"We built a cabin in the woods in California entirely out of small trees and fallen logs (by hand) and lived there for a couple years. We built fires every day for cooking, caught rain in a tank for water for washing and went to the spring for drinking water, had a battery-operated radio and a gas lamp, raised goats and chickens...our car had broken down so we had no wheels. At night, it was best to avoid going to the outhouse because rattlesnakes liked to curl up in there."

"I had done work on presentation regarding religion and the internet years ago at my last institution. In order to make it part of the presentation and get some materials to display, I became an ordained minister through the Universal Life Church, of Modesta CA. You get to pick your religious title when you join, I went with Warrior Philosopher Prophet."
Graduating Senior Elizabeth Layne has been drawing all her life but didn't take it seriously until she began at McDaniel. Starting her own webcomic in her Junior year has allowed her to teach herself new artistic concepts and to learn a new style of writing.

"I've made a ton of friends through fanwork and collaboration, and improved so much, both as an artist and a person."

Elizabeth wants to write and illustrate her own novels in the future, taking with her all the skills she's learned at McDaniel, both by herself and in class, but no matter where her journey takes her she wants to keep making comics.

Demon Street is a story about a curious boy who enters a new world filled with monstrous and wonderous creatures. It is a story about a quest and what that means, it is about finding things, sometimes fighting things and about what you choose to fight for.

"A comic is a really accessible and fun way to tell this story."

Senior Memories

One of my favorite memories is of freshman year. My group of friends and I used to do these things we called Free Fridays. Every Friday we would sit outside Whiteford on the hill and give away free stuff. Hugs, bubbles, watermelon, chalk, henna tattoos, and candy were a few of those things. The best part of all was just hanging out with friends and making people's day when they came by. It will always be one of those times I will never forget.

~ Jennifer Bland

Best friends since freshman year ~ Shelby Toler, Jack Dowd and Andrew Monger!

~ Shelby Toler

Freshman year, my main group of friends decided to start something called "Free Fridays." Every Friday, we would think of something—a high five or a henna tattoo—that we could give out for free. We would make a big sign each week, advertising as we sat outside of Whiteford. It all started when my friend, Kelsey Gondek, was having a bad day so she decided to give out free hugs in Red Square. My roommate, Jesi West, joined her. They made it into the school newspaper! A week after that, Jesi was given a large watermelon we didn't quite know what to do with. We decided to cut it up and give it out to the McDaniel community the next Friday. Then, bam! Free Friday was born. It caught on with the rest of our group and the tradition continued for the rest of the year.

We are so proud of you and every step of your journey. We are excited to see what life's next turns will bring. Walk with integrity, peace in your heart and resolve.

Your childhood inspirations offer encouragement:

"People seldom see the halting and painful steps by which the most insignificant success is achieved... Keep on beginning and failing. Each time you fail, start all over again, and you will grow stronger until you have accomplished a purpose - not the one you began with perhaps, but one you'll be glad to remember." - Anne Sullivan.

"Your success and happiness lies in you. Resolve to keep happy, and your joy and you shall form an invincible host against difficulties... The best and most beautiful things in the world cannot be seen or touched - they must be felt with the heart." - Helen Keller.

Stay true to yourself. Dig deep to the One within you.

Love Always,
- Mom and Dad

The Lord bless you and keep you:
