I've got nothing on my mind,
nothing to remember,
nothing to forget,
and I've got nothing to regret.

But I'm all tied up on the inside,
no one knows quite what I've got;
and I know that on the outside,
what I used to be, I'm not, anymore.

You know I've heard about people like me,
but I never made the connection.
They walk one road to set them free,
then find they've gone the wrong direction.

But there's no need for turning back,
cause all roads lead to where I stand,
and I believe I'll walk them all,
no matter what I may have planned.

We've walked both sides of every street,
through all kinds of windy weather,
but that was never our defeat,
as long as we could walk together.

So there's no need for turning back,
cause all roads lead to where we stand.
And I believe we'll walk them all,
no matter what we may have planned.

Don McLean

Crossroads – a theme tying together the individual sections of the book and symbolizing different things to many people. Within the pages of this book, we have tried to represent as many of the crossroads here at WMC, a crossroad in itself for some, as we could – be they physical, moral, intellectual, religious, sentimental, or emotional. As you sit and examine this book, we are sure that memories of numerous other occurrences will pop into being. Our purpose is not to provide a perfectly accurate record of the year, but rather, to get you to think and remember, and dream of the years spent at Western Maryland.

"Though we have all chosen separate paths, we are all working toward the same end, inner space. Some embrace a discipline so that by learning self-mastery, they may create order and control in their lives. Others explore the depths of their emotions, hoping to find the key to personal satisfaction and to dissipate the confusion that comes from loving life. Still others seek to lose themselves in the abstract, to transcend the physical that they may become the infinite, by understanding the infinite. Yet others accept what is as what is, without trying to control or understand. But this is a narrow description. We are all complete human beings capable of perceiving the spectrum of human experience. It is this that links us together, and though we may appear red or yellow or blue, we are the same. All part of the whole. And we will leave but not forget. Because the taste of life we've had will never fade."

LIFE ON CAMPUS

On the road, and in life everywhere, you move along and leave your efforts behind you in the dust.

Knowing deep inside you that you will never find them exactly the same again.

H.M.S. Pinafore

Gilbert and Sullivan's rollicking operetta, H.M.S. Pinafore, highlighted W.M.C.'s winter productions. With music directed by Carl Dietrich, and keynote performances from Jean Beaver and Ken Shook, the show, under the direction of Bill Tribby, illustrated that "a lass can truely love a sailor."

A STREET CAR NAMED DESIRE

To some, America's bicentennial was a time for history lessons, patriots, and drumrolls, but director Tim Weinfeld saw his production of Tennessee William's A Street Car Named Desire, as the dramatization of the harsh "ride" some Americans have been forced to endure.

FRENCH CLUB

This year the art club sponsored the annual haunted house, offered cotton candy at the may carnival, and held a steak and beer party. As an offshoot of the club, interested children in the community participated in a Saturday Morning Arts program, headed by Lynn Harrison.

ART CLUB

BASKETBALL CHEERLEADERS

Basketball cheerleaders jumped and cheered their hearts away at many of the home games. They included seniors Heather Humphries, Sue Ogilvie, Kris Pike, Leta Ritchie, and Sue Bolender; underclassmen Sandy Evans, Kim Hockenberry, Lori Grimes, and Mary Frank.

WMC'S RELIGIOUS GROUPS

SCRIMSHAW, YEARBOOK, AND CONTRAST:

AN ONGOING PUBLICATIONS RISK.

Plagued by the task of capturing and relating all the events on and about the hill, WMC's publications tackled the pressing issues of the day; from the plight of the administration, to student distress over the new student center, to student non-interest, to liberation. Scrimshaw, in its second year brought many pressing issues to the forefront; while the yearbook staff recorded everything in crossroad fashion The literary magazine, Contrast, under the editorship of Liz Creagh, published the works' of WMC's future poets.

LIBERAL ARTS AT WMC

The concept of the liberal arts college, basic to the existence of WMC was expanded this year. With the knowledge gained both in and out of the classroom, WMC saw the addition of a program called Second Spring. Modeled after Jan term, Second Spring offered students a chance to expand interests and hobbies.

Within the walls of the classroom, curricula were also expanded. New courses were taught, including cycling and scuba diving; and a new major in Business Administration was added.

CASINO NIGHT

Taking semester breaks in Florida has become passe with WMC students since the opening of the Casino on the Hill. Sigma Sigma Tau opened a casino in the grille in November, while the bachelors of Alpha Gamma Tau capitalized on the fun and profit in April.

PRESIDENT'S ROTC REVIEW

Reminiscent of the military protests of the late sixties, this year's president's review of the Reserve Officers Training Corps candidates at WMC, was protested by a group of students waving signs and voicing their complaints. In the midst of the proceedings, ROTC awards were presented while parents, friends, and protestors stood watch.

MAY WEEK HIGHLIGHTS MUSIC

Spurred on by the social committee, under the leadership of Linda Thomas, May Week covered an eight day span. Featuring a disco evening, and a showing of "Monty Python and The Holy Grail", the main feature of the week was music. Ranging from an IFC sponsored quad party with Zed, to a blue grass concert with the Bottle Hill Boys, the culmination was a Richie Havens concert on Thursday.

MAY CARNIVAL —

WHAT AN EXPERIENCE

Rained out on Saturday, re-scheduled for Sunday, this year's carnival, sponsored by the IDS class, proved to be fun, and wet for everyone.

THE IMAGINARY INVALID

CAMEO CORPS

Members of Cameo Corps this year served at the many receptions following Bicentennial events, helped at both blood mobiles, and gave campus tours to interested high school seniors and their parents. Dorm council representatives battled this year over the controversial issues of coed housing, and whether McDaniel first floor would house men or women next year.

WOMEN'S DORM COUNCIL

CIRCLE K

Members of Circle K again solicited support for local and national charities through money raised in raffles, and at the "Pledge a Penny a Point" basketball game against Gallaudet College.

Under the leadership of senior Herb Watson, this year's S.G.A. began the year with a controversial homecoming Concert featuring Barnaby Bye and the Comodores. The S.G.A. social committee became active this year and offered students a variety of films and grille parties.

Delta Omicron is an international music fraternity. W.M.C. is home for the Omicron Eta chapter. They regularly present recitals, and monthly programs, much to the enjoyment of Western Maryland students and other patrons. Psi Chi is the national honor society for psychology. As stated in the student handbook, "the purpose of this organization is to advance the science of psychology; and to encourage, stimulate, and maintain scholarship of the individual members in all fields, particularly in psychology." Kappa Mu Epsilon, a national mathematics honor society, has its Maryland Beta Chapter here at W.M.C. This fraternity is interested in promoting the study of mathematics and for its recognition.

THE FUN AND FRUSTRATION OF EXAM WEEK

While seniors are out, and underclassmen have a way to go, all things have a place.

The way may look rough ahead, the lines long; but remember, that things always work out in the end.

after long, hard hours — slaving over final layouts and copy sheets, missing pictures, and all the rest, the book has finally drawn to a close. while some sat and watched, and others lost sleep, both the staff and i have produced a book which we feel is representative of the life we see here at wmc; a life of hardships and fun, of beaten paths and crossroads. we hope you will share these experiences and thoughts with us as you look over the book years from now, but i alone cannot take any, nor all of the credit, for without the help of the staff, this book would not be here now.

i would like to thank our yearbook rep, Tom James — without whose help we never would have started; the H. J. Keller company and all of its employees for taking special care to produce the book we wanted; Mr. Alan Livingston from Media Arts for the copyrights on Don McLean's song — Crossroads; Bob Heer — who handled the money; Randy Witter — for his pictures, senior section, and sanity; Kurt Herwig; Rita Mutino; Sue Cosgrove; Pati O'Tani; Kim Smith; Roger Ensminger; John Schutt; Baron Taylor; Steve Ehly; Bill Mallonnee; Chris Spencer — who did the senior pictures; Kris Pike for her typing; and all the countless others who bought and sold yearbooks; and all the roommates of staff members who sat through the deadlines without losing their tempers. finally i would like to thank our sponsor Bob Boner for his patience and understanding.
