

CROSSROADS 1983 WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE WESTMINISTER, MARYLAND

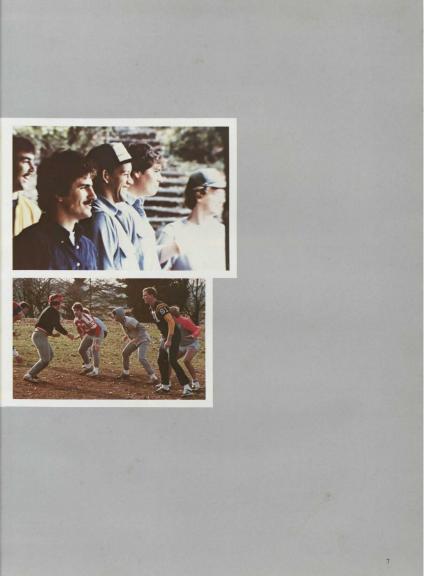

Homecoming

The beginning of another year brings forth new friendships, classes and experiences. Each of them unique and exciting in their own way, yet always falling within the traditions of campus life. Homecoming is no exception. The parade, tailgating, reunions and football are the traditional events. The growth and change of the campus, the students and alumni are what make this tradition exciting and unique from year to year.

May Day

Spring and warm weather seems to draw everyone away from the books and residence halls and towards the outdoors. Frisbees, music and barbecues abound throughout the quad, while the Blanche and Whiteford "Beaches" begin another season. This festive atmosphere culminates on the first Staturday of May — May Day. Live bands, food and game booths, and other entertainment highlight the spring celebration.

Graduation

The close of the senior year marks an end to an era in everyone's life. Throughout the past four years, each member of the graduating class of 1983 has reached new limits and expanded many horizons. Their friends and professors have shared their experiences and knowledge with them, which will forever remain a part of their mind and soul. The encouragement from others, the rewards from hard work, and the good times and memories have shaped their attitudes towards life itself. The ending of an era marks the birth of a new.

Whimsy Life

The emotional, spiritual and intellectual growth experienced at Western Maryland is immeasurable. In the classrooms, the residence halls, and on the playing fields, interaction among others is essential for growth. The challenges you face from everyday experiences foster a renewed understanding — both of yourself, and of the world around you.

PERSONALITIES

What makes Western Maryland College unique is its people. The relationships and attitudes of students, faculty and others combine to make a friendly, learning environment. Each year, several individuals are recognized by their peers for their personal dedication to Western Maryland, and for their contributions to the college community.

SCOTT LOHMAN

They say no man is an island; no man stands alone

They are correct, for at Western Maryland College I made some of the best friends that no man could live without.

They say I must move on

However, nothing keeps me from looking back

I smile when I look back, for there is no place on this earth where I would rather spend my time than on the Hill in Westminster Maryland.

MARK CAVANAUGH

Quality relationships and a quality education are elusive. Western Maryland brought them together for me. For this I am indebted.

KATHLEEN A. BRUSCA

Western Maryland College is a beautiful place to spend four years. There is nothing quite like the sun setting over back campus or the gazebo buried in snow. But Western Maryland's real strength is its people — our professor's who help us grow academically and emotionally; and our friends, who become our second family.

RIXEY LEBHERZ

I'm so glad that I have the opportunity to express my feelings about Western Maryland College several months since I have graduated. Although it's a cliché, you really do appreciate things much more in retrospect. I've been able to realize in the past few months just how important Western Maryland is to me. Western Maryland isn't the school or the campus, but it is the people, faculty and students alike. Thinking about my friendships brings to mind a simple little poem by Louis Hill:

> When old friends get together, there's something in their smiles that has a way of reaching out across the years and miles a special kind of magic that binds them heart-to-heart and as they talk it's hard to tell they've ever been apart. Regardless of the time, the place, the season or the weather, the faciling's always extra warm when old friends get together.

DONNA TODD

As I glance back over the past four years, one thought that comes to mind is how much I've grown as a result of my experiences at WMC. Friends and professors have contributed so much to this growth, and I'll carry their memories with me throughout my life.

There is one bit of advice that I would like to share with those who pass through Western Maryland College:

"If I had my life to live over, I'd dare to make more mistakes next time. I'd relax. I would limber up. I would be sillier than I had been this trip. I would take fewer things seriously. I would take more chances. I would elimb more mountains and swim more rivers. I would eat more ice cream and less beans. I would perhaps have more actual troubles, but I would have fewer imaginary ones..."

Nadine Stair

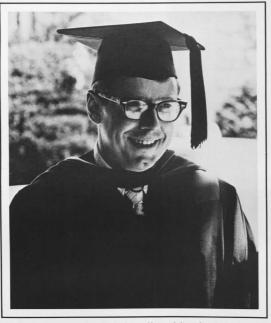

85 Years Young

ROB COLLISON

There's so much to remember about Western Maryland College, and so much of it has influenced my outlook on life. My experiences here have provided me with growth and a fulfillment that I never imagined possible. It has allowed me to explore new horizons, meet new people and build lasting friendships. From the many lectures, activities and readings over the past four years, I've come to realize that people matter most in life.

All too often we become so involved with our work or our "goals" that we ignore, or merely take for granted, the people who surround us in our daily lives this is unfortunate. The things I've done are important, not for what they are, but for what I learned and gained from them — a lasting friendship or a new and different perspective. What I accomplished and experienced here is what it is because I shared it with others. Together with friends who are closer to me than any one else. These are the people and times I'll always cherish. My only regret is not meeting one more person, or getting to know better the ones I'd met. Together we entered WMC, and together we grew, but most importantly, together we will always remain in mind and spirit.

DR. WILLIAM McCORMICK, JR

During his ten years as the college's vice president and dean of academic affairs, Bill McCormick consistently provided leadership for the liberal arts concept of learning held by Western Maryland College. He can be cited for developing the January Term and expanding the international studies program, both of which encourage students to broaden their areas of interest and to develop their capacity for independent study.

On May 20, 1983, Bill died after a brief bout with cancer. He is remembered by colleagues and former students as one of the college's finest educators, one who has left his mark on the Hill. He was a humane individual who cared about his family, his church and his fellow man, and his humaneness was reflected in his daily work.

It is for these qualities and more, we are paying tribute to Dean William McCormick, Jr. Throughout their four years on the Hill, the class of 1983 greatly respected and appreciated him for his understanding and guidance. Not only has Dean McCormick left his mark on the Hill, but he has also left his mark in the hearts and minds of everyone who knew him.

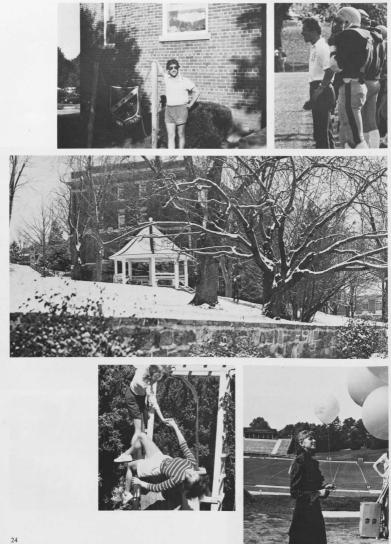

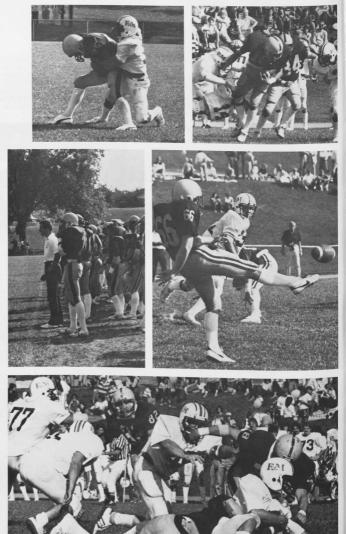

The pursuit of a quality liberal arts education necessitates hard work and motivation. Creativity, independent study and imagination are impossible to copy, they must be learned and cultivated. Western Maryland College provides the tools and environment for learning, but the student must supply the desire and initiative in order to succeedd. We have succeeded!

Educating the whole person has always been the commitment of Western Maryland College. Knowledge without the physical capacity to achieve objectives under demanding, sometimes even stressful, circumstances results in lost opportunities. Participating in athletics develops self-discipline, cooperation, competitiveness and leadership.

EDUCATORS

The faculty of Western Maryland College is truly a cherished resource. Their knowledge and understanding provide the strongest foundation possible for a liberal arts education. But their interest in the students and the institution is what makes them outstanding.

As one looks back through these pages, there are the smiles and a few painful memories — that's just the way it was.

Although there are certainly missing faces and events, Crossroads 1983 is an effort to capture the many facets of "Whimsy" life.

Many thanks are due to those who spent the hours to build this book. There were numerous who contributed, but a select few who BELIEVED and made it happen! Crossroads 1983 — thanks to Coy, George, Kaki, Rob and Wray.

A YEAR OUT OF COLLEGE, ANDA STRAUSS IS MAKING AVIATION HISTORY IN THE ARMY.

"Tm being assigned to a Chinook helicopter unit in Germany as a test pilot and maintenanceofficer, and I'm proud that I'll be the first woman to have that assignment over there. It's a real thrill for me.

"So was learning how to fly a helicopter. It takes a lot more skill than an airplane. If you think college is demanding, flight school is even tougher. It's not only academically demanding, it's really mentally demanding as well as physically. "In Germany. III have a chance "In Germany, I'll have a chance to use some of the leadership and management techniques I learned in ROTC. It's going to be a real challenge having command responsibilities.

"I got into ROTC really just to see what it was all about. For me, it all couldn't have worked out better."

Army ROTC got Anda Strauss off to a good start. Maybe it can do the same for you. To find out, stop by your Army ROTC office on campus. And begin your future as an officer.

2nd Lt. Anda Strauss was a political science major at Wake Forest and a member of Army ROTC. Today, the toughest thing about going to college is finding the money to pay for it.

But Army ROTC can help two ways!

First, you can apply tor an Army ROTC scholarship. It covers tuition, books, and supplies, and pays you up to $1,000 each school year it's in effect.

But even if you're not a scholarship recipient, ROTC can still help with financial assistance-up to $1,000 a year for your last two years in the even
