WESTERN MARYLAND
COLLEGE
WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND

Time is marked by the progression of a million footsteps—the infinite and eternal parade of thundering ideas and silent aspiration.

Each step . . . a transcendence of past complacency and limitation. Each step . . . a milestone along the path of experience and future promise. College . . . a step into the Future.

College . . . a realm of the transient and the traditional . . . a time for idealistic dreaming and realistic understanding.

Effortlessly, we can cling to the Old. Inevitably, we emerge and accept the challenge of the New.

The Art Department . . .

. . . and the Library . . .

. . . expand . . .

. . . into new quarters.

We know that with progress comes greater opportunity. An external facade is transformed, intellectual motivation is stimulated.

A freshness of spirit, the harmony of successful cooperation . . . realization of the potential which surrounds us.

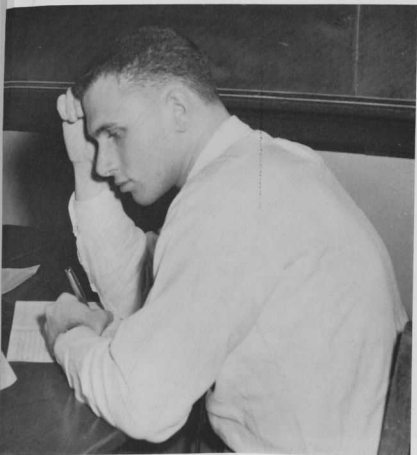

In the pursuit of the academic and in service to our fellow man . . . a response to the call of the unfamiliar . . . establishing within our personal framework a reliance upon the integrity of others.

We have stepped beyond the confining campus limits and sought to erase the social and ethnic barriers which prevent universal communication.

Students explore off-campus opportunities through the newly formed Student Opportunities Service.

Exams are more relaxed and less fearsome under the honor system.

New piano sparks psych breaks.

Socially, too, we favored the unique. We danced with a new twist and serenaded with a fervor reminiscent of racoon coats and jaded guitars.

A relaxation of the dress code . . . the informality of spontaneous activities . . . a wiser utilization of individual freedom.

Some like it "cool" . . .

We have worked together to see our Student Center become an integral campus structure. The noisy, bustling Grill becomes, in the evening, a place to relax with friends and share the pleasant serenity of college companionship.

A four year span of new faces, new values, and new dreams . . . a change within ourselves and within our environment . . . a resurgence of enthusiasm, a broadening of outlook . . . and increasing awareness of a world which is no longer remote.

. . . and some like it "hot."

Pep Club rallies spirits.

McDaniel Hall welcomes new "Mom."

WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE
with its own traditions, environment, and way of life, was the scene of an important step in our development.

Dedication

After the long and painful process of growing up is behind us, we look back with grateful hearts to those who have stretched guiding hands toward us through the years.

We of 1963 will remember in particular a man whose influence we have felt throughout four bittersweet years of college. To us he is as inseparable a part of Western Maryland College as Memorial Arch or the cornerstone of Old Main.

The college itself first felt his presence when as an undergraduate here he played a major role in establishing two of Western Maryland's most important student activities—the fraternity system and the Gold Bug. Now, as Professor of English, head of his department and Dean of Faculty, he helps to maintain a high academic standard of which Western Maryland is justly proud.

Dedication to this high standard of scholarship has earned for him the reputation as a “tough” professor who makes us think with demanding assignments and probing exam questions. And, with a smile lurking behind his well-used pipe, he watches us open our minds to truth.

But the classroom is not his only domain. We meet him in almost every phase of life on “The Hill.” Past college generations have benefited from his coaching in both golf and debating. Occasionally he has employed his journalistic talents to air his opinions to students via the Gold Bug. He often joins us in our social activities. His office is always open when we need the encouragement of wise and patient counsel.

We may recall a challenging class spiced with quickly-executed caricatures and biting humor or a conference freely-given despite an overfull schedule. We may remember merely a tall, dignified figure with briefcase, cap and pipe. But we will remember.

By devoted service to our college and by enduring faith in our individual worth, he has won a place in our hearts as he helped us to take our long step into the future. It is our privilege to dedicate the 1963 ALOHA to

Dr. and Mrs. Lowell S. Ensor

The President's Message

Congratulations to the Class of '63! At this time of graduation from college, you are successfully passing one of the major milestones of life. After Commencement your paths will lead you in many divergent directions—the Army will claim some for awhile, others will go to graduate and professional schools, others into business and industry, and most of you will embark upon the sea of matrimony before very long.

Whatever may be the various pathways followed by the members of the Class, I sincerely wish for all of you success. I would define such success not only or primarily as the accumulation of material possessions (may you have your share), but rather as the satisfactory achievement of the goals you have set for yourselves. May you be successful in using effectively the knowledge and skills Western Maryland has helped you acquire during the years spent on "The Hill!"

Lowell S. Ensor,
President

John D. Makosky, A.B., A.M., Ed.D.; Dean of Faculty

CLASS HISTORY

At first . . . anonymous faces with funny ideas and indistinct personalities . . . strangers in a new and unique situation . . . the years passed . . . and we found warm companionship, enduring friendships . . . classmates.

As a unit we have exalted and despaired. We have praised our values and doubted our worth. Alternately, we have loved and detested each other. Each emotion was a step in our development.

On September 23, 1959, we entered two hundred and seventy-eight strong to become the "new frontier" of Western Maryland College. Laden with high hopes and heavy books we started on our rough path to that dim and distant June '63. A wet Homecoming and a one-hundred-seventy-five-dollar float failed to dampen our spirits, which pulled us through biology, term papers, and our first set of college exams.

"I am a Rat of '63 . . ."

FRESHMAN YEAR—

"'Twas the night before our first Homecoming . . ."

Freshmen make the scene at Dogpatch.

Our ingenuity carried us to Dogpatch and kick-a-poo juice at the Sadie Hawkins Dance. With the approach of Spring came our first May Day with its South American flavor. Then, tired but united, we said our first good-byes and eagerly awaited the approach of our sophomore year.

CLASS OF '63

May Day went Mexican.

"Rat—State your views on premarital interdigitation!"

SOPHOMORE

Quite impressed with new sophomore dignity, we had no sooner basked in our supremacy during Rat Week than we of '63 were humbled in Hell—Week! The little "hurts" were soon forgotten, though, as we entered upon our November project, the sophomore hayride. The months flew by and before we knew it, second semester was upon us.

Pledging brought the ruination of sophomore sophistication.

YEAR

Saint Patrick's Day heralded the sophomore class party at the Riding Club, with entertainment provided by ours truly. After the excitement of WMC's first Derby Day, our horizons were broadened as we expressed our feelings toward the communist regime through a demonstration at the Russian Embassy. The Junior Follies' writers were already busily at work, and we looked forward to the prospects of what their efforts would bring.

WMC takes a stand on Communism.

"Think we'll make it to the bottom?"

The "hill behind the golf green" sets the stage for Follies '63. As the curtain rises the R.O.T.N. Cadets, in frantic search of Nodwarf's hidden distillery, run into a few "left-over" pledges.

JUNIOR YEAR

At an A.S.S. meeting Hel'n Howe meets some firm opposition from an old tennis pro, but the "representative of American Womenhood" stands strong.

A guest star appears at the A.S.S. meeting and takes an immediate liking to an obscure little man who seems to be appearing everywhere.

Meanwhile, back in the dining hall, Spanish Rice laments the wonders of his diversified menu.

Hanky Pank

The tea pot top has been stolen and the dining hall is in its usual state of confusion, but Esther only wants a seat.

At the Rice Bowl, the local speakeasy, Big Bad Ralph entertains the customers, but he too flunks out.

Dr. Enden appears on the scene and with a "crazy little step" begins a revolution in dance.

The "Rock-its" rock Alumni Hall between scenes.

From somewhere in the back, a little man appears from obscurity and with the falling curtain exclaims, "That's right. I was there!"

Broadway had better watch out!

A new writing team was born.

LET US DRINK A TOAST

"We're together now as we take our last bow . . ."

After the Follies we celebrated at Frocks.

Two other events and "firsts" attributed to the class of '63 highlighted our Junior Year. Back in October we sponsored Parents' Day, deemed a great success and destined to set a precedent for future years.

For our Spring project, '63 forged ahead again with a replacement for the Junior-Senior prom in the form of a banquet and party given for the departing seniors. At last it was time for us to take the lead.

"Diploma, anyone?"

SENIOR YEAR

And then we reached the lofty state of seniorhood. With mixed emotions we took the freshmen in hand during Orientation Week to introduce them to the life we were soon to leave. Homecoming brought the reign of our charming queen, Barbara; and then we were well into the semester, with all the trials of student teaching, ALOHA and advanced seminars. The Christmas season was soon upon us and with it the banquet presented by our Trumpeters and the traditional senior caroling, exuberant in spite of the pre-dawn hour.

Orientation week brings new "dignity" to the FAC.

"We are the Freshman Advisory Council . . . and that is why we're here!"

Even during the holidays, we were reminded of the approaching June, as we received forms for ordering graduation announcements. Upon our return to the "Hill," it was with both happiness and nostalgia that we were finally fitted for mortar board and gown. From here on out it was only a matter of five short months filled with innumerable "lasts." We were nearing the end of that path which had loomed so insurmountably to us as freshmen. So with friendships made and the rough spots smoothed, we're ready to go our separate ways into that exciting uncertainty called the Future.

A Queen of '63 reigns at last!

The seniors extend their annual Yuletide greeting.

Happiness is . . .

. . . singing carols at 5:00 A. M.

. . . the senior breakfast and being with your friends.

. . . a new "tradition."

... a good cup of coffee and the morning newspaper.

... the "right" answer on the Ouija board.

... being measured for a cap and gown.

Freshman Advisory Council

Remembering what a great help our senior advisors had been to us during our freshman year, many of us submitted our names in hope of being selected for the FAC. When the names of those who made it, were announced, congratulations were the event of the day. However, the prospect of being the class to advise the incoming freshmen made us realize how close we were drawing to the end of our stay on "The Hill."

We evaluated the programs of past years and initiated new procedures and ideas. The freshman handbook appeared with a proud new format. Orientation Week kept us busy providing entertainment and fellowship for our charges. With mixers, a "baby parade," and our own musical introduction we attempted to present the freshmen with a never-to-be-forgotten welcome. But our job did not end with that week. Throughout the year we were proud to be called upon for advice.

During the spring of our junior year, we met on numerous occasions so that we might be better able to help the class of '66. We were on hand when they arrived and did our best to get them settled and ready for their four years here at WMC. Questions and problems, whether large or small, we attempted to answer and solve.

This opportunity to serve the school and the freshman class, we feel, has been a rewarding experience, and we pray that success and good fortune may always be with the class of '66, our advisees.

Class of 1964

"Well, let's have a man's opinion on this matter."

The Junior year saw the blossoming of the Class of '64 and confirmed suspicions that our class had a distinctive personality. From class projects such as Parents' Day (we fortuitously scheduled it the day of the only game we lost) and the Junior Follies (who else utilized audio-visuals?) to such individual projects as working with faculty evaluation committees and lighting candles in the Grill, we've managed to live up to our reputation.

The spring saw the production of our Follies (in which we proved again that our class is characterized by its unity), the election of our classmates to high positions on campus, and the traditional round of fetes for our friends of the Senior Class.

As we watch them leave, we soberly realize that we must fill their place — and exhausted but happy after our busy year, we sincerely feel that being a senior must be fitting reward for having been a junior.

The Class of '65 arrived back on "The Hill" with the same spirit and the same "twist" which astonished the upperclassmen last year. Rat Rules and Rat Week brought back fond memories of a year that had passed quickly. Now we were giving the orders and Rat Court was exceptionally lively as we punished the Rats who didn't seem to like it one bit! Again we made ourselves unpopular by winning the tug-of-war on Parents' Day, thus making one more day of "beanie" wearing. As Big Brothers and Sisters we regained a little of that lost popularity in helping freshmen adjust to college life.

The tables turned in a few weeks, and the sophomores became extremely humble pledges during Hell Week. Sororities and Fraternities divided our class, but projects such as the formation of a Sophomore Pep Club showed that our spirit as the class of '65 was still strong.

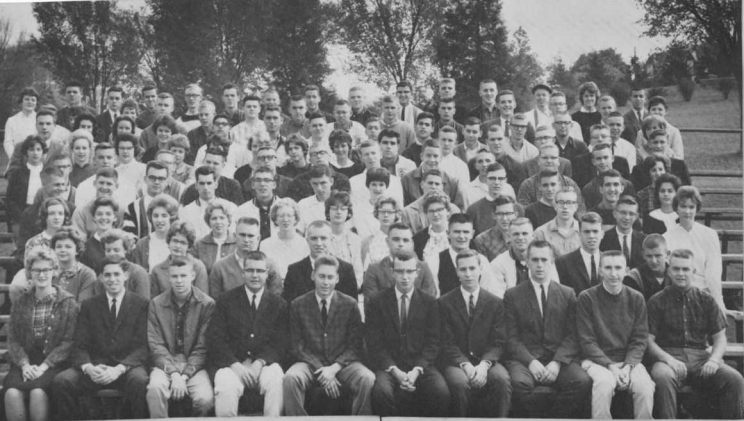

"What will tomorrow bring?"

Class of 1966

"Does this mirror our thoughts on the matter?"

After an anxious summer, we, the Class of 1966, arrived at WMC and made our debut on "The Hill." We were warmly greeted by our senior advisors and soon felt at home.

Orientation Week gave us a quick glance at many aspects of college life—from the intellectual stimulus of the placement tests to the gay life of the mixers. We learned a lot during one short week.

The upper classmen returned, and we were immediately put in our place by the sophomores. Rat Week provided much fun for everyone except poor "Ralph the Rat," our mascot, who became the victim of circumstance.

Before Thanksgiving we elected class officers and became a unified class. A little later we had much fun decorating the grill for Christmas. During the remainder of the year we became increasingly sure of ourselves, and by May, we felt that we were an integral part of the campus. The year was full of many surprises and was a rewarding experience.

ACADEMIC PURSUITS

Pencil stubs, and stale coffee . . . tired eyes, taut fingers and edgy nerves . . . a term paper,
an exam—erased, ragged—but complete.

Somehow, amid the chaos and confusion we have managed to learn many lessons. With the tools gathered in four years of study we will attempt the next step—service.

. . . inspired by the zest of leadership . . .

This is the second year Western Maryland College has been working under an honor system. This academic ideal has taken its place as an integral part of campus life and has proved to be an effective means of elevating the school's scholastic standing.

With the foresight and backing of the Student Government Association, an appointed committee investigated various aspects of an honor code and drew up a working system. The group presented their ideas to the student body and faculty for approval. After the inevitable process of incorporating suggested changes and needed clarifications, the system went into effect.

Members of the honor court are chosen from letters of application submitted by the students. As stipulated in the codified system, six seniors, six juniors and four sophomores comprise the court. Faculty members are Dean Helen G. Howery, Dean William David, Dr. Rembrandt Summers and Mr. Oliver Spangler.

The four professors, however, act only in an advisory capacity; they have no vote.

The court tries all infractions concerned with academic honor. Anyone who violates the code is on his honor to report the misdemeanor to the court within twenty-four hours. Fairness in judgment and secrecy of trial proceedings are the main objectives of the group.

The court elects its own officers. This year's president is William MacDonald and the recorder is Priscilla Ord. These two people are present at every trial.

Western Maryland is proud of its efficient and effective honor system. In only two years, it has gained a deep-rooted respect and value on the college campus.

. . . and strengthened through cooperation.

The Presidents' Club was organized late last year through the efforts of a few individuals after the Student Government Association suggested a better communications system among the organizations of the campus. In this club, the presidents of the organizations formulate policies, receive information and are informed of campus happenings. The main function of the group is to set up a monthly calendar designating all of the coming events. This calendar is circulated to the student body each month.

Presidents plan presentations.

Spiritual development is carefully nurtured.

Along with offering academic growth, Western Maryland offers students a chance to grow spiritually. Its affiliation with the Methodist Church has set up many traditions that are an important part of the college life. The religious tone of our campus underlies most of the activities that take place.

Sunday evening chapel services are non-denominational and members of all faiths find spiritual meaning in them. The college choir is one of the most impressive choral groups to be heard anywhere.

During the week, the many denominations meet and work together. Students find a chance for fellowship and spiritual outlets with members of their own faith. The churches in Westminster extend friendly hands and encourage the college students to take an active part in their parishes.

The Student Christian Association leads the way in most spiritual endeavors. Each year one of their main projects is Religious Emphasis Week.

The little things such as grace at meals, denominational activities, meditation in the little chapel, all are a part of the four years each student spends on "The Hill." Courses in religion and philosophy help students investigate and determine their religious beliefs.

In the middle of our campus stands the new chapel. As it views our daily activities, it lends its strength to our comings and goings and offers spiritual comfort when needed.

Peggy arranges magazines for Religious Emphasis Week.

ATHLETICS

Another season with different players, but the game is always the same. We have remained tense and breathless until the final second. We have left in despair before the game was over. We have cheered.

Four years of triumph and defeat . . . learning to accept both . . . laughter shared, tears shed . . . whatever the outcome, we strive to improve . . . we look to the future and realize the final score is the important one.

Terrors Take Two Titles

The 1962 season proved to be a very favorable one for the Green Terror gridmen as they battled their way to another Mason-Dixon championship and tied for first in the Middle Atlantic Conference. This is the first time in many years that a Green Terror eleven has accomplished this double feat. After their only loss of the campaign to mighty Susquehanna, the Waldorfmen finished their season in strong fashion, blanking three of their last four opponents. For the year the Terrors scored a total of 97 points as against 49 for the opposition.

In analyzing the successful season, mention must be made of the stellar defensive play which seemed to stifle the opponent's scoring potential in the second half. Every team was held scoreless in this time period until the final game of the season when Hopkins squeezed out their lone touchdown of the day. In post-season awards, Dave Markey was voted the Outstanding Blocking Lineman award, Eric Buckner received the Defensive Lineman award and Len Biser was voted the Most Valuable Player.

Roundballers Rebound

Successive losses to Drexel, Franklin & Marshall, and Loyola, and a gruelling 108 minute battle with Mt. Saint Mary's, which ended at a 0-0 deadlock, was the story of Western Maryland for the first four games.

Beginning on October 26th with a decisive 5-1 victory over Washington College, however, things began to look up, and the roundballers romped on to beat Lycoming, Gallaudet, Catholic University, Johns Hopkins, and to tie the University of Delaware.

A great deal of credit for the sudden shift to the win column can be attributed directly to an excellent bit of coaching strategy by an excellent coach, Denny Harmon. Midway through the season, Coach Harmon made a drastic personnel shift designed to balance the defense and offense and to salvage a winning season. The results are plainly seen.

Joe Wenderoth and Laszlo Zsebedics copped post-season honors as they placed on the All-Mason-Dixon team; Scott Joyner and Wayne Whitmore received Honorable Mentions. In addition to Conference honors, the squad voted Whitmore as Best Defensive Back and Zsebedics as Best Lineman.

Riflemen Start Fast with Young Squad

The riflemen at Western Maryland College have developed what is probably the world's most exacting sport into a fine science. Continuing on their winning ways the squad piled up an impressive string of wins early in the season. Ably coached by Sgt. Young and led by Captain Ron Cronise the team has registered wins over such perennially tough opponents as Syracuse, Gettysburg, and Lafayette. Consistently fine performances have been turned in by Dave Bowen, who along with Ron, composed the team's senior membership. Jerry Baroch, Matt Creamer, Hans Himler, and Andy Harmantas have provided fine depth to a squad that is still young and developing. Gaining confidence and experience with every match the squad aimed for an undefeated record and national prominence in the 2nd Army Intercollegiate Matches. The Terror Riflemen strive to be a team of which the campus can be truly proud.

Grapplers Boast Spirit and Youth

Under the fine direction of coach Iver Magnussen and assistant Sam Case, the wrestling team jumped off to its most favorable start in recent years. Hampered by inexperience and lack of depth, the matmen made good use of determination, aggressiveness, and outstanding performances by various individuals to post two consecutive wins after a pair of losses, recording a 2-2 mark midway through the season.

Although losing to perennial conference powers Gallaudet and Catholic University, the well-conditioned grapplers, having gained valuable match experience and unexpectedly strong individual efforts, emerged victorious from contests with Elizabethtown and Frostburg State College.

One of the most sparkling records on the team is that of Mike Eagan, a junior wrestling in the 123 pound class. Mike has pinned all four of his opponents thus far this season. Mike's three year record is one of the best in the history of Terror teams. Sophomore Ron Garvin and freshman Bob Basye are also undefeated this season. Garvin, wrestling in the 130 pound class, has three pins and one decision and Basye, in the 157 pound bracket, has registered four decisions. Sophomore Gil Smink, a 167 pounder has pinned his last two opponents. Juniors Bud Knefely (147 pounds) and Jim Cupp (177 pounds) and freshmen Gary Kulick (heavyweight), George Schwebler (167 pounds), and Dan Jett (137 pounds) have also turned in fine performances this season. Valuable support and team depth was present in reserves Dick Steen, Stan Sunderland, Mike Roney, Jim Dickman and King Hill.

Early fall practices indicated high spirit. By changing weight classes, the men cooperated to keep the team at its strongest. The outlook for next year's wrestling squad is very bright, since none of the men graduate this year and there are several highly promising freshmen.

Hoopsters Show Experience and Hustle

Eigen, O'Malley, and Markey go high.

Pre-season observations by Coach Dick Clower foresaw a top hoop campaign, with experience and scoring punch as the keynotes. Led by returning co-captains Tom O'Malley, a 6'2" scoring threat, and Richie Klitzberg, a backcourt smoothie at 6'1", with Sam Leishure, confident after a successful freshman year, and 6'5" boardman Ron Shirey assisting, a strong nucleus was formed. Frosh Richie Eigen was tabbed as the fifth starter. Dave Markey, a rebounding stalwart, and peppery Howie Wagner were the top reserves with Stan Makover, Mike Elseroad, and Bill Kubat completing the roster.

After an easy 90-68 thumping of the Alumni, the regular season began with an 89-81 overtime squeaker over Loyola. Clutch goals by O'Malley and Eigen and seven straight Klitzberg foul shots tore the game open in the extra session. O'Malley's 23 points, Eigen's 18, Leishure's 17 and 16 by Klitz led to what would later be judged the team's best effort.

An 88-52 drubbing of Towson followed, with Eigen netting 22, Shirey 19 points and 28 rebounds, and 18 for Klitzberg. The F & M troopers were next to fall via a 54-48 overtime thriller. Rich Eigen's last second basket knotted the poorly played contest at 44-44, and provided the impetus for the overtime punch.

A win over Washington College, sponsored by Klitzberg's 29 markers brought the Clowermen's slate to 4-0, before Hofstra and Moravian dealt successive defeats to the listless Green and Gold. Eigen's 30 markers against Moravian were in vain. Returning home, the Terrors nipped Dickinson 57-56 with Klitz hitting for 20.

The Christmas break saw the WMC hoopsters invade the Norfolk Naval tournament, only to find Southern hospitality at an ebb. Humble pie was served by R. P. I., Elon, and Atlantic Christian on successive evenings, as three straight setbacks, despite outputs of 30, 26, and 32 points by Richie Klitzberg which carried him tourney scoring honors, put the Terrors in the depths of a slump with Mt. St. Mary's next in line.

J. V. Team Starts Strong

At ALOHA presstime the J. V. Quint boasted an enviable 5 and 1 record, maintaining a consistent eighty-point-per-game average. Their victories, with the exception of a win over Dickinson, were all against high and prep schools. The only loss of the season was a lathering by a strong Franklin & Marshall squad, 88-64.

The big games were played later in the season with two against the Johns Hopkins frosh and a rescheduled affair with Lebanon Valley proving to be the toughest.

Capable performances in the backcourt were delivered by Bill Kubat, Jim Davis, Ralph Smith, and Jim Reck. Holding the line up front were Dave Reger, Len Owens and John Law.

Lettermen Form Club

The Lettermen's Club was formed in the waning days of the 1961-62 school year by a number of the varsity athletes then on the campus. Since then it has grown to be one of the largest clubs on "the Hill." Dick Yobst, the club's president, briefly explains the organization and its purposes:

"This is a highly selective organization. Each member must carry a 'C' average, he must have earned a letter in one of the recognized sports of WMC and he must be approved by a two-thirds majority vote of the Club.

"Our purposes are of a constructive nature towards improving athletics on 'the Hill.' We hope to unite the faculty and athletes into an atmosphere of mutual cooperation and understanding, to increase attitudes which will encourage more participation in both inter-scholastic and intramural programs and to draw the alumni closer to the college through more alumni activities.

"We feel it's time to eliminate the old adage which implies that intelligence and athletics don't go together. College is an institution in which both education and athletics are important for the proper well rounded education for which we are striving."

Women's Athletic Association Captains Coeds' Sports

Under the sponsorship of Miss Todd and Miss Parker, the Women's Athletic Association had a very active year. In addition to monthly meetings, they held two award parties. At this time awards were presented, and each girl was recognized for her athletic efforts. There were also games and refreshments, which added to the enjoyment. They sponsored a basketball clinic to which all WMC women were invited.

The WAA makes it possible for the women students of WMC to participate in an active intramural program. The program includes hockey, basketball, badminton, volleyball, tennis, hiking, and archery. All awards are given on a point basis according to achievement and participation in each of the sports. The intramural program provides an opportunity for socializing as well as for physical activity. To supplement this intramural program, honorary teams are chosen for hockey and basketball. Contests with nearby colleges lend added interest to a varied sports program for WMC coeds.

"And forever we'll be sisters."

A stellar year began for the Deltas when they were honored at the Intersorority Scholastic Tea for leading "the Hill" in academic achievement. Homecoming added a new ribbon to the Delt collection as their efforts at display-building were recognized. At Christmas time a party in the clubroom with a Kosher Santa Claus plus the traditional party with the Bachelors brought Yuletide happiness to brothers and sisters. Too soon the annual senior banquet signaled the departure of sisters as the Deltas closed another year of fun and togetherness.

Starting the year off by copping the football intramural flag, the Preachers had a good year. Miss Della Boyd was named Preacher Sweetheart of the Year. An open fraternity party was held successfully, more parties and finally, the May Day Dance completed another chapter in Delta Pi Alpha history.

"Anybody seen 'Wilt'?"

The Black and Whites had a pancake supper this year with their sisters, the Sigmas. "La Villa Rosa" was their captivating theme for the annual Sweetheart Ball. Selling hot dogs and cokes at the football and basketball games resulted in pecuniary returns.

No sale—she's seen the "Rice" label.

HOMECOMING

Friday night of Homecoming weekend found everyone busy. Floats had to be decorated, dresses had to be hemmed, displays needed last minute touches; amid this hustle and bustle Coach Waldorf's team had a good night's sleep.

The Frat Brothers is one of the newest singing groups on campus specializing in folk singing. Their record features "The Drinking Gourd."

Stepping forward with a song and a style . . .

The Biscayne IV, a folk singing group, use their original arrangements. They have cut a record of "Maria" and "When We Were Young."

"And wear a hat with a plume."

We lingered in "Summer and Smoke."

On November 16th, the Alumni Hall stage was once again transformed by theatre magic into the small town of Glorious Hill, Mississippi, the scene of Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke." The story of the play is of two young lovers whose lives drift in opposite directions: John Buchanan, a young doctor, who discovers that life has more to offer than material and sensual pleasures, and Alma Weinmiller, a minister's daughter, who becomes a woman because of a desire for love which she was never able to satisfy. Their lives become "like two people exchanging a call on each other at the same time, and each one finding the other one gone out, the door locked against him and no one to answer the bell."

"She's one of my vocal pupils."

*Let us drink a toast
To the class that's the most,
To a class that is tops on "the Hill."
Being here's been fun
For everyone
We love it, and we always will.
We're together now
As we take our last bow
In friendship and unity.
College ties can ne'er be broken
For the glory of '63!*

THE CLASS OF 1963.

*Time is marked by the progression of a million footsteps.
With the completion of our college career we have taken an important step toward the Future.*

Successes Spark Spring Sports

Finishing out one of the finest fall and winter sports seasons in the history of WMC, "the Hill's" varsity athletes turned their attention to the four spring sports of baseball, tennis, track and golf.

Playing their first season under their new coach, Fern Hitchcock, the baseball team won the Middle Atlantic Conference, Southern College Division Championship. Outstanding performances during the season were turned in by Charlie Walter and Rex Walker who led the powerful Terror hitting attack. Retiring this year are Wayne Whitmore and Lance Klein, who for four years have formed one of the best pitching duos in the Mason-Dixon.

The tennis team and their coach, Professor Hurt, enjoyed one of their best seasons in recent years capturing second position in both the Mason-Dixon and Middle Atlantic Conferences. The spirit and ability of team captain Jerry Miller pervaded the ranks during the entire season as time and again the team came from behind to retrieve close matches. Finishing the season with a 10 and 4 record, highlighted by a 5-4 win over Hopkins, the team said good-bye to net star Hank Shimizu, who returned to Japan.

Coach Dick Clower continued his efforts to rebuild a track team as many promising freshmen and sophomores turned out for the squad. Two record-breaking performances highlighted their 2 and 6 record: a 22.1-second 220 dash by Chuck Gray and a 194-foot javelin throw by Frank Kidd. Co-captains Tom O'Malley and Jerry Richman provided able leadership.

Finishing the season with a 4 and 4 record, the golf team profited greatly from returning lettermen Dave Markey, Bob Ginsberg, and Stu Abrams. The team was coached by Iver Magnussen.

1963 TRACK TEAM. Front row, left to right: J. Ballard, E. Holland, D. McIntire, C. Fuhrmann, J. Smith, F. Rinehart, B. Cohen, Second row: R. Shirey, R. Smith, P. deWitt, R. Adler, B. Knowles, D. Gosnell, K. Schuele, E. Daniels, Third row: L. Owens, C. Wheatley, E. Shilling, R. Terry, T. O'Malley, G. Richman, J. Brewer, C. Davis.

To enter the dance floor at the annual Sweethearts' Ball, couples passed through a heart big enough for two. The dance "La Villa Rosa" was sponsored by Pi Alpha Alpha.

Gala Balls Highlight Spring Social Season at WMC

Juniors Display Theatrical Prowess

Frayed nerves, short tempers, and an accusation produce a dramatic scene in Eugene O'Neill's In the Zone as enacted by F. Kidd, J. Grabowski, S. Bayly, N. Sheeley, T. Pokorny.

The Sandbox brings human imperfection into sharp focus. The Edward Albee play was interpreted by B. Cook, K. Wilson, J. Hackett, F. Kidd, J. Baker.

We'll Remember...

... a delightful reception.
The Ensors entertain soon-to-be graduates.

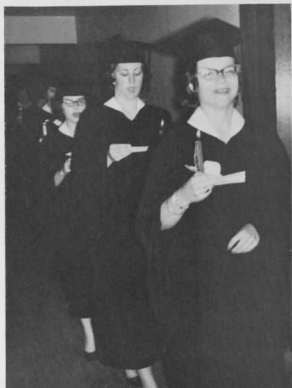

... our college years mirrored in friends' antics.
Rose Cup ceremony honors senior women.

... fellowship shared through four years. Senior sisters end sorority days with a banquet.

... And Be Remembered ...

... as the "Grand Old Seniors." Senior women bid a melodic farewell.

... as the donors of a flagpole. Old Glory waves over Hoffa Field from its new perch.

... as the advocates of new traditions. We tolled our remaining days for all to hear.

New Leaders Are Recognized

Outstanding men students join a nation-wide fraternity, Omicron Delta Kappa. Shown at the formal initiation of the club are, front row, left to right: Dean Russell B. Allen (Faculty Adviser, University of Maryland Circle), William L. Hoff (Faculty Secretary and Treasurer, University of Maryland Circle), Dr. Harwell P. Sturdivant (member, Western Maryland College Circle), Professor Philip N. Carpenter (Deputy, Province 1 of Omicron Delta Kappa), Dean William M. David, Jr. (Faculty Adviser, Western Maryland College Circle), Dr. Ralph B. Price (Faculty Secretary and Treasurer, Western Maryland College Circle). Second row: Dr. John D. Makosky (member, Western Maryland College Circle). Third row: R. Manthey (President, Western Maryland College (Vice-President, Western Maryland College Circle). Fourth row: G. Miller, R. Price, N. Sheeley, W. Whitmore (President-Elect, Western Maryland College Circle). Fifth row: S. Bayly, G. Knefely, W. Penn S. Green. Sixth row: R. Cronise, J. Day, Seniors enter Baker Chapel to be formally invested with academic costume, symbolic of their achievement, and to hear an address by previously unannounced speaker, Professor Joseph W. Hendren.

The Great Day Approaches

Parents and friends joined the graduating class for Baccalaureate service. Later that afternoon the College Choir presented Mendelssohn's "Saint Paul."

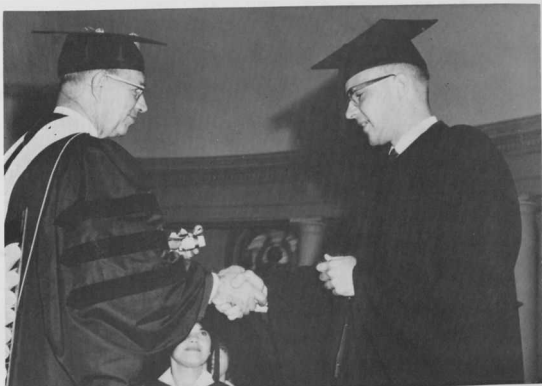

Dr. Fred Garrigus Holloway delivers an inspiring speech at Commencement exercises.

At graduation time all efforts of the dramatic art department culminated in the production of The Good Woman of Setzuan by Bertolt Brecht. The fine production included a large cast and was accompanied by original music composed by Jeffrey Baker. Patricia Webb headed the cast.

Dr. Ensor presents the Bates Prize to Robert Manthey, one of several students honored.
