending senior members to the Eastern W.A.A. Conference. Also, the board sponsored activities within the group.

The officers for this year were: Mary-Ellen Weber, President; Joy Nuttall, Vice-President; Jean Cline, Secretary; and Ardella Campbell, Treasurer.

Co-sponsors of the W.A.A. are Misses Roselda Todd and Marie Parker.

With the addition of six new members, the 1956-57 cheering squad was once again found promoting school spirit.

The co-captains, Helen Boardman and Marilyn Eccleston, provided excellent leadership for the thirteen cheerleaders throughout the numerous practices, pep rallies, and games. This year, the cheering squad concentrated on presenting many new cheers to the student body and encouraging students to represent W.M.C. at away games.

Due to the endless cooperation of our students and faculty, a successful year was completed with spirit running high on the Hill.

MAJORETTES

Under the leadership of Jean Lambertson, majorettes Mary Lou Maddox, Florie Willis and new member Charlotte Bayliss enjoyed a busy season. As well as performing in the traditional parades and for halftime entertainment, the twirlers joined the band, cheerleaders, and pom-pom girls to add color and spirit to the pep rallies in Alumni Hall. Many new routines and ideas have been added to their repertoire.

Perhaps the most vigorous activity of the girls is strutting down Main Street, leading the college in the annual pep rally parade for Homecoming. It was a job well-done, as were all the displays by the majorettes this year.

PEP CLUB

The Pep Club includes those members of the student body that are full of vim and vigor and are dedicated to furnishing W.M.C. with school spirit. Now in its second year, it is headed by Bruce Lee.

The club is divided into two main committees, namely: publicity, whose members keep the student body informed of the activities around campus, and pep, composed of those fortunate people blessed with an abundance of energy.

During freshmen orientation week, the club sponsored a "mixer" and induced many freshmen to become active, participating members.

This small group has done a great deal to stimulate more enthusiasm and interest on the part of the college spectators at athletic events. The club hopes that it will be a booster to school spirit on all accounts.

POM-POM GIRLS

Pep and coordination are the stock and trade of the expanding group of Pom-Pom Girls. In this, their second year, the Pom-Pom Girls have extended their ranks to twenty-four members and under the leadership of Beverly Bosworth, have performed their precision routines on and off Hoffa Field. At the Johns Hopkins game they marched with the Band and performed routines to a "Dixieland" program. The Homecoming Day game performance, though executed from the sidelines, was hailed as an excellent display.

The Pom-Pom Girls, dressed in their collegiate uniforms of white blazers and charcoal skirts, bring their exhibitions of skill within the confines of Alumni Hall to assist the cheerleaders with cheers and songs at pep rallies. Although last year they were an innovation, this year has established the Pom-Pom Girls as a tradition at W.M.C.

HOCKEY

This year, as in previous years, our fall program of sports opened with the hockey season. Intramural teams were chosen and dedicated girls, laden with sticks and shin guards, hiked to the hockey field to play in their scheduled games. Enthusiasm and competitive spirit were high as the Sophomore A team finally captured the championship.

In Intercollegiate games our hockey team journeyed to Mount St. Joseph's College in Emmitsburg to participate in a hockey play day with several colleges. The season ended with an exciting and well-played 1-0 victory over Goucher High scorers for the season were Anne Clemmitt, Barbara Boggs, and Ardie Campbell.

The honorary hockey team, chosen by the W.A.A. board, was as follows: Left wing, Ann Gorman; left inner, Joy Nuttall; center forward, Barbara Boggs; right inner, Ardie Campbell; right wing, Joan Robinson; left halfback, Bev Hill; center halfback, Mary Tomlinson; right halfback, Jean Luckabaugh; left fullback, M. E. Weber; right fullback, Carol Pettersen; goalie, Jean Cline.

Alternates were Joan Wood, Sue Davidson, Billie-Mae Gill, and Anne Clemmitt.

Right, top to bottom: W. Robertson, J. Wood, M. E. Weber, A. Clemmitt.

BADMINTON

Among the sports highlights on campus this fall was our annual badminton tournament. Many girls turned out to swat the shuttlecock with enthusiasm and each class produced a winner. These four "first-raters" challenged each other for the final title.

On December 1, Gill Gym was the center of attraction for an intercollegiate playday, sponsored by the Western Maryland W.A.A. Visitors from four other colleges participated, offering spirited competition and friendly rivalry.

ACHIEVEMENT

Achievement in General Contracting depends on two things: ability and reliability. At Consolidated, we have both. Since 1911 we have constructed "Anything . . . Any Size . . . Anywhere" —throughout the United States and overseas.

Since 1890— A Maryland Tradition

Maryland's heritage is one of fine homes, gracious living, and generations of great citizens, many of whom have and are contributing materially to the growth and welfare of the nation.

Since 1890, it has been our proud and happy privilege to be accepted into the finest of Maryland homes. This acceptance has grown with the State and with the generations we have helped nurture into gracious womanhood and stalwart manhood.

MAY DAY AROUND THE WORLD

May 4, a clear, very cool day, sponsored the festivities for this year's May Day. Students were still talking about that rib-tickling Willie Mack and his slightly different Co-op. Enthusiastic sideliners watched the parade—seniors being particularly partial to the float pictured below, and everyone commented on the originality displayed in the parade.

The Queen was crowned, the crowd entertained. We heard the band whip off a few numbers faintly reminiscent of LeRoy Anderson, and we ate goodies at the newly initiated lawn buffet in Robinson garden, sponsored by the sororities. We worked hard, played hard, and had a wonderful time.

THE MYSTERY OF THE DISAPPEARING DAYS

It started with Investiture on April the 14th. Yes, we had our robes now, but there was LOTS of time left. Mr. Uhrig wouldn't be sending us those alumni notices—at least not for a while . . .

There was a gasp of pleasure from the senior section when Dr. Reuben S. Holthaus was presented as the speaker for the Investiture service. He was our choice, too!

Sam, representing the senior class, was invested with the academic cap and gown, symbolic of the near completion of our college careers.

BASEBALL

The baseball team had a five and eight win-loss record this year, including a double victory over arch rival, Johns Hopkins. Charlie Havens substituted as coach for Jim Boyer this season while he recuperated from a mild heart attack. Injuries hexed the team in that Pud Zimmerman, a pitching hopeful, was sidelined most of the season with a sore arm, and Ev. Feeser broke his foot.

John Kauffman, Joel Bailey, Buzzy Lambert, and Clark Kirkman were used as the starting pitchers. The hitting attack featured Denny Harmon, Hank Schorreck, Sloan Stewart, Buzzy Lambert, and Al Miller when he wasn't practice teaching.

The Team loses four key men this year: Miller, Savarese, Kauffman, and Harmon. But it is the hope that the improvement of several freshmen will equalize the imbalance.

TENNIS

After darkness halted their initial match at American University, with Western Maryland losing 4-3, the tennis team, coached by Prof. Frank Hurt, was victorious in fifteen consecutive matches to win the Northern division title of the Mason-Dixon conference. In the title match with Randolph-Macon, the Southern division champion, the Terrors bowed by a 6-3 score.

The team was undefeated in Middle Atlantic conference play, but because of final exams, they found it necessary to forfeit the title playoff.

Several factors should prove important in the future of the team. 1) Bob Anderson, a freshman, had an undefeated season. 2) Sam Reed is the only senior on this year's squad, leaving Capt. Wray Mowbray, Bob Passerello, and John Gunderson as strong points on next year's team. 3) Bruce Lee, a new-comer to the game, now has a year's experience behind him, and 4) New tennis courts have been constructed, and finishing layers will be added before next season.

GOLF

The golf team, this year led by captain Ted Klencke, made some marked improvements over their season's record of last year. This was ostensibly shown in the accumulation of four wins and four losses. In the Mason-Dixon conference play, the team suffered only one defeat, that being to Johns Hopkins. In the Mason-Dixon Tournament a strong fourth was captured by Western Maryland.

Next year, the only member of this year's team not returning will be Ted Klencke, who played at the top position. Hopes are high that the experience gained by the returning men will lend itself to a winning season in the future.

TRACK

Coach Dick Harlow's track team compiled a six and one record this year and went undefeated in Mason-Dixon conference meets. The big man for the team was its captain, John Hort, who accumulated over 130 points in the high and low hurdles, the 440, the 880, and the high jump. Chuck Smith, George Becker, and Bill Biehl were also consistently in the win column.

The team will miss Bob Butler, Chuck Smith, and Hal Atkinson, all graduating seniors, but many underclassmen made good use of the experience and should use it to advantage next spring.

Highlights of the season:

- ... the improvement of Karl Silex in the two mile
- ... Bob Butler pole vaulting against Loyola and placing third
- ... Spaar winning the discus toss against Loyola
- ... Kitty Bond being awarded her varsity track letter

COMMENCEMENT PLAY

"Ah, love of woman, by whose power we live,

Offend so often—but to see forgive!

Whence do you draw your grace but from above?

Whence simply? Simply from maternal love!

Yes, we are children, woman, in your arms;
Your heart is bread, you soothe our wild alarms,

Like children give us the honey of your breast.

In a cradle always your lover sinks to rest
Although he prostitutes our grovelling flesh.

Mother if lover, mother if sister too.

Mother by pure essence, day long and night through,

Mother if you laugh, or if with us you cry,

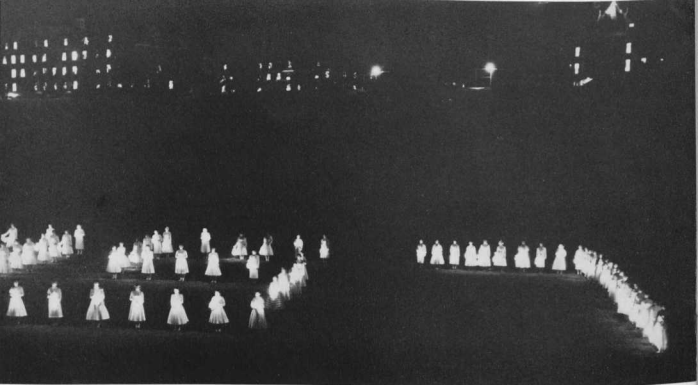

In the core of being, in fibre and in mesh,

Every woman carries, so God has willed on high,

A baby in her bosom, sleeping eternally!"

G. MARTINEZ SIERRA
from
The Cradle Song

The "57" spelled out many things to the women of the senior class—fun, friends—farewells.

Members of the senior class graciously agree to pose for an Ipana ad.

But then came the sentimental days of lantern chain, rose cup, and the Trumpeters' task. Still we did have weeks left before graduation.

On May 8, we unsuccessfully tried to look like dignified alumni-to-be. After all, it was the President's reception. Later we thought (but not too hard) about studying for graduate records.

And at last—the end of book-learning (for many of us at least). Those who still possessed some semblance of sanity and strength, frolicked and soaked up sun at the Senior Picnic at Frocks.

Could we convince Dr. and Mrs. Ensor that we had acquired a few social graces over the past four years?

We were all thinking, "Why did it have to rain this morning?!"

AND THEN! we knew what had happened to all those days. The mystery was unraveled. We looked back and saw that the days had been stolen by hard work for some, and fun for everyone. These days would soon be locked away in that compartment opened only when the class of '57 got together for some reminiscing, or when we begin feeling a little bit old. Then we'll reflect on the professors that growled at and guided us, on the courses we never thought we'd pass, and how things have changed since we were there. And we'll remember most THIS day, the day we got our diplomas and said good-bye.

In his address he challenged all of us to continue in the search for learning. But Dr. Warfield Monroe Firor, by his own example of a fine scholar and a sincere humanitarian, was more eloquent than any words he spoke.

Miss Joanne Parrish, proud possessor of a few awards.
