

Case in to the 6 student life: POINT that extra POINT 42 academics: people: built the POINT 60 making a 118 organizations: POINT breaking 146 sports: POINT 186 git the POINT community:

CROSSROADS 1991

Western Maryland College Westminster, Maryland 21157 (301) 848-7000

1

A little brother is proud after the game.

The small liberal arts college should be a place where well-rounded students take concern for their studies and their future, yet become involved in the many activities and organizations on campus. WMC is a CASE IN POINT.

You will find our students wherever you go: the classrooms, the community, the sports fields, the Forum, the gameroom, the stage. Academics are of primary importance to us, however we realize there is much more to college than classes. There are over 80 clubs and organizations to join, 21 varsity sports, and campus activities galore. The only problem we have is finding enough time to do everything we'd like to do! (cont.)

At the annual activities fair in the Forum, senior Chris Ilconich, among others, leans on the Sigma Phi Epsilon table.

The Western Maryland caboose is the perfect backdrop for football fans.

Allison Dameron shows how she feels about WMC. She and Corey Davis ride together in the 1990 Homecoming parade.

Cotton candy proves to be a favorite of residence life coordinator Eric Chase at the Quad "welcome-back" picnic.

Martha Shaver

Sunning themselves in the Quad, these barelegged ladies relax on a warm weekend.

A sunny spot on campus provides this student with the perfect place to dream between classes.

In many ways we displayed our campus spirit and concerns. The football team had a winning season, and many supporters showed up on the Hill. Recycling programs took off with the addition of more barrels for aluminum cans and for scrap paper. The new Political Action Coalition was formed. Students joined together to express their concerns over communication with the administration. Faculty course load was lessened to allow professors to concentrate on fewer classes and, consequently, to spend more time with students. International incidents also claimed our attention as friends and family members went to the Persian Gulf region; opinions varied as many rallied against the war, while others expressed full support of our troops.

These changes, as well as others, added up to a full year of activity on our campus. Following our personal interests, we became involved. We were there. Case in point.

The construction beside Decker and behind Daniel MacLea Hall yielded a new parking lot and computer center intended to house the campus mainframe.

Some pastimes are best out-of-doors. Chris Boyd finds plenty of places to skate on warm evenings.

A different point of view of the campus is caught by the camera of John Boehman.

Indian summer kept the temperatures warm even after the leaves began to fall. Andy Steckel and Mike Hamm return to their apartments after classes.

Striving for strength, these men find out in the weight room that they have more in common than muscles.

A student's life is so much more than the classroom, the clubroom, and the organization office. Things happen every day that we have to deal with. And if you ask some about their everyday life, most will get right TO THE POINT.

Major parts of our life include eating and sleeping and, of course, partying. Personal fitness is important to many. Part-time work is another focus (or perhaps it's the money that results from it'.) Special activities such as roadtripping, holidays, and graduation stand out in a student's life as well. Needless to say, the life of a WMC student ranges from the typical to the outrageous!

Mark Titus

They got to wear shades! Clark Hospelhorn and Mark Heffner spend the first sunny Saturday on the hill overlooking the stadium.

A crowd gathers. The annual poster fair helps us to decorate our dorm rooms with old favorites and new styles.

Happy Returns

It was September 3, Labor Day, 1990. The first day of classes had come. Many were eager to get to class to see who was in each of them, to compare tans, and just to get back into the routine of college. We all knew the year promised good times. However, there were also those who wished they had another day to unpack, matriculate, sign loan checks, buy books, visit every on-campus friend, and sleep until noon.

But off to class we went, with only a few hours of sleep after talking or drinking all night with old friends or new roommates. Some swore never to take a 7:50 again; some even decided to change their major after they found out what the 200 and 300 level courses were like. By the end of the day, after receiving four syllabi and realizing that they didn't even follow the texts that cost $245.98 in our bookstore, we were each ready to sit back and watch great educational programs(?) on our ultimate guide to the world, the television. You never have homework on that first week anyway, right?

The week seemed to drag, but looking back, it went quickly. Everyone was ready for the first weekend, as parties were being held all over campus, and spirit was high. All sorts of welcome back activities kept us busy, too, such as the BSU dance in the Forum and the picnic on the Quad. After the novelty of the Quad. After the novelty of the Mirst week wore off, however, it was back to normal days and nights at WMC.

Mike Jekogian

8

Already redecorating her room in Whiteford, Meghan Grant pleads for help in the move to and from the hallway.

A refrigerator can be of utmost importance to the college student, Gordon Franklin rents one for his single in Elderdice.

The Saturday after the back-to-school dance, the DJs move equipment. Sophomore Corbett Logan and his friends load up.

Buying books is not one of the most favorite back-to-school activities! Graduate student Barbara Erkert signs away her savings to the bookstore.

Back-to-school 4 9

The Sig Eps show off their Cheech and Chong van in the parade.

1990 Homecoming Court: Amy Bell, Kourtney Sweeney, Queen Kelly Carpenter, King Rich Edwards, Christine Cina, John Micka; not pictured: Gannon Mikesell, Tony Spagnola

Celebration!

The game was tied at seven with one minute left on the clock. Western Maryland had possession and was moving in on the goal line. With a one-yard dive, Eric Frees erupted over the Dickinson defense to score the winning touchdown with 52 seconds left in the game. Family members, alumni, friends, and faculty streamed onto the field to congratulate the first WMC team to win a Homecoming game since 1982. Shortly afterward, the goalposts came tumbling down despite security's noble efforts!

The football game was the high point of all the Homecoming activities. The men's and women's soccer teams and field hockey squad all played at home. The parade that came up Main Street braved the wet weather and was met by an enthusiastic crowd. Campus organizations were wellrepresented on the many floats and in walking groups. Recycling was the major theme, displaying our campus-wide concern for the environment. All of the floats were made completely from recyled materials!

After the parade, it was on to some serious tailgating, Half of us missed most of the game because there was so much "activity" up on the Hill Alumni canopies, sorority and fraternity groups, and concession stands dotted the crowd. The halfitme activities included presentations of the 1990 Homecoming Court, the Alumnus of the Year award, the Young Alumnus Service award, and the James Brant Memorial Cup which went to the soority Ph Sigma Sigma.

Later that night, alumni and students alike celebrated at reunions and parties all over campus. For some reason, it seemed campus security and the residence life staff were pretty easy on us that night. Or was that just our imagination?

Victory! Dave Seibert and James Martin celebrate a big interception.

Leading the parade up Main Street, the Army ROTC colorguard splashes through the puddles. At halftime, President Robert Chambers names Jeanne Ensor the WMC Alumnus of the Year and presents Frederick Smyth with the WMC Young Alumni Service Award.

Martha Shaver

On the Phi Alph/Bete float Elisabeth Fuhrman promotes recycling!

Homecoming on the Hill! The perfect view of the game is had by students, families, alumni, and friends.

Martha Shaver

Shaping Up

he fitness craze of the '90s has hit Western Maryland College's student body. You no longer have to be involved in college sports to be in shape. Many WMC students choose to work out on their own or with a group of friends. The weight room is a popular work-out spot for both males and females who want to tone and define their bodies. In the afternoons, you can always find a few people clad in colorful running shorts and tights jogging around the track or just through the campus. Sports, of course, are still the most popular way to get in shape. Many people choose a good, challenging game of tennis or basketball among friends for their work-out while others prefer the structure and competitiveness of organized teams. Aerobics is still a favored form of exercise among college women, but gone are the days of Jane Fonda's "No pain, no gain" notion. The college offers a course in aerobics for credit in the evenings, but it is also open to any interested students. The classes are usually packed with women not enrolled in the class, which goes to prove the '90s desire for a fit body. If you were to wander through some of the students' rooms, you would find that they are working-out in the privacy of their dorms. Rowing machines, stationary bikes, and free-riding bicycles crowd many college dorm rooms. Being in shape at Western Maryland College means having a fit body as well as a fit mind.

Kevin Wetzel shows that not all exercise works up a sweat his buddy Stu Pearlman stands by laughing.

Fitness is everywhere, not just in the gym.

This student keeps in shape with her daily jog around campus.

We're here to pump . . . , you up! Todd Leskoski displays his power.

At the IGC/Capboard costume party, the cavewomen run rampant. Sharon Landis and Julie Cohen, a coordinator of the event, are ready for action.

Spook Night

Jack-clanterns, candy, and green jello. Sound familiar? It should, if you were at Giar on Wednesday, October 31. The Halloween dinner was a lot of fun as well as profitable for those who won the CAPBoard sponsored contests such as the pumpkin carving (congrats, Demetri Lambros!), the balloon stomping, and the jello eating. The candy that the dining hall provided was pretty good, tool

Glar was not the only place to celebrate Halloween by far, as "Halloween Spirit Week" started with a campus social in the pub. The celebration really took off with the showing of The Rocky Horror Picture Show at midnight the Friday before Halloween. Many will surely remember the rice and the eggs more than the movie, though there were a few devoted fans there. The CAP-Board/IGC Costume Party held in the Forum Saturday night was a success, also. Everyone from a radical Teenage Mutant Ninga

Turtle (voted the best costume) to the "Ganja Man" spent the evening dancing to familiar and original progressive tunes by the Baltimore band "Fade to Grey."

A ghost storyteller appeared in the pub to weave spooky tales on Monday. Everyone was put in the mood for a scare. On Halloween, that scare came in the form of the "Ghost Walk." Blackclothed persons led groups around campus telling of the eerie occurrences of the past. Of particular interest were the reported ghouls in Alumni Hall, Levine Hall, McDaniel, and the tower of Elderdice!

The costume party at the president's home concluded the scheduled Halloween festivities. Many shared in the fun of choosing the scariest, funniest, prettiest, most original, and best group costumes and in eating more condy! The night ended with students at costume parties held by finends on and off-campus.

It's Halloween Spirit Week, and Tessa Dominick carves up a pumpkin for the occasion.

Who is that masked man? Dr. Chambers is dressed to kill at his Halloween party.

Tammy Faye, is that you or is it just your makeup? Dina Soliman could probably tell us after the costume contest.

Cheers! At the Betes' costume party the black cat and the wolfman, also known as Carrie Arbaugh and Rob O'Connor, are quite a combination!

The ghost walk turns spooky as quide Bob Pick tells of the occurrences in Elderdice.

He's a "hunk o', hunk o' burnin' love!" Trevor Sellers is Elivs!

Renee Raborg shows her parents the construction as the new library nears completion.

See now, Tom Perusso! Glar food isn't all that bad. (At least not on parent's weekend!)

Family Matters

he success of Parent's Weekend, November 2-4, proved that the family is still an important part of everyone's life. Parents came from all over to visit with their children and see the Western Maryland community. The Parent's Board planned a full schedule for the visiting families so that they could learn as much about the WMC campus as possible in a short period of time. The theme for the weekend focused on how a liberal arts education will prepare students for careers in the '90s. The featured weekend event was a panel discussion called "Career Choices and the Liberal Arts: Preparing for the 21st Century". This presentation was very well attended by parents and was a particular highlight of the weekend. President Robert Chambers summed it up best when he said "Majoring in the act of college prepares students to be ready for everything." (Many fathers breathed a sigh of relief at these reassuring words: Liberal Arts does not mean poverty!)

Other highlights of the weekend were the football game and picnic. The WMC Terrors put on quite a show for the visitors and ended up defeating the Swarthmore Garnet Tide 15-14. The beautiful spring-like weather made the picnic at the caboose even more enjoyable.

After the game, parents were invited to visit the dorms and enjoy the receptions put on by each dorm. Parents finally got to see where their kids really live and who they really hang out with.

The Parent's Board held a reception in Decker Lounge before the grand finale of the weekend - the President's dinner. GLAR was packed and the food was, of course, much better than anything a normal student sees every day. There was also a Parent's Weekend Dance where Mom and Dad could "trip the light fantastic" and students could sit and hope no one knew that his father was the one swinging that lady all around the dance floor

Parent's Weekend was a great success and all who attended had a good time. It's nice to know that even in college the family is still important. Activities like Parent's Weekend renew our faith in the family as well as reassure our parents that, yes, we still need them!

The Holoski family performed the Billy Joel song "And So It Goes" at the parent's weekend dinner to everyone's delight.

16 Student Life

A proud mom films her son on the football field.

On the Hill after the game, Amy Vodraska shares a joke with a good friend — her mom.

Bunkbeds and lofts are popular in the dorm rooms. The only problem is deciding who will sleep on the top bank!

Shut Eye

hen students at Western Maryland College aren't studying, partying, or eating, you can usually find them under the covers sound asleep !

Sleeping is definitely an art at college. All previous sleeping habits are thrown out the window freshman year. Students learn to catch a quick power nap whenever possible and they also learn to sleep through anything. Loud music, the cleaning people on Saturday mornings . . . nothing disturbs a sleeping student.

WMC students can also sleep just about anywhere. The floor is a popular weekend "bed" for people who just can't seem to find their way home. When walking through Decker Center, don't be surprised to see a couple people curled up on the sofas in the lounge. And, of course, sleeping in class is still an alternative to those who refuse to give up any other activities for a little shut eye.

For a few students, sleeping is not so easy. To some it is an acquired skill. Students with roommates often have the most complaints. It is very hard to get a good night's sleep when your roommate talks or walks in her sleep. And in such small quarters, every little move your roommate makes or every deep breath he takes can sound incredibly loud.

However, WMC students learn to adapt and even learn that there are more important and fun things to do with time than spend it sleeping ! That's what breaks are for !

Tracy Baynard crashes after a long day.

A bed made for four! Greg Preston, Kimberly Hildebrand, Grant Chambers, and Jerry Wallach relax.

Many students can sleep just about anywhere. Herb Hewlett is one of those students.

After a tough swim practice, JJ Boggs just needs a couch. A power nap never hurt anyone.

Martha Shaver

The convenience of a kitchen is a primary reason for living in the garden apartments. Deanna Dailey, visitor Corey Krall and Laura Balakir grab some lunch.

Dorm Life

all freshmen and sophomores must live on campus, more people will be experiencing dorm life. Many students don't realize it, but there are many housing options on campus. There is someplace for everyone!

Freshmen men and women are placed in Rouzer and Whiteford, respectively. However, after that first year, you can choose where to live on campus. Many choose to live on Greek floors. It can be a lot of fun to live with a group. If you are not in a fraternity or sorority, you can still live with a ith the new rule that group by applying for an affinity suite in Daniel MacLea. The suites have the benefits of private bathrooms and common rooms. If you are a junior or senior with a good lottery number. you may get to live in one of the 24 garden apartments, a single in Elderdice or one of the Pennsylvania Avenue houses owned by the college. In addition, there are a number of independent floors in the dorms. Wherever you choose to live on campus, if you live with the right people, it will be the best place you've ever lived!

> Sig Ep John Rapp thinks living on a fraternity floor is the best. Living with your brothers can help build stronger bonds.

20

The suite life! Rachel Snyder and Jay Steinas watch TV in the common room of the Suite of Performing Arts.

On this fraternity floor, lofts are popular. They definitely make the room seem larger.

Living on an independent floor in ANW is the correct answer for independent RA Tim Pfaltzgraff.

At least they have a bike rack outside Decker Center! Commuter Matt Cook is thankful he can leave his bike in a safe place on warm days. Socializing always takes place in the lounges in Decker. Wade Fannin and Bonnie Grady sit and chat between clas-

Kimberly Hildebrand

The Spot

where can WMC students go to pick up nail, register for courses, eat lunch, buy a greeting card, or just hang out? Decker College Center is, of course, the answer!

As some tour guides tell prospective students, "If you can't find it anyplace else on campus, you can find it at Decker Center," This is because this student center was designed for the convenience of the student. Besides housing offices such as the Registrar, Student Accounts, Student Affairs, and CAPBoard, it holds several lounges, the campus grille, the bookstore, the dining hall, the pool, and several other special areas.

Decker is a prime spot on campus because of its location and convenience. In the center of campus, Decker is within a couple of minutes of each of the dorms. In fact residents of Rouzer and Elderdice don't even have to set foot out of doors to reach it. Warm and comfortable with an occasional fire in the fireplace in the winter and cooled by air conditioning in the early fall and late spring, it is a refuge from the irregular temperatures of the dorm rooms. Commuters don't mind spending time between classes either doing homework, liking in a lounge.

Several special activities were held in Decker Center this year. The annual "Ringing in the Holidays" celebration with entertainment and refreshments was put on by Alumni Affairs. Movies, Casino Nights, and dances galore were held in the Forum throughout the year. Honor society inductions and Parents' Board meetings were held in the Freeman Room and the President's Dining Room. Several art and photography collections were displayed in the central lounge. But even when something special wasn't going on, Decker Center still seemed to be the place to be!

WMC this week! To find out what's going on all over campus, Christine Contry stops by the counter in Decker to grab the latest news.

22

Studying can be done just about anywhere! The pool, located on the lower level of Decker Center, is the perfect spot for Glenn Jackson.

On the edge of the fireplace, Steve Coruzzi relaxes after lunch at Glar. In the background, portions of the National AIDS quilt are displayed to remind students of those paople living with the disease.

If you need information, Decker is the place to go. Duncan Yates stops by the desk, as many people do every day.

Kimberly Hildebrand

Getting ready means hairspray! When the weekend rolls around, Kerri Wagner goes out!

Have cup, will travel! Rob Magee party hops one weekend.

No matter what you do on the weekend, it usually takes money. Tony Petroccia stuffs his wallet. Fraternity parties moved from the clubrooms to the floors this year. The Bachelors apparently like music and dancing.

On weekends when there isn't lacrosse practice or a game, John Yokabaskis and Chris Cutler go out. On this Saturday night, they found a party at the apartments.

GR EL

WMC Weekends

A fler a long hard week of classes, exams, and homework, every student looks forward to the weekend. The weekend is the time to party, relax, watch movies, or roadtrip. At WMC, like many other colleges, the weekend begins on Thursdav!

Thursday night is known as Champs night. But if you're not 21, you can find other things to do. Often the pub had J.T. and Mike or a DJ for entertainment. CAPBoard sometimes sponsored comedians or activities in the forum. In addition, special activities such as the Phi Alph annual Dating Game usually occurred on Thursday evenings.

Friday and Saturday nights, there were always a variety of things to do. Hall and suite parties always brought a crowd together. Fraternities and sororities had socials and ball-and-chain parties. Theater goers went to Alumni Hall to see productions such as The Skin of Our Teeth and Godspell. Organizations such as the BSU and CAPBoard sponsored dances in the Forum, Movies could be seen for free or a dollar at Decker Auditorium. Basketball, lacrosse and football games were well-attended, also, A number of students enjoyed going off-campus to Baltimore where they could find a good time at the Inner Harbor or Fells Point. Washington, D.C., with Georgetown, the Capitol Center, and the Mall, is not far off, either.

When parents and friends ask "What do you do on the weekends at WMC?", students can reply "Just about everything!"

The long wait! Sometimes at lunchtime the line leading to Glar extends up the stairs in Decker.

Domino's pizza delivers, and you can pay by check! Mark Ryan picks his pep-peroni up at the Info. Desk.

Picnics weren't unusual this year. Niccolo Amodeo fixes himself a hot dog at Spring Fling.

An alternative to Glar, the campus grill serves deli items and hot food. Brian Hughes waits for his order.

Fun With Food

Received by the second second

Englar dining hall is definitely not the only place students go to eat. On nice Saturdays, Glar sometimes held picnics on the Quad complete with grilled hot dogs, chicken and hamburgers. On campus, there is also the Pub in Decker and numerous vending machines. Monopoly's and Little George's convenience store is just down the hill from Whiteford. The ever-popular pizza can be delivered to Decker Center by Domino's, Pizza On Wheels, or Fox's. Other frequented dinner spots were Pizza Hut, Frisco's and Forbidden City.

If you didn't want to spend money for fast food and had the advantage of living off-campus or in a PA house or garden apartment, you could spend a little time in the kitchen. In these days of microwaves, even students can manage to heat something up. Cooking can actually be fund And since Super Fresh is open 24 hours you can always find time for grocery shopping!

The only bad thing about cooking yourself is doing the dishes. J.J. Boggs cleans up. With this contraption, Steve Sherrill might even be able to get away with watching the big game during class.

Tune In Time

Hevery sap oper a on channel 13 and what time they're on? How many of champs, watch Cheers and LA. Law on Thursday nights? And how many of us tune in to Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles every afternoon?

These days, since every college dorm room contains at least one television and cable, students have become TV junkies. At night, rooms in every dorm are dark except for that eerie flickering light from the television. Once you turn it on, there's no turning it off. A half hour study break to watch Wheel of Fortune turns into a four hour marathon of sitcoms. A terrible addiction. TV probably was invented so college students wouldn't read their philosophy or do their statistics.

Besides being entertainment on its own, TV has many attachments that are popping up all over campus. Video cassette recorders allow WMC students (who can't get HBO or Cinemax) to forget their own problems and become involved in someone else's for two hours. With free memberships at Erol's, Bond Street Video, or any of the other six thousand movie rental stores, just about anyone can rent a movie whenever they want. Renting a movie for two or three dollars is much cheaper than going to the Cranberry Movies at $6.50 a ticket.

The other major TV attachment that has become so popular at WMC is Nintendo. A floor is not complete without at least one Nintendo game with 16 or 17 cassettes. Seriously addicted students play through the night, then have to skip classes the next day to catch up on sleep. Nintendo certainly is making money from us. And so is the entire Japanese electronic industry!

A channel switcher in the ROTC suite, Pete Maye pauses on channel 7.

One of the lucky ones! Michelle Kloss has a color TV and a VCR in her room in MacLea, so Matt Byrne crashes to watch a movie.

The remote is a necessity according to Matt Calendar.

In Decker, the television is almost always on. Todd Robinson stretches out.

Melissa Borich couldn't live without her phone in her room!

"More money, Mom, please?!" Alex Osinski calls home from a pay phone in Whiteford.

The pay phone in Decker Center gets a lot of use! Martin Gersher uses it to order pizza.

Andria Scott is all business when she's on the phone at the Info. Desk.

Phone Home

College students cannot live without the use of a telephone. Some students can't even imagine living without a phone in his or her room! The first few days of school are pure agony to both callers and receivers since everyone is forced to use the dreaded hall phone. Phones can be found in every building on the Western Maryland campus ... and they are usually in use.

Our campus even has a job for those phone-lovers who want to make a little extra money talking on the phone. The Phone Center calls alumni and parents to raise funds for the school. Students working at the center get to use the phones all evening and are rewarded with a personal call to anywhere in the U.S. This in itself is reason enough to work at the Phone Center.

Many students simply work to support their phone bill. Everyone takes a deep breath on that terrible day when the phone bill arrives before they tear open the envelope. Splitting the bill with a roommate is also a problem, especially if the roommate lives far away and uses the phone quite frequently. C&P Telephone must love the students who receive bills for hundreds of dollars. It's also hard to track down that guy who used your phone one lonely night to call his girlfriend in California.

Are phones worth the trouble? Of course they are. Who could live without their phone on those nights when you're feeling extremely homesick? How about at 11:00 pm when you and your friends really need a pizza? A college dorm is not complete unti the phone is installed! Different voices, different views. A diverse student panel including Michal Hall and Carole Sygroves, lead a discussion and answer questions from the crowd.

Anyone for croquet? Christie Baur takes part in one of the planned activities on Diversity Day.

One World

The purpose of a liberal arts college is to expose students to various schools of thought and studies. Diversity Day, held this year in April on the Quad, expanded on this idea. "One World", the theme for the day, presented the world as one in which there are a great many different people living together. To live in harmony, it is important to understand and be tolerant of those "different" from you.

The events that were scheduled were activities that caused a lot of people to think about the fact that we are all same in many ways. We should to make an effort to get over the difference to realize the similarities. A few of the planned events were performances by the college choir, the Sounds of Silence organization, a student panel, and a drum circle. Through these activities on Diversity Day, eyes were opened and many were remindd to open their minds, as well!

Student Life

B

The Sounds of Silence organization sign to remind us of those who must hear with their eyes rather than their ears.

The Quad was filled as the College Choir sang for One World.

Several tables were set up, displaying and selling art, jewelry, and baskets representative of other cultures.

The drum beat is a universal sound. This student participates in the drum circle at Diversity Day.

ROTC in the field. Steve Harlan points out the best path to follow through the woode

Reactions

The situation in the Middle East claimed our attention for a large part of the school year. As it affected the rest of the world, it affected Western Maryland College. Though opinions were divided, everyone watched the news on January 16, as we went to war.

A number of WMC alumni and students were involved. Recent graduates Rob Dixon, Pat Feehan, Mike Kunzer, and Kathy Perry-Crolla and current students Greg Noisette and Scott Tinney all served in the Persian Guil forces. Letters were written and prayers were said for their safe return home. Many wore yellow ribbons.

On the home front, reactions varied. A rally for peace and justice was held by the Coalition for Peace and Justice in Baker Memorial Chapel on February 6. A variety of speakers, including students and members of the community were featured. Dina Soliman urged people to "Keep asking why! Yo seasier to sit back, watch CNN and accept it. But for your own benefit, keep asking why." On the same day, a representation of the American Friends Service Committee explained the registration procedure for conscientious objector status.

The Political Science and Military Science departments, also sponsored a Middle East forum on April 2. A panel, including faculty and students from the Army War College of Carlisle, Pennsylvania, discussed the region and how well the objectives of coalition nations were met.

Sergeant Major Carter of the Military Science department said he was not sure how WMC's Army ROTC program will be affected by the war, if at all. As of yet, the number of ROTC students has not dropped. Carter said that if there was to be a lower number of incoming students for the ROTC program, it would not be seen until next year.

Although opinions varied oncampus as they did around the world, everyone at WMC hoped for peace and the safe return of our men and women throughout the entire situation in the Persian Gulf. Senior Pat Blackman was a featured speaker at the Rally for Peace and Justice. Pat said, "We have different points of view. We can unite now in opposition of this war."

An intent audience attended the peace rally in Baker Memorial Chapel.

Cpl. William Scott Tinney was called up in his reserve unit to serve in the gulf. Unfortunately, Scott was unable to graduate with his class, but he did return in time to attend graduation and receive a standing ovation.

No, this isn't gym class. Roy Zipp, a ROTC scholarship recipient, shows what an FTX (field training exercise) is all about.

Tri-Beta members Joanne Mitchell, Valerie Funk and Roy Zipp sell funnel cakes at Spring Fling '91.

Spring is here! Skip Squires can feel it in the air

It's Here!

pring made it to WMC on April 27, just in time for Spring Fling 1991. It was a beautiful day to be out on the Quad, and many ended up with sunburns. But no one minded since the day marked the beginning of "Dead Week" - the week prior to final exams and the last week of classes.

Spring Fling 1991 was fun for all. Sponsored by CAPBoard, the day was filled with food and drinks, entertainment, and carnival games. A number of campus organizations had tables where they sold food, including hot dogs, nachos, and popcorn. Some groups had games such as a number wheel and throw the pie. J.T. and Mike and an acapella group, J.Q. and the Bandits, performed. Steve Trash, a novelty artist, also entertained.

A full day of fun and sun. Spring Fling '91 was a huge success. Hopefully, the annual event will remain a part of many WMC springs to come!

Serving up hot dogs, Jen Johnson represents the Ecumenical Chapel Committee.

For Bacchus, Tammie Gitt slices up strawberries for the popular mocktails. Fruity, icy drinks go fast on hot days!

Acoustic guitars and classic rock were the entertainment of choice. J.T. and Mike perform on the Quad.

2

Jewelry maker Matt Moran sells his creations at Spring Fling. Senior Helen Lowe watches the annual senior softball game. Seniors were everywhere you looked at the party in the Forum on the night before graduation. Mike Shanahan enjoys his last night on campus.

Senior Party

he annual senior week began on May 12 with an overnight trip to Ocean City. Luckily, the weather was good, and everyone had a good time. Monday night was Champs Night (strange for many, since they're so used to going on Thursday night). But what a way to start the week! Five dollars all you can drink and good music made the class of 1991 very happy! And the group who partied with the Sig Eps afterward continued the fun nearly all night long! Might as well - no class in the morning!

Tuesday night was another bar night for many seniors. The buses that took students to the pub crawl in Fells Point were full of laughter and noise as they headed for Baltimore. The night ended late as the pubs closed down.

Wednesday night was for the birds — the Orioles! Although we lost to Oakland, the seniors got to be at Memorial Stadium the same night that the Queen of England and President Bush were there! And they got to see just how big Jose Canseco's arms really are!

The Booze Cruise out of Baltimore's Inner Harbor was scheduled for Thursday night. It was a great night for a boat ride — the weather and the mood were perfect!

Friday, Baccalaureate was held, and there was a reception on the President's lawn afterwards. It was a relief to get outide into the evening air after the heat of the over-filled Baker Memorial Chapel. Later that night was the all-campus party in the Forum and on the dining porch. Beer and wine, mocktails, food and dance filled the night for sentors, faculty, families, and friends.

A sunny, drunken week is how many will remember Senior Week 1991. But most of all they remember it as their last week spent on Western Maryland College campus. All will have fond memories.

38

Although Alisa Rock took her cap and gown off right after Baccalaureate, Mary Baschoff hasn't gotten to it yet.

Play those tunes! Coleman Stump and Mary O'Conner dance to the swing band at the all-campus party.

The senior picnic served by Glar was one of the best attended events of senior week.

The reception after Baccalaureate was held on the president's lawn. Bonnie Grauch and her mother talk to Frank Lamas.

The line up! The class of 1991 prepares to enter PELC and the real world.

A fine time to have to worry about a stupid cap falling off! Kimberly Hildebrand adjusts hers.

Commencement 1991

ated May 18, 1991. It was a day that won't be forgotten by the graduating seniors or the crowd that was so large the programs ran out by 1:45.

A large graduating class compared to years past, the 1991 seniors received a long but enjoyable commencement. The College Choir, which included a number of seniors, sang From a Distance which helped to bond the class, as they knew they would soon go their separate ways. Greetings from Wendy Ruderman and her milk crate, John Huston (parent), and Dr. David Herlocker were humorous yet held important messages to live, love, and learn with persistence, spirit and thoughtfulness.

Robert P. Canzanese of the English Department of Cherry Hill High School, NJ received the Distinguished High School Teacher Award, Three retiring

he class of 1991 gradu- professors received Emeritus awards. William S. Keigler, the WMC Chairman of the Board of Trustees, presented the prestigious Argonaut Award to the graduate with the highest grade point average. The recipient, Laura Balakir, graduated with a 4.0. Four honorary degrees were conferred upon I. King Jordan. Clarisse B. Mechanic, Allen Quille, and Erich H. Willen, Each was certainly deserving of his/ her honor and spoke briefly to the graduates.

Then it was on to the diplomas! Reactions were tears, smiles and shouts of accomplishment. A few even kissed their diplomas. They had done it!

Graduation is a bittersweet time of life. It signifies a big change in most peoples' lives. It is the end of four years of work and fun. Webster defines commencement as "the beginning" or "the start". On that day, the new alumni began their next stage of life.

The gymnasium was filled with family and friends.

It's tough to say goodbye. These friends take a minute to express their feelings.

After her greeting to the class during commencement, Wendy Ruderman kicks off her shoes and relaxes.

Pictures, pictures and more pictures. Cathy Hilliard, Jenn Pike, Amy Vodraska and Felicia Lockhart smile once more!

that extr

POINT

It's no joke. College courses are tough. It all comes down to how much work you put into it. Most students are always striving for THAT EXTRA POINT.

Grade point averages are important, no matter what your field of study. Your grades may determine for you what you will do after graduation. Graduate school, professional school, a good job; each requires a good academic background.

At Western Maryland College, there are a number of things that can influence your academic career. Opportunities to study abroad abound. January term courses offer diversity. The new library addition can contribute to good study habits. Advisors help to choose majors and appropriate courses. Scholarships and acceptances into honor societies reward certain students for their hard work. WMC is based on a strong academic curriculum, with courses taken from a variety of liberal arts topics.

Kimberly Hildebrand

Senior Carolyn Moller diligently searches resource materials for information on her constitutional law cases.

Kathleen Hatcher takes time to study with a little moral support from her stuffed seal.

Tim Michael adds a new twist to the adage, "An apple a day . . .

Mike Kubacki figures, when all else fails, pray!

Areas of Study

Let's face the facts: when it comes to studying, we all avoid it like the plague. But it must be done if we're ever to fulfill our highest expectations (or just graduate form here). So to make studying a little less painful, a comfortable setting and proper atmosphere are a must. Whether it's sitting in a chair, laying on a bed, meditating in the Quad, or perching on a windowsill, we all find our own private niche to achieve the perfect mindset.

Senior Wendy Skidmore has some advice for the underclassmen. "You have to budget your study time with your social time." Leanne Carson, ϕM sister, explains, "I like studying in my room. It's too noisy to study in the library." But when asked where she liked to study, Kim Vermette seemed to have the best answer: "I don't!"

44

Bob Kirkendall rises to new heights in studying.

Tiffany Patterso

I

Matt Ballard finds that you can do more on the Pub dining porch than just eat.

Dianne Byerly finds her

A warm day offers a fresh change of pace for these students.

Selecting courses requires signatures and, often, help from an advisor. Jay Black receives some from senior lecturer Nancy Palmer.

At the career center, freshman Melissa Borich uses the Discover program to find her ideal career.

At an on-campus career fair, Norm Dahl and Elizabeth Wivel, representatives of Target, Inc., describe their company to Joyce Resitar.

A familiar sight, this wall next to the mailboxes contains much information about job opportunities and graduate schools.

The field of music interests Phil Lathroum, Career development director Cathy Nosel helps him in the "career library."

Major Decision

"I'm not sure what I'd like to do with the rest of my life. Can you give me some ideas?" Cathy Nosel, the director of career development, says this is one of the most frequently asked questions at their office in Smith House. Right behind it is: "How can I find a job?"

At the Career Development Center, these questions are answered. Several different mediums are available to help. The computer system "Discover" is a guidance program designed to tell you what occupations would be well-suited to your personal interests, abilities, work values, and life experiences. The hundreds of reference books, pamphlets, and posters on file are full of information to help with occupational choices. The counselors are always willing to help with job searches, resume preparations, and career decisions.

This year, there were three new on-campus career fairs, two held in the fall and one in the spring. WMC also helped sponsor the annual Hagerstown job fair in February. We were one of the 13 colleges to sponsor the first "Social Change and Community Service" career fair held at Gettysburg College. In addition, the Career Development Office planned a Career Panel for Parent's Weekend which included alumni and parents. This panel discussed fields such as business, law, human relations, and communications with interested students and parents.

Right now, some of you are saying "Career choice? I still have to choose a MA-JOR" The counselors can also help you with that, but another source of information is your advisor. Advisors are assigned according to interests that you've expressed, but if interests change, you can change your advisor, too. Talking with him or her, you may find out about opportunities in a major or field that you never considered before. Their practical experience and knowledge can really help in guiding you to the correct choice.

30Something

Name: Mike Marceau Age: 41 (Going on 21) Area of Study: Major: English, Minor: Secondary Education

Status: Junior — Transfer from Montgomery College, Takoma Park, MD Hobbies: Playing music; reading

The first thing that attracted me to Western Maryland College was the small size of the school. I'm the type of person who is more comfortable in small groups, and W.M.C. provides this type of setting. When I visited the campus in April, I was impressed with the intimate feeling I saw among the students, faculty, and staff. Everyone seemed to know almost everyone else at the schoel! I felt as if I would be very comfortable in this setting, and so far I have been.

Another factor that impressed me was the inclusion of the non-traditional students as part of the college community. Not only did I feel welcome in the classroom, but the 'mon- trads' have their own student organization. In this way we are in contact with each other outside of the classroom as well. It's nice to have a support group like this, since our concerns may be different than those of other college students. The non-trads who have been on campus for a few semesters have been more than willing to offer suggestions and advice to us "new kids" at school. That helps us to feel like we are part of the college, and I really appreciate their help. I hope I am able to pass on their kindness and encouragement to some of the non-trads in future years.

Mike is one of 43 non-traditional students who attend classes here at W.M.C. The 20-member Non-Traditional Student Organization (NSO) is described by President Bonnie Grady as "a support group of non-traditional students" that provides them with service programs and attempts to raise the student body's awareness of non-trads. Although nontraditional students have many extra demands, such as balancing their time between school and family, they "are not asking to be treated any differently from any other students," and want to be mainstreamed in with the regular students, says Grady. To raise non-traditional student enrollment, the NSO held several fundraisers this year for their scholarship fund and produced a promotional video for potential non-trads.

A kite anyone? Kim Ostrow displays the NSO's fundraiser at the activities fair in September.

48

English major Mike Marceau takes a glance at his book before his Romantic Age class begins.

It's true! Non-trads do interact with traditional students. Rose Bryson stops to chat with Stephanie Hosier. Music Madness! Bonnie Grady welcomes customers to the second annual record, tape, and CD sale sponsored by the Nontraditional Student Organization.

Campus Culture

If you want to be exposed to a bit of the community displayed their talents. culture, it's easy to do at WMC. From literary art and studio art to dramatic art and music, art can be found in all forms on campus.

Books Sandwiched In, a monthly program, reviewed books and plays over bag lunches. Poetry readings and lectures on topics of interest were frequent occasions. Visiting professors often spoke to groups of students, as well. A number of gallery shows were open to the public in WMC's Gallery One. Professors, students and members of Performances were frequent, as well. Alumni Hall had several planned plays each semester, in addition to the annual musical (Godspell, this year) and student directed plays. With the large number of musicians and musical groups on the hill, private recitals and concerts were often held in Levine Recital Hall, Little Baker, and Baker Memorial Chapel. Not all of the musical performances were WMC talent, however, A number of semi-professional groups visited the campus, as well.

Practice makes for a perfect performance. Demetri Lambros gets help on his lines.

The Communication Club sponsored several speakers throughout the year.

At the Alumni Hall box office, tickets for students were typically three dollars or less.

McDaniel Lounge was often a forum for guest lecturers and speakers.

The Skin of Our Teeth was just one of the many performances at Alumni Hall this year.

Actress Chris Covell and playwright/director Wendy Ruderman pose for publicity shots. Care for an autograph? Playthings really opened eyes! Here, Jennifer Dean plays up her role.

Honors Frats

Kathleen Hatcher Alpha Psi Omega — 1st row — Michela Patterson, Wendy Ruderman; 2nd row — Sierra Hunt, Tiffany Patterson, Chris Covell, Tammie Gitt; 3rd row — Steven Zumbrun, Connie Geerhart, Andy Wood

Kappa Mu Epsilon — 1st row — Andrea Pinkman, Tamara Mahan; 2nd row — Deanna Dailey, J.J. Boggs

Lambda Iota Tau — 1st row — Tammie Gitt, Kim Knight, Kathy Bare; 2nd row — Lia Jewkins, Mary Garner, Julie Baile, Joyce Resitar; 3rd row — John Byrne, Melanie D'Amore

Pi Gamma Mu — 1st row — Stephanie Embry, Gayle Klinger, Andrea Pickham; 2nd row — Carolyn Moller, Christy Wasko, Tamara Mahan, Tracie Myers

52

Beta Beta Beta — 1st row — Maria Lafferty, Karen Murphy, Cindy Tokar, Mary McGuirk, Joanne Mitchell, Renee Raborg; 2nd row — Barry Hoopengardner, Jen Disney, Dr. Sam Alspach (advisor), Valerie Funk, Steve Lane

Phi Sigma Iota - Mary Garner, Kim Knight, J.J. Boggs

Psi Chi — 1st row — Nona Green, Melanie Tull, Mary Baschof; 2nd row — Laurie Brooks, Gayle Klinger, Mary Mahoney, Amy Barrett, Lynda Rosen; 3rd row — Sherri Hughes (advisor), Stephanie Embry, Judy Gibson, Beth Basler, Heather Richardson

Not pictured — Omicron Delta Epsilon; Omicron Delta Kappa; Phi Alpha Theta; Phi Lambda Upsilon; Phi Sigma Tau; Pi Sigma Alpha; Trumpeters

Kathy Bare, member of Omicron Delta Kappa, informs senior Julie Cohen of her acceptance into the leadership honor society.

Mary Beth Craig

From Scotland

SCOTLAN

January Fun

Something that everyone looks forward to is the semester break of January. Most of us are just happy to have made it through the semester and are ready for Christmas. But after the Christmas and New Years excitements dies down, come the January doldrums. WMC's answer to the winter blahs is Jan Term!

Everyone is required to take at least one January Term. Jan. Term can consist of a number of different things such as two-credit elective courses, cultural trips, or internships. Some of the fun courses offered this year were The History of Baseball and the Psychic Reality of the Fairy Tale. Trips offered included a skiing trip, Italy: Behind the Lens, where students photographed their experiences and presented their work, and an England/Scotland adventure, where there one! It's a great way to learn!

were so many planned activities, it was hard to see and do it all. Before leaving for their destinations, students learned a little about the people and the culture of the countries they visited. Another option for January Term is an internship. One of the best ways to learn about a particular field is to have hands on experience. You can live on or off campus while doing the internship, but there are usually certain requirements. These include the number of hours you work, keeping a personal log, and perhaps writing a brief paper about the experience.

January Term is usually so much fun because it is generally a non-stressful time to enjoy college life. In fact, many students keep coming back for more, taking three or four Jan Terms rather than just

> Who is behind the lens in Italy? In front of the lens at this time were Kathy Savage, Kelly Freeman, Ric Nepomuceno, and Chip Miller.

... to England! This Jan Term trip spent nearly three weeks in Europe.

In England, Jon Whitby does a bit of sight-seeing.

During an internship at University of Maryland Medical Center's pediatric ward, Mary Beth Craig makes some very special young friends such as this little girl, Jackie.

Sig Ep brother, David Wetherson, helps build shelves for the library as a fraternity fundraiser.

New Addition For over a year, we've watched it grow. allow the number of volumes to increase become a beautiful architectural masterpiece that we are proud to have grace our campus.

The new Hoover Library can now supply more students with a greater amount of information than ever before. The renovation and expansion of the library cost proved audio-visual center. The new Hoovstruction and $2 million for maintenance. of education for us and future students of The new size of 72,000 square feet will Western Maryland College.

What started as a hole in the ground has from 158,000 to 300,000 within the next 20 years.

Besides the size increase of the library's collection, many special touches were added to the library for convenience. These include a microcomputer lab, a lounge and snack area, group study rooms, and an im-$10 million dollars - $8 million for con- er Library is certain to improve the quality

Out of the blue! Construction of the new Hoover Library began with blueprints like these

56

"Abracadabra! Form of a new library!"

The third floor of the library provides students like Christine Houlihan with a quiet place to study.

Big Baker Chapel stands majestically next to the newest addition to the campus.

Part One — The birth of the new library ...

Mary Beth Craig

Part Two — The saga continues . . .

Part Three — The nearly completed project.

Mary Beth Craig

Fond memories are what Greg Preston brings back from his semester at Harlixton in London, A group of WMC students and professor Ira Zepp spent fall 1990 there.

Study Abroad!

The expanding study abroad program To You was successful this year in helping WMC students to experience other cultures and in bringing a number of international students to our campus. Everyone involved speaks highly of their experiences.

"As a 'charter member' of the International Club, I'd like to thank the WMC community for their support and interest in the international students these past four years. Hartelÿk dark en veël geluk in de voorkomende jaren!" - Dirk Visser. Class of '91

"We'd (international students) like to thank Cathy Nosel and Martha O'Connor for their support, especially for their help in establishing the International House for next year." - Arlene Philip, Class of '93, President of the International Club

"Living a year among the student community of WMC has been a great experience. I enjoyed the challenge of getting integrated and I have met great people here." - Carole Sygroves, Class of '92

Did vou know how much your words encourage me? Did you know how much your words make me surprise? I am always learning something from what you said and what you did. Did you know how much courage I need to talk to you? Did you know how happy I am when I can communicate with you? I was not aware of different cultures until I came here. Thank you for being my friend. I love to share more with you. I will try to talk to you,

And I hope that you will try to talk to me.

I am always happy to share something with you.

- Akiko Takahara

Senior Meeghan Ziolkowski had the experience of studying in England for a semester during her sophomore year.

58

International students Malin Johsson and Carol Sygroves stop for a chat outside Decker Center. The International Club is a good way to meet other foreign students. It's how Malin Johsson and Dan Dias met!

International students: front: Renata Donoso (Bolivia, Colombia, Germany), Carole Sygroves (France), Aisushi Osaki (Japan), Arlene Philip (Trinida dand Todago), Akiko Takahara (Japan) back: Malin Johsson (Sweden), Pepe del Pino (Spain), Nicole Jordan (Trinidad), Dan Dias (Sri Lanka), Adelgader Musa Husseini (Palestine), Nobuko Sugimoto (Japan), Mark Long (Ireland)

"When people study abroad, they change. They get an open mind and that's really good!" Pepe del Pino from Seville. Spain wishes to encourage people to study abroad.

Deside the

POINT

Parents of prospective students always ask admission officers of colleges "What is special about this college? What makes this school the best for my child?" At WMC, the answer should be "The people here make our college the best!" Everything else is BESIDE THE POINT.

In our small college community, it is easy to get to know everyone. But it is not simply because WMC is a small school! It is because everyone wants to know everyone else. Friendliness is taken for granted on campus. Smiling faces and cheerful greetings meet you every time you cross the quad, every time you go to the pub, every time you walk into a classroom. The staff is always willing to help you with a problem. Members of the administration have open doors. The alumni and trustees are visible parts of the campus. Faculty members bridge the gap between professors and students by becoming our friends. Fellow students are open-minded, giving, and always willing to meet new people. The diversity of people adds to the campus. Members of the WMC community will fondly remember the college forever, not because of the dorms or the sporting events, but because of the people.

Tiffany Patterson

Acting as MC for an evening, Sierra Hurtt supports her suite activity. The "Coffeehouse" in the Pub sponsored by the Suite of Performing Arts encouraged all to get on stage and have a good time.

Financial Aid: Yvonne Washington-Mitchell, Pat Pavlovek, Chin Choo Hew

Admission: Lisa Burgard, Lisa Diffenbaugh, Donna Phipps, Julie Bittinger, Rhonda Mize, Marty O'Connell, Shannon Zimmerman, Sandy Metz, Rodney Joyner, Jane Worner, Mary Louise Poole

Psych. Dept. Sec.: Sandy Waldman

Marketing: Vicki Peltier, Kathy Cousins, Barry Bosley, (Not Pict. Mary Jo Colbert)

College Activities: John Turner, Cindy Zeiher, Mitch Alexander, Linda Scoville, Peggy Michaelson

Hist./Poli. Sci. Sec.: Margaret Griffin

Development: Tim Pyle, Vicky Geiman, Michelle Moses, Karen Cochran, Barbara Krajewski, Nancy Cornell, Connie Anders, Ken Dudzik, (Not Pict. Doris Miller, Mark Stuart)

Administration/Finance: Terry McAndrew, Carolyn Gordon, Carolyn Pickett, Ruth Thomas, Frank Waller, Barbara Yantis, Jennie Mingolelli, Art Wisner

Personnel: Neitzy Young, Tom Steback, Velva Cooper, (Not Pic. Claudia Jenkins)

Student Affairs: Joanne Goldwater, Phil Sayre, Frank Lamas, Judy Hart, Jude Yearwood, Donna Cooper, Eric Chase, Charlene Kinsey, Bev Loy

Staff Notes

- Gary Harner, Associate Registrar for Records, had a recent publication in Poe and His Times entitled "Edgar Allan Poe: Baudelaire's Labor of Love." He is also an Adjunct Professor in the Communications Department.

- Bobby Anderson, also of the Registrar's Office, has three children attending W.M.C. this year.

- Nearly all of our Admission Counselors are graduates of Western Maryland.

- Frank Lamas replaced Charlene Cole as the Associate Dean of Student Affairs; Charlene Kinsey and Donna Cooper also joined this office.

Registrar: Karen Horsey, Bobby Anderson, Mary Haines, Mary Mangold, Gary Harner

College Store: Steve Miller, Mary Bell Gring, Joyce Linthicum

Grille: Sandy, Glenda, Patti, Sheri Haischer (Manager)

Library: Dave Neikirk (Director), Cheri Smith, George Bachmann, Roxanne Brewer, Tracy Morris, Janise Chilcoat, Pat Lawrence, Eleanor Richwine, Carol Quinn, Jane Sharpe, Ginny Hierstetter, Leona Shockey, Delores Voskuil, (Not Pic:: Kay Falconer, Mark Collier, Rosita Nourvansani, Heshmat Badiee, Nita Hill)

Englar Dining Hall Staff

Central Services: Libby Long, Shirley Wolfe, Bev Carroll (not pictured: Berty Miller)

Music/Art/Theatre Sec.: Dot Myers

Purchasing/Receiving: Margaret Bell, Suzanne Tennyson, Joan Stickles

Bio./Physics Sec.: Carole Klapper Alumni Affairs: Donna Sellman, Linda Eyler

Chem./Math Sec.: Helen Thompson

Chemistry Lab Manager: Daniel Trollinger

Student Accounts: Diane Morris, Diana Deitch, Sue Schmidt

For. Lang./Phil./Rel. Sec .: Mary Lou Turfle

Administrative Computing: Li Chen, Sonya Horner, Don Ehrhardt, Nancy Huber, Ernie Ogle

Acadmic Computing: Ed Holthause

Archivist: Alice Chambers

Public Information: Joyce Muller, Sherri Diegel, Chris Hart, Carol Wetherson, Scott Deitch

Academic Affairs: David Seligman, Carole Arrieta, LeRoy Panek, Ann Thomas, Barb Disharoon, Janet Martin

Switchboard: Dora Sabo

Campus Safety: Debbie Ecker, Paula Tibbs, Ruth Barbour, Dennis Loughlin, Joe Oswianiecki, Mike Haulsee, Randy Cox

Staff Notes

— The Public Information Office, located in Harrison House, is responsible for publications such as the College catalogs, the Student Handbook, The Hill, and Neuribreak. Since 1986, they have received 18 national awards for their publications.

 Sports Information Director Scott Deitch prepares athletic programs for home events and is responsible for sports press releases (even to Sports Illustrated)

 A number of our staff members take courses part-time toward an eventual degree.

- Dr. David Seligman joined the staff as Dean of Academic Affairs in addition to joining the faculty as a professor of philosophy.

- Many members of our staff act as advisors to campus organizations.

Health Services: Dr. Daniel Welliver, Marlene Clements

College Nurse: Sharon Ann Skozilas

President's Office: Elizabeth Shevock, Dr. Robert Chambers, Nancy Godwin, George Grier, Dorothy Tayloe, Dr. Ethan Seidel, Mary Ann Friday

Staff 4 67

Mr. Terry Dalton, Eng. Asst. Prof.

Dr. Robert Chambers, Eng. Prof. Dr. Raymond Phillips, Eng. Prof.

Dr. Melvin D. Palmer, Eng. Prof.

Ms. Suzanne Olsh, Eng. Instructor Dr. Ray Stevens, Eng. Prof.

Dr. Kathy Mangan, Eng. Prof.

Dr. Donna Evergates, Eng. Asst. Prof.

Mr. Richard Dillman, Comm. Asst. Prof.

Dr. Pamela Regis, Comm. Chair, Asst. Prof.

Department Notes

English

- Dr. and Mrs. Palmer, both professors of English, went to Japan this spring to instruct and evaluate prospective transfer students at our two-year sister college there.

- Our new full-time Journalism professor, Terry Daltin, is also advisor to The Phoenix.

- Bill Spence teaches English as a second language part-time.

- Dr. Leroy Panek, Dean of Planning and Research as well as English professor, published his fourth book. Probable Cause: Crime Fiction in Amer-

- New members of the faculty include Raymond Asay, Mary Azreal, and Amy Yerkes.

Communications

- Dr. Pam Regis was on sabbatical this year working on her writings about Thomas Jefferson.

- The curriculum is based on history and theory of communications. For practical experience students may become involved in internships or obtain credit for work on WMCR or the The Phoenix.

- Many communications majors have become involved in Frameworks and Uplink.

- This department has student representatives that sit-in on departmental meetings to input their ideas.

Dr. Francis Fennell, Ed. Assoc. Prof.

Jeanette Witt, Grad. Prog. Admin. Asst.; Henry Reiff, Ed. Asst. Prof.; Sarah Hensley, Grad. Prog. Exec. Sec.; Jean Walker, Ed. Sec.; Helen Wolfe, Grad. Ed. Dean; Margaret Denman.West, Ed. assoc. Prof.; Susan Underwood-Leahy, Coord. Field Placement

Dr. Herman Behling, Ed. Asst. Prof.

Dr. Donald Rabush, Ed. Prof.

Dr. Sherri Lynn Hughes, Psych. Instruct.

Dr. Karen Adkins, Soc. Asst. Prof.

Dr. Daniel Reese, Soc. Asst. Prof., Coord. of Social Work Prog.

Dr. Stephen Colyer, Psych. Chair, Prof.

Dr. William Miller, Psych. Prof.

Education

- At this time WMC offers a minor in both elementary and secondary education.

 - Dr. Francis Fernell was honored for his recently published textbook, workbook, and teacher's guide Mathematic Unlimited and was chosen as state Mathematics Educator of the Year,
- another recent honor went to Dr. Hugh Prickett for his editing of the book Adwacay for Deaf Children.
- Joan Coley was chosen as Reading Professor of the Year for the state of Maryland.

Sociology

 Our Social Work Program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education. The program acquired a new full-time professor this year, Dr. Karen Adkins.

 Norberto Valdez also joined our faculty as a full-time Sociology professor.
The Sociology major includes special topics such as criminal justice, human relations in supervision and management, and industrial and government organization.

Psychology

 The major focuses on how to do research, work with humans and animals in a psychological setting, and use tests and sophisticated equipment to design and carry out experiments.
Dr. Colyer's special interest is in behavior modification. He, as well as most of the other members of the department, has worked in the community with disturbed and developmentally delayed persons.

 Experimental psychology is the focus of Dr. Orenstein's studies. Perception, memory, and physiological topics are included.

Ms. Susan Milstein, Econ. and Bus. Asst. Prof.

Dr. Linda Eshleman, Comp. and Stat. Chair, Assoc. Prof.

Ms. Lucy Moran, Comp. and Stat. Instructor

Dr. Joseph Carter, Econ. and Bus. Internship Coord., Lecturer

Dr. Patrick Reed, History Asst. Prof. Dr. Cornelius Darcy, History Chair, Prof.

Dr. Richard Claycombe, Econ. and Bus. Assoc. Prof.

Dr. Alton Law, Econ. and Bus. Chair, Prof.

Dr. Herbert Smith, Poli. Sci. Prof.

Dr. Christiana Nichols, Poli. Sci. Assoc. Prof.

NO PORTOR .

Dr. Robert Weber, Poli. Sci. Chair, Assoc. Prof.

Dr. Charles Neal, Poli. Sci. Assoc. Prof.

Department Notes

Econ./Business

 Dr. Claycombe received a scholarly publication award at the start of the year for his articles published in The Journal of Behavioral Economics, and The American Economist, as well as other journals.

- This is one of the most popular majors on campus, and many graduates continue their education at prestigious graduate schools.

Computing/Stat.

- Lucy Moran joined our faculty this year as a computer instructor.

- The IBM lab moved to Memorial Hall and contains 22 IBM model 25 and 30s. Additional centers contain a total of 39 Macintosh Plus and SEs. - The microcomputer center in the new library contains 21 Mac classics and 6 IBM model 30s.

History

-Graduates enter many different careers such as law, government, and management.

- Opportunities are available through this department for interdisciplinary studies and internships.

- Two part-time lecturers joined the department temporarily, Dr. Frank Chetigi and Dr. Katharine Rogers.

Poli. Sci.

 This department boasts the best and oldest annual departmental picnic!
Dr. Herb Smith was very involved with exit polling for WBAL, the Baltimore CBS affiliate. He also does politicial analyses for the Baltimore Sun Paper.

 Dr. Robert Weber sponsors a WMC group that attends the annual model U.N. meeting at Harvard. He also recently published an atticle on peacekeeping forces for the nineties and helped sponsor a January Term skiing trip to Park City, Utah. Dr. Samuel Case, Phys. Ed. Prof.

Dr. Alexander Ober, Phys. Ed. Prof.

Ms. Becky Martin, Phys, Ed. Lecturer

Mr. Nick Zoulias, Head Men's Basketball Coach

Dr. Richard Carpenter, Phys. Ed. Assoc. Prof., Dir. of Athletics

Prof.

Mr. Steve Salters, Phys. Ed. Grad. Asst.

Dr. Richard Clower, Phys. Ed. Chair, Prof.

74 People

Ms. Jolene Jordan, Phys. Ed. Lecturer

LTC Joseph Cinquino, Mil. Sci. Chair, Prof.

CPT Richard Monaghan, Mil. Sci. Asst. Prof.

Department

Notes

Physical Education

- The department sponsored the appearance of Mr. Bud Greenspan, author, director, and producer of award winning documentaries such as "16 Days of Glory."

- The annual convention of the Maryland Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Dance was held on-campus in November. Attendance was nearly 600.

- The High School State Wrestling Championships were held in the PELC in March.

Military Science

- The military science department offers unique adventures to students such as FTXs (field training exercises), white water rafting, rappelling, winter survival courses, and the Ranger Challenge Competition.

- Western Maryland is one of the few private liberal arts colleges in Maryland with an Army ROTC program.

Many students are involved in ROTC to add diversity and fun to their college career, while many plan to make it a career. Scholarships are available.

Ms. Evelyn Hering, Music Assoc. Prof.

Mr. Steven (Bo) Eckard, Music Lecturer

Mr. Carl Dietrich, Music Chair, Assoc. Prof.

Mr. Derek Day, Music Lecturer

Dr. David Krieder, Music Lecturer

Dr. Ronald Miller, Theatre Chair, Prof.

Mr. Wasyl Palijczuk, Art Prof., Dir. of Gallery One

Ms. Susan Bloom, Art Asst. Prof.

Department Notes

Art

- Sue Bloom, assistant professor of art, exhibited her own impressive photography in Gallery One this spring.

- Wasyl Palijczuk received the WMC Creativity Award at the start of the year for his solo exhibition at the Baltimore World Trade Center's Top of the World Gallery. His sculpture was also in the book American Artists -An Illustrated Survey of Leading Contemporaries.

- A permanent collection of WMC art is held in the archives.

- Dr. Michael Losch joined our faculty as an assistant professor of art history.

Theatre

- Godspell was presented as the annual musical this spring.

- There were 4 student directed plays this year.

- Ira Domser, associate professor, directs the theatre on the Hill summer programs.

Music

- There are many musical groups on campus including the Madrigal singers, the College choir, the bell choir, a wood wind group, the Concert Band, and the Jazz Workshop.

- Bo Eckerd, lecturer, recently released an album and CD called Essentials.

Dr. David Seligman, Phil. Prof.

Dr. Robert Hartman, Phil. and Relig. Chair, Prof.

Dr. Ira Zepp, Phil. and Relig. Prof.

Ms. Rosemary Maxey, Phil. and Relig. Lecturer

Dr. Martine Motard-Noar, For. Lang. Asst. Prof.

Mr. Peter Buttner, For. Lang. Asst. Prof.

78 People

Mr. Philippe Velu, For. Lang. Lecturer

Dr. Barbara Fick, For. Lang Lecturer

Dr. Thomas Deveny, For. Lang

Ms. Mary Jo Lindeman, For. Lang. Lecturer

Dr. Daniel Williams, For. Lang. Assoc. Prof.

Department Notes

Philosophy Religious Studies

- Dr. Gregory Alles received an academic award for his articles and a translation in journals such as The Journal of Religion, Religion, and History of Religions. He also published a chapter in a volume of the book Philosophy and Religion.

- The Religious Studies major included a pre-seminary program.

- The Philosophy major involves both historical and issues-oriented philosophy.

- Dr. Ira Zepp taught at Harlixton College in England during the fall semester.

Foreign Language

- Languages offered this year included French, German, Spanish, Latin and Greek.

- This year, the introductory classes were reduced from four credits to three credits.

- Opportunities to study abroad can be found through this department.

- The department uses the Dartmouth Intensive Model, which emphasizes oral skills.

Dr. Carol Rouzer, Chem. Asst. Prof.

Dr. G. Samuel Alspach, Biology Chair, Prof. Dr. Esther Iglich, Biology Assoc. Prof.

Ms. Mary Lee Schmall, Lab Instr.

Dr. Jack Clark, Math Assoc. Prof.

Dr. James Lightner, Math Prof. Dr. Wilbur Long, Biology Prof.

Dr. Peter Yedinak, Physics Prof.

Dr. Harry Rosenzweig, Math Chair, Prof.

Dr. William Achor, Physics Prof.

Dr. Robert Boner, Math Prof.

Notes

Biology

- Dr. Bill Long received a special achievement award for his work on authoring a computerized embryology course.

- The department obtained a scanning electron microscope from Clemson University.

- A new honor society for pre-health professions majors was started.

Chemistry

- This year a Biochemistry major was approved and the first biochemistry lab was taught.

- A new gas chromatograph/mass spectrometer system was purchased from Bucknell for students to identify and analyze complex substances.

- Dr. Richard Smith spoke about his cancer research in Hamburg, Germany. He acquired a $120,000 grant from the National Science Foundation

Physics

- Dr. Bill Pagonis obtained a grant from a research corporation for his work in thermoluminescence.

- Dr. William Achor is developing a chart of nuclear particles for use as a reference material.

- Plans were drawn up for an annex to Lewis Hall. New lab space and a science library are proposed.

Math

- Dr. Boner, Dr. Clark, and Dr. Rosenzweig are members of the WMC Problem Solving Group who have had many solutions published in Mathematics Monthly and Mathematics Magazine.

- Dr. Clark gave a number of talks this year to the Mathematical Association.

SENIORS CLASS OF 1991

Senior year is filled with 40-page Seminar papers, interviews, Thursday nights at Champs, and a whole lot of fun. It is the last year to be a student for many; the last year to spend living with favorite college friends and eating glorious Glar food. It is the last year before entering the world that is beyond WMC, our home for four important years. The excitement and sadness of graduation from Western Maryland mingle to result in one of the longest but yet shortest years of a student's life.

SGA advisor Phil Sayre and Senior Class President Skip Tyson smile after a successful senior class meeting held to discuss plans for senior week and graduation.

Michael Alagna Economics/Business Admin. Karen Albright Sociology Denise Aleman Psychology Lisa Allwine Economics/Business Admin.

Andrea Amrhein Biology Glenn Anderson Sociology (Criminal Justice) Michael Aquilano History Jennifer Ashbrook Psychology

Stacy Austenson Physical Education Julie Baile English Karen Baker Biology/Business Admin. Laura Balakir Psychology Kathleen Bare English Mary Baschoff Psychology Christine Baur Psychology

Erika Berenguer Gil Business Admin./Psychology Matthew Blair English Lynne Bordner Art Paul Bornyek Communication David Britt Biology Lauren Brumbach Sociology Rosanna Bryson English

People

Leanne Carson Economics/Business Admin. Jill Carner Business Admin. Kimberly Caryl English Carlton Cayward Physical Education Gregory Chernololo Political Science Colleen Christmas Communication John Cionfolo Communication

Elizabeth Clark Communication Michelle Coates Social Work Allison Coffey Physics Julie Cohen Biology Patrick Colbert Philosophy Brian Connors Business Admin. Stephanie Cordom Sociology

Gaywood Cornell Communication Melissa Core Communication Christina Corvell Communication/Theatre Art Katheen Covell English Melanie D'Amore English Graohy Dahl Physical Education Deanna Dailey Mathematics/Art

Senior year is an exciting time, but it is also somewhat stressful! Seniors are faced not only with graduation in May, but also what to do after the commencement ceremony! Graduate school applications and/or resumes are in abundance.

Carteer fairs such as the ones held every year in Towson, Getrysburg, and Hagerstown are excellent opportunities for seniors to don their brand-new interview suits and make potentially important contacts. Networking is the way of the future!

- Mary Baschoff

Resumes in hand, seniors Mary O'Connor, psychology major, and Stephanie Cordom, sociology major, prepare for the annual Hagerstown job fair.

fary Baschoff

Laura Daum English Sean Davis Art History Royce Day English Erin DiGregorio English F. Michael Donohue Sociology Michael Sean Dunn History

Rich Edwards Biology Marshall Eidenberg Biology Stephanie Embrey Psychology Kenneth Evans Business Admin. Brian Fehr Business Admin. Denise Fleck Communication Michelle Fleming Sociology

Tina Fleming Communication Amy Fowler Communication Gordon Franklin Biology Kelly Freeman Art

Anthony Fromson Political Science David Fyfe History Paul Gaccione Economics/Business Admin. Mary Garner Business Admin./German

People

88

Mark Gedney Sociology Lynda Geideman Communication Ken Gelfand Economics/Business Admin. Judith Gibson Psychology Terry Gish Political Science Tammie Gist English/Theatre Bonnie Grady Communications

Bonnie Grauch Mathematics Nona Green Social Work/Psychology Steven Green Music James Grove Biology/Chemistry Brian Haight Economics/Business Admin. Mark Hammaren Economics/Business Admin. Thomas Hampton Communication

Jennifer Hannah Sociology Thomas Harbold Student Design Amber Harris English Kristine Hartlaub Psychology Melinda Hastings Psychology Mark Heffner Mark Heffner Mark Heffner Mathematics/Spanish

Laura Hensley Psychology Robert Hess Physical Education Kimberly Hildebrand Psychology/Art Catherine Hilliard Biology John Hornsey Business Admin. Christine Houlihan History Robert Howell Political Science

Thinking about graduation makes them smile! Lynda Geideman and Karen Albright find time in their busy senior schedules to attend their class meeting in March.

Stanley Hudson Political Science Brian Hughes Business Admin. John Hummell Communication David Hurley Physical Education

Christopher Ilconich Sociology (Criminal Justice) Richard Ittner History Edward Jacod Business Admin. James Jakub Biology

Alecia Janney Communication Lia Jenkins English Cynthia Johnson Sociology J James Johnson Sociology J Max Kabe English Christopher Kane Biology

Megan Kane English James Kaufman Political Science Any Kautz Economics/Business Admin. S. Meghan Kelly Communications/French Mini Kideckel Political Science Todd Kingshury Economics/Business Admin. Lynn Kirsche Economics/Business Admin.

David Kleb Political Science Benjamin Kling Sociology Gayle Klinger Psychology Kimberly Knight French/Spanish Corry Krall Art History/Studio Art Datlene Kramer Psychology Scott Kripowicz History

Edward Krusinski Economics/Business Admin, Edward Kurz Biology/Chemistry Melissa Lacheman Physical Education Sharon Landis Business Admin, Leslite Langer History Folitical Science Michael Lee Political Science

Jennifer Letteer Sociology Matthew Levy Communication Elizabeth List Psychology Felicia Lockhart Communication Paul Lomax Communication Gregory Long Mathematics Helen Lowe Communication/Art

Edward Maccio Biology Christopher MacDonald Communication Christopher Madden Physical Education Tamara Mahae Hathematicy/Economics Francis Manua Political Science Joslyn Martin Music Julie McCarthy Communication

Senior year is the time to buy a Western Maryland College ring. Michela Patterson takes a look at the selection. This Jostens representative, a familiar sight to everyone who waids through Decker Center, will be sure to ler you know that it's a beaufild keepade that will forever termind you of your college days. Jostens also handles all of our graduation necessities, including announcements, and the selection of the selection of the selection of the selection of the selection. caps and gowns.

Jane McDowell Psychology Nancy McLughlin Sociology Paige Miller American Studies Sharon Miller History Thomas Miller Economics/Business Admin. Daniel Mills English Joane Mitchell Biology

Carolyn Moller Sociology Matthew Moran Art Charlene Morazzani-Warfield Physical Education (Das abacias)

Physical Education (Pre-physical Therapy) Tracie Myers Economics Linda Needle Biology Elizabeth Nichols Sociology Tammy Norwood Communication

Mary O'Connor Psychology/Music Jennifer O'Hara Social Work Michael Orlando Business Administration Diana Palmer Economics/Business Admin.

Elizabeth Palmer Communication/Theatre Arts Michela Patterson English/Theatre Arts Kent Pearce Economics/Business Admin. Ines Perez Communication/Spanish

Laura Perugini History Holly Phipps Business Administrati Christine Piech English Jennifer Pike Economics/Business Admin. Andrea Pinkham Psychology Christopher Place Political Science Francis Pommett Political Science

Abby Potter Sociology Tanya Presberry Arr Greg Preston Music Tara Prugh Sociology Renee Raborg Biology Debra Redmond Communication Daryl Reisinger Communication

Charles Rembert Business Administration Joyce Resetar English Dana Robertson Communication Mary Rock English Elise Rosen Political Science Wendy Ruderman Communication Marc Rudolph Business Administration

Audrey Ruggiero Psychology Katherine Ruppenthal Art/Communication Mark Ryan Political Science/German Michael Sabo Business Administration Pamela Scharrer Economics/Business Admin. James Secker Political Science Josette Selover Sociology

Seniors Not Pictured

Arthur Anderson, Carrie Anderson, Nina Baylin, Pat Blackman, Davn Blood, Christopher Campbell, Matthew Cancelmo, Christopher Cook, Louis D'Alesandro, Todd Diamond, Robin Fritz, Thomas Fullem, John Furyk, Douglas Gauld, Constance Geerhart, Eric Gettemy, Sebastian Gorgone, Michael Greenholt, Robert Grothman, Sylvia Hadermann-Kies, Gail Hahn, Joseph Herman, Robin Hoff, John Huston, Sandra Jenkins, John Johnson, Ann Kangas, Sarah Karalia, James Kays, Kathryn Kent, Philip Key, Panela Kreiger, Michael Looney, Kevin Mayer, Jason McCarthy, Patricia McClintock, David O'Connor, Robert O'Connor, Adam Plummer, Armand Reiser, Timothy Ruggles, Sharon Schmidt, Martha Settle, Kimberly St. Clair, Erica Steinacker, William Stevens, Gregory Street, Hammond Swam, Nobuhiro Taguchi, Richard Tait, Jennifer Testa, Eric Thoman, John Turner, Stephen Yozzella, John Weaver, David Wessel, Jenaror Wilson, Andreas Wood, Robert Zimmer, Jeanne Zoulias Sunny days spent on the quad are definitely something Chris Kane will miss when he graduates!

Scott Senior Communication Michael Shanahan Sociology/Political Science Michael Sherlock Sociology (Criminal Justice) Wendy Skidmore Economics/Business Admin.

Alice Smith Mathematics Tracey Snyder Physical Education Kristina Stephan English Virginia Story Communication/Art

T.B. Coleman Stump Political Science/History John Sullivan Political Science Karen Sullivan Psychology Stuart Suter History Deborah Thigpen Communication Susan Thomas Business Administration W. Scott Tinney History

Lisa Tondi English Danielle Trent Economics/Basiness Admin. Diana Travector Boliogy Melanie Tull Psychology Chester "Skje" Tyson Biology Chester "Skje" Tyson Biology Sena Vis Political Science (History

Dirk Viseer Economics Amy Vodraka Communication (Systems Analysis) Liss Vokeritis Communication/English Richard Wagman Sociology Sharon (Berh) Waldron Communication Kevin Wallace Biology

Synthia Walsh Social Work James Waren Communication Christy Wako Basiness Admin. Eric Watkinson Ecroomics/Business Admin. David Weazer Art/Graphic Design Cynthia Welch History Kristen Welsh Psychology

Robert Welsh Sociology (Crisminal Justice) David Wetherson Economicy (Basiness Admin, Eegene White) Engene White Rodenty Williams Communication Erric Wilson History Jeffrey Wrabel Business Administration Kwith Wright Political Science

Lisa Yost Psychology Amanda Zawacke English Robert Zawtocki Business Administration Kelly Zeager Sociology C. Matthew Zeyher History Meeghan Ziolkowski Religious Studies/Philosophy

Basement: Laura Walker, Carolyn Low, Sarah Strickland, Ami Raveling, Alicia Moore, Sue Dreibelbis, Tracy Baynard

Ground: Erica Guenther, Katie Shepherd, Cindi Bair, Kara Karch, Kendra Harbaugh

First: Kisten Borgeson, Sarah Kephart, Natalie Wysocki, Vicki Alexander, Aimee Grayson, Jill Grosso, Jessica Fishel, Holly Presley, Jen Legaliais, Laura Steelberg, Jennifer Binder, Hope Filer, Amy Krug

Seeaf: Krinin Marz, Sarah Devl, J. Mako, Averaa, Jennifer Clark, Amy Bridgeman, Lenora Small, Anne Gruglik, Akko Takahara, Tifara Jenkon, Erica Annhein, Kisitin Johnson (NA), Lia Wuder, Hope Ratner, Heather Beal, Blue Taylor, Noren Morris, Kell Jenerg, Mary Haines, Elise Achaft, Maggie Seabolt, Kim Cawford, Beh Grumbine, Jer Hill, Kerti Wagner, Stephanie Ross, Kim Jackson, Julie Simmonso, Radi DeFino, Shiely Herman, Andris Scott

Third: Amanda Thompson (RA). Lindley Dannaway, Kristin Jones, Kristie Susco, Jessica Rosler, Jennifer Veteto, Marie Pawlowski, Jennie Hoover, Sherry Albright, Rochere Whitaker, Karen Litishin, Melissa Borich

Fourth: Joy Gigeous, Kirsten Stockel, Tamitha Moore, Abbi Wicklein, Krissy Leonard, Suzanne Stephano, Jen Rick, Elizabeth Lawrence, Rhonda Small, Robin Beth Askins (RA), Tracie Boggess

Whiteford women avoid studying by munching. Kim Crawford, Erica Amrhein, and Beth Grumbine enjoy popcorn.

The hallowed hallways of Whiteford.

Whiteford

Whiteford Hall is possibly the cleanest dorm on campus. The only all-female dorm, it had probably the lowest common damage bill at the end of the year. Lucky them!

Whiteford residents kept their dorm the way they liked it in several ways. Doors were locked at dark every night, and evening visitors had to check in at the front desk stating their destination and proving their identity. The residence life staff was open and encouraging which helped to make the atmosphere friendly. They had a difficult job due to the fact that most of the women in Whiteford were freshmen or transfers. Some were placed with roommates that weren't compatible, so in several instances special living arrangements had to be made. RLC Donna Cooper, and RAs Laura Walker, Kristina Johnson, Amanda Thompson, and Robin Askins had help from the active Whiteford hall government in programming and signmaking. In Whiteford, new friendships were made and bonds were formed that may never be broken.

A future journalist? Sophomore transfer Jen Hill doesn't mind reading about writing.

A second floor resident of Whiteford, Hope Ratner, has a cozy set-up.

First Floor: Rob Newman

Second Floor: James Martin, Troy Hornung, Chris Cutler, Pat Maczko, Kevin Woodward, Shaem Spencer, Greg Roycroft, Marc Steiman, John Gazzelli

Third Floor: Mark Brunco, John Hampton, Keith Abel, Brett Young, Ed Kauffman, Brian Garfield, "Zeus" Briskman, Jeff Maslin, J.J. Tinney, Jimmy Naughton

Fourth Floor: Casey Carpenter, Mike Robinson, Matt Stone, Tim Michael, Cooper Long, Mike Davis

Watching TV is a favorite pastime of Rouzer men. RA Jim Kaufman hangs out.

These doors are a familiar sight to male freshmen ... and even some female freshmen!

Rouzer

The second year for Rouzer to be an all male dorm was a fun and successful year. Freshman, in addition to several transfer students and a few upperclassmen, lived on Rouzer's four floors. The convenience of its attachment to Decker Center was definitely a plus. When it was raining or icy out, Rouzer residents didn't have to step foot outside to go to Glar or to their mailboxes.

A few things changed this year in Rouzer. Eric Chase remained the RLC and Jim Kaufman and Drew Sexton returned as RAs. A new addition to the Rouzer crew was Bill Harris, who was the third RA. Under this leadership, Rouzer managed to escape some of the problems of previous years. Little hall damage occurred and late night fire drills were a thing of the past. One of the two dry dorms on campus, Rouzer was known for being strict about the alcohol policy. In addition, the policy of having guests sign in at the door was implemented. These changes, as well as the residents, made this year a great one in Rouzer.

It's a tough decision. Dave Radosevich tries to find the best CD to listen to.

Freshmen find they must catch naps between classes to stand the late nights of a college student. At least, Jason Drissel does. First Floor: Valerie Funk, Tara Prugh, Gina Sciarra, Kathy Savage, Erin Thompson, Wendy Gayo, Cindy Ricketts, Gina Gargeu, Shannon Bray, Sarah Biggs, Jennifer Ashbrook, Lynda Rosen, Jessica Barlow, Jen Hannah, Mary Mahoney, Kelly Wark, Laura Machlan, Tina Fleming, Beth Clark, Cheryl Dishon

Second Floor: Phi Delta Theta

Third Floor: Kristin Hegna, Jennifer Carroll, Amy Fowler, Kelly Carpenter, Jill Carter, Lynne Kirsche, Maija Strenger, Sarah Hawes, Sandy Vogel, Ann Holmes, Kristi Towers, Sarah Williams, Lynda Geideman, Elaine

Fourth Floor: Rob Brevetti, Drew Richards, Paul Gaccione, Matt Blair, Paul Lomax, Kent Pearce

Toal

BLANCHE WARD HALL Phi Sigs Audrey Ruggerio and Amy Fowler

Residents of Blanche, seniors Danielle Trent and Matt Zeyher smile at a social.

Blanche

Blanche Ward Hall is often the spot to be on campus on a Friday or Saturday night. Since clubroom parties have more or less ended, the fraternities and sororities have get-togethers on their hall. Since Blanche houses the Phi Sigs, the Omegas, the Phi Delts, and the Bachelors on its four floors. it was usually quite a party place!

This perhaps gave the RAs (Rich Tait, Tammie Gitt, and Mark Kleinman) and RLC Jude Yearwood a tough job. But since the building was filled with upperclassmen, the residents were pretty responsible about noise levels and alcohol. Although there were a few problems during the year, the residents finished the spring semester with memories of a great nine months in Blanche Ward Hall.

Living on the fourth floor together helps keep Mike Sabo's and Jerry St. John's friendship intact.

The first floor is home to Bete's Todd Sabin and Chris MacDonald.

Scoad Pilor: Stephanie Hosier, Beth Basler, Michelle Miller, Christy Saska, Susanne Page, Carla Castagar, Dani Pox, Karen Baker, Mimi Kideckel, Woody Cornell, Kim Vermette, Kim Mitchell, Chrys Bogert, Any Vodraska, Erin DeGregorio, Lesile Langer, Kelly O'Shaughnesy, Alecia Janney, Misy Lachman, Beth Waldron, Ali Quigley, Wendy Skidmore

Fourth Floor: Stacey Scanlan, Jennifer Harding, Christine Utley, Katherine Winkler, Lanette Nidecker, Ashley Scattergood, Allison Dameron

Phi Mu pledge Ashley Scattergood will move from the fourth floor to the second floor of McDaniel next year!

RAs must have something to smile about. Bob Pick from third floor McDaniel shows his.

Yes, the ghost of McDaniel Hall was spotted this year. But this didn't scare the newly formed national fraternity Delta Upsilon from living on the third floor. In addition to the DUS, the Phi Mus, the Betes, and a number of independent upperclassmen were residents of McDaniel.

RLC Charlene Kinsey seemed to have a successful first year at WMC. She and RAs Crissi Cina, Robert Pick, and Allison Dameron managed to handle quiet hours violations and hall parties without difficulty. The diverse group of people living in McDaniel made their jobs challenging. But it also made for a busy and interesting year for ach of the residents of McDaniel Hall.

Originally a women's dorm, McDaniel Hall was completed in 1922. It is one of the oldest dormitories on campus.

Kathleen Hatcher

First Section: Liz Emanuel, Kris Meislohn, Matt Ballard, Janel McBain, Dave English, Gary Utter, Greg Olwell, Abed Husseini

At home in the Poli. Sci. suite, Ed Jacod reads the latest car mag.

Second Section: Tanya Kabel, Elizabeth Wagner, Sandra Hoelz, Michelle Fink, Laurie Gilbert, Amy Lloyd, Jen Flagg, Stacey Lowmaster, Brenda Dorsch, Amy Hackman, Kym Samuels

Third Section: Jeanne Contino, Jenny Preston, Janet Seward, Claudette Gasch, Mike Rice, Jen Johnson, Marielle Ainsworth, Julia Mignatti, Laura Maslin, Sabra Karr

Fourth Section: Christine Keiner, Amy Pelsinsky, Krista Hadermann, Maura Ziolkowski, Keith St.Amand, Cathy Fritz, Greta Powell, Emily Oland, Janet Fenhagen, Jen Disney, Ken Bigger, John Faris, Jonathon Boehman, Skip Squires, Barry Hoopengardner

The ROTC suite's window ledge is the perfect spot for Liz Emanuel to help Steve Harlan proofread.

MacLea

A totally different dorm, Daniel MacLea sits on the Quad. It's different because it is arranged into suites consisting of several bedrooms, bathrooms, and a common room. Affinity groups must apply to live in these suites.

Some examples of the affinity groups which are mainstays in DMC are the honors program, ROTC, and a fitness suite. New additions this year included the sign language suite and the political science suite. Each suite is required to hold campus-wide programs and participate in activities which are related to their affinity. For instance, the Suite of Performing Arts held a "coffeehouse" in the pub last September. They provided an open stage for students to perform in any way they chose.

Living in MacLea was a great way to become involved in a group and meet new people. The common room is a real convenience. Plus, you don't have to share a bathroom with 20 other people!

A little light reading (ha) is being done by Skip Squires in his fourth section suite.

Another angle of Daniel MacLea Hall.

DMC resident Matt Wannishi luckily has his own computer in his room. No waiting at the Writing Center for him!

First Floor: Stephanie Canaras, Chris Hikade (PSU), Matt Bayley, Mark Finneran, Bonnie Grauch, Amber Harris, Jodi Livingston, Kris Pierson, George Gray (PSU), Kevin Mennamin (PSU), Matt Byrne, Lori Michan

Third Flow: Ed Krusinski, Jamie Johnston, Walt Eife, Will Hornsey, Eric Disharoon, Rob Howell, Jeff McAndrew, Mike Orlando, Mike Sherlock, Kevin Wright, Mike Alagna, Marc Rudolph, Scott Senior, Rich Edwards, Tony Fromson, Sebastian Gorgone, Van Lutton

Faurth Floor: Mark Titus, Mark Mills, Todd Robinson, Royce Day, Todd Cioni, Brian Hammonn, Kevin Wolters, Mike Kubacki, Dirk Visser, Jon Whitby, Sean Smith, John Carney, Chris Conklin, Frank Humimski, Brian Connors

Fourth floor ANW would be a good place for a game of catch, wouldn't it? Todd Leskoski thinks so.

> Albert Norman Ward ... Just what is up in that tower anyway?

Kathleen Hatche

A.N.W.

Albert Norman Ward, also known as ANW, was a busy place this year. Housing two independent floors with suites as well as rooms and the Phi Alphs and Sig Eps, it was a dorm full of fun. Quad God Bonnie Grauch and RAs Carol Hofmeister, Corbett Logan, and Tim Pfaltzgraff tried to keep control, however.

Living on the Quad is just one plus to living in ANW. There are always activities and its great for laying out, frisbee or ball. On any nice day, you'll see lots of ANW residents out on the Quad.

Another advantage to living in ANW is having easy access to the clubrooms of the Phi Alphs, Sig Eps, and Phi Delts. Whenever there's a party, cocktail, or meeting, if you live in ANW, you're sure to know about it!

Attached to her room by the phone, Amber Harris takes advantage of her relatively quiet hallway.

Residents of building one, Mary O'Connor and Cathy Hilliard think something is funny at the picnic.

COLUMN

Building Ont: Mike Donohue (visitor), Cathy Hilliard, Danna Reid, Alex Koudourakis, Lisa Voketitis, Jonelle Leith, Mark Titus (visitor), Mike Fullem, Rob Snyder, Matt Calendar, Andrew Krevolin

Building Tuw: Libby Bieling, Michelle Dayot, Ines Perez, Amanda Zawacke, Dina Soliman, Jennifer Pike, Meg Gobrecht, Chris Covell, Felicia Lockhart, Jason Steinbach

Bailding Three: Mary Beth Craig, Joanne Goldwater, Corey Stultz (visitor), J.J. Boggs, Sharon Landis, Joslyn Martin, Lynn Thomas, Laura Tull, Tanya Presberry, Norris Garrison, Melanie D'Amore, Alisa Rock

The kitchen table turns out to be a great study spot. Andrew Krevolin stays in this apartment rather than go to the library.

What a pair! Michelle Dayot and Libby Bieling obviously love living in the apartments.

At the picnic for apartment residents held by the residence life staff, Andrea Pinkham wonders where the ketchup is.

Apartments

Apartment life is great on the Hill. The advantages include not having to go to Glar, having an awesome RA, and being more on your own without moving off campus.

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors were eligible to live in the apartments, Apartments were assigned to groups of four after averaging the two highest lottery numbers of the groups. If your numbers were really good, you could get an apartment with two levels or ne with two singles and a double.

This year there were a very diverse group of people in the apartments, from football captains to CAPBoard executive officers. They all got to know each other through events planned by Corey and Meg and informal parties. Next year, however, will be even more varied because of this, here were a huge number of applications for apartments. Guess they are one of the most popular places to live on campust

The garden apartments are located just down the hill from Rouzer. These apartments can house up to 92 students.

Kathleen Hatche

115

Studying in his Elderdice single is Gordon Franklin.

500

1811

2

Elderdice: Paige Miller, Matt Moran, Mike Aquilano, Mark Burroughs, Matt Levy, Corey Krall, Rick Wagman, Cyndi Johnson, Tony Petroccia, Lisa Yost, John Huston, Nona Green

Residents of Pennsylvania Avenue Houses

Cooking on the grill is second nature to Corey Stultz. Do you learn these things living in the P.A. Houses?

Elderdice resident Paige Miller steps out for a call and a smoke.

Reading a magazine, Matt Levy relaxes in his room in Elderdice.

Elderdice

With its high ceilings, single rooms, and a limited number of upperclass residents, Elderdice is a special dorm. This year the Elderdice crew had a great time up on the third floor above campus offices. A spirited floor managed to act the ghost part of the tower of Elderdice quite well during the Halloween ghost walk. That same week, Rick Wagman and Tony Petroccia made an interesting discovery in Elderdice that eventually led them to a story of one of the possible ghosts. No wonder no one lives in the tower room anymore!

PA Houses

Residents of the dwindling number of PA houses enjoyed their independent life style. Having a kitchen, basement, and backyard gave students certain advantages. Residents have freedom as if they live off-campus, yet have all the benefits of campus residence. RA Corey Stultz was available when needed. A good time was had by all students in PA houses, independents and affinity groups alike!

Pennsylvania Avenue house residents, Leslie Mullendore and Claudia Henemyre, work together in lab.

With over 80 clubs and organizations on campus, it is hard to decide what to do. But once you make that decision, it is easy to become very involved. WMC students are active, and everywhere we are MAKING A POINT.

From fraternities to music groups to the ice hockey club, there are lots of ways to follow up on your interests. Meeting people who have similar ideas and goals is another advantage to joining in. By belonging to organizations, you can be exposed to new thoughts and points of view of others. Leadership qualities, often looked for in prospective employees and graduate students, can be expanded by holding officer positions.

Whatever your role on campus, it is true: you get out of it what you put into it. And WMC students put a lot into it!

Mary Beth Craig

Activities fairs are a time to find interested newcomers. Todd Robinson, Christine Pieper, and Michal Hall represent one of the many organizations on campus.

The Sig Eps represent WMC in the Westminster Fallfest parade.

New inning! Sig Eps Rich Edwards and Marc Rudolph move out to the field during Quad ball.

Sigma Phi Epsilon: Socially Active

At the start of the year, Sebastian Gorgone chooses new posters for his room on the Sig Ep floor.

Signe J& Epinin (in alpha. order): Mile Algon, Genn Anderso, Jin Bachman, Pail "Fester? Bernyck, Rek Callun, Rey Carbore, Caro Duvis, Eric Daharono, Saen Dum, Rich Edwards, Walt Elir, Tony Fromson, Dino Gale, Eric Gettersy, Schattian Gergene, Will Hernsey, Roh Howell, John Hummell, Chris Honsich, Jami Johnston, Chris Kane, Ed Kuminski, Van Luron, Dan MacAndrey, Jiff MacAndree, Fich Miller, Mike Ortando, Adam Pitaman, John Rayn, Reek Reiner, Jason Rippon, Marc Rudolph, Scott Sonies, Miller, Mick Ortando, Adam Pitaman, John Rayn, Reek Reiner, Jason Rippon, Marc Rudolph, Scott Sonies, Miller, Mick Ortando, Adam Pitaman, John Rayn, David Wichtmenn, Chre Whiling, Rechtw. Willight

120

At the Betes' formal, Phi Sig RJ Measday and Todd Sabin dance all night long.

Phi Sigma Sigma: Ten Years

At Hom

ng halftime, Elise Rosen accepts the James Brant Memorial Cup on behalf of the Phi Sigs.

hi Sigma Sigma was the first national sorority founded at Western Maryland College. We were originally Sigma Sigma Tau sorority, but we went national on February 26, 1981. In fact, we just celebrated our tenth year on the hill. For the celebration, we held a gala spring formal at the Hyatt Regency on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C. We invited all of our alumni from ten years back. It was a blast!

In general, we have about 51 sisters. Unfortunately, 17 sister are graduating. We are involved in quite a few events such as the Special Olympics Tournament of Champions. We also spent a great deal of time this year writing to our soldiers in the Persian Gulf. During the semester, Phi Sigma Sigma also sponsored our first annual Gong Show. But most importantly, we won the Brant Memorial Cup for the third year in a row. This trophy is awarded to the best overall Greek organization on campus. The honor is based on three categories: academic honors, varsity sports, and community service. We do definitely excel in these areas

For the celebration, we held a gala spring formal at the Hyatt Regency on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C.

Phi Sigma Sigma (in alpha. order): Alicia Albrecht, Karen Albright, Stacy Austensen, Dana Boyd, Kristin Branthe Lori Capodanno, Kelly Carpenter, Jennifer Carroll, Jill Carter, Alicia Clarke, Michelle Coates, Melissa Cote, Tracy Eagan, Jill Evans, Denise Fleck, Amy Fowler, Lynda Geideman, Michelle Gielen, Sarah Hawes, Kristin Hegna, Anne Holmes, Christine Houlihan, Jennifer Justh, Amy Kautz, Heather Kirk, Lynne Kirsche, Nicole Krakowiak, Jennifer Lee, Elizabeth Longenecker, RJ Measday, Tracie Myers, Melissa Nelson, Susan Parker, Kim Potter, Ami Raveling, Heather Richardson Elise Rosen, Shannon Ruddle, Audrey Ruggerio, Josette Selover, Jennifer Sheeder, Kathryn Shevock, Tracey Snyder, Maija Strenger, Elaine Toal, Kristi Towers, Bethann VanNess, Sandy Vogel, Molly Wanamaker, Sarah Williams, Christine Winkelvoss

Pandas galore! The Omegas are represented by Tricia Duffy and Holly Phipps at the spring activities fair.

Alpha Nu Omega: Sisterhood

A little rain doesn't stop them! The Omega float for Homecoming rolled anyway.

Go ahead, make my day! Phi Delt Steve Greene asks for a pie in the face.

The pledge class of spring 1991 has fun while preparing a skit and practicing songs in Whiteford's basement.

Alpha No. Omega (in alpha, endre): Jennifer Ashbrock, Jensica Backow, Kimsheyh Bergen, Sarah Beggs, Thoreas Borge, Shannon Berg, Kimshey Corq (Linittice Can, Bech Clark, Dhai Camouzi, Cakibe Daih, Mohyan Damoe, Okero J Daihon, Tima Pleming, Valenie Fund, Gina Gargen, Wondy Gano, Jennifer Hannah, Jennifer Harding, Luara Hendey, Sanda Hecht, Debenh Housey, Leaz Ras Jeffrism, Magna Kelly, Caleen Klaansier, Pannah Kersig, Tannifer Letteret, Laura Machian, Mary Mahoney, Jane McDowell, Jennifer Khaitnin, Jananer Mitchell, Diana Palmer, Hally Phippa, Tara Progh, Dabbie Renhomed, Cravita Bicker, Uradin Renew, Warder J Racimman, Kateir Rogeneth, Lathy Sawag, Gina Sarara, Lia Sananno Tenne, Eitsenber Wagenet, Atentiere Wacheld, Kally Wark

Phi Delta Theta (in alpha. order): Mark Aumen, John Auty, Matt Cancelmo, Carlton Cayward, John Cionfolo, Pat Colbert, Craig Ejk, Pete Eulner, Kenneth Gelfand, Steve Greene, Scott Gregorio, Steve Hellerman, Rob Hess, Stanley Hudson, Brian Hughes, Dave Hurley, Rich Ittner, Jim Jakub, Dave Kleb, Mike Looney, Chris Madden, Mark Myers, Joel Oppenheimer, Steve Parsons, Frank Pommett, Keith Purcaro, Tim Ruggles, Jim Secker, John Stene, Colem Stump, John Sullivan, Scott Tinney, Jeremy Verne, Eric Wagner, Warren Walter, James Warren, Dave Weaver, Curt Weiss, Andy Wood, Andrew Zechiel, Rob Zimmer, Roy Zipp

Phi Delta Theta: Community Service

hi Delta Theta has been anything but idle for the past months. Celebrating their 20th anniversary on the hill this April, they have been active in the school as well as the surrounding local area. Prior to Christmas break. Phi Delts were commended by the Westminster Business Association for their essential role in the First Annual Westminster Christmas Festival. In addition to doing various other things, Phi Delts spent the day roasting chestnuts and giving the children of Westminster carriage rides. Over January term, Phi Delta Theta didn't slow down. On January 10th the Phi Delts were again successful with their sponsorship of the American Red Cross blood drive. Although the Red Cross only expected to have approximately 40-50 blood donors for that particular time of year, the Phi Delts gave the project 100% and ended up getting well over 70 donors.

In addition to doing various other things, Phi Delts spent the day roasting chestnuts and giving the children of Westminster carriage rides.

With war raging in the Middle East, the Phi Delts did their part in supporting the troops by selling "We support our troops" T-shirts to the college community. All profits from the sale went to the Red Cross to aid the families left behind here in the U.S. and supported other activities. Phi Delts also participated in their Target Affinity/Phi Delta Theta road race, both as race monitors and runners. On Saturday, April 20th the Phi Delts got up at 8:00 am to go on a door-to-door fund drive for the American Cancer Society around Westminster raising over $400. The day was topped off with a successful formal which was attended by several alumni from as far back as the first brothers of Phi Delta Theta, Maryland Beta. Phi Delta Theta plans to continue in the spirit of excellence and service here at Western Maryland College for at least another 20 years.

On a personal note, the brothers of Phi Delta Theta, MD Beta, would like to welcome back our brother Cpl. William Scott Tinney as well as all the other servicemen and women returning from the Gulf.

Hard at work at Spring Fling. Jeremy Verne and John Sullivan exercise their muscles.

Alpha Nu Omega/Phi Delta Theta < 123

Pit Mar (et alpha endre): Denis Ahram, Lind Ahlines, Andrea Anthein, Margan Aravell, Karen Balen, Bah Bahe, Cayn Bayn, Lynne Breiber, Lanne Carnen, Woold Cornel, Elio Di Chorgerin, Michel Breing, May Ganer, Tammi Gan, Dan-Herry, Arici Janewa, Mini Xaleida, Untere Kamer, Minai Luchana, Lafet Larger, Janitie Larrener, Taman Wahan, Kinhely Michell, Tamp Wawood, Kifu Ann O'Bangloney, Lanz Martin, Carna San, Panda Shamar, Wardy Shidmer, Kim Vermetre, Sara Waldon, Laure Walter

Phi Mu: Rose and White

Phi Mu is the way to go. That's what Missy Lachman, Laura Walker, and Beth Basler will tell you!

Proud to wear her letters, Amy Vodraska attends a senior class meeting.

Phi Mus always have fun. This group participates in the gong show.

At the football games, the Bachelors support their brothers on the team.

The Bachelors really know how to throw a party!

Alumni return for football games. Matt Brown, Rob Welch, Jackson Taylor, Matt Zeyher, Pat Stokes, and Paul "Gooch" Gaccione get together.

Alpha Gamma Tau: The Bachelors

H all parties, road trippin', the Christmas spectacular, sports-Intramural football (champs) undefeated, unscored upon ... have some! New nORKS, TDM, The Big Nite Out Party! Sheetz, Champs! Brotherhood always - they kis it... we kick it!

As the brothers remember it, 1990-1991.

Best of luck to the graduating bros: Smokestack, Lo-Rock, Monkey, Kool, Chill-out, Whitie, Goocher, GL, Vozz, Jay Bo, Nude Rock, Frank Ski, Carl, Beefer, Easy K, Ewok, Drago, and Bobolla!

Alpha Gomma Tau (in alpha code): Dave Rames, Man Bair, Man Boney, Tim Bour, Chris Campell, Ron Clandak, Man Clandar, Mal Dewles, Ken Founs, Brian Feirs, Scott Fringer, Jos Furani, John Furyk, Paul Garcione, Mal-Humaner, Mat Hefffer, Dave Ferrarg, Cank Hapelbens, Sont Keney, Phil Key, Paul Lamas, Greg Long, Frank Mannu, Jaon McGrathy, Tany Meirnner, Kent Berne, Charles Rember, Madrew Richard, Maite Saha, Dana Scannell, David Shah, Sante Wagh, Man Zeyher

Phi Mu/Alpha Gamma Tau 🚽 125

At the Bete formal, friends Tony Rosas and Stephanie Grau smile for the cam-

Gamma Beta Chi (in alpha. order): Mike Accardi, Andy Dripp, Tom Fullem, Mark Gedney, Robert Grothmann, Chris MacDonald, Pete McEvoy, Todd Mekulski, Chris Place, Hap Purcell, Tony Rosas, Todd Sabin, Dave Wessel

Gamma Beta Chi: Proudly Local

Ņ

Mark Gedney and Todd Sabin are in serious conversation.

This crowd will toast to anything. The Betes and the Phi Alphs are often seen together.

Dressed to kill, Melissa Manuel, Colleen O'Keefe, Christie Van Vranken, Amanda Hagan, Carrie Arbaugh, Katie Dunn, Liz Sullivan, and Kerry Meyers at their formal.

Get off Phi Alph pledges! Shannon Smith, Kris Stephan, Carrie Anderson, Elisabeth Fuhrmann, Mindy Hastings, Nikki Schmalzer, Christie Baur, and Carrie Ward know that pledging Phi Alph is the best!

Phi Alpha Mu (in alpha. order): Carrie Anderson, Carrie Arbaugh, Christie Baur, Meleah Becker, Lauren Brumbach, Jamie Bugg, Rebecca Caves, Lamb Coffey, Kate Covell, Shannon Dahoney, Laura Daum, Michelle Dayot, Adrienne Dorn, Nancy Flowers, Lisa Franklin, Elisabeth Fuhrmann, Judith Goldstein, Paige Grabus, Stephanie Grau, Amanda Hagan, Melinda Hastings, Mary Kahoe, Megan Kane, Lisa LaVina, Robin Lang, Helen Lowe, Laurie Lutche, Melissa Manuel, Julie McCarthy, Elizabeth Nichols, Jenn O'Hara, Colleen O'Keefe, Christine Piech, Abby Potter, Jackie Potts, Nikki Schmalzer, Leslie Shimkus, Shannon Smith, Kris Stephan, Sarah Strickland, Karen Sullivan, Diana Truscott, Carrie Ward, Emily Weber

Phi Alpha Mu: The Purple Cow

hi Alpha Mu, founded in 1924 and recognized by Western Maryland in 1926, is the oldest sorority on the hill. In 1941, we adopted the purple cow as our mascot and Gamma Beta Chi as our brother fraternity. We have remained local all these years because we are proud of our tradition and enjoy being the only Phi Alpha Mu sorority in the United States with purple and white for our colors.

Our sorority has grown extensively since the fall, with 22 new sisters. The fall and spring were the largest pledge classes.

We have done a few service projects this year. Periodically,

We have remained local all these years because we are proud of our tradition

we have visited the Carroll Lutheran Village to brighten peoples' days. A few people went downtown to work in a soupkitchen, wrote letters to the men and women who served us in the Gulf, and addressed letters for Meals on Wheels. We also participated in many IGC service projects.

We have also completed many fundraisers for our sorority. Over the course of the year, we had the Dating Game, Lip Sync, a 50/50 raffle, and sold Desert Storm t-shirts. At Spring Fling we had a gumball guess.

As a result of our successful fundraisers, we were able to have our formal at the top of the world trade center with The Loft performing. We also had a spring alumni luncheon at Champs that was a big success and prompted the return of many alumni.

Phi Alpha Mu has done well this year and we wish continued success in the future.

Lauren A. Brumbach

Delta Upsilon

Delta Upsilon: Colonization

DU brothers are serious guys. Don't mess with these four!

Nunce Jerogu

At Spring Fling, Fred Duncan spins the wheel.

Inter-Greek Council: Dave Kleb, Julie McCarthy, Charlie Rembert, Coleman Stump, Frank Mantua not pictured: Erin DiGregorio, Rich Edwards, Walt Eife, Paul Gaccione, Mark Gedney, Jim Jakub, Helen Lowe, Pete McEvoy, Diana Palmer, Laura Perugini, Holly Phipps, Elise Rosen, Eric Thoman, Molly Wannamaker, Cynthia Zeiher

on ceremony. Mike

Pan Hellenic Council: Laura Walker, Nancy Flowers, Lisa Allwine, Chervl Dishon, Diana Truscott, Maija Strenger. Not pictured: Jen Lee, Cindy Zeiher, Tina Fleming

The Greek System: A Way of Life

he greek societies were very active this year. Many of the organizations provided services to the community and added a lot to campus life. The Phi Delts helped relocate the Westminster High School baseball diamond. The Omegas packed boxed of donations for troops stationed overseas as part of the "Memories on the Line" event of WTTR and Cranberry Mall. A US serviceman thanked the sorority publicly on WGAL television. The Bachelors helped senior citizens with raking and household chores last fall.

A number of the fraternities and sororities received special commendations and recognitions. Phi Sigma Sigma received the Division Achievement award during the 1990 convention. This award recognizes the higher education of women and philanthropic service. Delta Upsilon achieved the requirements to become a recognized fraternity on campus. The colony will have two years to meet the requirements to receive its national charter.

Many of the organizations provided services to the community and added a lot to campus life.

CAPBoard executive officers Judy Gibson, Alisa Rock, and Jen Johnson encourage freshmen to join in the fun of their organization.

Selling boxers, Trevor Wysong, James Martin, and Alisa Rock spend the afternoon in the sun at Spring Fling.

CAPBoard: Sharon Landis, Alisa Rock, Judy Gibson, Julie Simmons, Scott Tinney, Nona Green, Leslie Langer, Michelle Kloss, Carolyn Moller, Jenn Scott, Brends Dorsch, Jennifer Johnson, Lisa Rossignol, Guido Stubenrauch, Melanie D'Amore, Melanie Tull, Amy Vodraska

Casino night was a hit! Mel D'Amore is in training for Atlantic City!

CAPBoard sponsored this magician last fall. They brought a number of comedians, bands, and DJs, as well.

CAPBoard: A Smorgasbord

APBoard's 1990-91 year was a very exciting and successful one. A smorgasbord of innovative programs along with many old favorites provided a vast array of entertainment for our WMC community.

The Mainstage committee chaired by Sharon Landis, sponsored the ever popular Casino Night, hilarious comedian Rondell Sheridan, and a serumptious craft best, in addition to a variety of other musical and comedy events. Second Stage, led by Julie Simmons, kept the Pub alive and kicking on Thuraday nights with crowd-pleasing comedians and musical acts including popular displays of student talent: "J.T. and Mike," Steve Green, Jeremy Verne, and Mary O'Connor. Ghon, Perty Woman, The Linke Mernaid, and The Rody Horrow Ghost, Pretty Woman, The Little Mermaid, and The Rocky Horror Picture Show were among the multitude of popular box office smashes sponsored by the Films Committee ...

Picture Show were among the multitude of popular box offices mashes sponsored by the Films Committee under the leadership of Jen Johnson. Performing Arts, led by John Sullivan, continued its week with the Yale Gordon. Series this year and sponsored additional shows including an existing "All Four Furd" desert theater. Hallowen Spirit Week was a great success under the direction of Julie Cohen and the Special Events Committee, providing a week of jampacked activities including a shortire, costume party, and a ghoststory teller. Spring Fing, held on April 27 in the quad, was an unforgettable day for all with carrival games, novely artists Steve Trash, and acapella group "JQ, and the Bandits" among many other entertainment delights. The Promotions Committee, led by Alisa Rock and Jtermy Verne, kept these CAPBOard events in the hearts and minds of all through their avesome promotional banners and flyers.

Recognition also goes to President Scott Tinney, Vice-President, activing President Judy Gibson, Treasurer Michelle Kloss, Sceretaries Rick Wagman and Carolyn Moller, as well as to the CAPBoard advisers Cindy Zeiher and Mitch Alexander for their outstanding commitment to CAPBoard this year.

Special thanks goes out to all of the hard-working CAPBoard committee members and others who helped to make this year such a great success!!

Contributed by Carolyn Moller and Jen Johnson

Contrast: Tracie Boggess, Christy Wasko, Kendra Harbaugh, Blue Taylor, Lia Jenkins, Beth Clark, Joyce Resetar, Erick Sjoblom, Rebecca Kane, Dawn Barnhart, Angela Tremain

Phoenix: Jen Scott, Julie Baile, Mich-elle Kloss, Trevor Wysong, Mike Ku-backi, J.J. Boggs, Dino Franges not pic-tured: editor Andrea Covington, Pat Blackman

Communication Club: Amy Vodraska, Bonnie Grady, Todd Robinson, Rock Reiser, Chris Covell, Mark Mills

The Communication Club sponsored the visit of stylist Debbie Green. Here, she shows how television makeup is applied. Rochere Whitaker was chosen to receive the television makeover.

Yearbook photographer Mike Jekogian sets up to take the dreaded organizations group photos.

WMCR: Emily Oland, Amy Pelsinsky, Erik Siano, Matt Levy, Corbett Logan, Janet Fenhagen, Kevin Wolters, Mike Rice, Chris Boyd, Chris Cutler, Barry Hooporgardner, Rebeca Kane, Steve Missar, Chris Corillo, Jen Dianey, Skip Squires, Ed Rigling, Mark Mills

Providing entertainment is his life. General station manager Matt Levy DJs for the fall activities fair.

Keeping the log is important at WMCR. DJs like Barry Hoopengardner keep track of the records or CDs they play.

In the booth! Many of the DJs get so into the music, it's impossible to disturb them!

WMCR: Air Waves

ith its new studio across from the dining hall in Decker Center, WMCR continued its upward movement within the WMC community. Its fourth year on the radio airwaves saw the station flourish with an increase of listeners, requests, and context winners.

The 1990-91 school year was also the first full year of cable braodcasting for WMCR. You could hear the radio station on WMC's cable station, channel 3. Under General Manager Matt

... a staff of over 40 students entertained and informed the Hill with music, talk shows, news, sports, and weather.

Levy, a staff of over 40 students entertained and informed the Hill with music, talk shows, news, sports, and weather.

With Levy, the last link to the first days of WMCR, graduating, Dave Miller assumes the role of general manager. New, exciting ideas are being planned, as WMCR will open up its music format and hopes to become a bigger part of Western Maryland College.

Members of the Eccumenical Chapel Committee represent religious life oncampus.

Mike Joigun Srudent Government: Andrea Covington (Treas.), Cubbie Dahl (V.P.), Greg Cherundolo (Pres.), Jackie Fignar, John Micka, Chrisis Cina, Chery Dishon no tricured: Skip Tyson, Tina Fleming (Sec.), Andrew Yates, Ben Kling, Chris Place, Scott Tinney

German Club and Foreign Language honor society member, J.J. Boggs, sells nachos to Sheri Martin at Spring Fling. Eccumenical Chapel Committee: Laura Lee Wilson (advisor), Jennifer Johnson, Brenda Dorsch, Kendra Harbaugh

Le Circle Frances: Dianne Byerly, Kim Knight, Lisa Rossigno, Carole Sygroves, Melissa Williams, Jenny Smith, Patricia Duffy

German Club: Tessa Dominick, Mark Ryan, Herr Butner, Renata Donoso, JJ Boggs, Johan Kressler, Dirk Visser, Malin Johsson

Political Action Coalition: Tammy Powers, Amy Pelsinsky, Jenny Smith, Cindi Bair, Karen Downs, Sean Vis, Ed Jacod, Tony Petroccia, Terry Gish, Niccolo Amodeo, Brett Cohen, Tom Quirk, Matt Wanniski, Kevin Richardson, Rebecca Kane, Anthony Hightower

SEAC member Dave Britt encourages others to express their concern for the environment by joining the campus group.

Matt Cancelmo considers buying an ev-nironmental t-shirt to support SEAC.

Outside Glar, Abbi Wicklein and Tom Ryan sell t-shirts to benefit the Student Environmental Action Coalition.

Vin

RIS

Love your mother earth. Students put up a sign saying "Leave these trees alone ... " when construction began behind MacLea.

SEAC: Recycling

I an attempt to make Earth Day every day, the Student newironmental Action Coalition has worked hard to promot awareness of the earth's environmental problems. Several times this year, members ast in front of Glar selling wildlife tshirts or asking fellow students to white to their congressmen to support certain legislation that would preserve the earth or its animals. In addition, the major project of SEAC this year has been to implement a campus-wide recycling program for aluminum, paper, glass and plastic.

On December 1, the first phase of the program was officially underway. All administrative and academic offices have recycling bins for office paper. Red metal drums were placed all over campus for soda (aluminum) cans. Special rane could be requested by student organizations who wanted to make money recycling. SEAC also collected glass and plastic behind Harrison House and handled the emptying of these bins. Next September, the college will have another recycling bin for amber and clear glass and plastic. Members of SEAC encouraged recycling by dressing a various pieces of trash and as "Captain Recycle" and visiting campus offices to inform people about recycling. SEAC also published a recycling guide in cooperation with the Advisory Committee on Environmental Matters.

... the major project of SEAC this year has been to implement a campuswide recycling program for aluminum, paper, glass, and plastic.

SEAC got local kids involved, as well. They aponsered a potter contart for students from two local elementary schools. to's entries were received from third and sixth graders, and were on diaplay in Decker Center. The posters were creative and held effective messages about the environment. Amazingly, these children knew much more about protecting and preserving the environment than many adults know!

Undergraduate Relations Committee: Scott Tinney, Corbett Logan, Melanie D'Amore, Guido Stubenrauch, Michelle Kloss, Brian Haight, Janet Alcorn, Melanie Tull, Jennifer Cormeny, Nona Green

Spring Fling is a great time to buy a kite. Nontrad Mike Marceau will tell you so!

Nontraditional Student Organization

Black Student Union

rtha Shaver

In the Homecoming parade, the BSU uses recyclable items to show their pride in their history.

The Black Student Union was busy at Spring Fling. Joslyn Martin, Jennifer Cormeny, and Kevin Richardson serve peppylemons and popcorn.

Bell Choir members Laura Balakir and Laura Cleveland chat with their conductor, Lynwood, at an activities fair.

Mer Jagen Jeze Euromble: Chris Volpe, Phil Lathroum, Tyler Geiman, Andr Gourts, Andr Mills, Bo Eckard, Herb Reisig, Jason Chapple, Monte Leister, Andr Brown, Berndan Benner, Tony Frequen, Mark Bouver, Eric Byrd, Bob Pick, Abbi Wicklein, Anthony Hightower

Bo Eckard conducts several musical groups including the Jazz Ensemble.

Musical performances take concentration. Deanna Dailey counts to herself.

Music: Just a Note

A number of musical groups and musical events covered WMC Weeklies all year long. Music students, professors, and professionals all played a part in bringing the sound of music to the hill.

Chamber Music on the Hill was a new concert series this year held by the Carroll County Arts Council and WMC. Renaissance music was just one of the types of concerts in the series. A fourhand piano concert by Dr. David Kreider, professor, and Arlene Heggemeier, professor emeritus, was performed in April, as well.

Many student groups practiced and performed at the end of the senseter. This spring there was an instrumental chamber concert, a student voice recital, a student piano recital, a college choir concert, a madrigals concert, a concert band performance, and a bell choir concert. In addition, the annual Jazz Night was once again a success. The performance in the Forum featured Bo Eckard conducting and Eric Word on the keyboard, as well as a number of other outstanding musicians. Each of these events was free and open to the public. Music on the hill was better than ever before.

Many student groups practiced and performed at the end of the semester.

Representing the Ranger Platoon at WMC, Matt Ballard and Steve Harlan are dressed in uniform to answer questions.

From pink lions to sisterbood, Phi Mu has it all. Alison Quigley and Laura Perugini let the freshmen know what a sorority is all about.

Campus affiliates of the community organization, Target, are Tracy Snyder, Kelly Taggart, and Val Shearer.

Kathleen Hatche

One of the most active groups on cam-pus, CAPBoard, has lots of room for interested people. Julie Simmons and Jen Johnson say "Join in!"

At the fall activities fair, Dirk Visser represents the German Club

All's Fair At WMC

Oparking interest was the purpose of the several activities fairs held this year. With so many organizations worth joining, it is so difficult to decide what to put time into. Anything you can find out about the responsibilities and activities of an organization and about the people involved can help you make a decision.

An annual freshmen activities fair was held in September. It is a good opportunity for incoming freshmen to make contacts and express an interest in particular organizations. Some of the groups represented at the fair were CAPBoard, WMCR, each fraternity and sorority, and the Student Environmental Action Coalition. Most groups posted information about their first meetings and had sign up sheets for interested students. Many displayed photos, gave out promotional trinkets, and had information sheets or pamphlets to encourage students to join. Free popcorn and soda were provided by College Activities.

It is a good opportunity for incoming freshman to express an interest in particular organizations.

In the spring, the admission office planned a special introduction day for prospective students. All accepted to the freshman class entering in fall 1991 were invited. An activities fair was just one of the scheduled events. Prospective freshmen were able to be exposed to many of the organizations before even coming to school in the fall. Some signed up to receive more information, and some just browsed and asked a few questions.

The activities fairs held this year were a great chance for students to find out more about campus life at WMC. They were also a lot of fun for everyone.

There was plenty of enthusiasm on the playing fields and in the gyms this year. The 1990-91 seasons were full of ups and downs as teams strived to overcome the opponents. Unfortunately, it often came down to the last few minutes of the game when we needed to score that last, BREAKING POINT.

We played against difficult teams this year, but no matter what the score, we always came in first. The effort that the athletes put into practice and games was rewarded with undving fans, newly cultivated friendships, and team spirit. Several hours a day is a lot of time to put into one activity, but many WMC students possess the dedication to make the time. More than one of these students have been rewarded for their efforts. Tracy Snyder was recognized as the recipient of three athletic activity awards at the Honors Convocation. Andy Steckel received the honor of Sports Illustrated Small College Football Player of the Week. Rob Newman qualified to compete at the National Swimming Championships. A number of other honors and awards were received throughout the year by many hardworking athletes. All of our athletes are winners! Way to go!

Spirit is high! This year's football season sure was something for the sidelines, and everyone else, to cheer about.

Bouncing Back

After winning just seven games in the 1984 through 1989 seasons, the 1990 WMC football team nearly equaled that total and earned renewed respectability for the program by posting a 6-3-1 record.

The Green Terrors, picked to finish sixth in the eight-team Centennial Football Conference (CFC) in the pre-season coaches' poll, came within one win of capturing the school's first football title in 27 years. WMC held the leads for three weeks before of nemesis Johns Hopkins upended the Green Terrors 31-21 in the season's final game to allow Dickinson to capture its third straight CFC title.

Much of the turnaround from 1989's 2-8 season can be attributed to the improved play of the Green Terror defense, which allowed 160 fewer points than the previous year's unit. Senior defensive and Dary Hesinger, sophomore correrback Mike Robinson and junior linebacker Jim Webster were named to the CFC honorable- mention saud.

The WMC offense broke six single-season school records that were set by last season's team, including total yards with 3,803. Individually, over 20 single-season or career marks were topped by members of the offense.

Junior failback Eric Frees became the Green Terrors' career leader in rushing yards (3,736), attempts (775), rushing touchdowns (30), total touchdowns (32) and total points (200), atter exploding for 1,594 yards and 12 touchdowns in 1990. He was jolned in the record book by junior wide receiver Andy Steckel, the new receiving yards (1,472) and touchdown catches (16) leader, and senior quarterback Mike Hamm, who is not first on WMC's career passing completions (270), attempts (633) and yards (3,962) lists.

Frees and Steckel were joined by senior tackle Chris Campbell on the CFC drist-team offense, and sophomore wingback Rob Johnson and senior center Ben King earned honorable-mention status. For Frees, it was his second consecutive conference All-star recognition.

Contributed by Scott Deitch

Proceeding with quickness and caution, Rob Johnson makes a break.

Eric Frees looks for an opportunity to sneak across the goalline.

James Martin escapes the clutches of the defense and heads for the endzone.

148 Sports

A few words of wisdom are relayed by Coach Sprague to the Captain Mike Hamm.

STATISTICS

28

Albright	45
GETTYSBURG	25
Ursinus	28
MUHLENBERG	14
Randolph-Macon	14
DICKINSON	14
Frank, & Marsh.	24
LEB. VALLEY	30
SWARTHMORE	15
Johns Hopkins	21-

"The season was fulfiling because we will be remembered as the team that turned the WMC football program around." — James Martin

Bottom row (from left); Billy Stevens, Chris Kane, Ben Kling, Skip Tyson, Pat Duncan, Eric Wilson, Adam Plummer, Daryl Reisinger (Captain), Mke Hamm (Captain); Danny Moore (Captain), Sean Dunn, John Cionfolo, Keth Smith, Chris Campbel

2nd Row: John Pasquarello, Ed Kauffman, Buck Hartzell, Glenn Johnson, Samuel Spriggs, Robert Kenlaw, Marvin Lohr, Shoem Spencer, Steve Clark, Jeff Lawn, Keith Abel, Todd Wargo, Todd Baraczek, Damon Lewis, Tim Smith, Mike Fair

3rd Bow: Matt Sprague (Manager), Charle Clayton Jr., Pat Macako, Rich Tedesco, Gary Carter, Eric Frees, Marc Napolitano, Charles Carter, Schollen and Schuler, Stan Michael, Pat Banner, Tevor Seler, Greg Roycott, Harrison Dunne, Kem Williams, Mike Wheeler, Robert Rimmel

4th Row: Sherri Smith (Student Trainer), Missy Lochman (Student Trainer), Almee Bergonia (Student Trainer), John Hargett, Mice Robinson, Fred Ademan, Kuit Reisenweber, Dirk Hrobsky, Tom Perrusso, Jeff Roberts, Terry Dougherty, Jim Webster, Tim Fransier, Andy Steckel, Seth Obetz, Graham Holt, Mike Wright, Paul Piccherti, James Martin, Scott Betson, Todd Leskoski

Back Row: Jeff Knarf, Brad Stickler (Shudent Trainer), Mile Sherlock (Shudent Trainer), Chuck Hammandi (Shudent Trainer), Grega Nibelinik (Abad Trainer), Date Sprague (Head Coach), Sort Frair (Ast. Coach), Sean Murphy (Ast. Coach), Steve Sathers (Ast. Coach), Dave Seibert (Ast. Coach), Kara Gregg (Manoger), Chalten Morizzari (Shudent Trainer), Rob Parterson (Shudent Trainer), Kes Shuampte (Ast. Trainer) Massing: Players Chills Brown and Roardo Washington, Assistant Coaches Andy Bowers and Bo Hickey. Managers Anitely Scattergood and Stacy Stauffer

Mike Hamm hands-off to Mike Wheeler who looks for an opening in the line.

Sticking Together

3-3-3-1-goalie? New coach? New assistant coach? What is this? Ch... ch... ch... changes! All of which we handled as well as could be expected. It all started off with a two-week camp which was quite a bit of work, but FUN, tool We played superbly against Essex in our first and only scrimmage. Battling the heat (at least 93 degrees!), the Terrors kept plugging away.

It was definitely an up-and-down scoring season. Ending with a 6-5-2 record, "we made it through the rain" and a couple of injuries. Our top scorers, Jodi Livingston (with 8 goals) and Dina Comuzzi (with 6 goals) will both be back next year. The team was blessed not only with great scorers but with two fantastic goalies. Freshman Sherry Albright had a successful first season with 87 saves.

The field hockey team would like to thank all WMC sports fans for coming out and cheering us on. The seniors wish the team good luck next year. Go get 'em! B-E-A-U-T-I-F-U-L!!

Contributed by Tracy Snyder

Once again, Lynn Kirsche makes a clean sweep.

Jodi Livingston works to hold onto the ball while Dina Mostow looks on with anticipation.

Denise Fleck looks determined to intercept a drive as her teammates back her up.

Elizabeth Nidecker is one step ahead as she attempts to steal the ball from her opponent.

STATISTICS

at Mount St. Mary's	1-0
JUNIATA	2-3
at York, Pa.	0-0
FRANK & MARSH.	1-0
at Susquehanna	3-3
FROSTBURG STATE	2-0
at Gettysburg	0-2
at Notre Dame, Md.	3-1
at John Hopkins	0-2
at Elizabethtown	0-6
DICKINSON	2-1
GOUCHER	3-2
WASHINGTON, Md.	1-2

 "The combination of a new coach and a strong senior class, co-captains Lynn Kirsche, Tracy Snyder, Karen Albright, and Denise Fleck, helped lead the 1990 field hockey team to a successful season." — Karen Albright

Bottom RowBarb Wolf (Asst: Coach), Nicole Jordan, Jenniter Justh, Bianca Infante, Tessa Dominick, Lynn Krische, Tracey Snyder, Stephanie Grau, Eizabeth Longenecker, Tracy Baynard, Sherry, Abright, Susan Sandonato (Head Coach), Second Row Chuck (Manager), Sarah Williams, Karen Abright, Dense Fleck, Jodi Livingston, Dina Comuzzi, Dana Mastow, Susan Parker, Melisa Nelsa Nelson, Lori Sweitzer, Victoria Alexander

It's anyone's ball and Elizabeth Longenecker wants it for the Terrors. Brian Redding looks full of confidence as he goes two on one.

On the Rise

The 1990 men's soccer team was able to accomplish what no team in five years could $\omega - a$ winning season. The Green Terrors hit their best start in twelve years, finishing 9-8-1 overall. With only three seniors, this young team faced the challenges of inexperience and a very tough schedule.

Offensively, sophomore Ron Chesney led the team with 21 points, followed by sophomore Brian Redding with 15 points, and freshman Scott Schoberg with 14 points. Defensively, the Green Terrors were solid with help from cocaptains Cartlon Cayward and Pat Colbert. In the goal, Juniors Jim Franssco and Nick Vasil combined for 104 saves while only allowing 34 goals. The main highlight of the season was capturing first place in the Green Terror Classic with convincing wins over Goucher and California University of PA.

With high expectations for the coming years, the men's soccer team saw this year as one of rebuilding, but none-the-less they proved that W.M.C. soccer was a team to be proud of.

Contributed by Ron Chesney

It's a high stepping game for John Bleckley as he sets the ball sailing.

152 Sports

He's at it again —- Brian Redding makes another play for the ball.

STATISTICS

GOUCHER	7-2
CALIFORNIA, Pa.	2-1
URSINUS	0-1
MORAVIAN	0-1
SHEPHERD	2-1
at Lebanon Valley	1-0
at Gettysburg	0-1
at Messiah	0-4
at Ssusquehanna	6-0
at Mt. St. Mary's, Md.	3-6
WASHINGTON, Md.	1-0
at Muhlenberg	0-9
JOHNS HOPKINS	1-3
ST. MARY'S	2-1
at Salisbury State	2-1
at Dickinson	2-2
at York, Pa.	5-2
FRANK. & MARSH.	0-1

OVERALL 9-8-1

"We've come a long way since my freshman year. I think we'll continue to make great strides in the future." — Carlton Cayward

Softom Row (from left) Matt Robinson (Head Coach), John Bleckly, Drew Reddell, Calin Tighe, Nick Vasil, Jim Francisco, Albert Burker, Eric Resh, Ronald Chesney, Denny Snyder (Ast. Coach), Second Row Brion Redding, Franco Fisnen, Ken Regiel, Chris Lynch, T.J. Longelo, Lan Sustram, Scott Schoberg, Todd Knelinger, James Pornfert. Tinid Row Joe Stofta, Robert Magee, J.J. Tinney, Keith Purcaro, Cartlon Cayward. Pd Cobert, Wie Lonony, Chris Malehom

It's one on one as Dan Sussman takes great strides to fight for the ball.

Kristine Leonard congratulates her teammate for bringing the Terrors closer to victory.

High Goals

The 1990 women's soccer team finished their fourth varsity season. With a small roster and several injuries, the Terrors fought their way through the season with determination often only able to put ten players on the field. Led by co-captains, senior Bonnie Grauch and junior Amye Walker, the team showed versatility as all the players were asked to play a variety of positions. The only player who consistently stayed in the same position was the goal-keeper, Claudia Henemyre, who anchored the Terror defense. Jen Gordan led the midfield players and Bonnie Grauch was one of the top offensive players. Losing only two players to graduation, the women's soccer team is looking forward to a strong, experienced squad for next season.

Contributed by Bonnie Grauch

It's a fight to the finish as Bonnie Grauch struggles to keep her opponent from the ball.

Renee Lemire shows true determination in her drive toward the goal.

Team effort is the key for the terrors in defending the goal.

MDBALTIMORE CO.	1
FRANK. & MARSH.	0
NOTRE DAME, Md.	2.
at Messiah	0-
at Johns Hopkins Club	6.
SWARTHMORE	2.
at Elizabethtown	1.
at Goucher	2-
GETTYSBURG	0-
DICKINSON	2.
CATHOLIC	1-
at Marymount	0-
at St. Mary's, Md.	1-
OVERALL 5-7-1

"Overall we had a good season. We had some setbacks with injuries but the team really pulled together and played through them." - Amy Walker

Bottom Row (from left) Sarah Kephart, Jennifer Gordon, Cindy Tokar, Amye Walker, Bonnie Grauch, Kristine Leonard, Renee Lemire, Marie Spano. Second Row Claudia Henemyre, Cathy Hensley (Manager), Heather Hyland, Shannon Ruddle, Debbie Shockley, Kirsten Borgeson, Eleanor Lydecker, Jenny Flynn (Head Coach), George Oursler (Asst. Coach)

Nothing can stop her now, it's just Amy Walker and the ball.

The Terrors' star runner, Kendra Weible, makes another great finish.

"And they're off!"

After three miles, Guido Stubenrauch is still going strong.

Fast Act

The 1990 men's and women's cross-country teams entered the season with high expectations. The men's team, led by junior co- captains Joe Embrey and Guido Stubenrauch, had a top 10 team finish in the MAC's as a goal, but injuries and inconsistency resulted in a 17th place finish. Sophomores Derek Johnston and Bob Kirkendall had excellent seasons and expect similar success next year. Freshman Dave Radosevich and junior Andrew Krevolin also scored points for the Green Terrors. Future success Iooms as the men's team returns its top seven runners in 1994.

The women's team was led by sophomore Kendra Weible, who placed 11th out of 121 runners in the MAC race. The team finished 15th at the MAC meet. Sophomore captains Kourtnay Sweeney and Shannon Franklin, along with sophomore Dianne Byerly and freshman Kirsten Stockel all contributed to the women's successful season. The entire women's team will be returning next year and optimism is high.

Contributed by Andrew Krevolin

The race has just begun for this young team of runners.

Kirsten Stockel fights hard in her strive for the finish-line.

STATISTICS

MEN		WOMEN
2nd of 7	Essex C.C. Inv.	2nd of 7
23-32 W	Drew	19-38 W
39-32 L	Dickinson	49-15 L
4th of 8	Howard C.C. Exp. Inv.	1st of 7
50-15 L	Catholic	43-17 L
50-15 L	Gettysburg	44-15 L
50-15 L	Loyola	21-34 W
7th of 12	Dickinson Inv.	7th of 13
49-15 L	Elizabethtown	50-15 L
50-15 L	John Hopkins	50-15 L
2nd of 8	WMC INV.	2nd of 7
23-33 W	LOYOLA	15-50 W
18-40 W	SHEPHERD	15-50 W
35-12 L	LEBANON VAL.	15-50 W
17th of 23	MAC Championships	16th of 21

I-8 O

From left Kirsten Stockel, Kendra Weible, Kourtnay Sweeney, Dianne Byerly, Shannon Franklin

"Running has proven to me the true power of the mind. If one is truly confident and believes in achieving their goals — no obstacles or barriers make any difference. What lies in your heart and mind somehow sends that strength to your legs." -Kendra Weible

Bottom row (from left) Joe Embrey, Dave Radosevich, Guido Stubenrauch, Bill Dolbow. Second row Andrew Krevolin, Bill Dolbow, Derek Johnston, Marshall Eidenberg, Steve Harlan

Incredible Season

The Green Terrors had another remarkable season compiling a record of 33-9, with an undefeated home record of 13-0 to stretch their overall home winning streak to 22. The core of the team came from the three seniors and tricaptains, Diane Palmer, Kim St.Clair, and Alice Smith. These three seniors led the way for the Terrors all season with Dinan, middle/Joutside hitter, at the top of the stats with 380 kills, 409 digs, and 12 solo blocks, while making the MAC and All-South Region aces and Alice, setter, had a hitting rate of 29%, 285 digs, and 60 service aces. The rest of the team consisted of nine underclassmen.

The most exciting match of the season came at Gettysburg for the MAC-Southwest Section championshp. The tension was not only on the floor, but also in the stands, causing one of the team's followers to be removed from the gym. The final scores were 15-12, 17-15, 6-15, and 15-12, giving the Terrors their second straight section title. The next time the two teams met was in the MAC semifinals, where WMC crushed G-burg 15-10, 12-4, 15-8, giving their opponents no mercy. The Green Terrors then advanced to the finals losing in four games to Juniata. The team will remember the incredible season and accomplishments of the 1990 volleyball team under the new coach, Jolene Jordan, and assistants, Kathy Little and Sara Hallburg. Watch out track team, here comes the V-Ball team in competition! Just one last time, WMC V-Ball team 1 2 3 YAWPI

Contributed by Alice Smith

All is set, as the ball is put into the air by Alice Smith.

It's a long stretch for Alice Smith — who is ready to block the ball.

Coach Jordan gives a few pointers as the team looks on intently.

Bottom Row (from left) Jolene Jordan (Head Coach), Mariyn Naas, Denise Lim, Julie Rife, Alexandra Osinki, Kim Jackson, Sara Halberg (Ast. Coach), Kathy Little (Ast. Coach), Second Row Sandra Holez, Third Row Dawn Pickett, Fourth Row Jennifer Staub, Kim St. Clair, Heather Wakefield, Ales Pinth, Dang Palmar

GOUCHER	3-0
Scranton	2-1
Lebanon Valley	2-0
Lycoming	2-0
Roanoke	2-0
at Susquehanna	2-0
JOHNS HOPKINS	3-0
at York (Pa.)	3-0
DICKINSON	3-1
at Mary Washington	1-2
Salisbury State	0-2
Kean	2-0
Eastern Mennonite	0-2
at Catholic	2-0
Notre Dame (Md.)	2-0
FRANK. & MARSH.	3-0
at Elizabethtown	3-2
Grove City	2-0
Bridgewater	2-0
Allentown	2-0
at Juniata	1-2
at Juniata	1-2
at Susquehanna	3-1
WASHINGTON (Md.)	3-0
Eastern Mennonite	1-2
Greensboro	0-2
Catholic	2-0
LEBANON VALLEY	3-0
CARNEGIE-MELLON	2-0
METHODIST	2-0
MORAVIAN	2-1
DICKINSON	2-0
BRIDGEWATER	2-1
MESSIAH	3-0
at Gettysburg	3-1
at Gallaudet	3-0
MORAVIAN (MAC Quarterfinals
Gettysburg (MAC Semifinals)	3-0
at Juniata (MAC Finals)	1-3

OVERALL 33-8

Jennifer Staub keeps the ball in play setting it to Diana Palmer. "We had a good season, even though we had a new coach and a harder training program. We had to pull together." — Kim St. Clair

``Oh Yeah!''

Upon hearing the theme song "Oh Yeah," one may reflect spending the afternoon tailgating at a W.M.C. football game during the halftime show. The pom squad walked out onto the field and performed the routine that they prepared for the spectators. The 1990-91 Pom-Pon squad was led this year by senior captains Holly Phipps and Danielle Trent. The captains were in charge of choreographing routines for the halftime show at all home football games. Practices usually ran an hour and a half to two hours a day for about two weeks before a performance; thus, the members were very busy during the football season since each home game was every other week. The squad also performs in the Homecoming Parade each year. This year's parade was especially memorable for all the participants in the march down Main Street because of the unexpected downpour at the beginning of their journey! Linda Coons, the advisor, is the gerobic instructor for the Physical Education Department at W.M.C., and was helpful to Danielle and Holly in determining the new members of the squad. With eight graduating seniors, the squad will be eagerly awaiting new members next fall!

Contributed by Danielle Trent

Bottom Row (I-r) — Danielle Trent, Holly Phipps; Second Row — Tamitha Moore, Christine Piech, Kris Stephan;

Back Row — Wendy Skidmore, Gaywood Cornell, Katie Ruppenthal;

Not Pictured — Lisa Allwine, Kristin Branthover, Jamie Bugg, Stephanie Hosier, Christine Pieper, Leslie Shimkus. Michelle demonstrates that terror spirit — Go Gieleni

The Poms underwent a real soaking as they strutted their stuff up Main Street.

WMC cheerleaders display their enthusiasm and talent at the start of a football game.

Around they go - Poms take the field at halftime.

"Although we had a smaller squad than last year, we worked a lot harder and I think we improved. It wasn't all hard work though — we had a lot of fun too!" — Wendy Bollinger

 Kneeling (I-r)
 Wendy Bollinger, Michelle Gielen (captain);

 Standing (I-r)
 Laura John, Randi DeFino, Karen Lifishin;

 Not Pictured Rochere Whitacre.

Everyone Yell

The WMC 1990-91 cheerleading season includes football and basketball games. The cheerleaders strive to build enthusiasm among the fans and to instill that winning spirit into the teams. Unfortunately, the squad was small. The coach, Michelle Moses, looks for quality, not quantity.

This year's squad was very young: there were only two sophomores and the rest were freshmen. Next year there will be only five returning, but this will not hinder any progress. The girls performed dance routines for the first time this year, as well as cheers and chants. It might have been a small squad, but it was, and still will be, full of talent for the next few years (at least) The teams are always very appreciative of everything the girls do for them. Despite the small squad, the girls had a very successful year.

Contributed by Michelle Gielen

Mary Beth Craig

Bouncing Back

The Green Terrors were striving for improvement in 1990-91, and improve they did! Following a disappointing season in 1989-90. when they finished 5-19, the Terrors rebounded with a 12-12 record, their best season in six years. Part of the Terrors' success was due to the six returning seniors as well as a few star freshmen. The season was marked with individual accomplishments through the hoop. Senior Ed Krusinski reached an all-time high of 1,000+ points and Scott Roth had the individual game high of 26 points against Goucher. Freshman Rolando "Ro" Welch followed Scott Roth in leading the team in rebounds with individual game highs of 10 offensive rebounds and 12 defensive rebounds. According to Ro Welch, the players weren't as team oriented as they could have been, but he's looking for development next year.

Like most of the Terror teams this year, men's basketball will remain on the rebound with rebuilding and plenty of practice. It looks to be a promising year in 1991-92.

> Shoot for two! — Rob Howell sets the ball in flight to the hoop.

Ed Krusinski looks to pass as the Terrors move toward the basket.

Proud parents stand by their sons while the senior players are recognized for their achievements.

Kneeling (H) — Kenny Young, Eric Miller, Scott Lyon, Eric Watkinson, Ed Krusinski, Jeff Eaves, Jimmy Naughton; Standing — Head Coach Nick Zoulias, Assistant Coach Mike Savage, Rolando Welch, Rob Brevetti, Mike Sherlock (captain), Rob Howell, Rich Vanston, Paul Pawlowski, Scott Roth, Assistant Coach John Kovach, Manager Janel McBain.

STATISTICS	3
Opponent	Score
GOUCHER	90-73
PHILA. PHARMACY	77-71
at Messiah	69-80
YORK, Pa.	83-68 (01
at Franklin & Marshall	72-109
at Catholic	88-78
GETTYSBURG	70-72
Kean	71-86
Misericordia	78-64
at Johns Hopkins	80-82
at Muhlenberg	63-73
MORAVIAN	74-68
LEBANON VALLEY	70-63
at Dickinson	52-84
MUHLENBERG	75-73
at Lebanon Valley	63-65
WASHINGTON, Md.	66-61
at Gettysburg	74-90
FRANKLIN & MARSHALL	76-83
at Goucher	97-63
at Moravian	70-82
JUNIATA	97-81
at St. Mary's, Md.	82-73
DICKINSON	69-84

12-12 OVERALL

This past season could be best characterized by a new attitude and with a different outlook on the season. This new attitude will hopefully carry over into next season and allow the team to continue to improve itself. — Paul E. Pawlowski Determination is written all over Ed Krusinski's face as he dribbles past his opponent.

SWOOSH!

The 1990-91 WMC Women's Basketball season was in lack of fear members, with only eight, but was filled with wins and enthusiasm. The fearn, coached by Becky Martin for her 10th year, had surprised many by compiling a record of 11-12. With only four returning players and two returning starters, the women's team shocked its oponents with an entirely new outlook.

The leadership of the two returning starters and co-captoins, Alce Smith and Angie Alfano, built a strong bond among the players, which influenced the team's performance on the court. Smith had the best season of her career, finishing second in rebounding, with a 5.2 average, and third in scoring, with an 8.2 average. The lone senior finished her career with a bang by scoring game highs of 11 pls., and 20 pts.

The Green Terrors' other captain, Angle Aftano, averaged 10.2 points and 4.5 rebounds per game. Alfano dished out 74 assists to become 6th on the Green Terror list, with a total of 164 assists. The team's biggest addition came from Junior guard Debble Shockley. Shockley transferred from Division I American University and topped the team in scoring and rebounds, with an average of 18.4 points and 8 rebounds per game. In addition, Debble set a school single season record for assists (101), steads (129), total field goals attempted (459), 3-pt. field goals made (54), and 3-pt. attempts (147).

The most memorable moment for the team had to be the celebration in front of John Hopkins' bench after defeating the guests by 14 pts. I Awesome season Terrors, good luck next year!

- Alice Smith

A look of concern as Stephanie Flood searches for an outlet.

Claudia Henemyre's expression says it all as she fights for the ball.

Angle Alfano prepares to fight off her opponent as she takes the ball to the hoop.

STATISTICS
Opponent	Scor
Jersey City State	66-6
at York, Pa.	57-5
at Notre Dame, Md.	74-70
GALLAUDET	67-74
MARY WASHINGTON	49-64
CATHOLIC	56-50
at Johns Hopkins	41-6:
YORK, Pa.	67-50
at Albright	76-65
URSINUS	65-80
FRANKLIN & MARSHALL	45-7
at Lebanon Valley	64-6
at Susquehanna	44-63
DICKINSON	54-47
at Messiah ·	53-7
at Dickinson	49-52
at Gettysburg	62-74
at Washington Bible	77-56
JOHNS HOPKINS	65-51
at Franklin & Marshall	42-72
GETTYSBURG	65-67
JUNIATA	70-61
LEBANON VALLEY	71-66
at Elizabethtown (cancelled 11-12 OVERALI

"Despite our record of 11-12, we did pretty well for an eight-player basketball team." — Rhonda Small Kneeling (I-r) — Sue Head, Angle Alfano (co-captain), Alice Smith (co-captain), Debbie Shockley; Standing - Head Coach Becky Martin, Rhonda Small, Jonelle Leith, Marie Pawlowski, Claudia Henemyre, Assistant Coach Vince DePalmer.

Alice Smith drives past her opponent with determination and agility.

Jonelle Leith terrorizes her opponent when she snatches the ball into her possession.

180° Reversal

The WMC wrestling team underwent a reversal from a losing season in 1989-90 to a 10-9 season in 1990-91. This season began strong with senior tri-captains Rich Edwards, Jim "Jake" Jakub, and Frank Pommet. Going into the PA Duals Tournament, the team posted a 6-1 record. After hitting some Division I teams and other Division III powerhouses, like Moravian and Lycomina, the team had to fight for its 10-9 record. The leading returning letter winners were Chris Madden at 167 lbs., Jim Jakub at 126 lbs., and Brad Rogers at 190 lbs. The leading placewinners were Anthony Spagnola at 158 lbs., who took second place at the MAC Championships, and J. Black who placed 5th at MACs. With the experience gained this year, the road to success may not be as rough in 1991-92. Of course, it will still require a lot of hard work and dedication to maintain the reversal achieved this year.

- Lee Harget

Pete Eulner seems to have control of his opponent with ease.

Set for battle, Chris Madden starts on top.

166 Sports

Kneeling (H) — John Hampton, Carl Downey, Tary Spagnola, Ray Pickersjil, Andy Del, Jim Jakue (H) coptiani, Mie Flemming, J. Backs: Standing — Head Cacar Paul Johnson, Lee Harger, Chris Madden, Frank Pommett (Hi-captain), Rich Edwards (Hi-captain), Sean Dunn, Jeff McAndrew, Assistant Coach Joe Thomnas.

	STATISTIC
Waynesburg	2
at Messiah
LaSalle
Manhattan
at Swathma	Xe
GALLAUDET
at Lycomina at Franklin 8
Rutaers	C IVICI SI ICII
Wagner
at York, Pa.
Kean
at Elizabeth	town
URSINUS
MANSFIELD
at Johns Ho	okins
Gettysburg
at Moravian
LEBANON V

"The team made a one hundred and 24-18 eighty degree turn. We went from 1-26-16 39-15 15 last year to 10-9 and an eighth 29-18 place finish at MACs. Most of the re-48-7 7-39 versal came from the hard work of 3-36 this year's seniors and the filling of key 12-34 18-21 spots by talented freshmen." - Rich Edwards 15-31 22-19

23-22 14-22 30-12 12-28 20-25

Faces from the edge of the mat look on intently as their teammate wrestles on.

The intensity of the moment is seen in Tony Spagnola's face, as he fights for a pin. Trevor Wysong prepares for a good start in the first leg of the Men's relay against Swarthmore.

Back-breaking work — Jason Drissel gets help from Matt Byrne in stretching-out before a meet.

Just Add Water

Imagine spending five months wet! But wait, according to the 23 members of the swim team, the chlorinated-look is definitely in! Actually, this year's chlorine over-dose led to a rewarding season. For the first time in three years, the women won three swim meets, which is an accomplishment for a team consisting of only nine swimmers. The men, on the other hand, finished 7-7 with two significant wins over Widener and Scranton. This record was their first non-losing one in four years. Besides satisfying seasons, both teams surprised themselves with their accomplishments at MAC's. For the women, Anna Jakubiec placed 16th in the 100-yard breaststroke and broke the school record in the 1650. Junior Valerie Shearer swam to a 15th-place finish in the 50-vard freestyle. Matt Cook, Jeff Maslin, Matt Gebhard, and Mike Jekoaian scored enough points to lead the men to 7th place out of 13 teams. In addition, sophomore Rob Newman won the 50-, 100-, and 200yard freestyle events. This performance earned him the Most Outstanding Male Swimmer Award. As a result of qualifying for NCAA Division III Nationals, Newman became WMC's most chlorinated swimmer of the year. Newman also broke several school and pool records along the way.

Perhaps it was the anticipation for the annual endof-the-year show-down/showing cream battle, the over-abundance of loyal fans (8 this year), or Helen Lowe's creative door signs that inspired the Green Terrors to end with a splash. Whatever the reason, the moral of the season was: a little (actually a lot) of chlorine never hurt anynel — J.J. Boggs

Breathing deep, Bob Pick takes a breath while practicing his breast stroke.

J.J. Boggs goes through the motions, offering some advice to aid a teammate.

/IEN'S
32-68 L	at Catholic
8-47 W	WIDENER
4-40 W	ELIZABETHTOWN
18-74 W	at Goucher
11-82 L	MARY WASHINGTON
23-70 W	at Scranton
8-37 W	SUSQUEHANINA
7-16 W	LEBANON VALLEY
59-36 L	FRANKLIN & MARSHALL
13-82 L	at Ursinus
07-69 L	at Gettysburg
2-29 L	SWARTHMORE
3-42 L	DICKINSON
1-55 W	at Washington, Md.
	GALLAUDET

48

6

5

9

WOMEN'S 144-43 L 60- 32 L 55-34 L 113-89 W 55-37 L 109- 62 L 52-30 L 59-31 W 68-25 L 97-64 L 104-57 L 67-29 L 53-24 L 117-54 L 51-44 W

"Looking at the records of our teams this year, I think the dedication of each athlete has definitely improved, and our possibilities are unbounded." - Rob Newman

Front Row (I-r) — Co-Captain Helen Lowe, Co-Captain J.J. Boggs, Co-Captain Mark Burroughs; Middle Row — Jeff Maslin, Mike Jekogian, Amy Vodraska, Anna Jakubiec, Valerie Shearer, Co-Captain Matt Cook, Marshall Eldenberg; Back Row — Corey Krall, Jason Drissel, Bob Pick, Kristin Poff, Matt Byrne, Trevor Wysong, Chip Miller, Kelly Zeager, Matt Gebhard, Rob Newman.

Ready for flight, Anna Jakubiec perfects her butterfly technique

The defense takes over, while Kasemeyer works his way up field.

Sticking to It

Terror Lacrosse started on the wrong foot this season playing two of the toughest teams in Division III, Salisbury State and Gettysbura. Being led by the tri-captains, senior John Byrne and juniors Clark Haspelhorn and Craig Wanner, the team was talented enough to finish the season 6-6. The tri-captains, during the last half of the season, were able to pull the team together and finish with a four game winning streak at home. The most memorable game was against F&M, when the Terrors almost came back to win in the second half. Terrors that made the Second Team All-Conference were Heritage, Burne, Warrer, Hospelhorn, Kasemeyer, and Stampp. The leading scorer for the team was Torry Kasemever in the attack position. Casualties hurt the team when last vear's starters, Kurt Reisenwebber and Brian "The Milkman" Sattler, could not play this vear due to injuries. Only having six seniors leaving next year, Coach Mike Williams is expecting an excellent team. - Chris Cutler It's halftime — Clark Hospelhorn and Andy Price head toward the sideline.

Eddie Dentz making the save.

Dave Heritage watches intently from the sideline.

Chris Culter

STATISTICS

Salisbury St.
West Chester
Drexel
Scranton
Gettysburg
Mary Washington
Dickinson
FDU Madison win b	v
St. Marv's
Franklin & Marshall
Drew
Swarthmore

7-24

10-15 "Although our record implies that ours 11-12 was nothing more than a mediocre 2-15 season, I disagree. This team had to 20-9 18-12 overcome more than any team I've forfeit been associated with. We have 16-11 10-12 nothing to be disappointed about; 12-18 we made the most of what we had." - John Byrne

OVERALL: 6-6

Front Row (from left to right): Marc Brunco, Mark Gedney, P.J. Brownrigg, Dave Heritage, Will Dator, Chris Lynch, Chuck Wikes, Jon Yokabaskas Second Row: Asistant Coach J.B. Marquette, Asistant Coach Mike Jelam, Sean Lombard, Doug Cusen, John Bryne, Clark Hospehon, Crady Wanner, Harrison Durne, Shane King, Head Coach Mike Williams, Head Trainer Gregg Nibbelink, Asistant Coach Stan Crawford, Third Row: Ed Dentz, Brian Burke, Andy Smith, Rob Magee, Chris Cutler, Kevin Mayer, Chris Cook, Pete Kangas, Alex Koundourciks, Rob Snyder.

Torry Kasemeyer looks on as the defense works to return the ball.

A look of frustration as Pete Kangas turns to the coach.

Fresh Start

The 1991 women's lacrosse season proved to be disappointing. The team was faced with a few tough losses from the start, making it difficult for the girls to pull things together and become confident. Unfortunately, the team was lacking unity at the beginning of the season. Their trip to Florida over Spring Break was finally the key to bringing the team closer together. The team was led by top scorers, Stephanie Grau, Shannon Smith, and Robin Lang. Future promise was seen in freshmen Gina Cappi and Jill Grosso. The team finally achieved the confidence they needed, to show that they could win, with a blow-out against Notre Dame. This brought about a strong rally to end the season on a positive note. The team is shooting for a fresh start next season, hopefully carrying over the winning spirit from the end of the year.

Stephanie Grau and Jill Grosso race toward the ball.

Up for grabs! Shannon Smith intends to make the ball hers.

Jenny Preston succeeded in getting the ball through the defense.

One-on-onel Stephanie Grau craddles her way past her opponent.

Mark Titu

		spe
at Washington	7-16	bro
MARY WASHINGTON	4-14	1
JOHNS HOPKINS	6-19	tec
WASHINGTON & LEE	3-4	int
at Gettysburg	7-12
DICKINSON	6-8	frie
NOTRE DAME, (Md.)	16-4	An
at Swarthmore	10-6	~11
at Susquehanna	15-2	ma

"The time we spent in Florida ought the am together both skill and əndship." my Bridgean

Front Row (I-r) - Karen Sullivan, Stacey Austensen; Second Row - Shelly Fink, Blanca Infante, Carrie Arbaugh; Third Row — Shannan Smith, Jenny Preston, Janet Seward, Katle Dunn, Stephanie Grau; Fourth Row — Amy Bridgeman, Julia Mignatti, Maija Strenger, Robin Lang; Last Row — Jill Grosso, Kelly Zeager, Gina Cappi, Josette Selover, Head Coach Kim Easterday; Not Pictured - Becky Bowman, Stephanie Canaras, Chris Houlihan.

28 and the state of the lat

It's a tough shot for Janet Seward, as the Notre Dame defense tries to block things up.

Striking Back

The 1994 Baseball team turned last year's record of six and fifteen to an impressive twelve and eleven. This improvement was a result of a total team effort. Over Spring break, the players traveled to Florida, where they played seven games. Jeff Wrabel was the team capitalin for a second year and held the second base position. The leading pitchers were junior Ron Chanski and senior Joe Herman, who also played an outfield position. A new addition to the team was freshman, Gary Carter, who had an out-standing season and helped strangthen the team is optimistic for next year.

Pitcher Ron Chanski bites his tongue as he gets ready to release the ball.

On the mound, Ron Chanski tries to get another strike for the Terrors.

Front Row: (I-r) — Mark Kleinman, Skip Tyson, Kevin Henneman, Wayne Hurd, Jamie Hitchner, Gary Carter, Brad Stickler, Jeff Wrabel: Back Row - Head Coach Dave Seibert, Tim Kleckner, Jeff Knarr, Todd Leskoski, Brian Little, Jamie Wiles, Scott Lowenberg, Ron Chanski, Tim Butz, Mike Robinson, Eric Frees, Joe Ferone, Asst. Coach Joe Jacobs; Not Pictured - Casey Carpenter, Dave Carpenter, Steve Clark, Joe Herman, Kevin Wright, Asst. Coach Allen Jacobson.

> 4-2 4-5 4-16 5-9 2-1 4-5 1-4

Northwood Institutes Gettysburg Tiffin Tarkio
Tiffin
Hobart
Johns Hopkins
MUHLENBERG
URSINUS
at Franklin & Marshall
JOHNS HOPKINS
at Juniata
MORAVIAN
MORAVIAN
MESSIAH
at Lebanon Valley
at York, Pa.
GETTYSBURG

OVERALL: 12-11

Our season was successful but frustrating. We lost to a lot of 4-0 teams that we are better than. 4-3 Our hitting was weak and took a 3-7 4-3 while to come around. Next sea-4-6 son we should definitely win our 2-3 section as long as everyone re-6-4 turns that is supposed to. — Ja-1-5 mie Wiles Catcher Scott Lowenberg shows the umpire he held onto the ball after tagging out an opposing base runner.

Batter Up!

1991 was the best season ever recorded at WMC for softball, with a record of 14-8. The Terror softball season began on a strong note with a shutout against Elizabethtown, one of the more difficult teams in the Division. The team was led in hitting by Janel McBain, B.A. List, and Wendy Bollinger, while the defense was led by freshman Marilyn Naas on the mound, Claudia Henemyre behind the plate, and the MVP, B.A. List, in left field. The girls were faced with a few tough games and a lot of split results in double headers because they could not get their hitting together. Their performance on the field made up for mistakes at the plate, until the batting began to shape-up toward the end of the season. The new Assistant Coach, Jolene Hoover, brought more enthusiasm to the team, while B.A. List had plenty of spirit and energy to pass around.

Pure concentration — Wendy Bollinger steps up to the plate.

Let her rip! Marilyn Naas makes the pitch and Sarah Kephart is ready to make the play.

Trying to cool down — the girls head back to the field for game two.

Front Row (I-r) - Marie Spano, Danielle Harkins, Marilyn Naas, Allson Coffey, Janel McBain, April Ommert, Kimberly Jackson; Back Row - Head Coach George Dix, Asst. Coach Jolene Hoover, Betty Ann List, Sarah Kephart, Amye Walker, Lanette Nidecker, Anita Caltabiano; Not Pictured - Wendy Bollinger, Claudia Henemyre, Beth Nidecker,

4-0

0-5

1-6

2-0

8-0

13-2

3-1 2-6

2-4

10-6 6-2

8-2 14-13

STATISTICS
at Elizabethtown
at Mary Washington
at Lebanon Valley
CATHOLIC
at York, Pa. FRANKLIN & MARSHALL
at Gettysburg
WASHINGTON, Md.
DICKINSON
at Mount St. Mary's
MESSIAH
at Gallaudet

"My four years on the WMC softball team have been a medley of close friendships, tough competitors, endless laughs, hard disappointments, unexpected wins, unfortunate losses. We are individuals off the field, but we come together as one when playing and keep each other going." - Lamb Coffey April Ommert winds up for the pitch with de- Coach George Dix gives a few pointers in between games.

Scott Aquila looks confident as he moves to return the ball.

High Spirits

It was a season of difficult matches and frustrating disappointments for WMC's 1991 men's and women's tennis teams. Many of the matches were close calls; unfortunately the Terrors were unable to come out on top. Both teams consisted of very skilled individuals. The men holding the top seats in singles included juniors Adam Scott and Doug Raihall, freshman Chris Radgowski, and senior Paul Timmons. Men's doubles were led by Scott Aquila/Chris Conklin, Adam Scott/ Doug Raihall, and Matthew Levy/Marc Gettemy. The leading positions on the women's team were held by Suzanne Stephano, Laurie Himmel, Katie Keller, and Erika Berengurer-Gill. Doubles were led by Stephanie Flood/ Dodie Laird and Amy Krug/Suzanne Stephano. Fortunately the teams were very young this year, meaning there is plenty of time for growth and improvement in the years to come. The competition from challenging teams was a beneficial learning experience for all of the players. The Terrors were able to form bonds for the future and maintain positive attitudes in 1991. They were out there to have fun doing what they enjoy doing most - playing tennis.

Mark Titus

Matt Levy gets ready to smash the ball.

Mark Titu

Stay on your toes! Dodie Laird sets-up for the serve.

Following through with finesse, Chris Conklin sends the ball back.

Mark Titus

Stephanie Flood's backhand is put to the test.

Front Row (I+7) — Amy Krug, Lisa Aliwine, Stephanie Flood, Maggie Seabolt; Back Row — Asst. Coach Kathy Little, Laurie Himmel, Dadie Laird, Katie Names, Suzanne Stephano, Coach Joan Weyers; Not Pictured — Katie Keller

"Although we didn't win a lot, we had a good time and learned our strengths and weaknesses." — Dodie Laird

(I+) — Scott Aquila, Chris Conklin, Paul Timmons; Not Pictured — Keith St. Amand, Marc Gettemy, Doug Raihall, Chris Radgowski, Adam Scott, Paul Timmons, T.J. Langella, Matt Levy.

STATISTICS
MEN'S		WOMEN'S
GALLUDET	9-0	MESSIAH
at Goucher	0-9	GOUCHER
at Franklin & Marshall	1-8	FRANKLIN & M at Gallaudet	5-1	at Elizabethtov
at Moravian	3-6	at Johns Hopki
at Muhlenberg	1-8	at York, Pa.
JOHN HOPKINS	0-9	WASHINGTON,
at Susquehanna	2-7	at Gettysburg
at Dickinson	0-9	DICKINSON
GETTYSBURG	0-9	at Notre Dame
CATHOLIC	3-6
at Vork Da	00

Keith St. Amand makes a great shot!

Middle Atlantic Conference Individual Champion Steve Comes tees off at the MAC tournament in late April

Head coach Scott Moyer holds the MAC traveling team trophy, which will spend the upcoming year in the Gill Center trophy case.

True Champs

The members of the 1991 WMC golf team have a lot to be proud of. They succeeded in achieving the first MAC Championship for men's teams at WMC since 1984 and only the second MAC title for golf in twenty three years. Sophomore Steve Comes walked away with the MAC individual championship and sophomore Jeff Dierks earned the third place title.

The Terror's had an outstanding season, finishing 90-25, defeating many Division I and Division II scholarship schools, Coach Mover deserves most of the credit for motivating the team, while the players deserve the credit for the success. By setting a good example for the team, the coach provided a source of motivation and let the individual players do what they had to do to get the job done. The starting five players, Steve Comes, Jeff Dierk, Kenny Werley, Tom Brandt, and Eric Watkinson, were the key to the teams accomplishments. With only one senior, Watkinson, leaving next year, the team has excellent chances for another outstanding season in 1992. Great Job and Good Luck!

at U.S. Naval Academy Inv.	14th of 26
at Susquehanna U. Inv.	1st of 10
at Shippensburg U. Inv.	1st of 13
WESTERN MARYLAND INV,	1st/8th of 8
at Mount St. Mary's Inv.	1st of 4
WMC SPRING CLASSIC	2nd/12th of 12
at Dickinson College Inv.	2nd of 17
at Loyola/Bucknell & Georg	etown 2nd of 3
at Franklin & Marshall	421-515 W
at Navy/Marine Corps Inv.	8th of 10
at York, Pa.	402-406 L
MAC Champ. Toun. at Shaw	nee Inn 1st of and a second second second second

"A lot of the credit for our results this year go to Coach Moyer, but the team commitment and companionship is the greatest cause of this year's success." — Jimmy Naughton

Front Row (I-r) — Jon Bleckley, Steve Comes, Jimmy Naughton, Scott Lyon; Back Row — Head Coach J. Scott Moyer, Corey Duncan, Tom Brandt, Ken Werley, Eric Watkinson, Jeff Dierks.

> Sophomore Tom Brandt (left) watches his putt roll toward the hole at the Middle Atlantic Conference tournament at Shawnee Inn near Stroudsburg, Pa.

Kendra Weible holds on with strong strides to the finish.

Take your marks! Heather Hunter gets set for the gun.

Kim Hildebrand

Tracks

The hard work and dedication of the members of the 1991 spring track season payed-off with individual achievements at the MAC Championships at Gettysburg. Although the overall record was disappointing, the individual talent of the team shined through at the MAC's; Brett Young qualified for the high hurdles, Derek Johnston qualified for the 5,000 and the 10K, Kendra Weible gualified for the 1500 and the 3000, Heather Hunter qualified for the 200, 100, 100 hurdles, and the long jump, and Tracey Snyder qualified for the 1500. Weible walked away with 5th and 2nd place, as well as breaking the school record she broke earlier in the year, and Hunter came out with 7th, 4th, 3rd, and 5th place finishes. The 4x4 team consisting of Rob Johnson, James Martin, Jeremy Kinney, and Ricardo Washington also qualified for the MAC's, but were unable to attend due to injury.

The team had to endure practices every day and would leave for meets early on Saturdays, staying until early evening. This time spent together made the team close. Kendra Weible provided encouragement and support through the tough workouts and Tracey Snyder led the team's moral, giving out good luck cards before each meet. Derek Johnston led the men's distance team, while Heather Hunter took great strides winning 3rd place in the MAC 100 hurdles, considering that Brett Young just taught her how to hurdle over the winter. Coaches Doug Renner and Mike Whitemore have high hopes for Ricardo Washington in the 400 and 800 meters next year. Next years goal for the team is to reach the Penn Relavs.

Janelle Leith heads to the bus, fueled up with a big lunch.

STATISTICS			"The Terrors took great
WMC RELAYS (cancelled by snow)	WOMEN'S	MEN'S	strides this 1991
at Messiah College Inv.	10th of 15	7th of 13	Track Season!"
at Messiah at Franklin & Marshall	4th of 4 3rd of 4	3rd of 4 3rd of 3	- Tracey Sny-
GETTYSBURG/JOHNS HOPKINS	3rd of 3	3rd of 3	der

Front Row (I-r) — Tracey Snyder, Heather Hunter, Janele Leith, Ricardo Washington, Kendra Weble, Kirsten Stockel, Fred Adeiman, Tessa Dominick; Back Row — Andrew Krevolin, Derek Johnston, Guido Stuberrauch, Dave Radosevich, Brett Young, Jeremy Kinney, Damon Lewis, Phil Lattroum, Becky Martin.

In the lead - Ricardo Washington rounds the corner.

And their offl Damon Lewis gets a strong start from the blocks.

Heads up! The Bachelors prepare to catch it on the rebound.

Rob Welsh stands in as line judge for volleyball.

Fun & Games

Intramural sports provide an important alternative for students who do not have the time or the skill to contribute to the intercollegiate teams. Students have the opportunity to put together teams to compete in a less formal atmosphere, allowing for a lot of fun and excitement. This years intramural sports included volleyball, touch football, basketball, and softball. Each of the teams practiced on their own and then came together to compete in tournaments. There's nothing like a good game of football or softball to provide an escape from the monotony of study which all students know well. Hopefully the intramurals in 1991-92 will be as successful as they were this year.

He's up for two! A few Bachelors practice for Bball.

Kris Pierson gets down to bump the ball over.

Heads up in the outfield! Andy Dripps sends the ball sailing.

Batter, batter, batter, swing batter! Ed Veprovsky sends the ball toward first.

It's all fun and games. Chip Miller lofts it across the plate.

Tthe

There is always a time when a college student just has to get off campus. The area around a college must be willing and able to support the needs of the students. We go to town on foot, on bikes, and in cars. The quaint shops along Main Street are inviting, and the proprietors don't mind browsers. Cranberry Mall is full of stores that appeal to us. There are nearby picnic areas for Sunday afternoons. One of the best things, though, is that Westminster gives us the opportunity to give back to the community. College students have part-time jobs in town. Organizations do service projects at nearby farms and participate in programs at the mall. The students at WMC become an integral part of Westminster throughout the school year.

Tony Rosas

Boy Scouts lead the show. The Fallfest parade comes down Main Street toward the college every year. This year the Sig Eps represented WMC in the parade.

CONGRATULATIONS CLASS OF 1991

Congratulations and Best Wishes, Brian Haight! Love Mom and Dad
Best Wishes Melanie D'Amore! We are proud of you. Mom and Dad
Well done Daniel! We are proud of our shared "blood". Love Mom and Dad
Congratulations, Katie! Love you! Mom and Dad
Congratulations to all the Class of '91! Dee and Hans Ruppenthal Joslyn Elaine Martin, Your family is so-o-o-o proud of you!
Congratulations, Brian! We love you! Mom and Dad Fehr
Good luck to the Class of 1991! Mr. and Mrs. James B. Connors
Congratulations, Brian! We love you! Mom, Dad and Mike
Congratulations, Adam Plummer! We love you! Mom and Dad
Connie Anne Geerhart — Congratulations and love, Mom
Congratulations, Eric Thoman! Love Mom (Please to meet you)
To Paul Gaccione: College has given you the experiences past, the possibilities ahead, the friendships long-lasting, and the reminder of your family's steadfast love. Proudly, your Mom RJ Williams, Jr., Congratulations! As always, you have made us proud. We love you! Best wishes for the future! Love Mom, Dad and Shelly Congratulations Class of 1991! Mr. and Mrs. Jack Daum
Best of luck Laurie! Love Mom and Dad
Good luck to the Class of 1991! Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garner
Congratulations, Mary Louise! We love you! Mom and Dad
Way to go, Daaeeve! Love Bawb 'N Mom
John Sullivan — Congratulations and Best Wishes for the Future! Love Mom, Dad and Mary Anne
We are so proud, Chris! Love Mom, Dad and Dean
We are proud of you, Kimberly! Love Mom and Dad
Congratulations, Tracey Lynn! I love you! All my love always, Mom
Char, You're just about finished. Just a couple more years. Congrats.
Charlene — We are so proud! Love Dad and Mom
Congratulations, Denise Lynn! We love you! Mom and Dad
Congratulations, Andrea! We're very proud of you. We love you! Mom, Dad, Teresa, Toni, and Claire

Congratulations, Chris Kane! You're made us very proud. Love Mom and Dad Congratulations, Way to go Chris Place! Love Mom Party's over Chris, welcome to the real world! Love Brother Don Congratulations, Chris! Much love from your Arizona family. Love Donna, Raul, and Jessye Congratulations Little Brother Chris, now you have the key to success! Love Joe Great going John B.! Love Mom and Dad Congratulations, Dave Britt! We wish you the very best! Mom and Dad Congratulations Stacie J. We love you! Mom, Dad, Lynn, Glenn and Mark Congratulations to my wife and my hero Stacie. It's been a long 3 years apart. Your hard work has paid off. All my love, your Armyman husband, Blake Congratulations, Bonnie! Grandma Grauch Best Wishes Bonnie! Muzzy and Grandpa Way to go, Bon! Alexa Great Job, Bonnie Lynn Grauch! Mom and Dad Congratulations, Dirk! We love you and are proud of you! Mom and Dad Congratulations, Kim! We love you! Mom, Dad and Chris Congratulations, Melissa Diane! We love you! Mom and Dad Audrey: Congratulations, Peanut. We love you and are so proud! Love Mom, Dad, Alicia, Jon, Pop, and Rolff Congratulations, Alice Marie! "Awesome" Mom and Dad Congratulations, David! We are so proud of you! Love Mom, Bob, Danny, Keri, and Kristen Jen Carroll - "Happy Trails" in your career From the hometown gang: Trisha, Terri, Charles, and Ronnie Jen Carroll - Look out world, here comes my little sister! Love Kim Jen Carroll - Pride, love, and faith are what I felt for you four years ago and are what I feel for you today! Go get 'um Jenni! Love Mom Congratulations, French teacher, Kimberly Knight! I'm so proud of you! Love Mom

Congratulations Mom! We love you! Copper and Angyl

Congratulations, Jennifer. We love you! Mom and Fred

CONGRATULATIONS

RENEE' JEANNE RABORG

CONGRATULATIONS

MICHAEL LEE

We're very proud of you!

Love, Mom and Dad

CONGRATULATIONS CLASS OF 1991

Congratulations, Bill Stevens! Love you! Mom and Dad

Cynthia Rae, we are so proud of you! Love Mother, Dad, and CJ

I'm so proud of you, Linda! Love you! Mom

Debbie, we're proud of you. May God always be with you! Mom and Dad

Congratulations, Ed! With love, Hildegarde

Congratulations, Lisa! We love you! Mom and Dad

Congratulations, Corey! We are proud of you! Mom and Dad

Congratulations, Sean. We are very proud of you! We love you, Mom, Dad, Chris, and Erin!!!!

Congratulations to our daughter, Stephanie Embrey, on her graduation. By achieving her goals, she has made our dreams come true. Love Mom and Dad

Congratulations, Kristina Stephan. So proud of you. I love you! Mother

Congratulations, Lisa Ann. We are so very proud of you and love you so very much. Mom and Dad

"For it is in giving that we receive." Amber, you have given us so much joy, love and happiness. We are very proud of you! Love and hugs, Mom, Dad, and Mark

190 Community

Congratulations, Shelley! With all of our love, Mom, Dad, and the Gang Kim Vermette, we are so proud of you! Love Mom and Dad Congratulations, Darlene! Nothing is impossible! Luv u! Mom We wish you the best, Class of 1991! Mr. and Mrs. Louis Canaras We are very proud of you, Stephanie! Love Mom and Dad Congratulations, Elise Susan! We love you. Mom, Dad, Lynwood, Lynda, and Michael Congratulations, Paul! That makes three Lomaxes to graduate from W.M.C. Love Mom and Dad Congratulations, Scott! You always make me very proud of you! Love you! Dad Congratulations, Jen! We love you. Mom and Steve Congratulations, Tim! We are VERY proud of you! Mom and Dad Congratulations, Jeff! We love ya! Mom and Dad To my baby brother - I'm very proud of you! Love Judy Eric, you're the greatest! We love you! Mom, Dad, and Elise Good luck to our future English teacher, Erindiane! We love ya! Mom and Meg Congratulations, Patrick! Love Mom and Dad You did good! Congratulations - Mommy and Daddy Hee-Haw!! Hugs and kisses - Shana and Lucy Awesome, Kevin, our lucky #7! Love va! Mom and Dad Cubbie - Congratulations! Lots of love, Mom and Dad XOXO We love you and are proud of you. Congratulations Mark! Mom and Dad Congratulations, Jim! We love you! Mom and Dad

GOOD LUCK

JEFF WRABEL

from

CAPITOL TRAILWAYS OF PENNSYLVANIA

bobby's hobby lobby

FAMILY HOBBY CENTER MODELS — ARTS & CRAFTS

65 EAST MAIN STREET P.O. BOX 847 • WESTMINSTER, MD 21157 PHONE (301) 848-4350

THE BEST GIFT YOU EVER GIVE TO YOUR FAMILY

...may be something you've never considered. Funeral Prearrangement eases the burden for your loved ones and saves money, too.

Call your Trust 1000. Family-Owned Funeral Home today to ask about pre-payment and no-payment planning options.

It just makes sense to plan ahead.

1.00 100

ug	int S	ru	nera	Rome	2
-			Funeral

ROUTE 32 NEAR ELDERSBURG P.O. BOX 195 SYKESVILLE, MARYLAND 21784 795-1400 781-4700

Call Today, or	mail the requ	est for information	h below.
YOU'RE RIGHT!	Name:
It's time I learned	Street Address
more about my Funeral Planning	City:	State	Zip:
Options.	Telephone Nur	nber

Compliments of

T.W. MATHER AND SONS DEPARTMENT STORE

31-35 East Main Street Westminster, MD 21157 848-6410 876-1203

Pierson's

Same Day Photo Finishing Custom Framing & Baseball Cards

13 Westminster Shopping Center Englar Rd. & Route 140 857-0233

PARTY ICE & SUPPLIES

Carriage House

Liquors

"AT THE FORKS" 113 W. MAIN ST. WESTMINSTER, MD. 21157

848-3466

Inisco Jamily Pub

Enjoy Steamed Crabs in Our New Dining Room! Soups & Salad Bar Subs & Sandwiches

Platters & Dinners

Beer & Wine

Pizza & Stromboli

Mixed Drinks

Phone: 876-3550

Carroll Plaza Shop Center Route 140 at Englar Rd. Westminster, MD 21157

Hours: Mon. - Thurs. 10:30 am - 11:30 pm Fri. & Sat. 10:30 am - 12:30 am Sun. 1 pm - 10:30 pm

TOP TENS

Mary Baschoff

Top Ten Reasons to Miss Class 1.)playing golf 2.)hungover 3.)exciting soap opera episode 4.)peer pressure 5.)you just had that class the day before vesterday 6.)alarm didn't go off 7.)professor doesn't take attendance anyway 8.)playing Nintendo 9.)extreme (good) weather conditions 10.)extreme (bad) weather conditions

Top Ten Most Impossible Exams at WMC

1.)Claycombe's Economics exams 2.)Paguin's Genetics exams 3.)Colyer's Psychology exams 4.)Seidel's Economics or Statistics exams 5.)Smith's Organic Chemistry exams 6.)Hermann's Urban Sociolgy exams

7.)Panek's Shakespeare exams 8.)Hering's Music Appreciation exams

9.)Dillman's Communications exams

10.)Wilson's Ways of Being Religious exams

- Least Favorite Meals in Glar 1.jspaghetti 2.jany form of meat 3.jtofu 4.jspinach lasagne 5.jpeanut butter soup 6.jcasseroles in general 7.JHawaiian chicken 8.jscrambled "eggs" 9.jred wine macaroni and cheese 10.jend-of-semester leftovers

Most Popular Snacks/Foods in the Dorms 1.pizza 2.)oodles of noodles 3.JM&M's 4.)other candy 5.)macaroni and cheese 6.)Otis Spunkmeyer chocolate chip cookles 7.)potato chips 8.)popcorn 9.)more pizza 10.)subs

TOP TENS

Top Ten Publishable Library Graffiti

1.)"It's doom alone that counts." 2.)"I can't believe WMC students actually wrote this filth." 3.)"Studying is the basis of all psychotic phenomenon." 4.)'Knowledge is power." 5.)"Love is the drug for me." 6.)"I want to go home." 7.)"Gumby is God." 8.)"To study or not to study: that is the question." 9.)"I am amazed by the brilliant literature here." 10.)"Why are you reading this? You should be studying."

sors 1.)Dr. Colyer 2.)Dr. Seidel 3.)Dr. Ashburn 4.)Mrs. Milstein 5.)Dr. Fennell 6.)Dr. Law 7.)Dr. Zepp 8.)Mr. Weinfeld 9.)Dr. Neal

Top Ten Most Popular Profes-

10.)Dr. Iglich

Most Popular Beverage Brands at WMC 1.)Milwaulkee's Best ("The Beast") 2.)Busch 3.)Coke 4.)Coors Light 5.)Budweiser 6.)Miller Lite 7.)Diet Coke 8.)Keystone 9.)Natural Light 10.)Pepto Bismol Top Ten Greek Events 1.)formals 2.)Sig Ep Spring Formal '91 to the Bahamas 3.)cocktails 4.)Phi Delt annual beach party 5.)Phi Mu Mr. WMC contest 6.)Greek Day 7.)Phi Alpha Mu Annual Dating Game 8.)clubroom parties (when available) 9.)May Day greek events 10.)hall parties of the past

TOP TEN Best Things About WMC

1.)Student-teacher ratio

2.)physical beauty of campus

3.)good professors (85% PhD's)

4.)the golf course

5.)small population

6.)not far to walk between classes

7.)May Day

8.)we're in all those "Best College" surveys

9.)friends

10.)squirrels

It's been a long year. It has been our pleasure to capture it forever in the 1991 Crossroads My tremendous thanks go to our young staff who managed so well, as I pulled my hair out! We could never, however, have done it alone. Our thanks to: advisor and friend Diana Deitch, for support, encouragement, and proofreading; representative Coy Harris, for overlooking missed deadlines and answering calls for help; Joyce Spenla, for her patient explanations; artist John Sullivan, for his cover art and script; Scott Deitch, for all his help on the Sports section; Sue and Diane of Student Accounts, for putting up with questions and mail; Mike Harris, for checking up on us; Nancy Koczan, for all her help at the Gettysburg workshop; and my roommates and family for putting up with my messes and complaints. Great thanks to everyone who helped make this book possible.

— MB

1991 CROSSROADS STAFF

Editor-in-Chief: Mary Beth Craig

Student Life: Jen Hill

Academics: Stephanie and Katherine Hosier

People: Mary Beth Craig

Sports: Karen Litishin/Kirsten Stockel

Photography: Tony Rosas

Photographers: Mike Jekogian, Martha Shaver, Kathleen Hatcher, Kimberly Hildebrand, Chip Miller, Tiffany Patterson

Contributor: Mary Baschoff

The printers of the 1991 Crossroads were Herff Jones Yearbooks, Inc.; 525 Boyds School Road, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. Our company representative was Coy Harris; our customer service advisor was Joyce Spenla. Five hundred copies of 208 pages each were printed. The trim size of the pages was 9 by 12 inches. The text paper for pages 1-16 was 100 lb.

Eurogloss, and for pages 17-208 was 80 lb. Meade Bordeaux.

The title page, cover, endsheets, opening, closing, divider pages, and Academics section utilized type style Times Roman. The Student Life section and the folio tabs were in Souvenir Light. The People section used Garamond; the Organizations section used Cloister. The Sports section copy is in Avant Garde Book type style. Various spot colors were used in the opening pages.

The endsheets are 60 lb. Meade Cover in cream. They are printed in Maroon ink HJ #0194.

The binding is Smyth sewn, rounded and backed with headbands. The cover is dark plum Leatherette, custom embossed. The logo includes silk-screening in black ink HJ #0026, and a gold foil application. The cover at is courtesy of Herff Jones artist John Sullivan. The cover also utilized Cordova texture and is on 160 pt. binders board.

